Chapter 321

Jaco's performance made people wonder if he was really an elite member of the Galactic Patrol and if he had good eyesight because it didn't seem to come in handy.

However, Jaco's personality was easygoing, even a bit funny, and quickly mingled with Tights.

"Nah, when you leave, can you let me come along to see the other planets?" Tights looked at Jaco with expectation, not forgetting to find material for her own.

Jaco coughed dryly and said, "I'm an elite patrolman in charge of three-star territory areas. I usually have to inspect what's happening on each planet, so I don't have time to go out with you."

Tights was not happy to hear this, said loudly, "I am not going to play; I am sorting out the information. I plan to write a story about other planets in the universe, and it will be a big hit."

"...can I be the main character?" Jaco sniffed, and his attitude immediately changed. He also put up a Galactic Patrol specific pose.

If it were true that Jaco was the main character, basically, it would not be popular.

However, Tights did not know, so she blinked, "That depends on whether your story is good. You have to take me out on an adventure."

Jaco's head dropped, and he shook his hand, "That's preferable. I can't go against the principles of the patrolman."

"You really can't let me go along?"

"I can't!"

Although Jaco did not look very strong on the surface, his work attitude was solemn. The Galactic Patrol's rules should be followed.

Tights immediately pouted in dissatisfaction, "Humph, if I don't go, then I won't make you the main character. I don't care!"

At this time, Muiyang sat on the leaning chair next to him and stared wide-eyed with Bulma. The younger Bulma carried the laser in her hand and aimed it at him; hearing the conversation between Tights and Jaco, Muiyang said, "I can tell you when you want to know outside the earth. I am still a registered member of the Galaxy Mercenary."

As soon as Tights heard Muiyang's words, she immediately left Jaco behind and ran over.

Only then did she remember that Uncle Muiyang in front of her was a great man who was revered by the people of earth as the God of Martial Arts, and what came out of his mouth was mostly shockingly big secrets.

Jaco looked dumbfounded at Tights, who had just come up to his side and ran away in the blink of an eye, "A woman with no manners, it's just too rude."

"Uncle Muiyang. Tell me what you know!" Tights sat next to him with her head cocked.

“The story I’m going to tell you today is about an evil team called the ‘Ginyu Force’....”

“Ginyu Force!”

Jaco likewise perked up his ears and was a little surprised when he heard MUYANG said, Ginyu Force.

“What’s wrong with the Ginyu Force?” Tights asked curiously.

Jaco said, “Ginyu Force is a very famous special battle team under the command of the universe overlord Frieza. It has five members; each member is rumored to have a minimum of 20,000 power levels... It is the evil team that has destroyed countless planets in their hands! “

“Awesome!”

Tights eyes glowed as she jotted this information down in her book. The universe overlord Frieza, and the evil battle team were such an interesting setting. She was instantly inspired and had a feeling she could be writing an heirloom masterpiece.

Among so many terms, only the word “power level” was the most familiar to Tights. Because since the beginning of the martial arts era, the concept of power level had become popular on earth.

The earthling’s strength was measured according to the data measured by the Human Index Tester. The ordinary people and primary martial arts practitioners were not included in the category of martial arts practitioners. The measurement unit was “J,” while the martial arts practitioners who entered the category of martial arts practitioners used another set of measurement standards. The unit was “D.” The relationship between these two standards was a hundred times decimal; 1D was equal to 100J.

Because Dr. Omori developed the Human Index Tester regarding the scouter obtained by MUYANG a long time ago, 1D was again equivalent to the universe standard of 1 point of power level.

Early certification standards for martial arts practitioners were shallow; 20 points of power level were eligible to be rated as a martial arts practitioner, and 100 points of power level as a martial arts master. With the development of earth’s martial arts for decades, the certification standards also began to improve. Nowadays, in this era, without 50 points of power level or more, they were not recognized as martial arts practitioners.

However, the Ginyu Force members had a minimum of 20,000 power levels; what a terrifying team.

“Uncle MUYANG, quickly tell me the story of the Ginyu Force!” Tights urged in a clear voice. As for the even more powerful-sounding Frieza, it could wait until later. Most exciting stories all started with a small BOSS, and then gradually lead to the big characters behind... Tights was planning to write a series of great books.

MUYANG smiled lightly and said, “Good, then I will start with the formation of the Ginyu Force.”

“The earliest Ginyu Force consist of Jean, Ouaosi, Gaussian, and the candidate member Guldo. The story takes place in the process of Captain Ginyu leading the team to find Guldo...”

“Wait, the earliest members of the Ginyu Force should not be these people, right?” Jaco interrupted MUYANG’s words. According to his understanding, the Ginyu Force’s initial members should be Captain Ginyu, Jean, Burter, Recoome, and Demoness Natania. There was no Ouaosi or Gausan.

MUYANG smiled and said, “So that means I am talking about the hidden secret.”

“I understand; stories are all about artistic processing. Uncle MUYANG, continue, please.” Tights nodded with great approval. She did not care about the truth of the story, as long as it was interesting.

However, Tights and Jaco didn’t know that what MUYANG told was the truest, and he was the one who experienced it firsthand as the first perspective.

Next, MUYANG eloquently talked about the several big encounters and personnel changes of the Ginyu Force. Even several big mutations involving Cooler Armored Squadron, the Saiyans, and even Frieza and Cooler.

Jaco skimmed his mouth on one side and secretly said, “That’s a decent story. It must be referring to the information from the Galaxy Mercenary, but his ability to make up stories is great.”

The story told by MUYANG had some events that overlapped with what he knew, so it was hard to distinguish the true from the false. Of course, in Jaco’s heart, it never occurred to him that what MUYANG told might be true, because how could a remote place on a Low-level Planet, at most a Middle-Level Planet, hide a powerful person who knew so much information.

However, Jaco had to admire MUYANG’s ability to make up stories, which was first-class.

MUYANG told his story for several hours until Bulma’s birthday party gradually ended.

“Well, that’s all for today. As for the story of Frieza and Cooler, Tights, you can ask Jaco; he knows very well.”

No one knew how old Jaco was. He had been a member of the Galactic Patrol for a long time and knew many hidden things.

“Thanks, Uncle MUYANG.” Tights nodded with intent, looking at the things she had written down in her notebook. She then showed a sweet smile with satisfaction.

MUYANG smiled and nodded, then saw April walking over with Dr.Omori, Dr. Brief, and Dr. Gero. It turned out that to see Jaco’s spaceship sooner, they planned to go to the island where Dr. Omori lived now, and for this reason, April even canceled the meetings in recent days.

“Bulma’s repairability is very strong, so we plan to bring her along.” April came to MUYANG’s side and whispered.

“Daddy, I want to go too.”

Tights pestered to go along, and finally, they couldn't resist her, so Brief and the others had to agree.

After April and the others left with the spaceship, Muiyang chatted with Bulma's mother, Panchy. He also turned around to go back to Great Azure Mountain.

With Jaco arriving on earth, it meant that Gine and Kakarot's spaceship would soon arrive on earth as well.

This news should be told to Bardock and Asike, who have been waiting for a long time on earth.

Chapter 322

After coming to earth, Bardock and Asike lived in the Great Azure Mountain near the side of the Primitive Mountain range. Further to the east side over a few mountains to Mount Paozu, where Son Gohan and Annin live in seclusion.

Although it had been some time since they came to earth, during this time, Bardock and Asike were adapting to the environment of the earth and hadn't met with Son Gohan and Annin. Earth's gravity was only one-tenth of Planet Vegeta, and with Bardock and Asike's strength, it did not take much time to adapt. Now, it was mainly in learning the martial arts on earth.

Bardock had received the inheritance of Muiyang, and he knew the concept of “ki” very well, so the learning was very smooth.

Asike was much worse. Because Planet Vegeta's implementation as rough energy operation, combat mode, and energy operation had long been deeply rooted in the marrow, it couldn't be turned over in a moment; he was like a layman now, must start from scratch to practice.

When Muiyang and the girls arrived at Bardock's residence, Bardock was teaching Asike advanced training concepts.

Bardock's place was located between two hills where ki waves cut the quiet mountain forest out a whole piece of flat land. The house was a small portable building using capsule technology with three floors and all kinds of living facilities. On both sides, birdsong and flowers were fragrant, and a gurgling stream flowed by the side from near the house.

“Teacher Mu, you're here!”

Seeing Muiyang and his two wives, Bardock stopped the movement in his hands.

Smiling lightly, when he saw Bardock's dress, Muiyang's eyes slightly showed some surprise.

At this time, Bardock had taken off the battle-armor and changed into the popular martial arts clothes on earth. The loose martial arts clothes were light blue, with two arms exposed on the upper body and a blue belt tied around the waist, looking like the grown-up Son Goku.

If not for the scar on his face and powerful ki, he would have been thought that Son Goku had come from another world through time and space.

“The person from Galactic Patrol has come to earth, so it is expected that in the next two days, Gine and Kakarot’s spaceship will arrive on earth.” Muyang directly told about Jaco.

“Is it going to arrive soon?” A joyful look passed over Bardock’s face, “After counting the time, it is indeed almost there.”

Asike, on the other hand, worried, “The person from the Galactic Patrol is also on earth; will this be detrimental to us?”

Asike had been wandering in the universe for decades and had heard of the Galactic Patrol name. It was an organization rumored to be dedicated to maintaining the peace of the galaxy, and it was also the superior of the Galaxy Mercenary. All along, because of the Saiyans’ barbaric acts, the Galactic Patrol had not been very friendly to the Saiyans. This time, it even chased after Gine and Kakarot’s spaceship to earth.

If they knew that other Saiyans were living on earth, he wondered if they would invite any trouble?

“Asike you think too much, it’s just the Galactic Patrol. They can’t even handle a character like Cooler, so what’s there to worry about. Besides, the one who came to earth this time is a rash, so don’t worry about it.” Melia waved her hand, not caring in the least about Asike’s worries.

Bardock was also confident in his strength and felt that his father’s worries were superfluous.

“Oh, that’s true.”

Asike was stunned for a moment, suddenly remembering his son’s power level of up to more than a million. His face could not help but reveal a smile. Yes, with so many masters on their side, what could happen? He then realized that his worries were indeed superfluous.

“Now, our priority is to get Gine and Kakarot back,” Bardock said with a serious face.

“Gine body is fragile, but her power level was close to 1000. So, it wasn’t difficult to find her, but if Kakarot, I’m afraid it will take some work.”

Gine was responsible for meat handling, and she was a non-combatant in Planet Vegeta. Her power level was not high, but she was at least a Saiyan. So, even if the power level was low, she could withstand the strength of ten times the gravity of Planet Vegeta, and the energy contained in her body was nearly 1000 power levels.

On earth, 1000 power level was not considered the top, but it had been more prominent.

Bardock wasn’t worried about finding Gine, on the contrary, Kakarot, because of the low natural power level. Unless they could find him at first, it would not be easy to find the child in a sea of people.

“Don’t worry about this, my disciple Kanalita is now a Kami of earth, and she can find your child from the Lookout.” Kanalita had officially become the new Kami of Earth, so it was easy to find her for a little help.

“It’s good that we can find him.” Bardock breathed a sigh of relief, and a smile appeared on his face.

Saiyans were the most vulnerable when they were young. Once they passed this dangerous period, the Saiyans would become more and more vigorous and basically be able to grow into adulthood as long as no accidents occurred.

Next, Bardock and Asike just needed to wait patiently.

Every moment, Bardock used his ki to sense the changes above the earth, afraid to miss Gine.

Finally, on the second day, Bardock sensed not-so-weak ki in outer space approaching the earth. It was Gine’s ki because Kakarot’s ki was too weak to be sensed.

Bardock snapped open his eyes, and a hint of joy flashed in his dark eyes. He then got up with a start and flew off, searching for the direction where the ki landed.

.....

Two streams of light streaked across the dark starry sky in outer space, gradually approaching the earth. It was then slowly turning into two red balls of fire in the friction with the earth’s atmosphere.

Swoosh! Swoosh!

The two fireballs trailed a long tail flame and swept across the azure sky with a snort. Because of the different landing angles, the two fireballs gradually separated after entering the atmosphere; one glided along the sea and landed on a deserted island, while the other continued westward, heading toward a large primeval forest.

Sensing Gine’s ki, Bardock lifted off from the east and flew toward the isolated island overseas.

Meanwhile, on the island where Dr. Omori lived, April, Dr. Gero, and others tried to repair Jaco’s spaceship, while Tights and Jaco climbed up a cliff. Jaco put his hand on his forehead and watched the movement in the sky.

“The Saiyan’s spaceship is about to land around this time.”

“Why isn’t it coming yet? Has it already deviated from earth?” Tights asked.

“If that’s the case, then we’re in luck!”

“Whatever the case, the material of your holster is good; it fits well!” Tights then pointed to the purple holster on Jaco’s body.

Jaco said proudly, “That’s for sure because it’s not a holster; it’s my skin.”

“Huh, that means you are now shirtless...” Tights was looking up and down Jaco’s body, as naked as Ultraman, “So how did you go to the bathroom?”

Jaco pointed to several small holes on the top of his head, suddenly spurting out a few drops of liquid, “That’s it.”

“Ahhhhh, that’ll splash on someone else.” Tights dodged in a panic and pushed Jaco off the cliff with one hand.

“Hey, what are you doing? What should I do if I miss it?” Jaco floated on the surface and yelled at Tights.

Phew...

At this time, a flash of light crossed the atmosphere. It happened behind Jaco, thus avoiding Jaco’s observation.

In fact, if Tights didn’t push Jaco like in the original story, the young Kakarot would have been found by Jaco and was killed. So, there would be no later story of Son Goku and the Dragon Balls.

“Eh, I found the Saiyan’s spaceship!”

Jaco stabilized himself to fly up from under the cliff when he saw a flash of light from Gine’s spaceship, and his sharp eyes saw a light shadow flying towards the coast just in time.

“From the scouter, it should not be powerful. It seems that I can easily complete the mission.” Jaco nodded against the scouter, clattered into a bolt of lightning scampered up into the clouds. He then flew in the direction of an isolated island.

On the other hand, the spaceship was missed by Jaco flight all the way to the west, directly to the vicinity of the Great Azure Mountain, and then crashed in the interior of the deep primitive forest.

The huge impact destroyed the surrounding forest, making countless trees were bent to the ground, the whole tree was uprooted.

A five-meter-diameter impact crater appeared in the center of the impact point, and a black-smoking milky-white spaceship was embedded in the bare rock layer. There were black scrapes attached to the surface of the spaceship because of the violent impact.

Click!

The hatch of the spaceship opened, and a small child wearing battle-armor with a tail growing behind it stepped out from inside the spaceship.

Looking around confusedly, Kakarot cried and screamed grumpily.

Chapter 323

In the dense primitive forest, the sun was blocked by layers of leaves, and only a little could reach the ground. In the grass, the tiger eyeing the wild beast hiding in the shadows, showing its fangs, looking for a chance to strike at its prey.

Suddenly, a deafening bang broke the peace of the forest as Kakarot hobbled out of the spaceship’s impact crater and sat on top of the rocks at the edge of it.

Grumble~

Kakarot touched his stomach and felt a pang of hunger. Just at this time, two ghostly lights came from the forest, and at a closer look, it was a fierce beast that resembled a cheetah, and it was the beast's two huge eyes that shone with the ghostly lights.

“ROAR!”

The beast bowed towards Kakarot, with a huge roar as if announcing its territory. Then it showed its sharp fangs and looked at Kakarot fiercely.

Kakarot also glared in annoyance, grimacing at the beast, looking at it, somehow drooling down, he now desperately needs food to replenish his strength. The Saiyan's beastly nature was aroused at this moment, regardless of whether he could defeat the beast, Kakarot directly jumped towards the beast.

ROAR—

It seemed to feel its territory was violated; the beast roared even more angrily.

This time, Kakarot and the beast had already tangled. Kakarot bit on the beast's thigh, making the beast whimpered in pain, and twisted his head to bite down, but was blocked by the battle-armor on Kakarot. Now the beast was in trouble. Kakarot broke the beast's neck with great force and soon left the beast breathless.

Seeing the prey was killed, Kakarot shouted with joy and was about to eat when a shadow appeared in the sky, followed by a violent gale. A large dinosaur descended from the sky, with two strong claws in front of him, grabbing Kakarot's body, directly picking him up.

This was a blue dinosaur with black horns on the top of its head and both sides of its jaws, looking very formidable.

“Ahhh, let go of me.”

Feeling himself getting higher off the ground, Kakarot resisted fiercely. However, the blue dinosaur was indifferent, and its two dark eyes looked at Kakarot. A roar came out of his mouth as it grabbed Kakarot and flew higher.

Kakarot struggled furiously, his furry tail wrapped around the dinosaur's hand claws, twisted his body, and kicked the dragon on top of its white belly.

“Ow!”

The blue dinosaur suffered a burst of pain. The two claws in front of his body loosened, and Kakarot fell directly from a height of several hundred meters.

When the blue dinosaur came back to his senses, he swooped down and tried to re-capture Kakarot, but it was too late. Kakarot fell directly to the ground, and his head was smashed hard.

A finger gently touched Kakarot, making Kakarot's body trembled for a moment. He opened his eyes blankly and then cried out.

The blue dinosaur cocked its head, wings flapping behind it, and looked at Kakarot very innocently.

“Ka Ka Ka!”

“Ow~” the blue dinosaur roared in dissatisfaction.

At that moment, a figure flew from the sky. Son Gohan, in an orange martial arts suit, appeared between the blue dinosaur and Kakarot.

“Growlie, what’s going on?”

The dinosaur named Growlie cocked his head a little, not knowing anything.

If April were here, she would have recognized that this blue dinosaur, which was none other than her childhood best friend, the blue dinosaur Growlie, who had been living in the Great Azure Mountain for the past few decades. It was often running to the Primitive Mountain Range when something was wrong, and everyone in the nearby cities knew that the Kami School had such a cute dinosaur.

Son Gohan’s mouth corners some twitchy as he looked at Growlie, who was pretending to be confused with him at this time.

He turned his eyes to the small child sitting on the ground, wearing dark battle clothes, which was the most popular style in the universe. The child had a furry tail behind him....

Saiyans!

Son Gohan immediately recognized the identity of the child.

Another Saiyan actually came to earth. Son Gohan was a little surprised and looked at Kakarot. He then looked at the impact crater not far away; his heart already almost knew what was going on.

Son Gohan was originally living in seclusion with Annin at Mount Paozu. Because he heard a huge commotion from the back of the mountain, he thought something had happened, so he came to see what happened. He did not expect actually to pick up a Saiyan toddler.

He heard Muiyang said, Saiyan inhabited Planet Vegeta had been destroyed a few months ago, then this child might be like Broly, one of the few survivors.

“Meeting is destiny; what is your name?” Son Gohan picked up Kakarot with both hands.

“Hahahaha... hahaha...”

Kakarot was dancing with his hands. Because he hit the brain when he fell, his memory was all gone.

“It seems you don’t remember. How about I give you a name? I’ll call you... Son Goku, how about it?”

Kakarot, no, Son Goku seemed to understand and laugh. Son Gohan also laughed and patted the small child next to him. Son Gohan took Son Goku directly back to Mount Paozu, where he lived.

At this time, Annin was wearing a fashionable long shirt watering the flowers in the garden. When she saw Son Gohan return with a small child in his arms, she asked suspiciously, "What's with this child?"

Son Gohan laughed, "I picked him up in the forest, I named him Son Goku."

"Is he Saiyan?" Annin saw the tail behind Son Goku's buttocks and said in surprise.

"He should be the survivor of Planet Vegeta."

"There are not many Saiyans in Planet Vegeta. Do you think he could be related to the two people living in the back of the mountain?"

Although Annin had not seen Bardock and Asike with her own eyes, she heard about Bardock from the girls. They even had sensed the ki on Bardock and Asike's body a long time ago.

Son Gohan rubbed his chin, "It's possible."

"What a pity. I was planning to adopt him as our child! It seems that it is not possible to raise, or should we also have one?"

"What are you talking about!" Annin blushed and spat, "If it's really related to the two Saiyans there, you'll have to send the child there."

"That's the only way." Son Gohan said with a downward shake of his head.

"Hmm, I'm hungry." Son Goku pulled Son Gohan's collar and said innocently.

"I'll go prepare something delicious for you." Annin smiled, put down the kettle in his hand, and went to the kitchen to take out a portion of delicious food.

Son Goku looked brightly with both eyes. After getting permission from Son Gohan and Annin, Son Goku gobbled up the food, and it didn't take long until enough food for several people was eaten by him alone. Annin hurriedly went to prepare a few more, and finally, even the big bowl she used to eat ramen noodles at Mount Five Element was taken out.

"Saiyans have such a good appetite." Annin looked on with astonishment.

The large bowl full of ramen was enough to put down twenty ramen servings, but Son Goku quickly ate it up. It was good, as she used to know how to enjoy the taste of ramen.

"I've long heard that Saiyans can eat a lot, and now I see that it is true. I really worry for Muiyang; he has three Saiyans at home; how much food will be consumed in a day?"

Annin gave Son Gohan a blank look, "Their family is not short of money."

"I'm full."

Son Goku put down the big bowl and patted his stomach very contentedly.

"Such a cute kid. If only we could keep him at home all the time." Annin's eyes showed fondness.

Chapter 324

Son Gohan and Annin looked at Son Goku's innocent and cute appearance and wanted to adopt him. However, when they thought that Son Goku was a Saiyan and probably had a relationship with the two Saiyans in the back of the mountain, they were a little hesitant.

In the absence of a clear relationship, when they took the risk of adoption, it might cause some misunderstanding. So, it would be better to sort out the relationship.

However, even if they failed to adopt Son Goku, they could still take him as a disciple.

It should be known that Son Gohan's qualifications were not bad. After getting Muiyang's martial arts crystal, step by step, his strength had been steadily improving. Now he had a 300,000 power level, which was different from the original story. After using Kaio-ken, he was not much worse than Badak. Besides, he was well versed in the essence of earth's martial arts, so he could better instruct Son Goku.

He thought if Muiyang could say a few words, he should have no problem accepting a disciple.

"Son Goku, who are your parents? Do you remember?" Annin picked up Son Goku, took off the battle-armor he was wearing, and then used God Power to change into a set of clothes.

"Hee hee, I don't know!" Son Goku lay on Annin's knee.

Son Gohan explained aside, "He was hit in the head; he can't remember anything from before."

"Ka Ka ~"

The blue dinosaur, Growlie, patted his belly. It innocently barked a few times, then stuck out his tongue and licked Son Goku's face, causing Son Goku's body to be covered with saliva.

"In that case, let's go find Mu Yang and the others and ask what to do with this child. Let's talk to them." Annin thought for a while and made a more reasonable arrangement.

"Mm." Son Gohan nodded a little, then looked at Son Goku, who started playing with Growlie on the side.

Eastside of Mount Paozu.

The vast ocean and the azure water was deep and bottomless. Under the sea breeze, it rose a section of several meters high waves.

On an isolated island, the jagged and towering mountain peaks had undergone the baptism of ages, and the surface had cracked with sinuous cracks. The peaks' main body had become so fragile that stones would flake off from the surface when touched.

On this day, a spaceship suddenly crashed head-on into this mountain peak. With a loud boom, the mountain peak was destroyed, and the broken stones spilled all over the ground. With a click, the spaceship hatch opened, and a very petite looking female Saiyan climbed out of the spaceship.

Gently brushing off the sand and dust on her body, Gine coughed lightly twice and looked around somewhat nervously.

“Here, what is this place, and why am I here?”

The memory in her brain returned to the night she left Planet Vegeta. When she was sending Kakarot away with Bardock, Bardock suddenly slashed down a hand knife at her neck, after which she was unconscious.

“Bardock, where is Bardock? And everyone in Vegeta...” Gine’s face showed sadness. Her eyes red at once when she knew that it must be Bardock, who knocked her out and sent her from Planet Vegeta.

“Hey, Saiyan, don’t move. I’m Jaco of the Galactic Patrol!”

A black shadow flew to Gine’s place. Jaco drew the energy gun at his waist and pointed it at Gine, shouting a warning.

“Ah!” Gine, who was grieving, was taken aback and raised his hands in panic.

“Huh, how can it be a woman? Is there a problem with the information from the headquarters? It doesn’t matter, anyway; there is no mistake that it is a Saiyan. If I clean her up, my mission will be completed.”

Although there was some confusion about how the female Saiyan was in front of him, which was different from what the information said, his personality was rather big, and he didn’t care much. He only thought about finishing the mission quickly and then leaving the earth.

“Galactic Patrol...” Gine’s face went white all of a sudden.

“Haha, it seems you have also heard of our name. I am the elite patrolman of the Galactic Patrol, responsible for three-star territory areas.” Jaco did not forget to pose as he spoke. He then pointed his energy gun at Gina again, “Saiyan, tell us your purpose. What exactly do you intend to do when you enter earth?”

“I don’t have any purpose. I’m escaping from the refuge.”

Being pointed at by Jaco with the energy gun like this, Gine had to answer honestly.

“Did you said this is the earth?”

“That’s right.” Jaco nodded his head.

“Kakarot, Kakarot must also be on earth,” Gine murmured under his breath.

Jaco frowned for a moment, “Saiyan, what are you talking about?”

At that moment, a jet plane landed right after him, and Tights jumped down from the plane. She saw that Jaco was actually pointing a gun at a soft woman and walked up and smashed Jaco hard on the head.

“Jaco, what are you doing. It’s rude to point a gun at a woman.”

Jaco touched the hit area and yelled, "Idiot, this guy is a Saiyan. As long as it's a Saiyan, it's dangerous."

"Is she the Saiyan you're talking about?"

Tights was stunned for a moment; she heard Jaco talk about it. Saiyans were a rough and barbaric race, looking exactly like earthlings, only with an extra tail behind them.

Tights looked at the tail coiled around Gine's waist.

"Huh, there was a tail..." However, seeing Gine's soft appearance, Tights did not believe it, "You say she is dangerous. I see you are more dangerous than her!"

"Do not be deceived by her appearance. Saiyans are dangerous; she came to earth most likely with bad intentions."

"That... I am a non-combatant. I usually only responsible for handling meat food, and I hate fighting. I come here not to invade." Gine immediately explained.

Tights looked at Jaco and said, "Look, she isn't an intruder at all."

Jaco was furious, "Don't listen to her nonsense."

Jaco only thought of completing his mission early. Besides, the mission given to him by the Galactic King was to clean up the Saiyans who entered the earth. The energy gun in his hand was aimed at Gine, and a blinding energy light was ejected from the muzzle.

Phew!

The energy ray shot towards Gine. If this energy ray hit her, she would be killed even if she had a Saiyan physique.

There was a snap when the energy ray was about to hit Gine. A figure arrived in time to get the ray of slap down, making Jaco's attack directly knocked away.

Bardock looked at Jaco with an unfriendly face while holding Gine, "Someone from the Galactic Patrol, were you the one who wanted to hurt my wife just now?"

"Bardock!" Gine shouted in surprise.

"Another Saiyan!" Jaco was startled.

"Bardock, so you are here. How is Kakarot? What happened to Planet Vegeta?" Gine appeared after Bardock and settled down. She then hurriedly asked about the situation of Kakarot and Planet Vegeta.

Bardock said, "Kakarot is also on this planet; we will find him. As for Planet Vegeta.... it has been destroyed. If not for the final intervention of Teacher Mu, probably even I will die on Planet Vegeta."

Gine froze and said gloomily, "Is Planet Vegeta still destroyed? However, as long as you and Kakarot are not in trouble, everything is fine."

“What do you say? What should we do about this Galaxy Patrol guy?” Bardock looked at Jaco with an unfriendly face.

Jaco was glared at by Bardock, and the powerful aura immediately made Jaco had a cold sweat. Looking at Bardock’s anger, Jaco’s expression became nervous.

‘What to do? This guy seems to be very powerful! Can’t you see he just knocked the laser energy away? If we fight, I’m not a match for him.’

“Hahahaha, it’s a misunderstanding. This must be a misunderstanding.”

Jaco smiled sarcastically, rubbing his head with one hand. He hid his energy gun behind his back with the other hand and yielded in a very uncouth manner.

“Bardock, forget it. After all, the other party is the Galactic Patrol, so it’s better not to offend.”

The current Planet Vegeta had been destroyed. Galactic Patrol was a behemoth for the Saiyans, so Gine couldn’t help but be a little worried.

“Hum, since Gine said so, I will let you go. However, I warn you; if you dare to publish our news, I will definitely go to Galactic Patrol to ask for a statement, when....”

“No, no, I, Jaco, always keep my word.” Jaco hurriedly shook his head; his purple skin was seeping cold sweat.

“Hmph!”

After living on earth for a period of time, Bardock knew that he needed to change his words and actions. He could no longer conduct himself in the world by Planet Vegeta’s standards; otherwise, the current Jaco would surely have been in a different place.

Staring hard at Jaco, Bardock picked up Gine and rushed toward the clouds.

“Hoo....”

After Bardock and Gine left, Jaco just breathed a sigh of relief, and his whole body fell limply to the ground, “That was close. I almost die.”

Tights looked at Jaco with contempt, “How can you say you are an elite patrolman? You were frightened by a glance.”

Jaco retorted, “You don’t know the power of that man just now. That male Saiyan has at least a million power levels! He can shatter the earth with one fist.”

Tights was shocked and surprised, “No way, the Saiyan is that powerful?”

“I do not believe it either, but just now, I clearly felt the terrifying energy contained in him. If not for my resourcefulness and competence, I would have been killed by now. Alas, this place on earth is too dangerous, I’d better leave early!” Jaco’s heart contemplated a wave. He knocked his palm and made a decision.

A gentleman didn't stand under a dangerous wall. It was better to run away before it was too late.

Tights said nervously, "If you go, what should we do if the Saiyans want to destroy the earth!"

Jaco said, "I can't do anything about that."

Tights cursed, "Bastard. How can you claim to be an elite patrolman when you're useless!"

"Tights, there is no doubt that I am an elite patrolman, but it does not say that elite patrolman are capable of resisting such a powerful person!" Jaco seriously retorted.

Tights was so angry that she stomped her foot. She thought that Jaco was really unreliable. She then thought of Muiyang, the God of martial arts, and now she could only go to him.

"I hope Uncle Muiyang will have a solution." Tights said worriedly.

Great Azure Mountain.

After Bardock picked Gine, he took her to his place.

"Bardock, how are we going to find Kakarot?"

"Don't worry, Teacher Mu said he already has a way... let's go to Teacher Mu's place and see."

So Bardock and Gine immediately went to the place where Muiyang and the others lived. Because the distance between the two was not far, Bardock soon arrived at Muiyang's house.

At this time, Muiyang was training two children in the courtyard, Broly and blonde Launch, who were honestly swinging their fists and feet. These movements were fundamental for Broly and Launch, but it wasn't easy to make each movement standard and even integrate them into their own actions.

Bardock opened the door and said, "Teacher Mu, I hope you can help us find Kakarot."

Muiyang looked at Bardock and Gine, then smiled faintly. He pointed to several wisps of ki approaching in the distance and said, "Do not rush; the answer you want will soon arrive."

In his senses, Son Gohan and Annin were coming his way. There was a very faint breath next to him, which should be Kakarot, Bardock and Gine's child.

Bardock and Gine looked confused.

Just then, Bardock also sensed two powerful ki that was approaching. This two ki he was familiar with the two people who lived not far from his residence.

One of them was very powerful and might be able to fight with him, while the other one's ki was extraordinarily profound and had a feeling as if it was not there.

Bardock had sensed Son Gohan's ki when he first arrived on earth. However, because of his first arrival, Bardock had been very low-key, so even though they lived very close to each other, they did not visit to avoid causing misunderstandings.

"Teacher Mu, could it be that their arrival has something to do with the whereabouts of Kakarot?" Bardock said with a serious face. Gine beside him also became excited when he heard Bardock's words.

Muyang smiled without saying anything and looked on indifferently, "There is no hurry, look they are already here."

When he finished speaking, two more people were in the courtyard, a man and a woman. They both had black hair; the man was handsome and attractive, while the woman was pretty and stunning. They were standing together, emitting harmonious ki. Son Gohan had been practicing in the Mount Five Element for many years, and his body was gradually tainted with the God's ki.

What excited Bardock and Gine was that the woman in red was holding their child, Kakarot, in her arms.

"Kakarot!"

Gine saw the child in Annin's arms and her eyes instantly reddened.

"Is this your child?" Annin noticed the Saiyan couple beside Muyang and instantly understood that they were the parents of Son Goku.

"Yes, yes, Kakarot is our child." Gine excitedly walked up and tried to hug Kakarot. However, Kakarot didn't seem to know Gine and kept going into Annin's arms.

"What's going on? Why doesn't Kakarot recognize me anymore?" Gine said sadly.

"We picked up this child when there was a little accident. This child has lost his previous memory because he fell on his head. Gohan and I were going to adopt him, but considering his identity, so we decided to visit Muyang here first and didn't expect to meet you guys."

Muyang thought to himself, sincerely admiring the powerful inertia of the storyline.

"It's all my fault. If we had found him earlier, he wouldn't have been like this." Gine put some self-blame on herself.

Bardock went forward to take Gine's shoulders and comforted her, "As long as Kakarot is okay, it doesn't matter that his memories are lost. Let's take good care of him in the future."

Kakarot was just a child of more than three years old; how much memory could he have? Even if he forgets his parents, he could get along with them for a while later, and they could re-train him again.

Gine nodded emotionally, trying to exchange feelings with Son Goku. Perhaps, it was the bloodline flow of affection; Son Goku gradually began to smile at Gine, making Gine satisfied.

Seeing his wife and son get along well, Bardock smiled heartily, and his expression became serious when he looked at Son Gohan.

“My name is Bardock, Saiyan from Planet Vegeta!”

Son Gohan looked at Bardock seriously, “Son Gohan, earthling.”

“You are very strong; when you have time, we can spar.” Bardock laughed.

“You are welcome anytime. I live in Mount Paozu, next to Great Azure Mountain.... Hey, I have not yet cut a sparring match with a Saiyan; I think it will be interesting.” Son Gohan showed a sunny and warm smile.

Son Goku’s father was a strong man from the temperament, and his strength was perhaps even above his own. If he did not use the Kaio-ken, he might not be his opponent, which made Son Gohan’s long-lost blood boil up.

The only people on earth who were stronger than him were Muiyang, Melia, and Melis. However, Son Gohan knew the gap between them, and comparing with the three of them was a complete search for abuse. So, after excluding them, there was surprisingly no one on earth who could be his opponent.

Now there was an additional Bardock, making his days more interesting in the future.

“When we just picked up this child, we thought it was an orphan, so we named him Son Goku. You are his parents. Can you tell me what his original name was?” On the side, Annin and Gine discussed Son Goku.

“The boy’s Saiyan name is Kakarot!” Gine stroked Son Goku’s head and laughed lightly.

“The name is rather strange; I think the name Son Goku is perfect,” Annin said with some regret.

Standing aside them, Muiyang suddenly said, “Give him two names, Saiyan name Kakarot, the earth’s name is Son Goku.”

“Son Goku.”

If he weren’t being called Son Goku, it would feel weird.

Annin’s eyes lit up, “This idea is quite good.”

Gine said, “I have no problem with it.”

Finally, after some discussion, Bardock coupled with Son Gohan, and Annin made some decisions about the Son Goku.

Considering the future growth of the Son Goku, Bardock and Gine intend to let the Son Goku worship the Son Gohan as a teacher. Son Gohan would instruct the Son Goku to train because Son Gohan was more adept than Bardock, while Bardock would teach the Son Goku to fight.

Muyang watched all this silently, thinking that Son Goku's future would be taken care of by Bardock and his wife and Son Gohan and Annin together. This would make the starting point be far beyond the beginning of the original story.

At this time, Broly, who has not spoken since the beginning, came to Son Goku's side. Broly was a little bigger than Son Goku, so he was taller than Son Goku.

"Hello, my name is Broly...," Broly said coyly.

"Hey!" Son Goku smiled broadly at Broly.

Blonde Launch's demeanor was much ruder, relying on the fact that she was a few years older than Broly and Son Goku. She was determined to be the senior sister, "After that, you two follow me. This senior sister will protect you."

With a bang, there was a chestnut knocked on her head. Muyang reprimanded in a good-natured manner, "If you dare to be so rude again, Launch, go run around the Great Azure Mountain every day."

The blonde Launch flattened her mouth, feeling that she could not afford to provoke, and hid to the side.

At this time, Bardock saw Broly on the side, vaguely felt the energy contained in Broly's body, and was surprised, "This child's body contains a terrifying power."

"Broly is my adopted Son with the girls. Because the power in the body is too strong, he was exiled from Planet Vegeta by King Vegeta very early."

Bardock froze and immediately nodded thoughtfully, "So it is the adopted Son of Teacher Mu. His future is unlimited."

Muyang smiled and did not deny.

Broly, as a legendary Super Saiyan, the starting point was too high. If he were not restrained, the overpowering power would instead damage his body. Surpassing Son Goku and Vegeta in the original story was no problem at all.

Just at this time, there was a breaking roar in the sky.

Tights was driving an airplane to Muyang's residence.

"Uncle Muyang. There is a big problem; the earth is in danger... Eh, how can you guys are also here?!"

Tights yelled loudly as soon as she got off the plane. However, just when she was halfway through, she saw that the two Saiyans, Bardock, and Gine, were also there. Her cold sweat broke out, and she stood there dumbfounded.

“Tights, what did you just say about the earth?”

“No, nothing. I seem to have made a mistake.... hehe....” Tights didn’t know what to say for a while. She was standing in place and giggling.

Bardock lightly glanced at Tights and said, “She may be talking about Gine and me. There was a little accident when I searched for Gine!”

Next, Bardock told what happened before.

Two dark eyes carefully surveyed Bardock. It was hard to imagine that this body actually had a million power levels inside, just as Jaco said.

‘The Saiyans.’

Listening to what Jaco said, Saiyan was a Warrior Race in the universe. Maybe she had another good subject to write about.

“Tights, where is Jaco? Did he return?”

“Don’t mention him. That useless guy, he went back to fix his spaceship. I should have known that I shouldn’t have let my sister help him.” Tights’ heart was angry at the mention of Jaco. The Galactic Patrolman elite, who immediately dodged away when he encountered something dangerous, was too unrighteous.

“This is very much like Jaco’s style.” Muyang smiled.

Wasn’t Jaco such a character? He could deal with small things, but he ran faster than anyone else in front of big things.

Chapter 326

The next few days, Son Goku lived under the care of Bardock, his wife, and Son Gohan. Son Gohan was responsible for instructing Son Goku on training, while Bardock was leading him in practical combat. Gine and Annin were taking care of him, so Son Goku’s life was carefree.

Son Goku’s qualifications were meager. Even under Son Gohan and Bardock, two masters together, his progress speed was still plodding.

After a few months, his power level only rose from 4 points to 7 points.

“Kakarot’s power is too slow to improve.”

Sometimes Bardock was depressed. Although he was also born as a Low-Level Warrior, he wasn’t as weak as his son!

“There is no hurry. You used to be not that powerful back then.”

At this time, as the eldest, Asike didn't have many worries as he took a sip of sake. In his opinion, his son was able to grow from a Low-Level Warrior to a powerful warrior with a million power levels. So, even if his grandson was a little worse, it was only a matter of time before he surpassed him, a master with close to 10,000 power levels.

Bardock shook his head, “I was not that bad as a child.”

After hesitating for a long time, Bardock finally went to seek answers from Muiyang. However, Muiyang said very casually, “Son Goku is a rare martial arts genius and will be more successful than you in the future. If he carries out the original accumulation now, he will accumulate more in the future.”

‘A few months, from 4 points of power level rose to 7 points of power level. How could you said he was a martial arts genius?’ Bardock showed some incomprehension.

After getting Muiyang's answer, Bardock's heart finally settled down. Next, with Son Gohan, he continued to instruct Son Goku patiently. However, Son Goku's speed was like a snail's pace, which made Bardock very depressed.

Finally, when Son Goku turned four years old, which was almost a year after Planet Vegeta's destruction, Son Goku's power level broke 10 points.

Bardock simply burst into tears. After a half year of teaching, Son Goku finally showed some results.

However, compared with the next-door Broly, Bardock was speechless. He was worthy of being Teacher Mu's child; he was simply could not be compared to.

Time rushes, years were like a shuttle. More than a year had passed since the destruction of Planet Vegeta.

North Area east side, Planet Ulliel.

This was a Middle-Level Planet. The gravity of the planet was about five times that of the earth. Planet Ulliel had half land and half ocean, and there was a kind of intelligent life called blue lizard.

On this day, it was raining in the sky of Planet Ulliel. Suddenly, three brightly shining fireballs fell from outer space. Accompanied by a few loud clouds, three milky-white spherical spaceships crashed out of a vast ring-shaped crater, then from the spaceship stepped out of the three Saiyans wearing battle-armor.

King Vegeta precisely transferred these three Saiyans to the North Area Eastside. After a long journey of more than a year, they finally arrived at Planet Ulliel.

“Nappa, determine the surrounding environment.”

A child with spiky hair floated into the air and commanded a burly youth more than two meters tall.

“Okay, let me see the strength of the planet.”

The youth named Nappa laughed and pressed the scouter in his ear to detect it. Soon, a series of data was displayed on top of the scouter.

“Prince Vegeta, this planet is not strong. The most powerful one is only 2000 power levels. I can kill them all with a little effort without your help.”

“The most powerful one is only 2000 power levels, then why did Planet Vegeta send this prince here?”

Vegeta was a little puzzled. He waved his hand for Nappa to contact Planet Vegeta headquarters, but after a long time, Nappa could not get in touch with Planet Vegeta, making the doubt in his heart was growing.

Next to him, Raditz received an encrypted message from Bardock about the unprecedented catastrophe on Planet Vegeta. They had sent his brother Kakarot to a planet called earth, so he could go over to see when he had time.

Raditz read the message and delete it. What was the earth? He had never heard of it; hence he wouldn't go there!

However, the message of the catastrophe attracted Raditz's attention. He tried to log on to the scouter's contact platform and found Planet Vegeta's information in the universe's network. The scouter's contact platform was connected to the platform of King Cold's forces, so even on the Eastside of the North Area, they could still communicate.

Raditz carefully consulted the message of Planet Vegeta...

It said: A year ago, Planet Vegeta suffered a meteorite swarm impact. Planet Vegeta's failure to rescue and was completely destroyed, causing all Saiyans to die in it. After investigation, no life was found to escape from Planet Vegeta.

There were a few short lines on it, but it stunned Raditz. Was this the catastrophe mentioned in his father's message?

“Prince Vegeta, something has happened to Planet Vegeta.” Raditz's voice was trembling.

“What happened?” Vegeta asked impatiently.

Raditz cried, “The news from above said that Planet Vegeta was hit by a meteorite and was destroyed. All Saiyans were killed in action.”

“.....”

“.....”

Vegeta and Nappa were also immediately dumbfounded. After a while, Vegeta regained a cold expression.

“Planet Vegeta is gone. Anyway, it is just some useless race.”

“Planet Vegeta, there is no more....” Nappa shivered as he felt like the sky was going to fall.

The scene fell into a silence. Whether Vegeta or Nappa’s heart was very complicated at this time, they didn’t have to go back to complete any task because Planet Vegeta was gone. What was the use of completing their tasks?

Suddenly, there was a loud rumble.

The gloomy hazy sky dropped a fireball. Vegeta looked up to distinguish another Saiyan spaceship. Immediately, he threw his worries to the back of his mind and flew straight towards the location where the spaceship fell.

About two hundred kilometers away in a depression, a female Saiyan of about eleven or twelve years old climbed out of the spaceship.

Shasley clear face was light as frost, and her body had shown a young girl’s soft winding line. She said secretly in her heart, “This is Planet Ulliel. First of all, I have to rejoin with Prince Vegeta.”

Shasley received the task to follow Prince Vegeta and take care of Prince Vegeta’s daily life.

For the sparsely populated Saiyans, this arrangement’s meaning was more than apparent, and Shasley actually knew it by heart.

Although for the always arrogant and talented Shasley, this arrangement had no regard in her opinions, considering that the other side was Prince Vegeta, she couldn’t refuse. After all, Prince Vegeta’s reputation as a genius had long been spread in Planet Vegeta, so to be with Prince Vegeta was also a great honor.

“Hey, that woman over there, are you a Saiyan too?” A slightly childish voice sounded.

Shasley looked up and saw a small child floating in the sky. Shasley’s eyes lit up, “He is Prince Vegeta. I wonder how strong he is?”

Thinking of this, Shasley did not answer Vegeta’s question but directly rushed towards Vegeta and gathered a blazing ball of energy in her hand at the same time.

“How dare you!” Vegeta was dumbfounded and angrily yelled up.

Vegeta began to fight back. Although Vegeta was considered a genius-level character, after all, he was still young. His strength was far less powerful than Shasley.

After several attacks back and forth, Vegeta was surprisingly suppressed by Shasley. Nappa and Raditz were trembling this time, simply didn’t dare to approach the two of them.

After the test, Shasley smiled lightly. A lock of hair like a cloud fell naturally behind her as she said, “Worthy of Prince Vegeta, you are really a genius character.”

Vegeta’s face was gloomy, “Who the hell are you?”

Shasley landed on the ground and bowed on one knee towards Vegeta, “I’m Saiyan Elite Warrior, Shasley. King Vegeta has instructed me to follow Your Highness, the Prince.”

Chapter 327

Looking at the female Saiyan, Shasley, kneeling in front of him, Vegeta slightly froze.

“Are you the Elite Warrior that my father sent to follow me?”

“Yes, my father, Oakert, is a follower of King Vegeta.” Shasley answered meticulously.

In the Saiyan concept, male and female Saiyans who form an ordinary squad were very likely to develop into a husband and wife relationship in the future. As for her father, Oakert, and King Vegeta’s intention, Shasley had already guessed that it was meant for her and Vegeta to get along well.

Although there was some disgust at this arranged marriage, she did not hate Prince Vegeta, who was a few years younger than her.

Looking at the appearance of beautiful yet cold words and actions of the Shasley, Vegeta choked. This woman was a few years older than him, so the key was that he couldn’t beat her!

However, the good thing was that she was still respectful, which made Vegeta slightly comfortable—as for her father, Oakert, who was his father’s right-hand man, it explained her famous origin. Compared to Nappa, if he wanted to put a grade, Shasley’s origin was still above Nappa.

“You stand up first.”

“Yes!”

Shasley came to Vegeta’s side.

“Since you were sent here by father and Oakert, you should already know the news of Planet Vegeta, right?” Vegeta said lightly.

“Planet Vegeta?” Shasley froze for a moment with puzzlement in her eyes.

“It seems that you do not know...” Vegeta looked at her and said, “I just received news that Planet Vegeta.... has been destroyed. ”

“What, Planet Vegeta has been destroyed?!” Shasley face changed significantly. The cold expression was instantly filled with dismay.

“Yes. It was destroyed in a meteorite swarm impact. It is said that... there is no survivor on Planet Vegeta. You know, my father seems to be planning something big before. The Saiyans outside is returning to Vegeta one after another. So...”

“....Now the surviving Saiyans are only four of us.”

Looking at Shasley, whose face was slightly white, Vegeta secretly sneered, ‘This woman, hum, she looked like she was very capable of fighting, and now she showed such an expression. In the end, she was just a woman.’

“Don’t worry. Just follow me in the future.”

“Yes!” Shasley responded. The cold expression on her face slightly dispersed.

“By the way, what is your power level?”

“3166.”

“Well, it’s not bad. Seeing that you’re not too old, you’re much more powerful than Nappa.” After glancing at Shasley, whose figure had just been revealed, Vegeta gave a rare compliment. He then looked at the big silly guy like Nappa and thought, ‘How could the gap be so big?’

“Raditz, you seem to have something to say?” Looking at Raditz, who rushed over to the side, Vegeta said with a frown.

“No... no.” Raditz was startled. He originally wanted to say that the Saiyans survived weren’t just the four of them. However, thinking of his brother, who was born with a single-digit power level, he didn’t feel the need to say it because it seemed humiliating.

“It’s not good,” Vegeta grunted. Among the several people, Raditz’s strength was the worst, making Vegeta was very unhappy to see him.

“In the future, the group will be divided into two. Me and Shasley, then Nappa and Raditz. I tell you, as the last Saiyan, don’t disgrace the Saiyan Race!”

“Yes!!!”

They were amazed and answered in unison.

On Heaven’s Grand Kai’s Planet, there were many training spaces where natural attributes could be taken to the extreme. The Yardratian built these training spaces after spending countless years, and training inside them could greatly accelerate training speed.

These training spaces were Grand Kai’s most favored possessions.

On Grand Kai’s Planet, a chamber filled with thunder and lightning.

The thunder and lightning space. As the name implied, it was an extreme environment full of electric arcs and thunder everywhere, in which countless thunder and lightning blasted down every second. It was a harsh place where the existence of life was intolerable. These thunderbolts were different from the natural environment’s lightning; they were terrifying and harmful than lightning. They were the most primitive destructive force generated by giant stars’ decay, black hole collisions, and cosmic thunderbolts.

They were 10,000 times more terrifying than the lightning in the natural environment.

At this time in the lightning space, Muyang and Melissa were sitting at the edge, with ghostly blue lightning flashing around them from time to time. These lightning meanders were long like snakes with spirituality, gulping the chilling faith.

Shortly after the Bardock family reunion, Muiyang and the girls continued to stay on earth for some time. During this time, Muiyang's strength was steadily improving. However, as the power gets stronger, the difficulty of upgrading was also increasing.

Because he was not a Saiyan, he couldn't skyrocket his power level. Muiyang's power was the normal power level. His power was mighty, but there were no shortcuts, so he could only train diligently

Imagine when a Saiyan and an earthling reach 3 million power levels at the same time. The Saiyan could find the way to transform into a Super Saiyan and instantly had 150 million power level, but if the earthling wanted to keep pace, they could only work harder and pay endless hardships.

However, there was a problem here. When the earthlings worked out with difficulty to reach 150 million power level, the previous Saiyans had long since shifted and reached 7.5 billion.

The 50 times gap was dreadful.

Although there was still a lot of time before the original story began, Muiyang already had a sense of urgency in his heart.

The strength improvement of the Dragon Ball World was quite overbearing. Maybe in a few months, the pattern would change drastically. Look at Krillin and Tien Shinhan; in the early stage, they could still keep up with Son Goku, but later with Frieza and the Androids' emergence, their status fell by the thousands. They even became cheerleaders shouting at the back—highlighting the power of the protagonist team.

Under the Acceleration World's speeding ability, Muiyang was confident not to be left behind later. However, a chase was not what Muiyang pursued. If he wanted to do it, he would be a master, far ahead, not like Vegeta, who had been watching Son Goku's back and chasing.

With a sense of practice increasingly became difficult, Muiyang thought of the training space on top of Grand Kai's Planet. So, he deliberated and brought Melia and Melis to Grand Kai's Planet for training.

Because his dimension had reached Level 5, Grand Kai gave him the honor of allowing them to stay on the Grand Kai's Planet for training.

Time had passed, and it was already four years. At this time, it was the fifth year after Planet Vegeta's destruction.

After four years of hard training, Muiyang's strength had increased rapidly. His power level from the initial 300 million leaped to 1.6 billion, which was a value that Muiyang did not dare to think about at the beginning of his journey.

After all, few masters in the universe had more than 1 billion power levels.

On the other hand, Melissa's training was not so smooth. She seemed to have encountered a bottleneck in her training. Her normal power level was stuck at 22 million; even if she turned into Golden Eyes mode, her power level was only 1.1 billion, which was still a big difference compared to Muiyang's normal power level.

It could be seen that Melissa's Legendary Super Saiya physique was not the same as Broly's Legendary Super Saiyan physique.

Melissa was reincarnated from the original demon soul. Combined with Planet Sala's extremely high bloodline talent, she became a "Legendary Super Saiyan." While Broly's bestial "Legendary Super Saiyan" was a completely different concept. At least, Muiyang had never heard that Broly on the original story would have any training bottleneck.

In the original story, Broly appeared when his normal power level was frighteningly high. The only flaw might be that at the beginning, he did not know how to transform into a Legendary Super Saiyan and pass the Legendary Super Saiyan transformation.

However, when Broly learned to transform into a Legendary Super Saiyan, the power jumped to the extent that it could compete with Super Saiyan God Son Goku and Super Saiyan Blue Vegeta.

In the lightning space, swarms of thunderbolts hovered in the void, emitting a faint ghostly blue glow...

Muiyang and Melissa could only practice at the edge of the thunderbolt space. They didn't dare to go deeper into the core, where the purple lightning shone because it looked creepy.

Rumble!

A thunderbolt came straight at Muiyang and Melissa, and the blue electric aura flashed by, leaving a devilish arc.

Muiyang suddenly opened his eyes. His eyes flashed with divine light, and his first shone with a crystal light directly blasted at the lightning in the sky.

Peng!

The thunderbolt was broken apart by the rough force, turning into countless tiny wisps like swimming snakes.

Puff!

The tiny arcs of lightning strayed on Muiyang's body. His clothes emitted a "sizzling" sound and were instantly blown to pieces, then quickly recovered and withstood the baptism of lightning. Muiyang's entire body tingled, and every cell was accumulating a tremendous amount of energy.

"It hurts!"

Tilting his head up and roaring, Muiyang jumped up again with agility in his body, breaking several lightning attacks in a row.

"You're enjoying yourself while I'm a lot behind." Looking at Muiyang's spirited appearance, Melissa said sourly.

Her husband's power level had reached 1.6 billion, but she was still trapped at 22 million; even if she turned into a Golden Eyes state, she only had 1.1 billion. Obviously, she was a Saiyan and should be more powerful than earthlings. However, when it came to Muiyang, it all didn't count.

Muiyang laughed and pinched Melissa's delicate face with his hand, "Saiyan's greatest advantage is the ability to transform. The normal power level is not necessarily more powerful than other races in the universe. Since your normal power level has hit a bottleneck, it may be a good idea to take advantage of the transforming ability at this time so that your body can adapt to the higher power level and break the bottleneck in turn.”

In the original story, Son Goku’s Base Form Power Level hadn’t been very prominent. Especially after becoming a Super Saiyan, his direction of training became a more powerful transformation ability. From “Super Saiyan” to “Ascended Super Saiyan,” and then the “Full Power Super Saiyan” to “Super Saiyan 2,” the search was for amplification of energy multiplier, not the promotion of Base Form Power Level.

Son Goku Base Form Power Level in Majin Buu Saga was probably based on Majin Buu’s 20 billion power level. Son Goku’s normal power level was only about 50 million there, but his Super Saiyan 3 state was probably comparable to Majin Buu.

Melissa slapped off Muiyang’s hand in depression, “But I can’t increase the normal power level, and the Golden Eyes Transformation is just like that. I feel like I’m going to become a salted fish.”

Muiyang said, “Your Golden Eyes Transformation will increase 50 times your power level. This cannot be changed, so in that case, why not try to transcend the Golden Eyes Stage Transformation?”

“Ascended the Golden Eyes Stage Transformation?” Melissa’s expression became odd.

“Yes, ascended the Golden Eyes Stage Transformation, to reach a higher level of transformation.” Muiyang said.

“Ascended the Golden Eyes Stage Transformation,” which was borrowed from the concept of Son Goku, Vegeta, and other people “Ascended Super Saiyan” state. It was based not only on Base Form Power Level improvement but also on improving the Base Form Power Level. The overall promotion of Body Transformation’s amplification multiplier was also carried out.

If the “Super Saiyan” increase was 50 times the power level, then “Ascended Super Saiyan” was almost 65 times the increase. A more complete and powerful transformation to “Full Power Super Saiyan” was 80 times the increase, all the way to Super Saiyan 2 to reach 100 times the increase. Overall was a gradual process.

Here to explain, the so-called “Ascended Super Saiyan” was not merely to improve Base Form Power Level, but also to increase the number of times. Otherwise, it was not worthy of the name “Ascended Super Saiyan.”

What was beyond was the overall level surpasses “Super Saiyan.”

If only to improve the Base Form Power Level, Son Goku had done so when he returned from Planet Namek!

Compared with Son Goku in the Planet Namek period, did Android Saga’s Son Goku Base Form improve? Yes, there was an increase. Even the improvement was said to be ten times (Planet Namek period Son Goku 150 million power level. In the Androids Saga, after healed from Heart Virus it was equivalent to Android 17, which was about 1.2 billion power level.) However, at that time, why didn’t Son Goku or Vegeta say that their level had surpassed Super Saiyan?

The answer was simple; the essence was different.

One was 50 times increase; one was 65 times increase.

After the Hyperbolic Time Chamber training, Son Goku and Son Gohan directly mobilized the Full Power Super Saiyan level. Adapt to Super Saiyan’s power under Base Form, to play a more powerful Body Transformation power level; it was the whole 80 times increase.

“Even more powerful Golden Eyes Transformation!” Melissa’s eyes snapped open.

Muyang’s words were a great inspiration to Melissa. She used to be dead set on improving her normal power level to the point of hitting a bottleneck but never thought about making her Golden Eyes state even more powerful.

Thinking about it differently, if she broke through her current level and reached an even more powerful transformation, wouldn’t the current bottleneck be solved as well?

This was possible. The more Melissa thought about it, the more excited she seemed to have found a path to become stronger.

This was the so-called good work, which was necessary to sharpen its tools. If the Saiyan Body Transformation was compared to a device, the normal power level was like using the person’s original power who uses the device. The speed of plowing the ground was fast, and the quality of the ground pressed was good only if one’s strength was high and the hoe was pleasing.

“This path seems to work!”

The Legendary Super Saiyan’s best thing was that it was continually breaking through the limits of Body Transformation in battle!

At that moment, Melissa began to leap and try. She left Muyang behind and couldn’t wait to study up in the corner of the lightning space alone. At this time, he suddenly thought, when Melissa wanted to transcend the Golden Eyes state, did she directly turn into a Super Saiyan, or did she turn into another state?

“Her Golden Eyes Transformation is already comparable to Super Saiyan, both 50 times increase. It seems unnecessary to turn into a Super Saiyan at this time....”

Muyang shook his head; he couldn’t figure it out unless Melissa became a Super Saiyan that wasn’t 50 times increased in the future.... Just like Broly Super Saiyan state in the original story.

‘Boy, Melissa would not breakthrough and then directly overtake me, right?’

This was impossible. It was easy for her to take a big step ahead, but she couldn’t overtake him. Otherwise, his majesty would be gone.

‘Well, let’s train!’

After Melissa began to comprehend more powerful transformations, Muiyang also refreshed himself. To maintain the status in the family, he also had to work hard to improve the strength!

Compared with the Legendary Super Saiyan training speed, wasn't it looking for abuse?

He was thinking about it while immersing himself in training.

.....

Time flew by, and another year passed.

Today, Muiyang woke up from his training. He stood up and shook his fist. His body immediately resounded with a "crackling" sound, every cell in his body was full of vitality.

"I've reached 2 billion power level so quickly."

Muiyang felt the power in his body, and a faint smile spread across his face.

At this time, Muiyang glanced towards Melissa, and a delicate figure appeared in the electric light. Her black hair was slightly raised, and there was divine light flowing in her eyes; her golden eyes became even more beautiful.

Suddenly, overwhelming ki swept over. By the impact of this aura, Muiyang's face suddenly tightened, incredulously said, "No way. How can she broke through so quickly?"

Melissa's ki caused Muiyang to be somewhat depressed because it was intimidating for the soul. It was ki that was like a demon enveloped Muiyang's chest as if a hammer was directly smashed his heart.

The energy intensity was actually not much worse than his.

"Melissa, have you broke through?" Muiyang asked in surprise.

Melissa's elegant figure came to Muiyang's side, and her chin leaned on Muiyang's shoulder, "Yes, oh, I have completed the transcendence, even my normal power level has also increased."

Melissa spun around in place and threw her arms with force. Amazing energy burst out, rolling waves of air spread in all directions, crushing all the dust in a moment. Melissa was at the center of the wave, and her majestic appearance was like that of an independent goddess.

"Ascended Golden Eyes State with 65 times increase. I will name this state as Golden Eyes State Second Grade." Melissa's clear voice sounded.

Like the "Ascended Super Saiyan," the Golden Eyes Stage Second Grade was a small breakthrough stage. Far from reaching a level comparable to Super Saiyan 2.

"Black hair, golden eyes, normal state 3000 with power level, transformed state 1.95 billion!" Muiyang narrowed his eyes and cast his power to resist.

Of course, Melissa's improvement was obviously no match for Son Gohan in the Hyperbolic Time Chamber. That boy was purely plugged in, directly crossing all stages of the first stage of the Super Saiyan to reach the full power of the Super Saiyan. The same went to Son Goku in Planet Namek Saga. In one month, he improved from 8000 power level to 150 million power level.

Compared with those hangers-on, Melissa's improvement speed was not fast.

"Hehe, if it weren't for your reminder, I wouldn't have reached my current strength."
Melissa very generously attributed the credit to Muyang's reminder.

Muyang stroked Melissa's head, Melissa smiled lightly, and her body split into two people, Melia and Melis. They maintained the Golden Eyes State Second Grade appearance, but the power level was reduced by half.

Embracing Melia and Melis with his left and right arms, Muyang said in their ears, "This is the end of this practice, now let's talk about the future."

"What is it?" Melia's pretty face looked at Muyang.

Muyang squeezed a hand on the soft part of Melia's body, "Look, Broly has grown so big. You guys have to give me a boy and a girl too! After leaving, we have to work twice as hard to do so!"

Melia looked at Muyang, "I also worked very hard. Okay, but if I can't get pregnant, what can I do? Isn't there something wrong with your body?"

'Did I train too much and made myself infertility?'

'I don't think so!'

'That was a nonsense!'

Muyang snapped at Melia's buttocks, "This is too much. The chances of strong people conceiving are originally meager. Okay, this is the rule of the universe."

"But after so many years and no pregnancy, it is indeed a bit odd," Melis whispered and laughed softly.

"While you guys aren't powerful, I'll get you pregnant first." Muyang glared at them.

"Hmph," Melia coldly hummed twice, not scared at all. She and Melis also wanted to have a child sooner, but their belly didn't contend!

After a few playful nonsense moments, Muyang, Melia, and Melis walked out of the lightning training space. When they stepped outside, they saw the short figure of the North Kai squatting on the corridor.

"North Kai, why are you in the Grand Kai's Planet?"

Seeing Muyang and the girls come out, North Kai immediately came forward with a smile on his face, "Aiya, Muyang, you guys finally came out. I've been waiting for you for a long time."

Muyang frowned and said, "What do you want from us?"

"Hey, Grand Kai is going to hold a large Martial Arts Tournament in Heaven, people from all four galaxies are going to participate, and this time it is not limited to World of the Living and Other-World. As long as they're from all four galaxies, they can participate..."

The Grand Kai's dominion's scope was the Other-World and Four Galaxies of World of the Living, so the Martial Arts Tournament would not be limited to the Other-World people.

“Do you want us to participate in the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament?”

“Yes, Muiyang. You guys are powerful; you can definitely represent the North Area to achieve good results.” North Kai was busy nodding his head, rubbing his palms up and down like a treacherous businessman.

“Are there no other strong people in the North Area?”

As soon as the words were finished, Muiyang knew he was asking redundantly. How could there be no masters in the North Area? It was just that those masters didn't listen to the command of the North Kai. If North Kai asked King Cold, he would be slapped over in a minute.

North Kai said, “The Other-World in the North Area has some master, but World of the Living is not...”

Chapter 328

Grand Kai's Heaven Martial Arts Tournament gathered the vast majority of masters from the four galaxies. So when he received the invitation from North Kai, Muiyang's heart was very excited.

There was no need to say about the four galaxy World of the Living master, Muiyang thought he already belonged to the top group. After all, although the universe was huge, there were not many top masters. Otherwise, Frieza, Slug, and some people would not have reigned supreme for so long, and no one could challenge their position.

At this time, Muiyang's power level had reached 2 billion. Even when he directly facing the original Android 16 and the Cell under the Imperfect Form, Muiyang had enough confidence to counteract them.

This was a shockingly powerful force. It could be said that as long as he was willing, it would not be a problem to lay a foundation in the World of the Living. At least, he would not be worse than the so-called King Cold and Cooler.

Of course, what makes Muiyang more interested was the four galaxy Other-World masters who would appear at the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament.

These masters were all ancient figures who had trained for countless years. After years of accumulation, even the most foolish people could grow up. So in Heaven, there were not a few characters whose strength reaches the level of Frieza. There were even one or two masters who could match Perfect Cell and Full Power Super Saiyan.

If the Other-World's power invaded the World of the Living, it could directly sweep the entire World of the Living.

The most powerful sparring between masters could improve the strength, which was a kind of exercise. However, it was also a process to stimulate the potential. Such as Son Goku and the others in the original story, almost all were facing strong enemies before bursting out with great potential. This was not because they usually neglected to practice, but because the atmosphere was different. They were forced to the point of no way back.

It was possible to burst out a tremendous potential in a fierce collision, which Muiyang knew very well.

“When will Heaven Martial Arts Tournament be held approximately?”

The fact that Muiyang said these words meant that he decided to participate in this martial arts tournament.

North Kai revealed a smile and said, “There are still ten days to go. When that time comes, Grand Kai will announce the location of the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament, so you can take advantage of this time to make some adjustments.”

After the intense training, Muiyang’s body was still in a tense state, so he had to relax at this time and shouldn’t be overly anxious. Muiyang needed to let his body have a period to adapt to its normal state to exert his full strength better when fighting. Muiyang naturally understood this, so he nodded his head. He already had an arrangement in his heart for the next few days.

“I am now looking forward to the martial arts tournament where I can encounter masters.”

North Kai had no idea how strong Muiyang and the girls were. There was no doubt that Frieza and Cooler, who had dominated the North Area for many years, had sunk before them. However, North Kai did not have an overall idea of how strong Muiyang and the girls were.

“I will tell you, of course.” Muiyang smiled faintly and said blandly, “If we follow the common method of calculating power level in the universe, my power level at full strength is about 2 billion. In addition, Melissa also has a breakthrough, so her strength is not below me.”

Hearing Muiyang’s answer, North Kai shivered. He couldn’t help but take a breath of cold air backward. His face then showed a horrified look.

North Kai could not believe his ears, but when he saw Muiyang’s calm and relaxed face, the doubts in his heart slowly faded away again.

Muiyang was not a person who talked out of his mouth. If he said he had a 2 billion power level, then it was mostly true.

“You really reached 2 billion power level?” North Kai was once again confirmed.

“Of course!”

“I’m a little bit worse than Muiyang, but after fusing with Melis, about 1.95 billion!” Melia raised her head proudly. Her turquoise eyes were showing a smug look.

“Great. Now, who dares to say that I have no masters in the North Area!” North Kai danced his fists hard as if he was drinking a cold drink on a hot day. His whole body was unusually excited.

Besides, not only did Muiyang’s power level have 2 billion values, even Melissa was not below him. Two great masters together in the competition, you tell me, how could we lose!

In the past, when Kais of the four major galaxies met, North Kai was always ridiculed by the other three Kais, saying that there were no masters in his territory. There were still many masters in the North Area, but they were not under the command of the North Kai. Moreover, because his own North Kai’s Planet was destroyed once by the God of Destruction Beerus, the reunited Kai’s Planet was just a small circle, and North Kai could not hold up his head in front of the other three Kais.

This time he finally had the opportunity to wipe out his shame in front of the other three Kais. He thought of the three Kais’ stunned expressions, and North Kai’s heart was so relieved.

He was really looking forward to the martial arts tournament to start soon!

North Kai did not know that the 2 billion power level that Muiyang said was measured purely from the energy point of view, which had already taken away the combat skills and special divine power augmentation.

If the full strength were taken into account, Muiyang’s force would have to be raised another notch.

If North Kai knew about it, he would only get more excited.

Just when North Kai was so happy that he couldn’t find his way around, Melia arched her eyebrows and asked, “Neither Melis nor I are from the North Area. Can we also represent the North Area in the competition?”

Muiyang explained, “Melia and Melis were born on the distant Planet Sala, which belongs to another planet beyond the North Area.”

North Kai shook the cockroach tentacle-like antennae on top of his head and gritted his teeth, “Don’t bother with it. Since they have married you, they are from the North Area. Who dares to say that they don’t belong to the North Area!”

Besides, North Kai didn’t know this before, so as long as he didn’t say anything, the other three Kais couldn’t possibly know about it at all. To defend the honor of the North Area, North Kai even gave up his principles.

Melia smiled sweetly, “That’s good. If I can’t participate in the martial arts tournament because of my birth, then it’s too bad.”

“Alright then. Since you have decided to participate, rest well for the next few days. I have to go look for the other participants, and I will come to pick you up after Grand Kai officially determines the venue and rules of the competition.”

“Then we will be in touch at that time!” MUYANG smiled towards North Kai.

North Kai waved his hand, then hummed a little tune and walked away in a good mood.

After North Kai left, Melis’ slender hand hung on MUYANG’S body, “What are we going to do next?”

MUYANG pinched on her fair cheek, “You guys have been here in Heaven for so long, but you haven’t visited the place properly, I’ll show you around.”

“Sure!” Melis nodded with great interest. Visiting Heaven as a living person was indeed something special.

Grand Kai’s Planet was located in Heaven’s central location, and there were many planets similar to Grand Kai’s Planet distributed around in an orderly manner. However, they were all much bigger than Grand Kai’s Planet, and these planets were connected by transparent pipes and remained relatively stable for ages.

MUYANG took Melia and Melis to travel in Heaven.

They mainly wandered around several Heaven Planets belonging to the North Area, on which mainly lived the North Area’s heroes. Most of these heroes had once saved their planets and were able to enter Heaven after their deaths.

The souls in Heaven were actually not always able to live in Heaven. According to their contributions and strength in life, the time these heroes live in Heaven was long and short.

When the time was up, they could choose to become gods in charge of the Other-World affairs, or they could choose to reincarnate and forget their past lives.

Chapter 329

The planets in Heaven were beautiful, unlike the mortal planets. The planets were covered with auspicious golden clouds, dazzling with gorgeous light. There were also some plain planets, with blue sea and blue sky, green mountains, and water dotted the quiet nature.

Of course, Heaven’s main color was still golden, and the pervasive auspicious clouds indicated that this place belonged to another dimension.

Frankly speaking, the heroes of Heaven with a physical body living here was equivalent to starting another life.

One day, MUYANG took Melia and Melis, walking on a section of white stone paved stairs with strange peaks and rocks on both sides reflecting each other. A dense pine was growing between the stone peaks, looking magnificent and moving, attracting people to stop and look longer.

Melia’s face couldn’t help but hang a joyful smile upon walking on this quiet and beautiful path. She hadn’t been so relaxed for a long time, “MUYANG, the scenery here is so beautiful, why don’t we create an environment like this on top of Planet Wudao as well.”

MUYANG nodded, “As long as you like it, then we’ll build one exactly like it.”

Everything in Planet Wudao was under MUYANG's control, and if Melia liked it, MUYANG didn't mind spending some effort. MUYANG's words made Melia smile. She gave a kiss on MUYANG's face before walking away with Melis holding hands and laughing.

On the top of the mountain, the stream's clear water gurgled down from between the rocks.

At this time, a white figure walked past. MUYANG fixed his eyes to see that it was a middle-aged man wearing a robe, with a golden halo on his head and a power level of about one million. He was the same person who MUYANG met on the Grand Kai's Planet when he first entered Heaven. He was the one who guided him to the Grand Kai's palace.

MUYANG didn't expect that he also resided on the Heaven Planet in the North Area.

"Hello!" MUYANG greeted the robed man with a smile.

"Huh, you are the one who searched for Grand Kai's Planet in the first place. Are you still in Heaven?" The man looked at MUYANG for a long time thinking, and finally remembered MUYANG's identity.

MUYANG shook his head and said, "No, I left a long time ago. I came to the Heaven this time because of the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament that the Grand Kai will hold."

"You are a participant representing the World of the Living?" The man looked up and down at MUYANG and was surprised to find that he could not see through MUYANG at all. Indeed, those who were qualified to represent the World of the Living in the competition were masters.

"To be exact, it is to represent the North Area."

"So you are from the North Area..." The robed man immediately got close, "My name is Fimamons. I came from Planet Honghe of the North Area before."

"MUYANG, from North Area Earth."

"Earth?" Fimamons thought for a long time but did not find any information about the earth in his memory.

There were countless living planets in the North Area, and before the rise of MUYANG, the earth was nothing more than an obscure Low-Level Planet. Of course, perhaps it was once glorious in the distant past, but it had long been unknown to this day.

"Earth is just a small planet; you most likely have not heard of it." Looking at Fimamons's puzzled look, MUYANG explained with a smile.

Fimamons shook his head, "No matter what planet it is, it is all equal in front of life."

MUYANG was stunned for a moment. He did not expect the man would say such a thing. It seemed that those who could enter Heaven would have to surpass most people in terms of heart! The practice of dividing the planets in the universe according to their strength into Low-Level Planets, Middle-Level Planet, and High-Level Planets like today was simply a crooked way in these people's eyes who had an exceptionally high ideological awareness.

After chatting with Fimamons for a while, Fimamons wished Muiyang good luck in the martial arts tournament and said that he would also go to watch the match, and then said goodbye to Muiyang and the girls.

After Fimamons left, Melia lamented, "The people of Heaven are noble-minded."

"They were once great heroes who saved the world, and those who can sacrifice themselves for the life of the planet are mostly people of noble quality."

Muiyang wandered around with the girls for some time. These days they continued to adapt to their strength, and the process of relaxation was also the process of gradually improving their minds.

Finally, ten days passed quickly.

Today, North Kai brought the specific news of the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament. Accompanied by three men and one woman, in addition to a short alien, the other three people had a circle of light above their heads, plus Muiyang; they had a total of seven people.

"The Heaven Martial Arts Tournament rules have come down, and it uses a system of elimination. Every galaxy can send 30 people from World of the Living and Other-World to compete, and the venue of the tournament is on the meteorite on the east side of Heaven."

If thirty people from each World of the Living and Other-World participated in the competition, sixty contestants would be for one galaxy. There would be a total of two hundred and forty people for four galaxies, and the four people brought by North Kai must be the seeds he valued.

Muiyang surveyed the four people who followed North Kai. These people's strength was excellent; a few people of the World of the Living had about 20 million power levels. This kind of strength was considered a master among the Galaxy Mercenary, but it was far worse than the other three Other-World experts.

After all, they were characters who kept their physical bodies and trained in Heaven for countless years, and their strength had long since passed through the baptism of long years.

Especially that female hero with long silver hair; her skin was light green, and Muiyang vaguely felt a great sense of oppression in her body.

She was a master!

"She's powerful, at least 1.2 billion power level. Even compared to the original Android 18, it is not much worse."

Muiyang's heart secretly compared her with Android 18. The gap should not be huge. His eyes shifted to the other two, all with frighteningly high energy.

However, since there were so many masters who belonged to the North Area in Heaven, how could North Kai still be embarrassed by Frieza and Cooler...

After thinking about it for a while, Muiyang roughly understood. After entering Heaven, these Heaven's masters belonged to the sequence that had been separated from the North Area. They lived for the North Area planet to fight, and after death, they would be under the command of the Grand Kai. Grand Kai, who usually looked cynical, actually hid tremendous wisdom.

Perhaps in Grand Kai's opinion, the disaster of the World of the Living was essential. The appropriate danger could stimulate the vitality of the World of the Living. As long as the degree of harm did not exceed the limit, Grand Kai would adhere to the rules and would not send people from the Other-World to interfere with the World of the Living operation.

That was different from North Kai. North Kai loathes the Saiyans of Planet Vegeta, believing that they brought disaster to other planets in the World of the Living and were a source of disturbance to the order. In contrast, Grand Kai believed that the Saiyans of Planet Vegeta's existence added vitality to the universe, which was selective pressure.

"Several of you are my handpicked contestants, Muiyang, Melia, Melis, Jieke, Kerter, Kayo, Dofira... I hope you can fight to the end so that those who underestimate the North Area will be severely disgraced."

Those people mentioned by North Kai were the other three Kais, especially the old woman, East Kai, who has a rude and ugly personality and always disgusts him, which was too terrible.

North Kai looked at Melia and Melis again.

Muiyang and Melissa were essential objects of North Kai's attention. Although Melia and Melis were also powerful, North Kai wanted Melissa to participate in the battle.

If Melissa were allowed to play, the probability of North Area winning would be greatly increased again.

Noticing North Kai's gaze, Melia and Melis revealed a smile, and with a light touch of their fingers, the two fused into the black-haired, green-eyes Melissa. Their fusion technique had long since exceeded the scope of the Planet Metamor Fusion Technique.

"Good. With you 'six' is enough."

North Kai was enthused and was already imagining the other three Kais' embarrassment in his heart.

Muiyang smiled lightly, also looking forward to the masters in Heaven Martial Arts Tournament.

According to rumours, several masters in Heaven were comparable to Perfect Cell and Full Power Super Saiyan. So, Muiyang wondered if they would appear by then.

Chapter 330

Under the leadership of North Kai, Muiyang, Melissa, and the others headed towards the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament venue, held on a meteorite in the Eastern part of Heaven. Grand Kai had opened up a stable area with his ability.

While Muiyang and his team headed towards the meteorite in the Eastern part, the ancient heroes of the various planets in Heaven started to set off towards the Martial Arts Tournament venue one after another.

Since there were too many heroes in Heaven, and not many people could enter the venue to watch the competition, a large screen would be put on each planet of Heaven to broadcast live for those unable to watch the match in person.

On a planet in the Northern part of Heaven, transparent pipes were connected from one planet to another. Through these pipes, one could see the view outside. The light pink space was the primary color of Heaven, and in the space floated a golden cloud.

Amid the crowded planet pipeline, two old men with white hair and white beards walked side by side, moving slowly forward...

“Master Noah, I didn’t think we would be qualified to go to the Martial Arts Tournament venue to watch the competition live!” An old man with white hair lamented.

The old man, who was called Noah, said with a serious face. “I heard that there are masters from earth among the participants of this competition, so those of us are qualified to enter the Martial Arts Tournament.”

There were too many heroes in Heaven, and the Martial Arts Tournament venue area was limited. It was impossible to accommodate that many people to watch. So those who were qualified to enter the venue to watch were either particularly old, with very high prestige, or had a relationship with the participants, such as from the same planet.

The two old men heading towards the venue were Noah and Mutaito, who had instructed Muyang and Son Gohan.

It was more than forty years ago when with notable strength, Muyang challenged most of the martial arts schools on earth and then met Son Gohan for the first time on the East Sea’s shores. The two discussed and went together to the palace where Fortuneteller Baba lived, at which they met Mutaito and Noah and received their guidance.

Time flashed by, and it was more than forty years. Muyang’s strength had undergone a radical change, but it did not cause much change for Mutaito and Noah, living in Heaven at this point.

“Which master is participating in this Martial Arts Tournament? Could it be Teacher Sicos?”

Teacher Sicos was one of the most respected among the ancient heroes of earth. He had entered Heaven for 4,000 years, and his strength had reached an appalling 100,000 power level, a rare super master among the people of earth.

“No. Teacher Sicos did not participate in the competition.”

Noah shook his head a little. Although Teacher Sicos was one of the oldest among the earth’s heroes, it was not that Noah belittled his side; it was really that such strength was as plentiful in Heaven and didn’t qualified to participate in the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament.

In the Other-World, the 100,000 power levels of characters were countless and couldn’t be called masters at all.

“Besides Teacher Sicos, then who else could it be? Could it be a master from the World of Living?”

Excluding the masters of the World of Living, even Mutaito himself did not believe that the weak earthlings could qualify for the tournament.

“The World of Living? No way!” Noah shook his head a little.

“I also think it is impossible...”

Mutaito sighed. If the World of Living could have such masters, Noah would not have gone to work on the Kami School Martial Arts back then.

The two moved forward with the tide of people. Finally, after a long time walking, in front of them appeared a distorted, as if the wave surging strange space. This space was dark and deep, with a dark curtain separated the surface so that the situation inside could not be seen at all.

Inside the dark and deep space was a cave with a vast martial arts venue hidden in it. The outer space was commissioned by the Grand Kai to be built by the Yardratian, using special energy to isolate it from the outside world.

On the outside of the entrance of space, two rows of orderly staff stood. They checked the qualifications of those entering one by one and then sent the audience into the venue through teleportation.

Soon, it was the turn of Noah and Mutaito. The staff took a strange instrument and shone it on their bodies, then “beep,” one of the staff said, “Earthling lineage, Noah, Mutaito, please go forward.”

Follow the instructions forward; when their finger touched the dark black curtain, the strange teleportation ability acted on their bodies. With a whoosh, the scene in front of them had completely changed when they opened their eyes.

Mutaito and Noah entered the venue’s interior and then went to the area where the earthlings were located.

The entire venue was huge, and the main building was on top of a giant meteorite. The venue was divided into four sides; each side had dozens of layers densely filled with spectators. It accommodated more than 100,000 people, who were spectators from the four East, South, West, and North Galaxies.

At the center was a giant martial arts ring, a thousand meters long and wide. The ring was built with the most complex materials in the galaxy and enriched with Grand Kai and particular races’ abilities to withstand mighty energy attacks.

Because there was only one ring and the competition was by elimination... two hundred and fifty-six players competed by lottery (240 players from the four galaxies and 16 players from the Central Area). A total of eight rounds of 255 matches were needed to determine the champion.

When all the matches were over, it was estimated to last several days and nights.

“Noah, Mutaito, you’re here!”

Fixing their eyes, they were greeted by other heroes from the earth; not many, only twenty or so. Some of them were several previous Kamis and some folks that made outstanding contributions, such as martial artists like Mutaito.

“Jialin, Kosap, Ouyu....” Mutaito and Noah greeted these heroes.

“Do you know who are the participants in the Martial Arts Tournament this time?”

“We also wondered about it!”

“Could it be someone from the World of Living?”

“There doesn’t seem to be such a master on top of the earth in the World of Living... In recent centuries, earth’s martial art has been going downhill, and I’m afraid it’s challenging for a master to appear.”

Earth’s ancient predecessors watched the gradual decline of the earth’s martial arts, and their hearts could not help but feel pain.

“But recently, I went to the palace of King Yemma and met the souls from the earth. It is said that now the earth martial arts atmosphere is different from the past. It seems to have begun to flourish gradually.”

“Really?”

Mutaito looked at the people in the audience. The strongest group of people in the earth lineage were all here. Since they did not participate in the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament, the real contestants might have come from the World of Living.

But who was it? Was there such a master on earth?
