

The Amazing Son In Law (The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4001)

Jacob had no idea that he had just sold his daughter and son-in-law inadvertently.

On the contrary, he felt that he had made a lot of credit today, and he even made a business for his daughter and son-in-law.

This can't blame him for being too stupid. After all, how could he know that the so-called 'Zhan ' in front of him is the real identity of Fei Kexin, and she is also the eldest lady of a top family with hundreds of billions of dollars.

Moreover, he didn't even know that Zhan came to Aurous Hill before the Huichundan auction to find Charlie.

At this point in the meal, Fei Kexin was in a good mood.

At the subsequent dinner, she did not mention feng shui and decoration. Everything she talked about was closely related to the art exhibition. It seemed that feng shui and decoration were just a random topic.

After a meal, when bidding farewell, Jacob was the first to take the lead and asked Fei Kexin: "Ms. Zhan, are you sure you need the feng shui and decoration matters? If you are sure, I will go home. Talk to my daughter and son-in-law."

"Yes!" Fei Kexin smiled and nodded, and said seriously: "Well, Mr. Jacob, you can make an appointment with your son-in-law for me, so that he has time to help me look at Feng Shui. If this house has no problem with Feng Shui, I will talk to your daughter about the follow-up decoration needs. If this house has more feng shui problems, then I will simply change it. Anyway, it will cost tens of millions."

Fei Kexin did not deliberately show off or deliberately Versailles. He bought tens of millions and thousands of square meters of single-family villas in Aurous Hill. In the eyes of Aurous Hill locals, it was almost over, but for Fei Kexin, it's as casual as ordinary people buy a souvenir when they arrive at a tourist attraction.

Moreover, when Fei Kexin didn't want to meet Charlie by herself, Charlie's wife was still next to her. It's better to put the couple in order. If Charlie couldn't break through from the front, he would turn around from his wife's side.

Jacob also felt that what Fei Kexin said was nothing wrong. First look at Feng Shui, and then decorate after Feng Shui is no problem. This logic is reasonable, well-founded, and convincing.

So he smiled and said, "Well, good, I'll talk to my son-in-law when I turn around, and let him take some time to show you!"

Fei Kexin nodded quickly, handed Jacob a business card, and smiled: "Vice President, this is my business card. If your son-in-law has no problem, please contact me."

Jacob smiled and said, "No problem, I'll tell him when I get home!"

When he got home, Jacob was in a good mood. He stopped the car and walked into the house whistling all the way.

Charlie, Claire, and Elaine had just eaten dinner. Seeing Jacob coming into the house, Elaine immediately recruited him: "Jacob, come and take the table!"

Jacob was startled, and said with a black face, "Why do you let me clean up the three of you? Why don't you clean up?"

Elaine glared at him, and said angrily: "You are not coming back so late when you wave outside. Isn't it right for you to do some housework?"

As he said, Elaine mumbled dissatisfiedly: "I've been out there all day long to mess with that shit association, and I haven't seen you go home with millions of dollars. What's the use? Isn't it a waste? And your level of skill, Outsiders don't know, can I still not know? The idiom that used to fill the numbers in ancient times is a true portrayal of you. You are ashamed to go to Korea on behalf of Aurous Hill to communicate? If you don't embarrass Aurous Hill, it's even a high incense!"

Elaine's mood has been somewhat depressed recently.

The main reason for the downturn was that Jacob told her last time that she would go to Korea for cultural exchanges. This made Elaine feel a little jealous and a little inferior.

After so many years of marriage, she has blamed Jacob. After all, for so many years, Jacob has been squeezed out of Jacob's family. Therefore, Elaine is known as a teacher whenever he is scorned by him.

It is precisely because of Jacob's long-term failure to give Elaine the confidence to ridicule him and mock him.

But how could Elaine think that Jacob had seen a mediocre life for most of his life, and when he was old, he suddenly glowed with a second spring.
