The Amazing Son In Law (Charlie Wade)

Chapter 3587)

Speaking of this, he smiled wholeheartedly: "I believe that when this year's revenue statistics are released, our Wade Family will surpass the banks family, achieve a reversal, and become China's first family!"

In the main hall, there was thunderous applause again.

And just as Lord Wade gave an impassioned speech, a very large-scale motorcade was approaching vigorously.

At the beginning of the convoy, there are more than 20 pure black Les Roys, and there are many extended Land Rover off-road vehicles behind them.

The most shocking thing is that behind the off-road vehicle, there are twenty or thirty extended flatbed transport vehicles!

And on these flatbed trucks, each of them has several cheap and inferior coffins placed sideways!

Since the flatbed truck has no fence at all, these coffins are all fixed on the flatbed truck with big red ropes.

What's even more outrageous is that these coffins are not only fixed with big red ropes, and even on each coffin, there is also a huge red flower woven from red silk and satin!

In the Chinese funeral customs, black and white are the main ones, and yellow and purple are supplemented.

The big red is extremely taboo!

The dark coffin with red ropes and red satin flowers gives people a feeling full of weirdness.

When the Wade Family's bodyguard nursery saw this scene, they all became alert.

Hundreds of people immediately blocked in front of the opposing team, and at the same time closed the gate of the manor tightly.

A guardian of the nursing home stood up and shouted at the Les Rice team: "This is wade Mansion's important place! The idlers can't wait to get close! Don't retreat, don't blame us for being polite!"

At this time, the leading Rolls-Royce stopped slowly.

Immediately, the car door opened, and the white tiger king Salmaan of the Wanlong Palace stepped down.

The head of the Wade Family's nursing home stepped forward and asked coldly, "Who are you? What do you mean?"

Salmaan sneered and said: "Who am I? You don't deserve to know a local dog in the courtyard! Go tell you the direct members of the Wade Family, and say that the coffins prepared for them by our palace owner have been delivered! Let them give them one by one. I crawled out on my knees and signed for it!"

The head of the Wade Family's nursing home suddenly became furious, and blurted out, "Presumptuous! You are so courageous! If you don't get out of the way, I'm not welcome!"

The head of the nursing home of the Wade Family is a three-star warrior, comparable in strength to the old He of the banks family. In the martial arts field he knows, the only four-star warrior is Wilfred (LORD Elms) of the elms family. No one else can. Higher than four stars.

And Salmaan's strength is a real six-star warrior, so the head of the hospital, the Wade Family, can't see his strength at all.

At this moment, Salmaan glared at him, his eyes were full of murderous expression and said: "You are a bitch like you, also worthy of yelling in front of me?"

After that, he frowned and yelled coldly, "Die to me!"

As soon as the voice fell, Salmaan immediately punched the Wade Family's general manager in the abdomen.

The speed of this punch was so fast that everyone present could not see clearly.

Almost between the lightning and flint, the head of the Wade Family's nursing home suddenly flew out at a very fast speed.

At the same time, extremely pressured blood gushed from his mouth, and an arc-shaped blood mist was drawn in the air...

After flying upside down for tens of meters, this Wade Family's strongest head of nursing home slammed into the gate of Wade Family Manor. His eyes were big and pale as paper, and his abdomen, Has been deflated a large piece visible to the naked eye!

Immediately afterwards, he slid down from the gate like a free fall, crashed to the ground, and died in anger!
