

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7437

After a full day of online mayhem, Tawana coolly blocked several of her contacts in the British entertainment industry and went on to perform her third concert in Eastcliff without a hitch.

charlie Wade wanted to escape, but Stefanie sun insisted he stay and “see things through.”

With no way out, he gritted his teeth and completed all four performances.

Each of the first three shows trended on social media, with different hot topics each time.

But there was one recurring trend that made the list all three times:

“Who is the mysterious male dancer Tawana kissed?”

Netizens across the globe were dying to know.

Some even joked that they’d pay $100 just to see a picture of the man.

On the fourth day, someone launched an online poll titled:

“Would you pay $100 to see a real photo of the mysterious male dancer?”

Within a day, over five million people voted—and more than three million said yes.

The media went wild again.

“These fans are something else.”

“You’d pay a hundred bucks to see a masked man’s face?”

“Is your money growing on trees or what?”

Can’t you really find a better use for that money?

You could just go to the supermarket and buy some beef, lamb, eggs, milk—anything useful!

Instead, you’re out here refusing to spend money on groceries, risking it all for free samples, and then turning around and dropping $100 online just to see what a guy looks like? Are you seriously out of your mind?

Three million people, a hundred dollars each—that’s $300 million!

Even if Tawana performed three shows, she couldn’t earn $300 million!

But this time, Chinese netizens spoke up.

They quickly chimed in: “What’s the big deal?”

In our domestic entertainment scene, we’ve been wishing to pay to unlock celebrity photos on Weibo since forever!

Of course, no local celebrity dares to price their photo that high. Usually, it’s just 28, 38, or 58 yuan.

By the fourth day, even Claire’s curiosity about the mysterious man had reached its peak.

She had been watching clips on her phone for three straight days, and no matter how many times she replayed it, she couldn’t shake the feeling that the man looked just like charlie Wade .

But every time that thought surfaced, she came up with excuses to convince herself it wasn’t possible.

Then, on the fourth day, while watching a fan livestream from the venue, she saw the mysterious dancer again—this time performing alongside Tawana and Stefanie sun—and a thought suddenly struck her.

She immediately called charlie Wade .

She reasoned, “Isn’t charlie Wade just the Feng Shui director?”
