

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7611

Using both kindness and force is Charlie Wade's way of employing people.

Abbas did not make any direct subjective mistakes in this matter, but as the actual leader of Wanlong Palace, it was his dereliction of duty to let Wanlong Palace fall into such a predicament.

Although I will not dismiss him for this, I must warn him and make him have a strong sense of crisis.

Otherwise, if something like this happens again, the Wanlong Palace will fall into an abyss from which there is no escape.

Just like Blackwater, one mistake can lead to a complete loss.

At this time, the top management of Blackwater had already sensed the crisis.

Everyone can see that Bernard Elno has used his ultimate move this time. As things have developed to this point, he has become undefeated. It is only a matter of time before he is unstoppable and wins the game.

These people have been the black gloves of the U.S. government for so many years, and they know very well what style the U.S. government operates in.

The moment they saw Bernard Elno firing at full power, they knew they were finished.

So, these people spontaneously closed all communication channels, and then spontaneously set out from their homes and went to the nearest customs.

They are betting on a time window, betting that it takes time for the White House to formulate a plan, time to issue orders, and time for the FBI to execute them.

As long as they can seize this window of opportunity, they can leave the country smoothly, fly to a place where no one knows them, hide their identities and start a new life in anonymity.

Once they miss this window, they will be pushed into the spotlight and face the most severe legal punishment. Given the adverse impact of this incident, they may be sentenced to death.

The person primarily responsible for this incident is likely to be sentenced to death for war crimes and terrorism-related crimes.

Others will probably not be able to escape life imprisonment, and will not be eligible for parole for the rest of their lives, and will eventually die in prison of old age.

However, although they are very familiar with how the American government operates, they don't know much about the president's style of doing things.

The President is different from previous professional politicians. He comes from a business background. Although there are many disadvantages for businessmen to be involved in politics, one of their biggest advantages is that they act extremely decisively and never drag their feet.

Professional politicians will think twice before taking any action, considering this and that. They will only take each step after careful consideration. The advantage of this is that the chance of making mistakes is lower. They do not seek to achieve anything, but only to avoid mistakes.

When businessmen are struggling in the business world, what they fear most is delaying the process of making money. Once they know where there is money to be made, they will rush in even if they are only halfway through shitting.

Therefore, the moment the commander-in-chief decided to abandon Blackwater, he immediately passed the order down, fearing that there would be any unexpected changes.

At this time, in the FBI system, all senior executives of Blackwater were on the internal arrest list. Once on this list, all customs systems would be synchronized immediately. This means that no matter which customs office in the United States handles exit for people on the list, customs would receive a prompt and take them under control immediately.

Moreover, this system not only matches the information of the people on the list, but also matches their biological signs, including but not limited to their fingerprints and facial features. Even for those who have left DNA information, the DNA information will be retrieved.

Since everyone must undergo facial recognition photography when leaving the country, and AI is used to identify disguises, even if the target person changes into a completely different identity and passes through customs, the information will be matched due to facial recognition, which will trigger an alarm.

In this situation, there is no way to leave the United States except by sneaking across the border.

Blackwater executives all thought there was still a chance.

So, they each took the passport information of their other identities, hurried to the nearest international airport, and booked the earliest flight out of the United States.

As long as they can get out, even if it's just to Mexico, they can immediately change their identities and flee to the next country.

Unfortunately, after these people arrived at the airport, without exception, they were caught red-handed by the FBI while going through customs.

Immediately afterwards, the U.S. government announced that it would hold an emergency press conference that afternoon. They revealed that the content of the press conference was about Blackwater and the White Horse Island terrorist attack, but the media reporters knew nothing about the specific situation.

Bernard Erno already knew that he had won miserably.

The US government will definitely punish Blackwater severely under its powerful pressure.

Not only can he take credit from Charlie Wade, but he can also start a wonderful business of "profit for points" in the American market.

Then he immediately called Charlie Wade.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7613

At this time, Charlie Wade had already returned home, and his family members were tired from the journey and had already fallen asleep.

After receiving a call from Bernard Erno, he went to the vacant room on the first floor and answered the phone.

The moment the call was connected, Bernard Erno couldn't help but excitedly said to Charlie Wade: "Mr. Wade, the American government allowed those media to smear me crazily. I have just publicly announced that I have completely broken with them!"

charlie Wade pretended to be ignorant and said with a smile: “Your decision to break up with them is yours. I respect your decision and you don’t need to ask for instructions or report to me.”

“F*ck...”

Bernard Elnok’s heart skipped a beat, and he nervously thought to himself, “Is charlie Wade going to deny his responsibility? If he classifies my withdrawal from the American market as a personal decision that was not under his orders, then will he not give me any points? If that’s the case, then I’m doomed!!”

He was so scared that his face turned pale, cold sweat broke out, and the arm holding the phone began to tremble violently uncontrollably.

He suppressed his fear and asked tentatively, “Mr. Wade... Mr. Wade... I was at the press conference at the time and couldn’t consult you directly, so I took the initiative to announce my withdrawal from the American market. I wonder if you can still give me some points?”

After saying this, he was extremely nervous, fearing that charlie Wade would say something wrong.

charlie Wade on the other end of the phone smiled slightly and said, “Your reputation is now at its peak. The whole world regards you as the most righteous rich man. This time, not only has all your previous black material been washed away, but your reputation has even reached a commanding height.”

“More importantly, I speculate that even if you shut down the entire American market, your global sales will increase instead of decrease. The American market will also spill over to neighboring Canada and even the whole of Europe. So you shouldn’t suffer any substantial losses from this decision. You may even see a new high. Plus, you were already famous during your time on White Horse Island. With this trip to America, you can be said to have reaped a huge harvest of fame and fortune.”

Although charlie Wade had already tacitly approved of Bernard Elnok Bug’s behavior in his heart, charlie Wade had to let him know that he had seen through his inner calculations. He had to let him understand this first, and then approve of his behavior, so that he would know that he was letting him off the hook.

If I don’t reveal this, he will probably think that his cleverness has fooled me and that I haven’t seen through his motives.

See through him, expose him, make him as nervous as possible, and then give him a pardon. He will never dare to have any luck or play tricks with you again, and he will be more grateful and more respectful to you. This is what our ancestors often said – first suppress and then praise.

Moreover, I have to point out everything I have brought to him, the amazing achievements on White Horse Island, the passion of America, these are all opportunities and stages I created for him. Without me, how could he have gained such a great reputation today?

This kind of reputation cannot be bought with money, and no one can buy this kind of credit.

Although charlie Wade does not have the extremely cunning business acumen and means of Bernard Elno, his control over people's hearts is much deeper than that of this 70-year-old man.

Therefore, he must hold him tightly!

At this time, Bernard Erno was indeed extremely panicked.

I thought that this trick could catch charlie Wade's bug, and even make charlie Wade, like everyone else, be intimidated by my righteousness, but I didn't expect that charlie Wade could see through all the essence at a glance.

He felt as if he had been stripped naked in public, feeling ashamed, nervous and scared.

So, he could only smile bitterly and said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Wade, I... I... I didn't mean to play tricks on you. I was just so angry at the time, so I made this decision. And I'm filled with gratitude to you. Not only did you save my life, but you also gave me the great credit for White Horse Island and made me famous in America. My gratitude to you is beyond words..."

At this point, he trembled and said, "As for the profit issue, you're right. Judging from the reputation you've given me, even if I shut down the American market, the group's overall revenue will definitely increase. I... I don't have the face to ask you to calculate the points for me..."

At this moment, Bernard Elno had given up the idea of gaining points from charlie Wade.

He also knew in his heart that what charlie Wade said was right. charlie Wade had already given him so much, and he still had the audacity to ask for points at this time. No matter who he told this, everyone would think it was inappropriate.

However, if he fails to accumulate points this time, then he will only be able to receive the 200 million US dollars donated to the United Nations Office of Counter-Terrorism. He is still 49.8 billion experience points short of the Rejuvenation Pill, which is a long way off.

Just when he was feeling dejected, charlie Wade said calmly, “However, you did a great job this time. With this operation, even if Blackwater is completely destroyed, Wanlong Hall will be able to usher in greater benefits and development opportunities. Therefore, I can make an exception and calculate points for your losses in the American market. But next time, if you act without permission, I will definitely not make an exception for you!”

Bernard Elno was so surprised that his mind went blank. He was dizzy for a few seconds before he came to his senses.

He asked with a trembling excitement, “Mr. Wade...Mr. Wade, are you...are you serious?!”

charlie Wade said calmly: “When have I ever gone back on my word?”

Bernard Erno said ecstatically: “You didn’t, you never did! Thank you, Mr. Wade! Thank you!”

After saying this, he immediately stated, “Mr. Wade, in order to help the Ten Thousand Dragons Palace further enhance its strength, I personally wish to donate to the Ten Thousand Dragons Palace... ten, no, two billion US dollars!”

Bernard Elno knew very well that with charlie Wade’s identity, background, and his current industry and economic strength, he actually didn’t care about tens or hundreds of billions of dollars. Even if a zero was added, it would not be worthy of his attention.

Giving him two islands is of no importance to him, and he may not even look at it if you give him tens or hundreds of billions of US dollars directly.

However, Bernard Elno felt that since charlie Wade was the actual controller of the Wanlong Palace, he might as well cater to his wishes and spend money on the Wanlong Palace.

With Blackwater Company on the verge of destruction, Wanlong Palace will surely have new opportunities for development. If I sponsor Wanlong Palace at this time, it will definitely help it to quickly improve its strength.

In fact, Wanlong Palace is not short of money.

charlie Wade has found not just one or two long-term meal tickets for Wanlong Palace, and Wanlong Palace has very considerable revenue. It has invested a lot of money to build its own base, and even the communication satellite has been advanced in an orderly manner.

However, the more money there is for infrastructure, the better. Just like urban planning, if you have enough money, it will never be wrong to build the widest road possible.

Seeing that Bernard Elno was sensible and willing to give the money, charlie Wade smiled and said, “Okay, since you are so thoughtful, I will thank you on behalf of Wanlong Palace.”

Bernard Erno breathed a sigh of relief and said repeatedly, “Mr. Wade, you don’t have to be so polite to me! You’ve helped me so much, it’s only right that I show some appreciation. I’ll be very happy if you don’t despise my humble offerings!”

charlie Wade smiled and asked him: “The American government probably hates you to death now, what are your plans next?”

Bernard Elno said quickly, “Mr. Wade, I do plan to stay here for a few more days. All stores have to close at dawn, right? Tomorrow I’ll hold a meeting of all US executives to arrange follow-up work. I’ll also contact the media to increase exposure. I estimate that the US government will hold a press conference later today to announce its disposal of Blackwater. If they are sincere, I will stop and return to France in two days. If they are not sincere enough, then I will continue to fight them to the end!”

charlie Wade smiled and said, “You’re very brave. Also, remember to have all your stores open until midnight tonight. Aren’t you in Manhattan, New York? It would be best if you could find the largest store in Manhattan and attend in person. Let the media create a buzz. This way, all your stores will probably experience a buying frenzy tonight. The money may not be much for you, but if everyone buys it up, you and your group will be trending again. Maybe your sales around the world will increase rapidly.”

Bernard Elno was slightly stunned and thought, how did charlie Wade think of what I was going to do next?

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7616

However, he still pretended to be very surprised and said, “Oh, Mr. Wade, this is a great idea! Thank you very much for your reminder! I will definitely seize this opportunity to create some topics!”

After saying that, he did not forget to flatter charlie Wade: “Mr. Wade, you are the real business master!”

charlie Wade said calmly: “Alright, stop flattering me. You are so smart, it is only possible that you know more and more than I thought. I am telling you this, but it is a bit presumptuous.”

After that, he stretched and smiled, “The book losses in the US market over the past three years will be counted as experience points. You can have a good time in America these next two days.”

Bernard Erno was reassured again and said with a smile, “Okay, Mr. Wade! I’ll follow your instructions!”

Half an hour later, reporters gathered in the White House press conference hall.

The authorities have announced to the world that they will use this press conference to make a statement on Blackwater and the White Horse Island incident.

After Bernard Arnault caused a big disturbance in America, the media’s attention to this matter has reached an unprecedented level. The entire press conference hall was packed with people, and the scene was more lively than a temple fair.

Because of the huge scale of the event, the usually confident young female spokesperson was surprisingly nervous before going on stage.

According to her previous style of behavior and psychological quality, even if she was asked to go on stage and tell lies that the whole world would sneer at, she would still be able to remain calm and composed.

In her own words, she was born tough and has always been tough.

However, today’s approach was very different from her previous style.

Today, she couldn’t be tough.

Instead, she admitted her mistake.

On behalf of the U.S. government, we must apologize to the world for the Blackwater incident.

At the same time, a series of penalties imposed by the United States on Blackwater will also be announced.

She felt very dissatisfied when she thought about how she had never bowed her head or given in in the years since her debut, and that she was going to break this tradition today.

But even if she was dissatisfied, there was nothing she could do. After all, to her, she was just a spokesperson. The attitude, wording, and point of view she needed to express in each speech were all determined by the higher-ups, and she could only follow the rules.

When the time came, she took a few deep breaths and walked into the hall.

The moment she appeared, the media reporters' flashlights kept flashing and the continuous sound of shutter clicks filled the entire hall.

The spokesperson came to the podium, adjusted his demeanor, and began, "Welcome everyone to today's press conference. Before we begin, on behalf of the U.S. government, I would like to apologize to the tourists and staff implicated in the White Horse Island terrorist attack. We trusted the confession of a Blackwater executive, believing that this was his personal decision and had nothing to do with Blackwater, which delayed the investigation. Please rest assured that we will conduct a comprehensive investigation into this incident!"

Apologizing right away was an attitude that was unexpected, but also reasonable.

The U.S. government is indeed under tremendous pressure right now, and if it doesn't confront the problem head-on, it will only get worse.

The spokesperson continued, "In addition to expressing our apologies, we also hope to use this press conference to announce to the world that, at the request of the President, the FBI has arrested all senior executives of Blackwater. Once the investigation is complete, they will be handed over to the court for prosecution!"

As soon as these words were spoken, cheers broke out at the scene.

In fact, everyone has roughly figured out the whole story. They know that the White Horse Island terrorist attack was a decision made by Blackwater and that the US government should not have been involved. As long as the US stops shielding them and handles the matter impartially, everyone will be satisfied.

This also means that Bernard Ayno single-handedly won the war between himself and the American government, which made the world recognize him even more.

At this time, the spokesperson continued, “The FBI has already shut down Blackwater and suspended all its operations. The FBI and the Department of Homeland Security have jointly established a special investigation team, which will enter Blackwater tomorrow to conduct a comprehensive investigation. We have also frozen all of Blackwater’s accounts and real estate in the United States. After the investigation is completed, we will calculate the losses caused by Blackwater to White Horse Island and compensate the victims.”

The American judicial system has always imposed heavy penalties on companies involved.

Tesla’s autopilot resulted in one death and one injury, and the American court directly fined the company 243 million US dollars; in the United Airlines violent beating incident that Ma Lan had always hoped would happen to her, the airline also paid the victim tens of millions of US dollars in compensation.

Although all those who died in the White Horse Island incident were Blackwater mercenaries, it caused huge losses to White Horse Island. Bernard Arnault was even shot in the leg.

Once the United States stops shielding Blackwater and handles this terrorist attack impartially, then the hundreds of millions of dollars that Bernard Ayno claimed to have spent to bribe Marqui, the tens of millions of dollars to compensate the guests, and the operational impact of the dozens of deaths on White Horse Island should all be compensated by Blackwater.

If the amount of compensation is so huge that Blackwater does not have enough cash in its account, it will have no choice but to auction all its non-cash assets.

This basically means that Blackwater will be doomed both in terms of form and its own strength!

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7618

The US government completely abandoned Blackwater, letting the whole world know that Bernard Arnault had the last laugh.

At this moment, his reputation was at its peak.

Among the people, he has many fanatical fans, and even some wealthy people regard him as an idol.

Then, a situation that no one expected occurred. Suddenly, an appeal and call to support Bernard Arnault appeared on the Internet.

The masses who were unaware of the truth naively believed that Bernard Elno would face heavy losses in the American market in order to uphold justice.

People were unwilling to let down the hero, so some people rushed to Bernard Ayno's store in the United States, bought several items, and then took photos and posted them on social media, saying that they also wanted to do their part to uphold justice. They could not confront the American government, but at least they could provide Bernard Ayno with all the support they could.

Unexpectedly, this post received a large number of likes and comments from netizens.

For a time, netizens suddenly started a trend, and shopping at brands owned by Bernard Arnault became the most praised and face-saving thing.

This feeling is just like the crazy praise of labubu by the whole world, even more so.

Labubu is a small doll with very low cost, but it can be sold for hundreds or even thousands of dollars because netizens all over the world regard it as the most fashionable symbol nowadays. If you have it, you are the most fashionable person in the world. So even if this thing has a high premium, people are willing to pay for it for face and for the trendy label.

The luxury goods under Bernard Arnault have long been famous all over the world. What's more, all the goods in the store are sold at full price without any premium. In comparison, it is definitely much better than chasing a certain product with a super high premium.

As a result, all stores under his group brands around the world have ushered in an unprecedented consumption frenzy.

The first batch of customers who flocked into the store bought the best and most popular items. Even if they needed to be allocated goods, they were happy to accept it. After all, although the allocation system was a scam, the allocated goods were all at the original price. There would be no situation where something worth one hundred yuan was sold for one thousand yuan.

When popular items were sold out, those styles that did not require additional stock but were not very popular were also sold out.

Then, those things that had been ignored for thousands of years were bought one after another.

Even those products that are so expensive and abstract that even the slightest thought of buying them would make you feel insulted, are being bought one after another.

Inventory at major stores across the United States is running out.

Some stores were completely sold out within an hour, and everything that could be sold in the entire store was bought up.

Before midnight, all stores in the North American market were sold out.

In every store, there were only empty shelves and a group of employees who were happy again.

It's been a roller coaster today for these employees.

Although they have no chance to get three years' salary for free and will lose the sales commission in the future, they have achieved the same performance as several months in previous years in just one night. The commission income is already quite considerable for them.

At the entrance of each store, there were many people who wanted to buy things or take photos and check in. These people surrounded the doors and windows, and each of them used their own way to take advantage of the popularity of Bernard Eyre's lonely emergence.

When Bernard Erno received the sales reports from the regional directors, he was stunned with shock.

Although he is the originator of hype marketing and had long guessed that the performance of his retail stores would surge, he did not expect it to surge to this extent.

When reports of inventory shortages or even sell-outs broke out around the world, he immediately called his assistant and instructed, "Immediately require all factories to work overtime and pay the highest overtime pay permitted by local laws and regulations. The sooner the better. Ensure that the entire supply chain and production end strives to restock the global market within five days!"

The assistant quickly said, “Chairman, the supply chain isn’t a big problem. The main problem is that our production capacity is severely limited. Many of our popular products are handmade by artisans, and we can’t speed up the production. Moreover, the number of orders from various stores is skyrocketing. We won’t be able to meet the demand for a long time to come.”

Bernard Erno said, “That’s easy. We can immediately send the raw materials for popular products to China and have Chinese OEMs complete at least 90% of the production. We can then bring the final labeling and printing back to Paris. Then we can legally add the Made in France logo. This is permitted by law.”

As he spoke, he couldn’t help but mutter, “But the bags made by Chinese craftsmen are much better than those made by Parisian craftsmen, and their lifespan is at least doubled. I should remind the Chinese production side to lower the quality standards as much as possible. Otherwise, if every bag we buy doesn’t break down for ten or eight years, how can we sell it?”

The assistant asked him nervously, “Chairman, isn’t this inappropriate?”

Bernard Elno angrily questioned: “Asshole, do you need to judge whether it is appropriate or not? I am the chairman! Do as I say! We have used this kind of thing before!”

The assistant said awkwardly, “Chairman, you’re a completely different person now. Your reputation is at its peak worldwide. If we were to create news that our group is profit-driven, it would have a significant impact on your reputation. You need to be careful!”

Bernard Arno suddenly woke up.

“I’m the world’s hero now!”

“If I start a private label business now, and someone finds out, wouldn’t all the high reputation I’ve built up thanks to charlie Wade be ruined?”

Thinking of this, he truly realized that he was no longer the same person he was before.

Now that I am famous, I can no longer do anything to make money like I did before.

So, he thought for a moment and immediately said, “Your reminder is very good. I was indeed not thoughtful enough about this matter. How about this? Since we are short of goods at the moment, we can cooperate with other companies and do some joint brands, such as other clothing brands. In this way, they will come up with the joint designs and be responsible for production. We only need to authorize the use of the trademark and logo, and then be responsible for sales. This way, we don't have to produce, and we can quickly get a lot of joint-branded products. We will definitely make money and won't be criticized. As long as we cooperate with enough joint-brand companies, we will soon be able to fill the store with joint-branded products!"

The assistant exclaimed in surprise, "Chairman, you...you're truly a business genius! I'll immediately contact all the luxury brands and daily necessities brands across Europe and push this forward!"

Bernard Elno's business acumen is so good that even Charlie Wade would feel ashamed of himself.

He has been thinking about one thing all his life, which is how to make more money, so he has a very strong financial mind.

Collaboration has always been a common tactic in the luxury and fashion industries. A few years ago, LV collaborated with the trendy brand Supreme. At that time, an ordinary short-sleeved T-shirt was sold for five figures because it combined the logos of the two brands. After a group of terminal speculators continued to hype it up, the price even doubled based on the original price.

Even in the digital world, collaborations often occur. For example, some computer and hardware brands collaborate with well-known games, which can further increase their sales.

For consumers, co-branded products are also very cost-effective, because they only need to buy one item and can get the support of two brands, which is naturally more cost-effective.

For Bernard Erno, in most cases, he disdains to engage in joint ventures, because most brands are not as well-known as his brand. If he collaborates with brands of lower levels, it is equivalent to letting others take advantage of him.

But the situation is different now. Our production capacity is severely limited, and consumers are waiting with money to buy our products!

After so many years of running-in, their supply chain perfectly meets their previous needs in terms of production costs, production efficiency and production quality. However, they never thought that sales would suddenly increase dozens of times, selling out the sales of previous months in one day.

If we ask them to increase production capacity now, they will work themselves to death and only be able to increase it by 30% at most, which is not enough to meet the current demand.

And Bernard Arnault knew very well that the enthusiasm of the people would ebb and flow like the tide of the sea.

If you can fully meet their purchasing needs before their enthusiasm dies down, you can maximize their value. But if the supply chain fails at this time, then when people's enthusiasm dies down, you will have completely missed this good opportunity to make money.

And collaboration can just solve this problem.

Handing over the production task to other companies is equivalent to opening up N production lines and supply chains at the same time, and all problems can be solved!

Moreover, since his reputation is now at its peak, people all want to buy products from his brand, which naturally squeezes the market of other brands, causing other brands' products to be unsalable. The sales of many brands today have dropped by more than 80% compared with the past. At this time, if they can collaborate with Bernard Arnault's brand, it can be regarded as solving their own excess production capacity and making more money.

As a result, almost all major brands that received the joint invitation accepted the proposal of joint cooperation at the first opportunity.

Soon after, the designers of these brands obtained authorization and began to use the classic elements of Bernard Erno's brands to design joint products.

Bernard Arno was thrilled.

He had someone calculate that if this popularity lasted for a month, he might be able to make up for his nominal three-year losses in the American market.

If the spillover from the American market is taken into account, it is very likely that he would reap even higher profits from this matter, which means that not only would he not have to lose a penny, but he could also earn billions extra a year!

He was so excited that he thought to himself, "This is the true meaning of fame and fortune!"

“And this kind of fame is something I never dared to hope for in most of my life!”

This also made him full of gratitude towards charlie Wade.

Immediately afterwards, he fulfilled his promise to charlie Wade. Not only did he donate 2 billion US dollars to the Wanlong Palace, he even spent hundreds of millions of dollars to buy the 99-year use rights of an island from Sri Lanka and transferred it to the Wanlong Palace.
