The Amazing son in law Chapter 7581

In the past, his sense of honor came from his own achievements. How much money he made and what ranking he held in the world were the key sources of his sense of honor.

But sometimes others may not really respond positively to this sense of honor.

Just like the famous national husband of China, the second-generation rich man, he always considered it his greatest honor that no one was richer than him, but this sense of honor would only make ordinary people reject him instead of identifying with him.

The sense of honor that Bernard Arnault felt this time was given to him by people all over the world. People admired him and sincerely believed that he was a great hero. This was also the first time in his life.

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but feel infinite gratitude towards charlie Wade.

In the past, whenever he thought of this young man who cheated him of his money, he would grit his teeth in anger, but now when he thought of charlie Wade, he felt extremely close to him and wished he could become his sworn brother. How great would it be if he could be like hunter Hamid and call him a brother?

From now on, I will call him Brother wade, and he will call me Brother Elna. I will accumulate 50 billion experience points from him as soon as possible and exchange them for a rejuvenation pill. By then, I will have a good reputation, a big industry, and a long life. Living one more day will be a top life!

At this time, the Elysee Palace in France was much grander than the one at the airport.

The president turned down all his original work for this afternoon just to personally meet here, a hero that France has not seen in decades.

The last French person to receive widespread positive attention around the world was probably Charles de Gaulle, the German who swore to die and never surrender.

Moreover, Charles de Gaulle was a man of integrity. Did he really cause any big trouble? Actually, no.

France was neither lost by him nor taken back by him. It was the American and British Allied Forces that landed in Normandy and liberated France.

But Bernard Arnault was different, he encountered such a big thing and he solved it, more importantly, this matter was watched by the whole world from beginning to end, it was simply the best stage tailor-made for him. There are lucky people in all countries in the world who have encountered sky-breaking traffic, but most of the traffic they received was only on their own country's network. No one has ever been able to receive global sky-breaking traffic like Bernard Arnault.

It can be imagined that for a long time to come, Bernard Arnault will be an idol of people all over the world, and even every time there is a terrorist attack in the future, someone will think of his heroic deeds.

Therefore, the president also attaches great importance to him and wants to seize this opportunity to help him establish his personality and image. At the same time, he also wants to let France take this opportunity to hold its head high on the international stage.

The state guest motorcade stopped at the main gate of the Elysee Palace. Supported by his wife, Bernard Arno stepped into the magnificent Elysee Palace. The president, who was supposed to be waiting for him, immediately took the initiative and walked quickly towards him.

After a few quick steps, he shook Bernard Arno's hand tightly and exclaimed: "Welcome home, Mr. Arno! You are a hero of France!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7582

Bernard Ayrno and the President were old acquaintances.

After all, even if Erno falls from the position of the world's richest man, he is still the richest man in France and Europe, so his influence in Europe is no less than anyone else.

In the past, Bernard Elno might not have been interested in the president's summons, but today was a great day of honor and glory for his family, so he was very excited. He shook hands with the president and said humbly, "Your Excellency, I appreciate your compliment. I just did what I should do."

The president shook his head and said with deep emotion: “Today, all French people are proud of you, and later on, on behalf of France, I will award you the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.”

The Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor is the highest honor medal in France. Generally speaking, in peacetime, only those who have won the highest honor for their country can receive it, such as world champions in major sports events.

For a businessman like Bernard Erno, it is very rare to be awarded such a high-level medal of honor. Even he himself has not received one in all these years.

In fact, for the French government, a medal is worthless, but the reason why they strictly limit the number is to ensure the gold content of the medal. Once this thing becomes flooded, its value will be greatly reduced, and its appeal will also be greatly reduced to those who have not received the medal.

Bernard Elno was very happy. As soon as he came back, he was met by the Prime Minister and the President. He would also be awarded the highest medal of honor. The specifications were already full.

Afterwards, the two exchanged greetings for a moment in front of the cameras of the media reporters, and then officially entered the awarding ceremony.

The awarding ceremony has a fixed process, with many French officials and guards witnessing the event on site, and media reporters also broadcasting it live in real time.

Under the gaze of all the people of France and half of the world, the silver-haired Bernard Arno received the exquisite Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.

When the president hung the medal on his chest, the entire Elysee Palace burst into applause.

This old man prided himself on being a shrewd businessman, never bothered by empty fame and fortune. But today he finally realized that it wasn't that he disliked fame and fortune, but that he simply couldn't reach such heights before.

His eyes were slightly red, and it seemed that there was an impassioned patriotic sentiment in his chest.

charlie Wade saw Bernard Erno's excitement and excitement through the live broadcast, and he also saw the French people's admiration for him from the flying barrages.

Then, he suddenly had an idea and thought, why not give him a good start and give him some sweet things to taste.

Then he took out his cell phone and sent a WeChat message to Tawana, who was also on the island.

A few minutes later.

Bernard Ayrno, who had just received the medal from the president, stood up straight and was being photographed by the media with the president. Suddenly, a staff member walked up to the president and whispered something in his ear excitedly.

The president's eyes lit up after hearing this, and he lowered his voice and asked, "Is this news true?!"

"It's true!" the other party replied, "I've verified it with Tawanna Sweet's company, and it's indeed Ms. Sweet's decision. If there's no problem on our side, Ms. Sweet can make an official announcement on her personal social media platform at any time!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7583

"Great! Absolutely fantastic!" The president was overwhelmed with excitement and immediately told the media present, "Everyone, we just received news that the famous singer Miss Tawanna Sweet has decided to hold five solo concerts in France after her vacation to thank Mr. Bernard Erno. All proceeds from the concerts will be donated to French charities!"

The reporters at the scene suddenly exclaimed in surprise.

Tawanna Sweet's concerts have long become the golden key to boosting the local tourism economy. It can be said that wherever she chooses to hold a concert, the local tourism industry will receive a big boost.

Money is not the most important thing. The country and city's global popularity has been instantly raised, and the subsequent long-tail effect is the greater source of income.

What's more, this time Tawanna is not here for a commercial performance, she is here for a charity performance, and all the proceeds from the performance will be donated to charities in her country. The box office revenue of the five concerts is at least 100 million euros!

In addition to all the benefits associated with money, France's reputation will also be greatly enhanced, because a big star like Tawanna Sweet has taken the initiative to come and perform for the charity show, which has never happened even in America.

The reporters were very surprised and all turned their cameras to the elderly Bernard Elno, because everyone knew that Tawanna was going to hold five charity concerts to repay Bernard Elno for saving her life.

Bernard Erno was also confused.

His first thought was, this is unreasonable, it was charlie Wade who saved Tawanna, not me, Tawanna must know it.

But when he thought of charlie Wade, he instantly understood that this must have been done by charlie Wade instructing Tawana.

He had seen all kinds of storms, but at this moment he was so moved that his eyes were red.

He felt that even his life was saved by charlie Wade, and not only did charlie Wade give such a great credit to him, but now he also let Tawanna add icing on the cake for him.

He couldn't help but think to himself, "Is this... is this still the charlie Wade who extorted hundreds of millions of dollars from me with a plastic imperial seal and an ink painting of the Mona Lisa? I used to think he was the most despicable person in the world, but why... why do I feel that his humanity is so brilliant now? He's the one who leaves after his mission is done, hiding his achievements and fame. Isn't that what he's talking about?"

Some media used a telephoto lens to keenly capture two lines of turbid tears flowing from the corners of Bernard Arnault's eyes.

The media reporters who were unaware of the truth of the matter thought that the old man was moved by Tawanna Sweet's act of gratitude, and they all sketched out a touching story outline in their minds.

Bernard Arnault, the former world's richest man and a kindhearted man, rescued all the tourists on Cheval Blanc Island. The grateful international superstar Tawanna immediately returned the favor by holding five charity concerts in France.

Isn't this a typical example of the great unity of the people of the world and the love between human beings all over the world?

For a moment, the cameras were clicking non-stop at Bernard Arnault.

A series of touching news articles have already taken shape in the minds of these news media people.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7584

At this moment, the enthusiasm of fans in France and throughout Europe was instantly ignited, and they cheered in front of the screen!

People have always loved Tawanna, and now, because of this series of events, they have fallen in love with this little old man with silver hair.

For a time, Bernard Arnault's popularity in France, Europe, and even the world skyrocketed, reaching a peak that other wealthy people could not even dream of.

When Bernard Ayrno left the Elysee Palace, major media outlets had already published their news reports on the Internet.

Bernard Erno's wife excitedly told him, "I've read every article, and without exception, they're all positive. All the media are praising you, and the writing style and rhetoric are very thoughtful. They're generous with their praise for you, and their evaluation is extremely high!"

"Really?" Bernard Elno's heartbeat quickened with excitement as he asked her, "Have you read the comments online? What are their attitudes?"

My wife blurted out, "They're almost 100% praising and supporting you. Many people even explicitly said that if all the wealthy people in the world could be as responsible and accountable as you, they wouldn't hate the rich. Such comments have been liked and echoed by many people. Many people who used to be dissatisfied with the wealthy now look at you with new eyes."

"Oh my God..." Bernard Erno sighed, "If things keep going like this, could I try my hand at politics someday?"

His wife sneered, "How old are you? Are you still thinking about politics? Besides, this kind of thing probably doesn't appeal to you, does it?"

Bernard Elno waved his hand and said seriously: "You don't understand. It wasn't attractive before, but now it is. I suddenly found that feeling, the feeling that money can't bring."

His wife held his hand and said seriously, "Bernard, we are all very old now. We should spend the rest of our time enjoying life, right?"

Bernard Erno smiled unnaturally and said casually: “You are right, but don’t worry, I just plan to reduce the energy of making money and do some things I want to do now. As for life, it will not be affected at all, so you can rest assured;”

“Besides, even if we want to enjoy life, we can’t stop all our work. After being busy all our lives, we can’t adapt to completely relaxing all of a sudden.”

The wife finally felt relieved, nodded gently, and told him: “You have to remember that when you get older, you still have to put your health first.”

She didn’t know that Bernard Elno was sighing in his heart at this moment: “You are right, we are both very old, but you don’t know that I have taken a rejuvenation pill, and the next one is only 50 billion experience points away.”

“I’ve made enough money and enjoyed a luxurious life in my lifetime, and this huge luxury goods empire is still creating more wealth for me. I have a good reputation now, and it will definitely help me make more money in the future. Naturally, I have to experience something different!”

“Mr. Wade has laid such a solid foundation for me now. He has put me on such a high platform with almost no effort. Such a stage cannot be built with money! If I don’t seize this great opportunity, I will not only be sorry for myself, but also for Mr. Wade’s cultivation! Besides, I still have a long life ahead of me, at least another 30 or 40 years to live!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7585

With Tawana’s great assist, Bernard Elno once again made headlines in major media around the world.

More and more people like him, and as a result, people also like his brands more. His brands have set record sales in major stores around the world and profits have soared.

Bernard Ayrno was in a very excited state. After the meeting with the president, he only arranged to go home for dinner and then immediately went to the airport to take a flight to New York.

Since Bernard Arnault is now attracting attention all over the world, after his private plane took off, the whole world knew through aviation software that his plane was flying to New York.

New York is the headquarters of the United Nations.

So the media began to report again that Bernard Arnault had set off for New York to fulfill his promise.

In the past two days, Bernard Arnold's fame has become too high, putting great pressure on the US government and Blackwater.

Unexpectedly, there was no way to eliminate the previous pressure, and in the blink of an eye, this plague god set off towards the United States.

Blackwater felt like it was facing a formidable enemy. They immediately contacted the Pentagon, hoping that the Pentagon or the White House could mediate and try not to let Bernard Arnold come. Even if he came, he must never target Blackwater again.

The President was also very troubled by this matter. When he was doing business, he and Bernard were not good friends but acquaintances, and his family were all super clients of his brands. However, after he entered politics, the two had almost no contact. Now Bernard Arnold was relentless, which not only threatened the reputation and prospects of Blackwater, but also threatened the international image of the United States.

So, after much thought, he decided to call Bernard Elno.

At this moment, Bernard Arno was on the plane, looking back at the gradually receding night view of Paris, feeling extremely excited. He felt like a general on an expedition to a foreign country, with great ambitions in his chest, ready to be released.

At this moment, his assistant came hurriedly over from the front cabin with a satellite phone and whispered, "Mr. Elno, it's the President of the United States calling."

"Commander-in-Chief?" Bernard Erno frowned and whispered, "What does he want to do?"

The assistant shook his head. "I'm not sure. I just heard from his assistant that he wants to talk to you on the phone, and he's already online."

Bernard Elno snorted coldly: "He just wants me to retreat. Will I be afraid of him?"

After saying that, he reached out and said, "Give me the phone."

The assistant handed the phone over, and Bernard Erno immediately pressed the call button, and the call that had been on silent waiting was immediately connected.

Bernard Erno said calmly, "Hello, Mr. President."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7586

A slightly hoarse and lazy voice came from the other end: “Hi Elno, long time no see, how have you been recently?”

Bernard Erno said humbly, “It’s not that bad. I almost lost my life on White Horse Island, but luckily I escaped unharmed.”

The other party was silent for a moment, then said, “Listen, Erno, I don’t want to beat around the bush with you. I want to be honest with you. I know your plane has taken off for New York, but I still suggest that you ask the pilot to turn back, or choose a destination outside the United States. It doesn’t matter where you want to go. Find a place to relax and slowly let this go. What do you think?”

Bernard Erno refused without hesitation: “I have made a promise in front of the people of the world. As a responsible gentleman, I will never go back on my word.”

The other party said in a somewhat annoyed tone: “Elno, you are a businessman, and so am I. No one understands business better than me. The essence and nature of business lies in how you can make more profits. What others think of you is not important.”

As he spoke, the other party directly threw out the bait: “If we can reach a deal on this, I can have the Ministry of Commerce give your group very substantial tax breaks over the next three years. Believe me, Erno, this could bring you hundreds of millions of dollars. All you have to do is let go of the White Horse Island incident and let it go.”

“No!” Bernard Erno said firmly, “Mr. President, I cannot change my schedule and decision. Our group will also pay taxes normally in the United States according to American law. Our profit margins are already quite substantial, so we don’t need tax concessions.”

The other party didn’t expect him to be so ungrateful. His tone immediately became more severe, and he warned: “Elno, you know, sometimes the tax rate can not only be lowered, it can also be raised very high, very high!”

“As far as I know, none of your luxury goods are produced in the United States. We can impose extremely high tariffs on you, so high that your products will lose all competitiveness in the United States. However, all of this can be completely avoided by simply turning the plane around. Do you want to make this deal?”

Bernard Erno was so excited that he couldn’t close his mouth. He couldn’t help laughing and said, “Mr. President...you...are you telling the truth?”

The commander-in-chief thought he was scared. After all, the nature of businessmen is to pursue profits. Those top rich people seem to be indifferent and will only smile slightly if they earn an extra 100 million, but as long as they lose 10,000, they will immediately start crying for help.

The commander-in-chief naturally felt that he had Bernard Elno's lifeline, so he smiled and said in a friendly tone: "Bernard, Bernard, Bernard, we have been friends for a long time. I know you, and you know me. As long as we can cooperate well, I will naturally not treat you like this. You know, I never shoot at my friends, but the premise is that you are still my friend."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7587

Bernard Erno couldn't help but blurt out: "Shoot me! Mr. President! Please shoot me! I beg you! If you can increase the tariffs on my group by 100% or even 200%, it would be great. I will be grateful to you from the bottom of my heart!"

Bernard Erno asked himself aloud, "Is there any better way to gain experience than this?"

"Fuck, it's gone!"

"If I were to accumulate 50 billion experience points normally, every cent would require Mr. Wade's approval. If Mr. Wade doesn't approve, I won't be able to spend a single cent or earn a single experience point."

"But, Mr. Wade also said so!"

"Any business losses incurred due to this incident can be counted as experience points!"

"How can there be losses?"

"I can't just stab myself, right? If I announce my group's withdrawal from the American market, I'll indeed lose billions of dollars that year, but if Mr. Wade doesn't acknowledge it, then all that will be for nothing, right?"

"But if America sanctions me, that would be different!"

"All the sanctions are losses brought to me by the United States, and they will definitely be credited to Mr. Wade!"

At this time, the commander-in-chief had no way of guessing Bernard Elno's psychological activities.

He heard Bernard Elno begging him to increase tariffs on the phone, and thought that Old Deng was deliberately speaking in a sarcastic way to oppose him, so he immediately threatened: “Elno, don’t think I’m kidding you. I can speed up this matter and it will take effect officially in no time!”

Bernard Arnault asked him, “Not long, how long exactly?”

The commander-in-chief said coldly: “Two months, not even two months.”

Bernard Elno said anxiously, “Please hurry up! Can it be landed within a week?”

The commander-in-chief was completely stunned.

What’s the meaning?

Are you looking for trouble, or are you really not afraid of death?

He felt insulted and immediately warned, “Elno, you need to understand your current situation. If the policy is really implemented, it will be useless for you to cry and beg me. In fact, you won’t even be qualified to call me.”

Bernard Erno was a little impatient and said repeatedly, “I have figured it out, Mr. President. I hope you can urge the policy to be implemented as soon as possible. The faster and more forceful the better!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7588

“What’s wrong with your brain?” The commander-in-chief was extremely confused.

Which wealthy man isn’t a Grandet, which wealthy man isn’t a Zhou Paopi? Why does this Bernard Arno seem so unconcerned with money? Could it be that he’s so focused on gaining a little fame that he’s completely ignoring a multi-billion dollar business?

This is embarrassing!

The best way to control a rich man is to take his money, and this trick has always worked for him.

But once the rich don’t care about money, it becomes really difficult to deal with.

He could only suppress his anger and asked doubtfully: “Elno, is it worth it to give up billions for a little fame?”

“It’s worth it, so worth it!” Bernard Erno blurted out without hesitation: “You may not understand, but I still have to say that money is a burden to me now! I really don’t like money anymore. If America can give me more penalties and restrictions, I will only be grateful! I hope that the US sanctions will be implemented as soon as possible! Thank you very much!”

The commander-in-chief sneered, “I see. You’re just bluffing. You think I don’t dare to promote relevant policies, right?”

For the first time, Bernard Elno showed his nervousness: “What a misunderstanding, Commander! I’m not bluffing. I just want you to implement this policy as soon as possible! As I said before, the sooner the better!”

The commander-in-chief felt dizzy.

Seeing that his threats had no effect at all, he could only sternly declare, “Erno, I don’t care what your mindset is, but I can tell you that you will regret your decision today! Not only will I push for the policy to be implemented as soon as possible, but I will also have the IRS conduct a comprehensive investigation of your company. I hope we won’t find any problems with your company!”

Bernard Erno murmured: “If only there were a problem...”

“What did you say?!” The commander-in-chief heard his mumbling and asked angrily.

Bernard Elno also risked his life and said seriously, “I say, if you can find any problems, that would be great! It would be best if you could find some serious problems and give me the heaviest fine in history, a fine of 50 billion US dollars!”
