

Baby alliance: helping daddy get a rich mommy chapter 734

"You're still not up?" Pierre did not notice that there was anything different about Selena.

"I couldn't get up!" Selena turned her head to the side in frustration. This man had tormented her in bed until midnight last night, causing her to have issues waking up in the morning. He literally couldn't wait to take her as soon as her period was over.

Laughing out loud, Pierre walked toward the bedside and pinched her cheeks. "If you can't get up, then sleep more. Save up your energy for tonight's sequel!"

Selena then stretched out her foot and lightly kicked his chest. The two of them fought for a while before he pulled her up from the bed. "Get up now, lazy bum!" After that, Selena suddenly gazed at Pierre seriously. "Honey, I want to ask you a question."

"Do you want to ask me how I maintain such long-lasting stamina?" Pierre winked wickedly. Hearing this, Selena rolled her eyes at him. "Can't you be more serious?"

"Okay, go on." "If, I mean if... If Jude and Satan are together, and if you know about it, will you send someone to follow Jude?"

Previously, Selena did not think about this issue, but now when she came to think about it, Pierre and Satan were always standing on opposite sides. One of them was good, and the other evil; they were forever incompatible with each other.

"Of course," Pierre answered without hesitation.

After saying that, he looked at Selena again. It seemed like he was not tactful at all toward Selena's feelings by answering like this. After all, Jude was her best friend, and previously, Jude had done so many things for their child and almost died too.

Hence, it was reasonable for him to turn a blind eye.

Pierre gently stroked Selena's cheek. "Don't think so much. You know that this is my mission."

Hearing these words, Selena felt some heartache. She understood that this was his mission, and he would prioritize his mission above everything, including her. If one day he was able to get some important information from her, perhaps he would also lie and trick her. Even though the thought of this made Selena very uncomfortable, she must support him. Early in the marriage with him, the marriage counselor had told her clearly that as his wife, this was what she should do.

"It's okay." Selena smiled, hiding her inner turmoil and preparing to get out of bed to get her clothes. Pierre wanted to say something but found that he could not say anything because this kind of thing was hard for anyone to accept in the first place, so he had to give up.

Tomorrow was Saturday, so Juniper had to go to the mountains to study medicine. Hence, Selena decided to take advantage of this evening to make delicious food so that the family could eat a good meal together. With this thought, Selena was ready to personally go to the farmers' market to buy some fresh vegetables and fish.

Halfway through the meal preparation, Pierre had returned in a hurry. Seeing that Selena was busy in the kitchen with a frown, he wondered if she was in a bad mood because of their earlier conversation today.

Thus, he walked toward her from behind and wrapped his arms around her, startling her.

"You scared me to death! Why the sudden attack?"

"Honey, I love you." Pierre's sudden confession made Selena a little confused; this man had never been very fond of saying such words.

"What's wrong?"

"Nothing, just..."

Pierre snuggled against Selena's neck and kissed her there. "I won't be able to eat this meal. I have to go."

"So soon?" Selena turned around and looked at Pierre with wide eyes.

Usually, when he's back, he stays for a long time. Isn't he leaving a little too soon this time?

"You know that my work has no fixed hours." Pierre gently rubbed Selena's cheek.
