

The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3274-3275

Therefore, Claire would feel ashamed in front of Ito Nanako, always feeling that the other party was much stronger than himself.

After Claire sighed in his heart for a while, he took the initiative to bring the topic to Jasmine, and said excitedly: "But if we can reach a cooperation with Miss Moore this time, then the company will be able to go to the next level!"

After that, she said to Charlie: "Look, my husband, the Emgrand Group is the largest company in Aurous Hill, and the Moore family is the largest family in Aurous Hill. If both parties can cooperate for a long time, then my studio will be able to become the best decoration design studio in Aurous Hill!"

Charlie couldn't help but persuade: "My wife, you have been too ambitious recently. You have already taken over the major projects of the Emgrand Group, and now the company has also taken on many private decoration projects. There are already a lot of things, why cooperate with the Moore family? In fact, our family is not short of money now, you don't need to be so tired at all."

Claire shook his head and said very seriously: "Entrepreneurship itself is not necessarily to make much money.

The most important thing is that since it has already started, I hope to do its best."

"So you see, so many big companies with a market value of hundreds of billions of dollars, their bosses have been financially free many years ago, but they are still working hard for the company.

I believe they have already made enough. The money that you can't spend in your life, the reason why the children are playing their lives is actually to do things to the extreme and do the best."

Charlie also agreed with Claire's statement.

In this society, the vast majority of people do not possess this extreme spirit.

Most people have a standard of self-satisfaction. As long as they meet this standard, they will begin to enjoy life and stop working hard.

But there are a very small number of people who are never satisfied when driven by the ultimate spirit.

They will also set a standard for themselves, but the difference is that once they reach this standard, they will not meet, but will continue to set higher standards for themselves.

Those companies with assets of more than 100 billion yuan and even the world's top 500 companies are all becoming stronger and stronger because of this driving force.

Come to think of it, his wife Claire is also such a person, but there has been no good opportunity for her to realize her ambitions.

Therefore, Charlie said to Claire: "Wife, what do you think is your ultimate goal of starting a business?"

Claire thought for a while and said seriously: "I don't have any specific goals. I just hope to do the best within my abilities."

Charlie nodded lightly.

Although he felt sorry for Claire's state of working hard, he could understand her heart to a certain extent.

He felt that to a certain extent, he and his wife had basically the same ideas.

Charlie himself does not have any material desires, and he has not even taken the initiative to buy a car for himself, but he is still thinking of all means to continuously expand his business scale and improve his economic strength.

However, unlike other elites, Charlie did not make money for personal value. He just wanted to accumulate enough strength to find out the truth about the death of his parents in the future, and after finding out the truth, he could gain an absolute advantage. Crush one's own enemies.

Therefore, in order to achieve this goal, he must also do his best in the early stage of energy accumulation, and strive to do his best!
