The Amazing son in law Chapter 7571

The host aroused everyone's interest with just a few words.

Regardless of whether the programs of the Spring Festival Gala are good or not, the organization and arrangement of the programs have always been very rigorous. In order to ensure that the ringing of the New Year's bell at midnight is not affected, the previous programs must be accurate to the second. Anyone who deliberately extends or shortens the time of his or her program will be blacklisted by the director team and will never have the opportunity to perform on this stage again.

Therefore, the program list and time of the Spring Festival Gala are basically finalized more than half a month in advance, and then rehearsals will be carried out over and over again based on this program list.

What kind of mysterious program is it that made the Spring Festival Gala program crew fight to confirm it until two days before the performance?

This undoubtedly involves a huge risk, which is in stark contrast to the cautious style of previous Spring Festival Galas.

Just when everyone was puzzled, the host continued, "Some time ago, a song was frequently searched on major websites. This song is "Assassin" sung by our powerful female singer Stefanie sun and international superstar Tawanna Sweet. Those who like Miss Sun should know that Miss Sun will retire from the entertainment industry after all her farewell concerts this year. So our director team tried several times and finally invited Miss Sun to the Spring Festival Gala stage again before she retired!"

The audience at the scene was already screaming and exclaiming.

Such fanatical phenomenon rarely appeared on the Spring Festival Gala stage in the past.

Many viewers in front of the TV were even more excited.

Who would have thought that Stefanie sun would be able to perform on the Spring Festival Gala again!

At this time, the host smiled and said: “Next, please invite Stefanie sun to perform the song “Assassin” for us.”

The stage switched to an ancient style again, and Stefanie sun, wearing an ancient long skirt, came on stage.

Even in this restaurant on the Maldives island, many viewers were still clapping excitedly.

Jacob also raised his hands and clapped them non-stop, saying with a smile: “Oh, this song was really popular some time ago! Miss Sweet sang this song in the bar yesterday!”

Claire pursed her lips, with a complicated expression, and said nothing.

charlie didn’t bother to pay attention to the changes in Claire’s expression. He stared at the big screen, looking at Stefanie sun’s red shawl curiously.

Perhaps, it cannot be called a shawl, but more like a long red tassel. The silk-like material passes from her shoulders through her arms, and the long red satin flutters in the wind behind her on both sides.

This is a long tassel!

charlie knew that Stefanie sun was also expressing her respect to her father in her own way.

Originally, charlie might be the only one who could see the hidden meaning in this scene, but charlie did not expect that Claire, who was standing beside him, also saw Stefanie sun’s intention.

The two families are old friends and they are engaged. Stefanie sun has been looking for charlie for so many years. Claire feels that Stefanie sun, who is wearing a long tassel on the stage at this moment, is charlie’s true emotional destination...

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7572

When the New Year’s bell rang, it was just nine o’clock in the evening in the Maldives.

In order to create a better New Year atmosphere, Bernard Arno spent a lot of money to purchase a lot of fireworks, which he had brought to the bay by boat to be set off.

Colorful fireworks rose from the seaside and soared into the sky, exploding in mid-air, bursting into dazzling fireworks, and at the same time were reflected by the sparkling seaside. The beautiful scenery of the sea and sky is so fascinating.

Claire looked at the fireworks on the seashore outside the window and murmured absentmindedly: "I haven't seen such beautiful fireworks in a long, long time..."

Elaine took out her mobile phone to shoot while nagging and sighing: "Who doesn't say it? The city has been banned from burning and setting off fireworks for so many years. I almost forgot what fireworks are. It's really beautiful, especially when it's so close, or it's set off on the sea."

Jacob's pupils reflected the fireworks that had shrunk countless times, and the wrinkles on his face were piled up with ups and downs and curves of happiness. He smiled and sighed, "When I was young, my favorite thing was to set off firecrackers. At that time, our family was well-off and we had a little money. During the Chinese New Year, I always used all the New Year's money to buy all kinds of firecrackers. Every day, a lot of children chased after me. Sometimes I gave them one or two smashing and wiping firecrackers, and they were very happy. They also nominated me as their commander-in-chief..."

Elaine didn't understand his nostalgia and emotion, and just teased him sarcastically: "Tsk, with Christopher here, can you still be the commander-in-chief? Then the commander-in-chief must be your brother, right?"

Jacob waved his hand and said casually: "That's not it, you don't understand, we are different in age, and we are not in the same team. He is the commander-in-chief in his team, and I am the commander-in-chief in mine."

Elaine was eating melon seeds and asked with a smile: "With your brother's little idea, have they thought about recruiting your team?"

Jacob slapped his thigh and said, "Hey! You're right! He has always wanted to recruit me into his team, but I didn't agree. I got beaten by him for this."

"I'll tell you what I mean." Elaine snorted, "Christopher is a coward from childhood, always thinking about taking advantage of others."

Jacob nodded and sighed: "He has been spoiled by my mother since he was a child. He wants everything, whether it is his or not."

Elaine asked curiously, "Well, it's strange. Everyone in the family loves the younger one, so why does your mother favor your eldest brother?"

Jacob smiled bitterly and said, “I have never been as obedient as my brother since I was young. My brother is smarter than me and can please my mother. Besides, in this family, no one can really treat everyone equally. If one side is a little higher, this side is a little lower, which is normal.”

Elaine deliberately teased him: “Your brother has been bad since he was young, and you have been cowardly since you were young. You two complement each other.”

Jacob didn’t pay attention to her teasing, but suddenly said with some regret: “Hey, I don’t know how they spent the New Year and how they spent it.”

Elaine was a little angry: “Oh, you are still thinking about them now? You really have time.”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7573

“How can you say that?” Jacob muttered in a muffled voice, “We are blood relatives after all. Even if we don’t have any contact, I still miss her. souna was able to make some money some time ago, but now she has no income because of you causing trouble.”

Elaine said unconvincedly: “She deserves it! Who told her to do those deceptive things? I am contributing to society by exposing her.”

Jacob sighed: “Nine out of ten internet celebrities are scammers, so she doesn’t matter. If she makes money, my mother can live a good life for a few days.”

Elaine snorted coldly: “Her? Still want to live a good life? God has been hesitating and hasn’t taken her in yet, it’s already a bargain for her! The old thing should have died long ago! When your father left, he should have taken her away with him!”

Jacob was a little angry, and said with a red face: “My mother is old, how many days can she live? Can’t you be more polite?”

At this moment, Claire felt a deep sense of powerlessness in his heart, and he couldn’t help but think of charlie’s mother, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom), who was an outstanding woman who had many Chinese people writing books and biographies about her. Then he looked at his own mother. Although he didn’t dislike her, ever since he learned about charlie’s true identity, he couldn’t help but make comparisons.

The indescribable sense of shame made Claire feel her eyelids burning. She looked at Elaine and couldn’t help but sigh: “Mom, it’s almost enough. We have been separated from grandma and uncle for such a long time. What grudge do you have that makes you hate them so much? You still want to curse them to death on New Year's Day?"

Elaine didn't know that her daughter's state at this time was different from before. She thought that she was just nagging at her routinely and had no offensive power, so she said in a cold and disdainful voice: "What's wrong with me cursing her to death? I tell you, I didn't kill that old thing with my own hands, so I am already a very good person! If it were someone else, your grandmother would have died countless times. Maybe a certain issue of Today's Statement will tell the story of her murder!"

After that, he sneered and said sarcastically, "To be honest, your grandfather is the only good man in the Willson family. A few years ago, I complained about him forcing a good son-in-law on you. Now I see that he should be doing this for your own good, otherwise we wouldn't be living such a prosperous life. Logically, he should live a few more years so that your grandmother would die earlier! Alas! It's true that good people don't live long, but evil people live for a thousand years!"

Elaine has always loved to show off her eloquence, and unbridled venting will bring her a strong sense of pleasure. Over the years, when she was bullied outside, she basically relied on venting at home to make up for her emotions.

Sometimes, one may develop the mentality of deliberately going against others.

For example, now, she was just casually mocking Old Madam Willson, but Jacob and Claire seemed to be blaming her, so she couldn't help but get angry, so she thought: "Oh, I just cursed that old man for a while, and you two dared to go against me, so I'm going to curse you to death!"

When she got emotional, she spoke like a machine gun, venting non-stop: "Damn it, that old thing has bullied me a lot over the years, and it was that old damn who broke my legs. If she really dies one day, I will definitely buy 20,000 yuan worth of firecrackers to celebrate! Even if it is forbidden in the city, I will still set off firecrackers! I will still set off firecrackers even if I am arrested and put in the detention center for a few days! I just want that old damn to not have peace even after her death!"

Claire, who was always docile, suddenly stood up, slammed the table, and blurted out: "Enough!!!"

This sudden action not only scared Jacob and Elaine, but also scared many guests around them.

Claire lost control of his emotions. Regardless of the surprised looks from the people around him, he stood up and walked out quickly.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7574

Seeing this, charlie hurriedly followed, only to hear Elaine talking stubbornly from behind: “This kid, his elbows are always bent outwards, not on my side at all...”

The moment Claire rushed out of the door, tears couldn’t stop flowing.

charlie caught up with her and saw her in tears. He quickly asked her with concern: “Wife, what’s wrong?”

Claire shook his head and said stubbornly: “It’s okay, I’m fine...”

charlie noticed something was wrong and asked her quickly: “Why are you crying? Mom is like this. To be honest, I’m used to it. You should have gotten used to it earlier after so many years.”

Claire couldn’t control herself, and she broke down and cried, “I just don’t want her to be like this for the rest of her life! I just want her to improve a little, to be a little better, and not be so desperate. Why can’t she do that?!”

“She has been like this for almost thirty years, from childhood to adulthood! She has suffered so much loss over the years, but she has never really learned from her experience!”

“Over the years, she has never corrected her faults and problems! She always blames others and always thinks that others have let her down!”

“You know what’s the only improvement I’ve seen from her over the years?”

charlie shook his head awkwardly and asked, “What is it?”

Claire cried and yelled, “It’s her attitude towards you! Over the years, the only thing she has improved is her attitude towards you. As for the rest, there is absolutely no change or improvement!”

charlie comforted him, “Even if you only see this little bit of progress, it’s at least progress! Then you can’t completely deny that she hasn’t made any progress in all these years, right?”

Claire burst into tears and choked up, “Yes... there has been a little progress... but... but I know, it’s not her who is getting better! It’s you who is getting better!”

As she spoke, she raised her head and looked at charlie with red eyes. Tears could not stop flowing, and she choked up and said, “It’s because your ability is getting stronger, your network of contacts is getting wider, and you are making more and more money, so she calls you a good son-in-law and no longer dares to mock and insult you like before! In the final analysis, she is still the same her, the one who has never changed!!!”

At this moment, Claire’s emotions completely collapsed. He squatted on the ground, buried his face in his arms, and cried and trembled all over.

charlie didn’t understand. He always felt that Claire shouldn’t be so sensitive. People say that too many lice won’t itch. He had been bitten by Elaine for five or six years and had become completely immune to the bites. Why did Claire suddenly lose his mind after living with her for thirty years? So he speculated that there was obviously something wrong with Claire’s condition, and his sudden loss of control did not seem to be entirely related to Elaine.

But he couldn’t figure out what the reason was.

Some things in life are like this, like a math problem that is missing a key condition. You know something is wrong, but you can’t figure out what’s wrong, and you can’t guess the correct solution and answer.

Claire’s pain is a combination of many things, including years of accumulated repression, unspeakable suffering, and even pain that he has nowhere to vent.

Thinking that she would disappear from charlie’s world in another month, she felt even more tormented.

At this moment, she was the loneliest person in the world.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7575

charlie, who was slow in emotional response, did not understand the real reason for Claire’s emotional breakdown.

He just felt that Claire might eventually be crushed one day after enduring Elaine’s values and style of doing things for so many years. Perhaps what Elaine said just now was the last straw that broke the camel’s back.

So, he held Claire in his arms and patted her back silently.

Claire cried for a while, and then her mood eased a little. She wiped away her tears and said to charlie, “Come walk with me on the beach.”

“Okay.” charlie readily agreed, and walked to the beach hand in hand with her. The two of them walked slowly on the waves, and no one spoke, enjoying this rare world of two people.

At this time, the Spring Festival Gala is coming to an end.

Many guests have already come out of the restaurant and returned to their rooms.

At the same time, on the base island of the Poqing Society.

Sara watched the Spring Festival Gala in silence, and said to Jadiel with a sneer on her face: "Since the Wade family and the An family have made peace with each other, their actions have become more and more aggressive. This Bruce car they built is really like a thorn in my flesh!"

Jadiel immediately said, "Lord Ying, Bruce Automobile is currently in the development and construction stage. Do you want to arrange some agents to go over and do some damage?"

Sara waved her hand and said, "I know that the An family is in China. If I send the three elders there, I will most likely kill them all. But I didn't take any action because, firstly, I don't know the depth of the mysterious enemy. Secondly, An Qishan, the old fox, is now investing heavily in China. If I touch him, or even kill his entire family, then the end of Poqing Society will come."

Jadiel asked: "Master Ying, if you don't find a way to do something, the An and Wade families are so high-profile, I'm worried that these people will disturb Master Ying's peace..."

Sara couldn't help but grit her teeth.

What Jadiel said was exactly the thorn in her heart.

She said with a murderous look in her eyes and an extremely gloomy expression: "Over the years, after Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) and Bruce Wade died, the An family and the Wade family have been keeping a low profile. I have always suspected that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) is still alive, so I didn't kill the two families all these years. Instead, I sent scholars to the An family to inquire about the news. But I didn't expect that after twenty years, the An family had no news that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) was still alive..."

At this point, Sara frowned and said in a cold voice: "If it were someone else, they would definitely think that they were worrying too much, or that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) had already died at the hands of Willie, but I never dared to relax. I always felt that she must still be alive, and must be trying her best to seek revenge on me in secret! Later, I tried to wipe out the An family twice, just to force her to show up, but she didn't show up, but a very powerful mysterious person showed up instead. Now this chess game has become more and more complicated..."

Jadiel knelt on one knee and said respectfully: “My Lord, if Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) doesn’t show up and there’s no clue about the mysterious man, I would like to suggest that you fight them to the death!”

“Hmm?” Sara asked him, “Why do you say that?”

Jadiel clasped his fists and raised them above his head, saying loudly, “Lord Ying! I know that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) and Lin Wan’er may hold the secret to make you immortal for a thousand years. I dare to say something that deserves the death penalty. If Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) really delays your immortality for a thousand years, why should you care about the four hundred years of the Qing Society? It is better to fight them to the death! Even if we really provoke those big countries, what does it matter? At worst, we can abandon this base. With your strength, no one in this world can stop you from going anywhere you want?”

Sara looked at Jadiel, a hint of surprise flashing in her eyes.

The Wu family has lived a good life for too long, and many people are afraid that they will act rashly and harm the entire Wu family.

Only Jadiel meant that he might as well drag the entire Qing Society into the water.

This is exactly what I want.

Sara had long thought that since she couldn’t get the Baizhuan Qianhui Pill, her life span would only be a few decades. It didn’t matter if she couldn’t find Lin Wan’er. Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) could escape, but he couldn’t escape. If Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) didn’t show up again, what would happen if she killed her whole family? Even if the two great powers of the East and the West wanted to join forces to eradicate the Poqing Society, what would happen? When her life span was about to end, she didn’t care about anything! If it was really a situation where she was going to die, it would be good to kill more people before she died!

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7576

So, she said to Jadiel: “Tianlin, start to adjust. I will wait for Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) for three more years at most. If she still doesn’t show up after three years, I will wipe out the An and Wade families, leaving no direct descendants alive!”

Jadiel immediately said loudly: “I obey your command!”

New Year’s Day.

Bernard Arnault took a seaplane to Male, the capital of the Maldives early in the morning, and then transferred to his own private plane back to France.

Although Baima Island has returned to peace and tranquility, the outside world's heated discussions about Baima Island have not diminished in the slightest.

The world media are continuously reporting on various topics, and even many experts have come forward to analyze the situation in Syria and the role of the US government behind this matter.

The pressure on the Syrian opposition suddenly became incredibly great.

Although they all came from humble backgrounds or even terrorists, the situation is different now. Now that the rebels have seized power, they are no longer rebels but regular troops.

The difference between the regular army and the rebels is that the regular army, now that they have a country, can no longer engage in guerrilla warfare as they please. They have to consider their own image to some extent, so they did not dare to continue to attack Hamid. They could only announce to the outside world that Ma Kui of Blackwater Company had deliberately framed them, and that they had a close comrade-in-arms relationship with Hamid, and there was no possibility of them joining forces with others to assassinate him.

However, this claim is useless and almost no one will buy it.

After Blackwater threw out the scapegoat, although the outside doubts increased instead of decreased, they still chose to play dumb. They knew very well that such things could not be explained, and the more they explained, the more criticism they would receive.

The mainstream media in the United States also remained silent on this matter. America, which usually claims to have freedom of speech, only has selective freedom. When it comes to certain special groups, freedom of speech becomes empty talk.

However, European media have been reporting on this matter overtime and intensively.

The media in Britain, France, Germany and Italy have openly launched a strong attack on Blackwater, especially the French media. It is like the New Year's Day, criticizing Blackwater, digging up Blackwater's past and dirty laundry, and at the same time portraying Bernard Arnault as the most brave and responsible billionaire in the world.

Today, the president will summon Bernard Ayrnault at the Elysee Palace. Although the meeting time is 2 pm local time, many European media arrived at the Elysee Palace in the morning to prepare.

The airport was unprecedentedly bustling.

In order to capture first-hand footage of Bernard Arno's return, each media outlet sent out a reporting team, set up cameras and long guns at the airport runway, waiting to welcome the French hero.

According to the French government's plan, the Prime Minister would meet the President at the airport, so the Prime Minister arrived at the airport early to prepare to welcome Bernard Arnault at the airport.

In order to make the welcoming ceremony as grand as possible, France arranged for the airport to prepare four remote parking stands in advance. These four stands were only used to park Bernard Arnault's private plane. All the invited media were waiting opposite the parking stands for filming. After the plane landed, it would taxi here, allowing Bernard Arnault to get off the plane in the spotlight.

Bernard Arnault had not arrived at the airport yet, but his familiar media friends had already sent him photos of the scene via satellite network.

When Bernard Arno saw the grand welcome he received, he couldn't stop smiling with joy.

He couldn't help but smile and sigh to his wife: "Oh, I have been scolded as a profiteer for decades, but I didn't expect that I would be transformed into a hero now!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7577

From ancient times to the present, businessmen have basically had nothing to do with the word "hero".

Bill Gates was once the world's richest man for many years and spent so much money. In his early years, he only established an image for himself as a person who changed the world with technology, but this did not prevent the collapse of his image in his later years.

In fact, there is no wealth that comes out of thin air in this world. Any super rich person is like the queen ant in the ant kingdom. Behind his huge body, there must be countless worker ants that supply him with blood.

In other words, anything that exists beyond conventional size needs to draw energy from countless things of conventional size.

How can a top star like Tawana earn billions every year? It is because of the support of tens of millions of fans. It is because tens of millions of fans pay money out of their own pockets to support her that she can earn so much money.

Why has Bill Gates been the world's richest man for many years in a row? That's because Windows, Office and various popular software developed by Microsoft have sold hundreds of millions of copies around the world. Every computer user in the world is providing growth momentum for Bill Gates' bank account through various channels.

It is already a rare achievement for a wealthy man who is supported by hundreds of millions of people not to be despised by them. To expect hundreds of millions of people to respect him or even regard him as a hero is basically a pipe dream.

But today, Bernard Arnaud is definitely a hero of France.

Even, a national hero!

At this moment, Charles de Gaulle Airport is already filled with loud drums, firecrackers, and crowds of people.

Countless media and platforms were broadcasting the airport's dynamics in real time. When Bernard Arno's private plane appeared in the sky in front of the airport runway, the French people were excited.

The plane slowly descended and landed steadily on the runway. A yellow guide vehicle flashed conspicuous lights and guided the plane to the parking position that had been prepared long ago.

Bernard Elno looked at the shocking scene outside the window. He was overjoyed but also nervous. He even began to wonder whether he should step out with his left foot or his right foot first when the plane door opened.

The plane gradually came to a stop and the airport staff had already rolled out the red carpet under the plane. After the door of the private plane was opened and the steps were folded out, Bernard Arno, supported by his wife, appeared at the door, unable to hide his excitement. The crowd who had been waiting for a long time below suddenly burst into cheers and the shutter sounds of cameras were faster than machine guns, clicking non-stop.

Under the watchful eyes of the crowd, Bernard Arnault limped down the stairs, with blood faintly seeping from his injured knee. Bernard Arnault deliberately asked the medical team to do this in order to show his heroism.

What triggered his inspiration was the scene in which the President of the United States was shot in the ear during his campaign some time ago and then gave a speech with his ear bandaged.

There is an old Chinese saying that the crying child gets the milk. If you are injured, you must always think about exposing your injuries to the public. Only in this way can you gain the greatest support from the people.

At this time, the French Prime Minister smiled and stepped forward, took the initiative to extend his hand and shook hands with him, praising him: “Mr. Erno, you are the pride of France and the pride of the French people. On behalf of the French government and the French people, I thank you for everything you have done on Cheval Blanc!”

Bernard Arno was very happy, for he knew very well the characteristics of his French compatriots. It was no problem to make money from the French people, but it was extremely difficult to gain their respect.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7578

He had long been criticized by the French people for his continuous price increases and forced implementation of the allocation system, but now he has suddenly transformed himself into a national hero. This wonderful encounter is perfect.

So, Bernard Erno said very modestly: “Mr. Prime Minister, you are too kind. This is what I should do.”

The Prime Minister smiled and said, “The President is waiting to meet you at the Elysee Palace. We will take a group photo in front of the reporters later. After the photo, the reporters may have a brief interview with you. If you are interested, you can simply answer questions from several major media outlets. If you are not interested, it doesn’t matter. You can wait until after the meeting with the President to be interviewed at the Elysee Palace.”

Bernard Elno rolled his eyes and asked quietly, “Excuse me, Prime Minister, are the American media such as the Associated Press, United Press, and CNN here?”

“Here they come.” The Prime Minister nodded and smiled, “Given their keenness to news, how could they not come?”

“Okay, okay, that’s great.” Bernard Erno nodded with a smile and said, “In that case, I will accept their interview later.”

“OK!”

After the Prime Minister and Bernard Arnault shook hands cordially in front of the media cameras, the two came to the media reporters together. The Prime Minister smiled and said to the media reporters present: “Mr. Bernard Arnault will go to the Elysee Palace later to accept the summons of His Excellency the President. However, I just communicated with Mr. Bernard Arnault and confirmed that I can leave 10 minutes for the media reporters present for a brief interview. If you have any questions for Mr. Bernard Arnault, you can raise your hands.”

All the reporters raised their hands high at this time. They were keen journalists themselves and naturally did not want to miss such an interview opportunity.

The AFP reporter looked at Bernard Arnault with a look of confidence.

She felt that, as a new generation of national hero of France, Bernard Arnaud would definitely choose to be interviewed by his own country’s media first. As the largest and oldest media in France, AFP would definitely take the lead and receive this first wave of traffic.

But what she didn’t expect was that Bernard Elno was not going to give him a chance at all, but instead turned his gaze directly to the CNN reporter.

He pointed at the CNN reporter and said, “Come on, let the CNN reporter ask questions first.”

The French reporter looked depressed and puzzled. She didn’t know that Bernard Arno was already prepared to be an anti-American fighter and from that moment on, he would start working.

The CNN reporter did not expect that he would be the first person to be called on to ask a question. He was overjoyed and said, “Dear Mr. Bernard Elno, I would like to ask if you think this attack was secretly instigated by some people with ulterior motives?”

“Provoke?” Bernard Erno asked in confusion, “What do you mean by provoking?”

The CNN reporter quickly said, “As far as I know, the terrorists who attacked White Horse Island claimed to be mercenaries of Blackwater, but I think Blackwater is a regular mercenary company and they would definitely not have anything to do with terrorist attacks. So I think this may be a frame-up to deliberately sow discord between the United States and France. What do you think?”

Bernard Elno sneered and asked him, “Where were you when it happened?”

The other party explained: “I am a CNN reporter based in Paris. I was in Paris when the incident happened.”

Bernard Arno said with disdain: “You were in Paris when the incident happened, but I was on Cheval Blanc when it happened, right in front of the guns of these Blackwater terrorists. Now you tell me that you think this might be a frame-up. How can you be so powerful? Your name is Sherlock Holmes?”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7579

Bernard Arnault’s sudden attack made the CNN reporter look embarrassed.

His original intention was to help Blackwater gain a better public opinion environment by raising a suspicion that it might have been framed. Although not many people might believe it, as long as he raised the question, it was equivalent to diverting firepower for the other party.

But he didn’t expect that Bernard Elno would directly refute him in front of so many media reporters, and with a hint of humiliation.

He could only bite the bullet and say, “Mr. Bernard Elno, I am not Sherlock Holmes. I am just proposing a hypothesis and then asking for your opinion and view based on it. It doesn’t matter if you disagree with my hypothesis. I just hope you don’t have any misunderstandings.”

Bernard Elno sneered, “Misunderstanding? Do you think I don’t know what you American journalists are thinking? You know that the incident on White Horse Island had a very bad impact, so you are trying to do everything possible to excuse Blackwater, right?”

The reporter said awkwardly: “You really misunderstood what I meant. I am not trying to excuse Blackwater. I just want to express my personal opinion.”

Bernard Elno sneered with disdain on his face: “It’s really interesting. You, a reporter, came here to interview me on the surface, but in fact you wanted to express your views and convey your private opinions to the audience around the world through the interview. Don’t you think that what you did is very contrary to the professional ethics that a reporter should have?”

The cameras of the surrounding media were all focused on the CNN reporter, making him very nervous and ashamed at the same time.

He could only say apologetically: “I’m sorry, Mr. Elno, maybe there was something wrong with my expression just now. I take back my question just now!”

Bernard Elno nodded and said righteously, “I believe that the truth of this matter will soon come to light and everyone will be given a satisfactory explanation. I would also like to solemnly warn certain people and groups that if anyone attempts to tamper with the truth of the incident, I will do my best to investigate everything and expose it all.”

Many reporters did not expect that this famous luxury giant would be so just and they all spontaneously applauded.

You know, his image internationally has always been not very good. Although consumers are flocking to their products, they are very disgusted with this person.

But the radiant humanity that burst out from this man today was awe-inspiring, and coupled with the fact that he had just saved hundreds of tourists from all over the world, including the famous Tawanna Sweet, everyone’s respect for him deepened.

Not only the media reporters at the scene looked at him with admiration, but the audience in front of the screen also had great respect for him.

At this time, Bernard Arnault looked at the other reporters and asked, “Does anyone have any questions?”

A group of reporters raised their hands high, but strangely, reporters from several other American media outlets put their hands down.

In fact, the instructions they received were the same as those of CNN reporters, which were to find ways to exonerate Blackwater during the question-and-answer session, or to mislead the audience’s thinking and their imaginary targets.

But seeing that this old man didn’t give any face at all, no one dared to make things worse at this time, so they simply didn’t ask any questions.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7580

Bernard Arnault did not intend to let go of these suddenly low-key American reporters. He laughed at himself and said, “It seems that I, an old French man, am too direct in my words. I am not very popular with my American reporter friends. When I took a slightly tougher stance on the Blackwater issue, you were too lazy to even ask questions.”

There was laughter all around, and the American reporters looked at each other in shame.

Bernard Arnault then looked at the AFP reporter again and said with a smile, “Next, please ask the AFP reporter to ask questions.”

The AFP reporter immediately smiled and asked, “Dear Mr. Elna, I heard that you will go to the United Nations headquarters in the United States tomorrow and donate money to the United Nations Counter-Terrorism Office. Is this true?”

“It’s true.” Bernard Elna nodded slightly and said, “The incident that happened on White Horse Island made me feel fortunate and angry!”

“Fortunately, I have the opportunity and the ability to resolve the crisis on White Horse Island.”

“What’s infuriating is that this kind of crisis could happen anywhere, anytime around the world, and other people may not be as lucky as I was when they encounter something like this.”

“So I hope to do my best to provide them with some help, and also to set an example for other individuals with better economic conditions, hoping that they can also pay attention to the issue of opposing terrorist attacks and do their part in this matter.”

Bernard Arnault’s impassioned speech really infected everyone around him and in front of the screen.

If other wealthy people said this, people might think they were acting, self-proclaimed, or trying to create a perfect image.

But Bernard Arnault was different. He actually solved an extremely serious terrorist attack. Coincidentally, before the attack, the whole world paid attention to White Horse Island through Tawana’s live broadcast.

Coupled with the fact that the matter was later resolved satisfactorily and Tawanna personally endorsed Bernard Elna on a live broadcast, the influence was enormous.

Moreover, in front of the public, Bernard Arnault did not just pay off the terrorists, he was also bravely shot, and it was obvious that he had experienced the danger of losing his life at any time. With so many factors combined, who would think that he was acting?

At this moment, Bernard Arnault’s reputation reached a new peak.

At this time, Charlie Wade was leisurely watching the live broadcast on his mobile phone while sitting on a recliner.

I have to say that this old man’s acting skills are really amazing. His righteous look, coupled with his weathered white hair and determined expression, his affinity and appeal are all very strong.

Moreover, although this old man is quite old, he is very fierce. He chased after the American reporters and started biting them as soon as he got off the plane. If he were to go to the United Nations, America would be in big trouble.

Especially Blackwater. What they want most at this moment is probably to kill Bernard Arnault. However, the person they cannot kill is him, because the impact of this incident is too great. If he dies, everyone will blame Blackwater.

Moreover, Bernard Arnault is not some unknown anonymous person. He was once the richest man in the world. If anyone assassinates him, France and the European Union will definitely not let it go for the sake of their own image, and the whole world will also pay close attention and demand an explanation.

For a time, all the senior executives of Blackwater were in danger, wondering what kind of trouble Bernard Arnault would cause at the United Nations when he arrived in America tomorrow.

On the way to the Presidential Palace, Bernard Elno's face was filled with excitement and excitement.

Today, he has found a special sense of honor that he has never had before.
