

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7686

After his mind was empty for five minutes, the first question that came to the mind of the young and energetic Bruce Brown was who in this neighborhood was more cruel and bad than himself!

He was now in the same state of extreme rage as before, but there was no charlie Wade as the target of his anger, so he had to find his next opponent.

Soon, a face appeared in his mind. The man's name was Liam, the person he was most afraid of meeting in this neighborhood.

Liam is three years older than Bruce Brown, but he entered society much earlier than him. In his early years, he was also an idle street thug, occasionally robbing passers-by or small convenience stores on the street.

But in the last two or three years, Liam joined a small gang that was well-known in the nearby blocks and became a gang member.

The gang structure in Australia is very similar to that in Europe and the United States. Although their organizational structure is not strict enough, the hierarchy is very clear.

In a city, the most powerful gangs must control the most profitable businesses, such as the most profitable contraband and gambling industries.

However, even the most powerful gang cannot dominate the world. There will often be several players of the same level who divide the territory and compete with each other.

In areas that the top gangs disdain to pay attention to, there are also a large number of other gangs, such as some that make a living in the s*x industry, and others that make a living by extortion and collecting protection fees.

Further down, there are gangs like the one Liam belongs to. They don't have a truly systematic industry, so they hide in various corners and eat some scraps and leftovers. For example, the top gang distributes contraband to some middle-level distributors, and these distributors take the contraband and mix in a lot of impurities before repackaging it into retail versions of a small package of dozens of dollars, which are then sold to low-level users.

These retail versions are sold on the streets by small gangs below.

Take methamphetamine, the most prevalent drug in Australia, for example. Its high-end audience includes wealthy people, white-collar workers, internet celebrities and nightclub prostitutes. These customers have high profit margins and can drive their other consumption. Each of them is a cash cow for the gang. Such customers are simply out of reach for small gangs like Liam. If they dare to go to high-end hotels and nightclubs to sell inferior products, high-level gangs will destroy them in minutes.

This is the concept of territory.

A territory with high-end users is equivalent to a fertile land or even a gold mine. The territory owner will do his utmost to defend his own interests. Once someone dares to touch their core interests, they will definitely fight back.

Because of this, Liam's gang can only hang out on the streets and sell drugs to poor drug addicts who can only get a few dozen dollars by stealing and cheating.

But even so, the profit margin is very generous.

A small package of contraband worth one hundred Australian dollars can bring them at least forty Australian dollars in profit. As long as their small gang can control a slum area and cover a few hundred drug addicts, they can make at least tens of thousands of Australian dollars in net profit every day relying on these drug addicts. Although Liam is just a small brother at the bottom of the gang, it is not difficult for him to get a few hundred Australian dollars every day.

In Melbourne's slums, a few hundred Australian dollars a day is already a very good income level, because the median income in Melbourne is around a hundred Australian dollars a day, and Liam earns a few hundred Australian dollars a day, 360 days a year without a break, so he can earn at least 100,000 Australian dollars a year, which exceeds most white-collar workers in Melbourne.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7687

In contrast, Bruce Brown was far worse. He wanted to join such a gang, but he never had the chance. His small group did not have its own territory and did not dare to engage in contraband business. Therefore, he had no stable source of income. Occasionally robbing some money on the street was almost his only source of income.

A few months ago, Bruce Brown saved up a few hundred Australian dollars and said a lot of nice things to get Liam to have dinner with him.

At the dinner table, Bruce Brown gave all the expensive food he ordered to Liam, and he was hungry and humbly begged Liam to introduce him to the gang. But after Liam finished eating and drinking, he wiped his mouth and told Bruce Brown that a small scoundrel like him was not qualified to join his gang, and that eating his food was already lowering his own status.

After saying that, Liam stood up and walked away.

At that moment, Bruce Brown felt humiliated.

But even so, he didn't dare to go and settle the score with Liam. He could only swallow this loss silently. At the same time, he made a great ambition in his heart that he must climb higher than Liam in the future and then step on him.

charlie Wade now gave him the courage he didn't have before.

So, he weighed the baseball bat in his hand and said to his fellow thugs with a devilish urge, "Let's go find Liam and kill him. From now on, I'll be the most powerful newcomer in all of South Melbourne. Maybe his boss will appreciate me and let me take his place. Then we'll really be on the rise!"

Psychological suggestion is equivalent to a mental stamp, which will make people believe in the content of the suggestion and even forget or ignore reality.

Bruce Brown was originally a gangster with low cultural level and even lower quality than his cultural level. His understanding of the world was extremely superficial. In addition, he had watched too many gangster movies, and he always felt that maybe with some special opportunity, he would be appreciated by the big guys and soar to the sky.

The psychological hint given to him by Charlie Wade prompted him to come up with the first idea of replacing Liam with Ruthless.

Seeing the group marching towards the next block, Charlie Wade asked Isaac Cameron to drive and follow them from a distance.

The next block was even dirtier and messier than the previous one.

There are also similar safe injection houses here, and there are two of them. Around the injection houses and under the nearby overpass, there are a large number of drug addicts, at least nearly a hundred people.

Because there is an overpass passing through this neighborhood, many drug addicts set up tents directly under the overpass. The tents are densely packed, at least forty or fifty in number.

The reason why so many people gather here to set up tents is that although it cannot block the wind, it can block the sun and rain. For the homeless, setting up tents here is the best choice.

Around these drug addicts, there are always some young people moving back and forth in the crowd. Unlike these ragged drug addicts, these young people are dressed brightly and even wear exaggerated gold jewelry. These people are gang members who specialize in selling contraband to drug addicts.

Among them, a curly-haired young man who was half black was smoking a homemade cigarette and moving among the group of drug addicts.

He stared at the hands of a female drug addict who was counting money. After counting a pile of small bills, she said pleadingly, "Liam, I'm still short of thirty Australian dollars. Can I give it to you tomorrow?"

The female drug addict was the streetwalker who had approached Isaac Cameron earlier.

Liam said with disdain: "If you don't have any money, go sell it. It's not even noon yet, so there's plenty of time. Come back to me when you've sold enough."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7688

The woman begged humbly, "I haven't smoked Liam for a day. If this continues, I won't have the strength to serve customers. Please give it to me first. I can do anything for you! Didn't you like me serving you in the past?"

Liam said disdainfully, "I'm now an official member of the Holy Blue Gang. If I continue to accept your services, will my reputation in the gang still be ruined? You'd better stop talking nonsense and go make money."

The woman looked desperate. She wanted to continue begging, but was afraid of angering the other party, so she was caught in a dilemma.

Liam glanced at her, then raised his eyebrows and said, "Well, don't say I don't take care of you. I can give you the things first, but after you finish smoking, you have to work hard and try to get more work. I'll come to you at eight o'clock tonight, and then you have to pay me fifty Australian dollars with interest."

"Fifty?" The woman looked shocked. She owed thirty Australian dollars and had to pay back fifty in just one day. The interest was almost double. She had been hanging around the streets for so many years and had never seen such a black-hearted gang member.

However, she had no choice at the moment. Her body and mind were suffering tremendously, so she could only bite the bullet and agree: "Okay, fifty is fifty!"

Liam skillfully handed her a small bag of contraband and warned her, "We've got a deal. If you don't give me fifty Australian dollars by eight o'clock tonight, it will become eighty tomorrow!"

The woman nodded rapidly: "No problem!"

After saying that, he quickly took the contraband and went into a tattered tent.

Liam sneered twice and was about to find the next customer when he suddenly heard someone shouting, "Liam!"

As soon as he turned around, he saw a black shadow flash towards his head.

Bruce Brown's baseball bat was heading straight for Liam's head, just like when he attacked Charlie Wade just now, he was ready to take the other's life.

Liam was lucky and had rich experience in the underworld. Seeing the black shadow coming, he didn't bother to figure out what was coming and subconsciously turned his head to the side.

Then I felt a sharp pain in my shoulder and my legs went limp.

It turned out that the baseball bat brushed past his face and hit his shoulder directly, smashing his right shoulder into pieces.

Liam felt excruciating pain. After seeing who was coming, he immediately became furious and cursed: “Bruce Brown, you little punk, how dare you hit me?”

Liam’s eyes were bloodshot: “Hit you? You underestimate me too much, Liam. I want you to die today!”

After saying that, he immediately swung the baseball bat and hit Liam again.

Liam had no weapon in his hand, and seeing the other party’s deadly posture, he could only stagger away, while Bruce Brown flew up with a baseball bat and caught up with him.

Another group of young people also rushed after them like crazy, and the scene was extremely chaotic for a while.

At this time, several other gang members saw what happened and immediately rushed up.

Liam had a serious shoulder injury and stumbled as he ran. He lost his balance and fell to the ground after just two steps.

Bruce Brown seized the opportunity and rushed forward, about to smash Liam’s leg with a club, when someone pointed a gun at him and shouted, “Put down the baseball bat!”

Bruce Brown’s eyes were red with anger, and he gritted his teeth and said, “No one can stop me today!”

Just as he finished speaking, he heard two loud bangs, and two bloody holes appeared on his right leg. Then his right leg lost control in an instant and he fell to the ground.

Immediately afterwards, a group of gang members rushed up, beat him half to death, and pinned the other guys to the ground and beat them up.

After all, this is the territory of Liam’s gang and where they make money. Many younger brothers gather here and around, and they immediately surround it when they see something happening.

Seeing Bruce Brown beaten beyond recognition and howling uncontrollably, Charlie Wade couldn’t help but sigh and shook his head, saying, “I thought this guy could be a tough guy and play a loser’s counterattack for a few episodes, but I didn’t expect him to be beaten into this state right from the start. What a loser!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7689

The moment he saw Bruce Brown being knocked down, Charlie Wade suddenly felt bored. It was like he had a digital pet and hoped that it would grow up quickly, but it died just after being fed for the first time.

He watched Bruce Brown and his group of underage boys being taken away by ambulance with a dull sigh. He waved his hand and said, "I told the sheriff to enforce the law in two days. I wanted to give him two days to have some fun. I didn't expect it to go so bad so quickly."

Don Albert quickly asked, "Master Wade, is that little bastard dead?"

"Not really." charlie Wade shook his head. "The artery wasn't hit. As long as he's not sent to the veterinary station, he shouldn't die. But his right leg is definitely broken. He'll have to use crutches after he recovers."

Don Albert smiled and said, "It's okay. Didn't Hong Kong Island have a big brother called Bo Hao back then? Maybe this kid can make some noise after he recovers."

charlie Wade complained: "Limp Hao became a cripple after becoming the eldest brother. If he had been crippled from the beginning, he wouldn't even be able to reach Hong Kong Island, let alone become the eldest brother."

Don Albert scratched his head and said with a smile: "That's right, this kid is lame without even a feather. He will definitely be in trouble in the future."

"Forget it." charlie Wade said boringly: "Let's go to the hotel first. We have some important business to do. Isaac asked the hotel to prepare a three-bedroom suite. We have to sort out the clues and find a way to find Butler Stephen."

"Okay!" Isaac Cameron agreed immediately, made a phone call to give a few instructions, and then drove straight to the Shangri-La Hotel in Melbourne.

On the way, charlie Wade didn't receive a reply from wife, so he picked up his phone and sent her another WeChat message: "Is my wife busy?"

After sending it, he held the phone in both hands and waited for a reply.

But even after Isaac Cameron drove to the hotel, he still didn't receive a reply from Claire.

charlie Wade felt a little uneasy. Claire had never gone so long without replying to messages before. Could it be that he had encountered some problems?

So, he immediately called Claire, but what she didn't expect was that Claire's phone indicated that it was out of service area.

His heart skipped a beat and he quickly called his father-in-law Jacob to find out what was going on, but he didn't expect that Jacob's phone was still out of service area.

He called his mother-in-law Elaine again, but the result was the same.

charlie Wade became increasingly nervous. He couldn't understand why Claire and her parents suddenly lost contact.

So, he called Claire's company and explained his identity. The administrator who answered the phone told him, "Hello, Mr. Wade, Miss. Willson didn't come to work today."

"Not at work?!" Charlie Wade asked, "Has she contacted you?"

The administrative staff member said, "Boss Willson instructed us yesterday to organize all the work materials and send them to the various parties involved. Everyone should stick with it until the last day of the month, and then the company will be officially dissolved."

"Disband?!" Charlie Wade's expression froze, and he immediately felt something was wrong. He quickly asked her, "Has the company encountered any problems? Why are you suddenly disbanding?"

The administrator said, "The company hasn't encountered any problems. It's just that Ms. Willson said she can't work any longer and wants to retire."

Charlie Wade said nervously: "Why have I never heard her mention retirement?!"

The administrator asked in surprise, "You don't know?! Mr. Willson told us that you don't want her to work so hard to start a business anymore."

Charlie Wade asked: "What else did she say to you?"

"Nothing." The administrator said, "Mr. Willson has instructed the finance department to give everyone N+6 compensation. Everyone is waiting to receive their compensation now."

Normally, when a company fires an employee, N+1 is considered conscientious. Not many companies can do N+2. Claire gave N+6, which is equivalent to paying each person an extra five months' salary. This is not a small amount. It can be seen that she must feel guilty towards her employees, so she gave such high compensation.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7690

The company was doing well, and she was working very hard, so why did she suddenly quit? And she never told me about it, and now I can't even contact her...

Charlie Wade suddenly had a very bad premonition in his heart.

He felt that Claire had not encountered any accident or danger, but had planned all this long ago!

When he thought of this, he was in a panic. He really wanted to go home to see if Claire was at home. If not, he wanted to know if she had taken her things away from home. However, he was in Australia now. Even if he chartered a plane back immediately, it would take at least ten hours to get back to Aurous Hill.

So, the first solution that came to his mind was to ask Nanako Ito for help.

Although Nanako spends most of her time practicing Taoism at the Champs Elysees Hot Spring Hotel, her father, Takehiko Ito, lives in the flat of Tomson One. She might be there right now. If she goes to his house to take a look, she can find the answer to everything as quickly as possible.

Although Mia (Liu Manqiong) also lived in Tomson Yipin, they were not that familiar with each other after all. Moreover, Mia (Liu Manqiong) had no skills and probably did not have the ability to sneak into his house. Cai Naizi was different. She was a martial arts master and had successfully attained enlightenment, which greatly increased her strength. This was a piece of cake for her.

So, he immediately wanted to call Cai Caizi, but after thinking it over, he chose to send a WeChat message. His wife suddenly disappeared in a premeditated and planned manner, and he didn't even know about it from beginning to end. He didn't want Don Albert and Isaac Cameron to know about this.

He then immediately sent a text message to Nanako Ito on WeChat, which read: "Nanako Ito, are you at Tomson First Class?"

Nanako quickly replied: "I'm here. Odo-san asked me to come back and have dinner with him. What's wrong, Charlie Wadejun? Are you also at Tomson Yipin?"

Charlie Wade replied: "I'm in Australia, Nanako Ito, there's something I need your help with, please keep it a secret for me."

Nanako responded immediately: "Just give your orders, Charlie Wadejun. I will never tell anyone, not even Odo-san."

Charlie Wade felt a little relieved, and said, "Thank you for sneaking into my house and taking a look at the current situation."

Nanako sent a nervous expression and asked, "Charlie Wadejun, is there something wrong at home?!"

Charlie Wade said: "My wife and my father-in-law and mother-in-law are missing. I would like to ask you to go to their house to help me see if they are there. If they are, please help me protect them secretly and don't let them find out. If they are not, please help me see if there is anything unusual in the house!"

"Okay! I'll be right there!"

Nanako didn't know what happened in Charlie Wade's family. She thought that Charlie Wade's enemies were targeting his family, so she quickly put down her chopsticks and said to her father, Ito Xiongyan, "Odo-san, enjoy your meal first. I'm going out to do something."

Ito Yuhiko pointed to the sashimi on the table and said, "Nanako, this is the best bluefin trout this year. If you don't eat it quickly after thawing, it will soon become stale!"

"It's okay, father." Nanako Ito stood up and said hurriedly: "Charlie Wadejun wants to see me for something, I have to go there immediately."

Ito Yuhiko suddenly realized and said quickly: “Since Mr. Wade wants to see you, then you should go over quickly.”

As soon as Nanako Ito went out, she rushed to the core villa area of Tomson Yipin, and arrived at charlie Wade’s door with ease.

In fact, since moving here, she often walks here alone, but usually she just looks inside and leaves quickly, pretending that she is just passing by normally.

When she arrived at the door of charlie Wade’s villa, she saw three cars parked in the yard, a Rolls-Royce Cullinan and two BMWs, one of which was the BMW 760 with the 5 Series tail logo.

Nanako Ito knew that the Rolls-Royce was usually driven by charlie Wade’s father-in-law, the BMW 7 Series was driven by Claire, and charlie Wade occasionally drove the other one. Now all three cars were at home, and it seemed that except for charlie Wade, the other family members should be at home.
