

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7432

However, the crowd, driven purely by excitement and curiosity, kept fueling the atmosphere, hoping for a thrilling moment.

Hearing the overwhelming chants, Tawana leaned in and whispered to charlie Wade, “Mr. Wade, could you give me a quick kiss? The audience is so worked up—if I don’t give them something, I’m afraid it’ll be hard to get through...”

As she spoke, her expression was both pitiful and imploring.

I promised I wouldn’t kiss him like yesterday, she thought, but asking for permission should be fine, right?

If he’s okay with it, great. If not, I won’t push it.

Anyway, with so many fans backing me, making this request doesn’t seem out of line. It’s just a matter of whether charlie Wade will show some mercy.

charlie Wade, meanwhile, felt incredibly uncomfortable—like sitting on pins and needles. Why are these fans so nosy?

Most idols have fans who hope they avoid romantic entanglements, but Tawana’s fans seemed to just want entertainment and drama.

Then again, charlie Wade couldn’t entirely blame them. Tawana herself had built an image of having a colorful romantic life. Her fans didn’t just love her music—they enjoyed watching her flirt. Seeing her tease someone on stage was even more entertaining than her actual dating life.

As the chants of “Kiss!” thundered through the arena, charlie Wade glanced at Tawana’s pleading face. Even Stefanie sun, standing nearby, was watching him with an amused smile as if enjoying the spectacle.

Reluctantly, and wanting to end the awkward moment quickly, charlie Wade muttered under his breath, “Fine, fine. Just make it quick.”

Tawana lit up with delight, immediately stood on tiptoe, and gently kissed charlie Wade through his mask.

The crowd of tens of thousands roared with satisfaction, and the waves of cheering rolled on and on.

charlie Wade felt both helpless and relieved as he quickly took the elevator with Stefanie sun to leave the stage.

Because yesterday's kiss had been passionate and today's was light, the video from today didn't cause as much of a sensation.

However, since kisses occurred on both days, the audience began to believe it was all part of the stage choreography.

Back in the lounge, Stefanie sun scrolled through Weibo's trending list while smiling and said, "Brother charlie Wade, the fans think this is all part of the act now. I bet you'll have to kiss Tawana again during the next two performances."

charlie Wade, no longer bothered, replied casually, "Whatever. With the mask between us, it's not even a real kiss."

Stefanie sun immediately snuggled up to him like a little rabbit and, putting on a smug expression, said in a sweet voice, "Poor Tawana. She can only kiss Brother charlie Wade through a mask. But I get to kiss him for real."

As she spoke, she leaned in close, her lips nearly touching his, her warm breath brushing against his face as if she could kiss him at any moment.

"You..." charlie Wade hadn't expected this little girl to become so bold after their kiss yesterday. Instead of being shy, she was now openly teasing him, just the two of them alone.

Instinctively, he took a small step back and said seriously, "Nannan, can't we be a little more reserved?"

But Stefanie sun wasn't fazed. She leaned her face against his chest and whispered, "Since you already asked me for a son, what's the point of being reserved?"

charlie Wade was left speechless. All he could do was rub his temples and sigh quietly.
