

Chapter 67

"Baby, are you there?" The deep voice came through again, bringing Vee out temporarily from her shock as she held the phone tighter against her ear. Still, She said nothing.

"I know you are there. I can hear you breathing deeply."

Vicky was still very much in shock where she stood, still very much in disbelief as to what was going on. She couldn't bring herself to do anything or even say anything.

"Missed me?" He said and she could vision a dirty smirk on his face which was actually what was happening in reality.

Vee closed her eyes for a second, cringing at the thought of him trying to be sweet to her. Not wanting to give him the benefit of the doubt, she heaved a deep sigh, finding courage to say something.

"Wh...who the fuck is this?"

"You now use the 'F Word' with so much courage. Impressive! Isn't my baby girl grown already?"

"Wipe that smirk off your face, you bastard!" She said at the top of her voice.

He chuckled, "You are so feisty, aren't you? I wish I could see the burning anger in your eyes right now. You must look sexy as fuck!"

"What do you want and how the hell did you get my number?"

"I thought you were just pretending not to know me."

"What the hell do you want?" She said sternly.

"I would love to see you when you are feisty but that does not mean you should be cold towards me."

"Getting your number is the easiest task anyone could have given me."

"You have grown so much that I almost couldn't believe this was my Vicky of five years ago when I saw your picture."

"You look so gorgeous. I really wish you were with me right now, so I would run my fingers through those mad ass curves on you."

Vicky swallowed painfully. She had always been good looking but childbirth gave her a better figure. Oscar said so and she loved it when the compliment came from him but hearing this bastard comment on her body by a mere picture made her chest boil with so much anger.

"You have always been a flirt and It is so pathetic to know you have not changed a bit. To hell with you and don't you ever call my phone." Victoria said with so much courage and was about to end the call when his voice came through.

"No, babe, you would not hang up on me."

"Fuck you, if you think I am going to be scared of you."

"You are getting too brave. Don't you think so?"

"You are a nightmare, Greg, and you will forever dwell in my past, right where you belong. You are so delusional if you think you can control me anyhow. God, I wish you were so dead right now. 5 years away from you and I have had the best peace of my life."

"You are being really brutal, baby. Won't you take it easy on me?"

"I am going to end this call if you do not have anything sensible to say."

"You wouldn't."

"What do you take me for? That same naive woman who was always scared of you?"

"No, scared is a very lenient word. You are the one who is a coward and a Betrayal."

"I see that you are still delusional. You are still a sadist and a narcissist. It is so obvious that you can never heal from it."

"You and I both know that I am sane. It is only when it comes to you that I lose it all."

"I have nothing to offer you and I will never have anything to do with you. Forget about me and fucking move on with your life!!!!"

"No, that is not going to happen. You know that. I saw you first and I am not going to stop at anything until you are mine."

"I was never yours and I will never be yours."

"Liar!!!! I saw you first, but you refused me. Then you agreed to be Oscar's puppet just because he is richer than me. You are no different to other women who are gold diggers, yeah!"

Vickie shook her head in disbelief. "It is pathetic you still feel this way after all this while. You and I both know that I chose Oscar because I love him. And I will choose him over you a million times no matter how uncomfortable that makes you."

"It is a pity that he still sees you not just as his friend but as his best friend when you are nothing but his enemy."

"What you say to me does not matter anymore. It doesn't matter if I used to be in pain. You and Oscar are not still together despite everything so that still makes me one hell of a winner."

"You are so pathetic!!" She literally glared at him through his voice.

Greg chuckled. "No! You are the very pathetic one and even though I am quite angry with you, I am really excited about your non-forgiving spirit."

"Oscar was really determined to do everything to have you back. I was afraid I was going to lose you forever if you accepted him but I am glad you gave him a lot of issues."

"You bastard!!!!" She said with gritted teeth, clutching her phone tighter to her ear.

"No baby, you don't need to be upset because I did nothing wrong. As I said earlier, you made this very easy for me. I did not influence your decision, did I? For some reason, I am starting to think that you were intentionally stalling. You knew I was going to come back for you, didn't you?"

"Even if you were the last man on earth, Greg, I would still want nothing to do with you."

"That's sad because there is no way I am going to give up on you. It is either you or no one else."

"The joke is on you because there is no way I am going to be yours."

"I must admit that you did a great job by hiding all these years. I had people go after you but they couldn't even track you. Even though it was disheartening to lose you, watching Oscar in pain gave me so much joy and satisfaction that you could not imagine. It was a pleasure seeing him sad and struggling with a woman that he doesn't love. Oh my God, I love Ingrid so much. She literally didn't give him any piece of mind and honestly, he deserved it, for stealing you away from me."

"I was thinking the divorce was not going to work out but the damn lawyer he hired was a really good one but I am glad again that he lost 50% of his hard-earned fortune to Ingrid who obviously does not deserve it."

"Words couldn't describe how jealous and bitter I was when he bumped into you over here. He became happy again and that made me really sad. You know how much I love to see that bastard in so much pain."

"Oscar was really happy. He started to think that life had given him a second chance with you. He was shocked to know he had a daughter. I was so happy when he was in denial about being the father. But I don't know what changed his mind that he started being so excited about being a father to the little girl."

"But you ignored him and never gave him the opportunity which is very perfect and I couldn't be happier about it."

"The best part was consoling Oscar and pretending to be there for him when in reality I want him ruined. I couldn't be more grateful to you for making things easier for me. But now, I am here for you."

Victoria felt tears well up in her eyes. Yet again, She felt like an idiot, but most importantly, her heart went out to Oscar.

"You must be so devilish to keep hurting someone you call your brother and your best friend. I know you have always been an eyesore and a very untruthful person but how do you even sleep at night knowing you are eating up on the innocence of someone you are very close to."

"I would advise that you change the subject if you are trying to make me guilty because there is no way in hell I am going to feel guilty or sorry for that bastard."

"My decision not to be with Oscar has totally nothing to do with you so I would advise you to quit acting victorious or acting like you own any of us."

"No babe, I have always been victorious. My plan never fails and I am going to throw this on you all's faces."

"I want to see Sophie."

"Why?"

"To know if she is my daughter."

"How high on drugs are you?" Vee asked in disgust!

"Well, enough to recognize that little girl, to know if she is my daughter or not."

"You are beyond sick than I thought. How the hell is it even possible for my daughter to be yours? You feel I can just be pregnant for you because you grabbed my ass and tried to take advantage of me?"

"Don't make me sound like a rapist. You wanted it so bad."

"Yeah, you did the right thing by saying that out loud. You are nothing but a rapist!"

"I still want to meet your daughter."

"No! There is no way that will happen. I have no business with you and the same goes for my baby girl. I am going to protect her with my life away from you."

"I don't know what you were thinking when you called me but you should know that I am not the same person that I used to be and I am not going to allow you to bully me just so I could lick your ass. I have always hated you and I am glad to let you know that I hate you even more!"

"Not the best thing to hear from you but you should know that it is either you or no one else. If I can't have you then there is definitely no way that Oscar or any other man is going to have you."

"I would rather choose death than choose you. That is how much I despise you."

Greg sighed. "That is so unfortunate because there is no way you are going to avoid me now."

"I should have ended the call earlier. You have nothing reasonable to say."

"Don't!!! I'm not done talking to you."

"Have dinner with me tomorrow!"

Vee chuckled in disbelief. "I should have known from the very beginning." She mumbled to herself. "An impressive way to let me know that you are in Australia."

"Yes baby, I am here for you."

"You must be very delusional to think I would want to meet you for anything. This is not California where you have your ways. If you try to pull any crazy stunt with me over here, then I promise you that even your family won't be able to save you from what is going to happen to you."

"Wow, you have really grown some courage being an Aussie woman."

"I am not going on any fucking dinner with you and stay the fuck away from me!"

"Since you are being so difficult, I think Oscar would be glad to know of our little Secret, about the fact that we almost had something romantic going on between us and that I have always had eyes for you."

"Oh, does he know that you are hiding your pregnancy away from him and that you plan to murder the child?"
