

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 690

As the director spoke, he gestured excitedly. Jude naturally understood what the director meant; he wanted her to go and have a meal with the investor.

Actually, it was fine for an actress to have dinner with the investor, but Jude had never done so before, so she had to politely decline. "Sir, I'm really sorry, but I have some things to do tonight. I don't think I'll be able to have dinner with you guys."

The director's expression immediately changed; he did not expect that the now-outdated Jude was still so arrogant. "What are you even big-headed about?" The director strode away in annoyance and found Mia, who was still removing her makeup.

"Mia, tonight we're having dinner with a new investor. Do you want to go?" The investor was the pillar of support for the drama, so surely a few of the main cast should go. The director didn't think of Mia at first because he was worried that she wasn't accustomed to local culture because she was biracial.

"Oh, Sir, I'm the best at such things. Why didn't you tell me earlier? I've just removed my makeup, and I have to put it on again!" Mia pouted and stared at the director.

"It's okay. It's okay. We can wait for you, so there is no rush."

"Alright, Sir. Please give me a few moments because I'm slow when it comes to makeup, and there's no other way about it. After all, I have to look pretty; otherwise, what would we do if the investor is not okay with it?"

The director smiled at her. Mia's a much more sensible girl! She's so young, yet she already knows the ins and outs of the entertainment industry. Excellent!

When Jude saw Mia pouting and trying to look cute, goosebumps rose all over her body. Surely, Meredith can't act like this, right?

Although she had not had dinner with Meredith before, she felt that Meredith was not the type to accompany directors and investors for dinner. When the director saw that Mia had agreed so quickly, he cast a sidelong glance at Jude as if he was showing off something.

Jude didn't care much; after all, she was no longer popular, so it was common to be disgraced. Anyway, the entertainment industry had always been so.

In the evening, Mia wore a low-cut silver sequined dress, and when she walked, the sequins glittered beautifully. Even the director who came with her could not help but keep glancing at her.

In fact, Meredith was looking for such opportunities. She needed more contact with rich people, preferably investors and bosses. It did not matter even if she had to sleep with them as long as she would be paid. After all, she needed money and connections, as that was why she entered the entertainment industry. Moreover, she still wanted to be in the limelight like before.

The director, as well as the two minor actors and staff, walked into the private room of the restaurant together.

When Mia went in, she could not believe her eyes. No way! Pierre Fowler! The Pierre Fowler!

In fact, she had not seen Pierre for a long time. When she was taken away by the people sent by John, she had wanted to see Pierre, but unfortunately, he did not come to see her. At that time, she was in despair.

All this while, she had given her all to this man who had never left her mind. Furthermore, she had used every imaginable method she could think of just to marry him. Otherwise, she wouldn't have had the idea of bringing Selena's two children to the Fowler Residence.

At that moment, he looked as if he hadn't changed at all, still in good spirits.

Pierre saw Mia instantly because her silver sequined dress was too eye-catching. He stared at her closely, trying to find something about her, but after a long time, he didn't seem to see anything of value. What was more, Mia's gaze was quite different from Meredith's.

The two of them looked at each other for a long time, and then Mia walked straight toward Pierre while swaying her hips. As she came up to him, he looked at her while sipping on his whiskey as if he could see through her.

"Hello, who is this dashing gentleman? You're so handsome! In fact, you're the most handsome man I've ever seen in this world!" Mia's candid praises made everyone feel a cold shiver down their spines.
