

Breeding Dragons From Today

Chapter 701: Joelson's Rejection Shocking the Residents of the Underground City!

Vice-Captain Hansen understood in his heart that only Joelson could lead the residents of the underground city out of the endless snowstorm and natural disasters that kept wailing in the abyss!

Vice-Captain Hansen was very clear in his heart. The irreplaceable nature of Joelson was not only derived from his military power, but also from his psychological strength!

Within this strength was the only part of Joelson's strength. This part of his strength was something that the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds couldn't duplicate!

This sort of strength was something that only Joelson could do!

According to the level of the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, as a god, he should be able to easily defeat Joelson.

However, the truth was...

As a peak demigod, Joelson had easily defeated the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

To Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, the profound meaning behind Joelson's victory definitely included his powerful state of mind!

That's right, it was his state of mind!

With his powerful state of mind, Joelson was able to easily calm down under the pursuit of the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, calmly searching for any weaknesses in his opponent.

However, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was unable to do such a simple thing.

During the course of the battle, the Iron-Blooded King was directly broken through by his opponent several times!

That's right!

It was precisely because of his final hysteria, his final madness, and his final reckless attack that caused the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds's defeat!

Although in the end, Joelson relied on his ancient dragon soul to easily suppress the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds's final killing move, in the eyes of Vice-Captain Hansen, the state of mind of the two of them was also an important part of this battle. Joelson being able to win was a crucial part.

However, Vice-Captain Hansen had no doubt in his heart at this moment.

With such a strong state of mind, Joelson would become a qualified king and a qualified wise monarch. With such a person leading, the entire underground city would move towards prosperity, walking out of this Wailing Abyss that had trapped the entire underground city for hundreds and thousands of years!

Vice-Captain Hansen could not help but feel excited when he thought of this!

This was truly a major change that had never happened in the underground city for thousands of years!

If it was Joelson, he might really be able to break out of the Wailing Abyss that had trapped the underground city for thousands and hundreds of years!

The beautiful world outside and the yearning of the people of the underground city for the beautiful world outside had been obliterated by the river of time.

It was this river of time that had obliterated the yearning for the outside world. Now, this yearning had returned. How could this not make Vice-Captain Hansen happy!

If not for the injury on his body and the fact that he only had one arm, Vice-Captain Hansen would have already jumped up in excitement!

With a powerful person like Joelson leading the people of the underground city, this kind of thing was even happier than his own promotion and wealth!

Because, Vice-Captain Hansen knew that with such a powerful person like Joelson, their days would definitely be better and better, and their future would definitely be brighter and brighter!

Vice-Captain Hansen was very clear about this in his heart!

Therefore, Vice-Captain Hansen was very happy in his heart!

After all, in the underground city, there was nothing to be proud of when he became a captain of the guards because there were still all kinds of powerful people in the underworld outside. For them, they didn't care about the entire underground city, not to mention a small captain of the guards in the underground city!

However, if they followed Joelson, everything would be different!

Even if it was just a small deputy captain of the guards, it would be completely different if he followed Joelson!

The people outside didn't see the small deputy captain of the guards in the underground city, but the deputy captain of the guards of Sir Joelson!

This kind of value was ten times or even a thousand times higher than the former!

How could this not make the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, happy!

Not to mention, if in the future, Joelson led the underground city out of this damn Wailing Abyss, then when they walked to the underground city above the underworld, even if it was just a small vice-captain of the guards. That was a position that could make people proud and glorify their ancestors!

Thinking of all this, how could vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, not be happy in his heart!

In particular, Joelson directly announced the punishment of not being guilty to the people below the arena, which was in line with the guess of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen.

The overwhelming cheers below the arena, the cheers of the people, and the support of everyone instantly made him laugh even more happily!

The scene of him laughing was witnessed by Joelson. He turned his indifferent gaze to the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen.

"Sir Joelson!"

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, noticed Joelson's gaze and immediately stopped smiling. He looked at Joelson in fear, afraid that his loss of composure would cause the other party to be dissatisfied.

After apologizing to Joelson in fear, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, waited for Joelson's next instruction.

"What are you still standing there for? Are you still going to drink the recovery potion on the ground?"

Joelson saw the other party's terrified expression and immediately felt that it was interesting, so he said in a dignified manner.

"I'm sorry, Sir Joelson. I was blind just now, and I actually ruined your good intentions. I'll drink it now!"

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, felt a warmth in his heart. He did not feel the slightest bit of anger for rejecting the other party's recovery potion!

What a strong mentality. Such a noble person was rarely seen in the entire underworld!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was touched. He picked up the small bottle that he had placed on the ground just now, opened the wooden cork on the bottle's mouth, and lowered his head to sniff it.

The moment the wooden cork was removed, a fragrance filled the entire arena. The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was shocked. Then, he did not suspect him, he raised his head and drank the recovery potion in the bottle in one gulp!

When the entire potion entered his stomach, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, immediately felt a warmth in his chest. This warm feeling went down his esophagus all the way to the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's stomach, then, it spread through his blood vessels to his entire body!

It was so itchy!

Vice-Captain Hansen only felt an itch on the spot where his arm had been cut off. White granulation was growing crazily on the wound!

His broken arm was actually recovering!

Chapter 702: Magical Recovery Potion. The Shock of Guard Vice-Captain Hansen!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen raised his head and drank the recovery potion in his hand in one gulp. Then, he felt the magical power of this recovery potion!

A scorching warm current was actually slowly flowing down Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's esophagus. It had warmed Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's stomach, but it did not have the slightest intention of stopping!

A warm current was flowing up and down Vice-Captain Hansen's body. It started from his stomach and quickly spread to every part of his body!

This warm current shocked Vice-Captain Hansen's mind!

This recovery potion was too powerful!

Vice-Captain Hansen thought in surprise.

However, as he was thinking, a strong warm current rushed into Vice-Captain Hansen's hand. This strong warm current was like a reptile. It started to move on Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's arm!

Just as Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was thinking, a strong itchy feeling emerged from his broken arm!

Along with this itchy feeling, the white flesh was growing at the crack where Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's broken arm was!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was shocked!

This was too strong!

Moreover, just as Vice-Captain Hansen was shocked by the change in his arm, an even more numbing feeling spread throughout Vice-Captain Hansen's entire body!

It was his bones!

Vice-Captain Hansen quickly knew where the change was coming from!

It was his bones that were growing crazily!

At the broken arm, white bones were constantly emerging. The bones of the arms, and joints of the arms were recovering at a crazy speed. Following closely behind the bones were, it was the flesh from the wound on the vice-captain's broken arm!

The flesh was constantly regenerating, constantly filling up the pain on the vice-captain's hand. The pain was constantly healing, constantly repairing the wound he had once had. The speed at which the wounds were recovering really surprised Vice-Captain Hansen!

This recovery was too fast!

Vice-Captain Hansen thought in surprise!

The speed at which the wounds were recovering really surprised him. This feeling of surprise could not be dispelled for a long time!

Based on this recovery speed, it was likely that Vice-Captain Hansen's broken arm would be completely regenerated in less than ten minutes!

With such a terrifying recovery ability, the potion would probably be a unique existence in the entire continent!

Not to mention, this place was the extreme ice region at the edge of the underworld continent. Moreover, this was the deepest corner of the extreme ice region, the bottom of the Wailing Abyss. This was a city that could not survive in the underworld continent for even a day!

Such an underground city would probably be considered an inferior existence in the entire underworld continent!

One had to know that in a small and unknown place like the underground city, a high-grade recovery potion that could stop bleeding was considered a high-grade treasure. All the big families would fight over it!

Under this premise, the recovery ability of this bottle of recovery potion was naturally extremely precious!

Not only was it precious, but it could also be said that one would not come across such a bottle in thousands of years!

If someone were to put such a high-quality recovery potion in the auction house, the entire underground city would probably be alarmed by such a high-quality recovery potion!

With such a high-quality recovery potion, it was likely that all the factions in the underground city would rush over to purchase it!

One had to know what it meant to be able to regrow an arm in a short period of time!

It meant that after being heavily injured by the opponent's ultimate move in an intense battle, one only needed to drink this bottle of recovery potion to quickly recover their combat strength!

One had to know that after the opponent had gone through a lot of trouble and finally lost one of his arms, he had instantly replenished his entire state with a bottle of recovery potion. Such a terrifying recovery ability would cause the opponent to collapse!

The effect of such a recovery medicine was quite heaven-defying. Even if it was not in this barren underground city, the scene had changed to the vast underworld continent. Such a grade of medicine! It was likely that it would also cause the big shots from various factions to fight over it!

This recovery medicine possessed such a rapid recovery speed. It was not just a recovery function tool, but a rare vital tool that could save one's life!

As long as one was not completely dead, one sip of this miraculous recovery potion would be able to redeem one's life from the hands of death!

And such a precious potion was actually given to him to drink so casually!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, suddenly felt a wave of shock in his heart.

It was one thing if Joelson's strength was so heaven-defying, but he did not expect that the treasures in his inventory were even more shocking!

Vice-Captain Hansen's heart was in turmoil.

At this moment, the vice-captain's hand had almost fully grown while he was thinking!

Looking at his baby-like arm, Vice-Captain Hansen felt a wave of surprise in his heart!

To think that he had completely recovered so quickly. Vice-Captain Hansen stretched out his hand and touched the newly grown hand, feeling a wave of emotion!

Although he had already seen the scene when Captain Nair used it, the vice-captain of the guards was already very shocked in his heart. Now that he had really consumed this recovery medicine, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, finally understood in his heart. The power of this recovery medicine was so magical and amazing!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was extremely surprised. At this moment, he raised his head to look at Joelson in front of him and felt a wave of emotion in his heart.

Joelson was indeed worthy of being a rare noble in the underground city!

He did not expect that such an expensive recovery potion would be given to him so easily!

Thinking of this, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was instantly touched!

Not only did Joelson not care about him contradicting him, but he also did not blame him. Instead, he patiently answered his questions and helped him recover his arm!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was touched.

The value of this potion was immeasurable. Even if the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, wanted to repay him, he could not think of any way to repay this precious person!

Chapter 703: Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen Felt Helpless in Their Hearts. It Was a Heavy Gift That They Could Not Repay!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen touched his newly grown arm and felt a wave of gratitude in his heart!

He really did not expect that there would be such a day where he would be able to regain his arm!

During the previous duel, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was facing the ultimate killing move of the captain of the guards, Nair. At that time, he was thinking that he would definitely lose his life, at that time, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was fighting with the captain of the guards, Nair, with the determination to die.

Now, he did not lose his life. Instead, he had regrown his broken arm. How could the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, not be surprised?

Vice-Captain Hansen didn't know how to repay him for such an expensive potion!

He truly didn't know how to repay him for such an expensive potion!

All the money in the underground city wasn't enough to buy this bottle of recovery potion!

That's right, it was that exaggerated!

This kind of recovery potion, even if placed in the entire underworld continent, was a super treasure that money could not measure!

It was likely that once it appeared, it would be snatched by the entire underworld continent!

This kind of legendary treasure, no matter how many things were spent to obtain it, was all worth it. It was a bloody profit!

The ability to regrow severed limbs, for non-immortal races that could not endlessly repair their bodies, was extremely enviable!

Using all the money he had on him, all the money he could earn in his lifetime, to hand it all over to Joelson, that was not even a small amount of money!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, understood in his heart that no matter how much money he had, it was impossible for him to repay this favor because the weight of this favor was too heavy!

This recovery medicine would be impossible to repay even if he emptied out his estate completely!

Then, what about using his own power to serve Joelson?

That would be even more impossible!

Joelson's power was at the peak of the demigod level, far surpassing that of the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. If they didn't encounter any great opportunities, it would be extremely difficult for them to catch up to Joelson in their entire lives!

Not to mention that he was at the same level as Joelson. To be able to reach the same level of power as Joelson was probably something that would be hard to see in their next lives!

Not to mention, to surpass Joelson's cultivation level, Joelson was much younger than the two of them. One had to know that when one was young, one's potential would be at its most boundless.

Once one reached middle-aged age, there wouldn't be any major accidents. Under normal circumstances, one's cultivation level would basically be set at a certain level, and it would be very difficult for one to make any further progress.

Joelson was much younger than them. At such a young age, he had already reached the peak of the demigod level.

Joelson was still a young, well-dressed young man. The physical strength of this sort of young man was far beyond that of their two middle-aged guards, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen!

At such a young age, he had already reached the level of a peak demigod. Clearly, the very young Joelson would definitely become even more powerful in the future. One had to know that when one was young, one's cultivation base would grow the fastest. One's comprehension would be the best and one's strength would increase the fastest.

At this moment, it could be said that young people had limitless possibilities.

At this moment, Joelson was the young man.

However, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen were different. They had already reached middle-aged age, the speed of their cultivation growth, and their comprehension ability, their reaction ability was continuously maintained at a certain level, and there would be no further improvement!

Usually, the middle-aged age of a human was the time when a person's cultivation was consolidated. At this time, a person's cultivation would maintain steady and slow growth. Basically, it would not be like when they were young, one would be able to improve at such a fast rate.

When one reached old age, when a human reached this age, their cultivation would continue to decline. At this time, it would be extremely difficult to maintain one's cultivation, not to mention chasing after even more exciting realms!

Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair had not reached old age. It was not easy to maintain one's cultivation during morning reading, but both of them were already middle-aged, no matter how much their cultivation level increased, they would not be able to catch up to Joelson's level.

Not to mention catching up, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and the captain of the guards, Nair, had already made great efforts not to be directly pulled apart by Joelson!

The result was that no matter what kind of slave they were, the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would not be able to catch up to Joelson who was in his prime.

This completely blocked the possibility of the two of them using their own abilities to repay Joelson.

Why did Joelson need the help of the two of them?

One had to know that putting aside how outstanding Joelson was, the power of a peak demigod completely suppressed that of the king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. What power did the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds have? He was a god!

If even a god could defeat Joelson, what was the reason behind it? Was it because he was so downtrodden that he needed the help of the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, in order to accomplish a single task?

In the future, it would definitely be impossible for the two of them to catch up to Joelson in terms of cultivation. Right now, their strength was also so weak. Although in the entire underground city, they might be extremely powerful, in the entire Underworld Continent. In the underworld continent, the strength of a deity domain was nothing more than cannon fodder.

In the skeleton corps, being able to become a skeleton centurion was already an extremely good standard.

With the strength of the two of them, they really did not have the qualifications to repay Joelson's kindness. It was already very good that they did not get the help of Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen!

In fact, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen's potential in the future was not even half of a chance to help Joelson.

This made Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen feel extremely regretful and blame themselves.

They were angry. Angry at their own weakness. If they were stronger, perhaps they could at least help Joelson a little!

Chapter 704: The Possibility of Paying off Debts. Joelson's Shocking Theory!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen and Guard Captain Nair, both of them had a very common characteristic. Both of them were very loyal people.

There were many explanations for the word 'loyal' but, in the eyes of Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, the most important explanation for the word 'loyal' was that they had received the favor of others, they had to repay the favor. Those who came and went were called people who walked the continent!

They had to repay the kindness of the other party. This was the most basic principle of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen.

However, at this moment, in the underground city, on the arena in the central plaza.

The wind and snow were constantly falling, falling on Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen who were kneeling on the arena in the central plaza.

A lot of snow fell on their bodies.

At this moment, both of their hearts were filled with regret.

Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen had just experienced a battle of the century. The battle of the century had reached the final moment, and both of them were seriously injured.

At this moment, when both of them thought that they were going to lose their arms, Joelson took out a bottle of recovery medicine that had a terrifying recovery ability. It made both of them exclaim in admiration. It healed both of their injuries!

Such a great favor, according to Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen's rules of conduct, should be given in return at this time. Otherwise, it would be breaking their rules of walking on the frozen soil of this underground city.

However, at this moment, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen were worrying about this uncomfortable thing.

That's right, they were agonizing over how to repay this great favor.

Repay it with money?

Putting aside whether or not Joelson liked money, based on the market price of this recovery potion that was priceless, the two of them had to empty out all of their savings in their lifetime and took out all of their treasures. That was also because they had no way of repaying Joelson's great favor.

Because the value of this recovery potion was too high. It was so high that even if they opened the treasury of Kings Leighton and Reynolds and used the gold and silver treasures inside to repay the debt, they would not be able to pay it back.

The value of this recovery potion was too high. It was so high that Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen did not know how to use money to repay it.

Some people might say that they would use their talent to repay it.

Unfortunately, this was even more impossible.

Joelson's talent had left the two of them far behind. Joelson's strength was something that Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen couldn't catch up to even if they spent their whole lives to catch up.

Moreover, Joelson was in his prime. His strength was growing at the fastest speed. Under his powerful talent, who knew what kind of height he could reach!

Just as Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen were distressed and didn't know how to repay the favor, Joelson slowly raised his head and looked at the sky.

Joelson slowly sighed.

This sigh immediately made Vice-Captain Hansen kneel on the ground, kowtow, and then say loudly, "Lord Joelson, may I know what plans you have in mind?"

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, asked loudly. The people below were still reveling to their heart's content. They did not notice the conversation between the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and Joelson in the central plaza and on the stage.

The reveling crowd did not realize that the conversation between the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and Joelson would directly decide the fate of these people.

At this critical moment, no one noticed the heavy atmosphere on the stage.

"Please speak frankly. If there's anything we can do for you, we will do our best to help you achieve your goal!"

Captain Nair also kneeled down and said respectfully.

As long as Joelson proposed something, they would do it as soon as they could. If it was not within their ability, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen would do their best. Even if they could not do it, they must try it. Even if they were to be smashed to pieces.

The two of them had received a gift from Joelson. Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen both understood. They understood the principle of taking advantage of others and they were willing to abide by it.

Both of them had the same principle and they made the same choice.

Joelson looked at Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen's respectful expressions, and he was instantly certain.

These two people's ability to read people's words and expressions could not be said to be one of a kind!

To be able to perfectly and accurately read his thoughts from his words and actions, such an ability was a rare talent!

Joelson secretly praised the ability of these two people to be cheerful and, in his heart, he became more and more certain of the actions of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen.

These two people indeed had the ability to lead the underground city.

Not to mention whether they could lead the underground city towards prosperity but just the leadership ability of Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen to maintain the stability of the entire underground city was more than enough.

While Joelson was thinking, the fanatical people below the stage were already celebrating the greatness of Joelson, celebrating their own survival. No one noticed that the environment on the stage was undergoing a drastic change at this moment!

That's right! Just as the two of them were respectfully kneeling down and lowering their heads to listen to his teachings, the crowd below had no idea that something was happening on the central plaza. At this stage. Something that could change the history and fate of the underground city!

As he looked at the kneeling posture of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, he already had a general answer in his heart.

These two people were indeed a kid that he could try to help.

"Listen up, you two. I need you two to help me with something!"

Joelson said indifferently. His expression was calm, as if what he was about to announce was a trivial matter.

- Chapter 705: The Support and Confusion of the Nobles

Chapter 705: The Support and Confusion of the Nobles

"King Joelson, my eternal god!"

"My god, our good days are coming. Our good times are coming!"

"Thank Heavens for bestowing such a powerful and wise monarch on us, the poor underground city. Thank Heavens for bringing such a god to our side!"

"Praise Lord Joelson!"

At this moment, the citizens of the underground city, the central plaza, were cheering and crazily surrounding their new king, Joelson!

At this moment, everyone was cheering to their heart's content. They were singing and waving the things in their hands, wanting to create momentum for Joelson. They wanted to use all the methods at their disposal to give their new king, the new king of the underground city, their highest sacrifice and the highest respect!

Everyone was cheering to their heart's content, offering their love and respect to this foreigner and to Joelson.

Such a grand occasion, such a grand occasion, caused the officials who were mixed in the crowd to be secretly shocked!

One had to know that in the entire underground city, ever since the first life form appeared at the bottom of the Wailing Abyss, up until now, there had never been such a grand occasion!

From the time the first life form was born until now, it could be said that thousands of years had passed. A long time had passed. After the words were invented, there had always been people specially assigned to depict the history of the entire underground city. This history had always been recorded and, up until today, there had never been a fault!

In other words, there had been intelligent creatures from the underground city. After having the words, the historical records of the underground city had never been broken.

In such a long time, in such a long history, no one could create such a sensation like Joelson!

Such a huge sensation was unprecedented in the history of the underground city!

The nobles and officials in the palace clicked their tongues at this moment. They looked at Joelson's back and sighed in admiration.

Even the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who used to have the highest approval rating, did not have such a high approval rating!

Such a high approval rating was unprecedented in the history of the underground city.

That year, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds led the peasants to revolt and beheaded the incompetent old king. At that time, the approval rating was not as high as it was now.

This caused these old nobles and the officials in the palace to sigh.

They did not know what the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, whose body had been completely destroyed by the ancient dragon soul of Joelson, would think if he could see this scene at this moment!

They sighed in their hearts and looked at the people who were celebrating under the arena with a wave of curiosity.

What kind of magic did this foreigner, Joelson, have that allowed the entire underground city to have such a high approval rating.

The nobles and officials in the palace were racking their brains at this moment, but they still could not understand why Joelson could have such a high approval rating.

These nobles and officials understood that Joelson's powerful military strength was only one of the conditions, and it was not the most important one.

"This is really strange. I don't understand at all why Joelson is able to enjoy such high public support!"

A noble looked at the cheering crowd around him and was puzzled.

The answer to these questions was something that these nobles and officials who stayed in the palace would never understand.

In fact, the answer to the question was very simple.

The reason happened to be the previous king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

One had to know that in the entire underground city, if the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was the strongest, then basically no one in the entire underground city would dare to challenge the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

Especially after the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds went into closed-door training, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had reached the level of a god!

A god. This was a level that was quite terrifying for the underground city!

It could be said that the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds's strength had already reached the level that everyone thought he would be able to intimidate the entire underground city. In fact, it had already far surpassed this terrifying standard.

Although the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds's strength was slightly inferior to Joelson's, it was actually not that important.

Because the strength of the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had long surpassed the level of being able to intimidate the entire underground city with force. If it wasn't for Joelson, the one standing at the level of Joelson would have been the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

So why didn't the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds receive such a degree of love from the people!

The reason was actually very simple.

Because of one thing.

In order to stabilize his position, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had enacted a cruel law. In order to intimidate the people, the punishment was very cruel and chilling.

In order to consolidate his position, the law enacted by the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was all made for the dignity of his royal family.

All of this was because the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was a king who had become a monk. His power and position had usurped the old king's. These things did not belong to him. When the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds had first started out, he was just a humble farmer, the most ordinary young man in the village.

Faced with such a fact, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was extremely uneasy about the stability of his position. In order to intimidate the officials and the crowd, he had made a series of punishments.

The title of the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was not only referring to Reynolds's cold and merciless attitude towards the invasion of magical beasts. It was also a manifestation of his cruel rule and violent punishment.

People could say that he was wrong. In fact, it was not wrong to do so. Consolidating the throne and emphasizing one's own legitimacy was something that every king should do.

Although the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds did not make any mistakes in doing so, it still had a great impact on the gathering of the people's hearts.

All the problems appeared in this cruel military law.

What Joelson did was actually very simple and easy to understand.

It was very simple for Joelson to give up defending his authority. It was such a simple method that allowed him to gain the hearts of the entire underground city.

Chapter 706: Joelson's True Thoughts. The Stunned Underground City Residents.

Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and Joelson actually had very similar strengths. Their strength was enough to make the entire underground city submit and intimidate the entire underground city.

However, because of this very similar characteristic, the support that Joelson received was far more than the support of the underground city's local King Reynolds!

The reason for this was actually very simple.

The reason was precisely because of how both Joelson and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds dealt with one matter!

In order to consolidate his royal power, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds chose to issue a very severe punishment. The cruel and bloody methods behind it were all to consolidate the royal power that he had seized halfway!

This method was understandable, but compared to Joelson's method, everything was problematic.

That's right, this was what had just happened.

Joelson had declared everyone innocent!

If Joelson could forgive Vice-Captain Hansen's unreasonable disturbance, it was just an exception.

At that time, Joelson had directly declared everyone innocent, which was enough to explain the problem!

What Joelson did seemed to be a simple act of kindness, but there was actually a profound reason behind it!

That's right, what Joelson did was to let all the guards who had violated the military law go. In fact, what he did was actually harming his own royal authority!

Any normal king would understand the importance of the code of law to the royal authority.

At this moment, Joelson had just defeated the old king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. It was time for him to establish his authority. At this time, there were so many rebels and so many people who had violated the law, this was a very lucky thing!

Joelson only needed to order these poor people to be directly executed. Then, he could use the simplest method to consolidate his royal authority to an unprecedented level!

Such a good opportunity was the dream of many kings. They prayed to the gods every day, hoping to have such a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to make their king's authority unquestionable!

At that time, all he needed was an order to sacrifice thousands of lives in exchange for the most consolidated dynasty in the entire history of the underground city!

However, he did not choose to do so. Instead, he casually let go of this opportunity and released thousands of fresh lives!

Without a doubt, from a humanitarian point of view, what he did was undoubtedly right. However, from a royal point of view, he had undoubtedly destroyed his already unstable royal power!

Joelson's actions had harmed his own royal power. He had used such a price in exchange for the interests of the other ordinary citizens.

This was a person who had never been seen before in the entire underground city's history of having a king!

For the sake of their interests, Joelson was willing to give up his royal power. What kind of king was this?

This was a proper and wise king!

How could such a wise king not make people want to admire him? How could such a wise king not make the citizens of the underground city go crazy!

Such a wise king was simply a rare sight!

How could such a wise king not make the citizens of the underground city ecstatic!

This was a king that was willing to give up his interests to the commoners. He had the potential to be a wise king, but his strength was still so powerful!

When these two rare traits collided, the probability was extremely small!

Such a probability was even more difficult than finding an identical snowflake!

There were fewer wise rulers. And even fewer wise rulers with strength!

For someone like Joelson, who had such powerful strength and was still a wise ruler, such a probability was basically impossible!

For the residents of the underground city, it was rare for them to meet such a wise ruler in their lifetime. How could they not go crazy!

This made them want to take off their clothes and roll around on the icy ground to celebrate!

Where could they find such a good king!

Such a good ruler could not be found even with lanterns!

The residents of the underground city knew how rare and valuable a king was, which was why they were so fanatical and excited when facing him!

For these reasons, the old nobles and officials who lived in the palace would never be able to understand it!

However, it didn't matter if they didn't understand it. The nobles and officials in the palace didn't need to understand the reason behind it. At this moment, they only needed to submit to him, they just needed to offer their loyalty to Joelson!

All the nobles and officials understood this. At this moment, they had already put down all their insistence and knelt on the ground, respectfully bowing to Joelson.

"Long live King Joelson!"

"Long live King Joelson!"

"Long live King Joelson..."

Such cheers rose and fell in the underground city.

Joelson looked at the fanatical people below with a worried expression. Seeing their fanatical support and fanatical shouting of his name, Joelson felt a wave of distress in his heart.

One had to know that he originally wanted to make concessions to the royal authority so that his king's authority would be completely shattered so that he could escape.

But now, the effect seemed to have backfired. Not only had his king's authority not been completely shattered by his own operations, but it was now soaring even higher!

Amidst the cheers of the underground citizens, Joelson helplessly sighed and raised his head to look at the sky with a worried expression.

This scene immediately attracted the guard captain, Nair, and the guard vice-captain, Hansen, who were thinking about something.

At this moment, the two of them were thinking about how they should repay him for drinking Joelson's recovery potion.

The two of them thought about it, but they couldn't think of how they could repay the precious potion. However, after thinking about it, all the ideas they could think of were rejected by them.

While they were troubled, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, quietly found the troubled Joelson.

"Sir Joelson, what troubles do you have? Please feel free to tell us. The two of us will definitely go through fire and water to solve your troubles. The two of us will definitely do anything!"

The vice-captain of the guards noticed Joelson's troubles, so he immediately said loudly.

Chapter 707: Joelson Did Not Intend to Be the King? Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen Were Stunned

Joelson slowly looked at the sky, his eyes indifferent.

Originally, Joelson had chosen to release all the people in the underground city, those who might be guilty, without any guilt. This was indeed a great generosity. This generosity actually damaged his dignity as a king.

However, this must be his goal.

From the very beginning, he had never intended to become a king in the underground city!

That's right, from the very beginning, he had never thought about it!

Not to mention a small place like the underground city, it was located at the edge of the Underworld Continent. In the land of extreme ice, it was still under the bottomless abyss. Even if it was placed in the Underworld Continent, it would still be a low-level existence!

A small place like the underground city, even if it was in the Underworld Continent, in the eyes of the real experts, this kind of small place actually had no value to rule.

Perhaps, putting aside the strength of the underground city, it was actually not very bad to simply be a king of pleasure, drinking wine and eating meat every day, and having beautiful women as companions.

For ordinary people, they could eat and drink delicious food every day. In this small underground city, they would become the admiration of tens of thousands of people. Everyone would listen to their king, harem wives and concubines would be in groups. Sleeping with a different woman every night. This might be a very beautiful thing.

However, for the truly powerful people, this was actually the thing that they did not pursue.

As a powerful person, they had to constantly pursue the limits of their strength.

In an ordinary world, in a world where everyone was ordinary, there was nothing wrong with pursuing beauty, wealth, and power.

However, in such a great world, if they didn't choose to continue becoming stronger, then they would be no different from salted fish!

Joelson still had to bring his Dragon God Ranch System and travel through all the planes. He did not even have the qualifications to step into the legendary higher planes!

With such a lofty will, how could Joelson be bound by this low-level world? How could he be blocked by the small amount of money in front of him!

Under such pursuit, Joelson naturally had no interest in the underground city's throne, nor did he want to have any thoughts about the underground city's power struggle.

All of Joelson's previous actions towards the underground city were just to wipe the bottom of the underground city.

After all, it was he, Joelson, who directly killed the strongest king of the underground city. There were many magical beasts eyeing the residents of the underground city from the bottom of the Wailing Abyss, human meat was the most delicious meat in the mouths of magical beasts.

If he killed one of the two strongest kings in the underground city, destroyed the other, and did such a thing before reincarnating and leaving, then the entire underground city would lose the protection of these two powerful kings. Soon, it would become a hunting ground for magical beasts. A buffet paradise for magical beasts!

Such a situation was extremely terrifying. The entire underground city was used as a buffet by the magical beasts to draw money at will, and slaughter at will. Such a result was something that Joelson did not want to see.

At this moment, Joelson, who had already recovered his full strength, could clearly sense that there were several extremely powerful magical beast nests. These magical beasts weren't easy to deal with!

Previously, with the god-level Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and King Leighton overseeing the underground city, the residents of the entire underground city had been able to live in peace. But today, just like what happened earlier, the two great forces of the underground city had all died in battle. This would be a massive catastrophe for the underground city.

As a normal person, although he had experienced the baptism of the Infinite Plane, he didn't become numb to it. He didn't feel that everything was meaningless.

The infinite might didn't make him lose his humanity. Instead, it simply stimulated his desire to challenge the Infinite Plane. He wanted to challenge this endless might... to challenge this world where there would always be strong people!

Therefore, after obtaining the resplendent gemstone, he had to think of a way to support a regime in the underground city. The leader of this regime had to be able to command the entire underground city so that the residents of the underground city would not be directly buried in the tiger's mouth!

That's right. The reason why he wanted to be innocent of those who violated the military laws of the entire underground city was essentially to cause his royal authority to be damaged. He wanted the residents of the underground city to stop praising him as the king.

He wanted those who had thoughts about the throne to stand out and show that he was just a person who did not have any pursuit for the throne, and was unable to shoulder the heavy responsibility of the entire underground city!

That's right, Joelson's goal was so simple. He wanted to lure out those who had fantasies about the throne and then let them directly compete for the throne. In this way, Joelson's goal was achieved.

However, the development of the matter exceeded Joelson's expectations.

That's right, just now, Joelson directly declared that all the people who had violated the military law were not guilty. Instead, it directly increased the support rate of the people below for Joelson!

At this moment, the people below were calling out Joelson's name in an overwhelming manner. However, Joelson really did not want their support.

This situation had clearly exceeded his expectations. He had originally wanted to make the entire underground city question his authority and distance himself from the throne, however, the situation now was completely different from what he had expected. This really made him feel helpless.

What was wrong with the people of this underground city? Why were they loving him more and more?

Joelson was speechless for a while.

If an ordinary person encountered such a thing, they would probably wake up laughing in their dreams. However, Joelson was different from them. Facing the support of the crowd, Joelson felt helpless.

After all, Joelson did not want to be the king!

At this moment, Joelson sighed helplessly. He could only place all of his last hopes on the two guards, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, who were already loyal to him.

The two of them were rather talented people. He hoped that they would be able to live up to his expectations.

Joelson thought indifferently.

Thinking of this, Joelson slowly patted the shoulders of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen.

"Get up!"

Joelson said slowly. Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen looked at each other and then stood up.

Chapter 708: The Miracle of the Recovery Potion. The Two People Who Did Not Know How to Repay the Favor

Just as Joelson called the two of them up, the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, looked at each other in confusion.

Just a moment ago, the two of them were still thinking about how they should treat Joelson's recovery potion. That recovery potion was incomparably precious. The captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, drank it in one gulp. They did not treasure the recovery potion that they had obtained after much difficulty.

This recovery potion had healed a person's broken arm in a mere instant. Moreover, it had also allowed both of their cultivation levels to increase by quite a lot!

There was no need to mention Captain Nair. During the demonstration just now... in order to prove that he had indeed gone easy in battle, Captain Nair had used powerful energy that he had never possessed even when he was at his strongest!

This powerful energy was the most powerful magical energy that Guard Captain Nair had released in the past few years.

After putting away that powerful ball of lightning, Guard Captain Nair, who was kneeling on the ground, had been continuously inspecting his body, feeling the terrifying energy within his body.

Under the constant inspection of Guard Captain Nair, he gradually understood that this recovery medicine had not only helped him recover his broken arm, it had also directly raised his cultivation level by several levels!

The current captain of the guards, Nair, had already reached the peak of the peak of the deity realm. The amount of magical energy he had stored, as well as the level of a demigod... At this moment, Captain Nair only needed to release an extremely simple amount of magical energy and he would be able to reach the level of a demigod!

Captain Nair was only a tiny bit away from being a demigod. As long as he could comprehend the profound mysteries of the demigod level, he would be able to directly break through and become a demigod!

This sort of transformation truly made Guard Captain Nair feel extremely happy.

In the heart of Guard Captain Nair, this recovery medicine became even more precious!

This was truly too precious!

This precious medicine made him feel even more ashamed!

Not only did it heal just his broken arm, having healed Guard Captain Nair's broken limb, but it actually allowed Guard Captain Nair's power to increase by an astonishing amount!

This wasn't just saving one of his Guard Captain Nair's arms, it was also extremely beneficial to his magical energy attainments!

Right now, he only needed to stay at home in closed-door training for a period of time. Very soon, he would be able to break through this peak-stage deity-level blockade and reach the powerful territory of a demigod. He would be able to feel the gaze and insight of a demigod!

Such a favor was simply too heavy. It was so heavy that Captain Nair didn't know how he could repay such a precious favor.

There were only a few bottles of such a powerful recovery medicine in the entire Underworld Continent. Yet, it was so simple for Joelson to give it to him without receiving any benefits. This caused Captain Nair to feel a wave of sadness in his heart.

It was a real pain to not be able to repay someone's kindness.

At this moment, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was thinking the same thing.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was kneeling on the side. He was thinking the same thing in his heart.

If Captain Nair and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, were not good friends, it was all because of their similar personalities.

Although there were still some differences between the two, they were surprisingly the same in some aspects!

With the same personalities, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen had a lot in common. That was why they became best friends.

The vice-captain was kneeling on the ground. He was constantly using his spiritual sense to observe his body.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's observation was even more detailed. He discovered that not only did this miraculous recovery medicine directly heal his broken arm, it also allowed the vice-captain of the guards to grow broken bones. It also allowed the other injuries in the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's body, to heal up!

That's right, the body of the former vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had many hidden injuries. These hidden injuries were left over from years of battles with magical beasts.

These wounds were very deep wounds. With the level of treatment in the underground city, it was impossible to completely treat the wounds of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. These wounds that had not fully healed... they became like gum sticking to the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. They would flare up every time the weather was humid, causing the vice-captain of the guards to be in extreme pain.

These wounds were blocked by various toxins, bacteria, and other things. It became a pain that the vice-captain could not get rid of.

When these internal injuries flared up, it would make Vice-Captain Hansen's heart ache.

Vice-Captain Hansen was not afraid of pain and injury. After all, he was a soldier, a warrior. He lived in the land of extreme ice. He was born in the snow and ice. From his birth, he was born in the underground city, he was destined to deal with injuries and pain.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had never been afraid of these things. However, these wounds would cause him pain over a long period of time. They would slowly torture him, and it was very likely that they would torture the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, for the rest of his life, it was like a curse. This still made the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, very worried about these hidden injuries.

However, just now, after drinking the recovery potion!

When the vice-captain of the guards knelt on the ground, he carefully examined his body with magic energy. He was very surprised to find a fact.

The pain on the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's body, had disappeared without a trace!

This was too magical!

Vice-Captain Hansen's heart was filled with shock.

Those internal injuries that had tortured him for so long, tormented him for so many years, and refused to let go of him, had all healed at this moment!

Even the scars that had been left behind during the battle with the magical beasts had also disappeared!

At this moment, the body of Vice-Captain Hansen was like a newborn baby. There were no diseases and all the cells in his body had recovered to their most youthful state!

And it was not just his body that had recovered.

Chapter 709: Joelson's Indifferent Command

The vice-captain of the guards, who was kneeling on the ground, was shocked!

The reason was actually very simple, because Joelson's recovery potion was too powerful!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, found that not only had his broken arm returned to its original appearance, but even his newly grown arm was much healthier than his original arm.

Moreover, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was surprised to discover something. When his magic energy carefully examined his body, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was very surprised to find that the injuries that had accompanied him for a very long time had gradually recovered after a long period of treatment!

Such a result made the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, very surprised!

Because these injuries had actually been with him for many years.

The medical technology of the underground city could not completely cure the hidden injuries left by Vice-Captain Hansen during the battle with the magical beasts. And this miraculous recovery potion actually directly healed those hidden injuries!

How could Vice-Captain Hansen not be surprised!

Those injuries had been following Hansen like a curse for more than ten years. Today, this strange injury had finally been completely cured. This made Vice-Captain Hansen pleasantly surprised.

This was really too magical!

Those godly doctors in the underground city were at a loss for what to do with their injuries. They had actually been directly treated by this small bottle of recovery medicine without a trace!

Thinking back to the time when Vice-Captain Hansen had to drink several bowls of herbal soup every day to treat these long-term illnesses and eat those disgusting fruits to treat the illness, he had to eat them for several years without stopping in between, even with this kind of active treatment, the illness was only slightly alleviated.

And now, such a small bottle of special medicine could actually cure the illness that had troubled the vice-captain for so long. This simply made Vice-Captain Hansen's heart feel unreal.

Moreover, most importantly, Vice-Captain Hansen was surprised to discover a fact.

That was, not only had his body recovered, but Vice-Captain Hansen also discovered that his strength seemed to have improved a little!

In the beginning, Vice-Captain Hansen still didn't quite believe it, but when he calmed down and carefully felt it, Vice-Captain Hansen finally understood!

This was too powerful!

After this healing potion healed the wounds on his body, it actually continued to heal his old wounds!

When his body was completely healed, this powerful life force directly merged into Vice-Captain Hansen's body and became a part of his strength!

This was too ridiculous!

Vice-Captain Hansen was astonished.

This life energy was too powerful!

Vice-Captain Hansen was extremely astonished. Under the effects of this recovery potion, his strength had continuously skyrocketed. This powerful strength had even surprised Vice-Captain Hansen.

At this moment, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was very surprised to discover that his strength had actually been directly raised to the peak of the deity realm by this terrifying recovery potion!

Oh, my god!

When the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, noticed this fact, he felt a wave of shock in his heart. A small bottle of recovery potion not only restored the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's body but also strengthened Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's strength!

It must be known that the alchemy potion that could help with cultivation was also very precious in the underground city's auction. After consuming it, it could help with a small degree of affinity towards the elemental sprites during cultivation. Just this slight improvement was enough to make the major factions fight for it!

Not to mention, this alchemy potion that could immediately increase cultivation was something that had never been circulated in the underground city's market. This kind of thing was not seen in the underground city!

There was a time when the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, still felt that there was no such magical thing in the underground city. However, now, the Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, not only saw this kind of recovery potion with his own eyes, he even personally consumed it!

One had to know that this kind of good thing, if placed in the Underworld Continent, would cause all the great undead kings to fight over it!

As long as such a good item was brought out, one would be able to obtain countless riches and riches, and would be able to curry favor with countless high officials and dignitaries!

Yet, such an item was actually drunk by the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen!

Just as the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was continuously lamenting this fact in his heart, he looked at the captain of the guards beside him with a fervent gaze and felt a wave of excitement.

He had also reached the peak of the deity domain. He did not know who would be more powerful if Vice-Captain Hansen and Guard Captain Nair had another competition!

Vice-Captain Hansen thought excitedly.

At this moment, Vice-Captain Hansen wanted to immediately have another epic battle with Guard Captain Nair. However, this thought was suppressed by Vice-Captain Hansen.

It was better not to think about such things. After all, this kind of expensive recovery potion was rare. They were very grateful that Joelson could give them a bottle of this potion!

However, they did not dare to think that Joelson could give them another bottle. It would be too shameless to have such thoughts.

While Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen were thinking about these things, Joelson patted their shoulders, indicating that they could stand up.

Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen looked at each other and felt excited!

They understood that Joelson had something to tell them!

They were naturally duty-bound to Joelson's orders!

Joelson gave them such a high-level recovery potion and didn't ask them to pay any price. This made Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen feel guilty.

After all, they were both very principled people.

As long as they received the favor of others, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen wanted to do their best to satisfy the other party's request!

Chapter 710: The Two Who Wanted to Repay the Favor. Joelson's Request Stunned Them

Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen looked at each other. Both of them could see the excitement in each other's eyes!

That's right, excitement!

Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, they were actually the same kind of people.

The vice-captain of the guards would definitely take revenge, and he would definitely return the favor. It was a huge favor for the two of them to drink such a precious potion!

This kind of alchemical potion that could heal a person's broken arm was enough to cause a frenzy in the Underworld Continent, not to mention that in the entire Underworld Continent, such a level of recovery potion could also raise a person's cultivation level at the same time!

This kind of terrifying effect was probably something that few people in the entire Underworld Continent could create!

This kind of potion could not only heal a person's pain, but it could also heal hidden diseases in the body that had been hidden for a long time. Those wounds that could not be healed for a long time, this kind of terrifying potion was a rare existence in the entire world!

This kind of medicine was given to Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen to drink directly. This made the two of them feel a little uncomfortable.

Regarding this kind of situation, the two of them understood a simple truth in their hearts!

That's right. If the two of them wanted to repay this favor, it would be very difficult to do so!

Regarding this judgment, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen's hearts were in high agreement.

This was because, if the two of them wanted to repay this favor of Joelson, using money wouldn't work. Even if they contributed all of their savings for the rest of their lives, the two of them wouldn't be able to repay this favor.

After all, if they wanted to use money to buy such a powerful recovery medicine, it was simply a pipe dream.

Money wouldn't work. If they wanted to use the combat power of Captain Nelson and Vice-Captain Hansen to be loyal to Joelson, that would be even more pipe dreams.

That's right. Even if the two of them used their own combat power to help Joelson, they wouldn't be able to repay the debt of gratitude.

This was because Joelson's power was simply too high!

The power of a peak demigod, coupled with the glorious battle record of defeating the former King Reynolds.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and captain of the guards, Nair, felt a wave of despair in their hearts.

Compared to such a powerful former expert, captain of the guards, Nair, and vice-captain of the guards, Hansen really had no way of helping such a powerful person.

Especially for a powerful person like Joelson. Such a powerful person like Joelson, it was already a good thing that the two of them didn't help Joelson.

Before Joelson called out to them, the two of them were very depressed.

Because the two of them still had self-awareness.

If someone like Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, who were under Joelson, could have such a good recovery potion, then the entire Underworld Continent would have trampled the lawn in front of Joelson's house long ago!

Why would they trample the lawn in front of Joelson's house?

Because they were all lining up to be Joelson's subordinates, wanting the recovery potion!

How could such a good thing happen in this world?

Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen were very clear in their hearts.

What was even more unfortunate was that both of them were still men and not women. They could not even use their bodies to compensate Joelson!

This made both of them feel a wave of sadness in their hearts. They had eaten the benefits of others and could not repay the feelings of the other party. This made Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen both feel a wave of regret in their hearts.

However, just as the two of them were feeling regretful, Joelson had let the two of them come to his side at this time!

This instantly made both of them feel a wave of ecstasy in their hearts!

Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen both knew in their hearts that Joelson had a favor to ask of them!

Being able to serve Joelson and help him solve his problems could be said to be something that Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen both dreamed of!

Facing his troubles, both of them were willing to take the lead and help him get rid of all his troubles!

They looked at each other and understood the joy in each other's eyes.

It was this uncontrollable joy that made Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen stand up from the ground.

"Excuse me, Sir Joelson, do you have any orders?"

The two of them stood up from the ground, bowed slightly, and asked with respect!

That's right, as long as Joelson gave the order, the two of them would definitely not have the slightest reason to refuse!

Joelson looked at Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair in front of him with an indifferent expression and pondered in his heart.

These two people were indeed talents that could be created. There was no need to mention Captain Nair. His talent could be considered to be above average. In addition, he himself was constantly working hard and was extremely hardworking, if he continued to maintain this, he would be able to achieve great things in the future. At the very least, Captain Nair's achievements would not be lower than that of the old king, iron-blooded Reynolds!

Such a Guard Captain Nair could be considered to have not let down his high hopes!

After observing Guard Captain Nair, Joelson turned his gaze to Guard Vice-Captain Hansen.

This fellow was also a promising talent!

Although his talent was slightly inferior to Guard Captain Nair, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was full of vigor. At this moment, he had already straightened out his train of thought. Presumably, in the future, his achievements would be extraordinary. At the very least, breaking through to become a demigod was already a certainty!

Just like this, Joelson carefully sized up the Guard Vice-Captain Hansen and the Guard Captain Nair with his scrutinizing gaze.

Just now, Joelson had given the two of them recovery medicine. After the two of them drank it, presumably, they had already completed the growth in their strength.

Now that their power had increased, the two of them had the initial confidence of being able to resist the incoming wave of magical beasts.

Although they might not be able to win easily, at least they wouldn't be without a leader. They would be slaughtered like a buffet by the magical beasts.

In terms of power, they wouldn't be able to protect every single citizen of the underground city. However, when they were attacked by the magical beasts, they would at least be able to protect the majority of the citizens of the underground city. This level of power was enough.

If one truly wanted to look down upon the entire magical beast horde, they would still need to train for a while. Only when both of them had reached the demigod level would they have the qualifications!

Chapter 711: Joelson's Request. The Shocked Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen!

Chapter 711: Joelson's Request. The Shocked Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen!

Joelson carefully sized up the two people in front of him.

Although the Captain Nair was not considered young, he still had talent. Moreover, he could be considered quite talented. His above-average talent was enough to instantly kill many of his peers, moreover, while the Guard Captain Nair possessed these talents, he was also extremely hardworking. In the future, he would definitely be a talent. If he continued to maintain it, he would probably be able to reach the achievements of the old king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

Next was the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. Although his attitude towards his training had not improved, he had fallen into a strange state of thinking that he was superior to others, this state of mind made the vice-captain of the guards feel that he was the strongest in his heart, and he gradually fell into his own inner demons.

However, it was fortunate that the vice-captain of the guards quickly walked out of the shadow with this sick attitude. Moreover, he quickly corrected his attitude after fighting with the captain of the guards, Nair. He adjusted his attitude to the best state, allowing himself to successfully walk out from that sick state of mind.

Vice-Captain Hansen, who was able to walk out from that sick state of mind, coupled with his drive, even if his talent was slightly inferior to Captain Nair, his future achievements would still be quite high. It could even be said that between the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, whose achievements would be higher in the future was still unknown!

In terms of strength, these two people already had the ability to make the underground city at the bottom of the Wailing Abyss contend against the magical beasts.

Although they could not completely defend against the magical beasts, the strength of at least two people was enough to protect the residents of the underground city. As long as not all the beasts were united. Basically, for the residents of the underground city, with Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen leading them, they should no longer have to fear the magical beasts attacking them.

If they wanted to completely stop being afraid of the magical beasts of the underground city, they would need to train their strength to reach the demigod level, only then would they be able to gain a firm foothold in this underground city.

However, there was no need to worry about this. Both of them had extraordinary potential. Right now, they had already reached the peak of the deity level. As long as they trained more, it wouldn't be long before they would be able to break through to the demigod level!

When the time came, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, the two demigods, would be in charge of the underground city. They would have nothing to worry about. They wouldn't have to worry about being attacked by the magical beast tide!

From this point of view, the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, could both be considered qualified successors to the underground city.

In terms of strength alone, Joelson already believed that the captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, already had other experts who could join forces with the underground city to protect the underground city. "..."

However, the successor couldn't just be based on strength alone.

That was because a powerful person alone could not lead so many people in the underground city to resist the invasion of the magical beast army. If one wanted to survive in this harsh environment, one still needed a person who was suitable to lead. To have the strength to lead and unite the entire underground city!

And Guard Captain Nair, a person who knew how to make both sides happy, was very suitable to be the leader of the underground city!

If the captain of the guards, Nair, was the leader of the underground city, he would probably be able to consolidate the entire underground city's military strength and maintain the relationship and position of the old officials.

Such a person could take over the management of the underground city!

As for the vice-captain of the guards, he was very straightforward. He was very suitable to lead troops in battle and protect the safety of the underground city.

If these two people were able to carry out their respective duties, then the problem of who would manage the underground city could be perfectly solved!

The captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, complemented each other. They were indeed able to let the underground city resume its operation. It would not be to the extent that after Joelson killed the old king. They directly plunged the underground city into a battle for power. In the end, they were ambushed by magical beasts, leaving behind a painful lesson of being completely annihilated.

With this thought in mind, Joelson already had a candidate in mind for the manager of the underground city.

With this, Joelson could leave the underground city with the resplendent gemstone at ease. He would head back to Lorna to inquire about the death artifact fragment.

Thinking of this, a smile appeared on Joelson's face. He slowly looked at Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen with a scrutinizing gaze!

"Sir Joelson, do you have any orders?"

Captain Nair slowly asked.

"Yes, Sir Joelson. If you have any orders, please feel free to give them to us. We will definitely do our best to satisfy you!"

Vice-Captain Hansen received Joelson's scrutinizing gaze and said respectfully!

"Are you really able to satisfy all my conditions?"

Joelson rubbed his chin and said slowly.

“Of course. If you have any conditions, feel free to say them. Lord Joelson has given us a new lease of life. We will go through fire and water without any hesitation!”

The captain of the guards, Nair, and the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, said at the same time.

“Good. With your words, I can rest assured.”

Joelson nodded indifferently and put his hands behind his back. His sharp eyes stared at the two of them fiercely.

“Captain Nair, Vice-Captain Hansen!”

Joelson suddenly became serious and said with a serious face!

“The position of the underground city king is now entrusted to Captain Nair. As for the military power of the underground city, it will be under the control of Vice-Captain Hansen!”

What Joelson announced in a loud voice immediately caused Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen to be completely stunned!

What did this mean?

Captain Nair dug his ears, unable to believe what he had just heard!

This Captain Nair was actually directly ordered to become the king of the underground city!

Captain Nair’s face was filled with shock, unable to believe that this was really what Joelson had said.

This wasn’t happiness.

The captain of the guards was stunned!

Joelson didn’t want to be the king of the underground city?

He gave the position of the king to him, the captain of the guards?

The captain of the guards felt his chest rise and fall. Then, he looked at Joelson in disbelief.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was also stunned!

Chapter 712: Joelson's Arrangements Shocked the Entire Underground City!

The moment Joelson said this, the expressions of Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen instantly froze!

Guard Captain Nair directly stood rooted to the ground, looking at the expressions of Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen who stood rooted to the ground. Looking at the shock on their faces, Joelson understood their thoughts, he understood why they were so shocked.

In the other party's eyes, to Nair, the captain of the guards, and Hansen, the vice-captain of the guards, who were incomparably powerful, in their eyes, Joelson was extremely powerful.

The powerful Joelson had actually given up his throne to Nair, the captain of the guards?

The powerful Joelson had actually possessed such powerful abilities. He had given up his position as the king of the underground city to the captain of the guards...

Nair!

One had to know that the captain of the guards, Nair, was merely an extremely weak deity domain expert. Perhaps, in the underground city, a person like him could be considered relatively powerful, after all, in the entire underground city, the strongest person below Reynolds and his son was merely a deity domain expert.

A deity domain expert like the captain of the guards, Nair, was originally one of the strongest experts in the underground city. Now, after drinking Joelson's recovery potion, his strength had risen to the peak of the powerful deity domain realm. Under such circumstances, Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen's strength had undergone a qualitative leap!

In the underground city, Captain Nair could be considered an extremely powerful expert. After all, Captain Nair's strength was at the peak of the deity domain realm. With such a powerful ability, other than the former King Reynolds and his son, there was virtually no one who could match up to him!

Such a powerful ability was something that everyone could only dream of but couldn't reach!

In the underground city, other than the king, the captain of the guards, Nair, could claim to be the strongest. That wasn't a problem at all.

However, in the entire Underworld Continent, it was quite different!

In the entire Underworld Continent, a deity realm expert was merely an ordinary skeleton centurion!

If one wanted to become the right-hand man of the Underworld royalty, one had to be at least at the peak of the demigod level!

In the Underworld, the strength of Guard Captain Nair was undoubtedly insufficient to even carry the shoes of the Underworld royalty!

Especially today, when Guard Captain Nair met Joelson, his heart was especially certain of this thought!

Before seeing Joelson, the captain of the guards felt that his ability could be considered quite formidable.

However, after seeing Joelson today, everything began to change!

Before seeing Joelson, the captain of the guards might feel that his strength was very powerful. After all, there was no one in the entire underground city who could pose a threat to him. However, after meeting Joelson. After seeing the epic battle between Joelson and the old kings, Leighton and Reynolds, everything changed!

After witnessing the epic battle between Joelson and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and seeing such a powerful impact as well as sensing the aura of a true powerhouse, the captain of the guards felt an intense fluctuation in his heart. At this moment, Captain Nair finally understood what a true powerhouse was and what a truly powerful person was!

The heart of the guard against Nair was in turmoil. After witnessing such a terrifying battle, he was very clear on what kind of person he, Captain Nair, was!

Captain Nair felt a wave of discomfort in his heart. The former captain of the guards, Nair, would definitely jump up when he heard that he could become the king. After all... Who wouldn't want to live the life of a king!

Eating the best food in the underground city every day, drinking the best wine every day, and playing with the most beautiful women in the underground city every day.

Which ordinary person wouldn't want to live such a day?

But today, after hearing that Joelson had ordered him to be the new king of the underground city, Captain Nair felt a wave of fear in his heart!

At this moment, Captain Nair knew that he was completely unworthy. Unworthy of this title, unworthy of the title of the king of the underground city!

Even if he really lived the days of eating the best delicacies, drinking the best wine, and playing with the most beautiful women, Captain Nair would still feel uneasy in his heart, because Captain Nair knew very well that he was not worthy of such a beautiful day.

At this moment, right in front of Captain Nair, there was a person who was truly worthy of the treatment of the royal family!

That person was Joelson!

That's right, the king could only be Joelson, not this Captain Nair!

Captain Nair felt a wave of fear in his heart. He hurriedly knelt down and kept trembling on the ground.

"This great Sir Joelson, please don't make fun of me."

"How can I be worthy of the title of the underground city's king?"

The captain of the guards knelt on the ground, his face full of terror.

At this moment, there was only one person who could be worthy of the title of the underground city's king. And that was Joelson!

Only Joelson could be worthy of such an honor. To the captain of the guards, this person was the only king of the underground city.

Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and King Leighton, they were all unworthy!

No matter how pure the bloodline of the man in front of him was, how noble their status was, to Captain Nair, they were all unworthy!

The only person who was worthy of being the king of the underground city was Joelson!

This was not only Captain Nair's fear of his unworthy status but also a long-term consideration for the underground city!

This matter was not only Captain Nair's consideration of his own selfishness but also the long-term consideration of the entire underground city!

Captain Nair knew in his heart that a person like Joelson was too rare and too precious!

He might not be able to meet such a noble person even after thousands or tens of thousands of years!

This was not only because of Joelson's powerful strength but also his precious spirit that was as dazzling as gold. That precious temperament that was like a wise monarch!

No, not like a wise monarch, Joelson was a wise monarch that belonged to the underground city!

Only Joelson was the only king of this underground city. Only when Joelson became the king could he lead the underground city towards prosperity!

Chapter 713: Guard Captain Nair's Resistance!

Only Joelson was the legitimate king of the underground city, and only Joelson could save the poor world of the underground city!

The Guard Captain Nair thought firmly in his heart.

This was not only the Guard Captain Nair's selfishness but also his deep consideration for the long-term future of the underground city!

Guard Captain Nair understood in his heart how precious the arrival of Joelson was. Perhaps in the past thousand years, there would never be a qualified expert like Joelson!

Even a highgod wouldn't be able to change Guard Captain Nair's mind!

Only Joelson, and only Joelson, would be able to truly transform the underground city from a nameless little city at the very edge of the Underworld Continent into a truly powerful country that could stand on its own!

With Joelson's leadership, the underground city would not only become more powerful, but it would also become richer and stronger!

With Joelson's leadership, perhaps the entire underground city would walk out of the Wailing Abyss and into the Underworld Continent, becoming a powerful group under the control of a real royal family. They would live in the underground city for generations, only those who lived in the depths of the Wailing Abyss would be able to truly live in the Underworld and rise to the top!

The people of the underground city had lived in the depths of this howling abyss for generations. They lived in this land of extreme ice, enduring the strong snowstorms, enduring the attacks of magical beasts, all the way until the appearance of the king, the iron-blooded Reynolds. Only then did things slightly improve.

However, someone as powerful as the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who had the power of a god, was only able to save the people of the underground city from being dominated by magical beasts, and from the fate of becoming a buffet for magical beasts!

This was the special thing about Joelson!

This was the difference between Joelson and all the other kings. This was the reason why Joelson was able to become the king of the underground city!

No one else could do it, only Joelson could! Only Joelson could lead the underground city to become a powerful country above the Underworld Continent!

No, the captain of the guards felt that he was too conservative!

If there was such a powerful Joelson leading the underground city, perhaps through his long-term operation, he could lead the underground city to dominate the entire Underworld!

At that time, the people of the underground city would be an existence that everyone in the Underworld had to respect!

This was the thought of Captain Nair!

If captain Nair only saw his own selfishness, he would have already accepted Joelson's title and become the king of the underground city. He would eat, drink, and have fun every day.

However, in the face of such a fact, the captain of the guards could not only think about his own thoughts!

The fact that Joelson could lead the underground city to glory made the captain of the guards unable to ignore it. In the face of such a fact, the captain of the guards could not accept Joelson's bestowment at all. He could not accept Joelson's throne!

If Captain Nair became the king, then perhaps Captain Nair could become a competent king and bring stability to the underground city. Perhaps the underground city would become more beautiful in the hands of Captain Nair many years later.

But Captain Nair knew that after he became the king, his highest achievement was nothing more than this.

There was only one person who could lead the underground city to the Underworld and walk out of the Wailing Abyss!

And that was Joelson!

With such powerful strength, Captain Nair could still remember how powerful Joelson was. He knew that no matter how hard he trained, he would never be able to catch up to him. Even in the future, he would never be able to catch up to him.

The reason was very simple. It was because Joelson's strength was simply too powerful.

The peak demigod, Joelson, had killed the underground city's old king, iron-blooded Reynolds. If he were to break through in the future, then Joelson's strength would be even more unparalleled!

Even if Joelson wasn't that powerful, the captain of the guards, Nair, would swear his loyalty to Joelson.

Because the rarity of Joelson wasn't just in his power.

To be honest, in the Underworld Continent, to the captain of the guards, Nair, there were people who were even more powerful than Joelson. In the entire Underworld Continent, there were people who were even more powerful than the current Joelson... there were a lot of people!

Then why was Joelson irreplaceable as the only king of the underground city?

Logically speaking, there were so many powerful people and kings in the underground city. Logically speaking, there were many people who were more suitable than Joelson to be the king of the underground city.

However, Joelson was still the most suitable candidate in the mind of the captain of the guards.

Captain Nair knew that there was a substitute for Joelson's strength. There was no such powerful person in the underground city, but there would definitely be someone stronger than Joelson in the Underworld. However, Captain Nair knew very well in his heart that Joelson's strength could not be replaced!

The king of the underground city could only be Joelson. Not anyone else. Not even the Nether King!

If there was someone else who came today, this person's strength was even stronger than Joelson's. After he defeated the old king Reynolds and his son, he conferred the position of the king to himself, then the captain of the guards, Nair, would definitely gladly accept this matter. After all, that person did not want such a wonderful life. Who would not want to become a king?

However, today, Joelson had conferred the position of the king to the captain of the guards, Nair. The captain of the guards, Nair, would not accept it.

Because the captain of the guards, Nair, knew in his heart that only Joelson was the best candidate for the throne.

The strength of Joelson was not only in terms of strength.

The real difference between Joelson's strength and the other powerhouses of the Underworld was the strength of his heart!

The strength in his heart was reflected in the protection he gave to the innocent people around him when he was fighting against the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. It was reflected in the acquittal of the soldiers who had violated the military law!

This was because Captain Nair was very clear about one thing!

In thousands of years, there would never be a powerful talent like Joelson!

Regarding this point, Captain Nair was very certain in his heart. There would not be one today, there would not be one tomorrow, and there would not be one in the future!

The king of the underground city could only be Joelson!

Chapter 714: Guard Captain Nair's Sincere Desire to Stay!

Joelson was the only king of the underground city. The only qualified legitimate heir!

Guard Captain Nair was very clear about this point in his heart, which was why he was trying so hard to reject Joelson!

For this, Guard Captain Nair directly knelt down, kneeling on the arena in the central plaza of the underground city. Kneeling in front of everyone in the underground city.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had an incomparable pride in his heart. How could he, the captain of the guards, not have it?

Although the captain of the guards, Nair, was on both sides of the road and was able to handle everything in front of him, he was also a soldier, a warrior, and could speak well. However, this did not mean that the captain of the guards, Nair's knees were also very soft!

The truth was that Captain Nair's knees were very hard!

As for kneeling down, especially in front of so many people, Captain Nair was as persistent as Vice-Captain Hansen!

He, Captain Nair, was also very obstinant on this point!

After all, the captain of the guards, Nair, was very similar to the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. As a man, Nair was very clear about the value of kneeling down!

However, even though Nair had special feelings for these guards, Nair, who cared so much about kneeling down, still knelt down in front of Joelson.

There was no other reason. It was because Nair did not want to accept this reality. He did not want to accept Joelson's gift!

This favor was really unacceptable to Nair.

Although this was Joelson's request, although this was his hope.

Joelson hoped that Nair would be able to succeed as the king of the underground city and manage this city. He wanted to manage this small country that did not have any sense of existence at the bottom of the Wailing Abyss.

These were Joelson's true thoughts. The Guard Captain Nair's heart was extremely clear. Joelson was not joking. He was seriously asking him... To request that Guard Captain Nair be able to succeed as the king of the underground city.

As a subordinate, as a small guard captain, as a small peak-level expert of the deity domain, regarding Joelson's request... Guard Captain Nair should have done his best to help Joelson fulfill any of his requests. He should have done his best to fulfill any of Joelson's hopes. However, Nair was currently unwilling to do so.

One had to know that Joelson's request was an extremely good thing for Nair.

Becoming the king of an underground city, eating and drinking well every day, playing with women every day, becoming a person above tens of thousands of people, and becoming a king who could control others as he pleased... that was truly a wonderful thing.

Logically speaking, Captain Nair should have done his best to satisfy such a wonderful thing. After all, this wasn't a trouble for Captain Nair. This was a rare and beautiful thing!

Furthermore.

Joelson had given a huge favor to Captain Nair!

Joelson had bestowed such a miraculous recovery medicine on Captain Nair, treating the broken arm of Captain Nair. Logically speaking, Joelson had done a huge favor for Captain Nair, a favor that could be considered to be a gift of rebirth!

Back then, he had shown mercy and made sure to cripple his severed arm for the rest of his life. He had wanted to give Vice-Captain Hansen an explanation and an explanation for the many years of friendship between the two of them. After the battle, Captain Nair looked at his severed arm. Even though he was mentally prepared, he still felt a wave of disappointment after seeing his severed arm.

There was no other reason. It was since Captain Nair knew that a broken arm could not be revived.

Captain Nair was not an immortal. If his arm was broken, it would never grow back.

To Captain Nair, this was a blow.

However, when Captain Nair had already accepted this fact, Joelson actually used a recovery potion to let Captain Nair grow his arm back.

How could Captain Nair not be grateful!

Moreover, Captain Nair probably knew in his heart that this was a very great favor!

The value of this recovery potion was very high!

In the entire underground city, there weren't many shops that could sell ordinary recovery potions that could heal injuries because alchemists were too rare in the underground city. Ordinary recovery potions that could stop bleeding were considered luxury goods. Not many people could afford to use such luxurious recovery potions.

Not to mention, this kind of recovery potion that could allow a person's severed limbs to grow back in such a short period of time. This kind of potion was considered a very rare and luxurious alchemy product in the entire Underworld!

Moreover, Captain Nair was also a person who was very particular about repaying favors. Captain Nair had always been thinking about how to repay the favor of others towards Captain Nair, how should he repay the favor!

Whether it was money or using his own strength to serve Joelson, he was unable to repay such a favor. At this moment, Joelson's order to him was undoubtedly like a life-saving straw, the captain of the guards, Nair, had to complete it even if he had to go through fire and water, even if he had to go through a mountain of knives and a sea of flames!

However, the captain of the guards, Nair, was really unable to satisfy Joelson's request at this moment.

This caused the captain of the guards, Nair, to feel extremely conflicted in his heart!

This kind of conflict caused the captain of the guards to feel extremely tormented in his heart at this moment!

He should have given his all to fulfill all of Joelson's requests, but with regards to Joelson's request at this moment, the captain of the guards, Nair, was unable to satisfy him no matter what.

This was because the captain of the guards, Nair, was very clear in his heart that only Joelson was qualified to be the king of this underground city. The captain of the guards, Nair, was also very clear on this point!

For the future of the underground city, for the underground city to have Joelson, Captain Nair had no choice but to go against Joelson's orders when he should have been following Joelson's wishes!

This was because Captain Nair really could not do it. He could not become the king of the underground city. He could not shamelessly listen to Joelson's suggestion and easily follow Joelson's wishes.

Chapter 715: Guard Captain Nair's Painful Urge to Stay and Joelson's Helplessness

Guard Captain Nair was kneeling at the ring in the central plaza of the underground city. He was kneeling in front of Joelson, and his face was full of pain.

At this moment, Guard Captain Nair's heart was suffering too much. Such suffering made Guard Captain Nair's heart extremely uncomfortable.

With regards to Joelson's request, Captain Nair should have been willing to go through fire and water. With regards to any of Joelson's wishes, Captain Nair should have been willing to do anything.

But at this moment, Captain Nair was unable to fulfill Joelson's wish and was unable to provide any help to the other party.

This made Captain Nair's heart extremely uncomfortable at that moment.

It was really too uncomfortable.

Captain Nair knelt on the ground with a pained expression. He knelt in front of Joelson. At this moment, he only had one wish, and that was that Joelson could take back his orders.

Joelson's orders caused Captain Nair's heart to feel extremely uncomfortable!

Joelson looked at Captain Nair in front of him. He looked at Captain Nair who was kneeling on the ground and felt a wave of helplessness in his heart.

Of course, he knew how helpless and uncomfortable Nair was.

Just now, Joelson gave an order.

He appointed Nair as the next king of the underground city, and Vice-Captain Hansen controlled the military power of the underground city.

However, what Joelson did not expect was that Nair could not accept this seemingly beautiful proposal.

Joelson really had no way of succeeding the king because, in his heart, Joelson had a higher level of ambition and more things to accomplish. For Joelson, such days did not have any aspirations for him.

The mysterious broken skin of the death artifact, the more powerful dragon egg of the death magic dragon... Whatever it was, it kept Joelson moving forward without stopping.

For ordinary people, it might be very comfortable to be the king of a country. For ordinary people, the position of the king seemed to be very beautiful.

But for Joelson, these things were too illusory.

Joelson still had higher goals and more things he wanted to accomplish.

Joelson was really disdainful of the empty position of the king.

He had thought that Captain Nair would readily accept his proposal, but he had never thought that it would be a real torture for Captain Nair.

Yes, it was torture.

Because this kind of job was not a good job for Captain Nair!

Because of the position of king, Captain Nair really could not accept it.

Captain Nair was very clear in his heart that he could not replace Joelson and become the king of the underground city.

Because the only one who could lead the underground city to prosperity was Joelson!

Captain Nair was very clear in his heart that the prosperity of the underground city needed someone. If he took the position of king, the best-case scenario would be to take the underground city to the same place.

But it was different for Joelson.

If Joelson became the king of the underground city, with Joelson's superb strength and his talent as a wise monarch, he would definitely be able to make the underground city an extremely powerful existence in the entire underworld!

Captain Nair felt a wave of excitement in his heart.

This was something that only Joelson could do!

At this moment, Joelson had made Captain Nair the king.

Captain Nair understood that this was a cushy job. Becoming a king stood at the pinnacle of power. Food and drink were the best in the underground city. There was no one who could not enjoy the fine wine and be inexhaustible!

Who could refuse such a life?

However, Captain Nair was very clear in his heart. He could not take over, he could not enjoy the glory and wealth, he could not do whatever he wanted because of his selfish desires. These regrets could not be compared to one regret, that was, Joelson could not lead the underground city out of the Wailing Abyss and out of this damned land of extreme ice!

The residents of the underground city had already endured the pain for thousands of years. The pain of not being able to walk out of the Wailing Abyss was obviously more important than their own selfish desires!

For the residents of the underground city, if they really became the king because of these selfish desires, it would be truly irresponsible!

Joelson had the ability to make the underground city go to the Underworld, so he could not agree to Joelson's request.

Even if Joelson asked him to do so, the captain of the guards, Nair, would not allow him to do such a thing!

The captain of the guards, Nair, was very clear in his mind. Perhaps if he used this as an excuse and did not reject the proposal, perhaps he would be happy for a period of time after Joelson left.

After all, who would not feel happy and happy after becoming a king and reaching the pinnacle of power and status?

However, Captain Nair could not feel happy at all.

In fact, for the rest of his life, Captain Nair would regret sitting on the throne. He would regret why he had agreed to Joelson on that day and regretted not rejecting him that day!

The captain of the guards would grow old in regret. He would welcome his own death in regret.

This was the reason why the captain of the guards could not accept Joelson's request.

However, the fact that he could not agree to Joelson's request made the captain of the guards uncomfortable.

This was because Joelson owed the captain of the guards a favor that was almost impossible to repay. The captain of the guards, who had wanted to repay the favor, should have complied with all of Joelson's intentions and fulfilled all of Joelson's requests to repay him.

However, at this moment, Guard Captain Nair was doing the exact opposite.

The Guard Captain Nair had no choice but to reject the favor of Joelson's rebirth. This kind of thing made Guard Captain Nair's heart suffer a great deal of pain.

Joelson's favor to Guard Captain Nair was so important. The value of that bottle of recovery medicine was so immeasurable. However, Guard Captain Nair had no choice but to reject the other party's proposal, to reject Joelson's request.

Yet this reason was so important and could not be rejected.

Captain Nair kneeled on the ground, incomparably suffering.

Captain Nair really could not accept Joelson's request and could not agree to Joelson's proposal.

"Sir Joelson, I really want to agree to your proposal but..."

Captain Nair said with a pained expression on his face.

"But, I really can't accept your proposal. I can't accept your request!"

Chapter 716: Guard Captain Nair's Heartfelt Request. The Request Of All The Underground City Residents!

Guard Captain Nair said with a pained expression.

"I really can't accept your request, even if my heart really wants to help you, my lord..."

"I sincerely implore Lord Joelson, take back your order..."

Captain Nair's voice was extremely sorrowful. Captain Nair's request was extremely sincere.

Joelson could only feel a wave of helplessness in his heart towards Captain Nair's request.

In fact, the other party might already have the answer to Captain Nair's request.

That's right, it was impossible for Joelson to agree to the other party's request.

The reason was no other than that he had a higher goal for the future.

"I'm sorry, I really can't be your king."

Joelson spoke slowly.

This time, Joelson did not use his normal voice. Instead, he deliberately raised his voice and said loudly.

"What?"

The residents of the underground city were originally celebrating and shouting Joelson's name. However, when they heard this sentence, the smiles on their faces instantly froze.

As if a pause button had been pressed, the entire underground city froze.

In an instant, the entire underground city square was silent.

The cheers of the underground city residents were still echoing in the valley but, at this moment, they could not laugh.

All of them were stunned by Joelson's words!

What was going on?

They saw Captain Nair suddenly kneel on the ground and did not hear what the two people on the stage were saying.

The residents of the underground city did not know that Joelson had already told Captain Nair that he did not want to become a king and that he would entrust the future of the underground city to the captain of the guards, Nair.

As for this, because they were quite far away from the arena, they did not know anything about it at all!

Just now, when they heard Joelson say it out loud in the arena, the current scene stunned them for a moment.

What was going on?

Wasn't Joelson the king of their underground city?

The old king, Leighton, had been killed. Why did Joelson say that he didn't want to be king?

Everyone was stunned. They stared blankly at Joelson on the stage, staring blankly at the scene in front of them, their hearts in a daze.

In the hearts of the residents of the underground city, they all hoped that Joelson would be able to become the new king of the underground city!

They had all witnessed how powerful Joelson was!

The former King Reynolds was so powerful, he was a god. Joelson had used the power of a demigod to completely suppress the old King Reynolds and, in the end, he had displayed the powerful ancient dragon soul, their memories were still fresh in their minds!

In addition, not only was he powerful, but Joelson's wise ruler style also caused them to sincerely hope that Joelson would be able to become their king.

After all, if they were to talk about strength alone, the old king, the iron-blooded Reynolds, was also quite powerful, and he was only slightly stronger than him.

The real reason why they wanted him to become their king was because of his wise ruling!

The old king, the iron-blooded Reynolds, was indeed powerful. Not only was he powerful, but he had also led the underground city away from the invasion of magical beasts and the risk of being eaten alive by them.

However, the old king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, was also very violent. His methods of ruling were rather cruel. In order to consolidate his power, his methods could be said to be rather cruel.

Those who dared to talk about the royal family, no matter what they said, would be captured and their tongues cut off!

Under such a terrifying rule, the people of the underground city were all afraid of their own safety. They were afraid that they would be killed by the temperamental kings, Leighton and Reynolds.

When Joelson let all the soldiers be acquitted, it shocked the hearts of the underground city residents!

The people below the stage hoped that Joelson could lead the underground city and become their new king!

However, now, Joelson actually made it clear that he did not want to be the king. This was undoubtedly like a basin of cold water pouring directly on their heads.

If Joelson were to leave, they would lose a good king forever!

The people of the underground city were very confident!

This made everyone's faces lose their luster.

Regarding this result, they felt extremely uncomfortable. Some even lowered their heads and wiped their tears.

The residents of the underground city felt even more uncomfortable than the death of the old king.

As if it was the anniversary of the king's death, the entire underground city was shrouded in a mournful atmosphere.

When the captain of the guards heard what Joelson said, he suddenly raised his head and felt a wave of shock in his heart.

The captain of the guards raised his head in a daze and gritted his teeth in silence for a while.

The captain of the guards was very clear about the purpose of Joelson telling everyone in such a loud voice.

Telling everyone in such a loud voice was equivalent to making all the underground city residents give up.

If that was the case, the residents of the underground city would give up. It would not be good for others to support Joelson as the new king. Those who had thoughts about the new king's position would also put in their own actions to fight for the position!

This was Joelson's plan.

Captain Nair's heart was filled with despair. He originally wanted to dissuade the other party but he did not expect Joelson to directly announce his thoughts to all the residents of the underground city, he actually made things so decisive, not giving Captain Nair a chance to be tactful!

He directly rejected all of Captain Nair's requests!

Guard Captain Nair raised his head and looked at Joelson with a look of anxiety.

Could it be that the underground city was really going to lose such a good king?

Could it be that Guard Captain Nair was going to inherit the position of the king of the underground city and become an existence revered by tens of thousands of people?

Guard Captain Nair did not have the slightest bit of happiness regarding the fact that he was about to become the king!

At this moment, the captain of the guards was filled with dead ashes in his heart, without the slightest bit of excitement.

Because in his heart, the captain of the guards knew very well that his own glory and wealth could not be compared to all the residents of the underground city. All of them who had lived here for countless generations had embraced glory!

Regarding the future of the underground city and his own glory and wealth, the captain of the guards, Nair, did not hesitate to choose the future!

Chapter 717: The Sincerity Of The Citizens Of The Underground City. The Past Of Captain Nair.

Captain Nair knew that compared to his current glory and wealth, what was more important was the current Joelson!

Whether Joelson could lead the people of the entire underground city was directly related to the glory and light of the future of the underground city!

The current Captain Nair knew that if Joelson could inherit the throne and become the king of the underground city, then the future of the entire underground city would be rewritten!

Many generations of underground city people, many generations of underground city residents, all yearned for the day when they could walk out of this damnable Wailing Abyss and walk out of this land of extreme ice in the winter of 10,000 years.

However, many generations of people were unable to walk out. How much they once looked forward to the outside world, how much the current underground city residents looked forward to walking out of this underground city.

In the past, the underground city had organized countless exploration teams and countless brave warriors to challenge the bottomless abyss and the Wailing Abyss, challenging the cold and heartless nature, challenging the damnable nature that had trapped the underground city for so many years. However, all of their efforts seemed to be futile. All of their efforts were so tiring and desperate.

For so many years, the underground city had sent out many teams of explorers. Each team had at least dozens of people, but all of them ended up in the same place. All of them had never returned. This result made everyone feel a burst of despair in their hearts.

The underground city was trapped by this damnable mountain, trapped in this desolate place, trapped in this despairing mountain. Everything outside the mountain had nothing to do with the underground city. They endured the cold every day, they endured the might of the snowstorm, endured the wrath of nature, and endured this damnable everything.

Everyone longed to get out. There wasn't a single person in the underground city who didn't want to get out.

The captain of the guards knew very well in his heart what kind of life he would lead after becoming the king.

Extravagant food, extravagant clothes, and extravagant life.

Enjoying the admiration of tens of thousands of people, enjoying being held up high by others, enjoying all of this.

Did Captain Nair not have any desire for these things in his heart?

The answer was no.

Captain Nair not only did not have no desire for these extravagant lives in his heart, he was like a saint, having no reaction to the temptation of material things.

On the contrary, Captain Nair wanted these lives very much!

Captain Nair was good at both sides. Captain Nair knew how to look at people and how to do things. That was not something that could be learned in one's mother's womb.

On the contrary, Captain Nair was very introverted when he was young. His character could be said to be very timid.

Guard Captain Nair was born in a rural family. His father and mother were serfs, and they worked for the landlord's family.

The young Guard Captain Nair had been bullied by the farmer's family since he had his own memory.

The parents of Guard Captain Nair were beaten and scolded by the farmer but the young Guard Captain Nair could not escape this disaster.

Although the young Guard Captain Nair would not be bullied and scolded by the farmer couple, the children of the farmer couple would not let the Guard Captain Nair off.

As long as there was a chance, the son of the farmer couple would beat and scold the young Guard Captain Nair. At that time, the Guard Captain Nair still did not know what his identity was so he punched the farmer couple's son in the face!

The son of the farmer couple looked at the fist of the captain of the guards. He did not expect that this bastard son of a lowly serf would actually dare to hit him!

The son of the farmer couple who was caught off guard was directly punched by the young captain of the guards until his teeth were shattered.

Although the captain of the guards was the first to hit and directly knocked out the teeth of the farmer couple's son, the captain of the guards at that time was really too thin and small, as a serf, he could not eat a full meal at all. Although he hit the farmer's son first, the farmer's son was really too strong.

The farmer's son, who had been treated well in the farmer's family, was not as weak as the young Guard Captain Nair. On the contrary, this guy's fist was so big that it did not look like a child's.

Just like that, the two of them started fighting in the mud of the farm. Neither of them was willing to submit to the other. They just punched each other's face crazily.

The young captain of the guards, Nair, was badly beaten. His head was bleeding, and his face was bruised and swollen. However, the stubborn Nair also did not give in.

Even though he was in a daze after being punched by the farmer's son's big fist, the captain of the guards never let go of the other's collar.

The young captain of the guards, Nair, was beaten until his face was bruised and swollen. However, he still tightly grabbed the farmer's son's collar, and his fists did not stop for even a moment.

Until the farmer's son cried and shouted, the farmer's son, who was well-dressed and well-fed, was beaten by the young captain of the guards until he begged for mercy on the ground!

One had to know that the young captain of the guards, Nair, was a thin and weak child. As a serf, most of the time, having a warm meal was a luxury, most of the time, it was when the farmer and his wife were cleaning up the table, that they would be able to pick up some of the leftovers left by the farmer.

Those cold leftovers that even the farmer felt disgusted with were things that Guard Captain Nair could not wish for more. The young Guard Captain Nair would often lick the entire plate clean of all the oil and water on it, he would not let go of any condiments or oil.

However, it was this Guard Captain Nair, who had not even eaten his fill. It was he who had forcefully beaten the son of the landlord, who was hundreds of times stronger than him, to the point that the other's teeth were scattered all over the ground!

It was not until the adults in the farm heard the cries of the son of the landlord and ran out to investigate that the young Guard Captain Nair was still grabbing the collar of the other party, he used his fist, which had long lost its strength, to ruthlessly smash the face of the son of the landlord.

It was not until the adults who had rushed over separated the two children that the guard captain, Nair, stopped the offensive in his hands and reluctantly let go of the son of the landlord.

Although the young captain of the guards, Nair, had successfully defeated the son of the landlord, the young captain of the guards, Nair, did not have an easy time. His face was full of small wounds, there was even a large gash on his head.. Scarlet blood continuously flowed down his head.

Chapter 718: Memories Of Guard Captain Nair (1/3)

The young Guard Captain Nair had defeated the son of the landlord and his wife, who looked like an unbeatable monster to the young Guard Captain Nair.

The adults who had come to watch at that time were almost stunned. The young Guard Captain Nair's head was bleeding but he was riding on the son of the landlord and pulling his collar. The fist in his hand was clearly no longer powerful, but it still smashed crazily at the face of the son of the landlord!

The son of the landlord fell in the mud and snow and was riding on the body of the young captain of the guards, Nair. He kept getting beaten up. It could be said that he was in an extremely miserable state.

The adults who came to watch were all stunned. What was going on? How could the young captain of the guards be able to beat the older son of the landlord?

One had to know that the son of the landlord was five years older than the young captain of the guards.

However, it was the captain of the guards who was five years younger than the son of the landlord. At this moment, he was riding on the body of the older son of the landlord. His hands were not idle for a moment and he was beating the other party's head fiercely!

When the adults saw this scene, they were all stunned for a moment. When the son of the landlord once again cried out in pain, they finally reacted and hurriedly pulled the two people away.

When the young captain of the guards was pulled away by the adults, he was still very unwilling. He continued to resist for the sake of fighting back. His two feet crazily stepped on the soil, wanting to go back and continue beating that bastard son of the landlord to death.

When the adults joined hands, they were actually somewhat unable to pull the young captain of the guards, Nair. Only after a few more of them joined were they able to pull the captain of the guards away!

Just when the adults pulled the captain of the guards away and just breathed a sigh of relief, the captain of the guards, Nair, actually broke free from the adults' restraints and directly rushed forward!

The hot blood was still flowing from the head of the young Captain Nair but his feet did not stop. He firmly rushed in the direction of the son of the landlord!

The son of the landlord was lifted up by a few people in all directions, wanting to drag him back to the room for treatment. However, no one expected that the captain of the guards opposite them actually broke free from everyone's restraints, he directly rushed towards the son of the landlord family!

The young captain of the guards raised his leg and kicked the son of the landlord family in the crotch!

The son of the landlord family sucked in a breath of cold air and let out a miserable scream. It was a scream worse than a pig being slaughtered. He then fainted!

The young captain of the guards wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth smugly. Before he could enjoy the fruits of his victory, he was slapped hard!

The person who slapped Captain Nair was none other than Captain Nair's father!

Captain Nair's father looked angrily at Captain Nair. His hand was burning hot but he did not stop. He raised his hand high and gave the young Captain Nair another slap!

Two slaps directly knocked the heavily injured Captain Nair to the ground. Captain Nair lay on the ground and, not long after, he lost consciousness.

Captain Nair did not understand why his father wanted to slap him instead of him winning. Wasn't he his father's child?

Why was his father not on his side?

Captain Nair fell into a deep sleep with resentment toward his father.

However, the unconscious Captain Nair didn't see his father's heartache after he fell down.

During the long coma, Captain Nair had many dreams. When the dreams were broken, Captain Nair suddenly woke up.

The young Captain Nair opened his eyes and looked at his surroundings in confusion. His face was full of question marks.

This was not their shabby hut as a serf. This was a rickety carriage. The young Captain Nair was lying on his mother's lap.

Captain Nair still remembered his mother's eyes. Her eyes were filled with sorrow and all kinds of emotions. Heartache. Helplessness. And sadness.

All kinds of emotions were mixed together, written in his mother's not-so-big eyes.

The young Captain Nair crawled up in a daze, looking at his mother in confusion.

He did not know why he got out of bed in the carriage, nor did he know why his mother's eyes were so complicated.

The newly awakened Captain Nair did not care about his tired and weak body and directly began to ask his mother questions. His mother did not answer but only sighed silently.

No matter how much the young captain of the guards asked, no matter how much he asked, his mother did not care about the questions of the captain of the guards. When she replied to the numerous questions of the captain of the guards, she only responded with a sigh.

Finally, just as the captain of the guards gave up on asking his mother questions, his mother opened her mouth again and told the captain of the guards the truth.

Because Captain Nair had beaten up the son of the landlord and, in the end, had kicked the son's genitals to pieces.

Captain Nair had done such a stupid thing. So the landlord's family had vowed to kill the young Captain Nair.

The family could not stay on the farm that bore too many bad memories of Captain Nair when he was young.

If they did not run, the farmer would definitely kill their family.

The mother could only choose to take the young Captain Nair into the escaping carriage and escape from their home that they had lived in for so long.

After listening to his mother's statement, the young Captain Nair became anxious because he did not see his father.

The mother and son had run away. What about his father?

Where did his father go?

"Where did he go?" the captain of the guards asked anxiously.

While the captain of the guards asked anxiously, his mother let out a long sigh and said faintly.

"Your father chose to stay on the farm in order to cover our escape and delay the pursuit of the landlord's family."

After listening to his mother's words, the young captain of the guards was stunned on the spot.

He did not expect that his father, whom he did not understand, would actually do this for him.

Although the young captain of the guards did not understand most of the principles in the world, he knew in his heart what it meant to stay on that farm.

Chapter 719: Memories Of Guard Captain Nair (2/3)

After Captain Nair heard his mother's words, the young Nair was stunned on the spot.

Captain Nair's father, in order to cover the retreat of the mother and son... in order to delay the rescue of the landlord's family, chose to stay alone in the farmer's home!

The farmer's family was wealthy. Not only were there many helpers on the farm but there were also many good horses. If the landlord sensed that their family had escaped, then the pursuers in the farmer's house would soon catch up to the three who had escaped.

Therefore, Captain Nair's father chose to stay at home only so that the landlord's family would discover the mother and son who had escaped later. It was just to increase the mother and son's chances of escaping.

After all, Captain Nair had directly kicked the farmer's only son's genitals!

At this moment, the farmer's family was boiling with anger!

And at this time, if the farmer's family found out that their father, who was left alone at home, and found out that the culprit had already left...

The young Captain Nair's face was deathly pale as he directly sat down on the ground.

Nair could not imagine how the crazy farmer family would torture his father!

If the furious farmer could not catch the culprit, then the family's only punching bag would be his father!

Although he was still young, Nair was very clear about what it meant.

Those two slaps became the last parting gift that his father left for Captain Nair.

However, at that time, Captain Nair was still complaining about his father, disliking him for not protecting him.

Captain Nair never thought that his father, who had never expressed his love for him, would do this for him.

Tears were like pearls that had dropped a chain, continuously flowing down the captain's face.

All of this was because he did not swallow his anger. All of this was because he did not know how to behave!

The captain of the guards continuously blamed himself in his heart.

Clearly, the captain of the guards was the one who won the fight.

Captain Nair was the one who had reason. It was the son of the landlord who had bullied him first. It was the other party who had been unreasonable.

However, the result was like this. Captain Nair's heart had suddenly matured by more than ten years!

In his remorse, Captain Nair swore that he would climb to a higher position. He would climb to a position where everyone would fear him, a position where he could control justice!

And to climb to such a high position, he needed to know how to be a person, and he needed to become well-rounded!

Captain Nair, who was still young, understood this principle on that day. This principle would allow him to continuously become stronger and climb higher in the future.

The mother and son did not say anything along the way. They sat in a carriage and fled from the suburbs of the underground city to the imperial city.

The captain of the guards, Nair, and his mother arrived at the king's city, but they did not even have a single silver coin on them.

All the luxurious and noble things in the king's city had nothing to do with them.

Although they had escaped the pursuit of the farmer's family, how the mother and son were going to survive had become an imminent problem.

In order to survive, the captain of the guards, Nair, joined the underground gang at the foot of the king's city. He started off as a beggar, helping others pass on messages, and helping others keep an eye on them. He became a gang member along the way.

He relied on the lesson he learned from the blood on the farm and, at a young age, he immediately understood a way of survival that even adults could not understand. He wandered between the alleys of the king's city, earning the lowly living expenses for the mother and son.

The young captain of the guards, Nair, relied on his extraordinary maturity and soon became a cadre among the gang members in the underground city of the king's city. The life of the mother and son was finally a little better.

Although they had more money, his mother had always tried her best to oppose the captain of the guards, Nair, continuing to wander among the gangs. This was because she did not know when she would come across the corpse of the captain of the guards in the dark corners of the alleys.

After becoming a cadre, Captain Nair was active in the chaotic fights between gangs almost every day. If they did not leave their opponents' corpses in the dark alley, their own corpses would be left in the unknown alley by their opponents.

Nair, who had not received any magic teaching, had become self-taught in the fight between life and death. He continued to become stronger, and unknowingly, he was actually at a higher level than those mages who were born in the classes in the classroom, and his battle experience was extremely rich. At that time, most of the teachers probably did not have as much actual combat experience as the captain of the guards, Nair!

Many of the professors in the magic academy, if they really fought with the captain of the guards, Nair, would probably not be a match for him!

Although Captain Nair was as free as a fish in the water during the gang fight in the alley, he was able to deal with the young Captain Nair easily.

However, such a Captain Nair made his mother very worried.

Captain Nair, who lived by his mother's side, understood his mother very well. Captain Nair thought that he was a very strong existence but he also knew that in the gang fight, no matter how strong a person was, he or she could still die from a dagger that came from the dark. Even an experienced veteran could not guarantee that he or she would be able to escape perfectly every time when dealing with those arrows that came from the dark.

Moreover, the captain of the guards knew very well in his heart that being a member of a gang would not be able to achieve great things.

The survival of these rats that wandered in the dark alleys was nothing more than the indulgence of the royal family. When the royal family was on a whim, these people who thought that they were the tyrants of the city's sewers, could not resist the royal family's serious anger at all.

The royal family did not say anything to the gangs in the city, but it did not mean that they would not do so in the future.

Captain Nair knew that as a member of a gang, even if he became the boss and the leader of the organization, it was useless.

Even if it was a gang in the underground city, it was just a king among rats. It was nothing at all. Once he left the sewers, he would become nothing.

Therefore, Captain Nair followed his mother's idea and quit the gang. He found a proper job.

Guard.

With his fighting skills in the gang and his superb talent, Captain Nair undoubtedly joined the guard's recruit training camp.

Chapter 720: Memories Of Guard Captain Nair (3/3)

Captain Nair was very clear about the limitations of being a street thug and a gang member.

If the royal family turned a blind eye to these street rats, then everything would be fine. However, if one of them angered the royal family, then it would be a complete disaster for the entire underground city, it would be a complete disaster!

Captain Nair was very clear about this in his heart. However, the gang members who mingled in the streets and alleys did not realize this. They did not have the slightest sense of danger as they expanded everywhere, such an arrogant act under the imperial city was tantamount to challenging the authority of the underground city's king.

The longer the captain of the guards stayed in the gang, the more uneasy he felt. He knew very well that these companions who did not have any ambition on the streets were simply unreliable companions.

The captain of the guards knew in his heart that staying in the gang and working for them was not a long-term solution.

Coincidentally, his mother began to exhort the captain of the guards to leave the gang.

After a long period of struggle, the mother and son of the captain of the guards finally settled down. Not only did they settle down, but they were also thriving. Finally, the two of them did not have to sleep on the streets anymore, the captain of the guards, Nair, built a sturdy little shelter for his mother in a small alley. The two of them were finally out of danger.

At this moment, Nair understood his mother's exhortation because he was thinking the same thing.

Rather than waiting for the royal family to clean up in this damn gang, it was better to prepare to leave the gang early.

The captain of the guards, Nair, planned in his heart.

From both sides, the well-informed captain of the guards, Nair, relied on his own information network to believe that the royal family would definitely conduct a big clean-up of the underground city's gangs soon.

Combined with his own judgment, the captain of the guards felt that the credibility of this piece of news was at least 90%.

The captain of the guards, who had been feeling uneasy for a long time, quickly decided to leave the gang after combining said unease with his mother's dissuasion.

One would not be able to achieve anything in a gang.

Even if he became the leader of the entire gang, the captain of the guards, Nair, knew that he was nothing more than the person who made him the most respected gangster in the streets and alleys. Once he left the alley... after leaving those dirty sewers, the captain of the guards was nothing.

This was completely contrary to the original intention of the captain of the guards, who wanted to climb to the highest point and master justice himself.

The captain of the guards knew in his heart that to become such a person, only an official could do it.

Only by being subordinate to the royal family could the captain of the guards fulfill his dream.

Therefore, Captain Nair decisively broke off his connection with the organization and the gang and joined the guards.

During the recruitment of the guards in the underground city, Captain Nair, who had washed off his tattoos, slowly walked into the recruitment office.

During the physical examination, Captain Nair, who had been involved in gang fights all year round, was instantly selected into the guards. Moreover, Captain Nair's results could be said to be very excellent!

At that time, among all the new guards, Captain Nair said that he was second. Only one person dared to challenge him for first place!

That person's name was Hansen.

Vice-captain of the guards, Hansen!

Hansen was a talented person who had graduated from the academy. In addition, his talent was also very strong. He was also a very dazzling existence in the recruit training camp!

Just like that, the ill-fated relationship between Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen had begun!

After passing through the baptism of the recruit training camp, the two of them went to the battlefield together. In the numerous attacks of the magical beast tide, the two of them had made outstanding contributions, and the two of them quickly rose to a relatively high position!

During the years of fighting against the magical beast invasion, the military achievements of the few of them kept on rising, and they almost quickly reached the position of vice-captain of the guards!

Nair was getting closer and closer to his wish step by step.

Vice-captain of the guards could be considered a position that was neither too big nor too small in the palace. There was nothing to boast about in terms of status, but he had real control over the military power!

Later on, with his ability to take advantage of both sides, the vice-captain of the guards, Nair, took charge of both sides of the army. Even among the nobles outside the army, the vice-captain of the guards did not slack off. Following the previous captain of the guards, he kept going to all kinds of high-end places and gained quite a bit of familiarity in the circle of nobles!

With these efforts, the vice-captain of the guards, Nair, who was not as strong as the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, succeeded in inheriting the position of the captain of the guards.

At that time, Captain Nair could not bear it, because he knew that in terms of strength, Vice-Captain Hansen might be even stronger.

If it was not for his good fortune and opportunism, and if they were ranked according to the level of strength, Captain Nair would definitely be defeated by the other party!

The captain of the guards, Nair, was very certain of this!

However, although the captain of the guards felt very guilty, he would not give up this position to Vice-Captain Hansen.

This was because the captain of the guards still remembered his goal, to climb to a higher position!

The captain of the guards, Nair, who had grasped the military power, could be said to have successfully obtained the position that he had yearned for the most when he was young.

The captain of the guards was different from the vice-captain of the guards. He had grasped the actual military power. Although his position among the nobles was still not very high, seeing that the captain of the guards, Nair, had grasped the military power, all the nobles had to put in the effort to curry favor with the captain of the guards!

After obtaining the thing that he had yearned for when he was young, Guard Captain Nair, began to calculate something in his heart.

During a patrol, the captain of the guards passed by the suburbs of the underground city.

He passed by the farmer's house.

The successful captain of the guards, Nair, came to the farmhouse that he had grown up in when he was young. It used to be a small broken wooden house that his family lived in, but now it was another serf's house.

When the farmer couple saw the travel-worn captain of the guards, they hurriedly walked out of their luxurious house to welcome the arrival of the captain of the guards, Nair.

Chapter 721: The Underground City Needs Joelson! Everyone's Helpless Pleas!

The successful captain of the guards, Nair, rode his tall and handsome horse to the place where he grew up.

The farmer's field was still as big as before, and the house for the serfs was still as shabby as before.

The only possibility of change was the farmer's house. The farmer couple's house had become more luxurious than before. Not only had it been expanded but the decorations and materials used on it were also much better than before.

The serfs saw a pair of tall and strong soldiers come to the outside of the manor. They hurriedly went in to report to the farmer couple in the house.

When the farmer couple heard the serfs' report, they initially did not want to come out. However, when they heard that the other party was wearing the royal armor, they hurriedly walked out of the house. They brought the serfs and respectfully welcomed the people from Joelson's group!

When the farmer couple came out and saw the face of Captain Nair, they were even more shocked.

The one who was shocked was not toward Captain Nair himself but the picture on Captain Nair's armor!

The armor on Captain Nair's body was carved with a majestic white bear head!

The serfs did not know what this carving represented but, as farmers, they were very clear about what this carving meant.

This carving meant that he was the captain of the royal guards!

It was the symbol of military power in the entire underground city!

When the farmer and his wife saw Captain Nair, they were so frightened that they knelt on the ground and offered their respectful blessings to Captain Nair.

"My great captain of the guards, may I ask what brings you to such a remote and desolate place?"

The farmer and his wife's terrified appearance made the captain of the guards laugh.

That's right, the farmer who had once bullied him was now afraid of his identity.

The captain of the guards was certain from their expressions that the other party did not recognize who he was.

In fact, that was indeed the case. The farmer's family had long forgotten the appearance of Captain Nair. At that time, Captain Nair was still young. Although their family had always remembered this grudge... However, the difference in the appearance of Captain Nair was still very big. They did not recognize him at all.

Compared to his appearance, there was another more important factor that affected their judgment.

That was, it was very difficult for them to associate that lowly little serf from that year with this guard captain in front of them!

In their eyes, lowly serfs would always be serfs. They would always be slaves wherever they went. They would never associate this guard captain who was riding a tall horse with the serf who had escaped back then.

The guard captain knew that they were purely afraid of their identity and not of their revenge after they returned!

Just his identity as a captain of the guards could make those people who distorted right and wrong and reversed black and white fear him so much. This made Captain Nair even more certain in his heart.

He must continue to climb up the ranks, step by step!

It was only enough to climb all the way to the top!

Captain Nair's heart turned silent.

Captain Nair's silence made the farmer couple feel a wave of fear in their hearts.

The guards were all military officers. Even if their small farm had many serfs, they would not be able to fight against the army no matter what!

Therefore, for the people in the army, meeting the farmer was like meeting a huge buffet treasury!

If they were a little more conscientious, they could rely on their status as an army and live free on the farm for a few days.

Normal guards would ransack the farm every time they passed by and use the farmer's wealth to fill their own pockets!

Normal guards were like this, not to mention the captain of the guards!

He could not even resist. If he resisted and attacked the captain of the guards, it would be treason!

According to the law, he would be sentenced to death!

The captain of the guards, Nair, looked at the farmer indifferently, causing his forehead to be covered with dense beads of sweat.

He knew clearly that the other party was definitely not a good person.

As expected, the captain of the guards, Nair, opened his mouth and asked for the whereabouts of Binger, his father.

The farmer honestly told him that he was just a lowly serf who committed an unforgivable crime many years ago and was executed by him.

The farmer naively pointed in the direction where Binger was buried for Captain Nair.

In a desolate wasteland, there were a few messy mounds of soil. One of them was the grave of Captain Nair's father.

The naive farmer had never thought that Guard Captain Nair was the lowly serf that he had been chasing after. He had dared to cripple his son's genitals.

Captain Nair looked at the mounds in the distance, his eyes indifferent.

In the next moment, Captain Nair took out his sword and slashed the damned farmer to death!

Then, Captain Nair waved his hand and summoned lightning, turning the farmer's family into ashes in the fastest way possible!

They didn't even have the chance to scream. Only the farmer's wife reacted and screamed. Then, she was directly turned into ashes by the lightning.

After taking revenge for so many years, Captain Nair felt relieved.

The goal that had allowed him to persevere to this point had been achieved but this made Captain Nair even more determined to continue to climb up the ranks, even though his father's revenge had been avenged. Even though his mother was now living in a big house and enjoying life.

But Captain Nair knew that to the king, these officials were just as lowly as serfs.

As long as they had an idea, they could still control their life and death at will.

The king still had the ability to smear the righteous into the unjust and put the wrong into the right.

Just like when he was bullied by the son of a farmer.

As long as there were people above who could control his life and death, Captain Nair had to keep climbing and rising.

It could be said that Nair's desire for the position of king was greater than everyone else's.

However, at this moment, Nair was only one step away from the position of king. As long as Nair nodded, he would be the king of the underground city!

As long as he nodded, Nair's lifelong wish would be fulfilled.

But Nair, the captain of the guards, was adamant in his refusal.

Chapter 722: Captain Nair's Thoughts

In this underground city, Captain Nair estimated that there was probably no one who pursued a higher status than himself.

As a poor serf, Captain Nair's yearning for power in the underground city was something that no one could catch up to!

Having lived in poverty since childhood, Captain Nair knew that if he did not climb up and become a powerful person who held power, then all truth and justice would be held in the hands of people with higher power and status!

The captain of the guards had never given up on his desire for power and status after so many years.

The suffering he had suffered as a slave when he was young, the captain of the guards still clearly remembered that these hardships were simply extraordinary torture for the captain of the guards. This torture constantly reminded the captain of the guards to constantly strengthen his cultivation and climb up the higher levels of the underground city.

Back then, the captain of the guards had power. When he was bullied by the farmer's child, he could resist the farmer's child with all his strength and win the battle.

However, the captain of the guards knew that even if he won the battle, it would be useless because his poor strength could not compare to his inferior status as a serf.

At that time, Captain Nair understood that this was a world where the strong preyed on the weak. This world had a terrifying survival logic, even if his strength was far stronger than the other party, Captain Nair needed a position that matched his strength to be able to protect the people he cherished.

Captain Nair's father used his miserable life to tell Captain Nair that, if he wanted to live with dignity and maintain his justice, he must have a strong position to support his strength!

When Captain Nair was young, he was a lowly serf who lived in extreme poverty. He lived in a shabby hut and had to do a lot of heavy physical work every day even though he was still very young. He was whipped by the farmer every day and bullied by the farmer's children every day. Captain Nair had always remembered these poor days in his heart!

Captain Nair would remember such poor days every day when he opened his eyes. Every time he thought about it, he would feel a wave of sadness!

He would often think, if he was born into a luxurious family, would his life trajectory become a little different?

Perhaps, his achievements would be even higher than now?

This thought would often appear in Captain Nair's heart. This thought was deeply in his heart and constantly influenced Captain Nair's judgment.

He knew that he had to have a strong and deep background to supplement his own strength. Otherwise, everything would be like that day, welcoming the unfair judgment of those with high positions.

This thought was deeply rooted in Captain Nair's mind and deeply influenced Captain Nair's judgment.

The days when he joined the gangs under the capital city of the prefectural selection made Captain Nair understand that fighting and killing could not make him a true king.

No matter how tyrannical the members of the gangs were, when the royal family did not care about them, the days of the gang members could be said to be like the Sun in the sky. They were the strongest under the king's feet.

Under the king's eyes, they divided the areas of influence. The king levied taxes on the merchants, and they copied the king's way of collecting protection fees. There was no one under the capital who was not afraid of them, it was as if they were the bosses of the imperial city.

At that time, other than the captain of the guards, no other gang members felt that their doomsday was coming soon.

Because at that time, the gangs were simply the sky of the underground city!

No one dared to rebel against the gangs.

To be honest, even the captain of the guards, who had voluntarily withdrawn from the gangs at that time, would hesitate for a while during the process of joining the army.

He didn't know if what he did was right or if it was worth it.

After all, the gang was so hot back then, but he chose to be a big-headed soldier. Perhaps he might not be as good as a young boy.

However, Captain Nair felt that he might have made a very stupid decision.

Although he had a feeling that being a member of a gang might not be a job that could be done for a long time.

However, the gangs at that time were too popular. Some gangs even dared to challenge the aristocrats.

Many gangs were even hired by some big aristocrats as the thugs behind the two big families.

They helped them to do things that were not easy to say on the surface or to do openly. If their gangs were to do it, they could only do it secretly. The two big gangs would do it.

Many big nobles were the protection of these gang members. Everything in the gang seemed to be so stable. Almost no one thought that the gang would be destroyed in a short time.

At that time, the captain of the guards, Nair, quit the gang. It was the time when the gang was most popular in the underground city. The captain of the guards, Nair, did not know if what he did was right. There were even many times, when he was suffering in the military camp, Guard Captain Nair would occasionally examine his own judgment to see if what he had done was the right thing to do.

Although there was a risk of being wounded every day when he fought in the gang, and there would even be enemies coming to take revenge from time to time and waves of deaths but, at the very least, he would be able to eat and drink well. No one would dare to challenge him, his mother had finally found a place to live because of him.

However, at that time, the captain of the guards in the army, Nair, did not know that this magnificent gang would soon be shattered in an instant.

That day, the captain of the guards, Nair, was training in the training camp as usual, when an order suddenly came from above, wanting to conduct a surprise inspection of the entire streets of the capital!

One arrest warrant after another was passed down to the various guard teams. The captain of the guards, Nair, held these arrest warrants in his hands and his heart was in a trance.

He was very familiar with the people above him. Among them were some of his allies from when he was in the gang, and there were also some of his sworn enemies who had fought in the streets and alleys.

All the guards in the underground city were mobilized.. The company of new soldiers where Guard Captain Nair was also deployed. The fast, accurate, and ruthless attacks directly swept the entire gang in a very short time!

Chapter 723: Captain Nair's Desire!

Captain Nair didn't even have time to react at that time. That once incomparably grand and complex gang had been destroyed just like that.

What made Captain Nair even more surprised was that all of this was the same as what he was worried about. The reason for all of this was that the royal family had noticed these people wandering through the dirty sewers.

Just because it was simply too eye-catching, the royal family had ruthlessly uprooted all the gangs at the foot of the capital.

Their swift and decisive actions left Captain Nair speechless. Before he could react, the entire gang had been uprooted and burned to the ground!

Many arrogant members had become prisoners of the underground city's royal family while sitting in prison. There were also those arrogant thugs. The god of war on the streets and alleys had chosen to put up a stubborn resistance, his body was directly penetrated by the spears of their guards!

That night, Captain Nair personally witnessed the destruction of the largest gang in the underground city's imperial city. His hands were stained with the blood of countless of his compatriots from before. Their expressions were all different before they died, some were surprised, and some were sad.

But Captain Nair could see a unified emotion in their eyes.

Almost every stubborn gang member had this expression on their faces. The name of this expression was disbelief.

It looked incomparably sorrowful!

That's right, they simply could not believe that they were the ones who had died. They could not believe that they, as a huge gang, would die so tragically on the streets!

Where were their protective umbrellas?

Where were the officials they knew who had the power to cover the skies?

These people had not come to protect the underground city's gangs. All of them had expressed their disregard for today's tragedy.

That's right, disregard.

They simply did not want to help the members of these gangs in the underground city. When they used their words, they were so sincere. Once the royal family set their eyes on these gray industries, they directly treated these gangs in the underground city as if they were used up chess pieces and casually threw them away!

The captain of the guards felt a wave of emotion in his heart.

The captain of the guards sighed in his heart as he followed his colleagues to hunt down the remaining gang forces in the underground city.

Faced with the people from Joelson who came to hunt them down, all of them wanted to beg for mercy without exception. However, Joelson did not leave them any face at all. All of the criminals on the wanted list were captured and brought to justice.

At that time, the captain of the guards could not help but feel relieved. Fortunately, he had escaped from the gang at that time and chose to live in a tough military camp, if he had been immersed in the wonderful dream of the underground city gang, he was very sure that he would not have ended up better than these poor people!

The powerful gang was torched. This incident was the same as the incident where Captain Nair's father was killed when he was young. It had a great impact on Captain Nair.

This incident was the same as what happened to his father. It made Captain Nair understand a principle even more.

As expected, the truth was always in the hands of those powerful and high-ranking people!

Those seemingly powerful gangs would turn into insignificant dust in front of the royal family who had an absolute advantage in status and would be easily dismissed. Not to mention a lowly person like him who did not have any status or background.

Therefore, the captain of the guards knew that he had to work hard to climb to a position where everyone had to respect him!

Captain Nair thought firmly in his heart.

However, regarding this matter, Captain Nair's heart could not calm down for a long time.

After this, Captain Nair faced the training that was heavy with complicated tasks and became even more hardworking. Facing the situation of those high-ranking officials, he increasingly wanted to blend in and make a name for himself!

The captain of the guards, Nair's desire for power and status far exceeded everyone's desire for power and status!

The captain of the guards, Nair, felt a burst of desire in his heart. It could be said that in the underground city, there shouldn't be many people who had a desire for power and status that surpassed the captain of the guards, Nair!

However, in front of the captain of the guards, there was a chance to directly fulfill his dream.

Just now, Joelson announced this important moment to everyone.

Joelson announced the name of the next underground city king to all the residents of the underground city!

That's right, this person was Captain Nair!

Captain Nair was appointed by Joelson as the candidate to become the king of the underground city!

Captain Nair was in a trance.

What he desired so much was now right in front of him!

He only needed to nod his head now. He only needed to agree now!

Captain Nair could get what he dreamed of and what he had long desired!

Statu. Power!

And it was not an ordinary high position!

This was the highest position that the captain of the guards, Nair, could not hope to reach!

The king of the underground city!

The captain of the guards, Nair, never dreamed that he would be able to become the king of the underground city. This position was a reality that he did not even dare to dream of!

When this news was released, the captain of the guards, Nair, felt a wave of emotion in his heart. He simply could not believe that he would really become the king of the underground city!

The captain of the guards felt a wave of emotion in his heart. The distance between him and this position was simply too close. All he needed to do was simply nod his head, and simply confirm. Then, this position would immediately be his!

Wasn't this the ultimate pursuit that the captain of the guards had spent his entire life pursuing.

Status!

This status was so high that Captain Nair didn't dare to accept it.

However, if the person who announced this news was someone else, Captain Nair might not be higher than you and directly accept this seemingly cushy job without any burden!

This was a job that Captain Nair could only dream of!

Captain Nair's heart was very eager for this job and he wanted to accept it immediately!

But Captain Nair could not accept it at this moment.

Because the person who gave this position to him was Joelson!

That's right, it was Joelson!

If it was Joelson. Then, no matter how much Captain Nair yearned for this position, no matter how much he yearned for power and supreme status...

As long as Joelson gave this position to him, then the captain of the guards knew that he was not worthy of this position!

Chapter 724: The Wish Of Captain Nair. The Wish Of Everyone In The Underground City!

The power and position of the king was placed in front of Captain Nair at this moment.

Looking at the position in front of him that he had longed for an unknown amount of time, Captain Nair felt a wave of emotion in his heart.

Facing such a position, Captain Nair almost wanted to directly accept the title of Joelson.

Facing the ultimate pursuit of his life, facing such a desire, his heart was very complicated.

Because Captain Nair knew that, compared to this supreme position in front of him, there was something more important.

Captain Nair closed his eyes. Facing the huge temptation in front of him, Captain Nair knew that he absolutely could not accept this huge temptation.

Even if what was in front of him was what Captain Nair had been longing for all his life, something called power.

Captain Nair had been struggling in this underground city for many years. Facing such wealth and power, Captain Nair could only choose to reject.

After experiencing so many things, no one wanted power more than him. However, Captain Nair chose to accept it

There was no other reason than that it was Joelson who conferred this supreme position to him.

If it was someone else who conferred this throne to Captain Nair, perhaps Captain Nair would still gladly accept such a title!

After all, his father's suffering when he was young and the struggles among the gang members made Captain Nair extremely eager to hold the position of king in his hands.

As long as he held the power and position of king in his hands, Captain Nair would be able to become the absolute authority in the underground city. If he could become the absolute authority in the underground city, then Captain Nair would be able to truly hold the power in his own hands!

If he could hold this authority, Captain Nair would no longer have to be like before. He would no longer have to fear the judgment of others who lowered his status every day. He would be able to truly hold justice in his hands, he would no longer have to be afraid of someone using his position to crush him!

If he could become a king, then his mother, who had worked hard for him for most of her life, would also be able to spend the rest of her life in glory and wealth.

Just thinking about this made Captain Nair feel a wave of excitement in his heart.

However, Captain Nair knew that he could never accept it.

Other people might be able to confer titles on him but it was absolutely impossible for Joelson to confer titles on him.

The reason was very simple. It was because his ability was too weak compared to Joelson's.

Joelson was so powerful and perfect.

The king of the underground city could only be Joelson!

Captain Nair was very sure of this in his heart. This was an unquestionable principle for Captain Nair.

Captain Nair became the king in front of Joelson. Regardless of whether other people agreed or not, Captain Nair did not agree with this outcome!

How could the king be someone like him? Whether it was strength or morality, Captain Nair was completely crushed by the other party.

Even if Captain Nair shamelessly accepted Joelson's title, even if Captain Nair did not care about other people's gazes, he directly recognized himself!

Even if Captain Nair successfully became the king, but so what?

Captain Nair clenched his fists.

Even if he became the king of the underground city, would others be able to recognize him?

The residents of the underground city had already seen how powerful Joelson was. How could they allow a weak person like him to become the king of the underground city?

In the eyes of the people, although they had witnessed the great battle between Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen, compared to the great battle of Joelson... the battle between the two of them was as ridiculous as a child playing house.

Compared to Joelson's powerful strength, the combined combat strength of Captain Nair and Vice-Captain Hansen was not even half as high as Joelson's.

Moreover, even if they did not talk about military strength, just talking about the style of a wise king, Captain Nair could not compare to Joelson!

Captain Nair felt a wave of helplessness in his heart.

Even if he accepted Joelson's title, the residents of the underground city would have 10,000 objections!

In the face of the rejection of the residents of the underground city, he would not be able to be a stable king.

It would not be long before he would be overthrown by the angry citizens. If he wanted to stabilize his regime, he could only follow the same path as the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds and start to implement a terrifying high-pressure policy. This was to force the residents of the underground city to submit to him.

However, the captain of the guards knew in his heart that this was not a long-term plan.

To the underground city, they needed a great king.

And Joelson was this great king!

As a member of the underground city, Captain Nair understood very clearly in his heart that compared to his own selfish desires, to the underground city, the improvement brought by Joelson was not just a little bit!

If Joelson could become the king of the underground city, perhaps the entire underground city would be led by Joelson towards great glory!

The captain of the guards was also an underground city man. Compared to his own selfish desires, the glory of the entire underground city was more important.

The captain of the guards analyzed the pros and cons in his mind.

So what if he accepted Joelson's conferment?

At that time, the entire underground city would become one of the strongest countries in the underworld continent!

This was a great thing for the residents of the underground city!

If he ruined the bright future of the entire underground city because of his own selfish desires, the captain of the guards would never forgive him!

After doing such a thing, how could he live the rest of his life in peace?

Even if he accepted the throne, as long as Joelson sat on the throne for a day, he would constantly be cursed by the throne and feel guilty!

He would constantly feel guilty for not being able to let Joelson sit on his throne that day!

The captain of the guards thought firmly.

Chapter 725: The Pleas Of Vice-Captain Hansen And The Others!

Captain Nair made up his mind.

He knew that even if he agreed to Joelson, he would not be able to sit on the throne safely.

Compared to Joelson, Captain Nair was too inferior. If he became the king of the underground city, then all the residents of the underground city would not agree to this result, they would all question the legitimacy of Nair on the throne, the captain of the guards!

If he wanted to hold on to this position, he could only be like the old King Leighton and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. He could launch a bloody campaign to purge the underground city and force everyone to submit to him!

Nair, the captain of the guards, knew in his heart that he would definitely not be able to do such a thing calmly.

The captain of the guards, King Leighton, and the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds both yearned for this position, but there was still a world of difference between them.

The poor captain of the guards, Nair, understood the feelings of the people at the bottom very well, so he would definitely not do such a cruel thing.

Moreover, even if the captain of the guards really stabilized his throne, what could he do?

He could only lead the underground city and continue to be muddle-headed. He would continue to sleep in this unknown little local chronicles and continue to become the next Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. He would become an ordinary person in the history of the underground city, a very common and run-of-the-mill person.

However, Joelson was different.

Joelson was completely different from the captain of the guards, who did not know where he could lead the underground city!

Joelson had the ability to lead the underground city out of this Wailing Abyss!

If such a powerful Joelson became the king of the underground city, then Captain Nair was very sure that Joelson would definitely be able to lead the underground city out of this terrible Wailing Abyss, out of this poor land of extreme ice!

Captain Nair felt a wave of certainty in his heart. This was a definite thing!

If that was the case, then Captain Nair could feel relieved in his heart.

Compared to those people who yearned for boring power and status by themselves, it was obvious that letting the underground city out of this impoverished place was even greater and more important!

This was a glorious feat that would leave a lasting mark on their descendants!

If Joelson became their king and led them out of this barren land, their generation of underground city people would be remembered by future generations!

Not to mention, after they got out of the underground city and reached the underworld, with Joelson's talent, he could lead them to expand their territory and leave their names in history!

With such a powerful Joelson as the leader of the king, it would not take long for the underground city to become a powerful country in the underworld that everyone had to respect and fear!

After weighing the pros and cons, Captain Nair naturally understood which was the better choice for him and the underground city!

Captain Nair could not accept the position of the King!

Not only for his own sake but also for the sake of the entire underground city!

Although Joelson directly announced this sad decision to all the residents of the underground city, as long as Captain Nair moved his mouth and touched his lips, the position of the underground city's king would be his.

However, the captain of the guards still resolutely knelt on the ground and sincerely spoke again:

"Sir Joelson, please take back your order. The underground city needs you!"

The captain of the guards said sincerely. He climbed a few steps forward and came in front of Joelson's heel. He pleaded.

When Joelson heard that the captain of the guards, Nair, was still unwilling to give up on the idea of making him the king of the underground city, he couldn't help but sigh deeply.

"Sigh."

The captain of the guards, Nair, sighed. He really couldn't accept the captain of the guards, Nair's pleas.

Joelson's ambition wasn't in this small underground city. Compared to this small underground city, with the dragon god's pasture system, his ambition was even further away.

The fragments of the death artifact, the dragon eggs of the death demon dragon, and the even more powerful and mysterious higher planes.

All of these were more attractive than becoming the king of an underground city.

Even if Joelson had no ambition at all and accepted becoming the king of this place to live a slow retirement life, he probably wouldn't be able to agree to this unambitious idea of his. Even the dragons under him would not agree with his decadent idea!

That's right, with Joelson's ambition, he would never be able to be a king in such a small country. This was no different from starting a retirement life in his prime.

Therefore, no matter how bitter the Guard Captain Nair was in his heart, no matter how sincere his request was, it was impossible for Joelson to choose to accept the other party's proposal.

He was willing because it was simply impossible for Joelson to waste too much of his youth in such a small place.

However, looking at Captain Nair's sincere invitation to stay, Joelson was still troubled.

Captain Nelson's sincerity was truly moving.

However, just as Joelson was hesitating...

Beside him, Vice-Captain Hansen's face was also pale, his expression constantly changing.

Vice-Captain Hansen's gaze was very complicated as he looked at Captain Nair, who was kneeling on the ground.

Vice-Captain Hansen naturally knew what his long-time friend was thinking.

To the vice-captain of the guards, wasn't he the same?

Hansen had been the vice-captain of the guards for countless years. The temptation to control the military power in the underground city was not small!

In fact, the temptation was even greater than the desire of the captain of the guards, Nair, for the king!

Having been the vice-captain of the guards for countless years, Hansen knew very well how much he wanted to be promoted!

As if the dry land was thirsty for the rain, the vice-captain had been waiting for this promotion for so many years!

However, what made Hansen feel complicated was that the vice-captain didn't want to accept the order that Joelson gave him to control the entire underground city.

Not only did he not want to accept it but he also could not accept it!

Because once he accepted Joelson's order, it meant that the underground city would lose Joelson forever!

Chapter 726: In The Face Of Everyone's Urging To Stay, Joelson Had No Choice But To Choose

At this moment, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was looking at the captain of the guards with a complicated expression.

Looking at his good brother, the captain of the guards, who was kneeling on the ground, he really understood him too well. It could be said that the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was very clear in his heart what his good brother, the captain of the guards, was thinking about.

Because Captain Hansen also thought so!

That's right, facing the underground city military power that he had longed for an unknown amount of time, facing the promotion that he had longed for an unknown amount of time, facing the approval of the leader that he had longed for an unknown amount of time.

Today, Vice-Captain Hansen finally got it.

Vice-Captain Hansen had longed for countless days and nights of glory, and for countless promotions that came and went!

Today, it was finally given to the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, by Joelson.

However, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was supposed to be happy and laughing, could not laugh at all!

The reason was the same. It was because the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had the same reason as the captain of the guards, Nair. Hansen, the vice-captain of the guards, did not want to accept this order that he had longed for a long time.

This promotion order could be said to be the torture of Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair.

That's right, Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair did not want to accept this order no matter what.

This order was too difficult for the two of them!

Vice-Captain Hansen naturally thought of what Captain Nair thought of.

Vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, also thought the same thing about Captain Nair.

Perhaps, as long as Vice-Captain Hansen nodded, he would be able to complete all of this very quickly. He would be able to obtain the promotion that he had been longing for a long time! He would be able to obtain the military power that Vice-Captain Hansen had been longing for a long time!

All he had to do now was simply open his mouth and everything that Vice-Captain Hansen desired would be in his pocket. The pain that he had been agonizing over for god knows how long would be easily resolved.

However, Vice-Captain Hansen knew that he could never agree to Joelson's proposal.

There was no other reason other than that Vice-Captain Hansen knew that he could never agree. Once he agreed, it would mean that the underground city would lose Joelson forever!

Joelson was like a gift from god to the underground city. He was the savior that everyone yearned for!

If Joelson could become the king of the underground city, then the entire underground city would be able to soar to success. They would be able to walk out of this land and walk towards incomparable glory.

As long as Joelson could become their king, it would be a very important blessing for their descendants!

With Joelson's leadership, their generation of underground urbanites would definitely be remembered by their future generations!

However, all of this was based on one big premise.

That was, they could not accept Joelson's conferment!

Once they accepted Joelson's conferment, it would mean that they would lose Joelson forever.

Once they lost Joelson, they would return to the previous damn cycle. Just like the underground city's cycle for thousands of years, they would forever stay in the same place.

Everything in the Underworld had nothing to do with them. All the disasters in the Underworld had nothing to do with them.

For thousands of years, the underground city had been pushed out of the Underworld forever.

Captain Nair was unwilling, Vice-Captain Hansen was unwilling, and the residents of the underground city were even more unwilling!

All of them felt a wave of unwillingness in their hearts!

Who could be willing to be pushed out of the world!

No one was willing to be pushed out of the circle forever, no one was willing to stay in the underground city in this barren desert forever!

Vice-Captain Hansen felt a sense of unwillingness.

Vice-Captain Hansen could sense that Joelson did not want to stay in the underground city for too long.

This small underground city was not a place for winged dragons to live.

Could it be that he could only accept the other party's title and muddle through his life?

The vice-captain of the guards thought in despair.

He could feel Joelson's firm intention to leave.

Even when facing the captain of the guards, Nair, who was begging on his knees, Joelson's intention to leave was not shaken in the slightest.

However, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was unwilling!

Hansen raised his head, his eyes filled with unwillingness.

He was unwilling to face his fated fate without trying anything!

Vice-Captain Hansen's chest rose and fell, and he knelt on the ground with a thud!

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Vice-Captain Hansen kowtowed three times!

Under everyone's watchful eyes, the proud Vice-Captain Hansen kowtowed three times in succession!

All the residents of the underground city were shocked. They could not believe that the person who kowtowed in the arena was really Vice-Captain Hansen!

"Please, Sir Joelson, please stay here and help us!"

Vice-Captain Hansen raised his head sadly. Blood was flowing from his forehead as he stared straight at Joelson.

Such sincerity shocked even Joelson!

This guy, does he want to die?

Kowtowing so hard without using any magic energy to protect himself. Doing so would be fatal!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, did not care about the injury on his head. Warm blood was flowing and dripping on the ground.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was looking at Joelson with his sincere eyes!

Joelson suddenly felt a wave of helplessness.

Even if the other party was so sincere, it did not shake Joelson's faith at all.

Because Joelson's faith was equally firm, equally unshakable.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, looked at Joelson's determined expression and instantly felt extremely disappointed.

He understood that this small underground city could not hold back a winged dragon like Joelson, whose heart was far away. He understood that no matter what efforts he made, he would not be able to change this tragic fact.

However, just as Vice-Captain Hansen felt a sense of loss, he felt that the underground city would not be able to have Joelson.

Suddenly, behind Vice-Captain Hansen, countless residents suddenly knelt on the ground.

They knelt on the ground and looked at Joelson with sincere and sad eyes.

Chapter 727: Joelson's Final Choice

Guard Captain Nair kneeled firmly on the ground. Just as he was expressing his determination, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen suddenly kneeled down.

With a thud, three kowtows hit the ground!

Guard Captain Nair looked at guard Vice-Captain Hansen in surprise. He was actually so serious!

Guard Captain Nair understood his good brother very well. For him, kneeling was a very important thing!

For Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, kneeling was a very humiliating thing. If it wasn't for the urgency, according to Guard Vice-Captain Hansen's temper, he wouldn't have knelt at all!

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was now directly kneeling down, which made Guard Captain Nair feel a wave of surprise in his heart.

This guy actually did so much just to be able to stay in the underground city!

Captain Nair felt a wave of surprise in his heart. Regarding the performance of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, Captain Nair felt a wave of shock in his heart!

As a good friend for many years, Captain Nair was very clear about the meaning of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, doing this step!

As expected!

Captain Nair sighed in his heart.

Vice-Captain Hansen must have also realized the importance of Joelson to the underground city, so he made an exception!

Captain Nair thought to himself.

He was very clear about the importance of military power to Vice-Captain Hansen.

This good brother of his had longed for this position for many years.

It could be said that no matter how much he yearned for a higher status, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen yearned for the military power of the underground city.

Guard Vice-Captain Hansen and Captain Nair were still very different on this point.

Because of the problem of his origin, Captain Nair was very eager for a higher status in his heart.

This was the influence of his original family. His desire for a higher position was something that ordinary people could not understand and imagine!

However, the vice captain of the guards, Hansen's desire for military power was also incomparable.

For the vice captain of the guards, Hansen just wanted to become stronger and gain everyone's approval.

When both of them were still vice-captain of the guards, Captain Nair knew that his good brother, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen, desired power and status.

At that time, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen was so determined to get the position of captain of the guards. However, he did not expect that the position would be taken away for no reason.

Until today, Captain Nair still felt guilty for taking away the position that should belong to Guard Vice-Captain Hansen.

The reason was very simple.

At that time, Vice-Captain Hansen was stronger than Captain Nair, but Captain Nair successfully took the position of captain of the guards, the reason was simply because of Captain Nair's eloquence.

Captain Nair still felt guilty about this because he knew that his long-time friend really wanted this position. He understood. The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, really wanted this position and because of this, the two of them almost became enemies.

Joelson had promised to give the Vice-Captain Hansen military power. This should have been something that would make him jump up in joy.

However, at this time.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, actually directly knelt down, knelt on the ground, and directly made three kowtows!

He actually rejected Joelson's reward!

The captain of the guards, Nair, was stunned in his heart.

He really did not expect that Guard Vice-Captain Hansen would reject the position he had been dreaming of for god knows how long!

Guard Captain Nair sighed in his heart. This guy actually did this in order to keep Joelson in the underground city.

Guard Captain Nair looked at Guard Vice-Captain Hansen who was kneeling beside him and thought in shock.

However, at this moment.

Something that made Captain Nair even more shocked appeared!

All the residents of the underground city were kneeling on the ground at this moment!

Everyone sincerely knelt on the ground, kowtowing to Joelson and worshipping him!

That's right, these ordinary residents of the underground city had actually thought about how important Joelson would be to the underground city!

They actually understood this in their hearts, which caused Captain Nair to be stunned!

"Lord Joelson, please stay and become our king!"

All the residents of the underground city knelt on the ground at this moment and said sincerely.

Mia stood beside the arena and looked at this magnificent scene in shock, her heart fluctuating violently.

Everyone was actually so sincere in wanting to make Joelson stay behind as the king!

Ever since Mia was born, she had never seen such a magnificent scene. She immediately let out a long sigh.

"Sigh, everyone in the underground city seems to have really submitted to Joelson 100%!"

Tens of thousands of people knelt down. They had really never seen such a magnificent scene!

Everyone sighed in their hearts.

The current situation was enough to be recorded in history books!

Mia's chest rose and fell violently. She was shocked by the scene before her.

It was the first time she had seen such a spectacular scene!

Moreover, Mia's heart was also filled with admiration for Joelson.

The charisma of Joelson was really dazzling. It was so dazzling that Mia wanted to sigh from time to time. Was this really a level that humans could reach?

Mia's heart was filled with doubt.

Mia's heart was filled with doubt. Joelson was an envoy sent by the gods to save the underground city!

At the same time, Mia's heart was also filled with doubt.

In the face of everyone's love, would Joelson be slightly moved?

Mia's heart was filled with doubt. She did not know what choice Joelson would make in the end.

Would the sincere pleas of all the people in the underground city be able to move this dragon?

Mia was curious. She wanted to know what choice he would make.

Would he choose to stay because of their sincerity or would he choose to leave mercilessly?

Mia kept guessing the final result.

However, when Mia saw Joelson sighing helplessly, she had a rough idea of the result in her heart.

Sure enough, it still couldn't be done?

Mia thought helplessly.

Chapter 728: Mia's Guess. Joelson's Choice

Just as all the residents of the underground city sincerely knelt down, Mia's gaze slowly landed on Joelson.

Facing this scene that was rarely seen in a hundred years, what choice would Joelson make?

Mia knew that when Mia first met Joelson, she had clearly felt that Joelson was not an ordinary person.

Although Mia, who had worked for her family at that time, did not know Joelson's true strength, at that time, Mia still thought that Joelson was just an ordinary god-domain expert with innate talent and intelligence, however, Mia still recognized Joelson very much. She believed that even if Joelson's current strength was mediocre, in the future, Joelson would definitely be able to accomplish a great undertaking.

The reason Mia was so sure of this was because of his temperament!

That's right, it was this mysterious temperament!

Mia knew clearly in her heart that Joelson's heart was like a wild and untamed dragon soaring in the sky. Joelson's heart was not something that this small underground city could match. Joelson's ambition was far away..., between the Lofty Mountains!

Mia understood in her heart that although Joelson was not strong at the moment, he would definitely become famous with such lofty ambitions!

Later, a series of things happened. Mia witnessed the true strength of Joelson. This was an invisible confirmation of Mia's thoughts.

As expected, Joelson's strength was so tyrannical!

Later on, in the battle between Joelson and the old king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, he was even more powerful than the other heroes. This further confirmed Mia's idea of Joelson's ambition to become powerful.

In the future, Joelson was destined to become an ultimate powerhouse who could dominate thousands of planes. This small underground city wasn't a place for a powerful person like Joelson to stay for long!

When Guard Captain Nair and Guard Vice-Captain Hansen begged Joelson, although Joelson did not directly answer them, Mia had already thought about it. Joelson would definitely not choose to stay in this small underground city.

Mia had always believed in her own judgment of people.

Later, Joelson directly announced that he did not want to be the king of the underground city, which directly confirmed Mia's conjecture.

Joelson was not a person who would be trapped by this small underground city! Mia thought to herself.

However, just as Mia was certain, the next scene shocked her.

When the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, knelt down and kowtowed, all the residents of the underground city were moved by Hansen's behavior!

The residents of the underground city knew very well about the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. They knew that the vice-captain of the guards valued his kneeling more than anything else!

A man's knees were made of gold. He could not kneel down casually!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, had diamonds on his knees. If he wanted the vice-captain of the guards to kneel down, it would be even more difficult to chop off his head!

One had to know that at that time, when the former king of the underground city, Leighton, took office, the Leighton at that time was famous for being swift and decisive. He was incomparably brutal. However, when faced with such a terrifying King Leighton... when the Guard Vice-Captain Hansen saw him, he would not give him any good face. What he had to say would still be said!

Once again, the former King Leighton came to the army to do an inspection. When the king came to the barracks, he asked Guard Vice-Captain Hansen to come to receive him. As the new king, King Leighton wanted to establish his own dignified image in the army on the spot, he ordered the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, to receive him on his knees!

King Leighton had thought that the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would yield to his king's might and choose to kneel down. This way, Leighton could use the vice-captain of the guards to tell the soldiers in the underground city that facing him required absolute obedience.

In fact, none of the soldiers in the army at that time thought that the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would dare to contradict King Leighton.

Because when King Leighton came to the barracks to patrol, they knew that in order to establish his authority in various fields, King Leighton had already launched many thunderbolt operations—to strike down all the blind officials who dared to question King Leighton's authority!

The soldiers in the underground city were filled with fear. They did not dare to face King Leighton directly, afraid that King Leighton would descend into a fit of inexplicable anger and punish those officials who did not listen to his orders.

The soldiers also believed in their hearts that Vice-Captain Hansen would not dare to be too presumptuous when facing King Leighton. He would definitely restrain himself a little. If he was targeted by King Leighton, it would definitely not end well!

King Leighton wanted to seize an opportunity to establish his prestige in the army!

If he wanted to live, the current Vice-Captain Hansen only had one choice, and that was to obediently kneel down and not seek death!

However, something unexpected happened.

They saw Vice-Captain Hansen raise his head and puffed out his chest. He was proud but he did not budge an inch in the face of King Leighton's reprimand!

That's right, not budge an inch!

Everyone was stunned. This guy was actually so proud!

However, what made them even more surprised came!

King Leighton saw that the vice-captain of the guards dared not kneel down and faced his boldness. He immediately ordered the guards beside him to take down the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen!

After King Leighton gave the order, he was ecstatic. Finally, he found a great opportunity to establish his authority in the army!

However, before King Leighton could finish being happy, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, shouted angrily. Facing the two guards who wanted to capture Vice-Captain Hansen, he was not afraid at all. He directly formed a seal with his hand and slapped twice, he directly attacked the two guards!

The two guards rolled their eyes and spat out blood as they fell back one after another. It was unknown whether they were dead or not.

This tragic scene directly scared King Leighton silly!

This guy's temperament was too swift and fierce!

He was the king, the owner of the underground city!

This guy actually did not leave any face for King Leighton. He directly intimidated the new king, Leighton.. Under the eyes of many soldiers, King Leighton hurriedly ordered to bring people back to the palace. He was so panicked that he did not even collect the bodies of the two guards who had been killed, leaving the bodies of the two guards in an extremely sorry state!

Chapter 729: The Proud Vice-Captain Of The Guards, Hansen, Revealed His True Feelings At This Moment!

At that time, King Leighton wanted to force the vice-captain of the guards to kneel down to him in order to establish his authority in the army. However, he never expected that the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, would actually refuse to give face to King Leighton and denied this rude request in front of everyone!

King Leighton was so embarrassed that he flew into a rage. He directly sent two guards to take down the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen. However, what surprised King Leighton was that the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was so hot-tempered, he actually took the lead to beat his own guards to death!

This immediately caused King Leighton's heart to be filled with panic. He really did not expect this little vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, to be so violent. What he did not expect even more was that Vice-Captain Hansen actually dared to confront him head-on!

The sudden outburst of Vice-Captain Hansen surprised King Leighton. However, what made King Leighton even more terrified was his current position.

This was the guards' camp, the place where Vice-Captain Hansen held power!

These were all his big-headed soldiers!

On that day, King Leighton did not bring many guards!

Although King Leighton was extremely angry at Vice-Captain Hansen for resisting him, he still did not dare to express his dissatisfaction.

There was no other reason. This was the camp of the underground city. Even though King Leighton had supreme authority here, when faced with the soldiers brought by Vice-Captain Hansen, King Leighton was uncertain.

If he really fought with Vice-Captain Hansen, he did not know if he would be able to escape from this military camp alive!

Therefore, even though King Leighton's heart was filled with extreme anger, he did not dare to speak loudly at this moment. He could only quietly bring his soldiers and leave with his tail between his legs.

If King Leighton really fell out with Vice-Captain Hansen in the military camp, then everything that awaited King Leighton would be unknown!

King Leighton took his remaining guards and left only one harsh sentence. Even the two guards who were killed by Vice-Captain Hansen didn't have time to collect their bodies and left in a sorry state.

This incident instantly became a good story in the underground city and spread by bards!

Through this incident, everyone in the underground city recognized Vice-Captain Hansen, whose kneecaps were harder than the bones in his neck!

Besides, if King Leighton had just taken office and there was no challenge, then the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's reaction when facing the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, was even more telling!

At that time, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds was about to go into seclusion for training. He also took his guards to the training camp for a tour. It happened to be during that period of time, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was training in the recruit training camp. The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds also happened to meet the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen!

At that time, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds immediately noticed the very eye-catching vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, in the crowd. At that time, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, faced the training targets in the recruit camp. Not only was it excellent, but Vice-Captain Hansen also had to double it!

Other people ran ten laps around the field, but Vice-Captain Hansen had to run twenty laps himself. Other people had to do a one-on-one simulation battle, while Vice-Captain Hansen had to fight three of them!

The underground city king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who was inspecting the recruit training camp, instantly noticed this special soldier in the crowd!

Others only ran one lap, but Vice-Captain Hansen had to run two laps. Others ran ten laps, but Vice-Captain Hansen had to run twenty laps!

This behavior of course quickly attracted the attention of the king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds.

He and his subordinates immediately went to the field and stopped the recruit who was training hard!

That recruit was Vice-Captain Hansen, who was still a recruit.

However, the vice-captain of the guards did not know that the uncle in front of him, who was wearing a cape, was actually the underground city's king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds. Therefore, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was still a new recruit, very disdainfully ignored the king, iron-blooded Reynolds!

This directly angered the guards around the king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds!

This little brat was simply too bold!

This was the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds of the underground city!

This little brat actually ignored the Iron-Blooded King's summons and directly ignored the king!

This was the crime of looking down on the king!

Thinking of this, the furious guards immediately drew their sabers, wanting to let this little brat in front of them know what it meant to respect the king!

However, the king, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds, who was being looked down upon, did not react in the slightest. He smiled indifferently as he watched his own guards step forward, wanting to teach the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, a lesson.

He wanted to see if this arrogant brat in front of him could really defeat his own elite soldiers and valiant generals.

Did the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, really have the ability to cause him to look down on him so much?

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds looked at Guard Vice-Captain Hansen with great anticipation. However, to his surprise, Guard Vice-Captain Hansen actually pulled out his wooden saber and fought with his royal guards!

One man against three, he was not at a disadvantage at all!

His sharp sword technique did not look like a recruit at all. Guard Vice-Captain Hansen held his wooden saber alone against three guards with iron swords. Not only was he not at a disadvantage, but he was also constantly fighting back. He seemed to be on the verge of counterattacking!

Sure enough, not long after, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, seized the opportunity and slashed a wooden sword at the head of one of the guards. This sharp and vicious attack instantly made one of the guards cry out in pain and fall to the ground, losing his ability to fight.

After losing one person, the battle gradually became less suspenseful. The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, became more at ease in the face of the attacks of the two people. Not long after, with two slaps, he knocked the two guards to the ground.

When the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds saw the valiant vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and how he defeated his three guards, he didn't feel any anger at all. Instead, he admired this brave young man very much.

The Iron-Blooded King Reynolds directly rewarded him with a bunch of gold coins!

This time, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, who was still a rookie, became famous in the recruit training camp!

Chapter 730: What Will Be Joelson's Final Decision?

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was such a tough guy!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen's head could be chopped off, but kneeling was harder than chopping off his head!

Not only during King Leighton's reign, when the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, faced King Leighton's rude provocation, as a small captain of the guards, but he also dared to directly confront King Leighton, he didn't give the other party any face at all!

Not only did he directly kill two guards who wanted to disrespect him, he even directly let King Leighton escape with his tail between his legs!

Although King Leighton had thought of all kinds of ways to give Vice-Captain Hansen a hard time after he escaped back to the palace... What King Leighton didn't expect was that, no matter what, he was unable to make this irritable Vice-Captain Hansen submit to him!

In response to King Leighton's coercion, the neither servile nor overbearing Vice-Captain Hansen directly won the praise of the people of the underground city!

The residents of the underground city knew that Vice-Captain Hansen's resentment towards kneeling was not due to the unyielding coercion of the newly appointed King Leighton.

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was also very tough when facing the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds!

Although at that time, the vice-captain of the guards, who was still a recruit, had no idea who the other party was, and did not know that the uncle standing in front of him was the king of the underground city, the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds... However, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, still faced the attack of the three guards calmly!

The vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, used a simple wooden knife to directly block the fierce attacks of the three guards!

The sharp attacks of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, directly stunned the three guards!

Not only did he not fall into a disadvantage, but he also ruthlessly taught a lesson to the guards. Under the siege of the three guards, he gained the upper hand and directly defeated the three guards, earning the praise of the king, Iron-Blooded King Reynolds!

The rebellious attitude of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was known to all the citizens of the underground city!

However, at this moment, the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, was kneeling beside Joelson. How could they not be moved!

What was the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, doing this for? Wasn't it for the glory of the underground city? For the future generations of the underground city!

Not only did the proud Vice-Captain Hansen kneel down, but Captain Nair, who was kneeling on the other side, also made people moved!

One had to know, what kind of temptation was placed in front of Captain Nair!

That was the position of the underground city's king!

With a simple nod from Captain Nair, Captain Nair could directly become the king of the underground city!

Who wouldn't be envious of this position?

The king was the supreme authority of the underground city. Captain Nair only needed to nod his head and touch his lips up and down. All the wealth and wealth would belong to Captain Nair!

Who didn't yearn to become the king and live a luxurious life every day?

No one wouldn't want to become a king like this!

The underground city residents were certain in their hearts that no one could resist the temptation of becoming a king.

However, Captain Nair directly rejected such a wonderful position in front of Joelson's promise!

Becoming a king was a beautiful thing for a long time!

However, the captain of the guards, Nair, directly rejected it!

All the residents of the underground city were moved by the sincere requests of the vice-captain of the guards, Hansen, and the captain of the guards, Nair!

They also knelt down one after another, praying that Joelson would not leave the underground city!

If the underground city had Joelson, it would be such a beautiful thing!

If the underground city could have Joelson as the king, then the entire structure of the underground city would probably be changed!

The underground city might be able to walk out of this barren land and no longer have to endure the harassment of the magical beasts!

Although in the past, after the Iron-Blooded King Reynolds took over, he wantonly built an army to resist the attacks of the magical beasts, so the threat of the magical beasts to the underground city had been greatly reduced.

However, at this moment, the underground city was still being invaded by the magical beasts. To the magical beasts, the underground city had always been a fat lamb that they were unwilling to give up!

Although the magical beasts had been defeated time and time again, they had never stopped attacking the underground city. Thus, the underground city lived in the shadow of death every day!

Everyone longed for the day when the magical beasts would not invade them.

The only way to not be invaded by the magical beasts was to move away!

Leave the Wailing Abyss!

As long as they left the Wailing Abyss, all the problems would be solved!

However, the underground city did not have the ability to move away from the Wailing Abyss!

Just like that, the residents of the underground city had been enduring the invasion of the magical beasts in the Wailing Abyss. They had endured until today.

On this day, the residents of the underground city could finally see hope!

This hope was Joelson!

That's right, Joelson!

If it was this person who led the underground city, then moving out of the Wailing Abyss would not be a difficult matter!

Many years ago, they had tried countless times to find a way out of the Wailing Abyss, but none of these were of any use!

They had sent countless expeditions, but those expeditions all died in the bottomless abyss without exception!

The people of the underground city knew very well that to get out of the underground city, they really needed an incomparably great person.

That person could not be anyone else, it could only be Joelson!

The people of the underground city thought in their hearts!

They needed Joelson!

The underground city needed Joelson!

All the underground city residents knelt on the ground without exception and prayed sincerely.

They begged Joelson to stay in the underground city!

Mia watched this scene and felt a wave of emotion!

She looked at Joelson curiously, wanting to know what he was thinking.

Although his heart yearned for the distance, would he feel pity for the people in the underground city?

Even Mia had never seen such a moving and spectacular scene.

Looking at the people below the stage, looking at their sincere requests, he felt even more helpless in his heart.

Their sincerity, he felt, was very sincere.

But Joelson really can not accept!