

Attributes 861

Chapter 861

Anyway, I have worked hard to get to where I am today, so I have made a lot of preparations before this, and the rest will not cause me any trouble.

Among so many people, there are only a few people who are truly loyal to this place, so now they must prove to everyone that they are the most successful people.

Otherwise, how could they agree with some of my actions? In fact, in this lesson, I still thought about a lot of worlds, so in order to avoid all this, I also took great pains.

"Well, as long as you compromise here, I will help you."

Who knew that the elder in front of him had an extremely disgusting face and was even preparing to verbally attack her, but the person next to him stopped him in advance. After all, some of the actions taken here depend on chance.

If I really have the ability, I might as well learn about some embarrassing situations through the choices between these people.

However, in order to avoid such choices, I have also taken great pains, hoping to give them some explanations, but several people seem to be right. I look completely indifferent.

If there was a reason for the previous incident, now I have strengthened my inner thoughts. If this happens, it is very likely that I will fall into an idea.

In order to ensure that this can be done at the moment I have wasted a lot of opportunities to solve myself smoothly, but I never expected that it would be like this now.

But I have to admit that with their help, my work here has been completely smooth, but the more and more It is because everyone has different opportunities to adjust here, and now I have learned a lot in my heart.

In order to ensure that Salo can get their assistance, I have deliberately left a lot of clues here. I hope that I can happen to follow Salo here by then. They met, but they never expected that it would not go as smoothly as they thought.

Moreover, there were many people here preventing them from moving forward. If they had to draw some conclusions, they would most likely give Gu Shaoyang They brought some interference.

He took Medusa away because he was looking for a feasible way. If he was here to cause them trouble, wouldn't it be adding fuel to the fire, but I have to say that everyone thought here The more specific it is, the more events I can see clearly now.

After all, who here is not here for these things, even myself must be the same, so for now, I can only use these methods Gradually, I became keenly aware of some processes.

Anyway, I also saw the subsequent results. The time wasted here is basically in vain, so I must consider the success and who will give such measures here. But absolutely Unexpectedly, not long after they left, these people came to contact them. The time apart was extremely short.

So it made me feel a little uneasy. Is all this really what I thought? Look. It seems a bit incredible.

So in this route, I also carefully identified some options, for fear that the method they are giving now is not as simple as expected.

In fact, everyone can get some different changes, but Because some of the choices I made now were different, but then I realized some problems.

In fact, during this transition period, it is useless no matter how complicated my thoughts are. If you really have the ability, you might as well make some relevant decisions through the range of the spiritual realm. The corresponding response was that it also brought assistance to everyone.

However, I soon realized how stupid this idea was. Not only did these people not leave such relevant opportunities for themselves, they even took the initiative to do so. I have given up some goals.

If I continue like this, it will probably bring about a lot of changes for me, so the current style also makes me feel a little uneasy.

But the black cloak was here, monitoring their actions, and even made some other judgments. If they wanted to slip out from under his nose, it would not be as easy as expected.

Although I have identified what these people are doing on this route, including what Medusa should do now, anyway, it is very likely that I will learn some problems during this period.

But at the end of the day, is it okay to let Salo kick their ass? Thinking about it makes me feel a little embarrassed. After all, no matter how bad the other party is, he is still an outsider. Is this a bit too much?

But he also thought of what Salo had told him before when he left. Without saying a word, if he encountered danger, he must call them to rescue him.

Therefore, I could only launch the signal flare while they were not paying attention at this time. The four holy cities also saw the direction of the signal flare, so they immediately looked over at them here, not forgetting to give some hints.

Chapter 862

Before, he had been longing for this situation to happen, but when it actually happened, Gu Shaoyang felt short-circuited in his head.

Without any other thoughts, Salo did give them his communication method, but he had only left for a short time. What went wrong?

Then I dodged some of their moves, recognized the situation in front of me, and suddenly found that some embarrassing situations had occurred at this moment. If it continued like this, it would really be enough to cause some problems for myself.

Everyone starts to move forward at this time, so you must think carefully about who is the person who needs to be solved most now.

Although Xun Feng knew some events here, there was still a great possibility that he would not be able to get some help for himself. So at this moment, Gu Shaoyang reconsidered with them.

Then I decided to do my own thing here. Anyway, the current incident is indeed like this. If I really have time to waste time here, it would be better to do something else. Anyway, in this process, I also see that Understand their approach

"I think everyone is here for that thing. In this case, we might as well get along peacefully."

But I didn't expect that there are several people here. Look at me, I think you don't seem to particularly believe in his words. If this is the case, then I may be a little worried.

But looking at the current situation, it is not what I expected. So smoothly, even though the current period was what I had expected before, there must be an explanation.

After all, most people have already put this move in their hands here, even if they are not used to it, You have to do something.

But I know some of their views. After all, it is not possible for everyone to get the final salvation here.

"I remember that the previous few people should have made some choices. Now I don't know if the remaining four holy gods can give it to us. If you need anything, we snake people will definitely do our best here to help you search it all."

But the cloud in front of me is hiding behind it, and it actually takes the initiative to distance itself from me. If it keeps like this, I will get some changes.

Although the current situation is very clear, in fact I don't know the progress. It's better to Just follow the trend and see if there are other people who can wish here.

Now everyone is performing their own duties, and no one will deliberately get too into other people's territory for this kind of thing, so I'm afraid I want to find some methods, not so Easy.

Although he worked hard to make some choices here, Gu Shaoyang was still in a perfunctory state in the end. If he rushes back from here now, it is okay to designate.

But there are some troubles on the way. If it is true If these conditions can be guaranteed, it is very likely that it will bring some intervention to myself.

Anyway, in order to avoid these results, I am currently working hard and wish I could get some other methods from them.

But you have to know how all this could be like this It's simple. If he really had such skill, he would have gotten some salvation and recovery early in the morning, but the people next to him also gave him a warning.

Anyway, Gu Shaoyang quickly realized some troubles on this road. Since everyone is here Everyone has found a path here, so there is no need to worry about those vague things. Anyway, Gu Shaoyang has also recognized some scenes now.

If this kind of thing really happens, then he might not be able to pass the current stages. to deal with it.

Although it all seemed like an empty world, I couldn't hesitate too much. After all, this was going to be a contest. Soon

I found the location of several other people. They were originally He can leave directly here, but he is waiting for him at the top of the mountain.

Maybe this can continue some problems for future generations, but in the end he has to make a careful judgment between the two.

That still depends on It depends on the ability. After all, there are a lot of troubles in this process. In fact, Gu Shaoyang has already considered this scope before.

But the reason is that he is still in the cave and has no way to escape, so for the sake of safety, Leave the altar first, this way you can avoid some disasters. The deal you made at the beginning was just to help him open the door.

Now even if you breach the contract, it doesn't seem that excessive. After all, you are here not only to open it for him. The door, and even other things will be done for him soon, so I don't blame myself for thinking so much here now.

Some of the scenes that were originally painted were formed in front of me. In fact, sometimes I also I have thought about it, once any problem really arises, who will be honest here and bring everything over.

Chapter 863

It's just that this kind of thinking is always a process. If you really want to lay everything out completely, it depends on your ability. Who doesn't know what will happen here.

But in the end, whether it will be all in vain or there will be other changes, it may require several people to discuss it here, but I have to admit that sometimes the more things are done, the more things are done.

There are more and more problems happening here, so I must ensure that everyone in this current area has the same starting point, otherwise who will help here?

The purpose now is to let them know who is more important in this territory. After all, everyone has undergone some changes.

But he was the only one who didn't. If he could seize the time, he would be able to get help from others very quickly. But what he is thinking and doing now are completely two different things.

I must ensure that several other situations can be resolved smoothly. This is also a rough measure of the previous events.

To be honest, I would not have had so many opinions before, but I don't know since when, all events have to be done according to my own changes.

If it were different before, I would definitely have a good fight with them, but now it's different. Everyone is doing their own duties here, and no one is delaying anyone. Wouldn't it be better.

After all, there are many conditions on this route that I don't know much about. If I drag myself here forcefully, I will probably cause some trouble to myself. I have worked hard for such an incident.

I wish I could give them some other methods, but I have to admit that the methods each person makes are more prominent.

If I can really give an opinion, I can probably end this directly, but now I don't dare to act rashly, nor do I dare to speak in a panic here.

In fact, sometimes it is based on several people teasing each other, but if you really have such ability, maybe you won't be hesitant here.

Sometimes the emergence of problems is the only chance for me to feel proud here, but I also realize something.

If you have to discuss some matters here, it is very likely to bring some changes to yourself. When the time comes, you will be in vain, and you will not be willing to do it.

So in the current situation, I am constantly trying to save everything. After all, my ability is special.

But now we still need to give other people some psychological hints here to let them know what they are here to do this time.

Otherwise, it would be too reckless, which is sometimes a bad thing. In fact, if it were the other way around, I would definitely be eager to give them such an opportunity.

Trying to have a certain weight in their hearts, but thinking about it clearly, if it is really that simple, then why can't I try to find some balance point on this route?

Although everyone came for the same purpose, he soon heard some voices next to him, but he really didn't expect it.

After all, the scenes on both sides can cause some problems to themselves at any time, but this is just their care for themselves, but no matter which point it is, it is no longer important.

I no longer need others to express condolences to me. After all, in this process, many things are reasonable in their eyes.

Since this is the case, I don't mind, and let them take a good look at who is the most capable person here.

But to be honest, after experiencing these changes, I suddenly realized that these problems seemed not to be solved easily.

It's as if someone has deliberately blocked this road here. If it continues like this, he may be hit hard, but this problem is really not that complicated.

If you say you have such ability, then you might as well go forward through this path first. It is estimated that you will soon be able to see some other guesses that are indeed true.

It will never compare to some of the actions taken here. The man at the altar could not find him, and even kept wandering near him. However, the place was very hidden. As long as he did not go out on his own initiative, they just wanted to see him. It's very difficult for myself.

After thinking about this, he became even more wanton. After all, everyone is here for the same thing, let alone those that are useless.

Although I thought of many problems during this process, whether it can be solved smoothly in the end or there will be no changes depends on everyone's luck.

Although I understand all this, if things really change in front of me, I still feel a little uneasy in my heart.

Chapter 864

After all, during this process, some of the problems that everyone realizes will become a huge trouble here, otherwise who would be willing to spend such useless time here.

However, I soon realized that there was not just one person who had opinions about me here, but there were even many other existences. If I had such ability now, then I would not have to end up in this situation.

In fact, sometimes it is a good thing to think too much. After all, who can guarantee that everything will be the same in the end? Now I am also taking great pains.

I hope to get some help from everyone on this road, but in fact the more I think about it, the troubles I will encounter here will definitely not become less.

Instead of falling into such an embarrassing situation, why can't I take the initiative to identify the surrounding scene and try to solve the problem at once.

But then I realized that the more I thought about a trouble, sometimes it was not a good thing, and on the contrary, it would cause some room for embarrassment.

So at this moment, I am constantly trying to explain to them that the situation here is not as simple as they expected, but a few people don't seem to be willing to hear the issues I am talking about here.

But there will always be a transition period, so now I understand what they are worrying about, but the current choice may not be as smooth as I thought.

At the moment, perhaps everyone needs to make an adjustment here, and give themselves a chance no matter what, so there are so many people here blocking their way.

Perhaps this is the most sad thing for me, but as the problems arise, several people have identified some directions. If it is really as everyone thinks, then it will be nothing.

But no one thought anything, as if they understood what they said here coincidentally. In fact, it was different time and place.

I didn't quite understand the purpose of what they did here, but then I discovered several routes. If it was really what I thought, why would everyone continue a route here?

However, the voice of the man at the altar quickly reached his ears. As expected, he was only very close to him, otherwise he would not have dared to look back here at that time.

"I really didn't expect this kid to run really fast. Why don't I hurry up and find other troubles?"

"Do you want to open all the mechanisms here?"

"Otherwise, what other means can be used to force him out of the corner?"

"Forget it, with so much effort, you might as well think about the unnecessary events. After all, everyone here is in a process. If there is such an opportunity, why should everyone be hesitant around it?"

With the sound of the two people talking, they walked farther and farther from here, but I still judged some other methods.

If I really have the ability, I might as well start from this path. Anyway, I have made a lot of achievements. This kind of preparation is to avoid subsequent troubles on Camp Street.

Gu Shaoyang also gave a lot of help here, although he knew that some other troubles were likely to occur in the process.

But to be honest, in the end, Is it all in vain, or is there someone who can take some precautions? This is completely unnecessary.

Who doesn't know what to do next, anyway, if you really have this ability, then it's not a bad idea. Before these options could be passed, Gu Shaoyang had already given himself a precaution here.

It really caught him off guard. He didn't expect to encounter such a thing at this time. It was a continuity aspect in itself, and he had no way to confirm it. What others did.

But as they left here, he quickly climbed out of the gap, grabbed a step next to him, and prepared to climb up. There were many things here that he had noticed before. The scene.

If you can face it calmly, that seems to be a good direction. I'm afraid that if everything is connected from beginning to end, wouldn't it be terrible?

Such embarrassing events will come soon. , I did follow their route, but soon an unexpected event happened in front of me.

Everyone was paying attention to the environment on the left and right, but no one could see them. Everyone Everyone is doing their own thing here, as if they are indifferent to this matter.

If it were different, I would definitely have to discuss it with him before doing it, but in this process, there are many things that are not so special and difficult.

Although I can bring a lot of help here, I have never been able to explore some of the paths here. Since I really have the ability, I can keep getting closer to here.

Chapter 865

In fact, I still hope that someone can replace these things as a coincidence and help me do some unexpected things. The other party is very smart and agreed directly here.

"Don't worry, as long as you agree to help here, I will find someone to help you soon."

The boy in front of him nodded, as if he didn't quite understand why he was talking to him like this, but then he discovered a secret.

It turns out that everyone here has his own opinions and is doing his own things. , but no one has ever paid attention to all this. In the end, is it a waste of water, or is it more attractive to me now that I have more.

Anyway, at the moment, I don't intend to seize the time, after all, this back and forth There is still a big edge on several routes, which makes it difficult for me to detect clearly.

If this is the case, then I really can't bear it. After all, from every angle, it may pose some threats to me.

Every one of them Everyone's eyes are on him, so now I have to find some key points here, and just treat it as some hints for them. After all, who here doesn't understand the following things. But next to The man didn't say anything, he just tilted his head and looked at himself, as if there were some precautions in all this. Anyway, he was not worried at the moment. If there really was such a method, that would be the only way to make it happen. I feel uneasy in my heart.

After all, what everyone does here is not all through the few things in front of me, so I am not in a hurry at the moment and do not waste time here.

Everyone is divided according to their own abilities. , so no matter how nice what I say, no one will give me these directions, and it also makes a few people next to me hesitate.

Everyone is waiting for the final stone system, but someone comes over After saying a few words, he directly dispelled his view.

So it can be seen how complicated this matter is, but to be honest, in every situation, there is still very little that I can understand.

In fact, if you can divide an area here, it would be a good thing. I am afraid that in the end, it will be all in vain, so what can I replace it with?

In fact, it is very likely that I did not think enough this time. Okay, so my people are going through this matter, hoping to get some opinions from them.

But in fact, it is not as simple as I expected. In fact, everyone is avoiding a route, as if they are maintaining everyone My identity here, anyway, seeing this situation now makes me feel a little reluctant.

Who doesn't know what will happen at this time, but it is because of some of the things they did here that led to I have been stuck in a dilemma.

In order to prevent them from starting a language dispute here, I am now eager to help them clear a boundary around them.

At least I am leaving some leeway for them, but to be honest , the previous incident is still fresh in my mind. If there is such an opportunity, then I must help and try to solve this matter at once.

Who doesn't know some of their practices here, if I really Even if you can face it calmly, it won't be to this extent.

Anyway, in the final analysis, it is a competition between a few people here. As for who will win the final victory, no one knows. After all, everyone here has a It's a respectful view, but I don't quite agree that he will find relief here.

Although everyone has the same purpose, they have to admit that to some extent, the events everyone has done still make them feel a little restless.

After all, there is still a big road in this path, and success is blocked in the middle. If you keep doing this, you may collapse from time to time.

So after some hints, the other party immediately understood what he meant, and the two of them took a detour here.

After taking care of all the other positions in front of you, you don't need to hesitate here at this time. Anyway, no matter what you do, a lot of things will happen, so you must understand what changes will happen next..

A lot of people suddenly appeared on the platform above. If I hadn't taken the time to take a closer look, would I have fallen into the crowd now?

Although it makes me a little anxious right now, I don't waste time talking nonsense here.

His most important goal was to escape first. Looking at the flash of white light above, he hesitated for a moment, and then climbed directly up.

I thought I could see some others here, but looking at it now, I really thought there were a few more people here doing their own thing.

No one was bothered to see this look, but it also made the people next to him laugh. If it continues like this, it will most likely cause some interference to them.

Chapter 866

The people below did not notice that they were above, and they were already preparing to capture them here. In fact, in the final analysis, it was still a matter of time.

Since someone can do these things here, they will definitely not be afraid of these problems. Although I have learned some opinions, the more paranoid something is, the more uneasy I feel.

However, in the current situation, no one left a chance for him. If he continued to hesitate here, he would most likely be replaced by someone else.

So at this moment, I had no choice but to rush upward here. In fact, before, I would have been eager to dodge here.

But the follow-up questions also made me realize some troubles. If it was really exactly the same as everyone else, then there would be nothing to doubt now.

But to be honest, there must be changes in what everyone does here, so instead of constantly hesitating here, why can't you consider seizing the time and trying to bring everything to a balanced situation?

I didn't expect that he would stop me in this place. After all, to be honest, some of the problems that happened before have been successfully imprinted in my heart.

If he really had the same opinion as they did, that would be the most uneasy thing in his heart.

They have given some methods, which are nothing more than to make themselves compromise here.

But when all the mechanisms are opened, they will also be restricted here, so they do not intersect at this moment, but instead place the surrounding events on it.

If it is very different from what I have thought about, then it is actually not my turn to think more about it here. After all, everyone else has given me a way, but it is different here.

As they approached him, he realized some problems in the blink of an eye. In fact, no one could win the final victory.

This is all the result of a battle between several people, but I have to admit that in this process, it is very likely that it will bring some interference to myself.

"How about this? I believe you can see the valuable thing. We are not trying to cause trouble here, we just want to try to restore everything to the original state. I wonder if you are willing to help here?"

"What's in it for me? It's impossible to do nothing, so I'm here to help you."

"That being said, we still have to base it on your requirements. If you have anything you want, you can just ask here, and we will handle the other aspects for you when the time comes."

After hearing these words, the person in front of him couldn't help but feel a little satisfied, so he nodded and looked at the people around him. If he said this, he would be relieved. After all, who wants to get these troubles here? In fact, they all No.

Besides, he definitely wants to leave, but due to the issue of face, he is embarrassed to speak here. Then I can handle these aspects for him.

Anyway, everyone is here for the same thing. , although I still feel threatened here, I still say nothing. This is what I should do most. In fact, sometimes I am aware of some troubles. Perhaps this is how I can be on this road The method given, but I have to admit that everyone will end up with the same scene here.

However, on this road now, it is very likely that I will fall into a stalemate. Then wouldn't it be It's terrible.

Although I wanted to sit down like this, I had some other excuses. After all, everyone here has no scruples. If you really have such skill.

I can try to make other people change here through their changes. The balance must have been restored, but to be honest, I have thought about what happened before.

Could it be that they were playing tricks here, but I soon realized that he is now one of them, no matter what If he has to be so special, it will only bring him endless trouble.

But for them, they also have a special potential here, so maybe hesitation is not what they should do now.

Anyway, it is necessary Leaving the real venue to these people in front of me, after thinking about this, I quickly realized a problem.

Now even if there is a method, how do they leave from here?

Is it all about luck?

Anyway I don't really believe in this kind of thing anymore.

It will only add trouble to myself, but it really makes my eyes shine. I quickly learned some other aspects on this route.

Instead of falling into it then When I got into a dispute, why couldn't I be calmer? Maybe I could deal with it in many other directions.

However, the current speculation was only a single aspect, and I soon realized how exaggerated it all was.

Chapter 867

"When you came here before, I had some guesses about your identity. Unexpectedly, I guessed it by mistake. You should be the successor of that person, but why do you appear here?"

"Can't you see clearly now? I have been trapped here, how can I have a chance to escape from here."

Hearing these words, the person in front of me asked, and then nodded with a smile, yes, what are I thinking? If it is exactly what I thought. Maybe that won't cause any problems, but at present It seems that it is also a rapid adjustment process. No one will know clearly what they are thinking here.

After all, the decision is made very quickly at the moment, which leads to some experiences that I have predicted.

"How about this? I think you probably know about the previous incident, so we won't waste time. Speaking of the previous incident, everyone is doing their own thing here. Doesn't it seem a bit wrong?"

Hearing these words, the person in front of him hesitated. He didn't want to deceive himself and open a way for him here. That was simply impossible.

I was already very vigilant here and kept everyone around me safe. It seems that shielding is not for anything else, but that during the process, I always have to take some precautions.

In fact, I know many situations, but due to different ways of thinking, I have to let go of these so-called Views.

Sometimes I am clear, but not so clear. Now I am working very hard, hoping to make other people understand what I mean.

"How about this, you have seen the previous situation, none of us want to waste time here, so we might as well divide the troops into two groups to handle one route each, which may be much faster than the current process."

Gu Shaoyang did not question his choice, but nodded at her here. In this case, he did not need to waste time.

This process itself is the only chance for him to hesitate here. In fact, sometimes I am also making judgments to see if it is what I think.

But what to do is always so caught off guard. In this case, I will fall into a siege, so I must try to balance everything to the original state before doing so. In that situation.

It can be regarded as solving some troubles for themselves here, but in fact, what will really happen is not something they can solve at all.

Someone here understood these troubles a long time ago and gave a solution A corresponding solution, the person doing these things happens to be the person in front of me.

No one will know where they are going to play this game of chess. After all, they always have to weigh their direction, but sometimes things happen. The beginning is often in these progressive processes.

No one can recognize everyone's intentions, so I also took great pains to understand some of their directions. However, despite these actions, I am still the same as before.

Sometimes greed is not enough, so you have to be sure of victory and be able to maintain everything that happens next. It is impossible to do anything by yourself, so they just give a direction. That will only add endless troubles. If they hadn't pointed a direction for him here, he wouldn't have fallen into the current siege.

As a few people divided into two groups here, he suddenly realized that there was a trouble that he could get rid of now. Others can be dangerous.

So someone needs to be out here. There will be many such things happening. I can't ensure that everyone survives here.

So I have to solve all this before they take action, even though everyone I know the direction of all this, but I am also a little hesitant.

After all, in the area below, there is only Gu Shaoyang, Xun Feng Xiao desk lamp, and the man in black is a survivor. If I want to attack rashly, it is very likely to cause some Trouble.

Especially Xun Fang had to make sure to prevent him from making some actions here. That kid was not a light-hearted person. If he got caught, there would be no room for turning around, so he kept identifying the surroundings. Looking at these situations, hoping to solve all the problems.

However, the terrain here is still in a crisis. From both sides, it is not clear what will be done at this time.

But as long as there is some way now, it will be It is handled through several routes, which is very likely to cause some interference to myself, so in order to ensure all this.

I have also taken great pains, hoping to solve these problems that need to be speculated here, but in fact, this choice is very quick at present. It's already in front of me.

If it is exactly what I thought, then why is no one willing to take the initiative here?

Chapter 868

Not only because of the difficult terrain below, but also because there must be a lot of people coming and going on both sides.

Therefore, he still needs to discuss whether he can escape here safely or whether he will be trapped in the heavy terrain.

But I have to admit that they were indeed very vigilant about what they did here, as if they had a prediction before.

If he continues like this, he will fall into trouble, so the people in front of him are constantly examining these results.

I hope to be able to divide some more useful areas on them, instead of being indifferent here and not having any needs.

After looking around, I realized some problems. In the current process, there were always some people who were unexpected, so I had to make sure that each of them had the same starting point.

Although all these opinions were based on his pursuit, after Gu Shaoyang confirmed that no one around would come, he directly informed the people next to him.

The people on the opposite side did not hesitate to bypass him after receiving the news, even though everyone was now on this road.

But some problems will inevitably arise. Since there are these tangled areas at the moment, it is better to deal with them smoothly. In fact, sometimes I can also recognize the surrounding scenes.

But it's a pity that the problem is still not as satisfying as the thing in front of me. In addition, each area is somewhat different, not to mention the remaining troubles.

In fact, if I had done it before, I would definitely have given some explanations, but unfortunately, it seems a bit different now.

However, no matter how eager these people were to catch up, there was nothing they could do. After all, I would never leave them such time. I didn't expect that they would actually get in front of me.

This did make me a little confused, but then I realized a problem. It might not be that simple now.

After all, everyone is on the way to get closer. If you can't deal with the surrounding scene smoothly, it will bring you some trouble at any time. But you also stay away from this, wishing you could hide in a small corner next to it.

"Do you think there will be any trouble before they get closer?"

"If you have time to worry about them here, you might as well do something else. Don't forget who committed such an incident here last time."

Unexpectedly, the person next to him didn't pay much attention to him at all. He turned his head and saw the person next to him, which seemed to have some predictions about all this.

To be honest, if it were different before, I would still want to give it to him. One way to say it, but after all, the problem still lies in the middle of these two things. In order to ensure that everything is foolproof, I only dared to say this after hesitating again and again.

In fact, under the current extreme situation, I still saw a lot of people, although they were quite different from what I judged.

But I soon understood some aspects. Instead of falling into deep contemplation, I might as well seize some opportunities here and try to solve the problem at once, anyway. Providing assistance to others.

The two sides have betrayed a route here, and no one is delaying the other. I don't know if they have planned it before, or have made some other preparations here.

But I have to admit that at present, the choice on this road still made me feel a little uneasy. After all, in the following process, I quickly identified several nearby areas.

If you insist on one's own opinion, it is very likely to bring trouble to yourself. Come with some interference, after all, wasn't that what happened before, so I worked hard.

I wish I could solve all these incidents, but the real trouble soon came. The person was not only chasing me, but also... Chasing the person running away next to me

"I almost know an area evolving here from the map. You follow me. The two of us can leave soon. Remember, no matter what happens in the scenes on the left and right, don't focus too much here. them."

The person in front of him was stunned for a moment. He didn't know why he did this, but he still nodded and looked at his actions here. Then the other person drew an area here. Then he walked away directly, as if he was worried about this. It was as if he was indifferent to everything. If he had done it before, he would have been eager to give an explanation, but he soon realized a problem. No matter how thorough he is here, what can he do? When he escaped, he would definitely not say anything. In order.

But I really didn't expect that there would be so many complicated situations on this section of the road.

Chapter 869

If I changed it, I would definitely have to discuss it with him carefully, but to be honest, these issues seem not as simple as expected. Will all events have a sequence?

But then I realized that everyone was chasing me here.

If you deal with yourself the way they do, you will most likely fall into deep contemplation, although the reason for all this is based on this premise.

But it still makes me feel a little uneasy. After all, everyone is here from the same starting point. In fact, no one will know the use of what they say here.

But so what, everything that happens then will not all be done according to this template, but then I realized a trouble.

If you see what the people around you are doing now, then you might as well do it quickly and simply get rid of a few things around you.

Wouldn't it be better to just put all the answers in front of them?

Anyway, the man next to him could see what Gu Shaoyang was doing now, and it was obvious that he wanted to leave this place as soon as possible.

But I have already mentioned to them before, don't do these rash actions here, it will only cause some trouble.

However, at present, there is no corresponding opportunity left for themselves, but the more they do this, the more appropriate it will be for them.

Anyway, during the transition period, I also recognized several scenes. If they can understand the words I am speaking now, it can be considered a success.

However, Salo and Medusa have been waiting for his return from above. Now everyone is waiting for such an opportunity and hopes to resolve this matter.

But they soon realized a problem. No matter how smooth they were doing now, they couldn't compare to the opinions of those people.

"Medusa is responsible for taking them back. Remember, the people on the road must be helpful to us. If you can lend a helping hand, then try to help."

Medusa nodded, but no one knew that after passing this turning point, he directly threw him to Natasha beside him and threatened him with his identity as the leader of the snake people.

It was necessary. Bringing the person back intact, how could the other party reject him at this time? He could only lead the person next to him with tears in his eyes and disappear from his sight. At this time, the ginseng in front of him exhaled. , and then walked back, watching the people in front of him coming and going, he suddenly felt a little dazed. Did he experience the same incident while waiting for them before?

What was this long wait ? It was the beginning.

But soon I realized a problem. Instead of getting into such entanglement now, why I didn't understand these situations very well. Anyway, in order to avoid these clues, I also took great pains in the next process, and I couldn't wait to You can understand some of the nearby conditions from them.

But here's the problem. If you can really understand all this, then what is there that you can't do?

In the end, it's just a bamboo basket. It was all in vain, so at this stage, I also understood some problems in my heart.

In fact, I can't control this state at all, but aren't everyone waiting for such an opportunity? Salo recognized the surrounding state and locked it directly. He killed one of the elders.

He took him back to the original boundary. In front of this door, he pressed the person directly to the ground. Before the people watching the excitement could react, Salo. His face was as cold as a piece of ice, and the people in front of him didn't dare to say a word. They quickly lowered their heads.

Help him get rid of the lock on the door in front of him, and then after doing this. After the action, the person in front of him couldn't help but froze for a moment. When did he start to suspect that he was this person?

But at this moment, it seems that he couldn't help but think too much. After all, many people were waiting for this fan. The moment the door opened.

As it opened, he saw a dark figure flashing past. It looked very much like Medusa. If he went in, wouldn't he be ashamed? He had promised Gu Shaoyang to the extent that he had promised to Gu Shaoyang.

So Salo ran in from the side in a panic, but forgot about the man who opened the door just now, and the man looked cunning here.

Then he directly pressed the switch next to him, turning this. A door closed again. Salo turned around and heard the sound of the door opening and closing.

At this moment, he was really caught off guard. It might not be that simple to solve it.

Chapter 870

But in order to ensure his safety, Salo did not hesitate for a moment and embarked on this route directly, even though all this was an unformed rule for him.

But the more this happens, the more I think about it, maybe this is a trap.

If you really have the chance, you might as well poke your head in directly from this road. Although all this is my own logical opinion, in fact, the few people next to me

"Since you have seen what happened before, I won't waste time. Salo is coming for Christi now, and there are some clues in it.

I have been exposed in some conspicuous places nearby. The next thing you have to do is to catch them all."

Xun Fawei's voice came from a gap. Unexpectedly, it happened to be heard by Gu Shaoyang who was hiding here. In fact, Gu Shaoyang's original intention at the beginning was to observe several nearby areas to see if anything would happen. Thought I happened to hear them talking here

To be honest, if they keep doing this, they will really feel a little uneasy, but the more they think about it, the more relieved they feel.

Now that I have made clear my final path here, some other troubles may happen soon, but I don't plan to be in a hurry.

Perhaps these were some of the troubles that I finally realized. Although I knew the final results of these problems, this moment also made me feel a little uneasy.

In order to ensure such a choice, I have also taken great pains, and I wish I could let them clarify some of my subsequent thoughts here.

But in fact, their purpose is very clear. If they can solve all this here, they may get a good direction.

But I have to admit that gathering in this direction makes me feel uneasy, and I am also working very hard at the moment.

In fact, no one can make some time here. The key still depends on the opinions of different people, but in the end, whether it can be dealt with reasonably or according to the current template.

In fact, everyone has a key point here. If this continues, then your heart is really a little uneasy and it is exactly what you think. Then why is no one willing to do this?

It's not because there will be some embarrassing situations in every direction in the end, and I happen to be the starting point here, but I have to admit that the more incidents they make here, the more interference they will have.

Since you have such a goal, you might as well pass through several nearby areas, just to take a precaution for yourself.

But even though I think so, it will still change to a great extent and bring some interference to myself, if everything happens like this.

That really made me feel a bit unbearable. After all, isn't this how every situation is experienced slowly?

So I am not in a hurry now

"Why are you still here?"

The collaborator who had given way to the steel material appeared here again. I always felt that he had an inexplicable sense of familiarity.

It was like Emperor Liuyun. I don't know why a light flashed in my mind. He actually thought of his name, and then shook his head as if mocking himself.

If it was really him, then he had clearly said that he wanted to give himself some so-called inheritance, so why did he leave himself alone and even have an impostor?

He actually contradicted his identity here, but no matter what he believed, he would never be sure that the person in front of him was Emperor Liuyun approaching.

Rather, he would rather believe that he was an ordinary person with nothing to do with him, and he would never bet on that one time. Well, that would be too much of a sacrifice for oneself.

No one can bear everything for no reason, but they also have to admit that there are reasons for some of the things the other party did here.

Although they have not mentioned it , but I still need to be greedy here to see who is the one who can occupy all the favorable terrain.

After all, it can be seen now that everyone is here for this one thing. If there are some obstacles in the way, , wouldn't it be a waste of time to draw water from a bamboo basket.

However, in order to avoid such a critical moment, I still think about it now, and still place all my hopes on the things in front of me.

No one can give an eternal judgment, if it really If there is a chance, it is also some of the past in front of me. In fact, sometimes I have been aware of these troubles, but it stopped here because of some methods in the middle.

Sometimes I can distinguish some of their practices, but It doesn't mean that others can understand him, so Gu Shaoyang holds Qixing Longyuan tightly in his hand.
