Chapter 576: The Uninvited Guest of the Auction House!

Chapter 576: The Uninvited Guest of the Auction House!

Just as Elena wanted to say something to Joelson, a light suddenly lit up on the stage not far away.

It seemed that the auction had officially begun.

Although Elena wanted to continue, it did not seem like the right time.

After the auction was over, she would have a good chat with Joelson.

With this thought in mind, Elena shifted her gaze to the stage not far away.

On the stage, the curtain was slowly pulled open.

It was a circular stage with layers of lights. The effect was very gorgeous.

It seemed that the Kardas family had done a very good job with the stage's lighting effect.

Then, a groove appeared in the center of the stage.

A beautiful figure appeared from it.

It was a woman wearing an extremely gorgeous lolita outfit.

Her face was as white as milk, and her eyes were as bright as gems.

She had a head of golden wavy hair that hung at her waist.

Looking from afar, she looked like a doll.

She was indeed an extraordinary beauty.

Joelson, who was sitting below the stage, commented in his heart.

This beauty was not bad, but her chest was too unfortunate.

Even Elena's poor breasts were much better than this doll-like girl.

Thinking of this, Joelson could not help but raise his head.

This emcee girl, could she be an underage girl!

If that was the case, it would probably be able to explain why her breasts were so poor.

"Look, it's the eldest daughter of the Kardas family, Freya Kardas!"

"She's as beautiful as the rumors say!"

"Yeah, she's clearly in her twenties but she looks like a child."

"Shh! Keep your voice down. Lady Freya hates it when people call her 'little girl.' If she hears you, I'm afraid you won't have a good ending!"

"Ah! Little girl, I like this type of girl the most!"

When Freya appeared at this moment, there was a commotion around Joelson.

Through the magic power that was released, Joelson could easily hear the voices of these people discussing.

After collecting this information, Joelson was even more surprised.

This girl who looked like a doll was actually in her twenties?

Wasn't she a legal loli?

Perhaps he should consider this type of beautiful girl as well?

On the stage, Freya would not slow down the progress of the auction just because of what Joelson was thinking.

She raised her small hand and held the microphone-like magic item that was used to amplify the volume with some difficulty.

"Dear guests, I am the eldest daughter of the Kardas family, Freya Kardas. Here, on behalf of the Kardas family, I would like to express my most sincere gratitude to all of you for coming to our family's auction."

After saying that, Freya bowed deeply.

Of course, these were just pleasantries. They were just the most basic procedures.

If they really treated this eldest daughter of the Kardas family, Freya, as someone who was easy to bully, they would probably suffer a great loss.

"On behalf of the Kardas family, as the host of this auction, I would like to introduce the various details of this auction to all of you."

"We don't need to say any more nonsense. Let the auction begin."

Freya casually said a few words before snapping her fingers.

The staff at the side immediately understood. They immediately pulled an incomparably huge iron box onto the stage.

Everyone's attention was immediately attracted by this huge iron box.

After all, this was the first item in the Kardas family's auction. It was definitely not an ordinary item.

"Next, let's directly introduce the first item."

"To be honest, I don't really like these things. This kind of thing is not a hobby that a lady like me should have."

After Freya finished speaking, the huge metal box behind her suddenly opened up. An incomparably huge metal ax appeared in front of everyone.

This metal ax was three meters long. Just the tip of the ax was one meter long.

The ax's blade was dark-gold in color, and it was engraved with a complicated magic array.

It seemed to have several magic seals on it.

Moreover, this ax's blade looked extremely sharp. Its might should not be underestimated.

This was an extremely exaggerated ax. If an ordinary person were to stand beside it, the ax's blade alone would take up half of their body, not to mention brandishing it.

"The first item in the collection is a weapon."

"The Berserker's battle ax has metal attributes and is at god's domain rank."

"The starting price is 5,000 snow crystal coins. Each bid will be increased by at least 100 snow crystal coins."

Before Freya could finish her sentence, everyone present was in an uproar.

A weapon at god's domain rank!

One had to know that even in the inner city, a god's domain rank was a top-tier existence.

As for the majority of the people in the outer city, they had to raise their heads and look up at the word 'god's domain.' Now that a god's domain ranked weapon had appeared before their eyes, how could they not be shocked?

"Is this really a god's domain ranked weapon..."

Some people below the stage muttered to themselves.

On the stage, Freya also heard this voice that made her unhappy.

Freya snorted coldly and said, "If you doubt our Kardas family's reputation, you can give it a try."

When the person below the stage who had been doubting Freya heard what she said, he could not help but shudder.

That's right. Kardas was a golden signboard in the underground city. They would not tarnish their own reputation just because of a god-domain-level weapon.

At this moment, an unpleasant voice rang out from a private room directly above the stage.

"You can't say that, Miss Freya. Your Kardas family's signboard can not be used as a guarantee for the quality of this ax, right?"

"If you ask me, if this ax really hasn't reached the god-domain level and caused the buyer to suffer a great loss, if the other party has no power or influence, would they dare to look for you?"

When Freya heard this voice, she immediately raised her head to look at the mysterious private room.

As the eldest daughter of the Kardas family, she naturally knew who this voice belonged to.

The underground city was located in the outer city. It was an existence whose reputation was on par with the Kardas family.

The Benolu family!

Below the stage, Elena whispered into Joelson's ear.

"Joelson, this is a god's domain weapon. Why is it only selling for 5,000 snow crystal coins?"

"Isn't this a loss?"

Joelson shrugged and said calmly.

"It's just a common auction method. I estimate that the price of this ax shouldn't be lower than 100,000 snow crystal coins."

"So expensive!"

Hearing Joelson's words, Elena sucked in a breath of cold air!
