

At The Top 37

Life at The Top

Chapter 37

Zayden smiled through his rage. "Alright, alright, nobody in the entire province dares to talk to me like that," he said in a level tone.

LIVE

An error occurred. Please try again later

"Zayden," Dawson said, "Young people shouldn't act so rashly. It's the same anywhere you sit. Come here, sit beside me," he added.

Although Zayden was extremely displeased, he could only suppress his anger since Dawson had told him off. Anyway, it was more embarrassing for him to stand there.

After taking his seat beside Dawson, Zayden raised his gaze and pinned it on Jasper.

"Given your arrogance, you must not be an ordinary person. How dare you talk to me like that? Tell me, which family are you from?" Zayden asked.

"The Laines," Jasper replied curtly.

"The Laines?" Zayden pondered upon it. There were not any prestigious families called the Laines in the province. No one in the province would dare to talk against him like that. Was he from overseas?

it anymore. My family isn't prestigious or wealthy. We're you making a fool of me?"

a fool of you?" Jasper b*stard. It takes skills, not slick-talking, to make it in this society. If you act so rashly, be careful of not even knowing how you fell to your not someone meant for a lowly

the Hanks are in the

enough!" Wendy burst sort of relationship between us. Who I choose to befriend isn't any expression on his face. "You tricked my father into investing in the financial sector. Where did all the money go?" she questioned him

Dawson was remaining silent without saying his plan was flawless. It was impossible for anyone

his. Wendy was ambiguous right now. He simply watched Wendy, who was interrogating him, without saying anything. He was obviously waiting for Zayden immediately suppressed his thoughts and said, "Wendy, you've makes you think that I have the