

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7491

The middle-aged man put his hands in his pockets and looked around with his belly bulging. He found that many people were staring at him because he got out of the Bentley, including Jacob and Elaine who were not far away. So he said arrogantly: "Xiao Wang, take my Bentley Bentayga to the 4S shop for maintenance and tell them to use the best engine oil."

The driver nodded and said respectfully, "Okay, Mr. Li, don't worry, I will arrange it."

The middle-aged man reminded again: "When you come to pick us up later, remember to drive Alpha. My wife is coming back from the Maldives and will go shopping in Dubai first. She will definitely bring a lot of things by then."

"Okay, Mr. Li, no problem!" The driver nodded repeatedly in response.

The middle-aged man was also very satisfied. Because he spoke loudly just now, he attracted a lot of people's attention.

He couldn't help but sigh to the young woman beside him: "I used to charter a business jet for travel, but this time their general aviation company's plane went to the United States for maintenance, so I can only inconvenience you to follow me in first class."

The young woman smiled charmingly and said, "Oh, my dear, it's okay. I'm not afraid of suffering with you. The most regrettable thing is that I didn't know you when you were working hard on your own in the early years. Otherwise, I would have suffered with you at that time!"

The middle-aged man said with a smile: "Oh, you are such a good wife of mine! Just having you say this is enough!"

charlie Wade and Claire didn't take the two seriously, but Jacob took a special look at them. When he heard them bragging in front of him, he curled his lips and said to Elaine beside him, "Tsk, you dare to drive a broken Bentley Bentayga out? It's embarrassing."

Elaine asked him, "Bentley is also a very famous brand, right?"

Jacob said disdainfully: "That depends on what brand you compare it with. Compared with Mercedes-Benz and BMW, he is the father. Compared with Rolls-Royce, he is the grandson."

I don't know whether Jacob spoke intentionally or unintentionally, but his voice was a little louder and the other party heard it as soon as he spoke.

The middle-aged man's face changed instantly. He looked at Jacob and said with a sneer, "Damn it, there are all kinds of birds in the forest. He went out and got a shabby Tuk Tuk private car, and he said that others' big Bentleys were embarrassing. If you didn't know, you would think he drove a fucking Cullinan."

Jacob also started to argue with the other party. He directly took out a Cullinan car key from his pocket, turned the key ring on his finger in a circle, and said with emotion: "This loser is a loser. He can't afford it himself, so he thinks that others can't afford it either. I have always been a low-key person, otherwise I would have driven a Cullinan to the airport too."

The middle-aged man recognized the Rolls-Royce car keys at a glance, and his face suddenly became a little embarrassed.

He looked Jacob up and down and felt that this old guy didn't look like he could afford a Cullinan, and the young men and women around him didn't look like they were rich. However, this young woman was really beautiful, many times more beautiful than his new mistress.

So he said to the young woman beside him: "Wife, you don't know these days. It's actually very simple to buy a luxury car key. You can buy a lighter with the same appearance for just a few dozen dollars online. You can pretend it's a luxury car key in front of others and use it to light a cigarette when you're alone."

Jacob was so angry that he laughed. He directly broke the balance of the two sides, which had not been in direct conflict. Instead, he took out a cigarette and put it in his mouth, then handed the car keys to the other party and said, "Come on, teach me how to light a fire with this thing. To be honest, I bought it a long time ago, and I didn't know it could be used as a lighter."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7492

Jacob always wants to show off whenever he gets the chance. If he can't wait for the chance, he will force himself to show off.

In his opinion, this kid is now in his hands.

You said my Rolls-Royce car key is fake? Then let me show you what a real Rolls-Royce car key is.

The middle-aged man surnamed Li took the Rolls-Royce key, played with it for a few times, pressed the button on the key, and then laughed and threw the key directly to Jacob, saying contemptuously: "This broken thing is pretty damn real. This should not be bought from Pinduoduo or Taobao, right?"

Jacob didn't expect him to throw the key out suddenly. He was afraid that he would not be able to catch it, so he nervously grabbed it in the air several times before he caught it. Then he angrily scolded: "Hey, how can you be so uncultured? You have never seen the world. I threw the car keys to you so that you can broaden your horizons. Why did you throw it away so casually? If it breaks, can you afford to pay for it?"

The middle-aged man said disdainfully: "Why can't I afford to pay for a broken fake?"

Elaine on the side angrily cursed: "Open your dog eyes and see, this is the real Rolls-Royce car key!"

"Bah!" the middle-aged man said contemptuously, "Who are you trying to fool? Do you think I didn't see you guys got off the Tuk Tuk?"

Jacob immediately rebuked: "I didn't want to drive today. We are going to travel abroad and leave the car at the airport. I am afraid that it will be scratched by others, so why can't I take a taxi?!"

The middle-aged man rolled his eyes at the couple and snorted, "You are contradicting yourself. You said you were going abroad, but you didn't drive out and you took a taxi to the airport. Then why did you bring your car keys with you? What's the point of bringing your car keys with you when you go abroad? Tell me!"

"I...I...I..." Jacob was speechless for a moment and didn't know how to answer.

The spectators around also laughed at him, because although the middle-aged man's attitude was very rogue and shameless, what he said seemed to make some sense.

Since you are traveling abroad and not planning to drive, there is no use for you to put the car keys in your pocket, except for the risk of losing them!

Is it just to show off that you put your car keys in your pocket and take them with you when traveling abroad?

Everyone also felt that this was somewhat incompatible with the image of a Rolls-Royce owner.

Someone who can do such a low thing is most likely not a distinguished Rolls-Royce owner.

Seeing that Jacob was speechless, the middle-aged man felt that he had hit the nail on the head, so he took advantage of the situation and said, "I say, you are so old, why are you still so proud? No matter if you have a Rolls-Royce or not, you don't need to put the car keys in your pocket when you go abroad or take a plane, right?"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7493

After that, he patted his pockets with both hands and said with a smile: "Look at me, I am a legitimate and distinguished Bentley owner, but do I have the car keys with me? No! I'm going to the Maldives soon, what's the point of me carrying the car keys? What's more, I have a driver, who the hell buys a Rolls-Royce and drives it by himself!"

"Oh, by the way, you just want to wait for the security check, and the security staff asks you to take out everything in your pocket, and you just take out a Rolls-Royce car key from your pocket and slap it there, and you feel proud, right?"

Jacob said to the child whose mind was seen through, blushing and stubbornly: "I...I didn't! I put it in my pocket accidentally!"

"Bah!" The middle-aged man curled his lips: "Your face is red, who would believe you if you said that?"

After he finished speaking, he sighed and said, "Oh, old man, I advise you to be more low-key when you go out in the future, and don't brag everywhere, so as not to be laughed at. Your children are all around you. Even if you don't care about your own face, you have to consider theirs, right?"

Jacob was not a sharp-tongued person. After hearing what the other party said, he felt that he had no way to defend himself and could not express his grievances. He could only take out his mobile phone and look for something.

Elaine, who was standing by, had never been so angry before. She immediately pinched her waist and glared at the other person: "I'm not showing off like a coward by driving a broken Bentley. Go ask around. My husband used to be the executive vice president of the Jinling Calligraphy and Painting Association. Ask the people in the Calligraphy and Painting Association. Everyone knows that he drives a 2B version of Cullinan!"

Jacob quickly said: "What 2B? It's not 2B, it's BB, the BB version of Cullinan!"

Elaine waved her hands impatiently: "Aren't they all the same? The same meaning."

The other party seemed to have never taken Elaine seriously, and turned to look at Claire, smiling and said: "Beauty, these two should be your parents, please persuade them, they are so old, don't be so vain."

After saying that, he called to the charming woman beside him: "Wife, let's go, let's go through customs and go to the first-class lounge to rest."

Seeing her husband taking the upper hand, the charming woman also felt very proud and said coquettishly: “Good husband, I told you a long time ago that when you go out, don’t bother with poor people. You can’t explain it to them.”

The middle-aged man laughed, hugged the charming woman and walked away happily.

As soon as he left, Jacob raised his head and shouted angrily at his back: “Don’t leave me, look at me, look at the photos I took with my car! See if it’s Cullinan, see if I’m bragging!”

Seeing that the other party didn’t even turn his head, he stamped his feet in anger: “Look! Open your dog eyes and see clearly!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7494

Claire, who was standing by, felt extremely embarrassed and stepped forward and said, “Dad, that’s enough. Stop holding on to it. You shouldn’t have taken out the car keys in the first place.”

Claire felt embarrassed, not because she felt ashamed of being watched and even laughed at by strangers, but because she felt that it was shameful for her parents to show off the things they got in exchange for charlie’s status in public. Especially since she didn’t expect that her father secretly put the car keys in his pocket even though he had clearly said that he would not drive to the airport. She knew very well what he was thinking.

What the middle-aged man said just now was very right. Dad must have been thinking that taking this key with him when he goes out would bring him some glory.

Such vain behavior really disappointed Claire.

charlie didn’t feel anything. He stood aside without saying a word. Mainly because he thought his father-in-law’s behavior of holding the car keys was too funny, so he just watched him get humiliated.

Seeing that his daughter and son-in-law did not support him, Jacob felt a little embarrassed and secretly put the car keys on his body. Looking back now, this behavior was indeed a bit too childish.

He was originally in a good mood to go on vacation, but he was ridiculed as soon as he went out, which made Jacob very depressed. He looked at the Rolls-Royce car key in his hand, and felt that the treasure that usually made him very satisfied has now become a hot potato. He couldn’t throw it away, nor could he keep it.

So he quickly took out his cell phone and called President Pei: “Hey, Old Pei, where are you? I went on vacation today and didn’t drive, but I accidentally put my car keys with me. How about you give me your home address and I'll ask a local runner to deliver the car keys to you. Please keep them for me first."

President Pei was puzzled: "Just pretend if you can. The car keys are not that heavy. You have to find someone to deliver them to me and pay for it. What's the point?"

Jacob said against his will: "Oh, you also know that my car key is too conspicuous, don't I want others to see it? Otherwise, if I have to take it out during the security check, others will think I am pretending to be cool."

President Pei said casually: "If not, just put it in the suitcase. Just remember not to take it out. Security will not let you take out the car keys from the suitcase for separate inspection."

"Ah..." Jacob sighed and said depressedly: "That's fine, I'll put it in the box, and hang up first, Lao Pei."

After saying that, he hung up the phone, opened his small suitcase a little, and stuffed the Rolls-Royce car key in through the gap with a look of disgust.

charlie found it funny, but he tried not to laugh. Seeing that he had sorted out the car keys, he waved to him and said, "Come on, it's getting late, hurry in!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7495

Jacob suffered a great loss and looked reluctant at this moment.

But even if he was reluctant, there was nothing he could do. The person involved had already left, and even if he wanted to get back at his wits' end, he no longer had the chance.

Helplessly, he could only swallow this loss and followed charlie and Claire to the airport.

Elaine also had a sullen look on her face, and she kept muttering, "Damn it, Grandma has never suffered such a loss. Back then, I opened the window in our old community and cursed at everyone in the community, and I didn't lose. Today, I was insulted by this bastard. I'm so angry!"

Claire knew her mother's temper, so she advised: "Okay, Mom, it's just a small matter, don't keep it in your mind. Don't forget that we are going out to play this time."

Elaine muttered, "Just now I heard that couple say that they are going to the Maldives too. Are they going to the same flight as us?"

charlie said casually: “There are not direct flights from Aurous Hill to Maldives every day. Now is the peak season for traveling to tropical areas, so there is one flight every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. After the Chinese New Year, fewer people will travel abroad, so the flights will be suspended.”

Elaine asked in surprise: “So what you mean is that he must be on the same plane as us?”

“Yes.” charlie smiled and said, “If they are really going to the Maldives, they must be on the same flight as us.”

Jacob cursed angrily: “Oh, I’m so unlucky. How could I take the same flight with such a person?”

Elaine looked at Jacob with disdain, sneered and said, “What are you afraid of? It would be better if we were on the same flight! I can’t suffer the loss just now in vain. I have to get back at him once I’m on the plane!”

Claire was startled, and quickly took her arm, and persuaded her earnestly: “Oh, mom, please don’t be impulsive. Making trouble on a plane is different from making trouble on the ground. On a plane, the slightest thing can escalate to a very serious level. Moreover, every flight now has a security officer, who is equivalent to the air police. If you make trouble on the plane, you may be arrested.”

Elaine snorted and laughed: “Tsk, just catch them, do you know what your mother’s nickname is?”

When saying this, Elaine thought of the glorious days in Bedford Hill.

The reputation of Bedford Hills as the haunted prisoner is still circulating in Bedford Hills Correctional Institution today, and it is well-known and deafening.

Claire really had nothing to say about her own mother. Her mother had been in and out of prison before, both in China and the United States, so she had seen a lot of ups and downs. She wouldn’t take it to heart if he threatened her with the security officer on the plane.

Helplessly, she could only think to herself that she must keep a close eye on her mother and stop her from doing anything out of line. This was her first time traveling abroad with charlie, and it might also be the last time. She could not let her mother’s personality ruin the trip.

The family of four entered the airport, passed security and customs, and then came to the airline’s first-class lounge.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7496

There were not many people waiting for their flights in the luxuriously decorated lounge. This was because the first-class lounge was different from the VIP lounge. If one had purchased an ordinary business-class ticket or was a high-card user of an airline, they could only go to an ordinary VIP lounge. The first-class lounge was specially prepared for passengers who spent tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of dollars to purchase a transoceanic first-class ticket.

After showing their boarding passes, they were led to the sofa seats inside by young ground staff.

What a coincidence, the middle-aged man and young woman were also inside and were having breakfast.

When enemies meet, they are particularly jealous of each other. When Elaine saw the two of them, she rolled up her sleeves and went straight to greet them. The middle-aged man was also a little surprised to see her come in, because a ticket from Aurous Hill to Male, the capital of Maldives, costs nearly 70,000 yuan.

He thought to himself, "I'm so rich that I felt really bad for spending 140,000 yuan on plane tickets. I didn't expect this loser's family of four to be able to afford first-class tickets. It seems he has some financial resources."

Seeing that Elaine did not sit down but went straight to the two people, Claire tried to stop her but failed. Elaine's arms seemed to be greased. She turned sideways and swung her arms, shaking off Claire's hands, and walked towards the other party with big strides.

The middle-aged man and his wife were having dinner. Since the food in the first-class lounge was very good, they filled a table with food. The woman was busy taking pictures from various angles to post on WeChat Moments. When the man saw Elaine coming, he immediately put down his chopsticks vigilantly and stared at Elaine, wondering what she was trying to do.

When Elaine walked in front of the two men, she deliberately slowed down her pace and stopped more than one meter away from them. She felt that this distance was relatively safe, in case the man got up and beat her and she would not be able to dodge in time.

Jacob was afraid that she would suffer a loss, so he quickly whispered, "Wife, wait for me, I will go with you!"

Elaine waved her hand disdainfully and said lightly: "No need, Grandma Ma wants to fight them one-on-one today!"

Then, she crossed her arms and muttered with disdain, "Oh, is this your first time in first class? It's like you've never seen anything like it before. You two took a whole table. What's the matter? Do you want to eat your plane ticket back with breakfast?"

The middle-aged man suddenly felt embarrassed. He really didn't want to take so many things, but he couldn't resist his new wife who kept taking them. There was a lot of food here, and there was a special window for ordering food, so the woman took bread, desserts, and then shrimp dumplings. She took all the golden items in Cantonese dim sum, and later asked the kitchen to cook two bowls of wonton noodles for her.

The man knew that his wife couldn't finish so much food, she was just doing it to satisfy her own desire and to take some photos for her social media accounts, so he was speechless for a moment when Elaine ridiculed him.

But the woman next to her raised her head and looked at Viola Ma with disdain: "It's you again. I spent the money. Does it have anything to do with you how much I take?"

Elaine curled her lips and said, "I know, you just want to take some photos and videos and post them on WeChat Moments to show off. It's not that I look down on you, but how many times have you sat in first class?"

The woman said angrily, "I have been in first class several times. What does it have to do with you? Besides, my husband always took a business jet when he went out before. This time he couldn't get a business jet, so he sat in first class with poor people like you, okay!"

"Oh my!" Elaine took out her cell phone, flipped through it, and said contemptuously, "Look at you bragging like you've really been on a business jet. Your husband drives that broken Bentley, and at best he can afford to charter a cheap route in China. I know that some business jets in China occasionally fly back to the mainland, and a short trip costs only hundreds of thousands or even tens of thousands. But a business jet chartering a cross-ocean flight costs more than 1 million yuan. Can your husband afford this kind of money?"

The middle-aged man thought to himself, "How does this old woman know so much?"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7497

The middle-aged man was shocked, but the young woman next to him didn't understand.

Ever since she followed the middle-aged man next to her, she has not had the opportunity to experience the dignity of a business jet, and she has only heard the legends about business jets from her husband a few times.

Her husband was indeed reluctant to spend a lot of money on a long-distance flight. Usually, someone's business jet would go to a certain city on a normal basis, or just happen to come to Aurous Hill from a certain city. It would not be cost-effective to return empty-handed, so he would spread the news through an intermediary, selling the return plane at a low price, and giving a few tens of thousands of yuan for gas to take the person there, just like a taxi driver who would sell the plane at a lower price to attract repeat customers after a long-distance trip.

In order to show off, the man once spent 100,000 yuan to fly from Aurous Hill to Chang'an. Just that one experience gave him the confidence to brag later, and he told women that he always chartered a business jet wherever he went.

But this trip to the Maldives was really too expensive. Although not as expensive as the United States, it was during the Spring Festival holiday and prices had risen. The quoted price was nearly one million. He really couldn't bear to spend it, so he made up a lie that the business jet was fully booked.

Elaine is a person who is good at discovering other people's weaknesses. When she saw that woman was only concerned with taking pictures, she knew that this woman was exactly the same as herself, but her experience was definitely richer than hers, so crushing her was like a piece of cake.

The woman was a little unhappy at this time. She put down her phone and stared at Viola Ma, saying angrily: "You old woman are really annoying. My husband usually spends money on me and is very generous. This time he just didn't make an appointment. How can you be here to nag? You talk as if you have taken a transoceanic charter flight. What kind of thing is that!"

Elaine laughed and cursed in her heart: "Little girl, your grandmother Ma brought you into the ditch with just two words, and you still want to fight with me!"

Thinking of this, she handed the phone to the two of them and sneered, "Look at this video on WeChat Moments. Click it and take a good look!"

The man was a little surprised. He took the video and opened it. He found that it was in a private plane with extremely luxurious interior decoration. In the camera, three flight attendants bowed deeply in the direction of the video. The leading one said respectfully, "Dear Ms. , welcome to this flight. This flight is from Aurous Hill to Providence, USA. The flight time is about fifteen hours. I am the chief steward of this flight. The two people next to me are from our crew. The three of us will serve you throughout the flight. You can tell us at any time if you need anything..."

When the man saw this, he was dumbfounded.

Elaine said with a look of arrogance at this time: "Maybe I might as well tell you that the plane I'm on is the famous Gulfstream G650. Have you heard of it?"

He stared at Elaine with wide eyes, exclaiming in his heart: "Who is this old woman? She chartered such a good private plane to go to the United States, and the key is that she is alone! This fucking flight must cost a million or so, at least two million round trip, does she have a mine at home?"

After watching the video, the woman said with disdain, “Tsk, it’s just a video, what can it prove? I know there are a lot of crudely made skits nowadays, and they can get any kind of studio, not to mention filming in a private jet, even filming in the Forbidden City is not uncommon!”

The man quickly scolded her: “Shut up and eat your food! Can’t all these things shut your mouth?”

The woman didn’t expect her husband to scold her. She said aggrievedly, “Husband, why are you so mean to me? It’s obviously this stinky old woman who is causing trouble!”

The man pointed at her nose and cursed, “Shut up! Did you hear me? If you keep talking nonsense, don’t blame me for beating you outside!”

The woman was so frightened by the scolding that she dared not speak.

After scolding his wife, the man handed the phone to Elaine with a flattering look on his face, and said respectfully: “Ms. Elaine, oh no, Aunt Elaine, I’m sorry, we don’t know Taishan, please don’t treat us like that!”

This man actually has only tens of millions of dollars in assets, and the Bentley was bought second-hand, so he didn’t spend much money on it. But to ordinary people, he is definitely considered a wealthy man, so he likes to show off occasionally. But he knows very well that facing a man who can spend more than one million to charter a private jet for a trip to the United States, his financial strength is definitely far inferior.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7498

Elaine didn’t expect that this guy was so arrogant outside the airport just now, but he immediately became timid after watching a video on his circle of friends, and a smug smile of a winner immediately appeared on his face.

At the same time, she was also sighing in her heart: “I usually like to post on WeChat Moments to show off, it has no harm, didn’t it come in handy today?”

Thinking of this, she snorted coldly and said to the man, “Young man, let me tell you, when you go out, don’t always think you are the best. You should know that there are always people better than you. After all, my husband is the leader of the Calligraphy and Painting Association. I can’t be too ostentatious when I go out. If I go to the Maldives alone, I will definitely take the Gulfstream G650. Do you think I want to sit in first class with people like you?”

The middle-aged man’s momentum had been completely suppressed by Elaine, and he quickly apologized: “Yes, yes, Aunt Ma, you are right, we must be more low-key in the future!”

Elaine nodded with satisfaction, and said lightly: “Let’s just let it go this time, and pay more attention in the future.”

After saying that, he turned around with his chin held high and walked back to his family.

Jacob was stunned. Seeing Viola Elaine coming back, he immediately asked her in a low voice: “Wife, when did you take a private plane to the United States? Why didn’t I know?”

Claire’s face was also full of surprise at this time.

She naturally knew that her mother had been to the United States once. Before that, when she was studying in Providence for a master class, her mother said that she missed her and had been to the United States once.

But my mother never told me that she went there on a private plane.

Besides, how could she possibly have the money to afford a private jet?

Claire couldn’t help but ask, “Yes, Mom, why haven’t I heard that you went there by private plane? Where did you get a private plane?”

Elaine was a little unnatural, and whispered shyly: “I used to go to Harbour City to buy things. There was a jewelry store that happened to have a promotional lottery. The first prize was worth 1.2 million, and I won it. Guess what, they didn’t give 1.2 million yuan, they provided a chartered flight to the United States worth 1.2 million, and it would be a waste if I gave up this opportunity, and I couldn’t cash it in. I thought since you are in the United States, I would go to see you by the way.”

Jacob was surprised and delighted: “Wow, my dear, you are so lucky! This is too awesome! And you said you let that guy see your Moments just now. Have you ever posted on Moments? How come I didn’t know about it?”

Elaine coughed twice and reminded him: “Be quiet, don’t let anyone hear it.”

After that, he added: “I blocked all of you when I posted it on WeChat Moments. I didn’t want you to know. Keep a low profile, understand?”

Jacob looked puzzled: “How can you be considered low-key if you block your family members?”

At this moment, Claire was extremely confused, thinking, what kind of jewelry store would launch such an incredible lottery and prizes? There must be something wrong!

Then, she thought of charlie beside her, and her mind suddenly became clear.

If charlie was secretly behind all this, it wouldn’t be surprising...

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7499

What happened to his mother made Claire understand a truth, that is, “Dad, Mom, and himself are actually very ordinary people. In this ordinary family of three, no miracles will happen, and there will be no windfall and good luck.

Therefore, if you analyze all the incredible or lucky good things that happened to your family of three in the past few years, you will find that they were basically facilitated by charlie behind the scenes.

My father used to be unable to hold his head up in the Willson family, but later he became the executive vice president of the Calligraphy and Painting Association. This must have been due to charlie’s help behind the scenes.

But the most embarrassing thing was that charlie got his father such a position of executive vice president, but he didn’t expect that his father would cause a scandal and lose the position.

After he lost it, charlie stepped in again and helped him regain a leadership position.

So, although Dad is not as arrogant and trouble-making as Mom, he has actually caused a lot of trouble for charlie.

For a moment, Claire felt extremely melancholy and sat alone in his seat sighing.

Seeing that she was not in a good mood, charlie quickly asked her with concern: “What’s wrong with you, honey?”

Claire looked up at charlie and forced a smile, then lied, “It’s okay, maybe I got up too early and I’m a little tired.”

charlie felt that he had guessed the reason why Claire was unhappy, so he whispered: “This is the character of my parents, you know it very well, so don’t take it to heart.”

charlie felt that it must be his father-in-law and mother-in-law who did this this morning, which affected Claire’s mood, but what they didn’t expect was that they were only two-thirds right. There were three people who affected Claire’s mood, in addition to his father-in-law and mother-in-law, there was also himself.

The middle-aged man surnamed Li calmed down, and the first-class lounge became much quieter.

Elaine still had a smug smile on her face. She defined her victory just now as a decisive victory. This satisfying feeling of pretending to be successful made her feel very proud.

Jacob also had a feeling of revenge, and from time to time he looked at the middle-aged man who was already a little timid and even evasive with a provocative look.

The man didn't even dare to look at them, so he simply turned his face away, leaving only the back of his head exposed.

charlie and Claire were not in the mood for breakfast, but Elaine and Jacob had big appetites. They took a lot of food and drinks, ate, took photos, and posted to their Moments, looking very happy and comfortable.

After sitting in the lounge for dozens of minutes, the service staff came over and respectfully asked the four of them to go to the boarding gate to board the plane.

There were only eight first-class seats on this plane, with four in each row. charlie's family happened to be in the first row, and the second row was occupied by the middle-aged man surnamed Li and his young wife.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7500

Since the two of them boarded the plane, they deliberately lagged behind charlie's family. They came up reluctantly only after charlie's family boarded the plane. After coming up, they sat quietly in their seats and were very quiet all the way.

In order to maintain the airs they had put on in front of the two men, Elaine and Claire did not take pictures or chat along the way. They deliberately acted as if they often flew first class, which made charlie feel fortunate. Fortunately, the two groups of people bumped into each other before boarding the plane, and after that, everyone was much quieter.

After several hours of flight, the plane finally landed in Male, the capital of Maldives.

Male is small and the airport is also small, but the remote parking stands within sight are almost full of various luxury private jets.

As a global holiday destination, although the local economic development is very average and the per capita GDP is not very good, it attracts the world's top wealthy people to come for vacation.

The reason why the rich like this place is because it has beautiful scenery, good sea water, and a good climate. More importantly, this is an archipelago country with thousands of large and small islands that are completely unconnected. Some islands are dedicated to locals, and these islands are more like densely populated slums, but more islands are directly rented to top hotel groups and top rich people around the world.

After renting a scenic island, these hotel groups and wealthy people will spend a huge amount of money to transform it into an extremely luxurious resort.

Apart from landing in the capital Male by plane, these wealthy people will not have any contact with their own country's citizens, so the relatively backward local economy will not affect their vacation experience at all.

After the plane landed, the family of four went through customs and saw the most conspicuous thing: a dark-skinned young man wearing a white shirt and black trousers, holding a sign that read "Mr. Wade and his family".

Next to him were three young men dressed the same as him. One of them was holding a sign with the words "Mr. and Mrs. Li" written in Chinese.

These people all have brown skin, and even if they are not native Chinese, they look like they are South Asians.

Kep Island is worthy of being the most luxurious resort island in the Maldives. The staff members who picked us up at the airport all had the Kep Island logo embroidered on their chests, as well as name badges with their own names. The signs they held in their hands were all based on the classic LV pattern and also had the name of Kep Island on them, which was very elegant.

Seeing that it was him who was waiting, Charlie waved to the others, and the four of them immediately trotted forward. The young man holding the sign saw that there were four of them, so he asked him respectfully in fluent Chinese, "You must be Mr. Wade, right?"

Charlie nodded: "I am."

The other party said respectfully, "Hello, Mr. Wade. It is my honor to provide services for you and your family. I am Hani, your butler for the next four days on White Horse Island. These three are my colleagues. Two of them are responsible for receiving VIPs at the airport. You can give all your luggage to them. They will help you and your family transport your luggage to the seaplane. I will take you and your family to the VIP room to rest for a while. When the seaplane is ready, I will take you on board to the hotel."

Charlie smiled and said, "You speak Chinese very well."

Hani said politely: "Thank you Mr. Wade for the compliment. In order to serve the Chinese guests well, I have studied Chinese for many years. On Baima Island, we can provide services in the world's top ten mainstream languages, so that you and your family will feel more at home when you arrive on the island!"

Elaine sighed on the side: "Oh, this luxurious island is different. Before I came here, I was worried that my English was not good and it would be inconvenient to communicate. Now it seems that there is no need to worry about this."

As they were talking, the middle-aged man surnamed Li and his wife also came over. Seeing Charlie and his family chatting with the airport pick-up staff, he looked at the logo on the staff's clothes. When he found out that the other party was a staff member of Baima Island, his face looked a little ugly. He said to his wife in a depressed tone: "The old woman surnamed Ma is going to the same island as us. We may take the same seaplane in a while. You must be careful with your words and try not to talk nonsense."
