

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7761

After more than ten days of seclusion, charlie Wade finally emerged from the hillside villa at Champs-Élysées Hot Springs.

The ten-plus days of seclusion were like sleepless nights for charlie Wade, as he couldn't concentrate on his cultivation because he was thinking about Claire.

It was already late March in the Gregorian calendar and late February in the lunar calendar, and Nanjing was entering the season of spring warmth and blooming flowers.

With Qingming Festival approaching, the Wade family has begun preparations for this year's ancestral worship ceremony. However, since everything is currently in charlie Wade's hands, the old man Lord Wade has come forward to inquire with charlie Wade about the specific plans for this year's ancestral worship ceremony, such as whether to hold a grand ceremony and whether to notify members of collateral branches of the family to participate.

The old man sent many messages and WeChat messages to charlie Wade, but received no reply. So he left a message for charlie Wade, saying that if charlie Wade did not reply, he would take over the organization of the ancestral worship ceremony.

For charlie Wade, the first thing he considered was whether the ancestral worship ceremony was necessary.

Paying respects to ancestors and parents during Qingming Festival is naturally his duty as a junior, but there seems to be no need to make a big fuss about it.

Therefore, ancestor worship is necessary, but grand ceremonies are not.

Secondly, he felt somewhat dejected, and in this state, he was even less suited to organizing the grand ceremony.

Therefore, after consideration, charlie Wade decided to simplify this year's ancestral worship ceremony, no longer indulging in extravagance, and no longer allowing collateral families to go to Wade Mountain, allowing only direct members of the Wade family to worship devoutly at Wade Mountain.

Meanwhile, Lord Wade had been busy preparing for the ancestral worship ceremony for several days.

As Lord Wade gets older, the more he approaches the age of fifty, the more he cares about the rituals of worshipping his ancestors. He can't help but think of himself. He is sincere in worshipping his ancestors now, and naturally hopes that his descendants will be just as sincere when they worship him in the future.

However, upon receiving a message from Charlie Wade that Charlie Wade did not intend to hold the grand ceremony, he was unwilling but could not overstep his bounds, so he had no choice but to halt all preparations.

Charlie Wade stood on the mountain ridge, looking at the vast scenery, and was momentarily lost in thought.

He didn't know where to go next or what to do next.

He didn't want to go home because home was no longer home.

He didn't want to go anywhere else either, because he couldn't muster the energy to go anywhere.

Should I go back to continue my secluded cultivation?

It doesn't seem like a good idea either, because he's like a patient with severe insomnia. He can't fall asleep even if he forces himself to lie in bed, and the more he lies there, the more anxious he becomes.

So he called Li Yalin to inquire about the progress of his investigation over the past few days. Li Yalin replied truthfully, "Young Master Wade, we have made some preliminary tracking of the vehicles these past few days. The movement of each vehicle has been deliberately concealed, so even using the initial elimination method, it is difficult to narrow down the scope immediately. It is still difficult to find a breakthrough point. It is estimated that it will take at least two more months to conduct the first round of screening of these vehicles. By then, we will be able to eliminate at least 60% of the vehicles, and then conduct the second round of screening on the remaining 40%."

Charlie Wade felt a chill run down his spine.

The first round of screening takes two months, and after several rounds, a year has passed.

However, he was not an unreasonable person. In the field of criminal investigation, apart from some cases committed by idiots that would allow the police to quickly find clues and arrest them, the criminal cases committed by individuals or small groups with a little bit of brains would take a long time to solve, many of them more than a year.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7762

Solving a case is never an easy task.

He wanted to ask Lin Wan'er (Alani) again, but when he thought of her as a remarkable woman who had experienced four hundred years of world turmoil, he realized that although he didn't have such an exciting life experience, he was still a man and it was inappropriate for him to bother her with matters of love and romance. On the one hand, it would disturb her peace, and on the other hand, it would make him lose face.

During his seclusion, his friends who received the message tacitly refrained from disturbing him, but Nanako couldn't help but leave him a message that read: "Please let Nanako know when Charlie Wade-kun finishes his seclusion."

So Charlie Wade sent her a message, telling her that he had just finished his seclusion.

Nanako quickly replied to him: "Charlie Wade-kun, if you don't have anything else, let's have dinner together tonight. I brought back some wine and ingredients from Japan. Old Man has been saying that we should wait until you have time to enjoy them together."

Charlie Wade thought that Nanako lived in Tomson Riviera, and he didn't want to go back and be reminded of her, so he subconsciously wanted to refuse.

Before she could finish writing the polite refusal message, Nanako sent another message: "I forgot to tell Charlie Wadejun that Ouduo-san and I have moved. We are now living in Shanheyue, east of Zijin Mountain. Ouduo-san also said that he would like to invite Charlie Wadejun to visit our new home."

Nanako Ito was an exceptionally intelligent girl for her age.

Ever since she helped Charlie Wade go to his house and found the farewell letter left by Claire, she immediately decided to find a place to move out of Tomson Riviera as soon as possible.

Because she knew that Tomson Riviera would become a thorn in Charlie Wade's side. She used to live in Tomson Riviera simply because she wanted to be closer to him. Now, it had become a place that Charlie Wade could not let go of. If she and her father continued to live there, it would only backfire.

So she immediately asked her father to find another place to live in Nanjing, and it had to be a ready-made house that she could move into as soon as possible.

Takehiko Ito, a veteran entrepreneur, is also a super action-oriented person. He immediately contacted the top real estate agent and asked him to introduce him to some new and second-hand luxury homes in Nanjing. After viewing the properties in person, he spent a nine-figure sum to buy a detached luxury villa in Shanheyue, near Zijin Mountain.

Charlie Wade was surprised that Nanako had moved. Not being particularly sensitive to matters of the heart, he subconsciously asked, "Why did you and Uncle Ito suddenly move?"

Nanako said, "Old Man kept complaining that living in high-rise apartments wasn't as convenient and that the privacy wasn't as good as in a detached villa, so he went and bought a house himself. I couldn't persuade him otherwise, so I had to agree to move."

Nanako's words were half true and half false.

The truth is, Takehiko Ito really doesn't like living in apartments, and the reason he's willing to live in a high-rise at Tomson Riviera is entirely to please his daughter.

The truth is, Takehiko Ito didn't actually want to change apartments; it was she who wanted to.

Charlie Wade didn't think much about it at the time. Ito Takehiko was one of Japan's top tycoons. He had been to Ito's mansion in Kyoto, which was so big that it was almost possible to put up a sign and charge admission. It was only natural that such a big shot would not be comfortable living in a high-rise building and would want to move to a detached villa.

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7763

Thinking that Takehiko Ito also wanted him to visit their new home, Charlie Wade, who was worried about having nowhere to go, simply agreed and said, "Nanako, send me the address, I'll go over later."

"That's great!" Nanako exclaimed excitedly. "Charlie Wade-kun, remember to come early and chat with Uncle Odo-san for a while. He keeps talking about you."

"Okay," Charlie Wade agreed, saying, "I'll be there in a bit."

Purple Mountain, River and Moon.

Nanako ran out of her room with her phone in hand, excitedly calling out, "Old man, old man! Charlie Wadejun will be home for dinner later!"

At that moment, Takehiko Ito was tending to his five-needle pine tree in the central courtyard of the villa.

This Japanese white pine was transplanted from his residence in Kyoto, Japan, by Takehiko Itō. As one of the top tree species in Japanese horticulture, this robust and full-bodied Japanese white pine is worth at least several million US dollars and is Takehiko Itō's favorite.

He had always lived in an apartment building and never had the chance to plant trees, but now that he has moved into a traditional Chinese-style detached villa, he immediately started to make a fuss about it.

Like Chinese antique coins, Japanese antique coins have some rather unique and retro hobbies. Chinese antique coins like to play with wood and jade, while Japanese antique coins all have the heart of wanting to become gardening masters.

Owning a mansion in Kyoto doesn't make you a true tycoon. Owning a mansion, and having a whole yard full of top-quality trees, that's the ultimate tycoon. When guests arrive, the host doesn't even need to say a word; just the trees in the yard are enough to make the guests feel the host's power.

As one of Japan's top tycoons, Takehiko Ito is naturally a master of gardening. Now residing in China, and with Kyoto's climate being similar to that of Nanjing, he plans to gradually transplant the precious trees he has planted in Japan to China.

He was busy with something when he suddenly heard Nanako say that Charlie Wade was coming to their house for dinner that night. He was overjoyed and said, "Mr. Wade has finally come out of seclusion."

"Yes." Nanako nodded and said, "It seems that Charlie Wade just came out of seclusion today."

Takehiko Ito smiled and said, "This period must have been very difficult for Mr. Wade. Since he's come to our home today, let's have a few more drinks with him."

After saying that, he looked at his daughter and said meaningfully, "Nanako, this is your best chance to win over Charlie Wade. You must seize it firmly."

When Nanako was arranging to buy a new house, Takehiko Ito asked her why she wanted to move out of Tomson Riviera. After all, in Takehiko Ito's view, his daughter loved Charlie Wade to the core, and because of her love for the house, she liked Tomson Riviera very much. Her sudden decision to move out was obviously a bit strange.

Nanako didn't hide anything and briefly explained the situation to her father.

When he heard that Claire had left Charlie Wade, Takehiko Ito said "good" a dozen times, his hands so excited he almost rubbed them raw.

In his view, Claire's departure from Charlie Wade was the best opportunity for his daughter to take her place. No matter how many female confidantes Charlie Wade had, he believed that his daughter was the most special one in Charlie Wade's heart, or to put it bluntly, his daughter was definitely the one who was most moved by him among all these female confidantes.

This judgment was not based on blind confidence, but on his analysis of Charlie Wade's behavior toward his daughter over the years.

Charlie Wade not only made a special trip to Kyoto to treat his daughter's injuries, but also saved her life. In the ensuing chaotic battle in Tokyo, it was he who helped the Ito family emerge victorious.

What moved Ito Takehiko even more was that Charlie Wade used the extremely precious Rejuvenation Pill to make his legs grow back. If Charlie Wade hadn't had his daughter in his heart, how could he have had the opportunity to receive such good fortune?

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7764

It can be said that during this period of time, the most beautiful dream that Ito Takehiko had was that charlie Wade would become his son-in-law.

Now that an opportunity has presented itself, he must get Nanako to give it her all.

Nanako knew that this was a rare opportunity. Her personality was always one of loving and hating without considering the consequences, so she never hid her feelings for charlie Wade. Even though she knew that charlie Wade might never leave Claire, she was still willing to wait, even if it all came to nothing in the end, she would not regret it.

In the past, she would have just silently stayed by charlie Wade's side, but now, she hopes to win charlie Wade's true heart.

So she said very seriously to Ito Takehiko, "Old man, Nanako also hopes to seize this opportunity, but it will probably be difficult in the short term. charlie Wadejun has deep feelings for Miss willson, and it will probably be difficult for him to get over it for a while."

Takehiko Ito said seriously, "For Mr. Wade, it is like falling into quicksand. If he relies on himself, it will be difficult to get out. Someone must reach out to him, and he must be willing to grab the other person. Only when the two of them work together can they break free from the quicksand."

After saying that, he said earnestly, "Unseen by you, countless people are frantically reaching out to Mr. Wade, hoping to help him. So you must not be too passive, otherwise you will definitely regret it if someone else gets there first."

Nanako smiled slightly and said, "Has Old Man ever considered that charlie Wadejun is not someone anyone could pull out on their own?"

Ito Takehiko asked, puzzled, "What do you mean?"

Nanako said somewhat shyly, "Uncle, Charlie Wadejun has so many female confidantes. Before, with Miss Willson around, he always restrained his feelings for these female confidantes, so they didn't have much of a chance. Now, if he chooses to continue to restrain himself, these female confidantes still won't have a chance. If he chooses to stop restraining himself, then everyone might have a chance."

Takehiko Ito asked, "Nanako, do you mean that once Mr. Wade accepts Miss Willson's departure, he might end up with three thousand beauties around him, like an ancient emperor?"

Nanako nodded gently and said, "If he doesn't give to anyone, then everyone can continue to silently persevere as before. But if he decides to give, it will inevitably hurt others. Charlie Wadejun never does anything to hurt his confidantes, so we might really have to work together."

Takehiko Ito said awkwardly, "Men with many female confidantes are not uncommon in high society, in fact, quite common. Elon Musk, for example, has many women who have given birth to his children."

At this point, Takehiko Ito countered, "But even so, there can only be one person who can maintain a legal marital relationship with him. Even if others can win his affections, they can only be nameless and without status. You can't be the one who is nameless and without status, can you?"

Nanako said somewhat awkwardly, "Old man, it's too early for you to talk about this now, and besides, this matter is not up to my will."

Takehiko Ito said seriously, "Nanako, the Ito family is now number one in all of Japan. If Charlie Wade can give you a title in the future, Old Man is willing to give you all the assets of the Ito family as your dowry. Old Man has the determination to go all out, and you must also go all out in your actions!"

After saying that, he sighed and said, "In Odosan's opinion, no one is more suitable to be Charlie Wade's next wife than you. The Ito family is powerful and can be considered a good match. Moreover, you and Charlie Wade have long had feelings for each other, which Odosan can see. In addition, you are both cultivators. If you two spend the rest of your lives together, you can not only rely on each other emotionally, but also support each other on the path of cultivation. This is a true match made in heaven!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7765

For Takehiko Ito, accompanying Nanako to leave her hometown and settle in China was partly because his legs had fully recovered and he didn't want to stay in Japan and cause a stir, and partly because he hoped that his daughter could get married to Charlie Wade as soon as possible.

Nanako abandoned Japan and came to Jinling to join Charlie Wade because she was pursuing true love. Therefore, her father's words did not make her blush with embarrassment, but instead made her feel a great sense of support.

Because of what my father just said, it can be said that he has already gone all out.

As long as she can marry Charlie Wade, her father no longer cares who the entire Ito family will be named in the future. If she can truly marry Charlie Wade, the entire Ito family will be her dowry. After marrying Charlie Wade, she will not only take her husband's surname and change it to Ye, but also have the surname Ye for any children she has, regardless of whether they are boys or girls. Then the Ito family will be completely wiped out from her generation.

However, if he hadn't met Charlie Wade, according to his father and the customs of those big families in Japan, the Ito family would definitely have taken in a son-in-law. Japanese sons-in-law have less dignity than Chinese sons-in-law because not only do the children born after they marry into the family take the woman's surname, but the son-in-law himself also has to change his surname to the woman's surname.

In that case, the Ito family could continue to exist and grow, instead of ending abruptly in his generation.

Thinking of this, Nanako was moved but also saddened. She softly asked her father, "Old man, if we don't take in a son-in-law, the Ito family may not have any more descendants. Can you...can you really accept that?"

Takehiko Ito smiled and said, "As long as you truly marry well in Old Man's eyes, what is there for Old Man to find unacceptable? What needs to be passed down is not just the surname, but also the bloodline. As long as the bloodline can continue, the surname is not that important."

After saying this, he sighed and said, “Many years ago, our Ito family had a son-in-law who married into the family. He sacrificed his own surname and married into the Ito family. At that time, the head of the Ito family, in order to prevent him from changing the Ito family name in the future, even hunted down the maid and illegitimate child who had an affair with him. You see, even if you have a son-in-law, it is not really that worry-free. You still have to guard against him. Rather than that, it is better to just not care.”

“Moreover, Charlie Wade is truly a rare and wonderful man. If you could marry him, even if Odoan died immediately, he would die with a smile on his face. As for the name Ito, we don’t need it.”

As Takehiko Ito finished speaking, Nanako’s eyes were already a little red, and she murmured softly, “Thank you, Uncle...”

Then Ito Takehiko suddenly chuckled and said, “Of course, we’ll exchange sincerity for sincerity. If you really marry Charlie Wade in the future and have four, five, or six sons for him, I’ll kneel on the ground and beg him to allow one of your sons to take the Ito surname...”

As he spoke, he looked at Nanako and asked seriously, “Nanako, do you think Charlie Wade will understand and be considerate of me?”

Nanako was just touched, but then her father made her both laugh and cry. Having four, five, or six sons? What did he think she was? Most fathers dote on their daughters and don’t want them to have many children, but her father actually hoped she would have four, five, or six sons.

So she muttered shyly, “Charlie Wadejun will be here soon. If you want to know if he will understand you, you can just ask him yourself.”

Takehiko Ito laughed heartily and said, “The Ito family never asks for anything in return; they always give first, no matter what.”

As evening fell, Charlie Wade drove to Shanheyue, following the location sent by Nanako.

This place is located on the eastern foothills of Zijin Mountain, not far from Zijin Villa where Lin Wan’er (Alani) lives.

This was charlie Wade's first time visiting this villa area. After arriving, he discovered that the building density here was even lower than that of Tomson Riviera. Moreover, it was a pure villa area, unlike Tomson Riviera, which had high-rise residential buildings built in order to meet the plot ratio requirements.
