

Billionaire's Ex-Wife And His Hidden Babies

101

"I heard you loud and clear, you just said, but now you need to hear me. Neither you need to bring a drink for me, nor do you have to think about your investment anymore. You can pull out your investment because if I stay a second more here, then I will feel that I have no self-respect." Sophia said, grabbing her bag. "Thank you for your time, though. Have a good day."

'How dare she!!'

"Self-respect? Do you really think that a woman like you have any self-respect?"

"Excuse me?"

"What? Don't act like a saint, Sophia Weasley. I know your dirty little secret." Simon Grayson said, placing his glass near the table and walking toward her. "I know about your two little illegitimate children of yours who you have hidden from the world."

"Don't cross your limits. Mr. Grayson."

"What? Don't tell me that you're feeling bad when I show you the mirror! Do your little kids even know the name of their father? I guess not. That's why even in their birth certificates or in school records, the father's name is blank."

Sophia's blood boiled hearing it. This man had done a background check on her, not just her but also on her babies, but the only mistake he made was that he didn't gather all the information about her, or maybe Brandon would have hidden about their marriage things so wisely that even if anyone tried to find out about her past, he or she wouldn't get anything.

"When you could spread your legs...."

"ENOUGH," Sophia yelled at his face and wanted to kill the man who was of her father's age then and there. "What I did, and I didn't, was my choice. You're no one say a word about my private life, and my babies very well know the name of their father, and I swear, you will regret when you will come to know about the name of my babies father!!"

Taking a U-turn, Sophia started leaving, "I'm scared. I'm so scared now. By the way, what's the name of the man who left you after fucking you? Jeffrey Preston Bezos?" He asked, making fun of Sophia, but she didn't stop to reply to him anything. "Now I swear that I won't let you survive in this city, or any part of Brazil peacefully, not until you will be begging me to fuck you," he yelled loud enough to make sure Sophia would hear that.

Once Sophia settled in the car, she bit her inner cheek, trying her best not to cry. In these years, she had faced a lot of men who tried to flirt with her or wanted to sleep with her, thinking her single. But no one had insulted her as this, and worst, had never brought her babies in between.

Simon Grayson had really crossed that limit.

She always ignored those people who showed any type of interest in her physically or in any other way, and she never minded them approaching her as long as they used to stop their stupid activities after listening to her 'NO.' But Simon Grayson was no doubt a shameless man who couldn't digest NO.

Generally, Sophia was not a person who used to waste her time and energy on putting someone in its place, but this time, it was the topic of her babies. This time she wouldn't wait for Karma to hit him, but she would do it on her own.

I was about to start the car to leave for the office when she got a call from Arya.

"Hello, Arya!! Are babies fine?"

"Mooooooooommmmmmm," There came the voice of her over-excited younger son. Immediately a smile appeared on her lips.

"Calvin, what's happened, sweetheart? You sound happy."

"Come to the hospital, quick."

"Why? What happened? Are your brother and your dad all right?"

"Come quick, quick, quick!!!" Saying this, he disconnected the call. She informed Shailey that she would reach the office a little late and drive toward the hospital.

The moment Sophia entered the room, Calvin ran toward her and jumped on her. Sophia was very well aware of his habits, so she quickly grabbed him.

"See, I told you that Mom will come here at this moment if we call her," Clavin said, looking toward Brandon.

"Calvin, it better be important, OR you will be grounded for two days," Sophia warned. Until now, her babies had never played these types of pranks on her because they knew their mother hated these types of things.

"Yes, mom. It is very important," he assured her with a serious face. "Because nothing can be more important for a bride than her wedding."

"Wedding? Bride?" Sophia asked in confusion.

"Mom, Dad said he wants to marry you!!" Colton said in a sentence that Sophia could understand.

"I did?" Brandon asked in surprise. As far as he remembers, he had just answered Calvin's question.

"He did?" Jake asked in surprise.

"You did?" Sophia asked in surprise.

Both Colton and Calvin looked at their dad before reminding him, "Didn't you tell us that you would marry her in front of us?" Calvin asked, and Colton looked at him, arching his eyes.

"Yes, I did. I did, Calvin." Brandon admitted. He didn't want to talk about marriage or a second chance with the help of children because he didn't want Sophia to think that he was using his kids for a second chance. In the past, Bruce used to settle everything between them. He didn't want to repeat the same. There was no means of a second chance if he wouldn't rectify his mistake even after learning the first time.

"And he would also take both of us on honeymoon with you."
