

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3060

The female assistant at this time, clutching her flushed face, cried and said, "Master, these are Richmond's work mistakes. You can't vent all your anger on me. It's not fair to me..."

"Fair to your sister!" Rishab said with disgust: "My f*cking wants you to solve the problem for me now, instead of letting you throw the pot here! I don't want to care if Richmond is dead or alive, but accept it. You must arrange things for me! Otherwise, I will f*cking kill you!"

The female assistant was frightened by Rishab's fierce appearance. She didn't dare to find any reason for herself, so she nodded and said aggrievedly: "Good master, I will find a way to contact the local public relations resources..."

Rishab told me: "Remember, I only want female fans at the scene, not male fans! Don't give me a bunch of big bosses yelling at the airport, I can't f*cking afford that person!"

Last year, when Rishab's plastic surgery was finally regarded as small and effective, in order to highlight his personality of the top singer, he began to go everywhere and hire a large group of actors to play fanatical fans.

Although he himself has a certain real fan group, because his level is indeed relatively average, even if the fans are brainwashed and like him, they are still far from being fanatical.

Therefore, every time you want to frantically hype your own popularity, you have to spend money to hire a group of actors to act as fanatic fans. Only in this way can you achieve an eye-catching effect.

But once, because the matchmaker didn't confirm in advance, he made a big joke.

On that day, in order to save trouble, the person in charge of taking the opportunity directly summoned more than two hundred group performances from the film and television city that had just finished filming the anti-Japanese war. Because they were shooting anti-Japanese war films, these group performances were almost all male. And all of them are five big three thick and gray-headed.

It turned out that such a group of people arrived at the airport and shouted slogans like "Rishab, I love you", which made Rishab disgusting enough.

What's more f*cking is that there are a lot of group performances here, and they came here wearing military cloth shoes of the Eighth Route Army on TV, and they were taken as ironclad evidence of gangbang.

What makes Rishab unbearable most is that the people who have good things eat melons, shoot the live video into a video, and post it to the short video platform to mock him.

There are even short video bloggers who specialize in publishing gossip in the entertainment industry, using all kinds of obscure pronouns to mock Rishab, saying that he can even buy fake fans to buy overturned cars, and sooner or later he will get confused.

The incident that time rushed directly to the hot search list. In the end, the Zhong family spent tens of millions looking for relationships and requesting deletion of posts before finally smoothing the matter.

Therefore, Rishab will never allow this kind of thing to happen even once!

The female assistant didn't dare to delay, and on the way to the airport, she began to ask people to inquire about Aurous Hill's local resources, especially female resources, through various relationships.

You know, people who can find hundreds of young girls in a short period of time are very rare even in Eastcliff.

The group leader among the extras does not have so many resources in their hands.

Because the general group leader also docks Bailai number group performances, not only young girls, but all kinds of men, women and children.

To put it ugly, even if it is a mother in a nightclub, there can be as many as hundreds of girls under her control.

Just when the female assistant thought she was desperate and could do nothing, one of her old classmates in Aurous Hill pushed her a WeChat business card, and then sent a voice message saying: , the person I pushed for you, You hurry up, her name is Wendy, the general manager of Aurous Hill Shangmei etiquette company."

"This woman is not easy. She has at least 500 or 600 local courtesy ladies in Aurous Hill. Now more than half of the full-time courtesy ladies in Aurous Hill have signed her company, and there are also many part-time courtesy ladies. If you take the job from her, you can probably solve your needs if you find her. If she can't solve them, then I guess no one in Aurous Hill can solve them. After all, there are two or three hundred young and beautiful girls in a short time. It's hard to find."

After listening to this voice, the female assistant was so excited that she was about to cry, and quickly replied: "Oh my good sister, you saved my life! When I get to Aurous Hill, I will definitely take time to treat you to a big meal. !"

The other party smiled and said: "What are you doing so politely with me? I just asked you about this person. You should contact her quickly. When you have dinner, wait for you to finish your work. I'm here to invite you! You have come to Aurous Hill all the way, and I, the host, should do my best as a landlord. How can I let you invite me to dinner? Our old classmates will laugh at me if it spreads out."

The female assistant hurriedly said: "We have been in a relationship for so many years, so I won't be polite to you anymore. I will go to you when I finish my business first!"

After that, she quickly added Wendy's WeChat.

Wandy's WeChat nickname has now been changed to "Shangmei etiquette Wandy", and her profile picture has also been changed to a professional photo of herself wearing a professional suit and smiling.

I have to say that Wandy has done a very good job during the recent period.
