

At The Top 36

Chapter 36

“Father, you still keep in touch with Zayden Hanks?!”

Wendy asked her father after listening to the voice on the other end of the phone call.

“One of my greatest wishes is to list the company publicly. The elders from Zayden Hanks’ family happen to hold some authority over this sector,” Dawson replied.

“He’s a cold-blooded jackal. Father, nothing good will come out of working with him,” Wendy said angrily.

“Wendy, you must know that there are no eternal friends or enemies when it comes to business. Only benefits are eternal.

“We’re collaborating for mutual benefits. However, if he has thoughts that he shouldn’t have, I won’t have mercy on him.”

Dawson said in a cold voice.

Nevertheless, Jasper’s words were yet to be verified.

However, the possibility of something occurring was sufficient to shift the mentality of a formidable character in the business sector like Dawson Schuler.

realized that Dawson Schuler was definitely not an ordinary person to

...

later, a casually dressed young man who gave off a noble air arrived at the golf course in play golf, though. The three of them planned to have a meal at the restaurant on the had arrived. His gaze flitted from Jasper and lingered didn’t you tell me? I would’ve fetched you warm voice. His attitude was beyond to his etiquette, Zayden

a young, rich, handsome, charming, and well-mannered man like

came back to visit my implication of rejection from her cold demeanor. He chuckled. “How would it be a trouble? Given our relationship, there aren’t please take a seat.” Dawson pointed the middle while Jasper and Dawson were by his way to Jasper’s side and said humorously, “My dude,