

The Amazing Son in Law Chapter (Charlie Wade)

CHAPTER 2634

On weekdays, his stomach full of bitterness did not dare to pour out, and he had to pretend to deceive others by pretending to be an outsider, but now he was brutally pierced by a young man, which immediately made him angry.

He didn't think Charlie really had any abilities to look at each other. He felt that Charlie deliberately wanted to ruin his business, and also wanted to take the opportunity to ridicule himself!

So the fastest update was so, he immediately snorted, and said disdainfully: "Humph! You said that the old man has toiled all his life? What a joke! To tell you the truth, the old man has achieved financial freedom when he was young, and I have already had a lot of children and grandchildren, so I can enjoy it all at home. The blessing of people and the joy of family relationships, the reason why you still come out for fortune-telling at such an old age is to save all beings!" After all

, he looked at Hank, but said in a bit of sullenness, "You take this brazen young man away. Well, I wanted to help with your affairs, but it seems that you and I are really out of luck. So please do it yourself.

Hank was a little anxious, lowered his voice and said to Charlie: "Charlie, we would rather be trusted with this kind of thing It is not credible, and 5,000 yuan is not a big deal, even if it is a peace of mind.

Charlie waved his hand, looked at the old man, and said with a smile: "I see that your cheeks are thin and the person is full. You don't look like a blessed person, and your forehead shape is dissatisfied. This is a typical young man. Even in the face of childlessness, you say you have a crowd of children and grandchildren, how is this possible? The old man snorted coldly: "Boy, you are inferior to humans, have you begun to engage in personal attacks? The old man has three sons and three. daughter, grandson, granddaughter, grandson and granddaughter add up to 13 people, you would say that my face declining birthrate, no child is really outrageous?!!

Charlie smiled: "you first do not worry, I'll give you count – Gua it.

Having said , He grabbed the five copper coins and threw them out again.

Then, Charlie looked at the position, positive and negative of these coins, and said lightly: "The hexagram shows that you are destined to commit a lone star, and you are doomed to have no future!"

After speaking, Charlie looked at him and asked seriously: "Do your sons and daughters look like you? The old man was stunned. With a single sentence, Charlie stabbed him for so many years. The knot in my heart.

That is, none of his six children really look like him.

Charlie continued: "This hexagram also says that you can see through the clouds and mist in the near future. I believe It should be about this.

The old man said angrily: "You don't talk nonsense here! You are so young, I advise you to accumulate your morals! Charlie waved his hand: "I'm not making fun of you, I'm telling the truth. "After that, Charlie asked him: "Do you know your blood type?

"Me?" The old man blurted out: "I am AB!

Charlie asked again: "Where is your wife?" The old man said, "My wife. It's O type! What's wrong? What do you want to say?

Charlie asked again: "Then do you know the blood type of one of your six children? The old man continued: "My eldest son is also AB, just follow me, what's wrong?

This Second, before Charlie spoke, Hank on the side was shocked and said, "Your wife has blood type O, you have blood type AB, and your eldest son is also blood type AB?

"Yes!" The old man snorted coldly: "The blood type is the same as me. It must be my own blood!

Hank said embarrassedly: "From the blood type genetic law of science, people with blood type AB and blood type O will only give birth to blood type A or type B. Blood, it is impossible to give birth to blood type O or blood type AB"
