

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7757

The unimaginable hardware foundation made Jacob very happy, but he couldn't help but worry about Charlie Wade.

He was not a man who had never seen the world, so in his opinion, the island in front of him and its related supporting facilities were no longer a problem that could be solved with tens of millions of dollars. It would cost at least hundreds of millions of dollars, or at least 700 million RMB.

Elaine was also shocked. Thinking of Charlie Wade, she couldn't help but say with some concern: "Chang Kun, how much is the penalty for fraud?"

"I don't know either. Let me check." Jacob said, reaching out to touch his cell phone. After searching his pockets, he still couldn't find the phone. Then he realized that his cell phone was gone long ago.

Claire, who was standing by, hadn't expected the hiding place Tang Sihai had prepared for him and his family to be so extravagant, so he could only say to his family, "Mom and Dad, stop guessing. Charlie Wade invested his money in Bitcoin some time ago and made quite a profit. I also heard him say that the original owner of this island had financial problems, so they sold it at a low price. As you know, the global real estate market is not very prosperous right now, and the prices of these small islands in the South Pacific have plummeted. It's just like our small-property vacation villas in the suburbs. They were very popular in the early years, but now no one is interested in them."

Hearing this, Jacob suddenly understood and said, "My daughter, now that you say that, I understand. This kind of purely vacation-themed house is really worthless. A few years ago, when vacation villas were the hottest, Old Pei bought an American-style villa with small property rights in the mountains in the suburbs, sixty or seventy kilometers away from the city. At that time, I thought it would be very comfortable to drive to the mountains occasionally for a weekend, but after a year, I couldn't do it anymore. There used to be some commercial facilities there, but later, because fewer people went there, the facilities gradually disappeared. When I got there, I couldn't even find a small store, no place to eat, let alone takeout. Now I can't sell the house even at a 70% discount."

After saying this, he looked around at the stunning scenery and sighed, "You mentioned this place? It's thousands of kilometers away from the nearest continent. Who has the time to travel here? It would be a disaster."

Elaine didn't quite understand, so she nodded and asked a soul-searching question: "What do you think, if charlie Wade is arrested, the country will not confiscate his assets, right?"

Jacob waved his hand: "Don't worry, where the hell are we? We're in the South Pacific! As long as charlie Wade isn't caught and doesn't sell us out, we'll live here peacefully!"

While Elaine was relieved, she quickly said to Claire: "Claire, you have to find a way to contact charlie Wade and let him find a chance to run out! The conditions here are so good, at worst, our family of four will just live here and not go back."

Claire could only explain: "Mom, charlie Wade still has his own things to do. If he runs over now, he will have no chance to go back openly. So he wants to do his best to solve the problem. If he can solve it, not only can he come to us openly, but we can also go back openly."

Elaine suddenly became excited and blurted out: "If that's the case, it would be great! Otherwise, living in such a nice place, I can't show off to relatives and friends, and I can't show off on WeChat Moments. It would be such a loss!"

Claire was already accustomed to Elaine's way of thinking.

Although she was very determined to leave charlie Wade, deep down in her heart, she still had a glimmer of fantasy.
