

Billionaire's Ex-Wife And His Hidden Babies

163

Though Brandon and Sophia wanted to spend their time together as an engaged couple, but they didn't get that time to do because the next day, it was Oliver's and Rebecca's wedding, and if not Brandon, Sophia had to present with her all the time by the time because she was one of Rebecca's bridesmaids. So, just like they ignored their Bachelote party for them, so, they decided to celebrate their engagement properly, just two of them after the wedding.

"Do I look good?" Sophia asked after getting ready. She had worn a pink baby gown.

"Beautiful as usual," Brandon said, wrapping his hand around Sophia's waist and kissing her cheek.

"Okay. Now leave. I have a lot of work and check all the arrangements." Sophia said, slapping his hand. Brandon groaned but removed his hands from her waist. Sophia turned around and opened her mouth to say something when she sensed the change in the air all of a sudden.

"What happened?" Brandon asked when he observed his fiancée lost.

"A lot of spirits just arrived here," Sophia muttered.

"So, you always get this feeling whether spirits are around?" Brandon asked.

"No!" Sophia shook her head. "But whenever they arrive or leave, only then do I feel in this way." She responded. "But spirits don't visit anyone's home; they roam here and there in the air." She added. "Let me see where they are and what they're up to."

"Let me come with you then."

"Relax, baby. I hope you remember that Rebecca's father is also here, and he is a god, so nothing could go wrong." Sophia said and left the room. Sophia followed her intuition and reached near the room where Oliver was getting ready.

'Are they here to harm my brother? Just because he is getting married to the werewolf queen?' She thought but then scolded herself. 'Rubbish, he is already married to Rebecca when she marked him.' Thinking this, she turned the knob of the room and opened the door, finding Oliver along with four handsome men.

"Sophie?" Oliver looked at her in surprise. "She is my sister," he added, looking at those greek gods. Sophia sensed that three of them were spirits while one was alive.

"Sophia, these three are Rebecca's elder brothers, and he, he is Rebecca's elder sister mate, Cade Black."

'Cade Black?' Sophia repeated this name because this name was familiar.

"Aren't they dead already?" She asked in confusion. "How can they be here? Did the king of spirits world let them come here just because they have a wedding in a house?"

"That's because the King of the spirit world is already here to attend the wedding." The same man named Cade Black spoke, and that was when Sophia recalled why she felt that name was familiar. He was the older prince of the spirit world until he took over his father's place.

"I have read so much about you," Sophia said, looking at Cade. "Even when you were prince, you were very powerful. So, these are your real bodies?" She asked to confirm.

"Thank you, Miss," Cade answered. "Yes, this is our real body. With my power, any spirit can have their human body for a while," he added.

"I can sense you're the chosen one to hunt and guide those spirits who either escape from my world to the human world or never enter my world after their death," Cade said, on which Sophia nodded her head.

"Guys, this is my wedding." Oliver reminded them. "Sophie, you need to go near my mate." he added.

"Yeah! Yeah!" Sophia mumbled unwillingly.

"Oliver is right. You can visit the library after the wedding."

"Which library?"

"Any." Cade smiled. Sophia couldn't understand clearly but didn't irritate him with a stupid question. She nodded and then walked toward Rebecca's room. She crossed the living room to go there, and that was when her eyes landed on a young man, who looked similar to Rebecca's brother, playing with all the kids in the house. Sensing her presence, that man looked at her.

'I have purple eyes because of dad. And out of all the siblings, only I have purple eyes.' She recalled Rebecca's words.

'So, he is Rebecca's father... the GOD.' She thought and bowed her head at looking at him. He nodded his head in acknowledgment with a smile. 'Leave all this, Sophia. Focus on the wedding.' Her mind reminded her, and she left from there.

*

"You look so beautiful." Sophia complimented, entering Rebecca's room.

"Where were you? Don't you think you're late?"

"You can't blame me for that." Sophia pointed out. "Your family members are... are so different and... unique."

Everyone chuckled at her words. "She is Oliver's sister?", A lady asked.

"Yes, Andy, she is the one," Rebecca responded to her elder sister.

Before the wedding, Rebecca and her father spent some time together while Sophia tried to learn more and more from Rebecca's family members about them. She was surprised how angel, demon, vampire, Lycan, werewolf, witch, spirits, and the god was a part of one family.

"God, how much time this man is taking with Becca." Rebecca's mother muttered, holding her head.

"Don't you think that's unfair, Mom?" Andrella, Rebecca's elder sister, said. "During my time, Dad didn't want Cade and me together at all, and at the time of Rebecca, he personally found the guy for Rebecca." She complained.

.

#TBC