

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3174-3175

After confirming that there are no flaws or omissions in the entire process, Stefanie Sun is already confident about tomorrow's concert.

Zuri stepped onto the stage at this time, handed a bottle of water to Stefanie Sun, and exclaimed: "Stefanie, the stage visual and auditory effects are really great this time! Not only is it beyond all your previous concerts, but even I have never seen such a great live concert in my memory!"

Stefanie Sun smiled and said seriously: "Thanks to everyone's hard work."

With that, she said excitedly: "With such a good hardware foundation, tomorrow I will be able to give Charlie an unforgettable birthday!"

Zuri curled his lips: "You know your Charlie, don't forget, his wife will come to see you at the concert tomorrow night!"

Stefanie Sun smiled and said: "So what, in my mind, my concert tomorrow is to show Charlie alone, and all the others are insignificant supporting roles."

As she said, she couldn't help sighing: "I have to say that this set of lighting and sound equipment that Fitz Banks bought is beyond my expectations. It is really too extravagant to use this equipment for concerts!"

"Yeah!" Zuri smacked: "The investment in this area alone is higher than the income of the concert. Except for a super live event like the Olympic Games, no one would be willing to invest such a large cost in a commercial performance. In order to please you, Fitz Banks cannot invest such a large cost."

Speaking of this, Zuri suddenly remembered something, and said mysteriously: "Hey, do you know that Fitz Banks, just made a public decision on the Internet..."

Stefanie Sun hurriedly asked: "What decision?"

Zuri said seriously: "This buddy doesn't know if his brain was kicked by a donkey. He suddenly announced that tomorrow morning he will set off for the pilgrimage to the Jokhang Temple in the southwestern border of Aurous Hill. It will be a three-step kowtow and a kowtow all the way. This is four. Thousand-kilometer road! The difficulty is almost as difficult as Tang Seng Xitian to learn from!"

Stefanie Sun asked in astonishment: "Is he crazy? Why did he suddenly make such a strange decision?"

Zuri said: "This is not the strangest thing. The strangest thing is that this guy actually scolded his grandfather and dad, saying that they were sinful and went on a pilgrimage to help them wash away their sins. You Is this person mad? Can a normal person do such a brainless thing?"

“Besides, tomorrow is your concert. This guy has been busy for so long and spent so much effort. Isn't it just waiting for this concert? If he says, he will leave for the Jokhang Temple early tomorrow morning, I certainly didn't plan to watch the concert that night.”

Stefanie Sun also felt very puzzled. Although she was not familiar with Fitz Banks, these situations were indeed very different from Fitz Banks's style of acting, which made her very surprised.

In doubt, she suddenly thought of Charlie, so she quickly took out her mobile phone and sent Charlie a WeChat message: “Charlie, does Fitz Banks's matter have anything to do with you?”

Charlie received the WeChat content and replied to her with a dog-headed expression, plus four characters: “What do you think?”

Stefanie Sun sent a face with a smirk covering her mouth, and also replied with four words: “It must be you!”

Charlie didn't deny it, and replied: “This guy has played a little bit too much. After I sent you to the stadium today, he asked me to investigate my license plate number. He also ran to the Emgrand Group to perform a big show just to see me. On the one hand, so I will give him a small punishment.”

Stefanie Sun made an angry expression, and then said: “Why is this guy investigating Charlie's license plate number? Is it because he saw me getting off Charlie's car?”

“It should be.” Charlie said with a smile: “Maybe I have a crush on you, so I've been confused.”
