1. I Don't Understand

Jessie could not control herself anymore. She ran over quickly and pulled Felix up. She glared at Alex coldly. "Didn't you see that the child needs to go to the toilet?"

After she finished speaking, she held Felix's hand and walked back without waiting for Alex to speak.

Before they entered the door, Felix's hand, which was covering his pants, suddenly froze. His face instantly turned red.

Seeing that he was not leaving, Jessie also stopped walking. "What's wrong? Are you not in a hurry?"

The sound of dripping water could be heard.

Felix didn't say anything.

He listened to the embarrassed voice.

He wished he could just find a hole and hide in it.

Jessie looked at Felix's drenched pants and understood. She could not help but be even angrier at Alex's overbearing and unreasonable manner just now. If it wasn't for him insisting on leaving, how could the child be like this? A smart child like Felix would definitely feel embarrassed at this moment.

That's right, Felix really felt very embarrassed at this moment!

Alex did not understand what was going on here. Seeing them standing there, he thought that Felix was playing a trick on them. He raised his voice and said, "Felix!"

Jessie was still feeling sorry for the child's embarrassment and was thinking about how to comfort him. After being urged by Alex, She could not care about anything else. She turned around and retorted, "Can't you care about the children's feelings? They don't want to leave, but you forcefully take them away. You won't let the children go to the toilet. And you're being unreasonable!"

He's being unreasonable?

Fury burned in Alex's eyes.

Jessie pulled Felix up again, "You go in with Auntie to change your pants!"

“But my dad...”

“You don’t have to care about him!”

Alex did not say anything. This woman was getting more and more lawless. Did she think that Alex had always been modest with her?

Felix was so embarrassed that his face was completely red. He did not dare to look at Jessie a tall.

He closed his eyes and asked her to wipe his legs.

Jessie did not find the pants suitable for the little boy. She remembered that he had just come with a suitcase and said gently, “Felix, you don’t have to worry too much. There was a reason for what happened just now. No one would laugh at you. Oh right. Did you have your pants in your suitcase just now?”

Felix nodded.

Jessie prepared to carry him to the sofa outside and then look for the suitcase outside.

When she came out, she found Alex and Fia sitting on the sofa.

Fia was watching TV.

Alex had already taken off his windbreaker and rolled up the sleeves of his shirt casually. He looked like he was having a leisure time at home. He was opening the small suitcase that Felix had brought and rummaging through it.

After a while, he took out a pair of long pants and a pair of underpants and threw them over.

Jessie quickly caught it and carried Felix to the other side of the sofa. She put them on for him.

After putting them on, Felix moved to Fia’s place and watched cartoons with her.

Jessie got up and went to wash the clothes that the two siblings had just changed into.

Alex walked to the balcony and saw that she was putting the clothes into the dryer.

She was wearing a white V-collar sweater. Her exposed neck was slim and snow-white, and her messy hair made her look even more beautiful.

After Jessie was done with her work, she turned around and saw him leaning against the wall, staring at her attentively.

That pair of black eyes seemed to be filled with stars, making her heart beat faster.

When she thought of the angry roar just now, her brain went numb. She lowered her eyes, wanting to walk past him and quickly enter the house.

Her arm suddenly sank, and the heat coming from Alex's fingertips seemed to pierce through her skin, directly burning her heart.

She struggled to break free, but she couldn't. She frowned and said, "If you have something to say, then say it. Don't touch me."

Alex's deep black eyes stared at her, as if he wanted to see through her.

She was slightly annoyed. "If you still don't let me go. I will call Felix and Fia!"

Alex's thin lips curled up, as if he had guessed that she wouldn't dare call Felix and Fia, but he still let go of his fingers. He stood up, and his tall shadow completely covered her slender figure.

The man's low magnetic voice fell from above, "I haven't eaten yet."

Jessie did not say anything.

Did whether he ate or not have anything to do with her?

"Make me something to eat."

Jessie was slightly stunned and looked up at him. She pursed her lips, "There is no more food."

This was her house. Was he used to being the male owner of Mountain and River Residence? Did he treat her like a servant and order her around?

"You can cook anything." Suddenly, Alex's phone rang.

He stopped looking at Jessie and pressed the button to answer.

Jessie entered the kitchen and took out the noodles from the fridge. She could not help but feel vexed. She clearly did not want to cook for him, so why did she come to the kitchen again?

She had really gone crazy.

She finished cooking the noodles and brought them out. The man was sitting at the dining table and looking at the email on his phone.

Jessie saw the messy chicken wings on the dining table in front of Alex and blushed. She put down the bowl of noodles and quickly cleaned the table.

Alex looked up and saw the noodles. He frowned, "I only eat rice for dinner."

Jessie was speechless, "Didn't you ask me to cook something casually?"

"I mean the dishes."

"If you don't want to eat it, then go out and eat it yourself!" Jessie could not be bothered with him anymore. She turned around and looked at the clothes in the dryer. She saw that the clothes were almost dry, so she took them out to dry them.

After she was done with her work, Alex answered the phone by the window.

The bowl of noodles had been eaten until only the empty bowl was left. Jessie could not help but smile.

1. Why Did He Live Here?

Seeing him hang up, she hesitated, she felt that she should fight for the two children who liked her and lean against the dining table. She deliberated and said, "Boss Alex, why don't you let Felix and Fia stay here for a night. I will take good care of them. If you are worried... I will send you a video every hour, okay?"

Alex could tell that she wanted to chase him away. He said coldly, "I won't bother you anymore!"

"I don't think it's troublesome."

Felix and Fia listened to their discussion about this problem, and their ears had long stood up.

Felix was worried that if they continued to discuss like this, in the end, they would be pulled back by his father. He simply mustered up his courage and suggested, "Dad, just stay with us. We will sleep with Aunt Jeje. You sleep on the sofa."

When Jessie heard his suggestion, her heart tightened. She immediately laughed and interrupted him, "Forget it. Since your father is worried, then Felix and Fia should go back to sleep with your father first tonight."

Alex stared at her without any ripples. A few seconds later, he said faintly, "Felix's suggestion is not bad. It's decided then."

Jessie opened her mouth wide and was unable to speak for a long time.

Why did he want to live here?

Why?

She was still in shock. He had already put his hands in his pockets and paced to the sofa to ask the two children about their homework.

Fia quickly answered, "I don't have homework."

Alex looked at Felix. "What about you?"

Felix looked at Fia with a troubled look.

Fia secretly waved her fist at him..

Felix sighed softly, "I don't have homework."

The three of them looked happy and harmonious. Jessie watched until her heart went crazy.

In the end, the three of them stayed here.

Jessie wanted the children to stay. At least if their father did not leave, she would not be able to chase away the tall and strong him.

She thought that it was for the child's sake.

Jessie's two rooms were both laid on the bed. One side was hers and the other was prepared for Sally. She would come over to sleep at random times.

Both sides were covered with new bedsheets. Jessie arranged for Fia to sleep with her in one room while Felix and Alex slept in the other.

She gave the little fellows a bath and sent them to different rooms to sleep in. Only then did she take her bathrobe to take a bath.

Alex had just taken out his laptop from his suitcase and was now leaning on the sofa, using the laptop to process work.

Jessie took a shower and after making sure that there were no flaws in her bathrobe, she walked out.

Alex heard the bathroom door opened and looked up.

She was wearing very conservative bathrobe. Because she had just taken a shower, her pink and white face was flushed red. She looked even more delicate than she was during the day.

Alex had once measured everything about her with his fingers. At this moment, she was wearing a tight dress, but the beautiful scenery inside had already been imprinted in his heart. It was as if his palm had once again touched the beautiful touch of her delicate skin.

He swallowed his saliva, and his gaze became deeper and deeper.

Jessie did not dare to look at him at all. She quickly ran into the bedroom and quickly closed the door.

Fia stuck out a small head from the blanket, "Aunt Jeje, your bed smells so good. I really want to stay here with you in the future."

"Then you should sleep well tonight." Jessie smiled as she went to bed. She covered her with the blanket and kissed her tender little face, "Good night, little darling!"

Fia rolled around on the soft pillow in satisfaction and reached out to hug her. She blinked her round eyes, "Aunt Jeje, can you marry my father?"

Jessie quickly covered the little girl's mouth and did not know whether to laugh or cry, "Fia, you cannot make such a joke. Also, you are not allowed to tell your father these words, remember it!"

Fia lowered her head and lowered her long eyelashes, "I know. My father is too fierce. No one will like him. You definitely won't like him either. This is just a dream that I won't realize. If you marry my dad and become our family, then we can be together forever. I can sleep with you, you can make me delicious food... If you marry my father, I will have a mother. Kenny won't make fun of me anymore."

Jessie could not describe the feeling in her heart. She could not help but hug her little shoulders gently. "Little fool, even if I don't marry your father, I can still find you. A man like your father is most liked by women. There are many women who desire to marry him. You don't have to worry. Go to sleep."

"Okay, I'm not worried anymore. I'll go to the bathroom and come back" The little girl had a weird smile on her face. She crawled out of the blanket and put on her shoes.

Jessie chased after her and put a small jacket on her. "Be careful!"

"Okay." Fia closed the bedroom door and turned to look at the sofa in the living room. When she saw that her father was really there, she ran over.

Alex frowned. "Why didn't you sleep and ran out?"

The little girl got close to him and mysteriously lowered her voice. "I was just talking to Aunt Jeje about my father."

Alex's long fingers on the computer keyboard loosened and his thick eyebrows slightly raised. "What?" "Aunt Jeje said that a man like Dad is most liked by women. She wants to marry you!"

1. Do You Think You're Still Young?

After the little girl finished speaking, she went back to her room in a flash.

Alex stared at the bedroom door, his heart inexplicably surging, and he was unable to come back to his senses for a long time....

When Jessie was sleeping soundly, she felt as if a huge mountain was pressing down on her. It was getting heavier and heavier, making her unable to breathe.

She almost could not take it anymore. She opened her eyes and saw Alex's long eyelashes in front of her eyes.

He kissed her, and she used her two hands to push him.

Alex let go of her, and looked down at her from above. His voice was low and hoarse, "You're awake?"

Jessie found herself lying on the sofa in the living room.

She retreated to the side in fear.

Alex pressed down on her legs, not letting her move.

Jessie could not move. Their breaths intertwined.

He kissed her again.

Jessie was shocked. But she could not get rid of it. She could not help but blush and choke.

Alex had to let go of her lips and said with a dark look, "Are you that unwilling?"

She had said that she wanted to marry him. Could it be that he could not kiss her now?

Jessie's long eyelashes were covered with tears. "What do you think I am?"

Her tone was a little coquettish, a little grumpy, and also a little aggrieved.

She was full of the attitude of a little girl. All of a sudden, the rising anger in Alex's chest was extinguished

His face became gentle, but his tone did not soften. "What else can I think of you as? You keep crying, do you think you're still young?"

Jessie bit her lips and her eyes became even redder.

He still had the nerve to say that. She cried because she was bullied by him.

"You will follow me in the future." Alex looked at her like this and wanted to swallow her tears in one gulp.

Jessie did not think that he would say such words. A fire suddenly appeared in her heart.

She turned her head and did not want to look at his face anymore. "I will not follow anyone!"

Alex was also annoyed. He held her round chin with his big hand and forced her to look at him. He said unhappily, "Do you think that following me makes you feel wronged?"

There were many women in the R City who were in a hurry to jump into his arms. Jessie pretending to be reserved should have a limit too!

"Yes, I am wronged!" Jessie felt pain in her chin from being pinched by him and whispered, "In your eyes, a divorced woman should be so casual, right? You gave me charity to follow you, so I should be grateful and accept it without any objections? You don't care what I think at all. Do you think that I won't feel wronged like this?"

Alex stared at her. He was silent.

Jessie also stared back at him. Her chest rose and fell violently, and her body trembled slightly.

After a while, Alex said in a deep voice, "What do you think in your heart?"

"I just want to live a quiet life alone." Her answer was partly because she was angry with him, and partly because she was hurt by her previous marriage and wanted to escape now.

Alex's ink-black eyes slowly narrowed, and his whole body was filled with coldness. "Alone?"

"Yes, that's right!"

He was very angry.

She thought that he was going to be furious and wanted to hit her. She could not help but close her eyes in fear.

However, he didn't do anything.

The mountain-like heaviness on her body also disappeared.

Alex walked towards Felix's room. "As you wish!"

The door of the room closed.

After Jessie received her salary at the end of the month, she habitually transferred money to her hometown.

Just as she finished transferring the money, she received a call from her grandmother.

"Grandma..."

"Jessie, your mom went to R City to find you. She should be arriving soon, right?"

Jessie was shocked, "My mom came to R City?"

"Yes. Didn't she call you? She saw on the television that Mike wanted to marry someone else. She didn't pack her luggage and went straight to the train station. What do you think is going on? Did you divorce Mike? Why didn't you tell us?"

Jessie originally thought that they were in the countryside and never paid attention to those entertainment news. They probably wouldn't find out so soon. When she went back on her annual leave, she would tell them. She did not expect that they already knew by now.

"I'm sorry, Grandma. I was wrong. I shouldn't have hidden it from you..."

"How can you hide such a big thing from us? Your mother is so anxious right now. What should we do if something happens?" Grandma was scold her and Grandpa was advising Grandma not to be fierce with Jessie again.

Jessie heard the voices of the elders and wanted to cry, "I will comfort my mother."

Another call came in and she quickly told her grandparents for not worry anymore and then answered another call.

It was from her mother, Jouvita. She was already at the train station.

Jessie quickly took a taxi to the train station to pick her up.

When Jessie brought her mom back to CnX Apartment from the train station, it was already dark.

"Mom, there is a bathroom over there. You go and take a shower first. I will go and cook." Jouvita came alone and did not even bring a change of clothes. Jessie took her clean pajamas to her mom and then went to the kitchen to cook.

Jouvita took the clothes and said, "There is no hurry. Come over and sit with me for a while."

Jessie knew that her mother's health was not good. Because of this, she could not be anxious or agitated. Jessie did not dare to push it off again and accompanied her mom to the sofa to sit down.

"Tell me, what is the matter between you and Mike? He said on the television that he wanted to marry Yura. Is that true?"

Jessie thought for a while and did not know how to answer. She said directly, "He and I are divorced."

Jouvita seemed to stiffen for a moment and muttered with a blank expression, "Divorced..."

"He and I were divorced after a friendly agreement because of our personalities. Actually, there were quite a number of couples who divorced because of their personalities. It's good that I'm like this now. Mom, you don't have to worry about me." Jessie tried her best to comfort her mother.

"When did you guys get divorced?"

"More than a month ago."

Jouvita did not ask any more questions. She looked straight at Jessie for a long time before standing up, "It is late, go to sleep."

"You have been on the train for a day and definitely did not eat anything. You'd better finish eating first before sleeping. I'll be able to prepare simple food very soon." Jessie advised.

Jouvita waved her hand and walked towards the bedroom. Jessie still walked towards the kitchen. Halfway there, she heard a thud behind her.

She suddenly turned her head and saw her mother faint on the ground.

“Mom!”

When Jouvita woke up again, it was already early in the morning.

Jessie had been guarding in the middle of the night and just as she was lying by the bed sleeping, the sudden pain on her shoulder woke her up.

When Jessie opened her eyes, she saw her mother biting her shoulder.

Jouvita bit harder and harder.

Jessie felt that her shoulder was about to be bitten off by her mother and the pain pierced her heart.

She knew that her mother had fallen ill again and did not dare to provoke her even more. Jessie endured the pain and softly said, “Mom, are you hungry? There is bread here. Eat a bit first and let go of your mouth. I will feed you.”

Jessie’s mother had drowned once many years ago. Because of the water in her skull, the side effects of her brain paralysis fell. Usually, Jouvita looked very normal. When she received a little stimulation, she would become crazy and often hurt people. Jessie was often beaten black and blue by her mother when she was a child. If it was not for Jessie’s grandfather and grandmother, Jessie would have died many times.

Later on, the villagers were also attacked and Jouvita was forcefully brought into the mental hospital. After a few years, she gradually recovered and was released.

In recent years, although Jouvita would also fall ill, it was very rare.

Jouvita’s eyes were scarlet red and she bit until her mouth was full of blood. Only then did she slowly let go of Jessie’s shoulder.

Jessie did not care about the injury on her shoulder. Because she endured the pain, her fingers kept trembling. Jessie tore open the wrapping of the bread and placed it in her mother’s hands.

Jessie brought another cup of water and passed it to her mother. Jouvita’s mouth was full of blood.

“Mom, rinse your mouth.”

Jouvita took it but suddenly smashed the water along with the cup towards Jessie’s head.

Jessie instinctively dodged but was unable to completely dodge.

Jessie's forehead was smashed by the cup and made a muffled sound. Her brain buzzed.

The cup fell to the ground and broke into pieces.

Half of the water splashed on Jessie's body and flowed down her neck. The water was so cold that her body trembled.

She walked forward and grabbed Jouvita's hand, "Mom, I am Jessie. Do you recognize me?"

Jouvita pushed Jessie away. She knocked her head against the wall and her eyes were red as she shouted, "You are not my daughter. I do not have a daughter that was dumped by a man! I do not have such a shameless daughter! No! No!"

Jessie quickly rushed over and hugged her mother tightly, "Mom! Mom! Calm down! Don't be like this, please don't be like this, okay?"

Jouvita once again used her head to hit Jessie as if she had gone crazy.

Jessie was knocked down from the hospital bed.

A voice sounded.

The back of Jessie's head hit the floor tiles and her vision immediately turned black. It was a long time before she could regain her senses.

"How are you?" The nurse woke her up.

"Mom! Mom!" Jessie was helped up by the nurse. She did not see her mother and her heart was immediately lifted. She asked anxiously, "Where is my mother? Did you see my mother?"

"She just took your phone out and talked about calling her son-in-law." Before the nurse finished speaking, Jessie ran out like the wind.

The nurse shouted, "Miss, you have an injury on your shoulder..." Jessie searched the entire floor but did not see her mother.

Rea

Jessie remembered that the nurse said her mother took away her phone.

Jessie quickly borrowed a phone and dialed her number. Her phone displayed that she was on the phone.

The Mumen Group had recently invested in the most important environmental protection project in the Political World of R City. Alex, Rick, and the relevant higher ups had been working overtime for this project. These days, Alex had been living in an apartment next to the company. Tonight, Alex only finished his work at dawn and received a phone call on his way back to the apartment.

He did not save this number.

But Alex still recognized it at a glance. It was that woman who called. She said that she didn't want him and only wanted peace and quiet.

He knew that Jessie was pretending.

He thought that she could pretend for a longer time.

He did not expect Jessie to not be able to hold on for a few days.

Her words and actions were the opposite!

He sneered in his heart and directly cut off the call.

Alex drove the car into the underground garage. When he opened the car door and got out of the car, he paused for a moment. He couldn't help but take out his phone and call the number he had just called

After the call was connected, he asked coldly, "What is it?"

On the other side, Jouvita suddenly fainted at the hospital entrance when she was making the call. The nurse ran over and heard the phone in Jouvita's hand ring. The nurse immediately picked it up and answered, "Are you the patient's family? She has fainted in the hospital in the city center. Hurry up and come over!" Alex drove to the hospital and checked Jessie's name at the front desk.

A nurse beside him heard him and walked over. "You are Miss Jessie's family?" Alex was silent for a second and said in a deep voice, "How is she now?"

1. 3 Can the Sky Collapse Could the Earth Sink?

The nurse thought she was asking about Jouvita's condition and replied, "I just gave Jouvita a sedative and now I have sent her back to ward 505 on the fourth floor."

Alex went to the fourth floor and opened the ward door.

There were three beds in the ward, and only the innermost one had a woman lying on it. She was sleeping soundly.

This woman was not someone he knew. His thick eyebrows furrowed.

Jessie treated the wound on her shoulder and forehead in the emergency room and carried the medicine back to the ward.

Jessie pushed open the door and saw Alex inside. It was as if he had descended from the sky.

Alex wore a navy blue fur suit and his back was tall and straight. He had an unreachable noble bearing.

Alex turned around when he heard the door open.

Seeing his handsome and cold facial features, Jessie's heart suddenly jumped wildly. Her voice became somewhat different from hers, "Why is Boss Alex here?"

Alex's cold gaze fell on the bandage on her forehead. The knot between her eyebrows was like a mountain peak. He wanted to ask how the wound on Jessie's head was done, but when he heard Jessie's question, He immediately felt unhappy in his heart. His tone was as if ice had been wrapped around it. "Didn't you call me because you wanted me to come here? Now you want to be alone and quiet?"

"I didn't..." Thinking about how her mother ran out with her phone just now, perhaps it was her mother who called Alex. Jessie paused and her heart was filled with endless embarrassment. "Sorry, I called the wrong number. You can go back."

Alex's tone became colder. "Call me in the middle of the night and now you are telling me that you called the wrong number. Do you think this is very fun?"

Jessie replied, "I have already said that I am sorry. What else do you want me to do?" Jessie was scolded by Alex and her heart was also ignited. Coupled with the pain from her wounds, Jessie could not help but feel a little spoiled in front of him. Her temper also rose.

Alex's thin lips were pursed into a straight line as he stared at her. The bottom of his eyes seemed to be able to drip ink.

She sobbed a few times and retracted her gaze. She walked past him and prepared to walk inside.

Jessie suddenly felt her wrist tighten.

The hand Alex pulled was precisely the hand that injured her shoulder.

Instantly, the wound seemed to have been torn open. The pain caused her to grimace in pain, and she couldn't help but cry out in pain.

"Your hand is injured as well?" Alex loosened his grip on her hand. He didn't know where the pain in his heart came from, and his tone became even worse, "How old are you? You hurt yourself like this, and you still have the face to lose your temper!"

"I didn't lose my temper!" She could not get rid of his hand, and her beautiful almond eyes turned red.

Just now, in order to treat the wound on her shoulder, she took off her coat. At this moment, she was only wearing a yellow t-shirt and white jeans. She had a very low ponytail, which was a little messy next to her fair little face. Her clear eyes were filled with sparkling tears. She did not look like a mature woman who had experienced marriage at all. Instead, she looked like a pure and innocent university student, which made one's heart ache.

He didn't have any reason to be so soft-hearted. He held her horizontally with his hands.

"What are you doing? Put me down!" Jessie's small face was flushed red. She was afraid of waking her mother, so she lowered her voice. Her shoulders hurt and her forehead hurt, so she could not make a big noise.

Alex carried her to a bed in the middle and gently put her down. He took the medicine bag from her hand and placed it on the bedside table.

Seeing the woman beside him, Alex remembered what the nurse said just now. He whispered to Jessie, "Your family?"

Jessie did not look at him. After a moment of silence, she replied, "My mother."

An ordinary person did not need a sedative. Alex took a look at Jovita's medical record card at the end of the bed and did not ask anything else. He got up and left.

Seeing his tall figure disappear into the door, Jessie's heart could not help but feel a slight sense of loss.

The next morning, Jessie was calling the company to ask for leave. The sound of footsteps came from the door of the ward.

Immediately after, a group of doctors and nurses in white coats walked in.

Jessie walked over and asked, "You are?"

A middle-aged man wearing glasses walked forward and said, "Miss Jessie, I am the director of this hospital. My name is Carlos. This is Dr. Zack, the most authoritative intracranial medical specialist in the country that Boss Alex arranged. Dr. Zack wants to know the specific situation of your mother's body. Please tell us in detail. This will help us to determine the treatment plan. Also, this is the external injury specialist, Director Lisson. If you feel any discomfort, feel free to look for him."

It turned out that Alex left in such a hurry to arrange a doctor for Jessie and her mother.

Jessie could not tell why her heart was beating so strangely at that moment.

At this moment, she did not have the time to think about it.

After Jessie explained the situation of her mother for so many years to them in detail, they immediately arranged the operating room and pushed Jouvita to do a detailed examination

Jessie waited in the corridor. There was also a professional Special Nurse beside her, who was also arranged by Alex.

Jessie's phone rang.

She took it out and saw the number. Her heart surged again.

Jessie pressed the button to answer the call and pasted it beside her ear, "Hello."

"It's me..." Alex's deep and magnetic voice became more and more sexy and pleasant through the phone.

Jessie's heart trembled and she whispered, "Thank you. I know, my mother has been like this for many years. Actually, I don't want to trouble you."

Jessie was very grateful that Alex helped her like this, but she felt very sorry in her heart.

The person she least wanted to trouble was also him.

The more Alex knew about her embarrassment, the more she felt that she was compared to him. It was like Alex was in the sky, she was underground, and it was a swamp that couldn't be covered in mud. This was the difference between heaven and earth, right?

Alex was far more unreachable than Mike.

In the past, because Jouvita came to R City, she fell ill in front of Mike and Linda. Later, Linda even forced Jessie to cut off relations with her family.

Alex was busy. He called to ask about Jessie's situation. An injured woman was guarding Jouvita. No matter how he thought about it, he could not feel at ease. In the end, before he could say anything, she said, "No need to trouble." It seemed that he had done something unnecessary.

His tone suddenly became cold: "If you don't want to trouble me, why did you call me?"

Jessie was unable to speak due to his questioning. Her lips trembled a few times. She wanted to say that she did not mean what he thought, but the phone had already been hung up.

Sally heard that Jouvita was currently in the hospital and immediately took a leave of absence to bring big and small bags of nutritional supplements to the hospital.

Sally asked, "How is Auntie?"

Jessie said, "Doctor Zack prescribed a kind of good medicine that can suppress the illness. It should be better than before." In the past, when Jessie had just started earning money, she had already taken her mother to several places to check. She knew that this kind of illness could not be completely cured, so when Dr. Zack gave the results that could inhibit the illness, she did not feel surprised.

Sally walked to the bedside and looked at Jouvita for a while before asking softly, "When will Auntie wake up?"

Jessie replied, "They said that she should wake up in the afternoon."

"This ward, Special Nurse, and the experts were all arranged by Boss Alex?" Sally looked at the luxurious single ward and immediately guessed.

Jessie tacitly agreed.

"Looks like the Laurent family does not only have those two little fellows relying on you." Sally gave a meaningful sigh, "Will Alex be annoyed with taking care of the two children by himself? It was not easy for him to meet someone like you who is compatible with the children and wants you to be the child's stepmother and serve the two children."

After Alex finished his meeting, he returned to his office.

When the assistant of the secretary saw him return, she immediately stood up and said respectfully, "Boss Alex, Elder Rudolf, Young Master Felix, and Young Miss Fia are waiting for you in your office."

Alex nodded and walked to the door. He paused and called Rick over. "Call me out for a meeting in ten minutes."

"Meeting?" Rick remembered that there was no meeting in ten minutes.

"An emergency meeting!" After instructing, Alex pushed open the office door and entered.

Rick thought for a moment and understood.

"Dad." Felix and Fia were recently grounded by Alex and were not allowed to go and find Jessie. They were also not allowed to call her. After school or on holidays, there were grandparents following them. They had accumulated a mountain of emotions about Alex in their hearts, so they were very unwilling to call him dad.

Originally, their grandfather and grandmother also wanted to go with them to find Aunt Jeje, but Alex said that if they brought grandfather and grandmother to see Aunt Jeje, she would not be willing to see them again in the future, so they did not dare to take grandfather and grandmother to find Aunt Jeje.

Even though Fia did not understand why they brought her grandfather and grandmother to see Aunt Jeje, Aunt Jeje would not be happy.

"Dad, your health is not good. Why did you bring the two of them here?" Alex knew that the two little fellows had a lot of opinions about him. He did not pay attention to them and greeted Rudolf.

When Rudolf saw Alex come in, he hurriedly put down the strong and fragrant coffee in his hand. He put on a bitter face and said, "My body is so weak. Do you think I'm willing to come here? It's because you are unfilial. I've asked you to come back many times, but you refused to come back. I don't know how long I can live. Although I'm sick, if I don't come and see you again, I'm afraid I won't be able to see you in my lifetime!"

Alex said, "You curse yourself like this all the time. Don't let the heavens take you in."

Before Alex finished speaking, the tissue box on the coffee table smashed over.

In front of the child, Alex was smashed by Rudolf with something. Alex lost his face. He took the tissue box and threw it on the desk. "Okay, okay, okay. You have lived for tens of thousands of years. If you like the coffee here, I'll get my assistant to pour you another cup. I have an emergency meeting later. Felix, Fia, keep your grandfather company!"

Alex went to the desk and changed a document, then turned around and left.

"I haven't finished speaking, what are you in a hurry for!" Rudolf saw that he was in a hurry and couldn't help but get angry, "That girl from the Winston family is waiting at home now. Even if it is an important meeting, you have to cancel it now, and then go back with us for a blind date!”

When Felix and Fia saw their father’s expression, they felt a wave of schadenfreude in their hearts.

“Dad, this meeting is very important.” Alex frowned.

Rudolf stared at him. “Will the sky collapse if it is not opened? Will the ground sink?”

“Dad...”

The father and son were in a stalemate.

Suddenly, there was a knock on the door.

Rick pushed the door open and entered. He felt the low pressure inside and quickly said as if he was performing a crosstalk: “Boss Alex, the meeting is ready. We are just waiting for you.”

“Dad, you see, I am not lying to you, right?” Alex looked helpless. “I am really busy. How about this? I will finish this important project at hand and make an appointment with Miss Monica at a suitable time, okay?”

Rudolf only believed Rick when he saw that Rick was speaking very seriously. He snorted and said, “Your mom said that she will let that girl from the Winston Family stay at home until you come back and meet her. If you want to delay the blind date, then let her stay in your Mountain and River Residence!”

Alex didn’t know what to say.

1. Fooling My Father

Out of the Group Building, just got in the car. Two tender white hands stretched out in front of Rudolf’s eyes, “Grandpa, Phone Watch!”

Rudolf lightly clapped both of his hands. He snorted and laughed, “Two little brats, do you think that grandpa is your father who doesn’t know how to behave? I told him ten blind dates, but he never showed his face! Grandpa is a man of his word! Grandfather will definitely buy what he promised you!”

"Then let's go buy it now, Grandpa?" The two little fellows practically said at the same time.

Restall had called many times to let Alex go on a blind date. Every time Alex said he was busy, she did not even see him.

She had no choice but to send her husband to the company to stop him.

Although he was her biological son, Alex had many ideas and was very scheming.

When Alex was a little and there was a parent-teacher meeting at Alex's school, and Rudolf had originally agreed to go. After that, he lost the appointment due to his busy business. The next day, he received a call from his teacher. The teacher asked him why he wanted to use his red underwear to cut it into a red scarf for Alex. He even swaggered him to wear it to school. Their class had made a huge mistake because of this red underwear. They didn't even get the Flowing Red Flag.

Alex had many things to do with his father. Now, under the orders of his wife, he went to the company alone to stop Alex. Rudolf did not know what to do. He just wanted two grandsons to accompany him to strengthen his courage. With two little guys in front of him, Alex should not make him lose face too much.

When the two little fellows heard that they were going to see their father, they almost shook their little heads like rattle drums.

They could meet anyone, but they did not like to see their annoying father!

Rudolf put down his face and fawned over these two grandsons.

In the end, they made a deal using two children's Phone Watches.

Therefore, the moment they left the building, the two little fellows immediately let Rudolf fulfill his promise.

The driver drove the car to a shopping mall, and Rudolf's phone rang.

Restall called. "Did you bring him back?"

san

"He still has a meeting. He will come back for dinner after the meeting." "Didn't he come back with you? Then he definitely won't come back today." Restall sighed.

"Don't worry. He will definitely come home after I say such harsh words."

"How many times have you been fooled by your son? You still don't know how to remember! Forget it, forget it. Where are you now?"

Rudolf was scolded by his wife until his face turned ashen. He honestly told his wife about his whereabouts.

When Restall heard this, her eyes rolled and she smiled again. "You, an old antique, can know what kind of children's phones are popular nowadays? This matter still needs to be handled by young people. How about you immediately bring back my two precious golden grandsons? Later, I'll let Miranda accompany them to buy it."

After all, they were husband and wife for so many years. Rudolf understood the meaning of his wife's words and immediately got the driver to turn around and return to old residence.

After Jouvita woke up that afternoon, she was still in a trance.

Jessie did not sleep or rest and took care of her for two days and one night. After waking up that day, Jouvita's mind became much clearer.

"These injuries were caused by me again?" Seeing the dark red scar on Jessie's forehead, Jouvita immediately understood. She was immediately so vexed that tears flowed unceasingly. She raised her hand and continuously hit herself, "It must be me who did it. I am a madman."

Jessie hurriedly grabbed her hand, "Mom, don't be like this. Sorry, it is all my fault. I shouldn't have hidden it from you. I'm really fine now. You don't have to worry about me. Take good care of yourself and stop thinking about me, okay?"

"Tell me the truth. Did Mike have someone outside first? You're the one who's going to divorce him?" Jouvita stared at her and asked, "If that's the case, I have to teach him a good lesson. Otherwise, they will really think that our family so weak. He always bullies you!"

"Mom, he really isn't bullying me. He is busy with work and we rarely get together. We have long lost our relationship. It is me who doesn't want that marriage anymore. Let's not think about it anymore, okay? My job is pretty good now, and I've been promoted to become a training teacher at headquarters."

"Is that really the case?"

Jessie nodded her head. "Mom, didn't you say before that forcing won't bring happiness? He and I are like strangers now. We might as well leave each other and be comfortable."

Jouvita was stunned for a long time and sighed, "You are right but after all, it has been so many years. Thinking about it, it is not worth it for Mom to help you. After so many years, you do not have a child. It might be different if you have a child."

"Mom!"

"Okay, let's not talk about it anymore. If I talk too much, you will find me annoying again. This injury of yours..."

"I'm only slightly injured. It wasn't you who did it. It was me who knocked into you when I pulled you. Actually, I've already recovered."

"There's no mother like me in this world anymore." Jouvita lowered her head and wiped her tears.

Jessie used her uninjured hand to hug her, "Alright, stop crying. Do you want to eat glutinous balls? There is an old brand of glutinous balls by the side of this hospital. The last time I brought them back, it was this one that bought them. Didn't you say they were super delicious? I'll go and buy some for you. The fresh ones in the shop are even better than the ones I brought home last time."

Jessie instructed Special Nurse to accompany her in the room and took her wallet out.

When the door closed, she heard her mother asking Special Nurse. "How much does this ward cost a day? It must be very expensive, right?"

Her heart tightened. Just as she was about to enter the door to explain, she heard Special Nurse reply. "It is usually quite expensive. Recently, there are activities in the hospital, so it should not cost a lot of money. No matter what, Old Madam, you have a good daughter. She has to be filial to you and let you stay in the ward. You just listen to her and take good care of your health."

"So the hospital also has activities? Then you?"

"I was arranged by the hospital. Your daughter doesn't need to pay."

"I see. Sorry to trouble you."

"It's my duty," Wenny said.

Only then did Jessie heave a sigh of relief.

She did not want to accept Alex's kindness. She went to the hospital to get a normal bed. She was told that there was no empty bed. She wanted to pay. They said that Boss Alex had arranged the ward and the specialist. She did not need to pay the fee.

She asked the nurse to give her the bill, but the nurse did not give her the bill. She had to give up and think about how much she would pay him in the future.

The business in Glutinous Shop was good.

When it was time to leave, there was a long queue at the door.

Just as it was her turn, her phone rang.

She pressed the answer button and put the phone between her shoulders and ears. She took out money from her wallet and spoke on the phone. "Hello, who is this?"

The Glutinous Shop staff asked her what she wanted.

Jessie replied to him, "Give me three red beans, pork floss, and shrimp rolls each."

After answering the staff, she turned around and asked the person on the other side of the phone, "Who is it? Sorry, can you speak louder?"

Felix had just heard her voice on the phone and could not help swallowing his saliva. He raised his voice and said, "Aunt Jeje, are you buying delicious food?"

"Felix? Yes, I am buying delicious food. If you like it, I will buy it for you next time. You haven't called me for a long time. Are you and Fia doing well recently?"
Jessie was very happy when she received his call. She took the packaged paper bag from the shop assistant, turned around, and walked out of the line towards the hospital.

"Okay, then you must buy it for us next time! Oh right, Dad just bought Phone Watch for Fia and me. This is my number. In the future, even if Dad doesn't lend me his phone, I can use this to call you."

"Is that so? You already have Phone Watches? You must be very happy, right?"

"Yes, very happy." After Felix got the Phone Watch, he secretly ran to the side and called her. He was worried that his father and the others would look for him. He reluctantly said goodbye to Jessie and repeatedly told her to immediately save his number after hanging up the phone.

On the other side of the mobile shopping mall was the city center hospital.

After leaving the shopping mall, Alex subconsciously looked up at the fourth floor of the hospital inpatient department across the street.

Just now he was still in the company. He received a call from the old man at home saying that Miranda was bringing two children to buy Phone Watches.

The car was in the middle of driving and there was no more gas.

Restall said that Miranda's place was close to his company, so he asked Alex to quickly drive to pick them up.

He guessed that it was another blind date set up by the two elders for him and Miss Winston.

The children were with Miranda, so he had to drive to pick them up.

The two of them naturally met. Miranda promised the little fellows that she would buy Phone Watches.

Alex remembered that there was a mobile phone store not far from the hospital in the city center, so he started the car and came here.

He stared at the window on the fourth floor of the hospital for a while. He felt bored, and that heartless woman probably wouldn't think of him again.

Retracting his gaze, he walked towards his own car.

He turned his eyes and saw a familiar slender figure not far to his right.

She wore loose red and white striped clothing, black long pants, and white sports shoes. She had a high ponytail and her forehead was exposed. She walked towards the hospital while smiling sweetly at the phone.

Alex stopped walking. He looked at her face and could not help but show some tenderness.

It was not until he found that a few young men who passed by her all looked at her. His gentle expression became dark again.

Miranda saw him staring at a place and was lost in thought. She also looked in the direction he was looking at

Where his eyes were looking, it was a tall and slender young woman. The roadside store was as bright as the lights in the day. It could be seen that the woman's oval face was extremely clean and pure.

Miranda's heart instinctively became hostile and she carefully and gently said, "Is it someone you know?"

Alex did not seem to hear her. He did not respond at all.

Miranda was a little embarrassed, but she was a lady from a prestigious family. She was best at hiding her expression.

Seeing his broad shoulders, she had an impulse to lean on him.

Clenching her fist, she smiled gently again and took the initiative to approach him. She stretched out her hand.

Alex came back to his senses and took a step back without leaving a trace. He stared at her coldly. "What are you doing?"

Miranda's face turned pale. "There is something on your right shoulder. I want to help you take it off."

Alex frowned. He raised his hand and casually patted it. He used the car key to unlock the car door. He turned around and did not see two small figures. His eyebrows were tightly knitted as he coldly shouted, "Felix! Fia!"
