

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7460

“Great Magical Pill?!”

The two women were instantly stunned, their faces filled with disbelief.

They had only ever taken the Small Magical Pill. Ruyu hadn’t even heard of the regular Magical Pill before, let alone the Large Magical Pill.

After all, Yun Ruge had been with Sara for a long time and had heard her mention the Magical Pill before. She knew its effects were far more potent than those of the XiaoMagical Pill. However, she also knew that obtaining such a rare pill from Sara was impossible.

As far as she knew, only Sara and the three elders had ever taken the Magical Pill.

But now charlie claimed that his elixir was the Magical Pill.

Judging by the name, the Great Magical Pill had to be even more powerful than the regular version.

Even the standard Magical Pill was beyond what these two women ever hoped to receive—let alone the Magical Pill, which they wouldn’t have even dared to dream of.

Seeing their astonished expressions, charlie smiled and said, “As the name implies, the Great Magical Pill is stronger than the regular Magical Pill. Given your current cultivation, this should be a significant boost for both of you.”

Yun Ruge and Ruyu were so shocked they couldn’t speak. In the Poqing Society, elixirs were the highest reward Sara could offer. Since attaining enlightenment, Ruyu had only received the XiaoMagical Pill a few times—and only one each time. Each time, he would kneel to express gratitude, even if he had never seen Sara in person, bowing instead to the one delivering the pill.

Yun Ruge was slightly stronger than Ruyu. As a titled master, she received pills from Sara every six months. But even then, the supply was limited—only a few Small Magical Pills per year.

Occasionally, after completing major missions or making notable contributions, if Sara was in a good mood, she might grant three to five pills. That was the most one could hope for.

But charlie was completely different from Sara. These two had never truly worked for him, and yet he had protected them throughout, given them a peaceful and undisturbed place to cultivate—and now, he was giving them elixirs.

And not just any elixirs—these were the Great Magical Pills, many times more powerful than the Small ones.

Seeing the two women still frozen in awe, Charlie gave a slight smile and said, “There’s no need to be so surprised. I happen to have some skill in alchemy, and I’m not stingy with my pills. You’ve both reached enlightenment through immense effort. I hope these two pills can aid your progress.”

Yun Ruge was deeply moved and said respectfully, “Mr. Wade’s kindness to me is as immense as a mountain. I will never forget it!”

Ruyu’s eyes turned red as tears began to fall uncontrollably. In her short twenty years of life, she had never truly felt cared for by anyone.

Her place in the Song family had always been the result of an illegitimate birth, and her only purpose was to be used as a pawn to please the Wu family.

As for the Wu family—Sara included—none of them ever truly cared about her.

All the Wu family cared about was how well she could serve their interests.

Looking back now, the only person who had ever genuinely cared for her... was probably Charlie.

She took a deep breath to compose herself, then said through her tears, “Thank you for your kindness, Mr. Wade. I’m willing to give my life for you!”

Charlie smiled and replied, “I gave you the pills to help you progress—not to make you pledge your loyalty. Let’s set those sentiments aside for now and take the pills. I’ll guide you through absorbing the spiritual energy.”

The two women exchanged a look, then nodded simultaneously and placed the pills in their mouths.

Even before ingesting them, they could feel the immense spiritual energy radiating from the pills, nearly bursting from within.
