

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 686

Standing in the doorway, Linda was so angry that she gritted her teeth. Ugh, Danny has gone and ruined all my plans! My Murray Group shares!

She had checked it long ago and realized that even if she were given just a small amount, she would have instantly become a rich woman! If she was only given some cash or property, the money would eventually run out one day, but income from shares was inexhaustible. Yet at this critical moment, Danny had complained to Jerry about her.

Biting her lip, Linda cursed in her heart and left.

This won't do. Jerry is old now and coupled with Lindsay's illness, he must be eager to settle his will as soon as possible. So, I must fight for more inheritance so that I would have something to rely on for the rest of my life.

"I suppose it's better to leave the shares to Jason. That child is more levelheaded, and I also believe that he is a caring and upright man. He certainly would take care of his cousin's affairs and provide for her. When the time comes, Jason can consider the situation, and maybe when Linda is older and more levelheaded, he can give some shares to her. What do you think?"

Danny nodded profusely. "Mr. Murray, this is a wonderful arrangement, but I am worried that Miss Linda will be sad if she knows that you're not going to give her any shares."

Instead of agreeing, Jerry shook his head repeatedly. "No, Linda is like my daughter. She doesn't like to fight for anything, so she won't be angry. She will understand my intentions."

Danny did not say anything; when he saw Linda's overbearing look just now, she did not seem to fit Jerry's description at all. However, he thought that he had said enough already, so he decided to wait and see.

The next day, Jerry called Jason to his room and talked to him about the matter. Jason remembered the last time Linda tried to get herself to have sex with Selena, and his heart began to pound. Why did he suddenly feel that this cousin of his was not at all as kind and innocent as she appeared to be?

"Jason, your aunt and your cousin had suffered a lot in Astoria. In the future, when we are gone, you must take good care of her," Jerry explained.

"Grandpa, don't worry. I only have Linda as my cousin, so I will definitely treat her well."

Jerry nodded. "Alright, I have my trust in you. You're the only hope of the Murray Family, and I'm certainly going to hand Murray Group to you. Initially, I wanted to have Linda enter the company to learn something so that she can help you. Besides, I wanted to give her some shares, but I'm worried that she is too young, and she even got rich overnight, so she might not be able to control herself."

Without replying, Jason gave a slight nod as a sign of acknowledgement.

"So, you still have to watch over her. In the future, when you feel that she has become more rational and down-to-earth, you can give her some of the shares in your hands as a gift."

“Okay, Grandpa. I promise you.” Jason thought it was nothing as they were all family.

“Grandpa, last time, there was a problem with the group’s internal system. Although it was saved in the end, we lost a lot of money. I want to go to Astoria to develop the market there. What do you think?”

Jerry tugged at his beard, then nodded. “Astoria is where we belong, so if you want to go, go. We have been living overseas for so many years. In fact, I occasionally wonder whether it’s right to move here. By the way, move your aunt’s remains back as well.”

Moving one’s remains was a big deal, so Jason did not dare to wing it. As Lindsay was ill, the matter of moving the remains was put on hold; otherwise, this matter should have been done long ago.

In Astoria, Selena woke up at 10.00 AM. Her back was sore, and her legs were cramping. In the past, she kept wishing for Pierre to come back, but now that he returned, she kept wishing for him to leave instead. This man torments me too much!

The good thing was that she could use Dr. Werner as an excuse now and then, or this man would really torment her to death.

Soon, she went downstairs expecting to see Pollux, but to her surprise, he wasn’t present.
