

Ball God 381

Chapter 381

"Welcome to the four friends who have come from afar."

In the gloomy cave, Loomu sat in front of the campfire. The soft light of the fire illuminated the whole cave, but could not dispel the eerie coldness of the cave.

Zangya looked at the shadowy Loomu and noticed a large, sturdy man sitting in the corner. Zangya's eyes were cold, "Who is this guy? Your newly recruited subordinates?"

Loomu's eyes instantly glowed red, "How dare you! This is the great king of the Demon Realm, Lord Dabura!"

Zangya smiled, but her eyes glared. She tossed her orange curls, and the copper earrings ringing in the ear flap as she said in a delicate voice, "The king of the Demon Realm? I haven't heard of it."

The King of the Demon Realm Dabura last appearance was millions of years ago. Although Zangya and others were super warriors who have traversed the galaxy, they didn't know the power of the King of the Demon Realm Dabura.

"Little girl, you should be a little more modest in front of this king." Dabura laughed lowly. With a flash of his figure, he appeared at some point on Zangya's side.

It was so fast.

Seeing Dabura who suddenly appeared at his side, Zangya's blue pupils flashed with a trace of horror, and a cold sweat broke out all over her body.

"Be careful." Kogu first drew his sword and slashed towards Dabura.

Dabura sneered and stretched out a few fingers to squeeze forward. Kogu's sword was fixed in the air, no matter how hard Kogu's force was, he couldn't move it.

"Very strong power, and very sharp sword. You have 2.4 billion power level. There are few experts in the universe who are this powerful, but unfortunately..."

Dabura indifferently looked at Kogu, Zangya and others, and suddenly spat out a mouthful of spit towards Kogu.

They seemed to sense the danger coming, Kogu hold Zangya to the side of the cave flash. The spit fell to the hilt of the sword, as if enchanted by a magician, the sword from the hilt forward gradually petrified, not long the whole sword turned into stone.

CLANG!

Dabura threw away the sword. The sword fell to the ground instantly shattered into several pieces.

"What a bizarre ability." Kogu looked at his damaged sword and a chill surged through his heart.

"How dare you follow and make a move against our Galaxy Soldier!"

"Kill!"

Bido and Bujin saw the opponent took the lead.

With a loud roar, they directly rushed up.

Kogu saw the other two companions to go forward, and quickly tried to stop, "Be careful, this guy is very strange. I'm afraid that his power can only be resisted by Boss Bojack."

PENG, PENG!

There was two heavy blows, and the figures of Bido and Bujin flew backwards, directly hitting the wall of the cave.

Dabura craned his neck, and the joints in his hands clicked. Just now, he had just struck two random blows and sent the two Galaxy Soldiers flying.

"Hahahaha, do you want to resist my power? I'm not afraid to tell you. Even if your boss Bojack breaks the seal, he's still no match for this king."

Dabura was arrogant. He was the king of the Demon Realm, and he didn't even put the Supreme Kai in his eyes, so how could he consider a mere Bojack?

Bojack had just over 4 billion power level, so he could defeat it with his own hands.

"How crazy!" Zangya burned with rage, and her silver teeth clenched.

"But he has the right to be arrogant." Kogu sighed, "Your Excellency is waiting for us here, it wouldn't be specifically to strike us, right?"

"Of course not, this king admires your strength and intends to recruit you. However, this king does not care to use force, this king will assist you in freeing your boss Bojack.... However, before that, you also have to work with Loomu to collect enough High-Level Planets and special materials for this king. After your boss Bojack is freed, whether you are willing to serve this king or not, you can choose by yourselves. "

Even if he added Bojack, it was only one more ant. When he succeeded in transforming, even if he didn't make a move, everyone would obediently submit.

Dabura ruled the entire Demon Realm, with a heart and vision above the galaxy.

"How can you will be so kind?" Zangya did not believe it for a million times.

"Believe it or not, little girl, don't provoke the patience of this king." Dabura had a smile on his face, but this smile gave Zangya and the others endless oppression.

"Do not act rashly. Until the boss is out, it is not appropriate to make a move." Kogu whispered. Because even if they made a move, they were clearly not a match for the person in front of them.

Among the four, Zangya had the best relationship with Kogu. When he said so, Zangya was not a person who did not know what was good or bad. So first of all, she suppressed the anger in her chest.

"I can agree to your request, but you have to help us find the boss first."

Dabura smiled proudly and said, "That's easy. As long as it's still in this universe, there's no place we can't find in the Demon Realm."

"Then next, the four of you will assist Loomu and the Big Gete Star to collect more energy and materials...." Dabura waved his hand and sent Zangya and the others away.

As to whether they would do what they were told after they left, Dabura didn't care at all. As he said himself, as long as they were still in this universe, they would not be able to escape from his palm.

In the worst case, he could ask Babidi to control them...

With a heavy heart, Zangya and the others left Planet Yellowstone. Next, they will assist Loomu to collect energy. Of course, as long as they find their boss's sealing place, they would obey Dabura's orders.

After Zangya and the others left, Loomu came forward and said, "Lord Dabura, those few Galaxy Soldiers are not to be trusted."

Dabura laughed heatedly, "No harm. This king only has eyes for that Bojack, anyway. Sooner or later, he will be released, why not bring a few of his minions?"

"This subordinate understands."

"Hmm." Dabura nodded, "Loomu, contact the Big Gete Star Lifeform, this king has already ordered the resources of the Demon Realm to be channeled over. Now you can let him perform a small transformation on this king."

"As ordered." Loomu smiled and answered, then contacted the Big Gete Star and asked it to receive the supplies from the Demon Realm.

.....

On the other hand, at Planet Namek.

It had been seven days since Melissa received the development of the Grand Elder's potential, but the potential in Melissa had not been completely channelled yet.

Every time the Grand Elder's energy entered Melissa's body, the grass-green transmission super power was resisting.

The process of potential development was exceptionally slow.

With beads of sweat on his forehead, the Grand Elder concentrated on guiding the energy in Melissa's body. His face showing his amazement, "This is odd.... Obviously, she has an unfathomable potential, but it is so difficult to guide it out."

This situation was only encountered by the Grand Elder decades ago in the body of MUYANG. At that time, the potential in MUYANG's body was also uncertain, but compared to MUYANG, the potential in Melissa's body was a little more stable. However, on the contrary, at that time, MUYANG's body could not be guided by the power.

These two couples were really a perfect match.

Suddenly, the Grand Elder's face was frozen –

SWISH!

A grass-green light shot up into the sky, and the residence where the Grand Elder was located shook violently. The sturdy walls began to crack under Melissa's power, and further down, the towering stone cliff almost broke.

Seeing this, MUYANG hurriedly made a surge of divine power to stabilize the surroundings.

The Grand Elder opened his eyes and said tiredly, "It's done. I have successfully drawn out the potential within this young lady."

As soon as the words left his mouth, he saw Melissa floating up out of thin air. The energy wrapped around her, and the grass-green light overwhelmed the green superpower for the first time. It was unstoppable, like a reservoir leaking its floodgates, the rushing energy came out abruptly from nowhere, and the majestic and vast aura pressed the people around her to catch their breath.

RUMBLE!

The entire Planet Namek began to tremble, and the clouds in the sky swirled up with Melissa as the center. Circle after circle, it was shaped like a terrible climatic cataclysm.

33 million!

46 million!

50 million!

.....

54 million!

58 million!

After the development of the Grand Elder's potential, Melissa's power level increased from 32 million to 58 million. The increase wasn't that big, not as big as Birgil and the original Krillin.

The main reason was that the berserk power in Melissa's body blocked the Great Elder's superpower.

DING!

Melissa whispered with enjoyment. The energy in her body began to gather, and the grass-green light ambled on the surface of her body. She then floated down from the air like a fairy.

Chapter 382

At this moment, Melissa felt that she had become different. Her every move carried great power with every muscle and every cell of her body was vibrant.

"So powerful, the energy in my body has been raised nearly twice." Melissa grinned contentedly, and her expression became somewhat untamed.

It was not an exaggeration to say that she was transformed. By moving her body, she felt an unprecedented powerful force filling her body.

The level of power was significantly higher, which was completely different from the transformed state.

The power was completely and utterly in the normal state.

The potential development was not simply to enhance power level, but even the ability to control and react with the power to follow up to a synchronized state. Therefore, there was no situation where the power was too strong and not effectively controlled. In short, the ability of the Grand Elder was to directly save countless years of hard work by the developers, and the effect achieved was the same as hard work.

Melissa, whose ability had been enhanced, clearly felt that even if she split into Melia and Melis, her power was only slightly weaker than Melissa's before she developed her potential.

"Melissa, show your full strength."

Looking at Melissa started to show the arrogance of the Saiyan again, Muiyang raised his eyebrows and said lightly.

"Okay!"

Melissa's clean face showed a charming smile, her face straightened, and a grass-green energy began to cover her body.

"HO!"

A cluster of burning flames suddenly swelled, and as the ki flames soared and burned, a stirring and surging aura rose to the sky!

A violent and strong wind blew up with Melissa as the center. Melissa's eyes began to turn golden, and the first level of the Golden Eye State opened. A terrifying power similar to the Super Saiyan Transformation was released, and the energy instantly increased by 50 times.

"2.9 billion power level!" Muiyang muttered, estimating the energy on Melissa at this time.

At this moment, Birgil, Nail, and others on the side were struggling to resist Melissa's ki.

Seeing this, Muiyang's body exploded with power, while using the power of the Acceleration World to stabilize the surrounding ki wave.

"It really is a very powerful ki..."

The Grand Elder's face showed a shocked expression. His eyes looked at Melissa who was intoxicated with power in surprise, and a trace of relief actually passed through his old face.

It wasn't in vain that Melissa was able to have such strong power. The stronger the other side was, the stronger the future of Planet Namek could be.

"There is more and more. This is not my full power.... I have a stronger state." Melissa wowed, and her golden eyes suddenly became even more golden.

BOOM!

An even more powerful force rose up.

The second level of the Golden Eye State was comparable to the "Ascended Super Saiyan" state, with a 65 times increase in power.

The whole Planet Namek shook violently, and even outer space was affected by the fluctuations.

At this time, Melissa's power level had increased to 3.77 billion, and even Muiyang's resistance was starting to become difficult. After all, Muiyang's power level was only 2.5 billion. —The main reason why he was strong was because of the Acceleration World and Unfettered Instinct behind him as support, and his energy alone was no match for Melissa.

"What kind of state is this. Her power actually presses me to the point where I can't breathe!"

Putting his hand against his forehead, Birgil blocked the whirling whirlwind and his voice trembled a little, "Could she be the rumored Super Saiyan, but didn't the Super Saiyan disappear long ago?"

Nail looked horrified and pale, "There is still such a powerful force in the world."

The pressure that Melissa brought to him almost made him faint.

"Enough. You can put your power away, if you go on, this place will be destroyed."

Experiencing the violent and rampant energy that permeated the air, Muyang already had a good idea of Melissa's power.

Melissa's energy was already no worse than the Other-World's Pikkon. Counted the upload Super Saiyan nearly unlimited explosive power level and physical strength, Melissa already had the strength to rival Pikkon.

If in the future, Melissa could develop the third transformation of Golden Eyes State, she could directly comparable to the full power of the Super Saiyan, a power will even be infinitely close to the late Cell Game Son Gohan.

That was the power of the entire universe.

Melissa still intoxicated in her powerful power. When she heard Muyang shout, she laugh, proudly put away her power.

"How do I compare to you now?"

"I am not your opponent without exercising the 'Unfettered Instinct'."

Melissa bristled and said, "That means after developing my potential, I still can't beat you?"

The fact was that Melissa only needed to make an effort, or simply some mental stimulation, and she might be able to directly force out the third level of the Golden Eyes state. At that time, he would really be no match for her.

Melissa stared at Muyang, wanting to see something from his face. However, Muyang just smiled and did not say anything.

Melissa pouted, "Forget it, I certainly still can not beat you. I will not compare with you."

Her husband comprehended the realm she simply could not understand, turning around, Melissa very politely bent towards the Grand Elder.

"Grand Elder, thank you so much!" Melissa said gratefully.

The Grand Elder leaned back in his seat, looking a bit tired. After hearing Melissa's words, a few moments of relief appeared on his face, "Oh, nothing. Compared to you saving Planet Namek, these are nothing. Your body contains unfathomable power, unfortunately that power is too domineering. I can only draw out so little for you, next it is up to you to dig."

"Well, next I will work hard to develop the third level of the Golden Eyes State."

Melissa set her goal incomparably serious.

At this time, when Muiyang saw that the Grand Elder had consumed too much physical strength, she took out a Senzu Bean for the Grand Elder to take, and under the effect of the Senzu Bean, the Grand Elder's physical strength was quickly restored.

Turning his head to Nail, Muiyang took out another small bag of Senzu Beans and a container with a bottle of emerald green liquid.

"Nail, these are Senzu Beans and Life Essence for you to keep. They can be used to restore the Great Elder's physical strength and energy."

"Thank you!"

Nail excitedly accepted the Senzu Beans and Life Essence, then carefully put them away. Especially the Life Essence, he had witnessed its effects and naturally knew its preciousness. With these bottles of Life Essence, the Grand Elder's life span could be greatly extended.

"Birgil, the matter of Planet Namek has ended, but it is still uncertain whether Big Gete Star has been wiped out or not. If there are any accidents, you can continue to inform us, in addition, you are welcome to come to Earth as a guest."

After saying this, Muiyang put his arm around Melissa's slim waist and prepared to cast instant movement to leave.

"I will go to Earth later." Birgil wore a smile.

"Well, goodbye!"

Waving at the Grand Elder, Birgil, and the others, Muiyang held Melissa's hand and left Planet Namek.

After making sure that Muiyang and the others had left, the Grand Elder laughed, "I have a feeling that the two of them, husband and wife, will become the brightest new stars in the entire universe."

"That's right."

"I also have such a premonition."

Birgil and Nail nodded deeply. Especially Birgil, who had watched Muiyang and the others change from weak to strong in just a few decades.

Going back in time, he remembered that when he first met Muiyang more than thirty years ago. He was only a young youth with a mere tens of thousands of power level, and now in just a few decades, he had already grown to the point where even he needed to look up to him, and who knew how powerful he would become in the future.

"Nail, go and let the children of Planet Namek come out from the protective area. When the Dragon Balls recover, collect them all and put them at Birgil's place, sometimes we have to prepare in advance." The Grand Elder said with a deep gaze.

The crisis was lifted this time, but the Grand Elder still had an uneasy feeling in his heart, as if there would be a crisis coming to Planet Namek in the next ten years or so.

Planet Namek could not rely on all others, and must also make plans.

"Yes!" Nail nodded seriously.

Planet Namek's Dragon Balls only required three months to return to the Dragon Balls from the rocky state of the adjustment period. Previously, only one wish was made to Porunga, so it could be restored in a month.

Chapter 383

Time flew by, and in the blink of an eye, about two months had passed since the crisis on Planet Namek.

In a certain area of the Central Area, located against a dark red background, a dark and constantly devouring the surrounding light planet floated alone as if abandoned by the universe orphan.

At this moment, the smooth space suddenly flashed down, and several figures appeared.

"Is this the place?" Zangya and her three companions appeared near this dark planet. The surrounding light was so dark that if you didn't look closely, you couldn't even notice the existence of the pocket-sized planet.

"Look, there it is!!!"

Looking far into the distance at the planet locked by various forces, Zangya laughed out loud, "That's right. That King of the Demon Realm has kept his promise to help us find the planet that sealed the boss, and I have sensed the boss's summons, and he is sealed on top of that planet."

To say that this time, Zangya and the others were a bit unhappy. The reason was, of course, the threat of the King of the Demon Realm, Dabura, to find many high-quality planets for him. However, after the hard work, Zangya and others finally learned from Dabura, where their boss Bojack was sealed and rushed over as quickly as they could.

As long as the Bojack is released, who cares about that Dabura.

"Hurry up and release the boss." Bujin's face carried an excited expression.

"How to release?" Bido asked doubtfully, "directly blowing up the planet?"

The swordsman Kogu thought for a moment and said, "The boss was sealed by the four Kai jointly in the first place. Those several forces locking the planet's operation must be the seal of the Kais. Let's destroy it together."

Zangya agreed with Kogu and said, "There are exactly four energies. So let's each deal with one and combine our efforts to break it."

"That's fine."

"Then let's give it a try!"

Bujin and Bido also agreed to try it first, so Zangya, Kogu, Bujin, and Bido lined up in order. Their bodies were close to the surface of the dark planet.

Just then, a huge attraction came towards them. The dark planet was slim in size, but it was like a black hole with a huge gravitational force attached to its surface. Generally, beings that were not strong enough would be torn apart by this powerful gravitational force as soon as they got close.

"What a strong attraction!"

Their faces changed slightly, and soon the powerful force resisted the gravitational force of the planet.

"Begin!" Kogu shouted with a stern look on his face.

"Attack together!"

The other three responded one after another, and then the four of them pulled apart and released energy in different directions at the same time. In a moment, four terrifying forces that penetrated the world erupted.

BOOM!

Four waves shook.

Affected by this, the central dark planet began to tremble violently. Even the entire sealed starry sky was no longer stable.

HISS!

It was like the sound of cloth and silk tearing.

The energy imprisoned on the pocket planet was torn apart. When Zangya and the others saw this, they knew that their method was not wrong. With a flash of excitement in their eyes, they immediately increased the output of energy. These few Galaxy Soldiers had at least 2 billion power levels; when output at the same time, the destructive power generated is very frightening.

PENG! PENG! PENG!

The deep starry sky suddenly whipped up a cold whirlwind, the dark planet in the center rotated violently, while a dark and bone-chilling aura spread out, the range became larger and larger, gradually affecting the surrounding starry sky.

DANG!

The sound of the yellow bell loudly passed in the universe, like invisible waves rippled.

—Soon, the universe filled with light blue smoke. This smoke gradually coalesced and finally became a two meters tall upright figure...

The man had the same orange hair as Zangya, with a black turban wrapped around his head. He had white pants on the bottom half of his body and a dark blue long-sleeved cloak on the top. The cloak was hanging down to the footboard, with a black belt around the waist, and was swaying in the wind along with several strings of necklaces on the chest.

It was none other than Bojack, whom Zangya and the others had been looking for for a long time.

"HAHAHAHA, AFTER 300,000 YEARS, I FINALLY GOT OUT OF MY TRAP." Bojack raised his voice to the sky, and his terrifying energy shook the starry sky.

"BOSS!"

Zangya, Kogu, Bujin, Bidor gathered around Bojack.

Bojack smiled wickedly, his eyes crossed from Zangya, Kogu, Bujin, Bido in turn, and said, "You have worked hard. Let's repay those Kais properly next, starting with this planet that sealed me."

After saying that, Bojack raised his arm and casually threw down an energy ball towards that dark planet. The whole planet instantly exploded into smithereens with a loud boom.

The planet sealed with Bojack was created by the four Kais jointly using divine power. The seal's power comes from four Galaxy's Kai's Planet. —When Bojack destroyed it, the four Kais's Planets trembled violently at the same time, seemingly announcing Bojack's return.

.....

North Kai's Planet.

"What's happening?"

North Kai couldn't help but prostrate himself on the ground because of the planet's violent shaking. When he used the tentacles on his head to investigate what was going on, what came back was an eerie cold silence that stimulated the chill of the soul.

North Kai hit a jolt, and his face brushed white, "This is bad. Bojack's seal.... was actually broken...."

West Kai's Planet, the West Kai, who was not concerned about the matter, was also shocked by what happened in the Central Area.

"Those bastards actually released Bojack."

Originally, when Zangya and the others entered the North Area, the West Kai only thought he could rest easy, but now the appearance of Bojack made him nervous.

At the same time, the East Kai, South Kai, and the others also perceived the situation of Bojack's appearance and were all in a hurry.

Grand Kai intended to put Zangya and the others, as well as Loomu, to the test of their four galaxies, but the ability of several Kais was limited, and their current state was obviously beyond the scope of the test. If the Heaven didn't step in, their four galaxies would not have the ability to stop Bojack and the others.

"No, Bojack's comeback has clearly exceeded the specifications of the lower Kai. Therefore, we must immediately notify the Grand Kai."

After thinking about it, the four Kais coincidentally thought of asking the Grand Kai for help.

.....

Central Area.

Five light streams crossed the starry sky as Bojack and the others stepped toward the distant stars.

"Kogu, tell me what happened after I was sealed so I can surprise those Kais."

"Okay, boss." Kogu listened then explained in detail what happened after Bojack was sealed, ".... At first after the boss was sealed, we were attacked by a group of powerful people from Heaven, they defeated us but were not able to kill us, and later put us in the Prison Planet...."

Three hundred thousand years ago in the galaxy, neither the World of the Living nor Heaven was as strong as it was now. At that time, even the strong people that could completely kill Zangya and the others did not exist.

Bojack nodded seriously and continued to listen to Kogu's account of what happened after getting out of the prison planet.

"Boss, we ran into Dabura, the King of the Demon Realm, on Planet Yellowstone, and that guy wants us to serve him." Zangya, with an unhappy face, told Bojack about the aggression.

"The King of the Demon Realm? What is going on? You guys tell me the situation carefully." Bojack's face got serious.

Bojack's knowledge was richer than Zangya and other people's. Once, he heard about the King of the Demon Realm, Dabura, which was a ruthless person that even the Universe Supreme Kai. Bojack boasted that he was powerful, but he did not dare say that he could definitely win against Dabura.

"The thing is this..." Kogu nodded and told what happened on Planet Yellowstone. Bojack listened to it with a cloudy face, not knowing what was in his mind.

"The King of the Demon Realm, Dabura, and the Babidi you talked about, could it be the rumored Dark Wizard in Bigman? The technology of the Big Gete Star is quite interesting."

"Shall we leave this galaxy?" Zangya suggested, biting her lower lip.

Bojack's eyes glared, and a palm was placed on Zangya's head, "Don't worry, I'm not afraid of the King of the Demon Realm."

—However, just as soon as Bojack finished his words, a blue figure suddenly appeared beside them.

"Bojack, are you really not afraid of this king?"

Dabura appeared like a ghost and an intimidating pressure that made the soul tremble spread out. Feeling the pressure from Dabura's body, Bojack's face changed, and he was on guard.

The power of the person in front of him was even above his own.

Chapter 384

"You are the legendary King of the Demon Realm?" Bojack narrowed his eyes and resisted the pressure from Dabura. His face was very ugly, while Zangya, Kogu, and others on the side were even worse, each with a pale face, unable to even stand up.

Compared with a few months ago, Dabura's chest had a few more pieces of emerald green metal. Although the appearance hadn't changed much, the power had gone up a lot.

The power level was at least 5.5 billion!

'How Dabura became so powerful all of a sudden!?' Zangya thought inwardly timidly with an incredulous face.

"My king, your strength is very good. I would like to invite you, together with your subordinates, to join my camp and serve the great Lord Babidi together." Dabura proudly stood in front of Bojack with a pair of eyes that defied the pale.

Bojack closed his eyes for a moment in thought, opened them, and smiled, "It would be an honor for us Galaxy Soldiers to work together with King Dabura."

"Hahahaha, it hurts!" Not expecting Bojack to agree so crisply, Dabura laughed loudly, "Then wait for the good news from the king. After Lord Babidi has dealt with the matter at hand, he will come to see you soon. Before that, you should liaise well with Loomu."

"No problem," Bojack promised very quickly.

Dabura took a deep look at the smiling Bojack, and his figure gradually became illusory.

After Dabura disappeared, Bojack's face was as frosty and gloomy as if it was going to drip ink.

"Are we really going to cooperate with Dabura? It's too dangerous." Kogu was worried in his heart.

"I know, but the power of that King of the Demon Realm exceeds me by a lot." Bojack's somewhat darkened cheeks became even darker, "According to what you guys said before, even if Dabura is strong, he shouldn't be so much more powerful than me!"

"Yeah, compared to before, Dabura's chest has some more special metal. It wasn't like this before..." said Zangya.

"Those metals are artificially modified. It seems that Dabura has modified his body, only it looks like the transformation is not yet complete." Bojack pondered for a moment and then understood. Then, he sneered, "Maybe we should get that Loomu to talk it over and take advantage of the technology of Big Gete Star."

Bojack's people were originally reformed people from other galaxies. So, they naturally would want to know and get whatever they could here.

Once the idea was told to everyone, Zangya, Bujin, and others thought it was feasible, but only Kogu was a little worried. Bojack's power level was about 4.5 billion, which was a lot less than the power Dabura had just shown. Such an act was just like seeking skin with a tiger —one mistake would lead to a big heel.

Speaking his concerns out, Bojack laughed out loud, thinking that Kogu was a little too conservative. In response, Kogu shrugged. He was not angry but a little unsettled in his heart.

.....

On the other hand, Dabura arrived inside Big Gete Star.

"My lord, have those Galaxy Soldiers been subdued?" Loomu respectfully stood in front of Dabura.

Dabura said, "On the surface, they agreed, inside who knows what they are thinking. However, it does not matter. This king will not trust them either. So you contact them next and wait together for Lord Babidi's command. I will continue the next transformation, no matter what, do not disturb me."

After saying this, Dabura laid down on the transformation table and let the Central Lifeform of Big Gete Star transform his body.

Dabura's main concern now was to finish the transformation of his body sooner. The resources of the Demon Realm had allowed him to complete most of the transformation. As long as he spent some more time when the transformation of his whole body was completed, Dabura's strength could be increased by 50% at once to reach the power he had dreamed of.

Loomu's personality was completely and deeply controlled by Babidi's power, and he obeyed Dabura's commands. After Dabura laid down on the transformation table, Loomu bent respectfully and then exited Big Gete Star.

.....

"Hello, Mr. Bojack, I am Loomu. Lord Dabura has entrusted me to make contact with you."

"What is it?"

"It's like this. A few months ago, I saw two extremely powerful warriors in Planet Namek through the monitor, very much in line with the Super Warrior manufacturing plan. Based on their appearance, I roughly deduced that those two should be Saiyans or Earthlings..."

At the same time, Loomu played the image of what happened on top of Planet Namek to Bojack. — The very moment when Muiyang and Melissa destroyed Big Gete Star.

After watching the image, Bojack rubbed his chin and looked at Zangya and the others, "There are also Saiyans in this galaxy?"

Zangya said: "Yes, they live on Vegeta, and they also call themselves Saiyans, but the Saiyans here have long tails."

Bojack nodded, thinking a little, looking at the battle images that appeared in the void, "these two people are not Saiyans, the Saiyans I know when the power to carry out a substantial increase, the whole body will shine up a light golden light."

"And you see" Pointing to the picture of Muiyang and Melissa, "One of these two people has a silvery-white glow, and the other has a grass-green glow, neither of which is consistent with the state of the Saiyans. "

Loomu was taken aback, "In that case, could they be earthlings? But according to the intelligence, Earthlings are just a very inferior and inferior race, and the computer calculates that the possibility of them being Earthlings is far less than 1%."

"Anyway, it's definitely not Saiyans." Bojack was very sure. Prior to coming to this galaxy, Bojack had been in contact with the Saiyans and knew their forms.

"In that case, it could only be Earthlings. This race is worth studying." Loomu's voice rang out.

"Maybe it's a mutated race." Bojack was a little interested. The corners of his mouth curved slightly, "Your name is Loomu, right? I wonder if you can provide me with the technology of Big Gete Star. Then, my group and I can capture those two people back for you."

Loomu said with great joy, "Of course, no problem."

He was worried about the lack of good experimental specimens, and Bojack's words were like a pillow just as he was going to sleep.

Although Bojack decided that the two people who appeared in Planet Namek weren't Saiyans, there was a possibility of error. He should have been prepared for both. Those stray Saiyans also couldn't be spared because they could become next-level warriors.

In this way, Loomu and Bojack ended the conversation.

Next, Bojack led Zangya and others to Earth, while Loomu sent his few remaining Level 2 Yakon on a massive search for surviving Saiyans.

.....

Grand Kai's Planet.

Fierce music resounded in the garden as the four Kais joined hands, each with a sad, weepy face.

"What's going on, you guys?" Grand Kai turned off the stereo and looked at them in confusion.

The North Kai howled, "Lord Grand Kai, you have to save us. The galaxy in my territory is about to suffer."

Grand Kai picked up a teacup and sipped the hot tea while asking, "After so many days, haven't the few of you managed to get rid of the regional Galaxy Soldiers and Phantom Men?"

The North Kai blushed and said, "It's not just about a few Galaxy Soldiers anymore. They just released Bojack."

Poof-

The tea in Grand Kai's mouth spurted out, splashing all over the North Kai's face.

"Cough cough!" Grand Kai coughed violently, "You guys said that Bojack was released? What have you all been doing for the past year or so?!"

"Not only Bojack, but we also saw Dabura, the King of the Demon Realm, who also appeared in the galaxy...." East Kai whispered.

Grand Kai's expression completely stiffened and then stormed out, "King of the Demon Realm, Dabura... Bastard, how are you four guys doing your work? The Universe-Level Great Demon King Dabura entered our galaxy, and you only reported to me now?"

If he had the power, he would really like to revoke all these Kais.

"It's not that we didn't find out before. We didn't know about it until Dabura made contact with Bojack." The North Kai looked at the Grand Kai cautiously.

"They made contact?" Grand Kai mechanically turned his head.

"Well, they just made contact."

"Bastard, I really shouldn't have left the matter of the Galaxy Soldiers to you guys. Look what has been done!!!" Grand Kai was furious; his heart attack was coming out of his chest.

'Look what happened, one Bojack is still somewhat secure in dealing with for Heaven, but with the words of the King of the Demon Realm, Dabura, this is going to ruin his entire galaxy!'

"Go find someone and bring Pikkon, Uyamons, and Carliss."

"Something big is going to happen!!!"

The report of several Kais could be said to have made the whole Grand Kai's Planet and Heaven in a panic mode.

While Grand Kai was urgently summoning Pikkon and others to discuss countermeasures, Muiyang, who was leading Melissa and April around the universe, unaware that a group of people was slowly advancing towards Earth with malicious intent.

.....

At this time, on a certain trade planet under the control of the Trade Commerce Planets.

Muiyang, holding his little daughter Amelia, was sitting in a hot drink store in a shopping mall. His eyes were out of focus as he gazed at the store across the street. At this time, Melissa and April were out shopping, and all the work of taking care of the two children were left to Muiyang, so Muiyang had no choice but to become a baby daddy for the time being.

Fortunately, although the two children were young, they were very well-behaved, unlike other bear children who cried and fussed.

"Amelia and Muqiu, this is the best milk drink in this store. You guys try it." Muiyang handed two cups of steaming milk type to the children. One cup was about two liters.

Amelia and Muqiu blinked and held the big cup in their little hands, gurgled and drank, yelling loudly for more when they were done.

With a cheerful smile, Muiyang shouted, "Waiter, a few more of these drinks, plus some desserts."

"Okay, coming right up."

Soon, the waiter served several more milk drinks and desserts. Amelia and Muqiu gleefully tasted them, laughing and playing from time to time.

In the end, Amelia and Muqiu inherited half of the Saiyan bloodline; their appetites were also very big. In a short time, the two-liter cup of drinks and several desserts were all eaten.

After eating and drinking, the two children leaned on the top of the chair to take a nap. Muiyang saw the situation and smiled, his eyes quietly looking at the passing universe outside.

After coming back from Planet Namek, Melissa's power seemed to be stimulated, rising constantly. Now, she had a 60 million power level. This rapid increase in state was the envy of even Muiyang. On the other hand, Muiyang deeply experienced pressure from Melissa. If he didn't hurry to break through, he might be overtaken by her soon.

However, practice wasn't something that could be rushed. It would be half-hearted to be too impatient and even stagnant, so the mind should be a bit more stable.

With his fingers tapping on the table, Muiyang fell into thinking.

"My fifth limit should be just around the corner. After the breakthrough, there will be a period of rapid growth in strength. At this stage, I should still focus on continuing to accumulate and prepare for future breakthroughs."

In fact, with a power level of 2.5 billion, Muiyang's actual power level was about 4 billion, and he was actually quite content with his power level. So it just feels strange to be surpassed by Melissa, probably because he had been ahead of Melissa and formed a habit psychologically!

Muiyang tasted a mouthful of tea and sighed with emotion in his heart.

Just at this moment, two familiar figures suddenly appeared at the entrance of the opposite mall. When Muyang saw them, he couldn't help but give a light eek.

"Huh?"

He saw a young girl with golden hair strutting at the mall entrance across the street, kicking open the glass door of the mall, carrying an energy launcher in her hand, and constantly sweeping towards the sky.

"ALL OF YOU GET DOWN. NOW I DECLARE THAT YOU HAVE BEEN ROBBED. HURRY UP AND HAND OVER THE VALUABLE THINGS ON YOUR BODY." The blonde girl shouted loudly. Her pretty face was fierce and vicious at the moment.

On this girl's side, there was a short black-haired teenager, as if a bodyguard an inch away.

After seeing clearly the appearance of these two, Muyang had a feeling that there were countless black lines on his forehead. Launch and Broly. He hadn't seen them on Earth recently, and they had gone to an alien planet to become bandits!

Impressive, he had been feeling that this little girl would not settle down and was also thinking about which line of work Launch would be in the future after learning martial arts. However, he never thought that he would meet them on other planets in the universe.

The blonde Launch had gone from being a bandit on Earth to be a bandit in the universe.

"When we get back, let's see how Kanalita will clean you up."

The blonde Launch was Kanalita's disciple. At the age of ten, she now had several hundred power levels, which was really quite outstanding. —Of course, this power on Earth was not bad, but it was not so up in the universe. Therefore, Broly followed her, acting as a bodyguard.

Broly's strength could ensure the safety of Launch.

However, if Kanalita knew about these things—her disciple actually became a bandit in the universe—he wondered how dark her face would be.

'Alas, Marlene, Landy, your descendants ss really something.'

Speaking of which, wasn't this Trade Commerce Planet seemed to be in the hands of the forces under him? The robbery actually came to his forces... Just as Muyang was considering whether to go over and stop Launch and the others, a dramatic scene appeared...

He heard a boom, and the blonde Launch's slender body was thrown out.

When Broly saw this, he held Launch in his arms and was angry to rush in to avenge Launch. But when two women came out of the mall, Broly, who was angry, instantly settled down.

The two women who came out of the mall were Melissa and April.

"Little Launch, you've grown up!" Melissa looked at Launch in Broly's arms with a smirk.

"Yah, Aunt Melissa, what a fate to be able to run into each other from such a faraway place." The blonde Launch looked stiff and squeezed out a smile, not to mention how embarrassed she was. At the same time, sweat flowed down from her forehead.

"Mom..." Broly was dumbfounded. He scratched his head.

"Broly, keep Launch company fooling around, but don't follow Launch's bad example," Melissa said in a serious tone, a light tone, but the intention of reproach was quite obvious.

Broly bowed his head in shame. In front of his mother, his character had been very simple.

"You're going to be surrounded if you don't leave." At that moment, April pointed to a series of guards running at the end of the street.

These guards quickly came to Launch and Broly's side and pointed a tube of black hole energy cannon at Launch and Broly. Broly was at a loss for words and looked towards Melissa and April, but when he saw Melissa was looking at him with an expressionless face, he understood. He hastily embraced the still unresponsive blonde Launch. Then, he flew up to the sky and disappeared.

"These two little guys. We have to educate them properly when we go back!" Melissa came in front of Muyang, shook her head, and said.

"If we talk to Kanalita about this, do you think she will be so angry that she will run out of the earth?"

"Emm, it seems quite interesting." Melissa thought about it, "Why don't you contact her now and see?"

The corners of Muyang's mouth curved slightly, and he took out his communicator to get in touch with Kanalita on Earth. Sure enough, when Kanalita heard that her disciple had become a bandit in the universe and was so angry that she said she would expel the blonde Launch.

.....

East of the North Area, on a certain planet.

Vegeta and Shasley were practicing on top of the planet. Since Muyang, Melia, and Melis appeared a year ago and forcefully took Raditz away, the two seemed to be stimulated to practice like crazy. After the loss of the scouter, the two vaguely fumbled to a whole new comprehension.

It seemed that the scouter did not necessarily require a detector.

If Raditz were here, he would be surprised. Vegeta and Shasley vaguely groped. It was the way he practiced day and night to master the control of the gas.

Rumbling-

The raging energy began to calm down.

Vegeta and Shasley sat together, his face finally regained confidence once again, "This prince's power level has been raised to 18,000. As long as I am given some more time, I will definitely make the whole universe shake."

"Definitely will." Shasley looked at Vegeta with a smile.

The adult Shasley had grown more mature, and she now only thought that Vegeta could grow up quickly.

"Hey, hey, yes, this time will not be far away." Vegeta sneered. Only when facing Shasley, his heart would have a trace of warmth that even he did not notice.

Not far away, Nappa smelled that sour smell in the air and felt uncomfortable all over.

"Is this the way between men and women? It is too bright blind, but it is a pity that Vegeta has not grown up now, Shasley will have to wait for a few years."

At this time, the outer space suddenly came several particularly powerful energy reactions. The planet began to shake, the sea rolled up huge waves, Vegeta and Shasley scampered up.

Vegeta looked at the sky with a gloomy face and said in horror, "What the hell is going on, those shuddering energy...."

If converted into energy values, there were probably several million power levels.

"So terrifying, even if we become a Giant Ape form is far from an opponent." Shasley held Vegeta's hand, and Vegeta was cold as frost, "Maybe even more powerful than the woman a year ago."

He, who had seen the greatness of Melia, had long ago not scorned everything as before. Nevertheless, he knew that he still had a long way to go from the strongest in the universe, just those strands of energy... were not too powerful.

"1, 2, 3, 4! There are four strands of energy in total, each with several million power levels." The corners of Shasley's mouth dried up, and she looked at Vegeta with a worried face.

"Vegeta, Shasley, what's wrong with you guys?" After seeing Vegeta and Shasley look like a big enemy, Nappa touched his head and asked in confusion.

Vegeta did not answer Nappa's question but pulled up Shasley and flew in a direction.

"Hurry up and get off this planet."

"Hey, wait for me."

Nappa had never seen Vegeta had such an expression, realized that things were not right, hit a jolt, and rushed to follow Vegeta and their pace.

Chapter 386

Vegeta and others flew all the way and soon came to the front of a small spaceship.

Click-

The hatch opened, and several people quickly entered the spaceship. Vegeta hurriedly started the spaceship engine.

Vegeta's gloomy face relaxed a little when the ship gradually lifted off away from the current planet.

"Vegeta, what happened? Why do we have to leave the planet just now?" Vegeta's face was cold all the way. Only until the spaceship was launched that Nappa had the opportunity to ask.

"Shut up!"

Vegeta reprimanded. He closed his eyes to sense the energy reaction around the spaceship without having time to answer Nappa's question.

On the other hand, Shasley looked at Nappa and explained, "Just now on top of the planet suddenly appeared several energy reactions of up to millions of power levels. If we had not left quickly, what would have happened as a result should not be difficult for you to imagine."

"Millions of power level?!" Nappa screamed, could not help but shiver.

No wonder even Vegeta and Shasley had to run away. Great, if it weren't for Vegeta and his reaction in time, they would have been in trouble by now.

Nappa asked carefully, "Good reason, how can there be such a master appeared on our planet above? And several of them came?"

Shasley shook her head, "I don't know."

"Not good, those guys are targeting us. They are coming after us."

Just then, Vegeta snapped open his eyes and shouted with an ugly face. When Shasley heard it, she immediately sensed the energy around them, and her face followed the ugly look.

—Four powerful aura as if fixed on the target was chasing them.

"What's going on? Can it be that they are targeting us?" Shasley forced herself to calm down.

"I do not know. Right now, even their intention is not clear!" Vegeta shook his head. Could it be that he had inadvertently offended someone? However, wherein the universe were there so many powerful people for him to offend!

'Damn! Where did all these masters appear!'

Vegeta wasn't an adult after all. But, in the face of such a matter of life and death, he had his hands full.

"Vegeta, what to do?" Nappa's voice trembled.

Vegeta took a deep breath, "Speed up spaceship, let's run to the east. There is the territory of King Cold. No matter what, we have to go to him."

After the death of Frieza and Cooler, now the largest power in the North Area belonged to King Cold. He was in charge of the entire East Area of the North Area, and the small forces created by Vegeta had been in contact with King Cold. Now defected to the past, King Cold was likely to receive them, but the cost would be greater.

However, the cost didn't matter right now. What matter was to save lives first!

"Then go and defect to King Cold." Shasley went up and put her arms around Vegeta's neck. She was buried in his chest and gave a little comfort.

At that moment, Nappa went forward to turn on the spaceship's engine to the maximum power. Then, after resetting the direction of flight, the flight accelerated violently. At the same time, Vegeta also began to get in touch with King Cold.

'Hurry up!'

Cold sweat gradually slipped down from Vegeta's forehead. In his sense, the four strange and powerful energy always bite, maintaining a distance of not too far, not too close.

.....

Meanwhile, in the East of the North Area, at King Cold's headquarters planet.

"Hey, Vegeta.... actually think of defecting to this king. It seems that he has encountered big trouble."

In the luxurious palace, King Cold leaned back in his seat with pleasure, and his huge body brought endless pressure next to his minions.

"Does the king want to subdue them?" The subordinate next to him asked.

King Cold stood up haughtily, and a cold wind swept away, "Take them in, why not. This king is worried about not being able to draw out that rumored Super Saiyan!"

The destruction of the past Vegeta Planet could be said to be suspicious. A small Saiyan for King Cold would not have been a concern, but Cooler's death made King Cold interested in the Saiyan. Maybe there was a secret hidden in the Saiyan's body.

So for Vegeta's defection, King Cold showed a welcome attitude.

.....

A month later, Vegeta's spaceship approached King Cold's headquarters planet.

"We are almost here." Vegeta maneuvered the spaceship, and his palms are already breaking out in cold sweat.

After a month of continuous chasing, the four energies behind them were getting closer and closer to them.

At that moment, a disc-shaped spaceship appeared in front of Vegeta and the others. King Cold came. —For some reason, Vegeta's heart was relieved, followed by an endless humiliation.

Vegeta looked grimly at the unknown creatures behind him who kept chasing him. His heart was full of resentment and anger.

"Vegeta, the East forces welcome you to join." The cold and arrogant voice of King Cold came from the call channel.

"Please, King Cold, hold back the monsters behind us." Vegeta suppressed the anger in his heart. His tone of voice showed as calm as possible.

"Ho ho ho ho, let me see what it is that actually makes even Prince Vegeta can only run for his life." King Cold grinned and ordered someone to open the big scouter.

At once, the spaceship buzzed, and a series of jumping data appeared on the screen.

Three million, three million, three million!

A clear, bright red number surfaced on the screen. Surprisingly, it was four 3 million energy!

"Huh, there is actually such a powerful energy reaction." King Cold was slightly surprised. These few energy had already surpassed the ace of his strongest troops in the early years, "It seems that Vegeta has provoked a character that should not be provoked, no wonder he was so scared that he could only run all the way."

King Cold's fingers couldn't help but gently tapping the armrest of the throne. King Cold narrowed his eyes. A few million-level energy naturally didn't scare him. However, to deal with them, King Cold himself was needed.

Well, if you hadn't shown strength for decades, it was a good idea to do something.

King Cold got up and floated out of the spaceship, and the huge body of more than three meters floated in the universe.

After a few moments, he saw four figures emerged from the area behind the Vegeta ship. It was covered in black, with the scythe-like arms of the monster. —When King Cold saw this, he recognized that the four figures were somewhat similar to Demon Beast Yakon.

"Hahahaha, it turns out to be Demon Beast Yakon. Four appear at the same time at once... is rare."

"Vegeta, I'll eliminate these guys for you, and you will obediently serve this king in the future." King Cold turned his head, and the corners of his mouth slightly curved. Then, he said to Vegeta, who was not far away, through the voice transmission device.

Vegeta lowered his head and struggled to say, "We are willing to serve King Cold."

"Hahahaha, good!"

King Cold laughed, and his body flew toward the four Demon Beast Yakon.

Next, a few bolts of lightning appeared in the universe, followed by the sound of a few sharp chopping sounds. After all, it was only Demon Beast Yakon with 3 million power levels. It was easy for King Cold to deal with.

Soon, the four Demon Beast Yakon were smashed into pieces by King Cold. After finishing all this, a smug smile appeared on King Cold's face.

"Awesome!" Vegeta and Shasley's stunned eyes were wide open. They were shocked by the power of King Cold.

In addition to Muiyang and others that they encountered a year ago, King Cold was the strongest.

It turned out that there were actually so many strong people in the universe!

King Cold was able to rule the entire East of the North Area, not by those subordinates, but by his powerful strength. At this moment, Vegeta could hardly describe his mood, but he deeply felt that he was really weak.

Chapter 387

Vegeta and Shasley were still the same, and Nappa was still their faithful follower, needless to say.

"So powerful. We will be considered to join the power of King Cold?" Witnessing King Cold with no difficulty to destroy four Demon Beast Yakon, Nappa swallowed and was overwhelmed.

"Enough talk!" Vegeta's face was cold, fiercely glared at Nappa.

'This unproductive guy! Is joining someone else's forces something to be happy about?'

If not because there were few Saiyans left in the universe, Vegeta wanted to slap him to death.

"Well, don't be angry." At this time, Shasley held Vegeta's hand and gave him a clear look to make the anger in his heart reduced.

"Hey, hey, no more, no more." Nappa laughed dryly, knowing that he had angered the other side again. He knew that if Shasley was not on the side to eliminate Vegeta's anger, Vegeta might really kill Nappa as in the original.

"Remember this in the future, do not say these brainless words!"

Vegeta fiercely stared at Nappa, then took a deep breath and drove the spaceship to the front of King Cold's spaceship, sending people to the fence. His heart didn't know what it was like.

.....

Just when Vegeta had no choice but to temporarily join King Cold's banner, the Earth side also encountered big trouble. Bojack and his group finally appeared in the star space where the Earth was located after a long voyage.

Earth, the Lookout.

Kanalita personally chased the blonde Launch out of Earth a few days ago and brought her back, and was now giving her a hard time at the Lookout. Launch, on the other hand, was suffering like a frosted eggplant, lethargic and weak.

At this time, several cold and powerful aura suddenly appeared in outer space beyond the Earth. The vast aura.... directly sook everyone's soul.

Because the Lookout was located in the middle of the highest dimension of the Earth, so it could directly sense the breath outside the solar system.

Kanalita raised her head violently. Her bright eyes were filled with horror, "What's going on? This powerful and dark ki, how can it appear suddenly close to the solar system? Is it an enemy from the outer planets?"

Mr. Popo stood by Kanalita's side and said uneasily, "Kami, the opponent will reach Earth in a few minutes..."

At this time, the Old Kami came out from the Lookout. His face was grave. His wrinkled forehead was covered with beads of sweat, "Kanalita, you have sensed those terrifying ki. The intensity is far beyond what we can interfere with. Can you contact your Teacher?"

Kanalita also knew that the matter in front of her was beyond her control and said seriously, "Yes, I will contact my teacher immediately."

After saying that, Kanalita took out a contact device and dialed Muiyang, who was located on the other side of the North Area, and told them what had happened on Earth.

A moment later, Kanalita closed the contact device and said, "Teacher already knows what happened here. They will come over soon."

"That's good." The Old Kami nodded gently at his words.

As long as Muiyang and the others could come back in time, then there was still a little hope for Earth in any big crisis. However, the Old Kami had learned about the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament from Other-World and was clear that if even Muiyang was unable to do anything, then no one in the entire galaxy could save the Earth.

With her eyes slightly glued, Kanalita gazed at the blonde Launch in front of her. There was no more thought of teaching her a lesson. Waving her hand, she said to Broly, "You take Launch to the Mount Five Elements, where it is a little safer."

After all, she was her disciple. So even if the blonde Launch was disobedient, she had to ensure the safety of her disciple first.

Although Broly's power was strong enough, he was too young to help in the face of the enemy later.

"I know." Broly glanced at Kanalita, nodded, and picked up the blonde Launch, and flew towards Mount Five Elements, which was a separate space and the best place to take refuge in times of danger.

After Broly and blonde Launch left, the other practitioner on the Lookout gathered around. The aura coming from the Lookout was getting stronger and stronger at the moment, and even they were feeling it.

"Lord Kami, what's happening?"

"Those powerful ki, could it be an enemy invasion?"

"Could it be the demon...."

These martial artists were considered the new generation of the Earth. They had not experienced the demon disaster decades ago first hand.

Kanalita sighed and said roughly what had just happened. These Earth martial artists' hearts sank after hearing this, realizing that the Earth was about to face a great disaster.

.....

Outer planet, somewhere in the commercial street.

Seeing that Muiyang's face became grave after receiving Kanalita's communication, Melissa, who knew his character well, said with some surprise, "Something happened on the earth side?"

Nodding gently, Muiyang said to Melissa and April, "Yes, there are several very powerful ki approaching the solar system. However, Kanalita has a feeling that things are not simple, so she wants us to go back."

Melissa looked surprised, "What kind of people are so bold-hearted that they dare to invade the earth?"

"The other side is probably really strong. Otherwise, Kanalita would not have come for help." Muiyang gave her a look and said.

"Then is our trip kind of a bust?" Melissa shrugged her shoulders, followed by a straight face, and said, "Let's hurry back!"

There was a fight, which vaguely made her a little excited.

Muiyang nodded and turned to April and said, "Melissa and I will go back to Earth first until things are clear. You stay here with Muqiu and Amelia, and don't leave."

April smiled sweetly, "You guys go ahead, don't worry about us."

April knew she could not help much back on Earth, so she might as well stay and take care of the two children. Her heart secretly said, 'I am really still not powerful enough. Otherwise, I could help my brother, and it seemed that the plan of the Android should be accelerated.'

Of course, Muiyang didn't know what April was thinking. He nodded towards April, and then patted the heads of Muqiu and Amelia, and then used instantaneous movement to take Melissa back to Earth.

.....

With a flash of illusory light, Muiyang and the others appeared on the earth Lookout. Several cold and powerful ki came directly to their faces.

'WHAT A STRONG KI!'

As soon as Muiyang appeared, his expression was changed, and his face became grave. No wonder Kanalita had to rush to summon him back. It turned out that such a powerful enemy had actually come from above the Earth.

"Muiyang, those few ki are very powerful." Melissa rubbed him on the shoulder. Her eyes shining with a cold light and said seriously.

Muiyang nodded, "Indeed, we can't let them land on the earth, or the earth will be finished."

Although the Earth had been strengthened by the Dragon Ball once, honestly, Muiyang didn't think that the strength of the Earth now could withstand the high intensity of the battle that would take place later. So, carefully sensing the breath in the void, Muiyang confirmed that one of the breaths was close to the intensity of the Heaven Uyamons.

"Teacher, you guys are finally here."

Seeing Muiyang and Melissa appear, Kanalita's tightly locked brow finally unfolded, like a little girl finding something to fall back on.

Muiyang glanced at Kanalita and said gruffly, "The other party's power is very strong. I am now going forward with Melissa to block it. When the battle comes later, the energy may spread to the whole solar system. Kanalita, you have to guard the Lookout, don't let the Earth be harmed."

"I know." Kanalita nodded her head forcefully.

The Lookout was the pivot of the Earth. As long as the Lookout was stabilized, the Earth could exert its strongest defense capability.

The Old Kami walked up with a wrinkled face and looked at Muiyang seriously, "Muiyang, it's up to you guys."

"Don't worry, in a few years, someone will soon be able to take over my responsibilities," Muiyang revealed a smile.

In a few years, when Son Goku and the others grow up, he could let go and live a life like a crane in the wild.

For Muiyang's words, the Old Kami did not hear the deep meaning. Except that in the face of a powerful enemy, his weak strength was useless, and his heart felt more and more that the times had changed completely.

"Then we are leaving!"

The spacious square suddenly collapsed, and the flat stone slab cracked into a small piece of broken stone.

Looking at the bright light of MUYANG rose up to the sky, Melissa grinned. Her turquoise eyes immediately turned golden, and then followed by also rushed into the sky.

Another burst of energy spread in all directions, and all the martial artists in the Lookout were shocked and made a move to resist. However, the two strong winds came too suddenly, and before the martial artists could react, they were blown by the severe storm.

This was the first time they felt the powerful power of the couple. After stabilizing their bodies, they could not help but drip with sweat.

Kanalita opened her mouth, "Teacher and his wife, what a mess."

However, looking at the Lookout square that became completely unrecognizable, her heart was surging with endless confidence.

Chapter 388

A place close to the solar system, surrounded by a vast, dark starry sky.

The vast universe was empty, without many traces of planets. On the large scale of the entire universe, the distance between planets was very far. Even in the area close to the solar system, there were only a few stray meteorites compared to the dark void outside.

In the periphery of the solar system, Bojack, Zangya, and others went through a long trek to finally approach the area where the Earth was located.

The Galaxy Soldiers' physique surpassed the ordinary aliens and could directly physically travel through the star river.

"Boss, that yellow-orange star in the distance is the galaxy where the Earth is located. It is said that the Earth is a beautiful azure planet." Zangya recounted the information he had received.

Bojack glanced at her with a pair of hawk-like eyes with a cold light, "It looks quite beautiful. I heard that the earthlings living there look exactly like the Saiyans. Do you think it is particularly interesting?"

"Could it be that Planet Sala has something to do with it? Back then, the 'Beiyaian' seemed to have transferred certain people to the outer galaxy....," Zangya's tender face wrinkled slightly.

Zangya was a transformer from other galaxies, dating back to a long time ago. When they were created, for some reason, Zangya seemed to be playing some very important role, but as time went by, they were eventually abandoned by their maker.

When they awoke again, it was hundreds of thousands of years ago.

"Don't mention the 'Beiyaian' to me." Bojack interrupted with a frown. Zangya's words seemed to evoke some bad memories in Bojack from long ago, and his face turned cloudy.

The corners of Zangya's mouth twitched, and he wisely said nothing more.

Bojack cold gaze in the direction of the Earth, and the corners of the mouth condensed a cold smile, "That Earth should not have anything to do with Planet Sala. However, the thought of 'Beiyaian', I can not help but to destroy that planet! Let's go, we always have to finish what we promised others."

After saying that, Bojack, Zangya, and the others continued to fly towards the direction of Earth. Their deal with Loomu was to capture a few earthlings for Loomu's research, while Loomu provided them with the technology of the Big Gete Star.

They had not flown far, and about the time they reached the outer cloud, two figures blocked their way.

Muyang and Melissa were shining with a brilliant light. Their vigorous power was particularly conspicuous as if it were a great sun, and when they saw clearly the appearance of the opposite figures, Muyang was also astonished.

The people who approached the Earth were actually Bojack and his men!

Bojack and his men from the anime version of "Galaxy Crisis", was a group of thugs who tried to destroy the peace of the four galaxies, each with the ability to destroy the world. —According to Muyang's knowledge, the strongest of these people is their boss, Bojack, with power beyond specifications.

In the original, Son Goku and Vegeta were not his opponents, needing Son Gohan to become Super Saiyan 2 to be able to kill them.

That being said, the opponent was at least a strong enemy whose strength reached the Perfected Perfect Cell or Super Perfect Cell.

They actually appeared in the solar system!

A stern aura flashed in his eyes. Of course, Muyang could no longer let them continue to approach the Earth.

"Melissa, strike directly with the strongest attack. Those five people are all not simple."

After saying that, Muyang's body went forward and directly launched an attack towards Bojack and the others. Melissa nodded her head forcefully and also followed up.

"HEAVENLY GOD BEAM!"

With a sweep of white energy, Muyang's attack appeared in front of Bojack and the others. The sudden attack caught Bojack and the others a bit off guard, and by the time they reacted, Muyang's figure had already appeared in front of them.

BANG!

Muyang picked up his fist and struck towards Bojack's head.

Bojack did not react for a moment and was hit by Muyang's attack. His whole body suddenly flew out sideways, and the black turban wrapped around his head was shattered.

"....."

"BOSS!"

Zangya and Kogu were stunned by the sudden scene and were about to go up to help Bojack when Melissa's stunning face appeared in front of them.

"What's that?"

"TORNADO STORM!"

There was a crisp, delicate cry. The starry sky trembled continuously as the harsh attacks rushed in. Melissa's original power level was inferior to that of Zangya and the others, but with the increase of 65 times the power level of the second state of the Golden Eyes, Melissa appeared with a super high power level of 3.9 billion, far exceeding the 2 billion or so of Zangya and the others.

Each of her attacks carried great power.

"Not good. Zangya quickly back away. You are not her opponent." Swordsman Kogu saw the situation and pulled Zangya away. After having his sword destroyed by Dabura, he could only rely on his two fists to fend off Melissa's attacks.

BOOM!

Kogu went in front of Zangya to block the blow for him, but he underestimated Melissa's strength. Kogu's body shook, his body clothes instantly shattered. The next second, Kogu's arm showed a bizarre bend and had been broken.

"Kogu, what are you doing?"

"It's better to worry about yourself!" After injuring Kogu, Melissa didn't let go of any opportunity. After ruthlessly dislodging one of the opponent's arms, her icy pupils swept towards the other few people.

Zangya's pupils fiercely shrunk, and a cold chill from the soles of the feet straight to the brain, cowardly heart beating violently.

"Everyone, fight her." Bido and Bujin next to him couldn't bear to look at her and roared in anger, joining Zangya to attack Melissa.

Melissa's eyes stared at the three people in front of her, flinging her arms in place and burning with a green glow.

"It's her. This person is the woman that Loomu said destroyed Big Gete Star. She really is an Earthling!" Zangya exclaimed.

However, it was useless to know this at this time. Melissa's body kept flashing, and countless residual shadows appeared in the void. The four of them were all wounded by Melissa, and the parts that were attacked were directly dented.

If it were an ordinary being, they would have been killed by now.

"What a powerful woman." Zangya's eyes flickered, seems to be afraid.

"Hahahaha, if you dare to come to Earth, I will kill all of you."

Melissa laughed crazily with the brutal power that wrapped around her whole body. Her delicate face was as brilliant as a poppy, and her attack became even more fierce. Hissing, Melissa stepped forward and appeared in front of several people again when everyone didn't see clearly.

PENG! PENG PENG!

SNAP!

A stream of light flashed, blood mist flew and drifted in the vacuum of the universe. Bujin, who was one of Galaxy Soldiers, was actually directly beaten into a cloud of blood mist by Melissa to die.

"BUJIN!"

The death of his companion emboldened the few remaining people. The fact that they had come so aggressively and lost one of their members at first glance made the Galaxy Soldiers feel a dark cloud hanging over their hearts.

Bido roared in anger, his muscles swelled, and his body turned into a ray of light and attacked Melissa.

When Melithea saw this, the corners of her mouth showed a cold smile, her cold face without many expressions, "GRAVITY IMPRISONMENT!"

With a shout, Zangya and the others were as if their bodies were caught in the mud. Their movements became stiff, while Melissa pursed her lips and smiled coldly, the attack in her hands did not hesitate at all.

A dark blue ki wave streaked across the void and hit Bido's body, instantly blowing his body apart.

Another warrior perished.

Seeing Bido's death, Kogu and Zangya's faces turned cold, and they hurriedly flew towards their boss, Bojack.

"You think you can run away?"

"TORNADO STORM!!!"

.....

In the distance, Bojack, who was dazed by MUYANG's sudden attack, spit out a mouthful of blood foam. Then, Bojack black face to look at the person who attacked him.

"HO!"

Bojack raised his energy, forming a layer of protection in front of his body, resisting MUYANG's attack with one hand, followed by a loud shout, and the majestic power spread out, directly blowing MUYANG away.

"Good! Good! Good! I haven't been injured for hundreds of thousands of years." Bojack looked at MUYANG and laughed coldly as demonic soul-shattering energy spread out to the entire solar system.

MUYANG's face sank, and he felt great pressure.

Just then, Bojack's body moved and disappeared in place almost without warning. MUYANG looked around and did not find Bojack's figure. Suddenly felt danger approaching, only to see a black shadow appear overhead. MUYANG immediately raised his hand to block.

BOOM!

There was no sound in the void, but the huge movement formed a ripple that seemed to knock out a heavy blow in the heart. The corners of Muiyang's mouth twitched, a mouthful of blood seized the mouth and quickly turned into a mist of small fine beads.

'Highly skilled, this Bojack is definitely an unprecedented expert.'

'Even Heaven's Uyamons, perhaps not his opponent.'

For almost a moment, Muiyang judged Bojack's power, which rivals Uyamons's strength of experts!

'Next would be a bloody battle!'

When he thought of this, Muiyang looked serious. Then, just as Muiyang made some adjustments, Bojack reappeared, grabbed Muiyang's arm, and threw it out in one direction. When Muiyang saw this and hurriedly played the role of Unfettered Instinct. His body movements suddenly became peculiar, as if countless phantoms appeared around his body.

Each of Bojack's attacks seemed to have missed.

"Hm?" Bojack furrowed his brows, sensing the opponent's weirdness.

Chapter 389

Bojack perceived that every time his attacks reached the opponent's side, there was always a bizarre deviation. This deviation was small, but in a high-speed battle, it was enough to make his attacks lose most of their effect. It was not like the opponent automatically dodged, but rather like... the space around the distortion!

'So it was a trick to distort space!'

Thinking about this, Bojack showed a cold smile, and his eyes were even more severe.

Even if the space was distorted, as long as the power of the attack was strong enough, it could still cause terrifying damage. Suddenly Bojack's body moved at high speed. The power wrapped around the surface of his body exploded with great destructiveness, and a thin stream of light like cicada wings flashed by. Bojack's palms coalesced to create a blade that pierced through space and attacked Muiyang.

Faced with Bojack's attack, Muiyang quickly adjusted his position and raised his leg, a huge force emitted from his waist. Suddenly, his eyes became a blur, and just when his attack was about to hit Bojack. Bojack suddenly disappeared and reappeared at the side of Muiyang.

With both hands clasped in his fist, he slammed down from the top of Muiyang's head.

BAANGG!!

A lightning aura suddenly burst out of Muiyang's eyes, forcefully swinging out his fist to block Bojack's attack. While fighting and retreating, his body traced a trajectory in the void, quickly distancing himself from his opponent, and then fiercely stepped forward, his steel-like fist landed on Bojack's body.

DANG!!

Bojack muffled a grunt, a strand of blood spilled out of his mouth, resisted Muiyang's attack further up, directly grabbed one of Muiyang's legs.

"Hahahaha, caught you. Let's see how you can still dodge it." Bojack laughed loudly, and the entire wide and empty, silent universe space unexpectedly stalled with a fierce burst.

In a flash of lightning, MUYANG's nerves tensed up. The blood in his body suddenly accelerated, and he raised his arm to block Bojack's attack.

BANG!

There was a violent impact. Bojack's fist smashed on MUYANG's arms. Suddenly, as if two pieces of steel slammed together at ultra-high speed, bursting out dazzling sparks in the vacuum, time stopped at this moment, the terrifying energy spread out, the whole solar system was born again a brilliant sun.

.....

On Earth.

Kanalita's forehead was covered with crystal sweat, and her fiery red hair was hanging low, covering her eyes. Against the tremendous pressure from outer space, Kanalita pressed her hands with difficulty on the temple floor, controlling it through the full power of Kami.

The Lookout was the control center of the entire planet and was operating at full power as if a pump was constantly extracting energy from the planet's interior to resist the energy impact from outer space. As a result, the whole Lookout was trembling violently as if it was about to disintegrate.

"What a powerful force. Just the aftermath of the battle makes the whole planet tremble continuously."

"Lord Kami, is the enemy being held back?"

Some martial artists who were practicing at the Lookout were pressed down to the ground by the tremendous pressure.

"It's about to be impossible to breathe."

"Could this be the power of the powerful alien? It's too powerful."

There was an incredulous look in their eyes, and their speech became very difficult.

This was just the aftermath of the battle in outer space, so they could not resist. If this had happened on earth, they would have fainted. Was there really such a big gap between earthlings and the strongest people on the outer planets?

"Don't worry, Teacher MUYANG and his wife Melissa are blocking the enemy's attack in outer space. I believe in teacher. They will definitely succeed." Kanalita bit her lower lip and controlled the energy output of the Lookout with all her might. Her face showed a hint of gloom.

"Yes, the God of Martial Arts can definitely save the world"

Speaking of MUYANG, the martial artists in the Lookout regained their confidence. MUYANG's might was the last straw in their hearts, and they simply couldn't imagine that if even MUYANG failed, what else on earth could resist the enemy's attack.

.....

In outer space, the battle continued for a long time again.

BOOM!

Received a fierce blow from Bojack, Muiyang's face suddenly turned pale, and his body flew backward as fast as a meteor.

Bojack would not let go of such a good opportunity to attack. He quickly went forward, chasing after him, and added another blow on Muiyang's body.

PENG! PENG! PENG!

In a very short moment, Bojack's attack caused heavy damage to Muiyang's body.

"So powerful.... Bojack's strength is not much different from Uyamons. The same rough and tumble fighting style, but Bojack's attack is even more brutal. Even if with Unfettered Instinct, when it encounters absolute violence, it still seems a bit overwhelmed.

Muiyang was fighting back with all his might. The Unfettered Instinct had been used to his limit, but because of the disparity between his own power level and his opponent, Muiyang had been in passive defense.

"Cougghh."

A large mouthful of blood seized out of his mouth, and his face became even paler.

"Hahahaha, in the end, I can't resist. I really wonder... Earth is obviously just a very Low-Level backward planet. So, why would there be an expert like you, is there any secret, or is it deliberately hiding the strength?" Bojack laughed out loud, his eyes were deeply silent, and the corners of his mouth were hooked up in a seemingly mocking manner.

"Cough...." Muiyang coughed lightly, and foamy blood beads fluttered in space.

He was now injured, his whole body was so exhausted that there was not much strength left, and the gap was still too big compared to Bojack. —Unless he could break the limit, making the power level increase again, he was simply not capable of resisting Bojack's attack.

"That's all, it doesn't matter if you don't answer, I will directly kill you and then take your corpse back to study it properly. Then, maybe I can get the secrets in your body." Bojack looked at Muiyang's body and greedily said.

Bojack himself was a transformer of other galaxies, born with great power. His greatness could not become stronger by way of cultivation but only by further transformation, which was why they peeped at the technology of the Bighorn.

With a cold smile on his lips, Bojack's arm condensed a sharp blade. Then, just as Bojack coldly wanted to end the opponent completely, a large grass-green glow suddenly rose in the cosmic sky, followed by countless thin energy blades that seemed to attack like a storm.

"BASTARD, YOU DARE TO HURT MUYANG!!!!

An angry cold voice resounded through the starry sky. Under the powerful ki wrapping, the vacuum environment also showed the same huge ripples as in the inner atmosphere.

WOOOSHHHHH-

Bojack suddenly felt his whole body was tangled with countless wet ribbons. His body felt chills, and countless terrifying attacks came down; each of these attacks was wrapped with thunderous fury as if to tear his body apart completely. —With his eyes wide open, that moment just now actually gave him an overwhelmingly mysterious feeling, examining the surroundings, a dangerous omen actually rose up.

Melissa's anger-filled face appeared in front of Bojack. With a pair of Golden Eyes that were green in gold, the ki on her body was extremely riotous.

"GOLDEN EYES STATE THIRD LEVEL!"

In extreme anger, Melissa's power break through the limit. Boosted to a stronger state, Melissa's body was wrapped in a grass-green light, a power that reached the absolute peak!

With the Golden Eyes State Third Level, the multiplier was comparable to Super Saiyan's strongest Super Saiyan Transformation at full power. With a full 80 times increase, Melissa had a 60 million power level at the bottom and a 4.8 billion power level in her heyday.

This combat power had been comparable to Bojack.

Bojack hastily gave up the idea of killing Muiyang and Melissa. The more he looked, the more frightened he was. This sudden surge in power level was simply exactly the same as Super Saiyan.

"You are actually so strong. Where are those subordinates of mine?"

"Those few trash, of course, they are already dead."

Melissa's face was cold, and her body was filled with an oppressively frenzied aura. How could Zangya, Kogu, Bido, and Bujin, who were her opponents, had, of course, been destroyed to powder by her.

Bojack sniffed angrily and contacted his subordinates, but it could be true that their signals had all disappeared, as Melissa had said.

Chapter 390

At this moment, what Bojack still didn't understand is that what the woman in front of him said was true. —The death of Zangya and others had cast a shadow over Bojack's heart.

Although the strength of Zangya and others was not good, they were still his followers for countless years. Now that they were all killed by the woman in front of him, his heart was naturally full of anger.

In particular, the contact with the woman in front of him just now made Bojack throb for no reason, "This woman seems to be a little different than before."

Bojack frowned; his face instantly became gloomy. His body tumbled up a steaming wave of ki. However, just when Bojack was considering a way to kill the woman in front of him and avenge his subordinates, Melissa had already moved first.

He saw Melissa slightly gathered ki, her eyes shining forward, grass-green flame attached to her arm, her body a short, agile in through the void. Bojack's face suddenly changed, and his pupils shrink. The girl's delicate figure had already appeared, and a slender arm reached towards him.

With five fingers gathered together, an iron fist came crashing towards him.

After a flash of white light, Bojack's whole face became stiff. He felt that he had been hit by a huge force. His body came to a sudden halt, and then, like a cannonball, he turned into a beautiful straight line in the vast silence of the starry sky.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

A tragic visual effect blossomed in the universe. Along the way of the meteorite was Bojack, hit by a series of sparks with a bright sea of fire-linked into a straight line.

In front of it was a meteorite with a diameter of tens of thousands of meters. Bojack hit it head-on, and the meteorite suddenly scattered like loose wood chips. By the force of the meteorite, Bojack finally stopped the impact.

However, this time Bojack face was no longer the previous indifference. Instead, it was full of shock, seemingly stunned by the other party's powerful combat power.

"Muyang, are you okay?" Melissa's worried face appeared beside Muyang's, looking at him seriously.

Muyang shook his head, took out a Senzu Bean, and ate it. His body quickly recovered. "Don't mind me... Melissa, you actually broke through."

The current state of Melissa was similar to the full power of the Super Saiyan, covered with grass-green light entwined. In addition, the Golden Eyes State was developed to the third level, and the strength advantages of the Legendary Super Saiyan had been highlighted.

"Unknowingly, my mind broke through." Melissa showed a dumb expression, confused about how she broke through.

Muyang's expression was stunned, remembering all the strange things about Saiyans, and nodded, "The Legendary Super Saiyan seems to be like this. You have to control your emotions well, don't lose control."

"I know, now let me deal with that guy before."

Seeing that Muyang was no longer seriously injured, Melissa breathed a sigh of relief. But, immediately afterward, her face became cold, and she looked at Bojack with a face full of anger.

The first thing she wanted to do was to kill Bojack.

In a very short moment, Melissa's lithe figure disappeared from Muyang's sight. Suddenly, a violent energy fluctuation exploded, and Muyang turned his head to look at Bojack's side, but he saw Bojack's figure constantly bobbing up and down in place as if he was constantly under heavy attack.

Upon taking a closer look at his surroundings, there was a wisp of unreadable residual shadow around him, constantly launching attacks.

At this moment, Melissa's body emanated a supreme and moving aura. The ground around him was caved in by the powerful energy.

Muyang was amazed at Melissa's powerful appearance and could not help but say that the Saiyans are really a desperate race.

The intense mood swings could directly stimulate the power of the Saiyan. He was only seriously injured and caused Melissa to break through the current state of anger. If he was more severely injured and was sacrificed to Heaven, would she directly become a Super Saiyan State?

'In the original work, Son Goku became Super Saiyan because of Krillin's death....'
Muyang said in his heart.

Of course, this was just a thought in his mind. Looking at the battle between Melissa and Bojack, he already knew that the scales of victory had tipped to his side.

At that moment, three more shadows appeared in the void and soon appeared beside Muyang.

These three people, each with a golden halo on their heads, were Pikkon, Uyamons, and Carliss from Heaven. —Receiving the emergency notification from Grand Kai, the three of them teleported down directly through the divine platform of Heaven's Grand Kai's Planet, but what happened in front of them was a scene that they never expected.

"It seems that there's no need for us to come over here."

As soon as Uyamons appeared, he was stunned by the power displayed by Melissa.

Pikkon looked at Melissa, who was fighting with Bojack in the distance, and was also very surprised, "That is Miss Melissa. When did she become so fierce?"

"She broke through just now." Muyang came to their side and said.

"Compared to the time of the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament, it's completely different. Even Bojack was actually suppressed by her. It's simply incredible."

Carliss was so surprised that she couldn't speak. Two years ago, at the Heaven Martial Arts Tournament, Melissa was still only a little bit more powerful than her. Still, judging from her performance now, she was already completely no match for her.

Then the question arose in Muyang's heart, 'Grand Kai was in a hurry to have them rush over, what exactly was the purpose....'

Muyang looked at them and said, "Aren't you guys in the Heaven? How come you came to the solar system?"

Uyamons said, "It is the instruction of the Grand Kai, but now it seems that it does not matter whether we come or not, Miss Melissa is enough to deal with it."

Muyang shook his head and said, "How can it not be necessary? But, since you are here, please also guard the solar system. I am worried that their battle will affect the earth."

In case certain ki waves accidentally swept to the earth, then the earth could cease to exist.

"Of course."

Pikkon, Uyamons, and Carliss were all very righteous characters in their lifetime, and they certainly didn't hesitate to agree after hearing Muyang's request. So, they flew to the front of the earth, casting a very strong protective net between the earth and Bojack so that the pressure on Kanalita on the earth was instantly relieved.

.....

During the battle, Bojack was confused by Melissa's fighting style of super power for a while and energy attack for a while, his body trembled, and his face sank. —From the overall power, he actually still couldn't compare to a woman.

The battle lasted for a long time, the opponent's ki permanently raging and surging, actually not half weakened.

"Bastard! What's going on? How come this woman's power can't be used up?"

Bojack's eyes were bloodshot, his face was as cold as frost, and his demeanor was a bit wretched, "Earthling.... it couldn't be.... This state.... You... you are actually a Saiyan!!!"

Looking at Melissa's hair up, surrounded by the glowing appearance, suddenly, Bojack woke up. He had always thought that the identity of the opponent was an earthling. The reason was that in his memory... Saiyans emitted light all over the body when fighting, but it should be golden. —Until now, he was shocked to realize that the opponent was not at all what he thought of other The race and the root were the Saiyans! Probably some kind of mutated Saiyan!

"You just know that now?" Melissa's face was cold. Her eyebrows raised slightly.

"Ahhhhhh, bastards, so it really is you guys!!!" The anger made Bojack lost his reason. As if a mad bull, he tensed his muscles, the piercing murderous aura like a wave of rage.

'This guy, did he suffer a defeat at the hands of the Saiyans?'

Melissa had some surprise, and her yellow-green pupils looked at Bojack.

Suddenly, a mental oppression swept over.

Bojack grunted the spirit suddenly a pause and then grinned widely. At this time, with a sudden change, his chest suddenly cracked, and a piece of an azure cube from the chest of the mouth to fly out. The cube was like a soft body creature that kept changing its shape, and in a short while, it was plated with a layer of azure on the surface of Bojack's skin.

"What's this guy doing, transforming?" Doubtfully scanning Bojack's change, MUYANG's heart had some doubts, "Had the original Bojack have this ability?"

However, in the next battle, he found that Bojack's power did not show any change and was still suppressed by Melissa.

Strange!

There was some surprise in his heart, but MUYANG knew that Bojack was definitely finished.

BOOM!!!

With her black hair tinged with a layer of grass green color, Melissa's hair fluttered up, followed by a cluster of black shadows flashing, sneering and lightly coming forward.

BANG!

Thousands of huge forces swung out.

"TORNADO STORM!!!"

"HELL BLIZZARD!!!"

The terrifying attack descended on Bojack's body, and immediately the skin opened up, the void exploded.

Click-

The dwarf planets around the solar system disintegrated with a bang. The broken wreckage splashed in the starry sky. The whole solar system was all in chaos.

'Shit, there was no way to escape.'

Bojack wretchedly shielded his body. His face was extremely ugly.

"DIE!!!"

Melissa braced her arms, all the energy of her body crazy convergence to one place. The gorgeous crystal corona scattered glittering light. This blow condenses the power of Melissa's whole body. As long as a blow down, Bojack won't die but also take off a layer of skin.

Already not an opponent... Bojack's pupils bubbling with blood, the heart was extremely unwilling. His eyes swept a glance at the distant Muyang, Pikkon, Uyamons, each possessing a strong power, and finally rested on Melissa's body.

"Saiyans, you think you are going to win? I tell you... even if you kill me, there will be no good results, or rather, my death will instead unleash an even more terrifying monster. "

"I don't care what you're talking about!" Melissa cried out loudly.

"HELL BLIZZARD... VAULT OF HEAVEN!!!"

The soul-stirring energy fluctuations radiated outward, covered with starlight. Countless white flashes of light, like a group of stars shining fascinating, the core contains a breathtakingly huge power. Then, with a long hissing chirp, the vast whirlwind of energy towards Bojack crushed over.

At this time, Bojack expression was stagnant. A trace of shock emerged from the crazy, cruel smile, then quickly swallowed by the terrifying energy.

"Ahem, you wait, the real monster will soon come out. Whether you are Saiyans of Planet Sala or Saiyans of other planets... he will find you sooner or later."

Bojack's face was twisted. The azure substance on his body emitted a creepy cold light. Soon, with the energy storm gradually disappeared. When the last glimmer of light disappeared, the whole space seemed to have something wrong, just this wrong, no one could say.

BOOM!!!

The whole silent starry sky was calm for a while... Then, with a strong cyclone from a high altitude swooping attack, the solar system erupted the most intense storm since the beginning of recorded history.

If it wasn't for Uyamons and Pikkon, who was in front of the earth, this storm alone could have destroyed all life on earth.
