

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7631

When mercenaries fight, they always put their personal interests first and there is absolutely no possibility of any sacrifice or dedication.

If you want your officers and soldiers to have a spirit of dedication, you must give them enough sense of honor.

Therefore, hunter Hamid imitated the military structure of major countries and planned to implement the military merit system in the army from now on. Every officer who is promoted in the future must have a clear and definite military work as a support. This will not only convince everyone, but also increase everyone's enthusiasm for making meritorious service.

The soldiers and officers who were awarded medals not only received cash US dollars, but also the "Victory Medal" awarded by hunter Hamid. The Victory Medal was modeled after the Iranian army and was called the highest medal of honor by hunter Hamid.

The three wounded soldiers received a relatively lower-level "Medal of Courage". At the same time, each of them received a reward of $50,000. At the same time, their military rank was promoted by one level and their monthly salary also increased by one level.

This move made the officers and soldiers realize that as long as they performed well, even if they did not play a decisive role in a war, their courage alone would be appreciated and recognized by the top leaders.

Once recognized, it will not just be verbal praise, but real benefits will be obtained, making the soldiers under his command begin to look forward to the next war.

Even ordinary soldiers hope to be at the forefront next time, and to receive recognition and rewards from the commander even if they are injured.

Morale was thus raised to the highest point.

Immediately afterwards, hunter Hamid selected an officer who had made meritorious service and announced on the spot the establishment of a new team called the Oil Field Guard.

The oil field guard team consists of a total of 300 soldiers, including five reinforced platoons, each with a full strength of 50 people. In addition, there is a transport platoon, also with 50 people.

Five reinforced platoons, responsible for guarding the entire oil field, immediately moved into the oil field that hunter Hamid had newly won. The transport platoon was responsible for the armed escort of the oil produced in the oil field.

Based on the daily production of about 5,000 barrels, at least 700 tons of crude oil are produced every day. Using heavy-duty tanker trucks, at least 30 to 40 trucks must be filled. A medium-sized fleet is needed to transport the oil continuously without stopping.

hunter Hamid established a transport platoon to escort the oil under armed escort and deliver it to the Wanlong Palace base in a steady stream.

However, the problem now is that Wanlong Palace cannot build its own refinery in the short term. If it is designed and built on a scale of one million tons per year, it will require an investment of at least hundreds of millions of dollars and at least two years.

Before this, oil fields produced oil every day, but how to sell it became a tricky problem.

hunter Hamid is just a small warlord and does not have the ability to engage in global trade. If he wants to sell the oil for cash, his only two options are to sell it to local small-scale refineries at ultra-low prices or to smuggle it to Turkish traders.

The local refineries have a low carrying capacity and offer very low prices, leaving little profit margin. However, if the oil is smuggled and sold to Turkey, although the price is slightly higher than selling it to small workshops, the risks and costs of smuggling will still have to be borne. The situation in Syria is easier to deal with, as the opposition's operations have been chaotic, with border inspection and customs almost non-existent. However, Turkey is a medium-to-large country after all, and their border inspection and customs will certainly not allow Syrian black oil to enter easily.

Fortunately, Charlie Wade has his own Yisu Shipping, and he can provide Hunter Hamid with a third option, which is to transport the crude oil to the Wanlong Palace's base.

The Wanlong Palace is located right on the seashore and has its own simple dock. The dock is constantly being improved and upgraded. The oil can be transported from here to the oil tankers of Yisu Shipping, and then transported back to China by these tankers. After the refinery is put into operation in the future, the heavy oil can be transported directly from here to the nearby shipping route, and the cargo ships of Yisu Shipping can be refueled on the route.

Considering the size of Yisu Shipping's fleet, this level of production capacity is simply not enough to cover the fleet's annual heavy oil consumption, so by then all crude oil will be produced and sold by the company itself.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7632

When the situation in Syria calmed down, Tawana's concert was held as scheduled in Paris.

The queen's appeal is unparalleled, making fans across Europe as joyful as if it were New Year's Day.

In a blink of an eye, it is the Lantern Festival.

In Charlie Wade's personal opinion, the Lantern Festival is the most lively festival among traditional festivals and also the festival with the best visual effects.

The entire Qinhuai River was decorated with lights and there was even an ancient-style boat parade. Although the weather was still damp and cold, it did not stop the enthusiasm of Aurore Hill citizens to enjoy the lights at night.

Tonight, the Calligraphy and Painting Association held a calligraphy, painting and lantern riddle competition in a book club on the Qinhuai River. As a member of the Calligraphy and Painting Association, Jacob naturally had to go and show his support. Elaine always loved to join in the fun, so she also arranged to go together, and even called Charlie Wade and Claire for this.

At this moment, the Qinhuai River is not only dazzling with various colorful lanterns, but many children watching the lanterns are also holding various lanterns in their hands, which are colorful and lively.

All the trees on both sides of the river are wrapped with colorful lights, and the fireworks are very beautiful. People are shoulder to shoulder, but they don't mind the crowds and noise at all. No matter what kind of troubles, difficulties or dissatisfactions they have in their daily lives, when they go out tonight and feel the strong festive atmosphere, the negative emotions can be quickly thrown away, so everyone has a happy and joyful smile on their face.

charlie wade and Claire walked hand in hand along the bank of the Qinhuai River. Seeing this lively scene, Claire's suppressed sadness was temporarily relieved. She asked charlie wade beside her: "Do you still remember how you celebrated the Lantern Festival when you were a child?"

After saying that, she added, "I'm talking about when your parents were still alive."

charlie wade thought for a moment and smiled, "When my parents were still around, we would go out to enjoy the lanterns and stroll through the gardens every Lantern Festival. I would also carry a small red lantern, but the red lantern didn't have batteries in it, but a burning candle. Fireworks weren't banned back then, so on the night of the fifteenth day of the first lunar month, we would go to the lakeside to set off fireworks. Some units would even set off a budget specifically for large-scale fireworks on the night of the Lantern Festival. Sometimes, there would be competition between units, and everyone would see who could set off more, bigger, or longer fireworks. We kids thought it was so lively that we would go everywhere to watch, and we couldn't even see it all."

Claire nodded gently and said, "It seems to be similar when I was a child. I remember that every night on the fifteenth day of the first lunar month, the whole city was filled with fireworks. Grandpa would also buy a lot of fireworks for us kids, but I didn't dare to set them off. It was usually Xiao Hailong who set them off, and we just watched from the side."

At this point, she remembered something and suddenly said, "Oh, by the way, I saw wendy yesterday."

"wendy?" charlie wade asked curiously, "wendy?"

"Yes." Claire nodded and said, "Yesterday I went to the Dihao Group to attend a meeting to report on the project progress. It just so happened that the Dihao Group had a Lantern Festival dinner held a day earlier, so Vice President yung Doris invited me to attend. The group dinner was very crowded, and there were many hostesses on site to help out. wendy came over to toast Vice President Wang, and that's how we met."

charlie wade pretended to be confused and asked, "Did wendy go to work at the Dihao Group?"

"No." Claire said, "You should have heard about wendy starting her own business. My mom mentioned it a while ago. She set up her own etiquette company, specializing in etiquette services. It seems to be doing very well. Many large companies in Aurous Hill have long-term cooperation with her, and Dihao Group is her largest client."

charlie wade naturally knew wendy's situation. It was he who helped her deal with the unscrupulous businessman who had harmed her in the etiquette company, allowing her to have her own career. He also secretly instructed his subordinates to take good care of wendy's company.

However, he felt that he must pretend to know less than Avella Xiao in front of her, so he pretended to be amazed and said: "I didn't expect that wendy would still walk the right path one day."

Claire nodded and chuckled, "I think she is just like me. She must have someone helping her. Otherwise, given our situations, how could we cooperate with the Dihao Group and even have face-to-face communication with Vice Chairman yung Doris ?"

charlie wade felt embarrassed in his heart, but he smiled calmly: "Maybe you two are lucky."

Claire didn't say anything, but just nodded slightly and smiled.

At this moment, the Qinhuai River was like a busy waterway, with antique-style boats and cruise ships coming and going. One of the boats, along with the other boats, slowly moved to the right and passed by charlie wade and Claire.

At the bow and stern, two boatmen used bamboo poles to control the speed and direction of the boat. Inside the cabin, the entrance and windows on both sides were covered with curtains. You couldn't see inside from the outside, but you could vaguely see outside from the inside.

Such boats are not uncommon, and there are more than one or two boats with curtains lowered. After all, some young couples come out for a boat ride, and after seeing the scenery on the river bank for a long time, they will lower the curtains and spend time in the boat in their own world, so charlie wade did not pay much attention to it.

In the cabin, a beautiful woman was holding a teacup in her hand, looking at charlie wade in a daze from afar through the window.

Opposite her, two elderly people, a man and a woman, sat cross-legged, motionless.

The beautiful woman was charlie wade's mother, charlie's mom. The two old men opposite her were Sister Sun who followed her around, and butler who had been on standby in Qixia Temple recently.

At this moment, the two of them also dared not breathe, because they did not expect to meet charlie wade here, and so close. At the closest, charlie wade and Claire were walking on the long stone road on the river bank, and their boat was sailing along the shore. charlie wade's toes were less than half a meter away from their boat.

When the boat had sailed about a hundred or two hundred meters, charlie's mom put down his teacup and said sadly, "At that moment, I even hoped that charlie and I could have some kind of telepathy..."

Sister Sun quickly whispered, "Madam, please be careful with your words! The young master has great powers and might be able to hear our conversation!"

charlie's mom smiled wryly and said, "Don't worry. Although cultivators have keen senses, they can't always keep a close eye on everything around them. There are so many people here, so many conversations. Even if charlie heard about it, he would have a hard time handling it. Unless he's suspicious of our ship and is specifically keeping an eye on us, there's no need to worry too much."

butler then said, "Madam, why did you come to Aurous Hill again this time? If you need anything from me, I will go to Putuo Mountain to meet you!"

charlie's mom smiled and said, "For so many years, I've always wanted to come to Aurous Hill more often. After all, this is where charlie grew up and settled. But every time I came, I came and left quietly, and I didn't even dare to go to see charlie. This time, I came here to see more of this place, but I didn't expect to meet charlie here."

After that, she waved her hand and said self-deprecatingly, "Forget it, I won't do these whining things for no reason. Sihai, I called you here today because I have something very important to discuss with you."

butler clasped his fists respectfully and said, "Madam, please speak!"

charlie's mom said, "I see that miss willson has indeed been preparing to leave Aurous Hill recently. She's been working overtime to catch up on many projects that can be completed. For those that can't be completed, she has already taken the initiative to propose compensation to the client. I believe that after charlie's birthday on February 2nd, she and her parents will be able to leave."

butler nodded and said, "I also think that this matter will not change."

charlie's mom reminded him, "charlie is very powerful and has many spies. If the willson family girl disappears from his side, I'm afraid he will search for her immediately. If he reacts quickly enough, with our abilities, I'm afraid we won't be able to escape his pursuit."

butler looked at her and asked respectfully, "What do you mean, Madam?"

charlie's mom said calmly, "I think charlie can't be in the country on the day the willson family girl and her parents leave China. We need to find a way to get him away, the farther the better. This way, he might need a day to realize the willson family girl is missing, and then at least ten hours to rush back. By then, the willson family girl will already be out in the vast ocean."

butler nodded. "Madam, what you're thinking about is that if we can get the young master out of the way, that would be great. But... right now, there aren't many people who can influence the young master's schedule. It's hard for us to get him to develop in the direction we want. And if we find someone to get him out of the way, once the young master realizes he's been tricked, he'll definitely start with that person. Then, we might be exposed."

charlie's mom smiled and said, "You're right. We can't let charlie decide the itinerary according to our ideas."

After that, she suddenly changed the subject and said, "However, we can find a way to lead charlie by the nose."

butler hurriedly asked, "Madam, do you have any good ideas?"

charlie's mom looked at butler and said calmly, "Sihai, you disappeared on my orders. charlie must have realized that you weren't actually serving the wade family all these years, but there was someone else behind it. He certainly couldn't guess it was me, though. So, you must be one of the people charlie wants to find the most. You hold many mysteries he wants to solve. If you suddenly appear in a certain country on the eve of the second day of the second lunar month, and he accidentally finds out, I think he will definitely fly over to find you."

butler's eyes suddenly lit up, and he quickly said, "Madam, you are wise. If the young master learns that I have appeared somewhere, he will definitely come looking for me. As soon as he gets on the plane, we will arrange for miss willson to leave. I will arrange the domestic transfer route. When the young master gets off the plane, I will make sure that miss willson has left the country and left no clues!"

charlie's mom asked him, "Then where would you like to go, and how would you pretend to be discovered by charlie by accident?"

butler pondered for a moment, then suddenly blurted out, "I have a wife! I'm going to Australia!"

Right now i am in hospital thats y update are late

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7634

Australia?"

When charlie mom heard about this country, he asked him puzzledly, "Why did you choose Australia?"

butler analyzed, “The first is that it’s far enough. Even if the young master takes the wade family’s Concorde, it will take at least four or five hours to arrive. The Concorde is quite eye-catching, so the young master probably won’t use it unless it’s absolutely necessary. In this case, the flight will take at least eleven hours.”

“The second reason is that it’s big enough. Australia is vast and sparsely populated, so it’s difficult to find someone. After I show up and expose the clues, it will be relatively easy for me to hide. The young master won’t find me in a short time.”

“The third reason is that this country has been plagued by various problems recently, which are likely to attract public attention and make it easier for the young master to spot me.”

charlie mom asked him: “Do you have a specific plan?”

“Yes.” butler nodded heavily. “I already have a complete plan in mind, and I hope Madam will give me a chance to put it into practice.”

charlie mom nodded slightly and told him, “Remember, try to avoid charlie as much as possible and don’t let him find you.”

butler said respectfully, “Madam, don’t worry. Once the young master arrives in Australia, it won’t be long before he realizes that miss willson and her parents are missing. By then, he will definitely put aside his search for me and rush back to China as soon as possible. As long as I can survive three days without being discovered by him, I will be absolutely fine.”

charlie mom said with a smile: “First, you lure the tiger away from the mountain, then you attack Wei to save Zhao. You have made great progress in the past few years. Try to make your plan come true.”

butler immediately bowed and said, “I obey your command!”

charlie mom nodded, reached out and pulled aside the gauze curtain. Looking at the dazzling night scene on both sides of the Qinhuai River, she couldn’t help but sigh, “Such a beautiful scenery, but I always feel like something is missing.”

butler and Sister Sun looked at her and saw charlie mom staring out the window in a daze. They looked at each other again, neither of them knowing what charlie mom meant by “shortcomings”. Was it the lack of family reunion? Most likely.

However, both of them knew that charlie mom could not meet charlie wade yet, so even if they missed their son very much, they could only seal this longing in their hearts.

Therefore, they did not dare to speak to comfort him, for fear that charlie mom would be moved by the scene.

charlie mom looked at the scenery outside the window, and his eyes became visibly brighter and more translucent. It was obvious that there were tears in his eyes.

At this moment, charlie mom suddenly turned around and said to Sister Sun with a childlike smile, “Sister Sun, quickly ask Xiao Wei to get some fireworks and set them off on the other side of charlie !”

Sister Sun hurriedly said, “Madam, fireworks are prohibited in Aurous Hill City. Isn’t it a bit dangerous to let Xiao Wei set off fireworks?”

“It’s okay.” charlie mom waved his hand calmly and chuckled, “Tell Xiao Wei to run away like a child. If he gets caught, he should admit his mistakes and pay a fine. The worst that can happen is a few days of detention. Nothing will be exposed.”

At this point, charlie mom murmured softly, “charlie will definitely like it.”

Sister Sun suddenly realized.

It turned out that the lady asked Xiao Wei to set off fireworks not for herself, but for Charlie Wade to see.

Charlie's mom smiled and whispered, "Although Charlie can't see his mother, he will definitely be able to see the fireworks his mother sets off for him on this bustling and lively night."

"At that moment, he will definitely stop, look up, and gaze at the night sky where the fireworks are blooming. He will be surprised, smile, and be happy. That's enough, because that is a gift from his mother."

The boat that Charlie's mom was on had already left the busiest section of the Qinhuai River, and Charlie Wade had never noticed from beginning to end that the person closest to him in the world had just passed away from his feet.

He and Claire continued to stroll along the Qinhuai River. After walking for a while, they came to the lantern riddle party organized by the Calligraphy and Painting Association not far ahead. Many children had gathered around, vying to guess the riddles given by the staff. There were also many dolls, small toys and souvenirs on the stalls. Anyone who guessed the riddle would get a small gift.

It's rare for Jacob to be so devoted to his work, and he made the children smile and laugh.

Elaine didn't like the feeling of being surrounded by a group of chattering children, so she sat alone on a chair nearby and ate melon seeds.

charlie wade asked Claire: "Should we go to see Dad?"

Claire shook his head and smiled, "Let's not go. It's the kids guessing. If we go, it would be embarrassing if we win, and even more embarrassing if we lose."

"That's right." charlie wade smiled and nodded, and asked her: "Then let's go for a walk?"

"Okay!" Claire agreed happily and said, "There's still a long way to go. They say there will be a flower boat coming later. Let's walk along the river. It's a rare opportunity like this."

charlie wade said casually: "If you are willing to come out for a walk, we can come here for a walk every night in the future."

Claire smiled slightly and didn't say anything. Charlie Wade could see a hint of melancholy between her brows.

Just when I was about to ask her if she was worried about something, a bright light suddenly shot up into the sky from the other side of the Qinhuai River.

Immediately afterwards, the light exploded in the air, blooming into a golden spherical firework.

There were sudden cries of surprise from all around, and tens of thousands of people, who had been looking in all directions, instantly looked up at the sky.

The gorgeous fireworks lit up the dark sky. After the huge light and shadow flashed, countless small clusters of fireworks exploded.

Claire's eyes, which had just been somewhat melancholy and sad, suddenly brightened. She jumped up and down like a child, pointing at the fireworks and saying, "Hubby, look! What beautiful fireworks!"

At this moment, more fireworks took off into the sky, blooming with colorful lights in the sky. The fireworks were reflected in the sparkling water of the Qinhuai River, and matched with the surrounding fireworks and lights, the beauty was intoxicating.

charlie wade was also watching in a trance. He was feeling sorry for not being able to see the fireworks just now, but he didn't expect that at this moment, there would be so many fireworks rising into the sky.

He suddenly remembered the time when he was a child, setting off fireworks with his parents at the Beihai and Houhai beaches in Eastcliff.

He has lived a rough and difficult life for most of his life. He has suffered a lot and endured humiliation over the years. However, the reason why he has never had any psychological trauma, personality deformity, hatred for society and has been able to maintain a just and kind heart is not only because of the education and guidance his parents gave him as a child, but also because of his happy childhood.

People often say that an unhappy childhood can be healed by a lifetime, while a happy childhood can heal a lifetime. charlie wade is the latter. Even if he falls into despair, as long as he recalls the bits and pieces of his childhood, he can find a ray of light in the darkness and face some difficulties and obstacles with a smile.

At this moment, the fireworks were getting bigger and bigger. Everyone was standing there watching. The colorful fireworks were set off by happy and joyful faces. Amid the crackling sounds of the fireworks, there were urgent sirens. Several police cars on duty rushed straight to the location of the fireworks. People couldn't help but worry for the unknown fireworks setter.

Several people who set off fireworks were quickly controlled by the police, but they were all large fireworks, which would continue to erupt for several minutes once ignited. So when they were caught and put into the police car, the fireworks were still struggling to burst out of the packaging and rush into the sky.

The police took out a fire extinguisher and wanted to put out the fireworks, but when they saw that the person had been caught and the nervous and reluctant expressions of the children around them, they finally gave up the idea of putting out the fireworks.

After a few minutes, the fireworks gradually burned out, and as the last firework went out, darkness once again dyed the sky black.

However, people did not feel disappointed because they had just seen the most beautiful fireworks in the dark night, and this feeling made everyone particularly satisfied.

After the fireworks ended, charlie wade still looked at the sky where the fireworks bloomed, and couldn't help but sigh: "If I had known that a few boxes of fireworks could satisfy so many people, I would have gotten some to set off."

Claire subconsciously reminded him, "Don't do anything illegal."

charlie wade said: "Although mistakes were made, it can satisfy many people in the end."

"Don't do that either." Claire suddenly grabbed his arms with both hands, stared at him seriously and said, "charlie wade, you have to promise me that you will never take risks in anything, even if it's just a small thing. As long as it's risky, you should try not to try it."

When Claire said this, he tried his best to control the tears that were about to burst out of his eyes.

She knew that her departure from charlie wade was inevitable. Her only worry was that after she left, charlie wade's road to revenge would be in danger.

In fact, she really wanted to make it clear to him, asking him to stop seeking revenge and find a safe place to live out his life in peace.

But when the words came to her lips, she tried her best to hold them back.

Reason told her that many things were not something charlie wade could decide. Even if he gave up on avenging his father and mother's murder, his enemies might not give up on killing him.

charlie wade had no idea that Claire said this out of emotion. He just coaxed Claire like a child and said, "Don't worry, my wife, I won't take risks casually."

As he spoke, his mind thought of Wu Feiyan, whom he had never met but hated to the core.

This woman killed my parents so many years ago and she is also going to wipe out my grandparents' family. In the future, I will have a life-and-death battle with her where either she dies or I die. There will always be danger in this battle and there is no way I can avoid taking risks.

Claire also knew that charlie wade had no control over many of the things he had done to get to where he is today. At this moment, he felt relieved that charlie wade had hidden so many things from him for so many years.

She no longer held a grudge against the matter, but sincerely hoped that charlie wade would be safe and sound in the future. As a girl, she didn't understand the feeling of carrying a deep hatred, so she could only pray to the heavens in her heart: "Gods of heaven, bless charlie wade and never let him meet his enemy. But if he must meet, please bless charlie wade to kill his enemy, avenge his parents, and let him completely free himself from this and live a normal life..."
