

Billionaire's Ex-Wife And His Hidden Babies

75

Brandon's POV

But his presence between these women may create some argument, and I'm positive that he will leave from here for a while to explain everything to her and to calm her down.", I explained. "And Lucas, you will have to behave like a man who is interested in these types of women, okay?"

"Okay, Boss."

"Jacob is in the washroom. You two can interchange the clothes. So, that he will join here while you can finish your work upstairs." Bruce said. "By that time, I'm mind linking Joshua to get some pictures of Oscar which can create misunderstanding between him and his wife."

"Thanks, Mate."

"Anytime. Now, leave for the washroom."

Just like everything had been planned. I walked into the washroom and was surprised to see that washroom was packed with my men. So, without wasting a single second, I changed my clothes and grabbed the guns loaded with silver bullets in case I would have to face any situation for which I hadn't prepared fully. Because if this was a trap, then there were a lot of hunters around the club.

"Who will be handling the camera?"

"Don't worry, Boss. It has been hacked already. Guards can see only those things that we want them to see."

"Now, thank you for the help, but everyone, just run away when you will that you can't handle the danger. Don't worry about me. They can't kill me even after knowing that I'm the one because we have Sophia, their weakness.", Saying this, I left the washroom, making my way to the upstairs. Bruce had already shown me the GREEN signal.

As I walked into the VIP suite, a lot of loaded guns were attached to my head.

"I think he is the one." One of the guards said. "Inform Mr. Weasley that we finally got hold of his killer.", he added.

A second later, Ethan Weasley came with one of the guards and hit that guard's head after looking at my face.

"That's my son-in-law, idiot.", he scolded, and everyone removed loaded guns from my head. "Let him in."

And that was the biggest mistake that he made by trusting me.

But his presence between these women may create some argument, and I'm positive that he will leave from here for a while to explain everything to her and to calm her down.", I explained. "And Lucas, you will have to behave like a man who is interested in these types of women, okay?"

"Okay, Boss."

"Jacob is in the washroom. You two can interchange the clothes. So, that he will join here while you can finish your work upstairs." Bruce said. "By that time, I'm mind linking Joshua to get some pictures of Oscar which can create misunderstanding between him and his wife."

"Thanks, Mate."

"Anytime. Now, leave for the washroom."

Just like everything had been planned. I walked into the washroom and was surprised to see that washroom was packed with my men. So, without wasting a single second, I changed my clothes and grabbed the guns loaded with silver bullets in case I would have to face any situation for which I hadn't prepared fully. Because if this was a trap, then there were a lot of hunters around the club.

"Who will be handling the camera?"

"Don't worry, Boss. It has been hacked already. Guards can see only those things that we want them to see."

"Now, thank you for the help, but everyone, just run away when you will that you can't handle the danger. Don't worry about me. They can't kill me even after knowing that I'm the one because we have Sophia, their weakness.", Saying this, I left the washroom, making my way to the upstairs. Bruce had already shown me the GREEN signal.

As I walked into the VIP suite, a lot of loaded guns were attached to my head.

"I think he is the one." One of the guards said. "Inform Mr. Weasley that we finally got hold of his killer.", he added.

A second later, Ethan Weasley came with one of the guards and hit that guard's head after looking at my face.

"That's my son-in-law, idiot.", he scolded, and everyone removed loaded guns from my head. "Let him in."

And that was the biggest mistake that he made by trusting me.

"How come you're here, Brandon?" Ethan asked but instead of answering him. I used that moment to chant a spell, and at that moment, the gun of all the guards was on the ceiling while they were standing in front of me without any weapons. And in the next moment, those guards were slammed against the wall, trying their best move but failing miserably.

I pulled out my guns and shot all of them by using a silencer on my gun.

"What's wrong, Brandon? Why are you behaving like this?" Ethan asked, moving backward.

"Still not able to recognize me? Ethan Weasley." I asked with a smirk.

"You..." his expression told me that he finally recognized me. "John told me about the twin's brother things but couldn't send his picture, but he didn't on the very same day he met that dog for the first time."

"I see; you're catching the things." I said and looked around, "Where is Abby?"

"You bastard!! I trusted you with my daughter.", he screamed.

"Guess what? Abby is my mate, not your daughter." I said without showing any of my emotions and hearing this, and he launched at me without any fear of his life because he knew that I was not going to give him easy death by shooting him right away.

#TBC