"Since the hidden rats can't wait any longer, why haven't they shown themselves?"

Joelson's voice slowly came out of his mouth.

His voice was loud and powerful. It didn't sound like the words of a person with a walking stick.

Joelson looked into the distance. Elena, who was beside him, asked in puzzlement.

"What's wrong, Mr. Joelson?"

"I don't see anyone in the alley."

However, after Elena finished speaking, shadows began to appear in the area that Elena had already swept past.

They were all neatly dressed in black clothes, and their faces were completely covered by strips of cloth.

If one were to look from afar, one might really think that these dozen or so fellows were mummies.

Under their black clothes, their strong muscles directly propped them up.

The clothes that originally looked very loose were directly pressed into tight clothes by them.

A total of more than ten tall and burly people directly surrounded Elena and Joelson.

"What's going on, Mr. Joelson? What are they here for?"

Elena was frightened by the pressure from these people.

Although Elena could be considered an adventurer, she had never killed anyone with her own hands. At most, she was just a ferocious beast.

However, these people were full of murderous aura. At a glance, it was obvious that they had walked out of a mountain of corpses and bones. They were nothing compared to an inexperienced adventurer like Elena.

"You actually discovered us."

"Very interesting. Since you possess such a keen sense of smell, why didn't you run when you discovered us?"

The leader of the group, a man dressed in black, said coldly.

At this moment, they took out their weapons in unison.

Over a dozen high-level deity domain weapons appeared in their hands.

Deity domain weapons were not like cabbages on the streets. Yet, these people were actually able to produce over a dozen identical weapons of the deity domain at once. If the Kardas family members saw this, they would most likely think that they were dreaming.

This was definitely a large-scale operation. Most likely, the only people capable of producing such a large-scale operation were people from the inner city.

At this moment, Joelson was holding his walking stick as he calmly looked at the dozen or so people in front of him. There was not a hint of panic on his face.

If she was not surrounded by the dozen or so strong men, Elena might have thought that Joelson was taking a walk in the garden.

"Mr. Joelson... What should we do..."

"The aura from their bodies show must have killed before..."

Elena felt her knees go weak.

Although she had killed many magical beasts, compared to the aura of these experienced professional killers, Elena was just a newbie.

Just the murderous aura from their bodies was likely enough to make Elena lose her ability to fight.

Joelson looked at Elena, who was already a little afraid, and rubbed her head.

"It's okay. They won't make a move yet."

In the distance, the leader of the men in black couldn't help but be a little surprised when he heard Joelson's words. He said coldly to Joelson.

"How do you know that we won't make a move against you?"

"Kid, do you know our background?"

Joelson shook his head.

He didn't know anything about the outer city and inner city of the underground city.

However, there was no need for him to know anything about it. Now that he had obtained the resplendent gem, the strongest existence in the underground world was only on par with him in terms of strength.

In front of absolute strength, this insignificant information could be ignored by Joelson.

The black-clothed man in the lead frowned.

At this moment, Joelson's expression was too relaxed. It even made him feel a strong sense of contempt.

He had been the shadow of the Elizabeth family dealing with dirty matters in the outer city for so many years. These guys who were about to die were breaking down in his hands one by one.

They would do their utmost to let him live, or they would beg for their relatives to be spared.

But as the shadow of the Elizabeth family, the man naturally would not leave any survivors.

Over time, he had gotten used to the appearance of the prey begging before they died.

It was the first time in more than ten years that someone was as calm as Joelson.

Not only was the black-clothed man in front of him, his subordinates behind him were also very puzzled.

Could it be that the Joelson in front of him had already been frightened to the point of collapse, causing him to lose his mind?

That's not right..

The leader of the men in black frowned. He felt that the situation was not simple.

Could it be that the man in front of him was more powerful than them, which was why he was so calm? Was he waiting for them to make a move and save the damsel in distress?

When the man in black thought of this, his eyes tensed up. He hurriedly released his magic power to probe into the body of the man in front of him.

They were professional assassins. They would choose to be ten times or even a hundred times more serious in any tiny mistake they made.

Joelson's magic power was constantly activated. Now that the leader of the assassins wanted to probe his own power, Joelson couldn't help but find it funny. He didn't have any thoughts of defending himself, he allowed the assassin's magic power to probe him.

He was a peak demigod. How could the assassin, who was at the peak of the divine realm, succeed in detecting his strength?

The black-robed man's gaze became more and more solemn.

After all, he had already probed Joelson's entire body. He didn't have any magic at all. Elena, on the other hand, was an existence at the divine realm level.

However, she wasn't very powerful either. At most, she had just entered the divine realm. In front of them, she didn't pose much of a threat.

The black-clothed man was very confident in his own strength. After all, in the underground city, other than some old monsters who had lived for a very long time in the inner city's great clans, there was practically no existence who was stronger than him.

The peak of the deity domain was the highest point in the outer city of the underground city.

Even if the other party was on par with him, he would still be able to sense the other party's mana fluctuations. It would not be said that he could not even detect them.

The black-clothed man's eyes were cold.

He had already obtained the answer. Joelson was just an ordinary person. He did not even have the slightest bit of mana. There was no reason for him to be so arrogant. He probably thought that he could scare them.

Unfortunately, they were all professionals.

The leader of the assassins snorted coldly. He hated people like Joelson who played tricks the most.

When the young master came, he would give Joelson the most painful way to die.
