

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7698

Li Yalin's words made everyone, including charlie Wade, feel a chill in their hearts.

Stephen Thompson is bruce Wade's confidant. He has the ability, but it is impossible for him to have such ability.

charlie Wade couldn't help but recall the experience he had in Qingzhao Temple outside the Shiwan Mountains. It seemed that there really was a huge monster in the dark, just like himself, who was against the Poqing Society.

However, he really couldn't figure out where this huge creature came from.

But the only thing to be thankful for is that this organization is not an enemy.

But even if the other party was not an enemy, this act of forcibly interfering in his private life made charlie Wade very angry.

Li Yalin then said, "By the way, Master Wade, I suggest that we look for information about your wife and family in our underground network system to see if they have used public transportation."

charlie Wade sighed: "I don't think so. Stephen Thompson's plan is so thorough, he shouldn't take such things lightly."

Li Yalin said: "In criminal investigation, we sometimes come across clues that we know are impossible. However, according to professional regulations, we must conduct actual investigations and confirm that they are 100% impossible before giving up."

charlie Wade knew that police work was very rigorous and had strict execution standards. It was impossible to just make inferences based on common sense and deny a certain line, so he said, "Then you try it first."

Soon, the AI model returned the results. Li Yalin said, "The ground network system has indeed not captured Mrs. Wade and her family in the past two days. From this, we can be sure that they left Aurous Hill through a special means."

charlie Wade said in a hoarse voice in the group: "Inspector Li, I implore you to help me track down Stephen Thompson's whereabouts and find out the organization and the mastermind behind Stephen Thompson! During this period, all resources and personnel are at your disposal. I hope you won't refuse!"

Li Yalin quickly said, "Master Wade, you are too polite. You saved my life, so I have no choice but to do this!"

Then, he sent another message: "How about this, Master Wade? I'm leaving tonight and going to Australia first to see if I can find any clues. However, I suggest we arrange another team, starting from Aurous Hill, to track down the movements of your wife and her family of three. This clue should be easier to investigate than Stephen Thompson's."

charlie Wade said hurriedly: "Inspector Li, I have arranged for the He family and the Japanese Ito family's ninjas to assist in the investigation. They have certain strength and anti-reconnaissance awareness, and they should be able to track down the suspect faster than ordinary police. However, you will be in charge of all these people at that time. I will have the person in charge report the progress to you in real time and follow your instructions.”

“That’s great.” Li Yalin said, “Since Mrs. Wade didn’t take public transportation, let’s start by checking the surveillance cameras in your residential complex. If Mrs. Wade left on foot, have her check what kind of transportation she took and where she ended up. If she took another type of transportation, have her check where she ended up as well. Keep checking until the clues are broken!”

“Okay!” charlie Wade said, “I’ll tell them right away.”

Li Yalin said, “Please create a group. I will communicate with them directly to avoid you having to pass messages in between.”

“No problem!” charlie Wade said, “I’ll ask grandpa to arrange a private plane to take you to Australia when you’re ready.”

Affluent area of Houston, USA.

Li Yalin and his family had just enjoyed dinner in their new house, which they had purchased for an additional one million US dollars.

Daughter Li Bella's belly was already very big and her due date was approaching, so she felt overwhelmed after dinner and went back to her room to rest accompanied by her husband Sun Hui.

At this time, Li Yalin's wife Holly Chen was wearing an apron and cleaning the dishes.

Li Yalin had just finished a group chat with Charlie Wade and his two uncles in the yard, and immediately returned to the house and said to his wife: "Junmei, I need to go to Australia, leave immediately."

"Going to Australia? In such a hurry?" Holly Chen was surprised and said, "Bella's due date is coming soon. What's the big deal? You have to leave now. Don't let it affect your chance to have your grandchild."

It has been confirmed that the baby in Li Bella's belly is a boy, and the due date is soon.

Son-in-law Sun Hui had already happily accepted the An family's proposal and decided to let the child take the mother's surname Li.

From the traditional Chinese perspective, since the grandson has taken his maiden's surname, he is no longer a real grandson but a grandson.

The Li family had only one son until Li Yalin's generation. When it came to Li Bella, Li Yalin had originally prepared himself to be scolded by his father after he met him in the afterlife, but he did not expect that the An family would help him turn the situation around.

Whether it is a son or a grandson, they all inherit half of the family's bloodline. From this point of view, there is no difference. The real difference is the surname.

In China, a surname is not just a word, but the inheritance of the family.

Even if a daughter marries someone with the same surname, the Li surname of this family is completely different from the Li surname of that family.

The generation name of the Li family in this family might be "Yu Yan Tan Feng Lian, Cheng Zhen Tian Yin Han; Dai Yu Zhi Jun Shu, Mao Can Pei Ming Yuan."

Another Li family's generation name might be "Wei Zheng Bo is a virtuous and wise man, his achievements shine brightly; auspicious clouds herald beautiful scenery, and the bright moon celebrates the good country."

It may seem that the child has the same surname as his or her parents, but only the family whose family the child is written into the genealogy and whose generation name follows that family can be considered to be continuing the family's incense. If there is no one in the other family to continue the generation name for them, the generation name left by the ancestors will be broken.

The boy in Li Yalin's daughter's belly has been determined to take the surname Li, so he must inherit the generation name of Li Yalin's family and be written into the family tree of Li Yalin's family. From then on, the family tree can continue and branch out.

Therefore, Li Yalin had long regarded this boy as his own grandson.

Seeing that his daughter's due date was approaching, he naturally wanted to stay and wait for the good news, but now Charlie Wade was in trouble and needed his help, so he couldn't delay no matter what.

So, he said to his wife, "This time it's Uncle An's family's business, it's urgent, and they need my help. Think about it, our family is where we are today thanks to Uncle An and his family. Bella's due date is still three days away. If she goes into labor too late, we might have to wait another week. They're in such an urgent situation right now, how can I wait until Bella gives birth before I go?"

Holly Chen nodded in understanding and said, "But it's already past nine o'clock. How can you still get a flight to Australia?"

Li Yalin smiled and said, "If only the situation were urgent, the plane would be ready."

Holly Chen said nervously, "It's so urgent, there won't be any danger, right?"

"No," Li Yalin soothed him, "I'm just going to help Uncle An and the others investigate the whereabouts of someone. It's nothing serious, and there's no danger. Don't worry."

Holly Chen breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Then you must also pay attention to safety. Your return trip will take at least ten days or half a month. I guess by the time you return, your grandchildren will be home. We will wait for your safe return at home."

“Okay!” Li Yalin smiled and said, “If anything happens to my daughter, go to the hospital immediately. Remember to update me if you have any news!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7700

When Li Yalin flew to Australia, many Japanese ninjas also set out and immediately headed for China.

Thanks to China’s visa-free policy in recent years, hundreds of ninjas did not need to go through any prior procedures. They could directly take their passports from various airports and take the chartered flights provided by the Ito family to China.

Xion took the Elms family to start investigating without waiting for the ninjas to arrive.

She borrowed a few security personnel from the Banks family from her sister Zara banks, and had them hack into the surveillance system and road surveillance of Tomson Yipin, and immediately retrieved all the surveillance videos of the past two days.

When they analyzed the videos, they quickly found footage of Claire’s family leaving in a commercial vehicle.

However, what surprised Xion was that when the car passed by the surveillance camera, the car windows could not capture the interior at all.

The rear windows were originally covered with a very black privacy film, so you couldn’t see anything inside the car at all. However, the front windshield inexplicably became a mirror under the surveillance camera.

Xion didn’t care too much at first, but when she continued tracking through the surveillance and reached the highway, something strange happened.

The surveillance on the highway does not cover the entire area. The surveillance images are in sections, and each section is at least one kilometer apart. So in the previous surveillance image, the car that Claire was riding in was still captured very clearly in the image, but in the next surveillance image, seven identical cars appeared.

Xion was stunned. She blurted out, “What’s going on?! Where did these cars come from?!”

The Banks family’s technician explained, “Second Miss, these cars appeared suddenly. It seems they were already waiting on the road. However, they were not in the same frame before, and now they have all gathered together.”

Xion zoomed in on the image, carefully staring at each car, frowning and saying, “These cars look exactly the same. They don’t have license plates, and there’s nothing different about them. Now it’s impossible to tell which car Mrs. Ye is in...”

Then, in the next surveillance footage, the same cars continued to increase.

Continuing to track along the surveillance footage, the technician said in bewilderment, “Second Miss, the number of vehicles of the same make and model continues to increase. Furthermore, we’ve noticed in the surveillance footage that they’ve been constantly overtaking each other. It’s probably the same even when we can’t capture them. This means it’s basically impossible for us to pinpoint the target vehicle.”

Xion’s expression was solemn: “Not only did the other party come prepared, but their preparations were a bit too thorough...”

Another technician blurted out, “Second Miss, there are already cars exiting the highway from here. Should we continue tracking them as they exit the highway?”

Xion said, “We can’t tell which one is the target vehicle. If we have to track every car, we alone may not be enough.”

After saying that, Xion thought of a detail and asked quickly, “Quickly see which channel they took to exit the highway. Was it a manual channel or ETC?”

The technician pulled up the video footage from the toll booth and said, “Second Miss, it’s ETC.”
