

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7701-7710

Xion felt like he had grasped a clue and said, “Even if the car doesn’t have a license plate, you must leave your vehicle information when you apply for ETC. Let’s check the records in the ETC system!”

The technician was busy in front of the computer for a while, then said, “We found the second young lady. The license plate number is a Jinling local license plate, number ck196.”

Xion said excitedly: “Then quickly check the registration information of this CK196!”

The other party replied: “The owner’s name is Jacob, and the registered vehicle information is a Rolls-Royce Cullinan.”

“Jacob?” Xion frowned and said, “This...how is this possible? Xion naturally understood Jacob’s situation.

She knew that Jacob owned the most expensive Rolls-Royce Cullinan, so why would this commercial vehicle use his ETC?

So, Xion asked: “Can the current ETC be removed without damage? I remember that it couldn’t be used after it was removed and had to be reactivated.”

A staff member said: “ETC is much more flexible now. You don’t need to go to a designated location for installation. If you buy it online, it will be mailed directly to your home, and they can also activate it for you. In the past, ETC had an elastic switch that was activated after sticking it to the glass. After removing it from the glass, the elastic switch would be disabled when it was opened. But now if you buy it online, the seller can directly stick the elastic switch with a hard object. This way, you don’t need to stick it to the glass and you can put it anywhere.”

Xion said with some surprise: “So, Jacob brought the ETC from the Cullinan into this car.”

After that, she immediately ordered: “Keep an eye on this car. I want to know where it has been and where it ended up!”

“Okay, Second Miss.”

Xion thought she had found a clue right away, but unexpectedly, another staff member said, “Second Miss, I also saw a car exiting the highway. It also took the ETC lane. I checked the system, and its ETC information is also CK196.”

“What’s going on?” Xion suddenly felt something was wrong and asked quickly, “Did they copy Jacob’s ETC?”

The technician said: “ETC’s logic is like an encryption key. It’s difficult for ordinary people to crack it, but it’s very easy for professionals to crack it. However, cracking it is of little value. In theory, as long as all the electronic tags of a certain car can be deciphered, they can be copied.”

Xion’s initial surge of joy vanished in an instant. She sighed and said, “So it seems these identical cars are using identical ETC tags. This means that none of them can escape suspicion.”

The technician said solemnly, “Second Miss, the number of similar cars is still increasing. There are at least more than 30 of them now.”

Xion couldn’t think of a solution, so she quickly sent the situation to charlie Wade.

When charlie Wade saw the surveillance footage, he was also stunned.

He didn’t expect that Stephen Thompson would go to such great lengths to move Claire’s family of three. It seemed that he really didn’t want him to find Claire!

In a hurry, charlie Wade quickly pulled Xion into the group chat, and forwarded all the videos sent by Xion to the group.

Li Yalin was on a plane, and since it was the An family’s private jet, it had high-speed internet access. After watching the videos, he immediately replied, “Young Master Wade, I’ve been in this business for so many years, and I’ve never seen such a large-scale operation. This is also incredibly clever. All the cars are identical, which means our workload has increased dozens of times. This isn’t good!”

charlie Wade asked him: “Inspector Li, do you have any good ideas to speed up the identification?”

Li Yalin pondered for a long time, then suddenly had an idea. He said, “I’ll send these videos to the AI model and see if it can analyze any problems!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7702

Li Yalin rarely encounters such a difficult case.

In the past, I encountered difficult cases because there were too few clues, such as incomplete fingerprints and shoe prints, blurry surveillance, etc., but this time it was different. This time there were too many clues, so many that it made my scalp numb.

The surveillance video shows that dozens of identical cars entered the highway one after another, and then chose to fork in the road or exit the highway in different directions.

The most shocking thing is that they all used the ETC system of the same car.

This means that they also hacked into the highway toll system.

He now has too many directions to investigate, such as the driving routes of each vehicle on that day and the origins of these vehicles. He can investigate who bought so many identical commercial vehicles, which vehicle management office recently took over the registration of vehicles of the same model, and whether the hackers have left any traceable traces in the ETC system.

However, when there are too many clues, there is not much difference from having no clues.

Every clue can be investigated, but no one knows whether the investigation will lead to a dead end or into another mystery of the other party.

What if the vehicle owner is found and the vehicle owner information is traced, but it turns out that the other party's information is forged?

What if we find traces of the hacker, but the information left by the hacker is also a deliberate trap?

Therefore, Li Yalin did not want to think divergently at this time. What he hoped most was that AI could locate the vehicle where Claire was actually located through extremely subtle anomalies that were so subtle that they were imperceptible to humans.

Everything would be much simpler if you could pick out the only one from dozens of cars.

So, he input all the video data into the AI model and let the AI model analyze the differences between these vehicles on its own.

AI immediately analyzed the vehicles from multiple dimensions and found that there was no difference in the appearance of the vehicles, and even different stains could not be found, which proved that they had thoroughly cleaned the vehicles before departure.

If necessary, AI can make judgments based on the suspension posture of the vehicle while it is driving. For example, AI can use video to determine the undulations of the road surface, make an estimated calculation of the slope of the undulations, and then, based on the speed of the vehicle, determine the undulation state of the suspension when the vehicle passes through a certain degree of undulations.

Whether it is ordinary spring suspension, air or electromagnetic suspension, when the vehicle is driving on a bumpy road, the body of the vehicle will compress or release the suspension with the ups and downs.

The major factors that determine the amplitude of the undulation are the slope of the road, the speed of the vehicle, the tuning of the vehicle suspension and the curb weight of the vehicle.

If there is a difference in any of these four points, the performance of the vehicle suspension will be different.

The point of AI's entry is that since they are all the same type of cars, their suspensions must be the same. The road slope and driving speed can be calculated through AI to determine whether the same car will show the same reaction coefficient when passing different slopes at different speeds.

The only variable that cannot be calculated is the curb weight of the vehicle.

The heavier the car, the less it will fluctuate when dealing with ups and downs, and vice versa, just like a fully loaded ship will be more stable when dealing with waves.

The AI listed a lot of its own entry points, which made Li Yalin feel very reasonable, so he immediately authorized the AI to conduct analysis along this line of thought.

However, after the AI ran at full speed for dozens of seconds, the feedback concluded: “I calculated the road slope, vehicle speed, and body undulation in the video to obtain a reaction coefficient. After comparison, I found that the reaction coefficients of all vehicles were the same, which is not reasonable.”

Li Yalin immediately asked, “What do you mean by unconventional?”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7703

The AI replied: “If the reaction coefficients calculated using these three points are the same for all vehicles, it only proves that the curb weights of all vehicles are similar. If the weights of their vehicles vary greatly, the reaction coefficients of each vehicle should be different. Lighter vehicles have higher reaction coefficients, and heavier vehicles have lower reaction coefficients.”

Li Yalin was surprised and said, “How can dozens of cars have the same weight? Even if other vehicles rush over, the fuel consumption will be different because the distance they travel is different. If there is a difference in fuel consumption, there will also be a difference in weight!”

The AI replied: “Because the video is not accurate enough, my analysis of the suspension height has an error of at least one centimeter, and the weight difference should be within the analysis error.”

“In other words, if my accuracy can be as high as two decimal places, then their error is only three decimal places, which is beyond my judgment range. Through overall calculation, if their weight difference does not exceed five kilograms, I will not be able to analyze the difference.”

Li Yalin almost cursed on the spot.

Although it is not clear which car Claire was riding in, it is certain that there were at least four people in that car, including the driver.

The weight of dozens of other cars is the same as this one, which proves that, first of all, Claire’s car has its own weighing function, which can calculate the curb weight of the entire car as soon as their family gets in the car.

Secondly, it proved that the reaction speed of other vehicles was extremely fast. Only half an hour later, they met up with Claire's car on the highway one after another. This proved that they completed the adjustment of their own weight in a very short time and could even calculate the approximate fuel consumption.

The empty weight of the vehicle is around two tons. To carry four adults, it will at least increase by nearly three hundred kilograms. For a 2,300-kilogram vehicle, the weight difference can be controlled within five kilograms, which is very precise.

Li Yalin asked the AI: "Based on the current data, is there any way you can find the difference between these vehicles?"

The AI responded, "The current video footage is all surveillance footage, which has limited accuracy. We need more accurate data for analysis."

Then, the AI said, "If it were May to October, it would be much easier for me to analyze this matter, but unfortunately the time is wrong."

Li Yalin was surprised and asked, "Why is the time wrong? What's so special about May to October?"

The AI replied, "From May to October, mosquitoes are more plentiful. Every car traveling at high speeds will collide with a large number of them. Even though there are many mosquitoes, just like fingerprints and QR codes, if you compare them, it's impossible for two cars to collide with identical insect carcasses. That would make it easy to locate each other. However, mosquitoes haven't started their new breeding season yet, so there aren't many details to distinguish them."

Li Yalin sighed. He couldn't understand who could be so cautious, so cautious that he even controlled the weight of the car so precisely.

Normally, no one would consider this aspect, and even if they did, they would not do it so precisely, unless the person knew what he was facing and was prepared in advance.

Thinking of this, Li Yalin suddenly felt a chill on his back, and thought to himself: "Could it be that this person knows that Charlie Wade has an AI model?"

Then he immediately confirmed his guess.

"It must be!"

So, he immediately called Charlie Wade, analyzed the situation to him in a serious tone, and then stated his conclusion: "Master Wade, no matter who that person is, he is very clear about your strength. He knows that you have an AI model and even knows that you will ask me to help investigate. Therefore, they planned it foolproof from the beginning to prevent any problems from being analyzed by AI.

"With such strong control ability, he can accurately command so many people without any mistakes. He can definitely be said to be able to plan and win from thousands of miles away!"

Charlie Wade was also shocked when he heard this and muttered, "Even when we were evacuating the assassins, our thinking didn't rise to such a meticulous level, and our control over details was far from this precise... Who on earth would be so perverted and picky about details?"

Li Yalin sighed, "Master Wade, I've lived for over fifty years, and I've only met two people with this ability."

Charlie Wade asked hurriedly: "Who are those two?"

Li Yalin said: "One is your father, and the other is your mother."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7704

Li Yalin's sigh did not make Charlie Wade think too much about this aspect, but he felt a huge pressure in an instant.

In Li Yalin's eyes, the other party already has the ability to rival his parents. The first thing he thought of was that since the other party is so powerful, can he still find Claire?

In fact, Li Yalin himself didn't think much about it.

He just couldn't help but sigh that among people like him, he only knew charlie Wade's father and mother, but he had never thought that either of charlie Wade's father or mother was still alive.

charlie Wade couldn't help but sigh: "Inspector Li, the other party has set up so many smokescreens and left so many true and false clues. How should we investigate next?"

Li Yalin was silent for a moment, then asked him, "Master Wade, do you really have to find Mrs. Wade?"

charlie Wade blurted out: "Of course, no matter what, I must find her!"

Li Yalin smiled and said, "Then you don't have to worry too much. I will do my best to help you sort out the clues bit by bit until you find Mrs. Wade!"

Hearing this, charlie Wade felt a lot more relieved.

Knowing Li Yalin's character and his abilities, he could at least feel half relieved when he said this.

Houston and Melbourne are nearly 15,000 kilometers apart.

Anjia's plane needs to land and refuel on the way, so it will take at least seventeen or eighteen hours to arrive.

charlie Wade himself didn't know how to investigate the case, and since Li Yalin didn't come, he could only clumsily start with the surveillance video, trying to check Stephen Thompson's movements.

But Stephen Thompson was much more cautious than charlie Wade had imagined. First of all, all the surveillance videos in the hospital were out of service. According to the hospital, the reason for the outage was that the computers in the computer room were infected with a virus, and the hard drives of all the surveillance videos were damaged, making it almost impossible to recover the data.

Secondly, the surveillance videos around the hospital were targeted and destroyed before the incident.

Someone used an air gun to shoot lead bullets, shattering the camera lens or interrupting the camera's transmission line.

This lead bullet is ignited by compressed gas and contains no gunpowder, making very little sound when fired.

Although its power is not as great as a real gun, it has almost no recoil. If it is paired with a high-precision air gun and sights, it can hit targets two to three hundred meters away with extremely high accuracy.

This type of gun is legal in many countries and its quantity far exceeds that of real guns. Many farmers use this type of gun to hunt mice and wild wolves. From one or two hundred meters away, it is easy to shoot through a mouse's skull with one shot, and breaking a lens or cable is naturally no problem.

Moreover, the coverage and angle of the camera itself are often not large enough, so as long as the vandal grasps the position and distance, the side hit will hardly be captured.

Melbourne's surveillance coverage is much lower than that of major Chinese cities, and there is no cross-surveillance in many places. Therefore, as long as the surveillance at this location is knocked out, this area will become a surveillance blind spot.

Because of this, the police could not find any witnesses or any useful clues.

Just when Charlie Wade was at a loss, Stephen Thompson had already taken off from Port Hedland Airport and headed for Osaka, Japan.

Just like when he entered Australia, this time he still entered the airport through abnormal channels arranged by Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) and left directly on a special cargo plane.

This way of leaving the country allowed Stephen Thompson to almost completely hide his whereabouts. It was impossible to find him by simply tracing his clues. Unless one could find the key person and ask for clues from him, one would be in the dark.

Meanwhile, at the Golden Pavilion in Kyoto.

This temple, which is very famous in Japan, is now completely closed.

Normally, Kinkakuji Temple is renovated once every one or two years, but most of the time the renovation work is not very large. It is nothing more than repainting and applying some gold foil, and some repairs, which can be completed in a few nights.

However, this time, Kinkakuji Temple announced that several buildings had become dangerous due to their age, so they needed to undergo large-scale renovations and would be closed for at least one and a half months.

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) settled here at this time.

Jing Qing had arrived secretly a few days earlier than her and had already communicated with his disciple, the abbot of Kinkakuji Temple.

The abbot of Kinkakuji Temple is named Kongyin, a 125-year-old enlightened monk. Although he is in his twilight years, his pursuit of Buddhism has not diminished in the slightest. His disciples once showed him a video of Master Jingqing's lectures, and Kongyin was extremely shocked by Master Jingqing's profound understanding of Buddhism.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7705

Kongyin believed that after being a monk for 110 years, his understanding of Buddhism was still less than 60% to 70% of Jingqing's, so he resolutely decided to take Jingqing as his teacher and let him be his final guide.

Last year, Kongyin went to Putuo Mountain in person, nominally for a Buddhist exchange between Chinese and Japanese monks, but in reality, he took this opportunity to meet Jingqing and ask to become his disciple in person.

Jing Qing was originally unwilling to accept, but Kong Yin was extremely obsessed with the Buddhist teachings he analyzed. Not only did he kneel down and beg in front of Jing Qing, he even solemnly asked Jing Qing to be his disciple in front of the media from China and Japan.

Kongyin did this not to commit moral kidnapping. He was originally a leading figure in the Japanese Buddhist community. If he really became a disciple of the young Jingqing in public, it would be tantamount to lowering the status of the entire Japanese Buddhist community. However, he still did not care, because he firmly believed in a Chinese saying, which is that if you hear the truth in the morning, you can die in the evening.

He hopes that in his final years, he will have the opportunity to comprehend the most profound Buddhist teachings available today.

After all, the Buddhist scriptures written thousands of years ago are not something that everyone can understand. The more in-depth the study, the deeper the comprehension. The Buddhist teachings are like spiritual practice. Even if you are only one level deeper than others, there is still a world of difference.

Jing Qing was afraid that Kong Yin would really do this and make too much noise to attract unnecessary attention, so he reluctantly made a private agreement to accept Kong Yin as an anonymous disciple and teach him Buddhism, but he was not allowed to reveal the master-disciple relationship to anyone.

Kongyin has been studying Buddhism for 110 years and is extremely devout to the Dharma. Since Jingqing agreed to teach him the Dharma, he will fully comply with all other requirements. Therefore, no one in the outside world knows that the two people, who are several decades apart in age, actually have a master-disciple relationship.

A few days ago, when he learned that Jingqing wanted to come to Kinkakuji Temple to practice seclusion for a period of time, he immediately arranged for the Kinkakuji Temple to be rebuilt and left one of its most secret courtyards to Jingqing. Not only did he not visit him, but he also strictly prohibited other people in the temple from approaching.

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) and Sister Sun and their group stayed here temporarily.

At this time, Jing Qing was communicating Buddhist teachings with Kong Yin in his meditation room. Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) was alone in the courtyard, staring at the ancient pine trees with newly sprouted buds in a trance.

Sister Sun walked across the courtyard corridor and quickly came up to her. She whispered respectfully, "Madam, Sihai has taken off and is expected to arrive in Osaka in eight hours. I have arranged for someone to pick him up and bring him to Kyoto as soon as possible."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) nodded and asked her, "What's going on over there, Chen'er?"

Sister Sun said: "We have arranged for a number of people to investigate in China, and the Ito family has also sent a number of ninjas to help."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) said calmly, "It doesn't matter. Let them investigate. No matter how they investigate, the clues will be disconnected at several key points. With so many circuit breakers, it's impossible for them all to fail."

Sister Sun added, "But I just heard that Inspector Li has left for Melbourne from Houston."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) frowned slightly and blurted out, "Inspector Li? Li Yalin?"

"Yes!" Sister Sun nodded. "Young Master saved his life. I think now is the time for him to repay his kindness."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) pursed his lips for a moment, then said solemnly, "Ya Lin is a problem. To him, given enough time, any case can be solved. Investigating us shouldn't be a difficult task. With his abilities, a year or two will be enough."

Sister Sun said worriedly, "One or two years is too short a time window. The possibility of Young Master surpassing the Poqing Society in one or two years is very slim..."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) smiled and said, "That's fine. Yalin is a smart man. If he really has any clues about our situation, I'll go meet him. He'll definitely give me face."

At this point, her expression froze, and she said solemnly, "No matter what, the most important thing is not to delay Chen'er's development. Wu Feiyan's time is running out. She will only become more and more crazy and hysterical in the future. Chen'er must be fully prepared. Otherwise, once Wu Feiyan makes a desperate move, both the An and Ye families will become her targets!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7706

When the plane Li Yalin was on was about to land in Melbourne, the cargo ship Claire was on had already sailed out of the Yellow Sea and entered the East China Sea.

After nearly twenty-four hours on board, Claire had hardly any rest, and kept thinking about every detail of his and Charlie Wade's years together.

Elaine and Jacob had been in a coma and had just shown signs of waking up.

Sun Simi came to Claire's door, knocked gently, and said respectfully: "Mr. Willson, your parents are about to wake up."

Claire came back to his senses, wiped away the tears that were almost dried up in the corners of his eyes, hurriedly opened the door, and asked her: "Can I go see them?"

"Of course." Sun Simi said, "They may have a lot of questions after they wake up, and I'll have to trouble you to answer them later."

Claire nodded and said, "Of course, I will explain it to them all."

Sun Simi said respectfully, “Mr. willson, please follow me.”

In the medical room, Claire saw his parents who were still in a coma.

In the past 24 hours, Claire came several times. Every time she saw her parents sleeping soundly through the window and the vital signs displayed by the machine were normal, she felt a little relieved.

This time, Sun Simi took her directly into the medical room and allowed her to sit directly in the middle of Jacob and Elaine’s beds.

It was then that Claire discovered that although his parents had not woken up yet, they had begun to turn over and scratch, and it seemed that they had left their deep sleep.

When Elaine’s consciousness gradually returned, she felt that she had never slept so soundly in her life. She felt so comfortable as if every cell in her body was completely relaxed. It was as comfortable as it could be.

She couldn’t help but stretch, and when she opened her eyes, she vaguely found a figure sitting beside her bed.

She was startled and opened her eyes to look carefully, only to find that it was her daughter Claire.

At this moment, Claire's eyes were red and slightly swollen. It was obvious that she had been crying, so she quickly asked, "Claire, what's wrong with you? Why are you crying?"

After saying that, he suddenly found that his finger was still connected to the blood oxygen monitor and there was a blood pressure monitor on his arm. He was shocked. In panic, he saw Jacob lying quietly next to him. This was not a bedroom. It seemed that both of them were lying on the hospital bed.

Elaine asked nervously: "Claire...what happened to me? Why am I in the hospital?! Did we have a car accident?!"

Claire quickly wiped away her tears and said with a forced smile: "Mom, we didn't have a car accident, it's just that you and Dad slept for too long, so the cruise ship staff arranged special supervision for you."

Elaine finally breathed a sigh of relief. Jacob, who was standing beside her, also woke up at this time and was also shocked by the scene before him.

Elaine was much calmer and said to him, "Look, this luxury cruise ship is different. This ward is no different from the high-end wards in those high-end private hospitals, right?"

After she finished speaking, she suddenly thought of something and quickly asked Claire: "Claire, this...this place must charge a lot, right? I saw what they said, those private hospitals charge five figures for a night's stay!"

Claire could only smile and said, "This...is free."

Elaine's nervousness instantly disappeared, and she said with a smile: "No money, that's great."

Claire was a little dazed at this time. She thought about explaining the whole story to her parents after they woke up. She also thought of many ways to talk in her mind, but she always felt that no matter what she said, she had no idea where to start.

At this time, Jacob suddenly asked: "Claire, why don't I have any recollection of getting on the boat? Did we fall asleep right after we left home? Weren't we awake when we got on the boat?"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7707

Claire stammered, "Yes... I saw you were sleeping so soundly, so I didn't disturb you."

Jacob said in surprise: "This is too strange. We didn't even wake up when there was such a big commotion boarding the ship?"

After saying that, he asked again: "By the way, Claire, how long have we been on the boat?"

Claire replied unnaturally: "About twenty-four hours."

“F*ck.” Jacob rubbed his temples and said in disbelief, “He fell asleep as soon as he got on the bus, and slept until he got on the boat. It’s okay to sleep until he got on the boat, but he slept for 24 hours on the boat. I’ve never slept for such a long time in my life. Could there be something wrong with my body...”

As he spoke, he subconsciously reached for his phone, muttering, “I need to ask my friend at the hospital if this situation is amiss. If not, I’ll go to the hospital for a thorough checkup when I get back.”

Jacob feels that now is the best time of his life. People have become particularly cherishing their lives and attach more importance to their health than ever before.

As he was talking, he couldn’t find his phone anywhere, so he asked Claire: “Claire, have you seen my phone? Could it be lost?”

When Elaine heard this, she also started looking around, but she also didn’t find her phone. She blurted out, “My phone is missing too. Could it be that the staff stole it for me?”

Seeing that both of them were a little anxious, Claire could only bite the bullet and say, “Dad, Mom, your phones have been temporarily confiscated.”

“Confiscated?” Elaine got anxious when she heard it, and said angrily: “How fresh, they didn’t confiscate my phone even though I was on a cruise ship, what do they think he is? Don’t you know that the customer is God?”

Claire explained bit by bit: “Dad, Mom, we...we are not taking a cruise this time...”

“It’s not a cruise ship?” Jacob said puzzledly: “Claire, you’ve confused Dad. Didn’t you say you were going to Tahiti on a cruise ship? If it’s not a cruise ship, what is it?”

Claire said, “We are on a cargo ship this time. The cargo ship is indeed taking us to Tahiti, but we are not going to Tahiti, but to one of the islands there.”

Elaine said impatiently: “No matter which island he goes to, it is always inappropriate to take our mobile phones, right? Where is such a service provider?”

Claire pursed her lips and looked at the two of them. One hand was nervously picking at the nails of the other hand, and she whispered, “Dad, Mom, we won’t go back after we come out this time.”

“Not going back?” The couple was even more confused.

Elaine got up from the bed and asked anxiously: “Claire, what’s wrong with you? Why are you talking so vaguely and confusingly today? If you weren’t my daughter, I would have thought you had kidnapped us.

Claire made up his mind and said frankly, “Dad, Mom, we’re going to the South Pacific this time and we won’t be returning to Jinling, or even to China. You can no longer have any contact with your relatives and friends in China. In other words, we’re going to disappear from the Chinese world so that no one can find us.”

“Why?” Elaine was anxious and blurted out: “We haven’t committed any crime or violated any law, so why should we disappear from the face of the earth?”

After she finished speaking, her eyes suddenly widened: “Oh Claire! Did Charlie Wade get into trouble while doing Feng Shui for someone outside? Could it be... Could it be that he offended some important person?”

Claire was a little surprised. She didn’t expect that her mother would think about this.

Jacob, who was standing aside, also seemed to be influenced by Elaine and immediately said, “Oh! I’ve said it before, Charlie Wade is not that kind of material. When he first married into our family, he couldn’t even cook a delicious meal. Suddenly one day he became a Feng Shui master. I asked him where he learned it from, and he was vague, saying that he learned it from TV or from a book he bought at a street stall. This... How can this be looked upon as good as it is! Isn’t it just relying on eloquence to cheat people out of money? If you cheat a little, you may get away with it, but if you cheat a lot, you will be exposed sooner or later!”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7708

Elaine also sighed worriedly: “Yes! The key is that he can cheat money, so let him cheat money. His appetite is surprisingly big. You said that the Wang family gave him a villa worth more than 100 million yuan, and he really dared to take it? Every time he reads Feng Shui for someone, he charges millions or even tens of millions. If he can’t see any effect on people, it’s still a small matter. What if he makes things worse and makes people’s Feng Shui worse, then the business will be damaged and the family will be destroyed. Will people fight him to the death?”

At this point, Elaine became even more excited, clapping her hands and sighing, “And that Hong Wu, he’s a social figure who’s been fighting and killing all his life. How can he be a good person? Even though he praises Charlie Wade every day, isn’t Charlie Wade still of some use?”

“He asks Charlie Wade to do Feng Shui for his friends every day. In my opinion, he is just taking the difference and treating Charlie Wade like a beast of burden!”

“Take the last time I went to the west to do feng shui for a mine owner. Maybe when charlie Wade went there, Hong Wu would ask him for 10 or 20 million, and then give charlie Wade a few million to get rid of him. Even though charlie Wade only took a small portion, if something went wrong, he would be 100% responsible. If something went wrong at the mine, charlie Wade would definitely be held accountable!”

Jacob

Elaine was getting more and more excited as she spoke. She said to Jacob, “Look, my daughter’s eyes are red and swollen. I don’t know how many times she cried when we fell asleep. It must be what I said!”

After that, she looked at Claire and asked nervously: “Claire, tell me the truth, did charlie Wade really explode?”

Claire originally wanted to confess charlie Wade’s identity and the current situation charlie Wade was facing to his parents.

But she was also worried. Her mother was obsessed with money and her father was power-hungry. If they knew charlie Wade’s true identity, whether he was the young master of the wade family or the grandson of the An family, how could they bear to leave this wealthy son-in-law?

Even if I tell them that charlie Wade is facing the murderer of his father, they won’t care at all given their personalities.

After all, danger is only potential, while money and power are real.

If my parents are not willing to accept my decision to leave charlie Wade, I am afraid they will try every possible way to contact charlie Wade and try to get him to reconcile with them.

But what if they felt that charlie Wade had really gone bankrupt?

In that case, given their personalities, they would probably avoid charlie Wade.

Not to mention that they would secretly take the initiative to look for charlie Wade, even if charlie Wade found them, they would probably retreat.

Thinking of this, she instantly changed her mind and said, “Mom, you are right...”

Happy National Day to everyone! Claire’s words gave Elaine a new understanding of her own IQ and judgment.

She immediately looked like she knew it, and sighed, “In fact, I’ve always felt that charlie Wade is not a good person. He does feng shui readings for people every day and accepts large sums of money from them. How can he not get into trouble?”

Jacob also echoed with emotion: “Hey! I should have thought of it earlier! I should have thought of it earlier! So many so-called masters who were famous throughout the country and could call the wind and rain, didn’t they all end up being exposed in the end? Some were imprisoned, some even lost their lives, and some were retaliated by others!”

After that, he asked Claire: “Claire, tell me quickly, what’s going on with charlie Wade?”

Claire looked at his parents, who seemed to see through everything, and sighed helplessly, then said, “Dad, Mom, charlie Wade did offend someone. It was the trouble caused by Feng Shui, and it was quite a big trouble. It seems that someone was killed. People are now looking for him to settle accounts. He didn’t want to implicate us, so he arranged for us to hide in the South Pacific, and he went to other countries to hide.”

“The reason I put your phones away is because I’m afraid you won’t be able to resist contacting others. If charlie Wade’s enemies find out, we’ll be in trouble. They can’t find charlie Wade, but they can find us. If they really come after us, it might be fatal.”

Jacob asked nervously: “Then charlie Wade arranged for us to go to the South Pacific, will he come here in the future?”

Claire said, “charlie Wade said that he won’t come to us until the problem is resolved. He also told us not to look for him, let alone go back, or contact our old friends and relatives. We should just live a down-to-earth life in the South Pacific under an assumed name.”

Elaine asked nervously: “We didn’t take anything with us when we left! How are we going to live in the South Pacific? It doesn’t matter if we don’t have money, don’t we have to go out and beg for food?”

Claire said, “Don’t worry, Mom. charlie Wade has made all the arrangements. He has already quietly sold the villa in Tomson Yipin. He has also negotiated with the buyer to wait until the Dragon Rising Day on February 2nd before taking possession of the house. He just didn’t tell you.”

“And the car that Dad drove has also been sold. It just so happens that the value of our villa has increased a lot now. It is now worth more than 30 million US dollars. Add the car and the money charlie Wade has earned from reading feng shui for people recently, and it is almost 70 to 80 million US dollars.”

“So much money!” Elaine immediately asked nervously: “Where did all the money go? Could it be that he took it all away?”

Claire said, “charlie Wade took this money and bought us an island in the South Pacific. He also hired some bodyguards and servants so that we can live there peacefully. Prices are low there. Even if this thing doesn’t work out, we can still have no worries about food and clothing in this life.”

Elaine’s expression changed immediately, and she asked in surprise: “charlie Wade bought us an island?! In other words, the entire island is ours?”

“Yes.” Claire nodded and said, “charlie Wade has arranged everything. We just need to go there and live well. He can ensure that we have enough food and clothing. But you must remember that you must never let anyone know where our family of three is. Otherwise, everything will be taken away.”

Elaine breathed a sigh of relief and said, “Okay, okay, don’t worry, even if they are my biological parents, I will never contact them!”

After saying that, he reminded Jacob: “Remember this too! Don’t tell anyone! No matter what, you can’t reveal our family’s whereabouts to anyone!”

Jacob nodded repeatedly: “Such a big thing, I can’t tell you even if you kill me!”

After saying that, he suddenly felt a little emotional and said, “charlie Wade is quite affectionate and righteous! He cheated all this money and left it to us.”

Elaine nodded and sighed: “It can be considered that our family has not supported him in vain over the years.”

Jacob felt a little melancholy when he thought that he might not see charlie Wade again in the future. He sighed and said, “To be honest, charlie Wade is a good guy. It’s just that he has become a little arrogant after being praised as Master Ye in the past two years. If he can keep his feet on the ground like before, his life will definitely be more prosperous.”

Elaine thought back to the past, and suddenly had some new insights, and said depressedly: “Hey, you said this, there is something I have never told you two...”

Jacob asked: “What’s the matter?”

Elaine said a little embarrassedly: “Hey, a few years ago, I found a bank card in charlie Wade’s pocket. At that time, I had a big fight with your mother, that damn old lady. I was very short of money, so I thought about seeing if there was any money in charlie Wade's card, so that I could get some money to go to the beauty salon for a facial or something. I was so unlucky that I actually tried to find out the password of that bank card..."

Jacob was puzzled: "You are an interesting person. You can even guess the password of charlie Wade's bank card. Why do you still say that you have bad luck?"

Elaine felt a sharp pain in the old injury on her leg, and gritted her teeth and said, "You can't even imagine in your dreams that there are tens of billions in that card!"

"How much...how much?!"

Jacob was completely stunned.

He complained: "Elaine, you are not talking in your sleep, are you? Do you know what tens of billions mean? You can buy a bunch of planes with that much money! Even if charlie Wade is doing feng shui for the Jade Emperor, he can't give him so much money!"

Elaine thought Jacob didn't believe him, and immediately said angrily: "This is the pain of my life, how can I lie to you?"

Jacob smiled: “Come on, tell me more about it. How did charlie Wade’s bank card become the pain of your life?”

Elaine lowered her head, hesitated and struggled for a moment, then told the whole story of how she secretly transferred the money and was later taken away by the police.

Jacob was stunned when he heard this and said, “I always thought you were deceived by a pyramid scheme organization and that the police arrested you because they were cracking down on pyramid schemes. I never thought... I never thought there was such a hidden secret!”

At this point, Jacob slapped his thigh and sighed sincerely: “Elaine, Elaine, you are so brave! If I saw 10 billion, my legs would be so scared that they would go limp. You actually dared to transfer it all to your own card!”

“Don’t even mention that the 10 billion belongs to a fraud organization. Even if it really belongs to charlie Wade, do you really think that the money is yours just by transferring it to your card? If charlie Wade calls the police, wouldn’t you be shot seven or eight hundred times for the amount of money involved?”

Elaine’s face was a little embarrassed, so she said: “I was mainly confused at the time. You know, our family was always targeted by that damn old lady because Claire didn’t want to divorce charlie Wade. Christopher’s family also opposed us in every way. We were so poor that we could hardly make ends meet. When I saw so much money, I couldn’t help it. I always felt that I would never have to suffer poverty again, so I transferred it all to my own card. I didn’t expect that it was a new method of the fraud group...”

As she spoke, she asked carefully: “Do you think charlie Wade is involved in that fraud group? The police said he was also a victim, but now it seems that charlie Wade is not so honest. He has been reading Feng Shui for people recently. It seems that he is also a scammer...”

Claire’s face was burning. Her mother had stolen 10 billion from charlie Wade, but she still didn’t reflect on it. She even suspected that charlie Wade was involved in a fraud group. This really made her feel ashamed.

So she interrupted Elaine’s speculation and said, “Mom, don’t think about it here. Our good life in the past few years is almost all thanks to charlie Wade, and the road ahead is also paved for us by charlie Wade. Even if you don’t feel grateful, don’t think badly of him.”

Elaine nodded and said, “Okay, okay, I won’t say much.”

After that, she asked with concern: “Claire, did charlie Wade give you any information about that island? Let me take a look first?”

Claire shook his head and said, “I don’t have much information. Time is too short, so I don’t have time to prepare so much. But don’t worry, there is everything there, and the conditions are definitely not worse than Jinling.”

Jacob said with a smile: “Oh, I didn’t stay in the Maldives enough last time. It would be a fairy-like life to have an island of my own. I’m really looking forward to it now!”

Claire said, “This journey will take quite a long time. In order to prevent our enemies from finding any clues, charlie Wade has arranged for someone to escort us away. He will also take us to change boats. You should rest well and recharge your energy first. I will go and say hello to them.”

Changing strategy temporarily, Claire hoped that the staff arranged by Stephen Thompson could cooperate with him and make his parents completely believe that charlie Wade arranged for their family to avoid being hunted down after the incident. In this way, he could ensure that his parents would never take the initiative to think about returning to China or finding ways to contact charlie Wade.
