

The Amazing son in law - The Amazing son in law

Chapter 7458

After settling Ruyu, Charlie Wade drove away from the Champs Elysees Hot Spring Hotel and headed straight home to Tomson Yipin.

The hotel, located in the southern suburbs of Aurous Hill, happened to lie along Charlie Wade's route back from Shanghai, so the detour didn't cost him much time.

After Charlie Wade left, Ruyu respectfully asked Yun Ruge, "Miss Yun, how long have you been here?"

"Not long," Yun Ruge replied. "When Willie blew himself up, I happened to be hiding nearby. I was caught in the explosion and seriously injured. Mr. Wade saved me."

"Self-destruction?" Ruyu asked quickly. "The self-destruction you mentioned—could it be the same formation Mr. Wade spoke of earlier, the one Lord Ying—no, Sara—left in your Niwan Palace?"

"Yes," Yun Ruge nodded gently, her tone tinged with emotion. "Back then, Sara told us she had placed a life-saving formation in our Niwan Palace. If we ever faced an overwhelming enemy and had no chance of escape, we could activate it to preserve our souls. We believed her and were grateful—until Earl Mason triggered it at the moment of death. Only then did I realize it wasn't a life-saving formation at all, but a self-destruct mechanism. Sara intended to use it to eliminate potential threats. We so-called Earls... we were human bombs she created with her own hands."

Ruyu took a deep breath and said through gritted teeth, "Luckily, I've only been enlightened for two years and never met Sara. Otherwise, knowing her methods, I'm sure she would have implanted the same formation in me."

After a pause, she asked urgently, "So Miss Yun, you not only carry a deadly poison set to expire, but also a self-destruct formation that could be triggered by a single thought?"

"Yes," Yun Ruge said with a bitter smile, her voice tinged with irony. "At this point, you could say I carry all five deadly poisons."

Ruyu gave a wry smile. "It's not much better for me. I was poisoned just like you. I'm afraid I'll be dead from it in a year or so."

Yun Ruge responded earnestly, "You must have faith in Mr. Wade. He might just create a miracle."

Ruyu said, "But Mr. Wade told me he hasn't found a way to detoxify it yet, and a year is a short time. He may not have the energy or resources to find a solution for us within that period."

Yun Ruge shook her head and replied, “Everything depends on timing and opportunity. Although Mr. Wade doesn’t have a solution right now, I believe that with his luck, he’ll eventually find a way.”

As she spoke, Yun Ruge gently reminded her, “Now that we’re here, don’t dwell on things beyond our control. No matter how much we worry, it won’t change anything. It’s better to stay calm, focus on cultivation, and not let other concerns weigh you down.”

“You’re right!” Ruyu agreed. “To be honest, Miss Yun, I’ve been thinking the same. Before I came here, Mr. Wade helped me recover my sea of consciousness. I feel like I’ve stepped into an entirely new world of cultivation. Whether or not the poison can be neutralized in a year, I’ve decided to make the most of this time, cultivate seriously, and not waste Mr. Wade’s support and guidance.”

There was one thing Yun Ruge hadn’t told Ruyu.

In fact, Charlie Wade had already informed her that there might be a way to remove the poison.

However, the method was both cruel and costly.

It involved using a Reshaping Pill to rebuild her body.

Charlie Wade had once examined her body with spiritual energy and found two strange energies intertwined inside her—but they were restricted to her physical form.

If no other method is found before the poison takes full effect, the only option may be to decapitate Yun Ruge and place the Reshaping Pill in her mouth.

As long as her brain remains alive and retains even a sliver of consciousness, the Reshaping Pill could reconstruct her body.

By then, the poison entangled within her internal organs would naturally be eliminated.

Yun Ruge was aware of this method, but she chose not to tell Ruyu, fearing that a young girl like her wouldn’t be able to handle the idea of something as extreme as beheading.

So she simply kept it to herself.

Yun Ruge understood that while beheading followed by taking the Reshaping Pill could completely remove the poison in both her and Ruyu’s bodies, it couldn’t eliminate the self-destruct formation hidden in her Niwan Palace.
