Chapter 681: The True Meaning of 'Going Easy.' The Two of Them Had Turned against Each Other!

"That's because... Captain Nair went easy in the duel just now!"

As Joelson announced loudly, everyone's eyes were filled with shock!

Go easy? What did this mean?

When Vice-Captain Hansen heard this term, he was also puzzled.

This was the first time he had heard this term, so he did not know what it meant.

When he saw the confusion on the other party's face, he immediately understood. The underground city did not seem to understand the meaning of this word very well.

"The meaning of 'going easy' is very simple. It means that the captain of the guards, Nair, did not use all of his strength in the duel just now. Instead, he deliberately conserved his strength and fought with you in the final killing move!"

Seeing that the other party did not understand, Joelson directly explained the meaning of this word.

However, the moment Joelson said the meaning of this word, everyone was stunned.

Because compared to the confusion of the new word, they were more shocked by another matter.

On the other side, Captain Nair in front of them actually did not use all of his strength in the battle that was so evenly matched just now. Instead, he conserved the strength in his heart. He had actually conserved his strength in the face of Vice-Captain Hansen's attack!

This was simply too shocking.

Everyone below the arena instantly erupted into an intense debate.

They were chattering amongst themselves. What exactly was the meaning of these words!

Was it possible?

Everyone was in disbelief for a moment!

There was no other reason.

Although the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, were at the deity-level, against the peak demigod, Joelson, even a single glance at the two of them would be considered a loss.

As for Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, the powerful Joelson was an even more unreachable existence.

Compared to the peak demigod, Joelson, challenging the god-level Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, the two sides had an enormous disparity in power. They weren't evenly matched at all. Thus, they believed that one side hadn't used their full strength.

After all, the disparity in power was there. The powerful side had the ability to freely preserve their own strength, not having to fight with their full strength.

But to everyone, the two people in front of them, the deity-level captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had a duel that was completely different from the duel between Joelson and Reynolds.

Their strengths were not that far apart from each other.

The greatest difference between the battle between Joelson and iron-blooded Reynolds was this!

When two people of similar strength engaged in a life-and-death battle, in the eyes of everyone present, they could not hold back at all!

This was a battle where they had risked their own lives. Once they held back a little bit of their strength and allowed the other party to seize an opportunity, they would lose their lives.

Under such a tense situation, Joelson actually said that Guard Captain Nair had concealed all of his strength during the battle!

Guard Captain Nair did not use his full strength. This was too much to accept.

One had to know that their eyes had not gone blind. They had personally witnessed the decisive battle of the century between Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen!

The ultimate killer move that they had unleashed was aimed at killing the other party!

Who in this world would go easy in such a battle of peak combat strength?

Basically, everyone had to prioritize ensuring that they were complete before going easy in a battle, right?

If that person went easy in a battle, then regardless of whether there was something wrong with his brain, first of all, how could he guarantee that he wouldn't be killed in this battle!

No one could guarantee that!

Everyone was doubtful, doubting the credibility of Joelson's words.

As long as one looked at the outcome of the battle between the two of them, one would be able to know the intensity of the battle!

One had to know that the arms of the two of them had been completely destroyed, not even leaving behind any remains!

With the intensity of the battle, if he were to reserve a little of his strength, he was afraid that he would be directly devoured by the opponent's ultimate killing move!

Under such circumstances, Joelson actually said that someone was going easy on him.

This was truly unbelievable!

"Lord Joelson is trying to help Captain Nair ascend to the throne, right? Otherwise, how could he lie like this?"

"That's right. Do you think this is possible? Going easy on someone in such a battle? This is simply impossible!"

"Hey, hey. Hey, don't say it so loudly. Don't let Lord Joelson hear you!"

Everyone was chattering. Obviously, they didn't really believe what Joelson said.

Joelson looked indifferently at everything that had happened below the stage. He had already guessed the reaction.

That's right, the reaction of the audience below the stage was within Joelson's expectations!

He calmly watched as the audience below the stage began to loudly discuss what he had just said. He wasn't surprised at all by this.

In truth, the captain of the guards, Nair, had truly been very realistic in his actions. He had almost fooled a peak demigod like himself.

If it hadn't been for the captain of the guards throwing a punch in the air at the final moment, perhaps Joelson would have been fooled by his opponent's realistic acting.

"Hey, Nair, is what Sir Joelson said true?"

"Did you really show mercy in the duel just now?"

Vice-Captain Hansen grabbed Nair's clothes in disbelief and questioned angrily.

In his heart, he didn't want to believe what Joelson said.

But in reality, he had no choice but to believe it!

After all, Captain Hansen was very clear in his heart!

Joelson was a much stronger existence than them!

As for lying to a puny deity-level underling like him...

There was really no need!

Joelson really did not have the need to lie to such a puny underling that he looked down on!

Joelson looked at Captain Nair indifferently and said faintly,

"Do you want to speak, or should I?"

Under Joelson's question, Captain Nair gritted his teeth and looked at his good friend, Vice-Captain Hansen, with a complicated expression.

"I'm sorry, Sir Joelson is telling the truth. I lied to you."

"In the battle just now, I didn't use my full strength..."

Chapter 682: The Truth behind It. The Anger of Vice-Captain Hansen.

"In the battle just now, I didn't use my full strength..."

"I'm sorry... Hansen!"

Captain Nair lowered his head deeply and expressed his apology to Vice-Captain Hansen.

Vice-Captain Hansen looked at his old comrade in front of him and, for a moment, he was in a trance.

In his eyes, all of this was very unreal.

The reason was very simple. The battle just now was clearly so intense. Now, this Joelson actually told him that all of this was fake.

The key was that the captain of the guards, Nair, actually admitted it.

The audience below the stage was also shocked.

"What? This captain of the guards, Nair, really thinks highly of himself. How can a person preserve his strength in such a level of battle? If he dared to do this, he would definitely have been killed long ago!"

"That's right. I saw the battle between Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen. They each lost an arm!"

"That's right. If another side were to preserve a little bit of their strength, they would probably be directly devoured by the opponent's ultimate skill!"

Almost everyone did not believe the scene in front of them. This terrifying scene really made all of them feel a wave of doubt in their hearts!

They did not believe the truth that Joelson had said, because all of this was too unbelievable.

At this time, even if the person involved, Captain Nair, had admitted the fact that he had gone easy on them, everyone still could not believe it!

In their eyes, all of this was just Joelson valuing Captain Nair. Because he was the first person in the underground city to offer his loyalty to Joelson, that was why he favored Captain Nair, it was announced that Guard Captain Nair had won the victory.

Under such circumstances, asking Guard Captain Nair to come out and say that he had saved his strength was just a lie!

Everyone was very sure that Joelson had asked Guard Captain Nair to admit the fact that he had saved his strength. Guard Captain Nair just wanted to rise to the position, so he deliberately made up a lie with Joelson!

Everyone was very sure of this fact, even if it was wrong.

Because all of this was too hard to believe!

Everyone secretly confirmed their dark speculation.

Everyone thought that Joelson must have wanted to promote Captain Nair, so they told the lie together with Captain Nair!

However, none of them expressed their dissatisfaction with such a lie.

That was because the king did not rely on lies and iron-blooded methods to rise to power.

This kind of unimportant lie was not aimed at them, so it did not matter.

Like the audience below the stage, Vice-Captain Hansen also had a look of disbelief on his face.

The spectators felt that their battle was extremely intense, not to mention him, who was at the center of the battle!

One had to know that at that time, he had used all the strength in his body, even using all his strength!

For the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, this was a battle where he had to put his life on the line. How could he allow the other party to have any leeway to preserve their strength!

Moreover, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen understood Guard Captain Nair very well. He knew the other party's strength very well!

Clearly, Guard Captain Nair's strength should have been caught up by him. How could he have any leeway to preserve his strength?

Everyone was shocked.

Everyone did not quite believe this fact, especially Guard Vice-Captain Hansen.

Vice-Captain Hansen slowly stood up and walked in front of Guard Captain Nair.

"Say it again. Say it again according to your conscience!"

Vice-Captain Hansen angrily questioned the man in front of him, Guard Captain Nair!

Guard Captain Nair didn't dodge his eyes this time. Instead, he stared straight at Vice-Captain Hansen.

He, Vice-Captain Hansen, only wanted an answer!

An answer that he could accept. He did not want a lie!

He did not care about status and power. As long as he could make Vice-Captain Hansen tell him that he did not conserve his strength and did not go easy on him!

Even if he used a voice that only the two of them could hear to tell him, Vice-Captain Hansen would be satisfied. He would be satisfied and keep this secret in his heart. He would not tell anyone.

Even if he was removed from his current position, it did not matter if he saw Captain Nair get promoted and become rich. As long as he could tell him the truth, it would be fine!

The vice-captain's burning gaze was fixed on the man in front of him. He stared into Captain Nair's eyes, wanting to see something from his eyes to prove his guess!

His simple wish could be fulfilled and he could retire with peace of mind!

Even if he had no chance of being promoted for the rest of his life, he still wanted to know the truth of the battle between the two of them!

This was the inviolable glory of a warrior!

When the captain of the guards saw the eyes of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, his gaze was no longer evasive as he stared straight into the eyes of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen.

The two of them looked at each other for a long time, but no one took the initiative to speak.

The hearts of the audience below the stage were suddenly raised to their throats!

Would they fight because of the secret operation?

If it was anyone else, they probably wouldn't, but that was the well-known and upright Vice-Captain Hansen!

He wasn't afraid of power and didn't care about what words should be said or what words shouldn't be said.

Vice-Captain Hansen did not understand any of the principles of being a man!

He only needed one truth. Right was right, and wrong was wrong!

Such a Vice-Captain Hansen was very likely to attack Captain Nair!

Even though he still had a broken arm and had not fully recovered from the serious injuries on his body!

However, when it was time to make a move, the vice-captain of the guards would definitely not care about the face of a powerhouse or the discomfort of his body!

When it was time to make a move, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would definitely not be vague!

He was such a vice-captain of the guards, Hansen!

When the two of them stared at each other, there would definitely be a fight!

In everyone's heart, this was basically what they thought.

However, something unexpected happened.

Chapter 683: Self-Proof of Captain Nair under the Watchful Eyes of Everyone!

Under the questioning twilight, Captain Nair slowly raised his hand.

Everyone was shocked when they saw the scene in front of them!

What was he doing?

Was he really going to fight?

Everyone's eyes were focused on the two people in front of them!

As expected, the two of them still chose to fight in the end?

From the beginning to the end, Guard Captain Nair did not open his mouth to answer Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's question. He only raised his hands indifferently, the violent energy contained in his hands was continuously accumulating power.

Under everyone's gaze, Guard Captain Nair slowly raised his hands.

Under the astonished gaze of the vice-captain, the power of lightning began to gather in the hand of Captain Nair!

Kacha!

Bolts of lightning were continuously gathering in the palm of Captain Nair!

With a rumble, the size of the lightning ball in Captain Nair's hand was continuously increasing. This terrifying lightning ball was continuously becoming bigger and bigger, becoming more and more terrifying!

Rumble!

Another bolt of lightning descended. The lightning elemental sprites were continuously gathering in Captain Nair's palm. The lightning sprites were continuously gathering on Captain Nair's body!

What a powerful energy, what a terrifying aura!

Everyone below the stage saw Captain Nair.

An invisible blue energy was gradually becoming stronger on Captain Nair's body. This powerful blue energy was gradually becoming violent and unpredictable!

Everyone looked at Guard Captain Nair in fear!

This fellow had actually recovered completely?

He had clearly lost his right hand in the battle with Guard Vice-Captain Hansen just a moment ago. Now, after drinking Joelson's recovery potion, he had actually recovered more than half of it so quickly?

Everyone's hearts were filled with a wave of fear!

Wasn't this recovery too fast?

Everyone was slightly stunned as they looked at Captain Nair, who was gathering his strength on the stage.

He was clearly on his last breath just a moment ago. Who would have thought that in just a few minutes, Captain Nair had already recovered to his peak condition!

Such terrifying recovery energy really made everyone's heart palpitate.

Everyone looked at Guard Captain Nair in fear.

Such a quick recovery speed, was it because of Guard Captain Nair's amazing recovery speed, or was it because of the high efficacy of the recovery potion given by Joelson?

Everyone was panicking!

That's right, panic!

With such powerful magic energy, the lightning ball that Guard Captain Nair released at this moment was clearly much stronger than the lightning ball that he released when he was dueling with Guard Vice-Captain Hansen!

The lightning ball that Guard Captain Nair held in his hand released a magical energy fluctuation that was much stronger than the moment when the two of them collided!

Such a powerful state shocked Guard Captain Nair!

After all, his wound had just recovered. Not long ago, he was still a weak person who had lost his arm and fell to the ground with serious injuries. It was terrifying for an ordinary person who did not have any cultivation to face such a weak self just now, he was also able to kick that form of his to death!

Just now, when he was so weak, in that moment of weakness, he had only become so powerful after drinking Joelson's recovery medicine!

Basically, the functions of his body could be said to have recovered by 70-80%!

No, not only had he recovered by 70-80%, the captain of the guards felt that his body seemed to be even stronger than before!

This recovery potion not only strengthened Captain Nair's cultivation, but it also seemed to have strengthened Captain Nair's bodily functions. Furthermore, his cultivation had also improved significantly!

What a powerful recovery potion!

Captain Nair sighed in his heart. When he saw the lightning ball in his hand, he was shocked!

Before this, he should not have left so much energy behind. He had only gone a little overboard and did not intentionally go overboard.

The lightning ball in his hand now was actually much stronger than the lightning ball in his prime!

Under the residual power of such a powerful lightning ball, everyone felt a wave of fear in their hearts!

Even Guard Captain Nair himself felt a wave of unreality, not to mention the other people below the stage!

They all looked at the lightning ball in Guard Captain Nair's hand in astonishment!

The purity of this lightning ball and the fluctuation of magical energy was clearly much stronger than the previous lightning ball!

Now, as long as the people below were not blind, they basically would not have any objections!

The power of such a powerful lightning ball clearly far exceeded the strength of the lightning ball in the opponent's hand!

When the audience below the stage saw the lightning ball in the hands of Guard Captain Nair, they were all shocked.

At the same time, compared to the shock of the audience below the stage, the person who was even more shocked was actually the person in front of Guard Captain Nair, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen!

This vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, widened his eyes at the scene in front of him.

The impact of this scene was too huge.

Different from the shock that everyone felt in their hearts, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, felt a strong sense of disbelief!

He would never believe that this captain of the guards, Nair, had actually hidden his true strength!

This made the vice-captain unable to accept it. When the other party was fighting with him, he actually did not use his full strength!

This was something that the Vice-Captain Hansen was unable to accept!

If such powerful energy was used during the fight just now, it was likely that the vice captain's Buddha's Fiery Lotus would not be able to withstand it at all.

At that time, he would not only lose an arm.

At that time, even Vice-Captain Hansen's entire body would be devoured by this terrifying lightning ball!

If at that time, the captain directly used all of his strength and did not reserve half of his strength to fight against him with all his might like what Joelson had said. He was afraid that he would no longer have this beautiful time!

Vice-Captain Hansen's heart palpitated.

This bastard Captain Nair, I didn't expect him to have cultivated to such a level...

The vice-captain's heart twisted.

Chapter 684: Relief after Anger. The Bitterness in Guard Captain Nair's Heart!

This Guard Captain Nair in front of him had completely humiliated his vice-captain!

The other party was actually giving way to him!

In this kind of life and death struggle, in a desperate struggle.

The other party was giving way to him, not using all of his strength!

This was a life-or-death battle. If he was not careful, he would cause death!

In such an environment, Guard Captain Nair was actually risking his life to give way to him.

This made Guard Captain Nair feel uncomfortable.

At the same time, it also made Guard Vice-Captain Hansen feel uncomfortable.

He had already used all of his strength. In the end, he did not expect that Guard Captain Nair did not use his full strength at all. Instead, he was holding back his true strength!

Everyone was shocked.

Vice-Captain Hansen was shocked. The audience below the stage was also shocked. Those deity-realm experts were also secretly shocked!

Those deity-realm experts, who were considered rare experts in the underground city, were staring intently at the terrifying lightning in Joelson's hands!

The residual power of this lightning ball was so terrifying!

They were all mobilizing their cultivation bases and releasing their senses to sense the power of the lightning ball in Captain Nair's hands!

Under their senses, the magical energy released by this terrifying lightning ball was so terrifying!

It was very obvious that the terrifying lightning ball in Captain Nair's hands was much more powerful than the lightning ball released by his opponent in the previous duel!

That's right, the result was very obvious!

There was only one answer!

Captain Nair must have gone easy in the previous battle!

With such a powerful lightning ball, it was impossible for Captain Nair to suddenly break through and become stronger!

Breaking through required time!

Moreover, everyone could clearly sense that the magic energy shockwave released by Captain Nair was clearly much stronger than the one released in the previous duel!

If the ripples of magical energy released just now were at the deity level, then the residual energy released by Guard Captain Nair's body right now was definitely at the peak of the deity level!

He had already reached the bottleneck of being a demigod!

Such powerful strength had already surpassed most of the people present!

Many underground cities had at least a few deity level experts, but they were all trapped and died at the deity level. They couldn't even touch the threshold of being a demigod, and their cultivation bases were locked by the deity level every day.

However, this Guard Captain Nair had actually reached the peak of the deity-level!

After all, reaching the peak of the deity-level meant that one had already touched the ceiling of the deity-level!

Breaking through to the demigod level was only a matter of time!

Basically speaking, the fact that Guard Captain Nair was able to break through to the demigod level was already a foregone conclusion.

With the liberation of the power of this peak-level divine realm expert, everyone came to a sudden realization.

That's right, Guard Captain Nair wasn't lying!

Just now, they had judged a gentleman's stomach with the heart of a villain!

They had actually imagined the noble Sir Joelson to be that kind of rat...

They really deserved to die!

At this moment, the faces of those who had misunderstood Joelson turned pale. They lowered their heads and prayed in their hearts. Confessors felt contempt for their thoughts just now!

All the residents of the underground city believed the truth that Joelson had told them.

Joelson really did not hide anything or show favoritism. Instead, he had fairly decided the winner of this duel in the underground city!

Just as everyone had seen, the captain of the guards, Nair, had indeed concealed his true strength!

Everyone's hearts were filled with shock.

Outsiders were fine but the residents of the underground city were all in shock.

Especially the officials of the palace!

When had this Captain Nair broken through to the pinnacle of the deity realm?

They were completely unaware of the people who were most familiar with Captain Nair!

This captain of the guards was not an idle matter. He was busy with all sorts of social occasions every day, and he even had to review the various affairs of the guards!

Everyone knew that this guard captain was busy with his work. The Guard Captain Nair was actually able to squeeze out his spare time to strengthen his training!

The Guard Captain Nair had definitely not been able to reach the peak of the deity-domain realm due to luck. Instead, he had earned it through hard work!

Presumably, after finishing his work every day, the Guard Captain Nair must have been training hard to achieve such rapid progress!

Those deity-domain experts, who could be considered experts in the underground city, all nodded secretly. When they looked at the lightning ball in Captain Nair's hand, their eyes were filled with admiration!

Such a terrifying magical energy fluctuation. If Captain Nair were to use the lightning ball of this intensity in actual combat, he would definitely be able to instantly kill Vice-Captain Hansen!

That's right, it was just that exaggerated. Instantly killing him!

There was no exaggeration in this. If the current lightning ball was directly blasted out, it would definitely kill the Guard Vice-Captain, Hansen!

Everyone felt a wave of shock in their hearts!

That's right, the powerful lightning ball released by the Guard Captain Nair caused everyone to feel a wave of shock!

At the same time, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was also shocked.

At this moment, Guard Captain Hansen's body was trembling. Looking at his colleague before him, the lightning ball in Guard Captain Nair's hand was stunned.

It turned out that the guard captain had long since broken through to the peak of the deity domain before he knew it!

It was laughable that he had actually thought that the other party was still lingering at the deity domain level. It was extremely laughable!

The Guard Vice-Captain Hansen revealed a bitter smile. With a plop, he powerlessly knelt on the floor.

He had never felt so powerless, so weak.

The Guard Vice-Captain Hansen stared blankly at the lightning ball in the guard captain's hand.

It turned out that he had been chasing after only a shadow of the other party.

Vice-Captain Hansen, who had caught up to Captain Nair's shadow, was gloating more than once.

He thought that he had caught up but, in fact, Captain Nair had become even stronger!

A strong sense of powerlessness welled up in his heart.

Why he had already tried so hard but, in the end, he was still unable to catch up to the other party even a little...

Chapter 685: The Just Judgment of Joelson. The Truth behind Captain Nair!

Why was this so?

Every time Captain Nair appeared in his sight, the other party would be drinking and chatting with those damned high officials and dignitaries, constantly chatting with them, fawning on those ridiculous officials. Fawning on those ridiculous dignitaries!

In the eyes of Vice-Captain Hansen, it was the captain who had betrayed their friendship!

It was the damned old bastard, who had abandoned their common pursuit of higher, faster, and stronger.

At that time, Vice-Captain Hansen felt a wave of disdain in his heart, thinking that the captain had abandoned their pursuit of martial arts, and abandoned their pursuit of ultimate strength.

Therefore, in his heart, he felt a wave of disdain towards the captain of the guards, coupled with a deep dissatisfaction!

In his heart, he firmly believed that the captain of the guards, Nair, was a traitor to the practice of magic!

With this thought in mind, the captain of the guards, Hansen, had been continuously practicing, waiting for the day when this moment would come!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had been waiting, waiting for that day to come. He had been waiting for that day to prove to the captain of the guards that the path he had taken was the right one!

He had been waiting for this day for a very, very long time.

However, the cruel reality had told the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, a cruel truth.

Not only had the captain of the guards not abandoned his cultivation, but he had also continuously increased his strength. Right now, he had already reached the point where he had to raise his head and look up at the captain!

The peak of the deity domain realm!

Such powerful strength had already reached the point where he had no choice but to look up to Guard Captain Nair!

It turned out that the person he had been chasing for so long was only the shadow of Guard Captain Nair.

All of this had been revealed so suddenly. All of this had made the vice-captain feel powerless.

Everyone's hearts were filled with shock as they looked at the terrifying lightning ball in the hands of the captain of the guards, Nair, on the stage.

Everyone was filled with shock and astonishment.

They really didn't expect that the strength of the captain of the guards, Nair, was actually so strong that it was enough to shake so many people present!

When Joelson saw the shock of the audience below the stage, everything was within the scope of his judgment.

After all, when he saw that the other party was faking it, he was shocked.

This Guard Captain Nair had a talented kid.

The talent that Guard Captain Nair cultivated could be considered to be above average. Although he was much weaker than himself, for this closed underground city, Guard Captain Nair's strength was already very strong.

At the same time, the Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, who had been competing with Guard Captain Nair for so many years, also had a similar talent to Guard Captain Nair. He was slightly weaker than Guard Captain Nair.

The reason why he was left behind by Guard Captain Nair was that he had fallen into a demon in his heart.

Because the emotions of jealousy and hatred had blinded the eyes of Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, making him overly arrogant. That was why he was left behind by Guard Captain Nair.

If he could straighten his mind, practice hard, and have some help, his future achievements would not be bad.

As he thought, he set his eyes on Vice-Captain Hansen's face.

Looking at the stunned expression on Vice-Captain Hansen's face, he smiled indifferently.

This was a promising talent. Unfortunately, his eyes were blinded by his thirst for power and his excessive arrogance.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was being watched by Joelson, did not notice that Joelson was watching him.

His heart was at a dead end.

All of this made the vice-captain of the guards feel powerless.

Was he destined to be unable to surpass the other party?

At this moment, the captain of the guards, Nair, sighed deeply.

Captain Nair was afraid of breaking the self-esteem of his long-time friend, which was why he didn't say his true strength.

All this time, Captain Nair had been very clear of Vice-Captain Hansen's mentality. He understood that the other party didn't recognize his strength, and he understood that the other party wanted to surpass him.

Because of this, Captain Nair had never truly revealed his true strength, afraid of hurting Vice-Captain Hansen's mood.

Because Captain Nair had always had a deep sense of guilt in his heart.

That year, when the magical beast tide arrived, Captain Nair's strength was actually not as strong as Vice-Captain Hansen.

Vice-Captain Hansen was really too daring at that time, and his strength improved very quickly. It could be said that Vice-Captain Hansen was the best successor at that time.

However, the reality was like this. Everything was illogical.

That night, the former captain of the guards was seriously injured by a magical beast sneak attack. He collapsed in the tent on his last breath, waiting for the two people who had killed the enemy to return.

During this period, the former captain of the guards had been holding his breath. He wanted to announce his decision and announce the successor of the captain of the guards.

At that time, Nair and Hansen were still young. The two of them stood by the bed of the former captain of the guards, waiting for the last words of the former captain of the guards.

Under his weak voice, Nair had obtained the right to become the next captain of the guards.

All of this was out of the guards' expectations, out of Hansen's expectations.

Because, at that time, it was the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was stronger!

Naturally, Nair, who had been announced as the next captain, was stunned.

He was also stunned.

He knew very well that at that time, his strength was not as good as the other party's.

But under this premise, the position of captain was given to Nair!

Nair himself felt very strange.

The only difference between him and Vice-Captain Hansen was that he was better at doing things, and he was very good at dealing with higher-ups.

However, if it was just this difference, giving the position of captain to Nair, he himself did not really approve of it!

Because at that time, there was still a very obvious gap between his strength and Vice-Captain Hansen's!

However, at that time, the king was in the tent. His powerful pressure made everyone dare not breathe loudly.

No one dared to raise any objections in front of King Leighton.

No one!

Perhaps Vice-Captain Hansen would dare but he wouldn't dare!

Chapter 686: The Dust Has Settled. Everyone Has Forgiven the Past!

At that time, King Leighton touched his sword and looked coldly at the two young men in front of him.

"Didn't you hear what my capable captain of the guards said?"

Leighton questioned loudly, instantly causing the two people below the stage to feel their scalps go numb.

This was especially so for Nair, who had been appointed as the captain of the guards!

Nair had now become the focus of everyone's attention. Everyone's gaze contained all sorts of emotions as they continuously looked at the captain of the guards in front of them.

Was he the new captain of the guards?

Everyone was shocked.

Their gazes were filled with doubt and scrutiny as they looked at this young brat in front of them!

The considerations of the various forces in the palace made Captain Nair's heart sink.

To Captain Nair, these gazes, which were either sincere or malicious, were too naked, causing Nair, who was about to become the captain of the guards, to feel uncomfortable.

However, the most ardent gaze undoubtedly came from his good friend of many years behind him, Vice-Captain Hansen!

That's right, he was much stronger than Captain Nair. At that time, Vice-Captain Hansen was young and had extraordinary courage.

However, at this critical moment, Vice-Captain Hansen learned that it was not his stronger successor, but his good friend Nair. How could this not make the vice-captain uncomfortable?

Nair could read his passionate gaze.

Vice-Captain Hansen was happy because his good friend Nair was about to be promoted. However, Vice-Captain Hansen was also very sad. He was sad that his good friend Nair had taken away the position that should have belonged to him!

The complicated emotions made Vice-Captain Hansen's gaze become complicated when he stared at Nair. All of this was felt by Nair, who was about to become the captain of the guards.

"What are you standing there for? Quickly accept the gift of the position of captain and thank him for his efforts!"

King Leighton was unhappy when he saw Nair's dullness.

King Leighton had just heard the weak captain of the guards say that although Nair's strength was slightly inferior to his rival, Vice-Captain Hansen, but Nair's EQ was very high. He was a general who could lead an army.

But why was Nair, the captain of the guards, a rather slow person?

Hearing the Captain's dying declaration, he was actually indifferent and stood in place, not knowing what he was doing.

This person really made people feel a wave of distrust.

King Leighton had a wave of doubt in his heart. Was this really the Nair that the captain of the guards said had a high EQ?

Under the king's doubtful gaze, the captain of the guards, Nair, felt a wave of melancholy. He knew in his heart that he had to go up and take over the position of captain of the guards.

In the king's heart, there were already some faint signs of impatience.

At this time, no one dared to refuse to contradict King Leighton.

He was not like Joelson, who was a noble person. Contrary to Joelson, King Leighton was an absolute tyrant.

Because he wanted to prove that he was more outstanding than his father, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, King Leighton's methods of governance were often abnormally violent. He would simply obey or die.

At that time, no one in the underground city dared to contradict King Leighton.

No one!

That was why, when the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, protested to Joelson, everyone was sure that Vice-Captain Hansen was dead for sure!

The thoughts of the underground city residents had long been recognized by everyone under the bloody rule of the previous king, Leighton.

That was, they could not contradict King Leighton.

All those who dared to contradict King Leighton were basically submissive to King Leighton's iron-blooded methods.

Under this situation, the captain of the guards, Nair, did not dare to contradict King Leighton.

The captain of the guards silently sighed.

In this underground city, no one dared to contradict King Leighton.

Perhaps the hot-tempered vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would dare to contradict King Leighton, but that was the vice-captain of the guards, not the captain of the guards, Nair!

Under such great pressure, the captain of the guards had no choice but to thank the former captain of the guards and swear his loyalty to King Leighton.

At that time, everyone was puzzled.

Why was Captain Nair on the stage instead of the stronger Vice-Captain Hansen?

And his good brother, Vice-Captain Hansen, became more and more doubtful of his position as time passed.

His good brother's fervent gaze was an invisible spur to Captain Nair.

Therefore, under this mood, Captain Nair trained even more diligently, with the mentality of wanting to prove that he was suitable for the position of captain, and with the mentality of wanting to prove his own strength, he continued to work hard, after participating in various activities in the palace during the day, he trained even more at night.

For so many years, this spur had been urging Captain Nair to improve. Under such long-term efforts, he had unknowingly improved to this point.

Captain Nair's strength had long surpassed Vice-Captain Hansen!

Under such formidable strength, what was shocking was that the final skill in Captain Nair's hand, the lightning ball, was already able to easily defeat Vice-Captain Hansen.

Nair slowly put down his hand. The terrifying lightning ball in his hand was gradually dissipating under his will. It did not take long before it disappeared like smoke.

On the stage. The terrifying ball of lightning had disappeared. This made everyone heave a sigh of relief.

If such a powerful ball of lightning was not controlled properly, it would accidentally be thrown off the stage and onto the audience stands. The casualties would not be light!

Other than Joelson, there were not many people who dared to say that they could withstand Captain Nair's terrifying ball of lightning.

Vice-Captain Hansen saw that the ball of lightning had disappeared and felt a wave of melancholy in his heart.

It had disappeared...

Vice-Captain Hansen lowered his head.

With such a huge difference in strength, he had no chance of winning.

Sir Joelson's referee was very fair and reasonable.

Vice-Captain Hansen was completely convinced and had completely admitted defeat.

Chapter 687: The Fair Judgment of Joelson. The Duel Was Coming to an End.

The moment he saw the powerful lightning ball in the hands of Captain Nair, Vice-Captain Hansen understood everything.

He knew that the magic energy contained in the lightning ball was much stronger than his Buddha's Fiery Lotus!

The captain of the guards, Nair, was really going easy on him. He really didn't use his full strength.

This truth made the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, feel a wave of disappointment in his heart.

He really didn't expect the other party to be so powerful.

That night, in the tent, the other party's strength was still much weaker than his.

However, only a few years had passed.

This Guard Captain Nair had already surpassed him so much earlier!

It was simply unacceptable!

Such a fact was placed in front of him, causing the once arrogant Vice-Captain Hansen to lose face for a moment!

His previous arrogance, now, was so laughable.

After all, Guard Captain Nair was the guard captain!

As the man who controlled the military in the underground city, as the captain of the guards, he had many things to deal with every day!

Vice-Captain Hansen knew very well how busy the position of captain of the guards was.

He had to go around in front of the nobles every day!

The nobles held banquets and socialized with celebrities. As the captain of the guards who controlled the military in the underground city, Nair had to attend.

If he didn't come, he wouldn't give a face to the nobles in the palace.

In the palace, nothing was as simple as it was in the barracks.

In the army, one meant one, two meant two.

If you said that you didn't want to eat because of a stomachache, you meant that you didn't want to eat because you didn't have an appetite. If you said that you had something to do, you meant that you didn't have time.

As the vice-captain of the guards, it was very easy for Hansen to handle things in the army.

If he said one thing to his subordinate, it meant one thing. If he said two things, then his subordinate understood two things.

The matters that he had to deal with every day could be dealt with in half an hour.

However, as the captain of the guards, Nair was different.

In the palace, if he said one thing, it might not mean one thing.

The hearts of the people in the palace were complicated. Under the absolute power of the king, all the forces were scheming and calculating.

The invitation to the banquet was not just to invite people to dinner. It was an invitation from the nobles to a gathering. It was also not just to invite him to eat, drink, and have fun.

All of this had a purpose in the banquet.

If they were to casually reject their invitation, the information behind it would be quite huge!

That's right, it was basically equivalent to falling out with the faction that the aristocrat belonged to!

In such a scheming palace, if the captain of the guards, Nair, were to make a mistake, he would fall into a bottomless hell and never be able to turn over a new leaf!

Every step he took in the palace was like walking on a tightrope without any protective measures on the peak. Once he made a mistake, falling into a bottomless pit was light, but losing his life was more important!

In such a structured palace, every step was like riding a unicycle on a tightrope, and every step was dancing on the tightrope.

Under such a powerful pressure, the strength of Captain Nair was actually still steadily increasing. This was not a level that could be wiped out by those natural treasures!

Natural treasures could speed up cultivation, but that did not mean that one did not need to cultivate with natural treasures.

The captain of the guards, Nair, must have been cultivating diligently when he did not know until he surpassed him!

Such a captain of the guards, Nair, surpassed him without any objections.

At the very least, he could not find any fault with such a stubborn person like Vice-Captain Hansen. He deeply felt that the strength of the captain of the guards, Nair, far surpassed his own, moreover, it was through the hard work of Captain Nair himself.

Such strength, Vice-Captain Hansen knew that he had lost.

At this moment, Vice-Captain Hansen was completely convinced. He had completely admitted defeat in his heart.

With a plop, Vice-Captain Hansen slowly knelt down. He looked at Captain Nair with a face full of shame.

One had to know that Vice-Captain Hansen valued his dignity very much. To Captain Nair, his life might not be as important as the dignity on his knees!

"I'm sorry, I lost!"

Vice-Captain Hansen knelt down and kowtowed deeply.

"My god, this Vice-Captain Hansen really lowered his head!"

"That's right, oh my god, making this guy kneel down is even harder than killing his head!"

Everyone was shocked.

Looking at the guard's Vice-Captain Hansen kneeling on the ground, everyone was in disbelief. They hurriedly wiped their eyes and looked at the person kowtowing and admitting his mistake. It was really Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, only then did they nod their heads in surprise.

This was really too shocking.

And among the guards, some of them also fell to the ground with pale faces.

"It's over, it's really all over..."

One of them looked at the stage with a pale face and the scene of kneeling and admitting his mistake to Captain Nair. His heart was filled with shock.

The scene in front of them made them feel a chill in their hearts.

They knew very well what this meant to them.

This would mean that in the duel between Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, Captain Nair's victory was complete!

Everyone had mixed feelings!

The victory of Captain Nair made his supporters cheer and jump in joy.

As soldiers who supported Captain Nair from the beginning to the end, they were ecstatic.

The victory of Captain Nair would definitely reward those who had supported them before the battle!

The path of promotion and wealth was opening up for all of them!

Everyone was ecstatic.

For them, gaining recognition, promotion, and wealth was already very obvious.

However, for another group of people, the supporters of Vice-Captain Hansen, this was the beginning of a nightmare.

For them, the defeat of the vice-captain of the guards could be said to be the worst news they could hear in their lives.

One had to know that the victory of the captain of the guards, Nair, meant that the side that supported Vice-Captain Hansen had suffered a huge defeat!

Under such circumstances, everyone was faced with an important question.

What should they do if they were on the wrong side?

Now, at this critical moment, all those who supported Vice-Captain Hansen were facing a huge problem.

That was, what should they do?

They were desperate for Captain Nair's victory.

Seeing Vice-Captain Hansen kneeling on the ground, they knew that their doomsday was coming!

Everyone felt a wave of fear in their hearts.

Facing such an outcome, they were very clear about what the consequences would be.

That's right, Captain Nair had won!

However, the person they supported wasn't Captain Nair!

Everyone's brows were tightly furrowed.

For those who supported the wrong person, Captain Nair would definitely be dealt with in accordance with military law!

The military law of the underground city was a very strict existence!

Everyone was terrified.

It was precisely because they were very clear in their hearts how strict the military law of the underground city was.

For the guards of the underground city, compared to ordinary people who broke the law and were dealt with by the constitution, the soldiers of the underground city broke the law and were dealt with according to the military law!

For people like them who chose the wrong winner, standing on the opposite side of the winner, they would become naked losers and traitors!

The punishment for traitors did not have so many details, there was only a simple death penalty!

That's right, they who chose the wrong winner and stood on the opposite side of Captain Nair had completely lost the battle.

They were finished!

When Captain Nair pursued the matter, those who had followed Vice-Captain Hansen to rebel would definitely be executed!

The weight of the death penalty was something that ordinary guards in the underground city could not bear.

All those who supported Vice-Captain Hansen felt a wave of panic in their hearts. Looking at the people on the stage, their hearts were filled with fear.

Looking at the terrified guards below the stage, Captain Nair revealed a helpless smile.

He knew very well what the guards were thinking in their hearts.

That's right, the actions of these guards were tantamount to crossing the line!

Openly disobeying the orders of their commanding officer. If they were to investigate further, that would be treason!

Treason. This law's punishment was quite severe.

To traitors, this was the most terrifying death penalty!

If Captain Nair really continued to investigate, one by one, he would go and find trouble with them. Then, what awaited the guards who disobeyed the orders would be death!

Death to one person was to deprive them of everything!

Captain Nair was thinking in his heart whether or not he should continue to investigate.

Those were all living beings, and they were still very heavy.

The captain of the guards, Nair, was not a cruel person.

If it was just one person who disobeyed his orders, it would be fine.

But if a group of people disobeyed their orders, it would be difficult to handle.

They couldn't dig a hole and bury all those who disobeyed their orders alive, right?

Moreover, if he really wanted to investigate, he was afraid that if all the guards disobeyed his orders in the beginning, he would probably have to continue to investigate rigidly. Then, everyone would have to pay the price for this. In the entire guard team, there would be a bloody storm!

The Guard Vice-Captain Nair deeply realized this point, so he thought about this problem very seriously.

When the people below the stage saw the captain of the guards, Nair, stroking his chin and thinking deeply about Joelson's appearance, they were instantly in an uproar.

The ordinary people below the stage thought that as the winner of this duel, the captain of the guards, Nair, had to start thinking about how to deal with the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen!

After all, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's behavior, after the matter was over, was actually very terrifying!

That's right, Vice-Captain Hansen had cast off the first layer of the duel and became extremely evil!

Vice-Captain Hansen was actually disobeying the military orders of Captain Nair!

Military orders were extremely important in the army!

Everyone thought deeply.

If the army didn't have military orders, then everything in the world would be in chaos!

Everyone swallowed their saliva. Some of them had already thought of the details of the military law.

Those who disobeyed the military order and delayed the opportunity to fight would be sentenced to death!

That's right, the death penalty!

At the same time, it was not a simple beheading!

How fast was the beheading? It would only hurt for a split second.

The military law would not be so merciful to those who violated the military rules!

Those who violated the military law would be sentenced to death by a waist slash!

What was a waist slash? It was a slash that would cut a person in half from the waist!

The person who was cut in half would not die immediately. Instead, they would struggle in pain for a very long time and, eventually, bleed to death in pain!

Generally speaking, a person would be able to hold on for fifteen to sixteen minutes after being cut in half!

15 minutes!

This was an extremely long period of time. For those who were cut in half, they would be tortured in extreme pain for a full 15-16 minutes before they died!

Such pain was something that normal people wouldn't dare to imagine.

At the same time, this was also a fatal deterrent for those who wanted to disobey the orders of the kingdom, or those who dared to disobey the will of the upper echelons!

Those who dared to violate the military law would not have a good ending!

This was the deep understanding of the people of the underground city!

That's right, the military law was so harsh!

Under this understanding, everyone felt a wave of pity for Guard Vice-Captain Hansen.

Such a stubborn person who dared to challenge the authority was rare.

But it was a pity that this person was about to die!

"Hey, hey. Hey, after that Vice-Captain Hansen lost the match, wouldn't that be a crime of treason!"

Some people were discussing animatedly as they looked at the Vice-Captain Hansen kneeling on the stage. They looked at the Vice-Captain Hansen with pity in their eyes.

That's right, it was pity!

These people felt a wave of pity.

They couldn't bear to see such a situation for Vice-Captain Hansen, who was about to be executed.

"Sigh, it's such a pity for such a righteous person. I didn't think that he would end up like this one day!"

"That's right, it's such a pity. Vice-captain of the guards who violated the military law might be executed in public in the central plaza!"

The commoners were discussing animatedly under the ring, looking at the people on the ring with pity in their eyes.

Such an outcome was too tragic.

Chapter 689: The Punishment of His Subordinates. Captain Nair's Choice.

Everyone below the stage looked at the man on the stage with pity in their hearts. They looked at the Vice-Captain Hansen who had lost. At this moment, he was kneeling on the ground with a devout expression.

He was very clear about the attention of the people below the stage. The Vice-Captain Hansen was very clear about the crowd below the stage and the gazes that were staring at him.

Those gazes were either pity, ridicule, fear, or disappointment.

Vice-Captain Hansen's heart was very clear. In his heart, he could clearly sense the thoughts in the hearts of the people below the stage.

To Vice-Captain Hansen, if it was the past him, then he would definitely feel a wave of discomfort!

In the heart of the former vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, the stubborn and proud vice-captain of the guards, would definitely be the first to jump up and give chase to the other party.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had dignity!

To the former vice-captain of the guards, Hansen was very concerned about those gazes. If anyone dared to look at him with that strange and contemptuous gaze, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would definitely jump up, give that bastard a kick.

In the huge city of the underground city, everyone clearly understood the stubbornness of Vice-Captain Hansen!

This was very famous in the underground city!

Everyone was very clear about what kind of stubborn person Vice-Captain Hansen was.

They knew that if anyone dared to look at Vice-Captain Hansen with that strange gaze, then Vice-Captain Hansen's iron fist would make that reckless idiot pay the price he should pay!

Those who dared to provoke Vice-Captain Hansen had basically paid a painful price.

However, now...

Vice-Captain Hansen quietly knelt on the arena, kneeling at the feet of Captain Nair.

First of all, kneeling at the feet of Captain Nair was already very unbelievable!

To Captain Nair, such a thing was undoubtedly killing him!

That's right, this kind of thing was even worse than killing Vice-Captain Hansen.

In the past, if Captain Nair dared to ask him to kneel at the feet of the other party, then Vice-Captain Hansen would definitely teach him a lesson!

Even King Leighton, who was trying to rule the underground city with incomparably bloody means at that time, if he wanted to humiliate Vice-Captain Hansen, then Vice-Captain Hansen would definitely teach him a lesson!

This was the way Vice-Captain Hansen dealt with the world. He was like a pine tree. His waist was too hard and he could not bend down at all. His knees were too big and he could not kneel down at all!

One had to know how bloody the underground city was under the bloody rule of King Leighton back then!

Almost everyone who dared to have any opinions on him would definitely be executed by King Leighton without a word!

At that time, King Leighton's father, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, had just abdicated, while the younger him had just taken over.

The previous king, Reynolds, was his father. His father's political achievements were too dazzling. As soon as he came to power, he used very bloody methods to purge all those who disobeyed him!

As long as they dared to raise any objections to his orders, kill!

As long as they dared to raise any objections to his views, kill!

As long as they used their achievements to make any comparison, kill!

As soon as he took office, King Leighton launched a bloody purge. Those who dared to oppose him in the entire underground city were all killed

Almost all those who dared to be dissatisfied with him in the underground city were killed by King Leighton.

A massive purge swept the entire underground city.

King Leighton did not show mercy to anyone who dared to resist him. Anyone who belonged to the faction of his father, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds!

Even so, when the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, saw King Leighton, he dared to express his dissatisfaction and look into his angry eyes!

However, the situation was different now.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who dared to oppose all authority, was kneeling at the feet of Captain Nair, kneeling on the ground of this underground city!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, seemed to be different from before.

From his birth until now, in the hundreds of years, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had never submitted to anyone.

His alcoholic father, his weak mother who could only endure, and his excellent and arrogant teacher.

No one. The guard Hansen had never submitted to anyone!

Even though he couldn't beat the other party at that time, he had never submitted to anyone in his heart.

When the Vice-Captain Hansen was still a child, he was beaten up by his alcoholic father. Although the child Vice-Captain Hansen couldn't beat his cruel father, it happened very quickly. Guard Vice-Captain Hansen grew up. He became stronger than his damned, alcoholic father!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen beat up his damned father on his eighteenth birthday.

His coming of age ceremony was his father's broken front teeth and his nosebleed.

After entering the school to study, the guard vice-captain met the teacher who taught him how to use magic energy. The teacher was extremely arrogant. He was so arrogant that he always liked to embarrass Guard Vice-Captain Hansen in class.

At that time, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was still a student. He could not defeat the gray-haired teacher who had trained to the end of his life.

However, before the vice-captain of the guards graduated, his magic training had already left his peers behind by a large margin.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who had a powerful magic, ruthlessly beat up his teacher at the graduation ceremony. He beat up the well-dressed teacher until his head was bleeding.

Later on, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, met the captain of the guards, Nair. Both of them were equally arrogant and equally talented.

The two of them had competed all the way until today, when the winner was finally decided.

There was a time when a younger Hansen looked at the iceberg in the underground city and listened to the howls of the magical beasts. In his heart, he thought that he would never submit to anyone in the future.

But today, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's heart, had submitted to one person.

That person was actually not the captain of the guards, Nair.

It was Joelson.

Not only was this person extremely powerful, but his state of mind was also incomparably powerful.

Such a person was the only one who made the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, admire him from the bottom of his heart!

Chapter 690: The Only Person Vice-Captain Hansen Acknowledged, Joelson!

In the underground city, it could be said that the most arrogant person had finally lowered his head and knelt down to Guard Captain Nair!

This was not acknowledging Guard Captain Nair!

In the heart of Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, it was not acknowledging Guard Captain Nair, it was not admitting defeat to Guard Captain Nair!

In fact, although the captain of the guards, Nair, had just proved himself on the arena, and although the captain of the guards, Nair, had beaten him in ultimate skills, Hansen did not admit defeat to the captain of the guards.

However, in the heart of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen did not admit defeat to the captain of the guards, Nair.

He had only admitted defeat this time. In the future, one day, he would once again challenge the captain of the guards, Nair!

In the future, he would work even harder to train to make his understanding of magic energy more profound. When his level was higher, he would challenge Captain Nair again!

Vice-Captain Hansen did not admit defeat!

Especially Captain Nair, who was so arrogant to show mercy to him and did not use his full strength in a desperate fight!

This was the most unbearable thing for Guard Vice-Captain Hansen!

As for why Guard Vice-Captain Hansen knelt down to someone who was completely unconvinced by him.

The answer was even simpler.

Because in Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's heart, he was not kneeling down to Guard Captain Nair!

This Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was kneeling down to the side of Joelson!

Vice-Captain Hansen really admired Joelson.

This person wasn't just powerful.

Joelson was different from his father, who drank too much, and his arrogant teacher.

For Vice-Captain Hansen at that time, the latter two were both unreachable.

And now, the difference in strength between him and Joelson was equally out of reach.

When he was young, he would not have any chance of winning against his father!

The current vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, also had no chance of winning against Joelson. He would even be casually swatted to death like a mosquito.

For his father, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, did not have any admiration in his heart. But for Joelson, the situation was the complete opposite.

To Joelson, Vice-Captain Hansen truly admired him.

The other party was so powerful, but he would not look down on humanity just because of his rebuttal. Such a character was too powerful.

One had to know that the difference in strength between the two sides was huge!

The strong bullied the weak. In the eyes of Vice-Captain Hansen, this was simply a coward among cowards.

The truly strong were people who didn't fear even the slightest bit of the stronger ones, and who dared to challenge them!

Such people were the truly strong!

And that was precisely the sort of person that Joelson was!

Joelson's power was just so-so. He was merely an existence at the peak of the demigod level!

Although this sort of thought had emerged from the body of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was a deity-level expert, which was extremely strange, this wasn't a conflict at all!

This was because to Vice-Captain Hansen, Joelson was a powerful expert at the peak of the demigod level, while to the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, he was just a puny peak demigod!

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was a powerful god!

After reaching the deity realm, the difference between each minor level was an enormous gulf, not to mention that it was a demigod versus a god!

With such a huge difference in power, Vice-Captain Hansen felt that he might not even dare to accept the next challenge, but this Joelson actually dared to accept it!

This was in line with one of the principles in Vice-Captain Hansen's heart, daring to challenge even more powerful experts!

And after defeating the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, Joelson's attitude towards him completely convinced Vice-Captain Hansen!

Just now, the vice-captain of the guards had just learned that, in such a fair and open manner, Joelson had actually decided the battle between Hansen and Nair!

He didn't have any favoritism!

It must be known that Joelson, who could even defeat a god, was completely capable of turning his nose up at this sort of battle!

Not to mention, after the other party had made the decision, he had actually brazenly challenged Joelson's decision!

Such an action, he simply did not put the other party in his eyes!

Such an action, it was simply too much!

Such an action that did not respect him, in the hands of King Leighton, it was already a thousand cuts, even a waist cut would not vent his anger!

However, Joelson actually calmly accepted the question that he raised.

This fellow, actually faced with such a weak me, did not raise any anger!

Moreover, such a powerful Joelson didn't take sides in this duel at all!

One had to know that with Joelson's powerful strength, he could completely side with the side he liked during the adjudication!

But Joelson didn't do so, which caused the vice captain of the guards, Hansen, to be shocked!

With his high position, he could easily kill everyone in the underground city, but he was actually so close to the people!

Such a person was in line with the second rule of his code of conduct. He did not use his strength to bully the weak!

Such a person like Joelson made Vice-Captain Hansen completely convinced!

As such, Joelson became the only person that Vice-Captain Hansen could acknowledge!

That's right, Joelson was the person that Vice-Captain Hansen acknowledged!

This kneel was not for Guard Captain Nair to defeat him, but a kind of vote. A kind of vote made with actions!

It meant that he completely approved of Joelson's decision!

If it wasn't for Joelson, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen wouldn't have kneeled down to Guard Captain Nair!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was such a proud person, how could he not care about the doubts behind his back? The pitying voices!

If it was the previous Vice-Captain Hansen, he would have jumped up and used his own ability to destroy everyone present!

"My respected Sir Joelson, I approve of your verdict very much. I have lost!"

Vice-Captain Hansen finished kneeling to Captain Nair, turned around, kowtowed to Joelson, and said loudly.

In the eyes of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen finally had someone he could put down.

"It's okay, get up."

Joelson didn't look at him but, in his heart, he had already recognized the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was kneeling at his feet.

Nair and Hansen were both talents that could be made. They were the reasonable successors of this underground city.

After finding a suitable candidate, Joelson felt satisfied.

Chapter 691: When All This Is Over, No One Will Be Punished. The Elizabeth Family Will Be Brought to Account!

With an indifferent expression, Joelson looked at the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was kneeling at his feet.

He knew very well what the other party was thinking about at this moment.

From the vice-captain's respectful expression, he knew that the other party must be completely subservient to him.

And, in fact, that was indeed the case.

At this moment, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was completely convinced by the charm of Joelson's personality.

One must know that the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, did not recognize anyone in his heart!

Many people who were stronger than him, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, did not put them in his eyes at all.

But to the vice-captain of the guards, Joelson was a person to whom he could completely submit.

Because not only was he extremely powerful but he was also extremely shocked by his opponent!

Such a powerful person had the temperament of unifying the underworld in the future!

Although the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had never seen the big scene outside the underworld, he had a unique vision for him. He could predict the future of his opponent, his achievements would definitely not be low!

On the contrary, not only would they not be low, they would have the grace to unify the entire Underworld!

Vice-Captain Hansen thought in his heart.

As for Vice-Captain Hansen's specific thoughts, Joelson did not know. However, he was very clear that Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair were both talents that could be created!

Such talents were worth nurturing!

If the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and the captain of the guards, Nair, could work together to manage the underground city, then the underground city would have an agent.

After finding an agent, he would be able to bring the bright gemstones with him and start to customize the way back with ease.

Thinking about it, it had been a very long time since he came down for the adventure. He did not know if Hades was still well up there, whether he had fallen into hibernation, or if he missed him.

At this thought, Joelson raised his head and looked at the sky. In which direction was Hades.

"Is Lord Joelson going to announce the punishment for Vice-Captain Hansen?"

The people below the ring were excited. Seeing Joelson raise his head, they believed that he was going to announce the result!

When some of the guards saw Joelson raising his head, they thought that he was going to announce the end of Vice-Captain Hansen. They were instantly frightened and pained!

"I'm done for, my lord. Please bless me..."

The guards wept bitterly and trembled in fear. They knelt on the ground, waiting for the judgment that was about to arrive.

They, who were on the wrong side, had already decided that they were doomed.

They were all afraid. Vice-Captain Hansen had completely admitted defeat. There was no turning back on this matter.

Vice-Captain Hansen's surrender meant that those who had chosen to stand on Vice-Captain Hansen's side were completely doomed. They were extremely afraid, afraid of the judgment that was about to arrive.

One had to know that their crimes could be said to be unpardonable!

Disobeying the orders of Captain Nair was a definite crime of treason!

According to military law, that was punishable by death!

How could they not be afraid of this?

The other people below the stage were also nervous, waiting for Joelson to announce his trial.

Everyone had confirmed this fact in their hearts, and they firmly believed it!

Under everyone's expectant gazes, everyone was waiting for Joelson to announce the final result.

"Lord Joelson!"

The captain of the guards, who was secretly vexed, knelt down and saluted Joelson.

He was vexed about how to deal with these soldiers who had committed treason.

According to military law, Captain Joelson should not have any hesitation and directly lead his soldiers to arrest all the soldiers who had committed treason just now. Then, they would all betray their country and be divided by the death penalty!

However, there was a problem.

The law did not punish the masses!

One had to know that there were too many people who had violated the rules!

If all of them were examined according to the strict law and dealt with according to the strict military law, the entire underground city would probably be covered in rivers of blood!

Captain Nair was not a cold-hearted person. He did not have the courage and courage to issue such an order that was equivalent to a massacre.

The captain of the guards, Nair, could not make a decision. He could only consult with Joelson.

This was the strongest existence in the underground city. It could be said that there was no one in the underground city who could go against Joelson!

Only such a powerful Joelson was qualified to make a judgment and make a decision!

Only Joelson had the power and ability to judge so many people.

"Lord Joelson, how do you want to deal with so many traitors in the underground city?"

Captain Nair asked nervously.

Although Joelson had such powerful strength and ability to judge the people of the entire underground city, Captain Nair did not dare to make such a decision.

However, Captain Nair still had hope in his heart. He hoped that Joelson could make a decision.

A decision to pardon everyone.

After all, it would be best if no one died.

If he had to be investigated, the first one to betray King Leighton would be the one who should be cut in half.

These guards in the underground city had disobeyed their orders but they were in such a situation. Anyone who was in such a situation could make a wrong judgment.

All the guards who had made mistakes were just standing on the wrong side of the tide of the times.

Therefore, Captain Nair hoped that Hansen could be acquitted.

After all, if he was guilty, then his friend, Vice-Captain Hansen, would probably be cut in half.

At this moment, everyone's eyes were focused on Joelson.

Other than the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was kneeling at Joelson's feet, no one knew what Joelson's verdict was.

Because the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was very clear about the other party's character.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, knew in his heart what kind of verdict a person like Joelson would make.

At this moment, Joelson slowly opened his mouth.

Everyone pricked up their ears, wanting to hear Joelson's verdict clearly. They didn't want to miss a single word!

"Everyone. Not guilty!"

Chapter 692: Everyone's Verdict of Not Guilty. The Might of Joelson!

In the underground city, snowflakes danced in the air, filling the sky with flying snow.

When the audience below the stage saw the gaze of Captain Nair, they felt a wave of fear.

They understood in their hearts that if Captain Nair really pursued the matter according to military law, then the entire underground city would be swept up in a bloody storm!

The crime of treason in the military law would be directly divided by the death penalty!

Everyone's hearts were filled with nervousness as they waited for the other party's judgment.

If everyone was really punished according to the military law, then according to the military law, almost half of the residents of the underground city would be brought to justice, and they would be divided by the death penalty!

Everyone understood very well the value behind this!

If the investigation was really carried out, the entire underground city would be engulfed in a bloody storm!

With so many people, they would not be able to imagine how to kill them all!

Those who broke the law would have to queue up and be sent to the execution ground one by one. They would not be able to kill them all even if they killed them for three days and three nights!

At that time, even if they collected all the knives in the underground city, they would not be able to kill so many people.

Perhaps the method of execution would turn into burying them alive. At that time, the corpses would pile up like a small hill. The blood would turn into a small river and flow to every corner of the underground city!

The decision of Captain Nair could be said to be able to decide the life and death of many people!

However, Guard Captain Nair handed the power of this judgement to Joelson.

Joelson calmly looked at the anxious people below the stage and calmly made his own judgement.

"Everyone. Not guilty!"

Joelson's words were like a bolt of lightning that shocked everyone in the underground city.

Such a powerful Joelson actually said the judgment of not guilty so easily.

This made everyone feel like they were in a dream. This was too shocking.

This was because they had originally thought that no matter how generous and merciful Joelson was, he would execute everyone who had dared to confess to Captain Nair!

According to the style of the old King Reynolds and his son, Leighton, they would have probably chopped off the head of the Vice-Captain Hansen, and then massacred the entire underground city!

Under the thunderous governance methods of these two people, all the residents of the underground city deeply knew one characteristic.

That was, their cruelty would definitely not pity the suffering of the people at the bottom!

They would only care about the consolidation of their throne and the birth of their political world. As for the life and death of the people at the bottom, they did not care at all.

If sacrificing the lives of a thousand people could exchange for their prestige and prestige, then they would absolutely do it without hesitation!

Under this premise, everyone was clear that in this era, under the rule of King Leighton and the old king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, life was something even more lowly than dirt. Under the rule of the royal family of the father and son, everyone's life was like ants on the roadside, which could be consumed at any time and trampled to death at any time!

Therefore, everyone was shocked by the verdict and judgment of Joelson.

This Joelson actually didn't execute all those who disobeyed the military order?

Everyone was speechless.

Especially those guards who were related to their own lives!

Among the guards, a large number of people who were waiting for the verdict of Joelson were stunned!

They stared blankly at the Joelson who was standing calmly on the stage, emitting a powerful aura!

They were all shocked!

"We, we are really saved?"

All of the guards were stunned!

When they heard Joelson loudly announce the results on the stage, their hearts were filled with disbelief!

Everyone was thinking about how they would end up, but when Joelson's verdict was announced, everyone was dumbfounded!

What kind of situation was this? This Joelson actually betrayed everyone and was acquitted!

Everyone was stunned for a moment, and then all of them cheered!

"Long live!"

Everyone raised their weapons high and cheered to their heart's content, celebrating with excitement!

This was a huge victory!

Everyone understood in their hearts what the outcome of what they had done just now was.

That was treason!

Not long ago, all of them had directly refused to obey Captain Nair's orders. They had directly resisted Captain Nair's command!

In everyone's eyes, this was a blatant treason!

According to the military law set down by King Leighton, anyone who disobeyed an officer's orders would be sentenced to treason. Anyone who dared to disobey an officer's command would be mercilessly sent to the military court!

And what was the punishment for treason? Death!

Moreover, it was not beheading. The guillotine was a beautiful thing for death. With one slash, one would lose consciousness after a short period of pain.

However, after being cut in the waist, one could survive for a very long time!

After being cut in the waist, one could still live for about thirteen minutes. During this period of time, one could only bear the pain by force!

That's right, they could only bear the pain!

That piercing pain would torture the tortured to death. When the other party could not bear it, death would become a rare luxury!

Under such torturous torture, everyone would be tortured to the point of screaming. It would turn the Wailing Abyss into a living hell!

Under the fear of death, everyone instinctively resisted this terrifying punishment.

But now, Joelson actually declared all of them innocent?

This was simply unbelievable.

One had to know that if it was the old king, he would have already ordered to hunt down all those who disobeyed the order and execute them one by one!

Under this kind of fear, they originally thought that the foreigner, Joelson, would be like their king, Leighton, and directly kill them one by one, however, the reality directly exceeded all of their expectations.

He actually directly exonerated everyone!

Letting everyone off so magnanimously, this was something that they didn't quite believe had happened!

Joelson directly exonerated everyone!

How could the guards not be happy, how could they not be excited!

Chapter 693: The Loyalty of All the Guards!

When all the guards heard Joelson's announcement, they were all stunned.

What was going on?

Lord Joelson had actually directly declared everyone innocent!

Instantly, an uncontrollable joy overflowed. Everyone's faces were filled with smiles, and their gazes gradually became more and more heated as they looked at Joelson.

That's right. Fiery!

This fiery heat was the faith of the people at the bottom!

Today, they had once again trusted Joelson. Twice.

The first time, it was Joelson who had defeated the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was extremely powerful. To a small, unknown place like the underground city, he was extremely valuable!

In a small place like the underground city, one had to know how powerful the god-level Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was!

Before this, everyone had treated this Iron-Blooded King Reynolds as a supreme god!

However, this unknown outsider, Joelson, was so powerful!

Not only did Joelson deserve a beating, but he had also even directly defeated the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who was like a god in the eyes of the guards!

Furthermore, Joelson's victory posture was so perfect that it shocked everyone!

No one had expected that Joelson would be so powerful. He had directly defeated the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, and in such a powerful and perfect manner!

Furthermore, the ancient dragon soul that Joelson had displayed made all of them exclaim in amazement!

It must be known that in this underground city, none of them had ever seen an ancient dragon!

The residents who had lived in the underground city for generations, those who had never walked out of the underground city, had never seen an ancient dragon soul.

Not to mention seeing it, even hearing about it, they had never heard of any legendary dragon!

Not to mention the bards who had never told the story of the dragon, even the ancient books did not have any records of the ancient dragon!

Not to mention the ancient books that did not have any records of it, even the ancient cave did not have any murals of the ancient dragon!

Hence, they had a fear of the unknown when facing the ancient dragon soul that Joelson had released!

The spiritual totem of their underground city race, the lightning white bear, had been completely devoured by the ancient dragon soul!

The spiritual faith of their underground city race had been scared out of their wits by the ancient dragon soul of Joelson!

The image of him running away with his tail between his legs had become a scene that the guards could not get rid of!

The perfect victory against the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. The manner in which he had won with ease. The manner in which he had casually dominated, had left an indelible impression in their hearts!

This terrifying ancient dragon soul had directly defeated and shattered the spiritual beliefs of their underground race that had been passed down for tens of millions of years!

Such a powerful Joelson had already completely subdued all the people of the underground city in terms of force. It was simply impossible for them to have any thoughts of resistance in their hearts!

Everyone knew very well that few people in the underground city could get close to Joelson, let alone be his opponent!

It could be said that Joelson had more power than the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and King Leighton's power came from the power of class, which restricted everyone to obey their orders!

As the king, the two of them had supreme power in the underground city. The power of the two of them was overwhelming!

No one had the slightest ability to resist the king and his son.

Their orders came from the shackles of the spirit fox. Everyone had to obey their orders.

However, Joelson was completely different from King Leighton and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

His strength didn't come from those strange restraints but from the supreme power!

That's right, it was pure power!

Joelson's power was enough to crush all the residents of the underground city.

They knew in their hearts that no one in the underground city could come up with a way to resist Joelson!

No one could!

Not even king Leighton and the Iron-blooded King, who were supreme in power!

It could be said that as long as Joelson gave an order, no one in the underground city could resist.

It was too easy for him to kill the people in the underground city.

For them, the residents of the underground city, there was no way for him to resist.

For Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair, they were the most powerful people in the army.

Even if the two of them joined hands to issue sanctions and sentences in the military court, it would not be as effective as the order issued by Joelson alone.

That was because Joelson's power was supreme!

The law needed power to be defended.

And Joelson's power far surpassed this damn law!

Under such a powerful power, Joelson massacred the entire underground city, and no one dared to complain.

To them, even if Joelson issued the order to massacre the entire underground city, the people of the underground city would have no way to resist.

The only way was to obediently accept Joelson's judgment!

After all, Joelson had an absolutely powerful force to back him up!

There were only obvious differences between Joelson, King Leighton, and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

For King Leighton and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds...

They had a very important matter to consider.

They needed the hearts of the people of the underground city to ensure their rule!

Therefore, if they wanted to inform the underground city, they had to consider that their orders could buy the hearts of the people.

For all of them, King Leighton, or the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, their orders had to consider the hearts of the people of the underground city.

All of them knew very well that if it was King Leighton, he would have to consider whether his order would cause the soldiers in the underground city to mutiny!

Under such a situation, King Leighton and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had to consider a very important issue.

Chapter 694: Everyone's Expectations of Joelson!

The guards were all very clear in their hearts. For them, Joelson was different from those kings!

For the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds or King Leighton, their goals were fundamentally different.

As an unknown foreigner, when Joelson defeated the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, everyone was very clear in their hearts that the other party's strength had received the most perfect recognition!

Everyone was very clear in their hearts. To Joelson, no one in the entire underground city could stand out and challenge him.

To Joelson, there was almost no powerhouse in the entire underground city who could arouse his interest.

In the entire underground city, no one could stand in front of Joelson and challenge him.

No one had the qualifications to do so!

Vice-Captain Hansen, Captain Nair.

The battle just now was so intense, how wonderful the reversal was, and how brilliant the final ultimate skill exchange was.

In the entire underground city, there weren't many people who could reach their heights.

The duel between the two of them could be said to be extremely wonderful. Moreover, in the entire history of the underground city, there weren't many duels as powerful and terrifying as this one!

For the underground city, such a battle was enough to be recorded in the history books. It was enough to be engraved on the murals in the cave. It was an epic battle that would be remembered by the future generations!

This battle was already quite a feast for the eyes for everyone!

Everyone had never seen such an exciting battle since they were born!

If it wasn't for Joelson, they would definitely be waving their arms, dancing, and celebrating in excitement!

Because they had never seen such a wonderful battle. Such a wonderful battle was worth celebrating in the entire underground city!

The battle between such a powerful Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was constantly reversed. The process of the battle was full of ups and downs, so how could people not celebrate in their hearts.

However, the people of the underground city did not show much excitement when they watched the battle between the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen.

On the contrary, their performance was abnormally calm. They would occasionally be surprised, occasionally exclaim, and occasionally feel incredulous. However, they would not celebrate or shout excitedly, they would not record this battle in the annals of history, and record it in the entire underground city's epic-level murals, so that future generations could learn and remember that there was such an unprecedented battle today.

At this moment, the residents of the underground city only felt that the battle between Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen was ordinary and good-looking, not marvelous.

The reason was very simple.

It was because of Joelson.

The battle between Joelson and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had already filled up the viewing ability of everyone in the underground city!

After watching the battle between Joelson and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, everyone no longer had any ability to be interested in the other battles in the entire underground city.

That's right, no one was interested in any battles anymore!

If you had seen the sea and felt its vastness and surging waves, then you would not be interested in any small river in front of you.

If you had seen the magnificence of the mountains and the shock of reaching the clouds, then the very high mountain in front of your home would become extremely low.

The residents of the underground city saw this scene and had the same reasoning.

That's right, the battle between Joelson and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was too shocking!

No, using the word 'shocking' was an insult to this battle!

This was a battle that overturned their understanding!

This battle had already shattered the worldview of the underground city's people and reshaped their world!

It turned out that there was really such a powerful person in this world!

It turned out that there was such a huge gap in the battle in this world!

Everyone was shocked. After witnessing such a wonderful battle between Joelson and the Iron-Blooded King, everyone had no interest in the battle between Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen.

They were bored by the unprecedented battle between Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, which proved how powerful Joelson was!

For Joelson, the entire underground city was filled with terrifying and powerful strength. After defeating the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, no one could defeat him.

Even Captain Nair, who had fought so brilliantly just now, and Vice-Captain Hansen, who had fought so hard just now!

The two of them did not even have the qualifications to stand in front of Joelson!

If Joelson wanted to, with a snap of his fingers, a spark from an ancient dragon soul would be enough to burn the two of them to ashes!

Therefore.

For Joelson, King Leighton and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, the two of them had different reasons for issuing orders!

The orders issued by King Leighton had to take into account the people's sentiment.

All of their orders were for the sake of the approval ratings, in order to consolidate their positions.

For them, there was only one result when the orders were issued, and that was to control the people at the bottom and let them serve their own political circles!

This simple starting point made the choices they made a world of difference.

For King Leighton and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, when the orders were issued in the entire underground city, they had to consider their approval ratings.

However, as a foreigner, he did not have such concerns!

Moreover, he had such powerful strength.

For them, with such powerful strength, no matter what order he gave, the underground city would have no way to resist!

That's right, for him, their strength was too far apart.

Joelson's strength was so powerful that to the residents of the underground city, it could be said to be at the level of the instant kill!

Everyone understood in their hearts that such a powerful Joelson was powerful enough to execute all the soldiers who violated the law. Such a cruel order!

Because to Joelson, he wasn't afraid of the riots in the entire underground city!

The soldiers were given such orders and would not rebel!

For him, the soldiers did not need mercy!

Chapter 695: Joelson Who Won All the Applause!

All the soldiers were very clear!

You must know that Joelson didn't have to make any moves to please them!

Because Joelson didn't have to worry at all!

He was just a soldier of the underground city. Even the most powerful Iron-Blooded King of the underground city, Reynolds, had fallen under his hands.

No one in the entire underground city could challenge the strength of Joelson.

Joelson was already the representative of the absolute power in the underground city.

He had the absolute power to overturn all the laws set by the former king, Leighton.

To Joelson, the power of those laws was not even as powerful as the magical energy waves that he brought with his every move.

The guards knew very well that with such a powerful force, Joelson did not have to worry about King Leighton and the others' support ratings. He did not have to worry about the mutiny of the entire underground city's guards.

Whatever Joelson did, he did not have to think about the consequences.

Under such circumstances, humans would always show their greedy side.

When human nature was free from any restraints, the darkness that was revealed would be unimaginably dirty.

At this moment, Joelson was the one who was free from any restraints.

At least in the underground city, there was nothing that could restrain Joelson's actions. If any of the people present had obtained such supreme power, they would probably have lost their original hearts. Losing their human face and becoming a wild beast, their original bestial nature would dazzle anyone who was once kind.

However, standing at the peak of power, Joelson did not become like that.

Joelson, under a situation where no one could contend with him and no conditions could restrict him, made the most humane choice.

Everyone was innocent!

How strong was his heart to be able to hold on to his humanity and not become a man-eating beast when he was no longer bound!

What a strong soul and noble morality!

All the guards cheered to their heart's content, shouting as loudly as they could, venting out the fear in their hearts when they were waiting for Joelson's judgment!

"We're saved, Great Lord..."

"Oh my god, I've really been forgiven!"

"That's great, I thought I wouldn't be able to see my wife again..."

"Boohooohoooo, I thought I was really going to be executed!"

"Oh, god!"

They revealed, tears welling up in their eyes.

Before this, the dark clouds of death hung over their heads, and the pained expressions on their faces did not disappear.

Most of them thought that they were definitely dead!

But the moment the truth arrived, it was beyond all of their expectations.

Joelson would not be like that damned cruel King Leighton, using his iron-blooded wrist to directly sweep through the entire underground city of those who dared to disobey his orders, and would not cause the entire underground city to bleed like a river.

The current Joelson had already convinced the hearts of the entire underground city's people!

If the previous time when they killed the old king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, everyone was simply cheering for the powerful strength of Joelson.

Then now!

The entire underground city's people had already been convinced by Joelson's character!

They cheered, jumped, and hugged each other.

They shouted his name!

"King Joelson will live on forever!"

"King Joelson will live on forever!"

"Long live King Joelson!"

Waves of cheers shook the entire underground city!

The cheers of the people grew louder and louder as they sang to their heart's content about the extremely powerful man in the arena.

This man was none other than Joelson!

Everyone was celebrating. This shocking scene was something that the people of the underground city had never seen before!

No one had ever seen such a grand scene!

No one had ever seen such a soaring call!

The cheers of the people reverberated throughout the entire underground city, causing the mountain peaks to tremble and resonate!

All the people raised their hands high in the air, paying their respects to Joelson!

The officials and nobles were all shocked when they saw such a grand scene!

One had to know that when the previous Iron-Blooded King Reynolds took over, there was never such a grand scene!

One had to know that the residents of the entire underground city had never supported a person like this!

Never!

It must be known that the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was a strong man who had once beheaded the muddle-headed old king and led the people at the bottom of the hierarchy to revolt!

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, the old king who overthrew the situation of magical beasts enslaving the people of the underground city, had never had such a huge crowd cheering!

Who knew how the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who had already turned into a soul, would feel when he learned of such a thing!

At this moment, the people of the underground city were cheering to their heart's content, singing the name of Joelson.

This name, which they could remember forever, was becoming increasingly deafening under their cheers!

This wave was continuously sweeping through the underground city, sweeping through this unknown small place.

All the officials and nobles looked at the scene in front of them in astonishment!

This was too shocking.

One had to know that the entire underground city had never reached such a height since it was established.

If they had only wanted to rely on the strength of Joelson before, now they had completely submitted.

Although King Leighton was still alive and had gone mad.

However, even if King Leighton had not gone mad and was not affected in any way, he would not be able to take back his throne.

This was because they knew very well that Joelson would become the only king of the underground city!

At this moment, these officials knew very well that their only way out was to submit to Joelson as one body and mind.

Before this, some of them still wanted to restore the rule of the old King Reynolds and his son, but now that it was gone, they no longer had such thoughts in their hearts.

They were very sure that the throne of Joelson would be the most unshakable of all the kings.

They knew in their hearts that Joelson had been the true king of the underground city for thousands of years!

In front of him, the achievements of those kings over the past thousands of years were insignificant!

Chapter 696: The Hearts of the People in the Underground City. Is Joelson Going to Become the King?

After seeing how powerful Joelson was, all the officials tactfully cut off their thoughts about reviving the old kings, Leighton and Reynolds.

They were very sure that Joelson's throne would be the most unshakable of all the kings in history.

They understood in their hearts that Joelson was the true king of the underground city for thousands of years!

Only following Joelson and submitting to him physically and mentally was the correct way to go with the current trend!

They looked at Joelson on the stage with burning eyes. At the same time, they looked at Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen!

The high officials and nobles in the palace knew very well that Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen would be the two people that Joelson valued the most!

The high officials and nobles in the palace were extremely jealous and regretful at the same time.

How could this damned Captain Nair and vice-captain be so lucky to gain Joelson's favor?

While they were jealous of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, they also felt a wave of regret in their hearts!

They really didn't know what was going on in their minds, why didn't they go up and curry favor with Joelson right from the start!

Those high-ranking officials in the palace, the nobles thought so regretfully in their hearts.

The more they thought about it, the more uncomfortable they felt in their hearts. It must be known that in the entire underground city, they were once the most favored group of people by the king's side. They relied on the old king's favor. They obtained a lot of power and lived a life of superiority in the underground city. This made them, who were used to the life of superiority in the underground city, feel a wave of frustration in their hearts.

If they had been the first to offer their loyalty to Joelson, then the entire incident would have been different.

If at that time, they could put down their so-called noble status, put down their face, and be the first to offer their loyalty to Joelson, then in the entire underground city, the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, standing on the stage would be someone else!

Perhaps it would be him!

If only he could become one of the people that Joelson favored!

These high-ranking officials and nobles in the palace, the people who used to be on top of them, were all filled with regret at this moment.

They were all filled with regret in their hearts. They were thinking about their actions just now, thinking if they did what they did, would they be able to gain Joelson's appreciation, they would be able to obtain their former status in the future palace group.

Perhaps, if they fawned over Joelson, they would be able to obtain even higher achievements and rewards than when they were in the palace!

This made them gulp. Just the thought of Joelson appreciating them was enough to make them drool.

But they all knew.

In the past, when they were high-ranking officials in the palace, the nobles understood it very well.

Those were all hypotheticals. If they missed it, they would miss it. There was no room for redemption.

If they did not put down their pride at the first moment and put down their status to curry favor with Joelson, that meant they did not curry favor with him.

Just relying on regret would not change anything.

Their hearts were filled with regret. They pounded their heads in pain, thinking how good it would have been if they had been able to see the situation clearly earlier!

At that time, many of them thought that they could restore the rule of the old kings, Leighton and Reynolds.

Now, it seemed like such a ridiculous idea.

There were also some people who thought that they were smart and thought that without the support of the people, they could not rule the underground city. With such a foolish idea, they directly missed the best opportunity to get promoted and get rich.

This made them feel even more regretful.

After all, this might be the easiest time to get promoted in this world!

As long as they fawned over Joelson as quickly as possible, they might be able to keep their positions. If they spoke nicely, they might even get promoted and get rich!

If they had taken a step forward at that time, they would have woken up a little earlier. They would not have ended up like this.

They felt a wave of pain in their hearts.

Everyone who realized this was beating their chests and stomping their feet. They felt a wave of regret in their hearts.

However, these people's thoughts were actually wrong.

Joelson was not someone who could be dismissed with a few good words. Doing so would at most leave a good impression on him.

If he was not like Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, who had talent and potential, Joelson would not even glance at them!

He would not accept those who had no talent and potential!

If he wanted to offer his loyalty to him, it would be useless if he only knew how to flatter and speak well of them.

To him, if he only had loyalty but did not have the ability, he would not spare a glance at him.

He had a balance in his heart. Those who did not meet the standards, no matter how good their flattery was or how high their EQ was, would not be appreciated by him!

Only those who had both virtue and ability were qualified talents!

In other words, even if the nobles in the palace had the ability to predict the future, it was useless for them to be the first to come forward and offer their loyalty.

Without talent, they would never be looked at by Joelson.

The captain of the guards, Nair, was indeed the first to offer his loyalty.

However, if Nair could not command the entire army and suppress Vice-Captain Hansen's resistance, then Joelson would not give him the chance to kneel beside him.

As for Vice-Captain Hansen, in regards to his rebuttal, Joelson could only tolerate it because Vice-Captain Hansen was a talented person, and he could understand the confusion and doubt in the other party's heart.

Standing calmly on the stage, looking at the people calling out to him and the cheers of the people below, he was very calm. There was no change in his expression.

Kneeling on the ground, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, revealed a smile on his lips. He had long had a premonition in his heart when he made such a decision!

He was very clear that Joelson was not a person who would bully the weak just because he thought he was strong!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, believed in the way he looked at people. He did not doubt it at all.

While the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was laughing secretly, Joelson slowly looked at the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen.

Chapter 697: Joelson's Plan. Everyone Was Shocked.

Just as the guards raised their arms and shouted, Vice-Captain Hansen slowly raised his head.

A smile slowly appeared on Vice-Captain Hansen's face.

This was a smile that had predicted Joelson's decision.

Vice-Captain Hansen understood what Joelson was thinking. Vice-Captain Hansen had already expected it.

That's right. Hansen had already predicted what Joelson was thinking.

The reason was simple. Hansen had already understood that Joelson was not that kind of person, therefore, Hansen had already predicted the opportunity for the other party to act like this.

Because Joelson would never use his strength to crush the weak underground city residents for fun!

Vice-Captain Hansen understood this in his heart, so he had nothing to fear. Just now, when everyone was in danger, Vice-Captain Hansen had nothing to fear.

It should be known that Vice-Captain Hansen was the number one figure for treason. After all, it was Vice-Captain Hansen who took the lead to resist Captain Nair's orders, only then did the ordinary guards under them have the courage to oppose Captain Nair!

If the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had not been the first to show himself, perhaps not many people in the entire underground city would have dared to openly provoke Captain Nair!

One had to know that Captain Nair was still a deity-domain expert. Dealing with ordinary guards rebelling was as easy as drinking water!

A deity domain level guard Captain Nair had an overwhelming advantage when dealing with ordinary guards.

First of all, Guard Captain Nair's physical strength surpassed all of the guards. Among the guards, not a single one of them had a chance of defeating Guard Captain Nair.

Guard Captain Nair had the strength to defeat a group of people in the guard team single-handedly. However, he was unable to defeat the entire guard team when they ganged up on him.

If all the members of the guard regiment ganged up on Nair, even if the captain was a deity domain expert, it would be difficult for him to escape death.

However, this was actually not a big deal.

This was because it was actually very difficult for the entire guard regiment to reach the point where everyone was united against the outside world.

After all, everyone had their own thoughts. Some wanted to be promoted and promoted, while others just wanted to live a peaceful life.

Under such a blessing, everyone had their own thoughts. It was difficult for all the guards to unite.

Therefore, Captain Nair did not need to defeat all the guards in the underground city. He only needed to defeat a part of the guards in the entire underground city to intimidate the entire guards!

Under such circumstances, everyone understood in their hearts that if Vice-Captain Hansen did not lead the charge, then the guards in the entire underground city would not be able to unite and fight against Captain Nair!

The vice-captain of the guards played a key role in uniting the entire underground city guards. Vice-Captain Hansen was very clear in his heart that he had become the key figure in the rebellion of the guards!

As long as he did not step out to rebel, the guards of the entire underground city would not rebel!

Therefore, in terms of the severity of the crime, Captain Nair should be the person with the most serious crime in the entire underground city.

According to King Leighton Eldoria's military law, the death of Captain Nair would not appease King Leighton's anger!

Although Vice-Captain Hansen was the main culprit of the rebellion in the entire underground city, Vice-Captain Hansen knew himself very well. He was very clear that it was because of his leadership that the situation of the rebellion had reached this stage.

Because things were different now.

King Leighton's power had already disappeared in the underground city!

The residents of the underground city were very clear in their hearts. If it wasn't for the vice-captain of the guards, then the entire underground city's guard corps wouldn't have become so violent!

However, at this moment, the military law was useless. With the defeat of the old king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, the people of the underground city were very clear that if anyone in the underground city could control the current situation... there would only be one person left.

That person was the only true god of the entire underground city, Joelson!

Joelson's strength was able to defeat the old King Reynolds. He was now the legitimate king of the underground city!

Whether in terms of strength or military, Joelson could defeat the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, he had the ability to become a king!

Not only that, but Joelson also had such high popularity among the people. If he was not the new king, the people of the underground city would not recognize him!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, smiled faintly.

Even though he knew that he was the main culprit of the disease in the entire underground city, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, still smiled. With a confident smile, he immediately attracted the captain of the guards, Nair, who was kneeling beside him!

"You, what are you smiling about?"

The smile of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, made the captain of the guards, Nair, confused.

What on earth is this guy smiling about?

Guard Captain Nair thought about it but he still couldn't understand.

"Could it be that you knew that Joelson would declare everyone innocent?"

Guard Captain Nair thought for a long time and finally came up with an explanation.

"That's right, I've seen through it long ago!"

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen smiled and looked at Joelson's tall body.

"This lord has the ability to bring the entire underground city out of the Wailing Abyss!"

The captain of the guards, Nair, was suddenly stunned.

"From the beginning to the end, since the birth of our ancestors, our people in the underground city have never been able to go out to the outside world!"

Vice-Captain Hansen said excitedly, completely ignoring the stunned expression of Guard Captain Nair and the indifferent gaze of Joelson.

Guard Captain Nair took a deep gulp of saliva.

This Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was exactly the same as before, he was still so crazy!

Although Guard Captain Nair felt that Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's words were very surprising, outsiders would even directly regard him as a madman.

However.

Captain Nair understood that what Vice-Captain Hansen said was very right!

"From the beginning to the end, since the birth of our ancestors, our people in the underground city have never been able to go out to the outside world!"

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, said excitedly!

At this moment, he was so excited that he completely ignored the stunned expression of Captain Nair and the indifferent gaze of Joelson!

That's right, there were two reasons for his smile!

The first was that he had long known that Joelson would not turn the entire underground city into a pool of blood and would not casually trample on the lives of others!

The successful prediction of Joelson's acquittal made Vice-Captain Hansen laugh excitedly.

As for the second point.

It was what Vice-Captain Hansen had said to Captain Nair just now.

This was Vice-Captain Hansen's hope for the future of the underground city!

One had to know that since the birth of the entire underground city, they had been trapped in this tiny place, trapped in this Wailing Abyss!

This frozen place, this place that was always in winter, had a lack of natural resources and a harsh living environment. The people of the underground city had never walked out of the mountain since the moment they were born!

In their long lives, almost all the residents of the underground city gradually lost their desire to explore the outside world and their thoughts about the appearance of the outside world.

When they were young, the residents of the entire underground city would ask questions about what the outside world was like.

The young underground city people still had a basic desire to explore the outside world.

However, for the older people, their desire to explore the outside world was gradually erased as they grew older. It was the fact that the entire underground city had stood in the wind and snow for tens of thousands of years, it erased their curiosity to pursue the outside world.

After all, everyone faced a mountain that was so high that they couldn't see the sky. Who would still have a trace of fantasy about the outside world?

Just like that, the residents of the underground city no longer fantasized about the outside world. Even the novels that described the outside world in the marketplace had no market.

Until a long time ago, an adventurer came to the underground city. The visit of outsiders caused many residents of the underground city to once again burn up their yearning for the beautiful outside world.

That adventurer was the old man who settled above the Wailing Abyss!

The arrival of the old man, who was still a middle-aged man at that time, told the story of the outside world rising up and bringing the items of the outside world. This made the people of the underground city reignite their yearning for the outside world!

Since the outsiders could climb down from the top, why couldn't the people of the underground city climb up?

Driven by this idea, someone quickly organized an experienced expedition team and set off with the best equipment!

With curiosity about the outside world, the expedition team took their first step, but this first step was very unsuccessful.

The expedition team made up of strong young men waited for a long time, but no news came back.

Later, people found their fallen bones. In the ice and snow, they were not directly turned into bones, but frozen into ice sculptures!

They fell down due to exhaustion during the climb.

The entire expedition team, so many people set out, but none of them succeeded.

This was only the first step of the underground city's exploration of the outside world.

Very quickly, they formed an elite expedition team.

This elite expedition team, after experiencing the failures of their predecessors, fully summed up their experience, but they still failed.

The failure was very thorough!

They were also completely annihilated!

However, they still did not give up. Challenging the Wailing Abyss became a very important ritual for the residents of the underground city. It became as important as offering sacrifices to their ancestors and hunting!

The pursuit that they had never given up for so many years had failed time and time again.

Their yearning for the outside world was gradually obliterated by the fact that the entire underground city had sent out expeditions for so many years without any results!

Their yearning for the outside world was gradually obliterated by the passage of time!

Although outsiders would still come frequently. The entire underground city still sent out expeditions.

However, everyone had already lost all confidence in the exploration of the outside world.

It wasn't until an expedition team was recruited that no one in the entire underground city responded. The residents of the entire underground city realized this.

They had already lost all confidence in the exploration of the outside world.

They raised their heads to look at the tall mountain peak. They had already completely lost all hope of walking out of this valley.

Captain Nair was the one who didn't have any hope of walking out of the valley.

At the same time, the tens of thousands of people in the underground city were the same as Captain Nair. They also didn't have any hope of walking out of the valley.

Captain Nair's mentality could be said to be the true portrayal of the mentality of many people in the underground city.

For things like the outside world, it didn't matter anymore. After all, a day was a day, and two days was a day.

For the underground city, the expedition team was just throwing their lives away.

Because from the beginning until now, there had been no news of the expedition team. Basically, all of them had been wiped out!

Not a single person had reached the top of the mountain!

In the eyes of the people in the underground city, climbing up was no different from throwing their lives away.

Since a day was a day and two days were two days, why would they challenge the Wailing Abyss and come here to throw their lives away?

In the hearts of everyone, they gradually lost all patience for this kind of exploration.

After all, the underground city had solved their own food and clothing, and removed the threat of magical beasts. It was only a matter of a few hundred years. They were not rich enough to have enough food and clothing, and to pursue their own spiritual abundance... it was better to first satisfy their own food and clothing, and then live a peaceful life.

However, not everyone thought so.

For example, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was looking at his old comrade beside him, the captain of the guards, Nair!

The captain of the guards, Nair, was stunned.

He really didn't expect Vice-Captain Hansen to think this way.

Vice-Captain Hansen had not abandoned his curiosity towards the outside world!

Although he felt that Vice-Captain Hansen's words were ridiculous!

Outsiders would even think that he was crazy.

However, Captain Nair had a fanatical look on his face!

Chapter 699: The Expectations of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen!

Captain Nair felt a wave of emotion in his heart.

Once upon a time, when he was a child, he was also extremely curious about the outside world. However, as time passed, the entire underground city had no confidence in exploring the outside world.

The captain of the guards, Nair, also lost his confidence in exploring the outside world in the poison of time.

The captain of the guards, Nair, was stunned when he heard the words of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. He recalled the past, recalled his fantasies about the world outside the underground city, and about the world above the Wailing Abyss.

There were many fantasies about the outside world in the entire underground city.

People wanted to see the outside world, to see what the outside world was like.

However, most people gave up on this idea.

There was no other reason. It was just that the price to defeat the terrifying nature and to challenge the Wailing Abyss was too high, and the cost of failure was too high.

Everyone's childhood mind was fantasizing about the outside world. As they grew up, they threw their childhood and fantasies about the outside world into the trash can.

Just like Santa Claus, when they reached their age, they would naturally know that it was a myth that people had made up.

When the people in the underground city reached their age, they would naturally give up their fantasies about the outside world and throw themselves into life.

In their daily lives, they would quickly forget about their childhood, their ridiculous fantasies about the outside world.

Therefore, when Captain Nair heard Joelson's voice, he immediately frowned and was stunned for a moment.

In his mind, he searched for information about the outside world and then looked at the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, in surprise.

This guy had not forgotten the exploration of the outside world!

One had to know that this was a rare spirit!

In the entire underground city, not many people were able to stick to their original hearts and still remember to remain curious about the outside world.

This kind of spirit was very rare and precious.

For the residents of the underground city, even when they accepted the fact that the exploration teams that set off every once in a while had all returned empty-handed, they were still able to persist in their curiosity about the outside world, this quality was really rare and valuable.

After the Guard Captain Nair was stunned, he sighed.

He sighed that the Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was one of the few people who still had expectations for the outside world of the underground city.

Then, what followed was a surprise!

That's right, endless surprises!

Perhaps to ordinary people, the words of the Guard Vice-Captain Hansen would definitely be scoffed at.

This was because once upon a time, the underground city would send out an elite expedition team to challenge the mountains and the Wailing Abyss. Although the people who issued the challenge were basically dead without a complete corpse, but... this custom had lasted for a very long time!

In the ancient underground city, almost every generation of kings would not give up their fantasy of the world above the mountains.

Every generation of kings would hire warriors with a large sum of money to challenge this lofty mountain and the Wailing Abyss.

Although the news brought back every time was extremely miserable, it was still fine if the corpses were found, but the corpses were not. Being devoured by magical beasts was basically the norm after the death of the expedition members.

Under such a blow, if someone said that the underground city might be able to walk out of the Wailing Abyss, then everyone would definitely scoff at it.

That was because they all believed that if anyone could climb to the top of the Wailing Abyss, then it would be impossible for even gods to appear!

Absolutely impossible!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's words were no different from a fool's dream.

The captain of the guards, Nair, also thought so at the beginning.

Because, he also didn't understand for a moment why the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would suddenly say such silly words, saying that the underground city could walk out of the Wailing Abyss... Wasn't that just a fool's dream?

However, as Captain Nair thought carefully, suddenly, Captain Nair thought of the reason why Vice-Captain Hansen would say that.

After all, the fact that Captain Nair was able to climb up to this position meant that he was not stupid. Captain Nair knew Hansen very well and knew that he was not a person who would say something stupid.

Captain Nair understood in his heart that Vice-Captain Hansen wouldn't joke about the future of the underground city.

Because it wasn't like Vice-Captain Hansen didn't know about the situation of the entire underground city!

Captain Nair was a smart person. He quickly thought of the reason why Vice-Captain Hansen said so. He immediately slapped his thigh and praised him.

"Yes, that's right!"

Captain Nair keenly sensed what Vice-Captain Hansen was thinking!

That's right, the situation of the underground city was different now!

Since the underground city was born, there had been numerous coups, big and small, and the owners of the underground city had almost always changed.

For thousands of years, the underground city had never stopped acting like today!

Even the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and King Leighton had only seized the status and power of others. After all, their family was just a poor peasant in the countryside!

What happened today might be a big deal in the eyes of ordinary people, but it was indeed a very common small matter in the long history of the underground city.

However, Captain Nair knew that today's coup was not a small matter!

That was because the people involved in the coup were all different from the people in the past!

It was Joelson who had led the coup!

Joelson was different from all the people in the past!

Joelson's strength was unparalleled in the entire history of the underground city!

One had to know that people who came out of small places like the underground city in the corners of the world were all very mediocre!

In the past, the deity domain level was still the king-level expert of the entire underground city.

But now, he was just an ordinary expert!

The arrival of Joelson had changed this situation!

Joelson was a powerful demigod, at the peak!

In addition, not only that, but Joelson had also defeated the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who had never been an expert in the entire underground city, and his level was that of a god!

The power of Joelson was the most powerful existence in the history of the underground city!

Chapter 700: Can Joelson Change the Underground City and Walk Towards the Underworld!

Captain Nair kneeled on the ground, his chest heaving up and down violently.

He knew that Joelson's coup was the most unique event in the entire history of the underground city, ever since the emergence of life in the underground city!

Captain Nair was filled with excitement at this moment. He was abnormally excited by the uniqueness of Joelson.

It must be known that Joelson's power was at the peak of the demigod level. Just this level alone was something that no one else in the underground city, other than the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, had.

Not to mention, Joelson's battle record.

With the power of a peak demigod, Joelson had directly defeated the most powerful expert in the history of the entire underground city, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

Reynolds' power was obvious to all!

Everyone understood that as a god, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was a terrifying existence in the entire Underworld Continent.

A god, even in the Underworld Continent, was an existence that could cause a bloody storm.

However, Joelson had defeated him, defeating the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

In this way, Joelson's power was the apex of the entire underground city's power ever since it was established!

Joelson's strength stood at the pinnacle of the entire underground city!

Captain Nair's heart trembled.

This was the difference between Joelson and the other coups in the long river of history.

Joelson was the most powerful person among all coups!

No one could doubt this!

Such powerful strength might really be able to change the current situation of the underground city, bringing the underground city out of the Wailing Abyss that had trapped the underground city for thousands of years!

Just thinking about it made the heart of Captain Nair jump wildly, unable to calm down at all.

Captain Nair finally understood the mysterious smile of Vice-Captain Hansen just now!

At this moment, a smile also appeared on his face.

That's right, Captain Nair completely understood the other party's thoughts!

Moreover, Vice-Captain Hansen was thinking about more than that!

That's right, strength was indeed a necessary condition to lead the underground city to flourish. Only when one's own strength was strong enough would one be able to lead the entire underground city into and out of those dangerous environments with ease.

However, for Vice-Captain Hansen, there was one condition that was extremely important!

That was the character of the leader!

It was true that Joelson was powerful but, in reality, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was similarly powerful.

Under the multiple buffs of his innate talent, luck, and comprehension, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had trained to the level of a god!

It must be known that in the entire underground city, there were very few people who had such powerful comprehension abilities!

Just having this comprehension ability and this talent wasn't enough. One had to put in 100% effort.

Just having talent and not working hard wouldn't allow one to reach this level.

In truth, not just talent and hard work, reaching the level of a god required a lot of luck. There were many people at the peak of the demigod level who had spent an extremely long period of time trying to become a god. However, they had never been able to break through the restrictions of the peak of the demigod level in their entire lives. Reaching the level of a god was a very important factor.

Luck!

That's right. Luck was also a part of strength!

The vice-captain of the guards clearly knew how difficult it was for the Iron Blood King Reynolds to train to that level, and how much he had paid.

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was also the first person in this vast underground city to reach the level of a god!

A god. One had to know that at this level, even in the Underworld Continent, people at this level would be extremely popular, let alone in an underground city!

As long as one was able to protect one's true heart, it wouldn't be a big problem for one to achieve great things and become a legend in the Underworld Continent.

In terms of power, logically speaking, the old king, Reynolds, was also an expert!

A god, let alone in this small underground city, even in the entire Underworld, would be able to accomplish quite a bit!

Why hadn't the old King Reynolds, a god, made Vice-Captain Hansen feel as though the underground city was going to gradually become prosperous under Reynolds's leadership?

Logically speaking, although the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was completely suppressed by Joelson in terms of combat power...

But in the entire Underworld Continent, that was a very proud level!

Heavens, that was a god.

If the old king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, led the underground city, not only would he be able to dominate the entire Underworld, he would also be able to be like a fish returning to the river in the Underworld Continent. It would be extremely comfortable.

However, why didn't Vice-Captain Hansen feel that the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds couldn't lead the underground city to prosperity?

After all, the king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, was a native of the underground city. For people like them who were also residents of the underground city, they should prioritize the people of the underground city to be the king.

Joelson was stronger but he was a foreigner.

However, even with so many blessings, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, still wanted to choose Joelson as their king. Joelson would lead the underground city out of this endless blizzard, he would never stop crying at the bottom of the abyss.

The reason was very simple. Because the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds lacked something important compared to Joelson.

He didn't have an extremely important special trait in him.

This special trait could only be found in Joelson!

That's right, this special trait was!

The state of mind!

Joelson had a state of mind that the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had never had before. This was extremely important!

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, no matter how powerful he was, was unable to surpass Joelson in this aspect!

Even if he made an impossible hypothesis, even if the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had reached the highgod level and suppressed Joelson in power, he still wouldn't be able to lead the underground city out of the Wailing Abyss.

The reason was very simple. After the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds became powerful, he would only think about how to exploit his own people. He would only think about using his iron-blooded hands to control his own throne!

Such an Iron-Blooded King Reynolds would not be able to lead the underground city to prosperity!

The temperament of the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds would never be able to reach the height of a wise ruler!

Therefore, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, knew in his heart that he was the one who could lead the underground city out of the Wailing Abyss!
