

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3057

Behind the Phoenix Mountain Cemetery is a mountain range winding for nearly a hundred kilometers.

Although the process of urbanization has become faster and faster in recent years, this kind of deep mountain and old forest has never been developed.

Moreover, in that kind of place, no one would usually go except a bunch of travel friends.

It's really not easy to get out of the deep mountains there. It's said that the donkeys are trapped in them every three to five, and finally they can only be carried out one by one by the rescue team. Over time, even the donkeys dare not go.

Because it was not easy to come out, Charlie planned to throw Richmond these people over.

Anyway, Aurous Hill is located in the Central Plains, and there are no beasts that can eat people in the deep mountains and old forests. Even if they don't have the ability to survive, they won't die in them. When that time comes, Isaac Cameron can prepare them with water and dry food, so that they can be steadfast. Suffer for a few days in it.

At that time, they will not be left with any communication tools, so that they can fully experience what it means: calling every day should not, calling the ground not working.

By the way, it can be regarded as a reminder to Rishab. Since he is going to be the guest of Stefanie Sun's concert, he must be here in these two days. If Richmond's experience cannot make him vigilant, then he will be He also threw it over.

Only then did Richmond realize that Charlie, who he once thought was a translator, was probably the real boss behind the scenes.

Reminiscent of his surname Wade, and Isaac Cameron was very respectful to him, a terrible thought suddenly flashed in his heart, and he knelt in front of Charlie with a plop, and then kept kowtow, begging: "Mr. Wade, Please Let me go , I won't dare anymore..."

Charlie said blankly: "I don't hold you accountable very much. Instead, I provided you with free travel items. Isn't this a forgiveness? If you are not even satisfied with this, then you are really It's hard for me to do it."

After speaking, he looked at Isaac Cameron and said: "Or else take them to the dog farm in Don Albert first, stay for two days, look back and see if there are any people who don't have long eyes, and join them together. Get together, get together and send a wave to Syria to experience an outbound travel experience."

Isaac Cameron said without hesitation: "No problem! If Rishab is shameless when he comes, he will be sent to Syria together at that time."

When Richmond heard this, he was shocked immediately.

He became firmer and firmer in his guess.

The young man surnamed Wade in front of him must be from the Wade family!

No wonder he doesn't put himself in the eyes at all, and even doesn't even take his own master seriously...

This time I really provoke a big man...

Thinking of this, Richmond cried and said, "Mr. Wade, don't get me wrong, I don't have any dissatisfaction..."

Charlie smiled and asked him: "Are you sure? We are always customer first. If you are dissatisfied, please tell me, don't hold back."

Richmond's liver trembled with fright, and he thought to himself: "What the hell is customer first, this is fishing law enforcement! If I tell you the truth, I am afraid it will end up worse!"

So, he choked and shook his head again and again: "No! There is absolutely no dissatisfaction!"

Charlie nodded and said coldly: "Since there is nothing dissatisfied with, I will sign the contract obediently and wait for the departure. If you perform well, I will let you out a few days later. If your performance is not good, even You have crawled out on your own, and I will make people throw you back again!"

With that said, he instructed Isaac Cameron: "Before sending them away, install GPS positioning for each of them."

Isaac Cameron hurriedly said: "Don't worry, I must make arrangements!"

Charlie gave a hum, and then asked: "When signing a contract, I will take a video for them to make it clear that they are voluntarily participating in the travel experience and voluntarily abide by our travel rules. Remember to let them behave more truthfully and leave a message. Back hand."

Isaac Cameron nodded and said, "Okay, I've written everything down."

Charlie asked again: "By the way, I just said that I was beaten up. This must be played after the contract is signed and the video is filmed. Do you understand?"

"understood!"

Immediately afterwards, Richmond and several people were escorted by the security guards and were taken to the rooftop crying and crying.

Soon, Aurous Hill Shangri-La Hotel immediately launched a special wilderness survival experience project. Under the careful care of the security guards, Richmond and others signed a fair and just tourism service contract voluntarily and became the first of this new project. Lots of free lucky customers.

As soon as the contract was signed, these people were repaired by the security guards and were directly thrown into the helicopter.

The back kitchen of the catering department sent a bunch of food that was to be eliminated and expired, and a bunch of tap water temporarily canned. These are all the supplies for Richmond and the others in the next few days.

After all, it's a big hotel. The food and tap water provided by the catering department are large enough. The appetite of these young people is enough for them to eat for half a month.

When Charlie was having dinner with the Ito family, a helicopter flew to the center of the deep mountain and old forest on the outskirts of Aurous Hill.
