

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 646

This was the most difficult thing for Selena to ignore because her child had once suffered from leukemia, so she could understand the feelings of such parents very much. Thus, Selena picked up the wallet next to her and took out a few bills from it before giving them to the man.

“Thank you, thank you. You are really kind, so I’m sure God will look after you. I wish your family eternal happiness and peace.” The man hastily bowed, took the banknotes, and left with a smile. Selena then rolled up the window, and finally, the traffic jam eased up a little. There were too many cars at the kindergarten.

For some reason, there were many extra cars, and Selena could not find a place to park after driving around for a long time. After some time, she finally found a place to park before she got ready to go pick up the three little ones. There was some distance from where she parked to the kindergarten; since she did not want to let the children walk too far, she parked the car in one of the alleys behind the kindergarten.

At first, she thought there would be no problem since she was just going to park there for a while and leave as quickly as possible, but the alley was eerie and looked really scary, making her suddenly regret parking the car there.

Whatever. I’ll just not park here next time. Thinking of this, Selena prepared to head toward the kindergarten. Just as she was about to walk around toward the kindergarten in front, a large hand behind her suddenly grabbed her neck and dragged her into the dark alley.

With force, Selena stomped on the person’s foot. Grunting in pain, the man let go. But at this very moment, Selena found that there were several strong men hiding in the alley! What was more, she recognized that beggar from before among them and realized this was premeditated!

Selena calmly surveyed these people. “What do you want?” One of them stroked his chin and looked at Selena with a lustful expression. “What else? To have fun with you! Hahahaha...”

The several people all laughed out loud. With a cold smile, Selena said, “Well, let’s see if you have the capability, then!”

She clenched her fists in preparation, but suddenly, she felt all her energy draining from her. Not only did her hands feel weak, her entire body had lost its strength as well.

“Hahahaha...” The beggar continued laughing. “I drugged you when you gave me the money.”

Only then did Selena realize that the strange and unpleasant smell from before was the drug that he had given her! He was careless this time.

Feeling dizzy, she fell to the ground at once, not even having the strength to stand properly. Immediately, the several burly men surrounded her. “Don’t come over!”

If Selena was in her usual state, she would not have too much trouble dealing with these guys, but now, she really didn't have any strength at all. She tried to stand up, only to find that she could only crawl on the ground.

The first man who came over had a bearded face. He took off the tag that Selena was wearing and handed it to one of the other men. "Go and help her pick up her children. It would be a waste not to let her children watch such a nice scene."

That tag was issued by the kindergarten. In order to avoid problems, each parent had one tag as credentials for picking up their children. If something prevented the parents from picking up their children, the kindergarten teachers would have to see that tag before they could let other people pick up the children.

"No, don't..." Selena weakly and helplessly watched them take away the tag to pick up her children, but there was nothing she could do.

"All right. Which one of us should go first?" The bearded man started to make plans. "Rock-paper-scissors. The one who wins will go first."