

The Amazing Son In Law ( Charlie Wade )

Chapter 3200-3201

Hearing what Charlie said, Angie was not only excited and excited, but her eyes turned red.

She was really moved by Charlie.

Even in a dream, Charlie would directly take out a rejuvenating pill because of her recent fatigue. This generosity greatly exceeded her normal cognition.

Although Sun's family is very rich, Angie and her family's strength are also good.

However, the more money he has, the more Angie understands that money is not the most important thing in this world, and those things that cannot be bought with more money are the most precious in this world.

For those poor people whose lives are a problem, even if he knows that this job will seriously harm his body, but in order to support his family, he is willing to exchange his health for this reward.

But for these top wealthy people who have already fully realized financial freedom, what they fear most is anything that hurts their bodies.

And they don't hesitate to invest a lot of money, just to make their bodies healthier, and let them live for a few more months, even just a few days.

However, sometimes money is not everything.

Even a billionaire, by the age of 50 or 60, it is impossible to prevent his body from getting old, it is impossible to prevent his physical strength and energy from declining.

Therefore, something like Rejuvenation Pill has become the most precious treasure in the eyes of the rich.

This is also why Travis Lane was willing to spend 2 billion in cash to bid for Charlie's Rejuvenation Pill.

And the rich people who were on the scene that day were still far behind the Sun family in overall strength. If a group of top rich people of Sun family's level were really called together, the auction price of a Rejuvenating Pill might even exceed tens of billions.

Angie understands the value of Huichun Pill, so he is naturally excited and grateful.

Orrin Sun was even more moved.

After all, Charlie once saved his life and even made him at least ten years younger. With such a great kindness, he didn't know how to pay it off.

Now Charlie took out another rejuvenation pill and gave it to his family. Three mouthfuls, which made him feel ashamed.

So, he hesitated again and again, and said: "Charlie, you are so caring for our family of three.

Uncle is really very grateful, but this gift is too expensive, uncle is really ashamed of it..."

Speaking of this, he couldn't help sighing, and then said: "It's just that your Aunt Angie is really not in good health recently.

Whenever I see her working day and night for work, I feel distressed, so I will cheer for you Aunt Angie .

Take this glass of water and keep the remaining two glasses for yourself!"

Charlie heard this and shook his head helplessly and said, "Uncle Orrin (Sun), just now you told me not to see outsiders, but in a blink of an eye, I started to see outsiders again.

I have already said that this rejuvenation pill is for you and Aunt Angie . And the girl, even if you don't feel sorry for yourself, don't think about yourself, you still have to feel sorry for the girl.

She is about to hold dozens of concerts all over the world. She must be very tired from running around. Anyhow, none of us regret it. Why are you being polite to me at this time?"

Stefanie Sun hurriedly said: "Charlie, I'm fine, I'm so young, it's nothing to be tired at all!"

Charlie said with a face: "Don't fool me here, you forgot how the two of us met again?

If it wasn't for your stomach troubles all the time, how would you be willing to endorse my Jiuxuanwei San?
