

At School 241

Chapter 241: I'm Fourteen, How About You?

After lunch, they went back to the hotel.

Jian Ai took a quick shower and changed into a formal set of clothes.

Macau's casinos were different from ordinary underground casinos. They had a worldwide operating system. Most people who came to Macau's casinos came from all over the world and were wealthy people.

After all, in such a casino, wins or losses would be from tens of millions of yuan to even hundreds of millions of yuan. If the family wasn't rich enough, they might go bankrupt.

She was wearing an exquisite suit with a simple ponytail. Her skin was fair and her eyes were bright. Jian Ai looked at her reflection in the mirror and smiled in satisfaction.

After leaving the room, Jian Ai walked straight to the opposite door and knocked on Yao Jiachi's door.

After a while, the door was pulled open from the inside. Jiachi had just taken a shower, and his hair was still wet. Seeing Jian Ai's formal attire, Jia Chi couldn't help but be stunned. He looked at Jian Ai from head to toe with a dull expression before muttering, "Sister, aren't you going to the casino? Why are you dressed like this?"

In Yao Jiachi's impression, weren't casinos places that had foul atmospheres and gloomy lighting?

Did she need to wear a suit?

Seeing his reaction, Jian Ai knew that he was thinking about underground casinos. She smiled and said, "Macau's casinos are different. You have to dress more formally."

Yao Jiachi still blinked in confusion when he heard what she had to say. Seeing that, Jian Ai didn't say anything else and only asked, "Can you stay in the hotel by yourself?"

Yao Jiachi nodded lightly. "Yes, I'll stay in the room and watch TV."

He did not want to go to a casino. Jian Ai also did not intend to bring her brother to that kind of place.

Smiling, Jian Ai did not forget to remind him, "Then wait for us to come back. If you're hungry, you can call the restaurant and ask them to send food to your room."

"Got it, Sister. Don't worry about me," Yao Jiachi said.

Jian Ai didn't say anything more. She waved at Yao Jiachi and turned around to walk towards the elevator.

The elevator came down and slowly stopped at the floor where Jian Ai was. The door opened, but Jian Ai didn't enter. Instead, she was slightly stunned.

In the elevator, the boy had changed into a casual outfit. His hands were casually stuffed into the pockets of his jeans. His handsome face was stunned when he saw Jian Ai.

It was Jian Yichen, whom she had met at the restaurant during breakfast.

Jian Ai smiled at Jian Yichen before entering the elevator.

The door closed and the elevator slowly descended from the thirty-second floor.

Jian Ai was in front while Jian Yichen stood at the back on her right side. The two of them were silent, but Jian Ai could feel the boy sizing her up.

She suddenly turned around. Jian Yichen could not avoid her and met Jian Ai's smiling gaze.

"Cough..." Jian Yichen coughed awkwardly and instinctively avoided her gaze.

Jian Ai saw this and smiled. She immediately took two steps back and stood beside him. She looked at Jian Yichen and asked softly, "Is Sister pretty?"

As if he was not expecting Jian Ai to take the initiative to speak, Jian Yichen's body visibly stiffened. He turned his head to look at Jian Ai and frowned. He said unhappily, "I only took a few more glances at you because you were dressed strangely. Also, how did you know that you were older than me?"

For some reason, he got angry just because she addressed herself as a sister?

Jian Ai felt that Jian Yichen was a little cute and immediately said, "I am fourteen years old. How about you?"

Jian Yichen: "..."

Chapter 242: Girls Were Troublesome

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Hah!

Jian Yichen was defeated. So he arrogantly turned his head away, ignoring her.

Seeing this, Jian Ai couldn't help but chuckle and shake her head, no longer teasing him.

The elevator descended to the first floor and slowly opened. Jian Yichen was about to go out when he suddenly stopped.

Jian Ai stood at the same spot and looked at him. However, Jian Yichen tilted his body slightly and made a gesture to let Jian Ai go first.

Seeing this, Jian Ai raised her eyebrows and thought: 'Oh, you're quite a gentleman!'

"Thank you, little brother!" Jian Ai smiled and joked. She walked out of the elevator without hesitation.

Jian Yichen frowned and glared at Jian Ai's back as she walked away. However, he told himself in his heart that he was a boy and would not stoop to her level!

Jian Yichen only retracted his gaze after Jian Ai had left the hotel and got into a sapphire blue car.

"Yichen!"

At this moment, Jian Changsheng, who was wearing a singlet and shorts, walked to Jian Yichen's side and followed his gaze to the door. He asked, "What are you looking at?"

Jian Yichen pouted expressionlessly. "Nothing."

Then, he looked at Jian Changsheng with a slight frown. "Dad, I don't want to play with water."

Not only did he say that, but Jian Yichen was also protesting with his actions.

Jian Changsheng looked at his son who was wearing a T-shirt, jeans, and sneakers. He smiled helplessly. "Just for a while. How can we not go to the beach when we're in Macau?"

"We should have gone to the casino in Macau. Why didn't you bring me along?" Jian Yichen pouted.

Jian Changsheng didn't get angry. Instead, he patted his son's head and said in a loving tone, "Don't be anxious. I promise you that I'll take you to the casino when you're of age, okay?"

Then, he coaxed, "Sister wants to go to the beach. Haven't you always said that men should give in to girls? Just treat it as accompanying Sister, alright?"

Jian Changsheng knew his son very well. This trick of being a man always worked.

As expected, Jian Yichen sighed when he heard this. He looked at Jian Changsheng and complained, "I know! Girls are so troublesome! Why didn't you give me a brother?!"

Jian Changsheng: "..."

His heart sank as Jian Yu's name flashed across his mind.

It had been more than ten years. He wondered how tall Jian Yu was now. Did he look like him?

And then there was the daughter he had never met. When Meizi got angry, she blurted out their daughter's name. He remembered that she was Xiao Ai.

Jian Changsheng quickly hid the disappointment in his eyes.

...

For convenience's sake, Bai Zhou rented a Maserati for a million yuan at a rental car company in Macau.

The Royal Casino was one of the three biggest casinos in Macau. One could experience the grand atmosphere by hearing the name alone. It was located on the top floor of Sun Moon Building in the business circle of Macau and belonged to Macau's Qingbang Group.

Macau's Qingbang Group was an organization with a hundred years of history in Asia. Together with Japan's Yamaguchi Group and Country Z's Hongfan Society, they were known as the three biggest gangs in Asia. Their position in Macau was deeply rooted, and even the Macau government had to avoid them.

Security in China has always been stable. Although the underground forces were complicated, they were not as large-scale as the three biggest gangs in Asia.

Sun Moon Building was a landmark building in Macau. It had forty-eight floors and each floor was surrounded by various entertainment industries.

Bai Zhou and Chi Yang also changed into black suits. The three of them stepped into the elevator and went straight to the Royal Casino on the top floor.

When the elevator door opened, a dazzling gold color greeted their eyes. With just one glance, Jian Ai could tell that the wall was not made of golden wallpaper, but real gold plating.

She could not help but sigh in her heart. How generous!

Chapter 243: Macau's Royal Casino

“Welcome to Macau's Royal Casino!”

The moment they stepped out of the elevator, a staff member dressed in professional attire received them.

Among them, Bai Zhou had the most outstanding temperament and appearance. One could tell with one look that he had an extraordinary status. The staff member instinctively looked at him.

“Please follow me!”

At the end of the corridor on the top floor was a golden door. Outside the door were eight staff members in black suits, each with a walkie-talkie.

The door slowly opened, and the noise inside the Royal Casino burst out, instantly engulfing the world outside. It was also the first time Jian Ai had seen what a top-notch casino in Asia was.

The interior was shockingly large. More than ten crystal chandeliers were hanging high in the air, and the bar counter for exchanging chips was more than twenty meters long. The casino was bustling with people. The men were in suits and leather shoes, while the women had exquisite makeup and were dressed in evening gowns. If not for the gambling facilities everywhere, Jian Ai would have thought that she had accidentally entered some high-end cocktail party.

The waiters, who maintained professional smiles, carried trays through the crowd and provided free drinks and snacks for the customers.

The door closed and the noise in the room was instantly cut off. The corridor outside the door returned to silence as if they were in two different worlds.

“How is it?” Bai Zhou raised his eyebrows and asked Jian Ai.

“Not bad!” Jian Ai also smiled.

Chi Yang was already itching for a fight. He immediately said impatiently, “I'll go exchange for chips!”

Without waiting for a reply, he walked towards the bar counter.

Seeing this, Jian Ai couldn't help but ask Bai Zhou, “Chi Yang seems to like this kind of place a lot?”

When he heard this, Bai Zhou nodded without hiding anything. “Chi Yang can be said to be multi-talented.”

Jian Ai couldn't help but laugh out loud.

However, Bai Zhou continued, "However, Chi Yang and I have something to say first. The money won from this trip will belong to the Sect Master."

Before Jian Ai could reject him, Bai Zhou quickly continued, "We'll keep the capital. Don't reject the money we'll win, alright?"

It was someone else's money anyway.

Jian Ai's words were stuck in her throat. She looked at Bai Zhou's expression and did not say anything.

She nodded. "Alright then."

Only then did Bai Zhou's expression soften and he sighed, "This is probably the last time I'm helping the Sect Master win money."

This time, the Sect Master would not give up until she received a few hundred million yuan. Once the corporation would start its operation, the Sect Master would no longer need his money.

This was the end of his only use!

Sigh! As Bai Zhou's words fell, he sighed in his heart.

Jian Ai leisurely said, "Don't speak too soon. That might not be true!"

Bai Zhou looked at Jian Ai and nodded. "I look forward to it!"

Chi Yang exchanged thirty million yuan worth of chips. Each of them took ten million yuan worth of chips and then split up.

In her previous life, Jian Ai had never entered a casino before and knew nothing about all kinds of gambling. Fortunately, these gambling dens were not difficult to understand, and one would know the rules after watching them for a while.

The simplest was Big-Small.

The professional name was Sic Bo! Players and dealers would place their bets. To avoid cheating, the dealer had to put the three dice into the dice cup and shake them before the players placed their bets. After placing their bets, the dealer would open the dice cup and distribute the winnings!

A total score of four to ten was small. A total score of eleven to seventeen was big. If each of the three dice displayed the same number, it was known as a Leopard. A Leopard could win six times the original bet!

Sic Bo was always beneficial for the dealer. Players could not win by improving their skills. In the long run, the dealer would win.

Chapter 244: Sic Bo

The gambling table for Sic Bo was round. The table was split into two. On one side was the word Big, and on the other side was the word Small. In the center was a small circle with the word Leopard.

The dealer of the gambling table stood in the center while the rest of the players sat on the chairs outside the round table. Onlookers surrounded the players.

Because Sic Bo was a gambling game with no technical content, there weren't many onlookers.

Jian Ai found an opening and stood still. The dealer was shaking the dice cup in his hand. A few seconds later, the cup fell to the ground. The dealer looked at everyone expressionlessly and said, "Please place your bets!"

Jian Ai stared at the dice cup and narrowed her eyes. Her gaze passed through the wall of the dice cup and landed on the dice inside.

2-3-6. It was eleven points. Big!

According to the rules of the Royal Casino, the minimum bet was five hundred thousand yuan, so everyone took out five hundred thousand yuan and placed their bets.

After placing the bets, the dealer started to reveal the dice.

As Jian Ai saw, it was 2-3-6. Eleven points, big!

The people who won the bet couldn't help but smile. Five hundred thousand yuan could win a million yuan. The more they bet, the more they would win.

The losers weren't too depressed. No one would care about a few million yuan.

Gambling was simple and easy to understand. Jian Ai learned it after watching one game. She raised her eyebrows slightly and decided to use this to warm up and familiarize himself with gambling.

Coincidentally, the players beside her stood up and left. Jian Ai sat down without hesitation.

The surrounding people saw that it was a little girl. Even though Jian Ai was wearing a suit today, the childishness on her face was still there. It was obvious that she was still underage.

Everyone could not help but look at her a few more times, but they did not appear too surprised. After all, Macau's gambling industry was developed and legal, and there were often wealthy people bringing their children to play.

It was just that it was rare to have children on the gambling table.

The game started and the dealer shook the dice cup. A few seconds later, the cup fell to the ground and he said again, "Please place your bets!"

It was a gamble based on luck, so the players didn't hesitate much. Some people bet Big and Small. The bet amounts ranged from five hundred thousand yuan to five million yuan.

Jian Ai threw ten chips worth five hundred thousand yuan each on the table and said with a natural expression, "Five million yuan. Big!"

This action attracted everyone's attention once again.

At such a young age, she was already betting five million yuan? Did she have a gold mine at home?

However, before anyone could think further, the dealer opened his cup and said calmly, "4-4-5. Thirteen points, big!"

Everyone was shocked and instinctively looked at Jian Ai.

Jian Ai immediately smiled at the crowd, her smile carrying the innocence of a child who had won money.

Five million yuan. In the blink of an eye, it had rolled into ten million yuan. Jian Ai thought that it was convenient.

In the next round, Jian Ai bet another five million yuan.

The dealer: "6-1-4. Eleven points, big!"

Jian Ai had already won ten million yuan.

To avoid attracting too much attention, Jian Ai deliberately went easy a few times. However, when she went easy, the bet amount was only five hundred thousand yuan or one million yuan.

When she won, it was mostly five million yuan.

Some players could tell that Jian Ai was very lucky today, so they silently placed their bets with Jian Ai. After a while, they won a lot.

Jian Ai also saw that everyone was following her. To avoid unnecessary trouble, Jian Ai decided to play the last game before leaving the table.

The dice cup fell to the ground. The dealer's face was expressionless, but his eyes were fixed on Jian Ai. "Please place your bets!"

Jian Ai looked at the dice cup. 3-3-3, leopard!

Chapter 245: Leopard, Six Times the Winnings!

At the gambling table, the atmosphere fell into silence.

Jian Ai didn't move. The others didn't move either, obviously trying to follow Jian Ai's bet.

The dealer glanced at everyone's faces and urged again, "Everyone, please place your bets."

Looking at Jian Ai again, her petite body was leaning against the chair, obviously not intending to move.

Seeing that, everyone could only throw their chips in.

Everyone thought that this little girl would stop when she was satisfied. Who knew that before the dice cup was opened, Jian Ai suddenly threw five million yuan worth of chips in and said calmly, "Five million yuan, leopard!"

Everyone was stunned and looked at her. Jian Ai only had a playful smile on her face and did not have any other expression.

"This young lady doesn't play by the rules!"

"Since she has won money, she could do whatever she wants!"

"Sic Bo is based on luck. Although the chances of a leopard appearing are slim, there's still a chance."

“Exactly. She would win six-fold! Even if she lost, she would only lose five million yuan. She already won millions of yuan!”

The onlookers couldn't help but discuss. Jian Ai was the only one who had bet on a leopard today, and so far, there hadn't been a leopard on the dice table!

Jian Ai looked indifferent as her gaze landed on the dealer's hand. She also wanted to know if the dealer in the Royal Casino would cheat.

If it wasn't a leopard, it would prove that this casino wasn't as fair and clean as Bai Zhou had said.

Thirty million yuan was enough to test the other party.

After a pause, the dealer opened the dice cup, and everyone looked at him at the same time.

“Hiss...”

The dealer: “3-3-3, leopard! Six times the winnings!”

A sharp intake of breath was heard. Someone shouted, “Damn! It's really a leopard!”

Jian Ai saw the numbers on the three dice at the first moment. It was 3-3-3, leopard!

“Little kid, your luck is too good!”

“Yeah, you even managed to get this right.”

“If I had known, I would have bet on a leopard too!”

Jian Ai was only a fourteen-year-old girl. No one would associate her with a cheater. Furthermore, the dealer controlled this bet. There was no chance for the player to cheat.

Hence, everyone thought that she was lucky today. After all, it wasn't like there weren't people who never won with a leopard before.

The dealer was someone who had seen much of the world, so he didn't say anything.

A leopard would get six times the winnings. Thirty million yuan worth of chips were delivered to Jian Ai. In addition to what she had won before, the chips had piled up into a small mountain. It was almost one hundred million yuan!

Sic Bo was indeed simple and quick to earn money, but Jian Ai knew that she couldn't take advantage of the situation. She put the chips in the tray and got a waiter from the casino to help her carry them. Then, she gave everyone a look that said, ‘Enjoy your game, I'm leaving.’ She turned around and left.

Everyone looked at Jian Ai's back with reluctance and envy. They only looked away when her petite figure disappeared into the crowd.

Jian Ai walked around. The Royal Casino was one of the most famous casinos in Asia. Many people came to Macau because of its reputation. It was also the first of May holiday, so there were more people in the casino than usual. Most of the gambling tables were full.

In the middle of the casino was a round table similar to the one used in Sic Bo, but it was much bigger. It was crowded with onlookers, and the game looked interesting.

Chapter 246: Fight to the End

Jian Ai squeezed forward curiously and realized that there was no dealer. Ten players were sitting around the huge table. There were both men and women, and Bai Zhou was among them.

Jian Ai unintentionally looked around and was stunned.

Opposite her, a pair of deep peach blossom eyes noticed Jian Ai the moment she appeared. When Jian Ai looked over, their eyes met across the air. The other party had a faint smile in his eyes and he smiled faintly at Jian Ai.

That evil smile was dazzling.

Jian Ai was stunned. She did not expect to meet Ji Haoyu here!

She thought back to that day at Starlight Bar when she had almost taken Liu Yong's life under the control of the violent gene. At that time, it was Ji Haoyu who had appeared in time to stop her.

Regardless of whether Jian Ai's impression of him was good or bad, Ji Haoyu had helped her last time. Otherwise, she could not guarantee that her hands would not be stained with someone else's life.

She did have the ability to kill, but she did not want to.

Thinking up to this point, Jian Ai also nodded lightly at Ji Haoyu. Although her expression was cold, compared to her attitude when the two of them met before, her attitude had already improved greatly.

Seeing this, the smile in Ji Haoyu's eyes grew bigger. Then, he slowly retracted his gaze and threw away the cards in his hand in a suave manner. His low and magnetic voice slowly spat out one word, "Fold."

"Fold!"

"Fold!"

The players consecutively gave up their cards. It was obvious that their cards were too small and they had no chance of winning!

Jian Ai quietly moved behind Bai Zhou. The waiter carrying the tray hurriedly followed.

As if sensing something, Bai Zhou slowly turned his head. His gaze fell on the small mountain of chips on the tray, and he immediately smiled at Jian Ai. "Good harvest? What did you play?"

Jian Ai smiled. It was obvious that he was in a good mood after winning money. She raised her eyebrows and said, "Sic Bo!"

Hearing this, Bai Zhou nodded and looked at Jian Ai with a meaningful expression. "That's convenient."

The meaning behind his words was self-evident. Jian Ai didn't respond but looked at the gambling table with a faint smile.

This game was called Fight to the End, and up to ten players could participate at any one time.

Before the start of the game, every player had to place a bet of three million yuan as the base. This base meant that even if your cards were bad and you wanted to fold, you would not be able to get any money back. In other words, once you fold, you would lose three million yuan!

The players who did not fold their cards in the first round would enter the additional round. If they felt that they had a chance of winning with their cards, they could freely increase their bets. It would be an increment of five hundred thousand yuan each time, and there were no restrictions. This was the reason why it was called the fight to the end!

If more than two players entered the additional round, players could see their opponent's cards by throwing in twice the bet amount of chips.

If their cards were bigger, they could throw away the opponent's cards and the opponent would be eliminated!

If the opponent's cards were bigger, he would throw away his cards and be eliminated!

After entering the additional round, they could also automatically give up their cards, but they could not take back the base and any additional chips.

In the end, two players would increase their bets until they could open the cards, and the one with the bigger combination would win all the chips in the bet.

The winner could win at least thirty to fifty million yuan. After all, the base had thirty million yuan if there were ten players. More than one hundred million yuan could be won as well. This was the biggest game in the entire casino. Because there was no dealer involved, it was all up to the players.

If it did not involve the interests of the casino, the casino would not interfere with how much players have won.

Jian Ai casually glanced at the chips in front of the ten people in the game. Bai Zhou had won quite a bit, but the person who had won the most was none other than Ji Haoyu!

Chapter 247: I'll Do It

Ji Haoyu was wearing a black suit with a white shirt on the inside and a dark blue bow on the collar.

His short hair brought a trace of gentleness to his handsome face that was as sharp as a knife. His every move seemed casual, but in reality, he inadvertently revealed an unyielding and elegant demeanor that made others unable to look away.

It was the same feeling Jian Ai had when she first met him. This man's aura was always contradictory but somehow, it was not conflicting. Two completely different auras were vividly displayed on him.

With a straight flush, Ji Haoyu won another round. Tens of millions of yuan worth of chips were pushed towards him, but his expression remained the same. It was as if to him, no amount of money could enter his eyes.

"Young Master Ji's luck today is not bad."

The players at the same table recognized him, so they couldn't help but laugh.

Ji Haoyu tilted his head slightly and smiled like a playboy. He said softly, "It's just entertainment."

The other party could not help but laugh. He thought to himself that it made sense. As the young master of a top-notch financial group in Asia, why would he be excited over a victory of tens of millions of yuan? To him, this gamble was just a game to entertain himself.

"How do we calculate the combination of cards?" Jian Ai asked the waiter who was holding the chips for her.

She had just watched a few rounds and already understood the rules of the game. However, the biggest combination that had been played was Ji Haoyu's straight flush in the last round. Was there a bigger combination than that?

The waiter explained to Jian Ai in a soft voice, "They will look at the cards first, followed by the suit."

"Having three joker cards is the biggest combination, known as Ghost! After Ghost, three-of-a-kind is collectively known as the Empress! Next is the straight flush. This is followed by a flush, which means that the numbers are consecutive but of different suits. Here, you have to pay attention to the fact that A-K-Q is not considered consecutive. Only A-2-3 is considered consecutive. After that, it's a pair. A pair of aces is the biggest while a pair of twos is the smallest."

"The suit arrangement is spades, hearts, diamonds, and clubs."

The waiter gave Jian Ai a simple and detailed explanation. Jian Ai understood immediately and smiled at the waiter. "Thank you."

The waiter looked like he was only a few years older than Jian Ai. When he saw Jian Ai's gentle and beautiful smile and the twinkling light in her eyes, he immediately blushed and lowered his head to hide it. "You... you're welcome."

Jian Ai did not notice him, and her gaze returned to the gambling table.

The match ended just in time. Bai Zhou only used a pair of Kings to end the match. The players during this round did not have a good combination of cards.

Gently patting Bai Zhou's shoulder, Jian Ai said, "I'll do it."

Bai Zhou stood up and made way for Jian Ai. Seeing this, Bai Zhou's waiter hurriedly put the chips that he had won onto the tray, while Jian Ai's waiter placed her chips in front of her.

More people were watching this game than Sic Bo. As soon as Jian Ai sat down, a commotion broke out.

This kind of gamble might seem like a competition of luck, but in reality, it required a very high level of skill. A person's determination, expression, and even acting skills had to be hidden from the world to win in the end.

Obviously, in everyone's eyes, such a gamble was not suitable for an underage child to participate.

Ji Haoyu was sitting opposite Jian Ai. He was also looking at her. However, unlike other people's surprised and probing gazes, Ji Haoyu's eyes were only filled with interest and no other emotions.

Chapter 248: What Card?

Sensing Ji Haoyu's gaze, Jian Ai instinctively looked up.

However, Ji Haoyu's deep peach blossom eyes were full of passion and charm. Even Jian Ai, who had no other thoughts, fell into a trance.

With just one glance, Jian Ai quickly looked away.

The flash of panic did not escape Ji Haoyu's eyes at all. At that moment, a trace of a smile appeared in his eyes, and he also shifted his gaze away from Jian Ai.

Bai Zhou stood behind Jian Ai and keenly felt Ji Haoyu's expression. He frowned slightly.

The Ji Group was one of the top financial groups in Asia and its reputation was renowned throughout the world. Naturally, Bai Zhou knew that Ji Haoyu, the eldest grandson of the Ji Group, would be the only successor.

He... knew Sect Master?

At this moment, the ten players had already thrown in three million yuan worth of chips.

The fully automatic gambling table started to operate. The ten players then had three cards appear in front of them.

Jian Ai calmly swept her eyes across the crowd and saw everyone's cards.

The cards were all different. The biggest combination was a pair of tens, which was in the hands of a noble lady.

At this moment, Jian Ai picked up the cards in her hand and looked down. It was 2-2-4. It was even the smallest pair of twos.

"Fold!"

"Fold!"

"Fold!"

...

The players consecutively folded their cards. The biggest card in Ji Haoyu's hand was a K, but he also folded his cards.

At the end of the first round, there were only three people left on the table. One was the noble lady who had a pair of tens, another was a blond man with a pair of sevens, and the last one was Jian Ai with a pair of twos.

The three of them were expressionless. This was also the fun part of Fight to the End. It was almost impossible to guess the cards one had from their expressions.

The noble lady was the first to add chips, "Five million yuan!"

The odds of winning with a pair of tens were not small, and it would indeed be a good fight. The noble lady was an experienced player. She immediately added five million yuan, making people think that she had a very good combination of cards!

The blond man, on the other hand, held a pair of sevens in his hand, which was not considered big among the pairs. But then, the noble lady added another five million dollars. If he wanted to see the other party's cards, he had to add ten million dollars.

However, there was also another possibility, which was that the noble lady was doing this on purpose to scare off the other two players.

This was the time to test one's mental fortitude.

Everyone's gaze fell on the blond man. After a while, the blond man folded his cards. "Fold!"

Before anyone could react, a soft voice was heard. Jian Ai threw five million worth of chips in and said, "I'll follow with five million yuan!"

This action left everyone speechless.

The noble lady was also stunned. If an underage child didn't have a good combination of cards in her hands, she should have folded.

Thus, the noble lady came up with two possibilities in her heart. One was that Jian Ai indeed had a very powerful combination of cards, and the other was that she was bluffing and playing mind games.

After thinking for a moment, the noble lady chose to believe in the first possibility since she was just a fourteen-year-old girl!

The noble lady struggled internally for a moment before folding the cards in her hands.

A pair of tens was not small, but it was easy for others to beat her.

After the noble lady gave up, everyone finally realized that this little girl had won without a fight.

What cards did she have?

According to the rules, when all players automatically give up their cards, Jian Ai, as the final winner, could choose to directly throw her cards into the shredder and not let others see her cards to preserve her strength.

To put it more accurately, to keep her tricks.

The next second...

Under everyone's gaze, Jian Ai directly showed her cards!

Chapter 249: Do Not Judge a Book By Its Cover

2-2-4!

Apart from 2-2-3, this combination of cards was the smallest.

Everyone was shocked. They stared at the cards for a long time before recovering.

“She dared to follow with five million yuan in a one-on-two match?”

“You really can’t judge a book by its cover. You’ve underestimated this girl.”

“Haha, interesting. Who would have thought that everyone would be intimidated by a little girl...”

Yes, no one would have thought that Jian Ai, a young girl who looked like she was only in her teens, would play mind games with these casino veterans. The funny thing was that she had fooled everyone.

Just this one time, everyone knew that they should not underestimate the girl in front of them. That young face and her tender age were both good camouflage weapons. She even had an advantage over everyone present.

That noble lady felt a lump of blood in her throat. It wasn’t because she cared about a few million yuan worth of chips, but because she suddenly realized that she had made two mistakes that she shouldn’t have made in the casino.

The first was to judge a book by its cover.

The second was to be full of herself.

More than thirty million yuan was easily won in one game. This was more than the amount won with a Leopard in Sic Bo.

Jian Ai smiled sweetly, and there was no other expression on her face.

The others, however, had different expressions. Ji Haoyu looked at the indifferent Jian Ai. The interest in his eyes grew even stronger, and the smile on his lips subconsciously widened.

Only Bai Zhou knew that even if the noble lady didn’t fold her cards, the final winner would still be the Sect Master. Because the Sect Master only needed to move a finger to turn the 2-2-4 in her hand into 2-3-4. Thus, no matter what, the result would be the same.

To Bai Zhou, the noble lady’s action of stopping the damage in time was extremely wise!

The gambling table started operating again. Everyone picked up their cards. Jian Ai saw everyone’s cards at the first moment.

No one knew that in this gamble, everyone was playing their cards openly when facing Jian Ai.

However, in this round, when Jian Ai looked at everyone’s cards, although her expression did not change, she knew that this round was going to be interesting.

“Fold!”

“Fold!”

“Fold!”

Three players consecutively folded their cards, while the rest of the players who did not fold their cards were sizing each other up, trying to predict the combination of their cards through their facial expressions.

“One million yuan!” Ji Haoyu was the first to raise the bid. His fair and slender fingers picked up two chips worth five hundred thousand yuan each and threw them in.

“Follow with a million yuan!”

“Follow with a million yuan!”

“I’ll follow with a million yuan too!”

None of the seven players opened their cards, and they all followed with a million yuan.

In the blink of an eye, there was thirty-seven million yuan worth of chips in the pool.

Ji Haoyu’s expression was as usual. He placed three cards on the gambling table in front of him and casually threw in another million yuan worth of chips. “I’ll follow again!”

“I’ll follow with a million a yuan again!”

“Follow with a million yuan!”

“Follow with a million yuan!”

When it was Jian Ai’s turn, Jian Ai raised her eyes and looked at everyone indifferently. Then, she calmly picked up four chips and threw them in. “I’ll add one million yuan!”

As soon as Jian Ai finished speaking, the minimum bet was increased to two million yuan. In other words, the people behind Jian Ai could not follow with a bet lower than two million yuan. If they wanted to see other player’s cards, they had to throw in double the chips!

The person on Jian Ai’s right was a Japanese. He had a pair of aces and a Q in his hands, which was already a good combination. He hesitated for a moment before throwing four chips in. “Follow with two million yuan!”

Next was the noble lady.

In the previous round, she had the best combination of cards, but she lost to Jian Ai. Thirty million yuan was gone just like that.

Chapter 250: The Storm Beneath the Calm

In this round, the noble lady’s cards were much better than the previous round. She had a 6-7-8 flush.

Without hesitation, the noble lady threw the chips in. “Follow with two million yuan!”

After one round, the chips in the pool were close to fifty million yuan.

Then it was Jian Ai’s turn. She didn’t stop throwing two million yuan worth of chips into the pool. Just when everyone thought that she was going to continue following, Jian Ai took another two million yuan worth of chips and threw them into the pool. Then, she looked at the noble lady with a faint smile and said softly, “Four million yuan. I’ll look at your cards!”

The noble lady was stunned as if she hadn’t expected this little girl to see her cards first.

Because she was next to her and she had yet to add her bet for the second round, if she were to be eliminated this time, it would be equivalent to adding one less bet.

On the other hand, Jian Ai was doing this on purpose. In the previous round, she had tricked this noble lady once, so she wanted to make her lose a little less in this round. As such, she chose to see her cards first so that she could be eliminated early.

Although it was said that the wool came from the sheep, this was still a bit of kindness from her.

When she came back to her senses, she placed her cards on the table and turned them to Jian Ai.

The other players stared at Jian Ai's face, trying to capture her first reaction when she saw the cards.

However, Jian Ai still had a faint smile on his face. There was no change in her expression.

Since she already knew everyone's cards when the cards were dealt, why would she be surprised?

On the other hand, the noble lady seemed to be very confident in her cards. Just as she was about to watch Jian Ai throw away her cards, she saw Jian Ai slowly raise her head to look at her, then gently shake her head at her. "Sorry!"

With that, Jian Ai threw the lady's card into the fold area.

It was obvious that Jian Ai had better cards than the noble lady!

The noble lady's expression remained unchanged. This was also a form of respect for the game. No matter how good her cards were that she lost, she could not show any sign of it.

However, she could not calm down in her heart. A flush was her best combination today, but she lost?

Could it be that she had a straight flush?

Then, it was the Japanese man's turn to add his bet. Someone had already seen someone else's cards. With a pair of aces in his hands, although it was a great combination, it wasn't a guaranteed win.

Four million yuan worth of chips were thrown in. The Japanese man chose to look at Jian Ai's cards.

Jian Ai raised her eyebrows and placed her cards on the table without hesitation.

With just a glance, the other party threw his cards into the fold area expressionlessly and then returned Jian Ai's cards to her.

In just two minutes, Jian Ai had eliminated two players. The chips in the pool increased to sixty million yuan!

There were still five players who hadn't given up yet. Jian Ai, who had eliminated two players in one go, had become the target of concern.

After the Japanese man and the noble lady were both eliminated, the player after Jian Ai became Ji Haoyu.

"Add five million yuan!"

Ji Haoyu had no intention of looking at the cards at all. He directly threw the chips into the gambling table and raised the bet to five million yuan!

With that, one had to throw in ten million yuan to look at someone else's cards!

The player after Ji Haoyu was a blond, blue-eyed foreigner. The cards in his hand were J-Q-K, the largest flush. This was already a sure-win in most games.

"Follow with five million yuan!" The blond man followed in without hesitation.

The remaining two people didn't want to take the risk, but they weren't willing to give up their cards. They threw in ten million yuan worth of chips each to look at the blond man's and Ji Haoyu's cards respectively.

Both of them were eliminated. The chips in the pool had reached ninety million yuan!