

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7676

charlie Wade immediately stepped forward and asked her, “When was he discharged from the hospital? Wasn’t he seriously injured? Why did he have to be discharged?”

The nurse said, “He was discharged three hours ago. His injuries were serious, but his life was no longer in danger. He insisted on being discharged, and we couldn’t force him to stay, so we processed the discharge procedures for him.”

charlie Wade frowned when he heard this and quickly asked, “Do you know who took him out of the hospital?”

“No one answered,” the nurse said. “He left the hospital on crutches.”

charlie Wade was extremely surprised.

Even if Stephen Thompson’s life was not in danger, it could be seen from the photos that Claire showed him at the time that his injuries were serious and he would need to stay in bed for at least a month to recover. But less than 24 hours later, he was discharged from the hospital. Who was he trying to hide from by being discharged in such a hurry?

Is it to avoid those teenagers?

Or is it to avoid enemies?

Or, is it to hide from myself?

charlie Wade was confused for a moment. He had no idea that he had fallen into Stephen Thompson’s trap of luring the tiger away from the mountain.

What he didn’t know was that at this moment, the limping Stephen Thompson boarded a small Honda jet at a small civilian airport on the outskirts of Melbourne with the help of several men in black.

This plane is owned by an individual, a small mine owner in Western Australia. He is not very rich, so this private plane worth less than 10 million US dollars is not eye-catching. Here, it is just an entry-level private plane for small wealthy people.

Since the flight took off from a private airport and the reported route was from Melbourne to Port Hedland in Western Australia, which did not involve international routes, passengers did not need to undergo any inspection or registration. They could directly drive into the airport and did not even have to go to the terminal. They could board the plane at the end of the runway.

The owner of this plane lives in Melbourne with his family during his non-working hours, and goes to Western Australia during working hours. His main business is to transport the mined iron ore to Port Hedland, and then export it from Port Hedland to his customers in China, so he basically has to travel back and forth to Melbourne every week. It is basically impossible for the outside world to find out any clues when Stephen Thompson takes his plane.

The plane taxied and took off in the morning light, flying from the southeast of Australia to the northwest of Australia, which was equivalent to flying a diagonal line in Australia.

After the plane arrives at the airport near Port Hedland, Stephen Thompson will take a cargo ship transporting iron ore from Port Hedland to Japan.

Meanwhile, outside the Royal Melbourne Hospital, charlie Wade looked at the extensive city road network and frowned, saying, "Butler Stephen has difficulty moving around. He certainly won't be able to walk far alone."

Isaac Cameron asked, "Master, do you want to mobilize the local staff to find a way to track it down?"

charlie Wade sighed: "I'm afraid that Butler Stephen is deliberately avoiding me."

After saying that, charlie Wade suddenly remembered something and immediately said to Isaac Cameron: "Let's go to the police station and ask the local police for help. It is said that Butler Stephen just immigrated to Australia not long ago. The legal documents and procedures for new immigrants must be very complete. Maybe the police have more information."

Isaac Cameron nodded, but asked worriedly, "Master, what identity should we use to ask the police for help? If the police need to confirm the relationship between us and Butler Stephen first, then I'm afraid it will be difficult for us to produce any supporting documents."

charlie Wade felt inexplicably irritated and frowned, saying, "Let's try our luck first. If the other party's demands are really harsh, I also have a way to make him tell the truth!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7677

From the moment he landed in Melbourne, charlie Wade's pace was unconsciously accelerated by the events.

On the way here, his mind was always thinking. He had imagined many situations of meeting Stephen Thompson, organized several sets of words, and was mentally prepared for several responses from Stephen Thompson. As soon as he got off the plane, he rushed to the hospital where Stephen Thompson was.

But I never expected that when I arrived at the place, I found out that Stephen Thompson had disappeared again!

At this moment, all he was thinking about was finding Stephen Thompson's whereabouts as soon as possible, but he didn't realize that this was actually a maze set up by Stephen Thompson himself.

The three of them went straight to the nearest police station in Melbourne and met a senior police sergeant.

According to Isaac Cameron's previous investigation, the case in which Stephen Thompson was initially besieged by those teenagers occurred within the jurisdiction of this police station, and the case was handled by this police station. Now that Stephen Thompson has disappeared in this jurisdiction again, it is natural to ask them for help in solving the case.

The senior police sergeant the three met was named Trevor Davidson. When he learned the purpose of Charlie Wade and the others' visit, he said to them, "I don't have any clear information about the Mr. Tang you mentioned. He was sent to the hospital for treatment after the incident. Because of his serious injuries, our officers didn't question him immediately, so we don't know his true identity. As for you saying he has left the hospital, we can't spare any police force to help you find his whereabouts for the time being."

Charlie Wade frowned and asked, "That means you still haven't figured out his true legal status in Australia?"

"Yes." Trevor Davidson nodded and said casually, "This person's identity is still very suspicious. Based on my personal experience, he is most likely not a legal immigrant. He is very likely a stowaway who entered the country illegally, or an illegal alien who is here."

Charlie Wade felt a little strange. In the chat records that Claire showed him, the whistleblower said that Stephen Thompson was a new immigrant, but now it seems that this information is biased.

He couldn't help but wonder if the reason Stephen Thompson had to leave the hospital with injuries was because he had no legal status in Australia, so he fled in a hurry?

In Charlie Wade's opinion, the way he got the news was very accidental, a coincidence among coincidences. Stephen Thompson left the hospital with injuries definitely not to avoid him, but most likely to avoid the Australian police.

This is precisely the brilliance of this chain of schemes. It starts by chance and gives the parties involved the illusion that they are outside the game and in the dark.

When Charlie Wade fell into the inertia of thinking and the logical trap, he was getting further and further away from the essence of the matter.

After knowing that he would not be able to find any useful information about Stephen Thompson from the police, Charlie Wade asked the sheriff: "What is the current situation of those teenagers who beat people?"

Trevor Davidson spread his hands, shrugged casually, and said with a smile: "Everyone has been released."

"Release him?!"

Charlie Wade frowned and asked, "The man was beaten so badly, and it was only a day later, why did the attacker let him go?"

Trevor Davidson laughed and said, "You said they were teenagers. They are not very old. All we can do is criticize and educate them. If the victims want compensation, they can sue their guardians through the courts."

charlie Wade asked again: “If I remember correctly, in Australia, the minimum age of criminal responsibility should be ten, right?”

Trevor Davidson waved his hand and said perfunctorily, “Ten years old is only theoretical. True criminal responsibility begins at fourteen. Furthermore, our laws here have a provision that states that if the prosecution can’t prove that a child under fourteen clearly knew their actions were wrong, then they can be presumed not to have criminal responsibility. This is called ‘presumption of criminal incompetence.’ You can look it up in a law book.”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7678

Seeing that Trevor Davidson seemed to be deliberately favoring the other party, charlie Wade said, “I saw the video of the incident. Among those suspects who beat people, several are at least 1.7 meters tall. I dare not say that they are all over 14 years old, but there should be at least one who is.”

Trevor Davidson shrugged and said, “My guess is wrong. These people are indeed under the age of fourteen.”

charlie Wade said coldly: “I want to look at the files and confirm the ages of these people.”

Trevor Davidson asked him warily, “What is your relationship with the victim?”

charlie Wade said lightly: “He is my family.”

Trevor Davidson laughed. “No, no, no. Legally, there’s no such thing as family. There’s only specific relationships. Who is he to you? Father, uncle, grandfather?”

Without waiting for charlie Wade to answer, he smiled and said, “Oh, by the way, I forgot that person probably doesn’t have a legal identity. This means that no matter what relationship you have with him, it’s difficult for me to verify its authenticity, let alone disclose the information of a minor to you. So you must first find your so-called family member and then let him find a lawyer to sue him. If he initiates the lawsuit himself, we will provide his lawyer with the contact information of the abuser’s guardian as required by law.”

After saying this, he smiled at charlie Wade, raised his eyebrows, and asked, “Is there anything else I can help with? If not, please go back. I have to work.”

charlie Wade was a little annoyed. He knew that what Trevor Davidson said might be true, but it was obvious from this man’s attitude that he was not on the side of the victim at all.

He felt that since the police did not have any specific information about Stephen Thompson, there was no need for him to waste time with them. He should first get the information of the perpetrators.

As for the legal requirements that Trevor Davidson mentioned, it has nothing to do with me. I am not here to follow their laws and regulations.

So, he smiled slightly, and transferred some of his spiritual energy into Trevor Davidson's body, and ordered, "Print out the information of the abuser for me."

Trevor Davidson's mind was now obedient to charlie Wade's words. Without any hesitation, he immediately operated on the computer, and then the printer beside him began to hum.

Soon, a form was printed out.

Trevor Davidson handed the form to charlie Wade and said respectfully: "The information of the six people is here."

charlie Wade took a look and frowned, asking, "Six of them are over twelve years old, three are over fourteen, and one is already eighteen years old. Why haven't they been arrested?"

Trevor Davidson said: "The people who were beaten are most likely illegal immigrants. We generally don't delve into this kind of thing because the people who were beaten won't delve into it either. It's likely that the matter will be left unresolved. We release these children and even get a favor from their parents."

charlie Wade asked coldly: "What if the person being beaten is not an illegal immigrant?! How will you deal with it?"

Trevor Davidson said: "If the person being assaulted is a minority, even if they are not illegal immigrants, we still need to see if they have citizenship. If they do have citizenship, we will try to persuade them to settle the matter privately. If they do not have citizenship and only have a student visa or a work visa, we usually use subtle threats to tell them that this incident may be classified as a mutual assault. If it is classified as a mutual assault, they risk having their visa revoked, and most people just consider themselves unlucky."

charlie Wade was extremely angry at this time. As the law enforcement agency here, they actually showed bias when facing violent crimes. No wonder these young people were so arrogant and related violent crimes were endless.

And those little teenagers, whose hair hasn't even grown out yet, dare to intentionally hurt others in broad daylight. If I don't teach them a lesson, I won't be able to swallow this.

So, he gave Treve Davidson a psychological hint, saying, "Remember, from the day after tomorrow, you will be the nemesis of crime that terrifies all evil. When faced with any crime, you must be fearless, go all out, and enforce the law impartially. Otherwise, the fight will continue until you are dead. Do you understand?"

Trevor Davidson immediately nodded heavily: "I understand!"

charlie Wade took the list of information and turned to Isaac Cameron and Don Albert and said, "Okay, there is no valuable information here, let's go."

On the way out, Don Albert asked in confusion, "Master Wade, why did you let that Trevor Davidson become the so-called evil nemesis only from the day after tomorrow?"

charlie Wade said calmly: "Because I will be the evil nemesis for the next two days!"

After that, he took out the list and said coldly, "The next two days will be a nightmare that these little bastards will never forget."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7679

After coming out of the police station, Isaac Cameron asked with concern: "Master, how do you plan to deal with these minors?"

Don Albert, who was standing by, interrupted, "If it were you, I'd find them first, beat them half to death, then cripple their arms and legs, and make them lie in bed until they turn eighteen!"

charlie Wade waved his hand: "We are all so old now. It would be too embarrassing if it got out that we were fighting with minors."

"What should we do?" Don Albert gritted his teeth and said, "We must teach them a lesson! Otherwise, I really can't swallow this!"

charlie Wade sneered and said, "There's no need to teach them a lesson yourself. The best way is to let them teach themselves a lesson."

After that, charlie Wade handed the paper to Isaac Cameron and said, "Today is Sunday, and I guess these kids are not in school. But I see their home addresses are all on the same street, so maybe these guys are all mixed together. Let's go find them directly."

The residence of these minors is not far from this police station, within the jurisdiction of this police station. It only took Isaac Cameron more than ten minutes to drive the car to a residential area called Reynolds Street.

Although this place is within the city limits, it gives people the feeling of being typically dirty and messy, with garbage and filth everywhere, and even a lot of homeless people can be seen.

charlie Wade asked Isaac Cameron to drive around the homes of several minors, but he did not see any minors. Guessing that it was not yet time for them to go out, charlie Wade asked Isaac Cameron to park the car at an intersection in the block and wait.

Isaac Cameron parked the car and looked out the window in surprise. He said, "We're still in the city, but why do we feel like we're in a slum?"

charlie Wade pointed to a small house on the corner of the street not far away and said, "See, it says Safe Injection House. A place with this is definitely not good."

Isaac Cameron suddenly realized and sighed, “Sometimes I have to sigh at the brain circuits of these countries. They come up with such things that bring disaster to the country and the people.”

Don Albert didn’t understand English very well, so he asked in confusion, “What do you mean by safe injection house? What do you two mean?”

Isaac Cameron said: “It’s a place set up by the government for drug addicts to inject illegal drugs.”

“F*ck! This is happening?!” Don Albert was stunned. As he was exclaiming in amazement, he saw several young men like zombies stumbling out of the safe injection room. He could tell at a glance that these people were drug addicts. Some of them even had a syringe stuck in their arms.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7680

Not only did these people lose the demeanor of a normal human being, each of them was dressed in rags and had unkempt hair, as if they had not changed their clothes, taken a bath, or had their hair cut in years. Two of them didn’t even have a pair of shoes and walked barefoot, their feet covered with pus and sores.

Looking at the roadside, there were several people lying next to the green belt and trash cans, with a large number of flies flying around them, but these people hardly moved and didn’t care at all.

Fortunately, Melbourne, located in the southern hemisphere, is in early autumn and the weather is not cold, otherwise these poisonous insects might be frozen to death if not poisoned.

Don Albert was horrified and blurted out, “Damn it! Shouldn’t all those drug addicts be arrested? Why are they given a place to do this in broad daylight?”

charlie Wade smiled and said, “This is their political correctness. We really can’t understand it, so we can only show respect.”

At this time, a skinny young girl in a short skirt came to their car and knocked on the driver’s window with an anxious and painful expression.

Even through the car window, the three people in the car could see the dense needle marks on the woman’s arms, and many parts of her skin had become ulcerated due to too many needles.

Isaac Cameron lowered the car window a crack and asked her, “What’s going on?”

The young woman pleaded, “Sir, please give me a hundred dollars and I can satisfy any request you have.”

After that, she glanced into the car and said, “If it’s two hundred dollars, I can satisfy all three of you.”

Don Albert turned pale with fear and quickly said to Isaac Cameron, “Mr. Wade, please close the window quickly! I’m so scared she’ll infect us with AIDS!”

Don Albert said in a panic, “Come on, shut it up! I’m scared! I’m afraid she has some other illness. Look at her mouth full of rotten teeth. She looks like a zombie. It’s so F*cking scary!”

Isaac Cameron smiled, turned to the girl and said, “Sorry, we don’t have any needs. Please ask someone else.”

After saying that, he quickly closed the car window.

Don Albert finally breathed a sigh of relief when he saw the car windows were tightly closed, but he still felt a lingering fear and said, “Damn, those people are always yelling about immigration, immigration. Why would they move to a place like this? If I see people like this every day when I go out, how can I live comfortably?”

Isaac Cameron laughed and said, “Don Albert, although Australia is in the Southern Hemisphere, it still has the basic structure of Western society. Their social structure is very fragmented. The wealthy areas have everything good: good public security, a good environment, good schools. Some are even located near mountains and rivers, with every family having a dock and a yacht. The police are eager to set up community police stations in the wealthy areas and conduct hundreds of patrols a day to ensure the safety of the rich.”
