

Ball God 391

Chapter 391

The battle was finally over, but Bojack died inexplicably. It seemed like Melissa killed him, but the process of it was a bit odd.

The strange way Bojack died at the end made Muiyang's heart feel a little uneasy.

'In the original, Bojack didn't seem to be able to change the color of his body, so where did it go wrong?'

However, it was difficult to say. In the anime version, Bojack did not seem to have the time to show his full power. He was killed by Son Gohan, who transformed into Super Saiyan 2, so maybe there was something that did not show.

Muiyang thought for a while and still didn't figure out what Bojack's actions before he died were. Finally, he shook his head, put these thoughts to the back of his mind, and looked at the distant Melissa, Uyamons, and others.

Swoosh-

Melissa came through the space to the side of Muiyang. When she saw Uyamons and the others, a trace of surprise flashed through her beautiful eyes.

"Why are you guys here?"

"They were sent down by Grand Kai to deal with Bojack, but they didn't cross paths with Bojack on this trip." Muiyang stretched out his hand and touched Melissa's head, sighing, "Melissa, you're getting more and more powerful."

"I just defeated Bojack." Saying so, her head was raised proudly.

"You just be proud of yourself....," Muiyang laughed.

"Hahahaha, this is a very remarkable thing. If we had known that you were able to defeat Bojack, we wouldn't have had to rush over from the Heaven with so much worry and anxiety." Uyamuons joked and laughed, sighing and lamenting between his words.

"Yes, it was simply a wasted trip." Carliss laughed lightly.

"You guys didn't come for nothing," Muiyang shook his head, "If you guys hadn't blocked the shock wave of the battle just now, I don't even know what the earth would have become."

To be reasonable, Bojack and Melissa fought ruthlessly until the end. The power of the last few rushes was heaven-destroying. If not for the Uyamons who blocked it with a protective net, perhaps Muiyang alone would not have been able to defend the entire Earth.

Looking around the chaotic cosmic space, the entire solar system periphery was comparable to a purgatory. The Oort cloud near the wrong meteorites everywhere, colliding with each other, constantly broken, those small meteorites were changed orbit in the future for a long time will not calm down.

Suddenly, Muiyang's eyes faintly stared, looked twice more in a certain direction, and seemed to feel that someone was hiding and peering there.

'Huh, was it an illusion?' Muiyang's heart secretly said. But, when he went to look again, he did not find any figure.

'No, the feeling just now is not wrong. There must be someone else hiding in the dark....'

Muiyang believed his own feeling. He sneered at the thought, and the divine power of the Accelerated World instantly condensed in the palm of his hand and suddenly grabbed towards somewhere in the void. —An invisible hand reached over and actually grabbed a shadowy figure.

The figure was short, without much power level, and was struggling continuously.

"Bastard, how did you find me?"

"LOOMU?" Pikkon shouted in surprise after seeing clearly the figure caught out by Muiyang.

"It's really Loomu. He's actually hiding in the void."

Uyamons and Carliss reacted, and they carefully surveyed the figure framed in the void by Muiyang and were surprised to find that this dark black shadow was exactly the same as the image given to them by Grand Kai. —This person must have been uneasy about Bojack, so he followed behind to Earth.

"Do you guys know who this guy is?" Muiyang frowned and asked.

"Of course I know. He is also one of our targets this time over." Pikkon said.

"This Loomu is a phantom man who escaped from the Prison Planet together with Bojack's gang, with the ability to control people's hearts. Because he is a phantom man himself, so, ordinary methods can't harm him at all."

Speaking of which, Pikkon also felt strange. 'How did Muiyang capture him?'

"It seems to be an important person as well." Muiyang rubbed his chin, still imprisoning Loomu with the power of the Accelerated World.

"The most powerful thing about this guy is his ability to control people's hearts. A while ago, he controlled Big Gete Star all the way to devour the surrounding planets, causing a very bad impact on the whole galaxy."

"So Big Gete Star is under his control?"

Hearing this, Muiyang remembered the attack on Planet Namek a while ago and immediately understood that it was also the work of this Loomu in front of him.

"This guy, can we just kill him?" Melissa narrowed her turquoise pupils, and her lake-like eyes shone with killing intent.

Carliss said, "The problem is that Loomu is not that easy to kill"

Halfway through the sentence, Carliss paused and looked at Muiyang with a strange gaze. 'Since he could even catch Loomu, it seems that killing him was also possible, right?'

"Can we really kill?" Carliss asked in a small voice.

"There's definitely no problem." Melissa, on the other hand, smiled. She knew that MUYANG still had an Accelerated World. As long as he sent people in, what couldn't be killed by the rules there was definitely possible. Even for Loomu.

MUYANG looked at Loomu and said, "Can try."

"Loomu, it depends on your luck whether you can survive or not." After saying that, a channel of the Accelerated World was opened.

A black tunnel appeared in front of him, and immediately a huge gravity came from inside.

"Ah, this is divine power, advanced divine power... Damn, let go of me."

"No, I am a phantom man. No power can catch me only."

Loomu was panicked, looking at the black tunnel. He had a feeling that once he entered that tunnel, the only thing waiting for him was death. His heart had been very regretful. Why did he follow behind Bojack to Earth? Now, even his life would be taken.

"No, it shouldn't be like this."

'What the hell was this guy? Why does he possess advanced divine power?'

Loomu was very reluctant. He still had so many ambitions that hadn't been realized. He still controlled Big Gete Star and could have hidden behind the curtain to create powerful warriors! However, the strength of Loomu was not strong enough to resist the power of the Acceleration World and was sucked in with a whimper.

After Loomu was taken in by the Accelerated World, MUYANG nodded calmly and said, "It's in. It looks like this guy is killable."

"Is Loomu dead this time?"

"Not yet, but it's close."

—At this time, the time in the Accelerated World was in a stopped state, and Loomu was naturally imprisoned when he went in.

Pikkon, Carliss, and others looked at MUYANG in surprise, as if they wanted to ask what was the channel that appeared just now. However, for the doubts of Pikkon and others, MUYANG smiled and did not explain in detail. The expression of Pikkon and others who saw this was a bit austere. They thought that people must have a secret that no one wanted to know, so they did not continue to ask.

Next, MUYANG invited Uyamons and others to go to Earth. Uyamons and the others smiled and agreed to stay on top of the earth Lookout for a while before they said goodbye and returned to Heaven.

After Uyamons left, Kanalita came to MUYANG's side, "Teacher, thanks to your timely arrival; otherwise, I wouldn't know how to deal with this disaster."

MUYANG smiled and waved his hand, looking at this female disciple. Then, he pressed one hand on her shoulder and said in a serious tone, "As the Kami Earth, you still have a heavy burden behind you!"

"Σ(°△°|||)"

'What did you mean?'

Kanalita suddenly felt a hint of something bad.

Muyang looked up at the sky. The plot... was about to start.

This was really just an appetizer.... wait until the Androids, Majin Buu, and even God of Destruction Beerus appeared. The Earth would simply become the center of Universe 7. All kinds of demons and monsters would look at this place. When the time came, he was afraid that Kanalita was going to be exhausted.

Looking at Kanalita's dumb expression, Muyang laughed. It wasn't good to hit her with the future. He said goodbye, turned into the Acceleration World to take care of Loomu. He would like to see what the so-called phantom man had.

.....

Muyang and Melissa did not know that at the same time when Bojack died, a certain ancient existence was gradually reviving in another galaxy far away.

Planet Sala.

As the residence of the Saiyans, Planet Sala was a rare strong planet in Universe 7. At this time, in an extremely ancient desert in the western part of Planet Sala, the climate conditions with high temperature and little rain all year round made the rocks in this area weathered. When the wind blew, there was sand rolling down.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Like the beating of the heart, a sound suddenly rang out in the depths of this rare dessert.

The ground suddenly cracked, cracked more and more widely, gradually extending out thousands of meters. Then, slowly, from the deep cracks floated out a wisp of light green gas.

If one stood at the height of 10,000 meters to look down, one would find that this cracked area was no more and no less than forming a circular area...

Chapter 392

The changes that occurred on Planet Sala initially did not attract the attention of others, but as the deep cracks became more and more, the light green gas gradually coalesced, the Saiyans living on Planet Sala finally discovered the anomaly.

The intelligence summed up to the Saiyan palace and learned that Planet Sala as the home base of the alien change actually occurred. This situation soon attracted the attention of Saiyan King Wayne, who immediately rushed to the scene personally with his escort.

When he arrived at the dessert and observed the ground shattered into chunks, as well as the restlessness emanating from the air, he instinctively felt a hint of gloom.

Wayne immediately ordered people to block off the whole dessert, not allowing anyone to enter or leave, while he personally led a group of the most powerful warriors above Planet Sala to guard the vicinity of the dessert.

"King, this should be the remains of the ancient royal capital of the Saiyans. My subordinates have looked through the ancient tomes in the palace's library. According to the tomes, there was an exceptionally fierce war here in ancient times, but the specifics are so old that many records have disappeared."

.....

A few days later, a sturdy Saiyan warrior finished investigating the surrounding ruins and came back to report.

Wayne was in his middle age, when the Saiyans were at their strongest, and his power level had reached the peak of the Saiyans of Planet Sala. In addition, Muyang had left him a few bottles of the Spring of Life, so Wayne's body maintains a strong vitality.

After listening to the report of his subordinates, Wayne flew in the air to a height of a thousand meters. He stood in the air overlooking the entire land.

.....

In the desert, the winding fracture zone forming a complete circular area because the circle was too full, rather than like a natural formation.

"Imperial Capital ruins..."

"Ancient battlefield?"

Suddenly, Wayne recalled a piece of information that he occasionally saw in the collection decades ago, and his face suddenly changed down.

Legend had it that in the distant ancient times, there was a very tragic battle above Planet Sala. — The battle in which Planet Sala Saiyans was defeated, and finally the mysterious Beiyaian stepped in to give help to the Saiyans and sealed certain things above the ancient Planet Sala.

"Could it be that on Planet Sala, there really is an ancient seal?"

Such a thought flashed in his heart, and glancing at the dessert below, Wayne immediately ordered the escort of Planet Sala to guard the area and himself returned to the palace alone to investigate the previous documents.

.....

In the palace's library, Wayne found a yellowed paper among the mountains of ancient documents, on which some ancient matters were scattered.

Because the era was too long, many records had long been lost or drowned in the sea of books.

The scattered descriptions on the top of the document showed that the ancient Beiyaian did seal some very powerful monsters on Planet Sala. In order to prevent the monsters from reappearing, the Beiyaian created five transformers with extraordinary power to guard them and placed the most critical core of the seal inside the boss of the transformers.

"Bojack, Zangya, Kogu, Bido, Bujin..."

Looking at the names of the transformers recorded in the literature, Wayne's brain ached, "The names of these five people are a bit familiar as if they were guys who messed up on top of Planet

Sala hundreds of thousands of years ago and were later expelled from Planet Sala as invaders by the strongest warriors of the time. So these guys... are actually the janitors of the ancient seal?"

Wayne was dumbfounded. It turned out that in another document, there was indeed an account of Bojack and others 300,000 years ago.

It was recorded that the five men woke up from their slumber and caused trouble on Planet Sala, behaving arrogantly and recklessly, and were eventually expelled from Planet Sala by the strongest Saiyan warriors of the time.

'What kind of thing was this?'

Wayne rubbed the vague pain of the brain. Things seemed to be a little out of his expectation.

However, now was not the time to think about Bojack things. —The desert above the piece of seal still haunted him. If the document above was correct, the ground must be really sealed with some extremely terrible monsters.

Wayne first realized that he absolutely couldn't let the seal break open.

'However, how exactly should it be done?'

Wayne's brain was bruised, and he had no clue. Helplessly, he could only mobilize the most powerful group of warriors on Planet Sala to guard there day and night.

.....

Big Gete Star.

Several days had passed since Bojack incident. Loomu was sent into the Acceleration World by Muyang and was directly wiped out by the rules of the Acceleration World without the slightest accident. After Loomu's death, the Big Gete Star also got rid of Loomu's control to regain self-awareness.

"Ultra-high energy beings found, threat level EX, with research value."

With a click, the sharp energy knife went without a pause, directly under the control of the mechanical arm. Dabura's head was instantly separated from his body and then preserved in a single copy by Big Gete Star for further research.

—Muyang naturally did not know that. Because of his wipe command, not only the phantom man Loomu died, even the King of the Demon World Dabura, far beyond the stars, also died in the process of transformation. he died a very suffocating death.

.....

On the pantheon, Muyang went to outer space again and brought back April, Muqiu, and Amelia.

At this time, the two children were playing in the Lookout square. Melia and Melis were sitting beside Kanalita with a smile on their face, watching the two children chasing after the few martial artists who were practicing in the Lookout to play. Don't look at Muqiu and Amelia's young age because the starting point was really too high. Those martial artists practicing on the Lookout were not their opponents.

"Muqiu, Amelia, don't disturb other people's practice," Melia shouted from afar.

"Mom, the ki waves of those uncles and sisters are so beautiful and colorful. I want to learn ki waves too." The two children smiled and flew around the circle in the air a few times and then cheekily swooped towards the girls.

Muqiu was lying on Melia's body, tilting her head up to look at her.

Muqiu's face looks very clean, like Amelia's. People who didn't know would think he was a girl.

"I want to learn too." Amelia followed the example and shouted after Muqiu.

Melia looked at them tenderly with eyes full of love. Her palm covered their heads, "I'll teach you ki waves when you grow up a little more. Now practice the basics first."

"Eh, we still have to practice? I have been practicing for a long time!" Muqiu looked listless.

To be honest, with the physical quality of Muqiu and Amelia, releasing ki waves was as easy as drinking water. However, because they were too young, MUYANG and Melissa were worried that they would not control themselves well and hurt others, so they had been forbidden to release the ki from their bodies.

Melia put up her face and educated, "You be good and obedient. I will take you to Lazuli and Lapis to play with them later."

"We will definitely be obedient."

Hearing that they can find children to play with, the two little ones immediately obeyed.

Looking at the two little ones, Kanalita said to Melia with a smile, "The two brothers and sisters are quite funny."

Melia gave her a blank look, "If you were to take them, you would know if it is fun or not."

Kanalita's mouth pursed, and she shook her head, "Then forget it, I can't cope with children." She was tired of taking care of Launch in the first place and really did not want to experience such trouble again.

Melia and Kanalita were laughing and joking, and April was looking at MUYANG with a serious expression: "Brother, I plan to carry out Androids in the near future."

MUYANG said with a serious expression, "Have you decided?"

April nodded, "Well, the experimental data has gone through several rounds of simulation, absolutely foolproof."

MUYANG pondered for a moment and said, "Then, the transformation will be placed in the middle of the Acceleration World. Melissa and I will be at your side."

"Hmm," April revealed a sweet smile and nodded her head forcefully.

As she followed MUYANG's side, she saw more and more powerful strength. Compared to that, the little power she had could not help, and the desire to become stronger in her heart became more urgent.

"Before you carry out the transformation, I first need to borrow the Dragon Balls from Kanalita."

When Garlic Jr. entered the earth from the Demon World, it made the Old Kami and others realize that the strength of the earth could not cope with future battles, so they used the Dragon Balls to strengthen the earth once. After wishing to make the earth stronger, the seven Dragon Balls had been placed on the Lookout.

Although they had been a few times scattered down to the world, now the seven Dragon Balls were on the Lookout.

Speaking to Kanalita about April's intentions, although April's transformation process would take place in the Acceleration World and there should be no problem in terms of safety, to be on the safe side, Muiyang still intended to use the power of the Dragon Balls to give April extra protection like he used to guard Mexia's soul.

Kanalita, of course, has no problem on her side. After all, April was her teacher's wife and elder and quickly took out the seven Dragon Balls.

Next, they summoned Shenron.

The sky suddenly became dark, and Muiyang made a wish to Shenron to use the power of the Dragon Balls to guard April.

Chapter 393

After completing this necessary guarding, Muiyang thought about whether there was anything left out. After determining that there was no oversight, he took April into the Acceleration World and came to the quiet place specially opened up for her for transformation.

There was a sturdy experimental building already established here, which was prepared by April in advance, with all the internal facilities, which could be considered the set essence of current earth technology.

The Acceleration World's time flow rate adjusted to more than thirty times. The preparations had been properly done, and the next depends on April's skills. There wasn't much that Muiyang could help with.

There was a variety of instruments flashing colorful lights, running steadily. April stood next to a container filled with the Spring of Life, carefully setting the parameters of the instruments.

After some debugging, to make sure that there was no problem, she took out three black and unpleasant stones, and sent the largest of them into the instrument to crush.

These crystalline particles fused with the Spring of Life and immediately seemed to react in a wonderful way, turning into smaller particles.

"Brother, my transformation may take a long time, so I'll trouble you next." April finished everything before the transformation and her blue eyes looked at Muiyang.

Muiyang gave her a reassuring look and said to April, "We should not be so polite with each other, besides this is an Acceleration World, the flow of time is originally under my control, so you can carry out the transformation in peace. When you come out you will be an Andriod."

"Hmm." April spread her face towards Muiyang with a slight smile. Her smile was like a flower, captivating. After unbuttoning her hands and removing her clothes, she handed the clothes she took off to Muiyang and then dipped her naked body in the light green solution.

The entire jar container was hermetically sealed, April blinked in it. Her breathing became increasingly long and gradually entered dormancy, while the black stone particles and fine nanomaterials dissolved in the Spring of Life began to enter April's body through her skin and breathing under the control of the computer, slowly transforming every cell in her body.

Looking at April who had already entered the transformation state, Muiyang sat in the hall of the laboratory and closed his eyes to enter the cultivation state.

.....

The next few years, Muiyang had been accompanying April for training.

As a result of this, his strength had reached a peak. If he wanted to continue to get stronger, he could only break the fifth limit, but this was not an easy task. In addition, April was still in the Acceleration World, and it was not good for him to break the limit violently, so he brought in Melia and Melis, and lived and meditated with them in the Acceleration World.

The two of them benefited from Melissa's breakthrough and naturally mastered the third level of the Golden Eyes Transformation during this time.

Once they transformed, their power level reached half of what it was in Melissa's heyday!

It was about 2.4 billion power level.

As a matter of fact, when half a year had passed in the outside world and more than ten years had passed in the Acceleration World, April had completed the basic transformation of the Android.

The result was the same as Muiyang's previous expectation. After becoming an android, April's body function immediately exceeded the majority of the universe, her power level reached 1.2 billion in one fell swoop, which was about the strength of Android 18 when it first awakened.

After that April did not immediately come out of the conversion chamber, instead, she continued with the in-depth transformation.

Because April chose the bigger size of the black stone, so the energy boost was still going on. At this time, of course, Muiyang did not stint to continue to input energy into the green solution....

The only pity was that April's transformation time was a bit early, and did not fuse the cells of Majin Buu as in the plot, so that the power did not reach the level of Majin Buu.

But spare this, compared to the original Android 18, she was a lot stronger, about the power of Android 16.

Although it did not become Android 21, which was a bit of a pity, with April's smart brain, Muiyang believed that she would have other ways to become stronger in the future.

Seeing with his own eyes the previously weak April leap to become one of the universe's few masters through transformation, Muiyang could not help but sigh. The Android technology, was simply an amazing technology.

Of course, only through the integration of the black, the eternal type of Android could be born, and currently there were two smaller black stones in April's hands.

Time flew, the years passed...

In the blink of an eye, four years had passed in the outside world, and twelve years had passed since the destruction of Planet Vegeta.

If there was no Muyang, the butterfly in the deadly fan hurricane, then the original plot should have begun.

Just now, who knew what kind of plot there would be!

After April truly became an Android, Muyang also began to sprint with all his might to the fifth limit. However, the limit was the limit, of course, it was not easy to break through. After experiencing two failures, Muyang calmed down, understanding more deeply the truth that speed was not enough, and no longer pursuing breakthroughs so much.

In the third time, Muyang went all out, finally succeeded in breaking the limit. His power level reached 4 billion in one fell swoop.

The space and ability of the Acceleration World rightfully went up.

The spatial range was expanded to 20 million kilometers, and the speed of time flow increased to 64 times.

So far, the four people all obtained a breakthrough. April also officially joined the vast army of training. In terms of strength, she was higher than the normal state of Melissa by an unknown amount.

.....

Earth, Mount Paozu.

Mount Paozu was backed by the Primitive Mountain Range, adjacent to the Great Azure Mountain. Because Bardock and Son Gohan used to live here in seclusion, despite being at the edge of the dense primeval forest, the mountain had been a long-rumored sacred place in the outside world.

The wind of training in the vicinity was no less than the Sacred Land of Korin.

However, now only Son Goku and Chi-Chi lived in Mount Paozu. Bardock and his wife, and Sun Gohan, and even some of Muyang's brothers and sisters, were entrusted by Muyang to the outer planets to suppress a party of rebellious forces.

After these years of development, the expansion of the God Mu Force could be said to be very rapid. Under the acquiescence of North Kai, the Southern Part of the North Area and some Northern Part areas have been fully controlled by God Mu Force. The scope of power far beyond the heyday of Frieza Force.

Of course, with the expansion of the territory, the friction with the Eastern Part's King Cold influence was getting worse, so it needed to Bardock and Son Gohan to press their side.

Even the young Broly was also assigned by Muyang to go out to participate in the battle.

As for the senior brothers and sisters, as well as some of the outstanding martial artists on Earth who had reached the standard, they serve more as the role of pickets within the forces, and had found their niche.

.....

On this day, the clouds were light and the sun was shining brightly.

In the open space, a young man in an orange and red martial arts uniform was fighting with a young girl in a dark blue cheongsam. The two of them were going back and forth, fighting with each other, moving extremely fast. Only blurred residual shadows appeared in the sky and the ground from time to time, and a burst of thumping sounds rang out continuously.

The cold hurricane wind spread in all directions, the trees were bent by the strong wind, falling leaves everywhere.

Son Goku stepped out on the ground a deep footprint, his body swooshed like a cannonball out of the firing line. When Chi-Chi saw this, she turned around and dodged, but at this time Son Goku quickly changed direction again and stopped in front of Chi-Chi's body.

His palm launched forward, directly to the chest of Kiki.

Clack, Chi-Chi missed and was hit by Son Goku. Her body staggered back more than ten meters with one hand protecting her chest and one hand raised to admit defeat.

"Brother, I lost, that's it for today, let's go hunting, I'll make you something delicious."

"Good!" Son Goku said happily.

After his parents and teachers left Paozi Mountain, Son Goku's three meals a day were taken care of by Chi-Chi. Sometimes Bulma would come over to play with them and bring delicious food by the way, but Bulma was still a student after all, and was only free during the winter and summer holidays.

Usually Son Goku was like a wild child, and needed to go into the mountains with Chi-Chi to hunt.

Don't look at Son Goku, who was only fifteen years old. He was very short and looked a little smaller than the twelve-year-old Chi-Chi.

"Go, go, go hunting!" Son Goku happily entered the Primitive Forest with Chi-Chi. The beasts in the forest were in trouble, and a brown bear several meters tall unfortunately became their food under the combined attack of two powerful martial artists.

After lighting a bonfire and feasting on the food, Son Goku smilingly returned with Chi-Chi to Mount Paozu.

When he came to the mountain road, he saw a lavender-haired young girl standing next to a bright jeep looking around from afar.

"Bulma, what brings you here today?" Son Goku laughed and ran towards Bulma.

Seeing Son Goku and Chi-Chi, with a head of lavender hair Bulma happy waving his hand, "This is the summer vacation. I thought it would be fun to come to you guys to play, Goku look, this is a good thing I bought from the store."

Bulma said from the backpack took out two orange-red Dragon Balls.

"What is this thing?"

"It's called the Dragon Balls, I used to hear Aunt April say that if you collect seven of them you will be able to summon the Shenron! Shenron can fulfill a wish within our reach. Goku, Chi-Chi, how about we go together to find the Dragon Balls?"

"It seems like fun." Chi-Chi smiled

"Do you want to go outside?" Son Goku looked at Bulma.

"The three of us together, you and Chi-Chi can protect me along the way."

"Good!" Son Goku said sincerely.

If the weak Bulma was out alone, she would be eaten by wild animals.

"Great, I've got everything ready, we're leaving." Bulma happily went up and hugged Son Goku and Chi-Chi, and stuffed them into his arms.

Do not look at Bulma, who was only sixteen years old this year, one year older than Son Goku. She was much taller than Son Goku and Chi-Chi. Moreover, the development of girls was earlier than that of boys, and the figure of the sixteen-year-old girl had developed exquisitely.

"Bulma, you can let go of us now." Chi-Chi made a whimpering sound.

"Ah, don't be offended, it's been a long time since I've seen you guys and I got a little excited for a moment." Bulma let go of the two with a big grin, not the least bit ashamed of her actions.

Chapter 394

In the original story, Bulma and Son Goku met Chi-Chi at the start of the Dragon Ball adventure story, but now they were familiar with each other since childhood. For the older Bulma, Son Goku and Chi-Chi were like her younger brother and sister. So for them, the personality of the big-hearted Bulma was not at all taboo.

Since the decision to embark on the adventure, Bulma was a little impatient.

Letting go of the two, Bulma started the jeep and drove Son Goku and Kiki up the mountain road.

.....

When they arrived at Son Goku's place, they were urged to pack their bags.

Chi-Chi laughed and said, "Bulma, don't be in such a hurry, you haven't been in Mount Paozu for a long time, why don't you stay here for one night first, and we'll leave tomorrow morning?"

Bulma thought about it and said, "Okay, it just so happens that I'm also tired. So have a good night's rest."

With that said, she untied the satchel, and Bulma looked like she had returned to her home, casually threw the satchel to the side, and then lay down very comfortably on the sofa in the living room.

At this time, Son Goku took out two orange-red dragon beads from the bag and asked, "Can this kind of balls really make people's wishes come true?"

"Of course it can, I specifically investigated the information, and the result is just like what Aunt April said." Bulma, immediately interested, mysteriously said, "Have you heard of the incident of the invasion of the Demon Realm?"

Son Goku was a little surprised, "What demon invasion?"

"This... I think I heard Dad talk about it." Chi-Chi's beautiful eyebrows frowned slightly, "I heard that before the era of martial arts had opened, there was a very serious disaster on Earth. At that time, the martial artists on Earth did not have the current strength, so the whole Earth was almost finished."

"Ah, there's still such a thing. I didn't even know." Son Goku expressed his surprise.

"It's true. Aunt April was the one who experienced it, and she described the situation to me in detail." Bulma said, frowning, as if personally experienced it, "The demons were ferocious, many cities were razed by energy cannons, and many people died on Earth, and then it was Uncle Muiyang who saved the planet."

"Wait, I have the information here at that time!"

After saying that, Bulma showily took out a projection device and shared the rare information she had downloaded from the library, "These materials were taken a little early, and the picture quality is not clear enough... but they are all very precious historical information."

These materials had both photos and short videos, and as Bulma said, the clarity couldn't match the current technological achievements, but the desolate scenes of ruined walls and billowing smoke presented in the images gave a sense of the brutal, dilapidated history of the war period.

"Awesome!" Son Goku and Chi-Chi opened their mouths wide.

The large craters, which were thousands of meters wide, simply shocked them when they looked down from high altitude.

"Of course, they are the God of Martial Arts!" Bulma curled her lips.

"Eh, so Uncle Muiyang has such an amazing past!" Chi-Chi's small mouth opened slightly in surprise. She had met with Muiyang many times and really didn't know that the very handsome-looking uncle actually had such an amazing achievement.

"That's not the point." Bulma threw a mysterious look towards Son Goku, "Do you know how those people who died at that time were finally resurrected?"

"Could it be the Dragon Balls?" Chi-Chi said incredulously.

"It is the Dragon Balls. Aunt April said that Uncle Muiyang's first wife also died in that battle. So it was Uncle Muiyang who found the Dragon Balls to bring the people on Earth back to life." Bulma said smugly.

After April married Muiyang, Muiyang and she were considered relatives, and she could get some credit for Muiyang's achievements.

"It actually can even resurrect the dead people??!?" Chi-Chi said in surprise.

In that case, that Dragon Ball was really remarkable.

"Bulma, do you want to fulfill any wishes too?" Son Goku asked, holding the Dragon Ball.

Bulma's cheeks emerged a smile, embarrassed, "I... want to find a handsome boyfriend."

When Chi-Chi and Son Goku listened, they were dumbfounded. They looked at each other, and the corners of their mouths twitched slightly. This wish was in line with Bulma's character, but when it came to handsome people, Bulma could not help but turn her head to look at Son Goku, which seems to have nothing to do with it.

'Obviously, he is a few years younger than me, but why did his size not grow taller?'

'Hum, what a short runt.'

'In the future, he would not be able to find a wife.'

'So poor.'

.....

In the evening, Bulma tidied up in the room with Chi-Chi and then squeezed in a nest with Chi-Chi.

The next day, Bulma was fully loaded and ready to go, standing in the yard to pack his jeep, while Son Goku and Chi-Chi also took their daily necessities and then locked the big door of the room.

"Bulma, how do we know where the rest of the Dragon Balls are?" Chi-Chi asked.

"I invented the radar that can specifically detect the signal of the Dragon Balls." Bulma said, taking out a flat detector and pointing to several other bright spots on the screen, saying, "Look here, the two light spots in the center of the Dragon Ball radar, this is where we are, and there are two more Dragon Balls in the east."

"Really? It'll be easy to find with this thing."

"Hehe, I plan to spend a summer vacation to find the Dragon Balls and rely on you two for protection on the way."

"Don't worry, leave it to us."

"By the way, do you two have a Capsule? It will be very inconvenient outside without a Capsule."

"Well, yes, dad bought them for me." Son Goku said, taking out a small box of packages from his pocket with six or seven capsules inside.

"I have them too," Chi-Chi said.

"Good, let's go now." Bulma clapped her hands very happily, then pressed the Dragon Ball radar and determined the next destination, "The next Dragon Ball is seven hundred kilometers to the East. We'll go along the mountain road. Unfortunately, the jeep won't be suitable at this time."

After thinking about it, Bulma received the jeep into the Capsule and took out a more sci-fi-looking motorcycle from the Capsule.

"Goku, you sit in the middle and hold on to me. Chi-Chi sits in the back." Bulma, with a helmet, straddled the motorcycle.

"Hmm." Son Goku sat behind Bulma, his hands around Bulma's body.

'Well, Bulma's body is very unstable and needs to lose weight.'

Bulma, on the other hand, blushed a little oddly. She blushed and whispered, "Idiot, put your hand down a little. I can't let boys just touch this part."

"Oh, Bulma, your chest is too soft, same as Chi-Chi's." Son Goku did not think and thought Bulma was shy because of the lack of solid muscles, so he put his hand around Bulma's waist. —Bulma's waist was so thin that his hand could just encircle it.

"Brother, do not talk nonsense." Listening to Son Goku's words that obviously lacked common sense, Chi-Chi was embarrassed.

Bulma was stunned for a moment and asked curiously, "Are you guys really only one year younger than me? Hasn't Auntie Gine taught you some common sense?"

Son Goku rubbed his head and laughed, "Mom said. She only said that Bulma and Chi-Chi are not the same. We are good friends."

"Not even if they're good friends." Bulma yelled at Son Goku in exasperation.

After yelling, Bulma speechlessly glared at Son Goku, thinking what Auntie Gine had taught Goku! Nevermind, she wouldn't bother with him. After finished thinking, Bulma fiercely twists the throttle. The whole motorcycle will be a smoke fast and furiously, soon disappearing in the winding mountain road.

Compared to the original story, the location of the Dragon Balls had changed a lot. Such as the two Dragon Balls in Bulma's hand, it was originally should be found in her warehouse and nearby mountains, but in fact, it was Bulma got in the auction house.

Despite the many changes, the journey was as much fun as the original.

In the mountains near Mount Paozu, they encountered a pterodactyl attack, after which they encountered bandits. However, under the protection of the Son Goku and Chi-Chi, these bandits were naturally all destroyed.

Day by day, they collected four Dragon Balls and met Oolong, Yamcha, and his party.

Yamcha was now a disciple of the Martial Artist Furse, a lot stronger than the original. Because there was a Dragon Ball that somehow fell into the hands of Yamcha, in order to get the Dragon Ball, Son Goku and Yamcha had a fierce battle...

.....

At the same time, the vast and boundless universe, a novel-shaped spaceship, just got rid of the interstellar bandits. Although the surface of the ship was some scorched black, one could know that a fierce battle had occurred before.

In the ship, a young girl with blonde hair was watching the radar response, and when the radar showed that it had gotten rid of the opponent's pursuit, the blonde girl stroked her chest and breathed a sigh of relief.

"So close. I almost gave up my life here. Aunt April was right. It's really dangerous out there."

Tights had originally called April as aunt, but since Sipriel was found, it was no longer appropriate to call her aunt. So she couldn't call Sipriel little aunt.

"Shouldn't I go get a bodyguard?"

Tights blinked her dark eyes, spread out the map body ambled up to check it out. Suddenly, Tights' eyes lit up, and she clapped her palm hard, "Right, in front is Uncle Muyang's territory. I can go to him and hire a bodyguard."

Chapter 395

To say that God Mu Force was the most massive force in the Northern Area.

After so many years of development, God Mu Force had spread from the original area of a few hundred planets to the entire Southern and a few Northern Region of the North Area. The number of experts was stronger than the original God Mu Force.

Tights' nature was similar to her sister Bulma, who was not very stable by nature. Several years ago, because of the universe as the background of the hegemony of the novel hit her, now Tights was a famous writer. In order to create more excellent science fiction, Tights had to take the lead and drive a spaceship wandering in outer space. However, the area where she traveled was in control of God Mu Force.

Here was relatively safe.

However, when you walked by the river, there were inevitably times when you got wet shoes. When passing through a trading planet, she was actually attacked by nearby interstellar bandits!

After a fierce battle, all her Saibamen were killed in the line of duty. If not for the excellent performance of her spaceship, she might have been taken away by the bandits.

Now, Thais really began to consider whether it was safe to travel alone. But, unfortunately, even the latest generation of Saibamen was not 100% safe!

After thinking about it, she decided to go to Uncle Muyang's territory and hire a full-time bodyguard.

.....

Tick!

Tights' ship entered the outer space of the Makigami Central Star.

Suddenly, a spatial fence that spanned the void and was unknown in length appeared in outer space. Affected by this, Tights' ship began to unconsciously slow down.

This space fence used the latest optical technology of Planet Domini and had the function of blocking the airspace.

"Embedded broadcast: This is the domain of the Makigami Central Star. Extraneous persons, please stay away as soon as possible; please show your pass if you want to enter the Central Domain. If you don't have a pass, please check your identity first and then proceed."

"..... needs 'approve or apply for pass' service, please press 'confirm' for operation."

The voice of the system broadcast sounded in the public channel, and a big "Confirm" button was displayed on the screen at the same time.

Tights immediately pressed the "Confirm" button without any hesitation. Then she saw a long path of light stretching from afar, and soon a cosmonaut wearing the uniform of God Mu Force stopped in front of Tights' ship with flames spewing from the soles of his feet.

"I want to enter the Central Domain."

Tights looked at the "uniformed man" outside in amazement and hurriedly flipped through the protocol manual, passing her image through the communicator.

The cosmonaut held a tablet in his hand, looking at Tights, and said, "If you want to enter the Central Domain, please show your pass."

"Oh, I have a pass."

Tights nodded and fumbled around on her body, finally pulling out a jade tablet-like object from her neck.

The cosmonaut opposite took a look at the jade token and then scanned it with a special instrument.

Beep!

With a crisp beep, the basic information of the owner of the token was quickly displayed on the tablet.

[Name: Tights

Gender: Female

Passage level: A]

She was actually an A-class authority!

Seeing the passage level displayed on the tablet, the cosmonaut in charge of the inspection was astonished to see the grade A. Grade A access was the highest access issued to the public by God Mu Force. As long as one held this jade token, they could pass through most of the places on the Central Domain without any obstruction.

Of course, there weren't many people with this kind of access in God Mu Force.

The woman with blonde hair in front of him actually had A-grade access, so it seemed that she was not an ordinary traveler. —Upon closer inspection of God Mu Force's appearance, she was actually the same as those Earthling Warrior at the top.

'Could it be an aristocratic lady from Earth?'

After MUYANG had drawn a large number of Earthling Warrior into God Mu Force for training, the Earthling's appearance was still very recognizable around the Central Domain. Because of MUYANG's special care and their own good strength, every one of these warriors who came from Earth was quite honorable.

"Miss Tights, your information has been checked. You can now pass. Please understand the trouble caused for this."

After the cosmonaut in charge of the inspection checked the information, he hurriedly gave Tights a release.

"No problem." Tights put away the jade token and casually asked, "By the way, where is your chief? I have something for him."

"Miss Tights, what is your relationship with our chief?" The other party asked cautiously.

"I am his niece!"

"Ah, Lord MUYANG is in the air courtyard to the west of the Central Domain."

"Thank you."

Tights thanked politely and then piloted the airship through the atmosphere towards the air courtyard to the west.

.....

High in the sky to the west of the God Mu Force Central Domain, at the height of 10,000 meters above the ground, there was a huge structure of about 1,000 meters in length and width. The entire behemoth was emitting a shiny metallic luster. Its color was silvery white like the two metal corridors in the outer space of the Central Domain.

This very new shape of the behemoth was said to be the air courtyard, but in fact, it was the latest type of spaceship, created by all the technology of Calvin. Not to mention its own attack power, the outer defense network alone could resist all attacks below 100,000 power level. It was a well-deserved fortress in the air.

The process of entering the air courtyard, of course, also requires a series of checks. After Tights reveal their identity, she was naturally all unhindered. Under the guidance of a special guidance robot, Tights met Muiyang and others whom she had not seen for a long time.

"Uncle Muiyang, Aunt April...."

Seeing April and others in the greenhouse garden, Tights's two eyes narrowed together and slightly curved, happily waving towards them.

At this time, the temperature inside the garden was suitable. The garden was full of beautiful purple and red blooming flowers, and the crisp leaves were covered with crystal drops of water, which looked crystal clear.

Muiyang closed his eyes and floated in the air to practice. His whole body was wrapped in a layer of light qi flame while Melia and Melis were talking and laughing with their two children on the side.

On the side, April, dressed in a decent outfit, was slowly watering the flowers with a watering can.

Hearing Tights' voice, April couldn't help but look up at her in surprise, "Tights, why did you come to the Central Domain?"

"Auntie, I miss you guys."

"Tell me, instead of writing your novel in the universe, did you run here.... to encounter some kind of trouble?"

"Wouldn't I have come if there wasn't something...."

"Hmph."

April's blue eyes were looking at Tights. Her niece had a big nerve, just like Bulma. She didn't know how to get in or out without making some trouble. She didn't believe that her niece would run to the Central Domain for no good reason.

"To say that there is indeed some trouble." Tights smiled, pulling April's arm, "Auntie, the universe outside is so dangerous. I was almost robbed by the interstellar bandits outside before...."

"You wouldn't have run into Launch, would you?" Melia on the side smiled and took over.

The only person who dares to rob an alien ship in the vicinity of God Mu Central Planet was the "connected" Launch of God Mu Central. The other interstellar bandits were all cleaned up.

"No, the other side's men were very cruel, and they chased me when they saw me, but it was not Launch."

"I think her character can not be changed. Kanalita taught her a lesson but to no avail."

Melia shook her head. In her opinion, Launch's practice is just a small fight, only in the vicinity of the God Mu planet to present the prestige. Launch's martial arts in the universe could barely protect herself. When she encountered a powerful one, she still needed Broly's protection.

The guy in front of you couldn't be more decent than Launch.

"I told you not to wander around. The planets near the Central Domain is not enough for you to travel? Say, what's the matter with finding us here?" April pushed away Tights' shaking hand and smiled faintly at her; that smile was like a flower, captivating.

"Hey, I want to borrow a bodyguard from you guys."

Tights looked at April, suddenly found that after Aunt April married Uncle MUYANG, her whole person became more beautiful.

"You are hanging out alone all day. You really need someone to follow. If it's just a bodyguard, I can make the decision to deploy it to you."

April as the mistress of MUYANG with a not so strong enough power, her words also carries a lot of weight.

As soon as she saw April's quick agreement, Tights began to pick and choose again, "Nah, it's best to be an earthling. Other cosmopolitans aesthetics can not pass."

"Don't be ridiculous! It's not for you to find a husband. So why do you need to be aesthetically passable!" April frowned, "The warriors from Earth are all over to exercise, which has time to be your bodyguard. I will arrange a cosmopolitan with passable looks for you."

"Okay." Tights reluctantly agreed.

At this time, MUYANG ended his training and came to Tights' side. Hearing the conversation between Tights and April, MUYANG said, "It's true that Earth's martial artists are not convenient to equip Tights, but Bardock should have someone there. So let him transfer someone for Tights."

"Who should we send?" April asked with concern.

"Raditz's strength should be about right." MUYANG laughed.

God Mu Force was in the process of employing people, so it was natural that high-end talents could not be equipped to serve as bodyguards for Tights, but of course, if they were to be bodyguards, their strength could not be too weak.

Although the foundation of Bardock's eldest son, Raditz, was not particularly good, after five years of Bardock's devil training, now the strength had almost reached 5000 power level.

A small bodyguard should be enough to accompany Tights.

Chapter 396

"Raditz?"

Hearing that the bodyguard recommended by MUYANG to Tights was Raditz, April's pair of slender and clear eyes curved slightly, and her eyebrows stared for a moment.

"Yes, it is none other than Raditz." MUYANG smiled and looked at April.

April shook her head, "But Raditz's strength is only 5,000 combat power, which is just that little bit more powerful than the latest type of Sabaimen; I think it's better to let Raditz serve as Tights' bodyguard than to let Tights bring more Sabaimen."

The latest type of Sabaimen is not very productive and can only survive for seven days after each growth. —Still, the combat power of up to 4200 allows these to be used as medium combatants, and having Tights travels alone in the universe means that it's always a good thing to have Sabaimen in hands.

This time, Tights' Sabaimen seeds were all depleted. Making April realize that even with the protection of the latest seeds, Tights's safety was not foolproof. —Even if she replaced it with Raditz, it wouldn't have much effect.

"Raditz's power is actually not weak anymore. So it belongs to the upper-middle class in the universe."

Muyang laughed, "Tights's previous situation is a special case. This universe is still dominated by cosmic men with low-level combat power after all, as long as Tights does not actively seek death and squeeze her head into those dangerous places, I think with Raditz's power is enough."

Knowing that the original Raditz with 1500 combat power would dare to flaunt around and plunder other planets, then now with 5000 combat power, he should be enough to protect Tights.

Frankly speaking, what happened to Tights before and her own factors had a close connection.

After hearing this, April thought for a while and felt that what Muyang said was reasonable and then stared at Tights with stern eyes.

'This girl is just a little bit daring and needs a severe warning.'

"Tights, when traveling in the universe in the future, remember to avoid dangerous planets, even with the Dragon God Ball power, there are many planets full of danger, those places should never be visited."

Tights wiggled April's arm with a good-natured, pampered look, "Got it, auntie."

"....."

April rolled her eyes, she gently stroked Tights' head.

'She was not a kid anymore but still behave like one.'

April turned her head to Muyang and said, "Brother, go get Raditz."

With a gentle smile on Muyang's face, "Okay, I'll let someone inform him."

The cosmic man immediately informed Raditz to come to the sky courtyard.

.....

Half an hour later, the door of the air courtyard opened, and a figure in a brown combat suit flew in from the outside. When Raditz first came in, he still had a hint of arrogance on his face, but he immediately acted very respectfully when he came to the front of Muyang.

In front of Muyang, he did not dare to be arrogant.

"Lord Muyang, what orders do you have for me here?"

Raditz looked at Muyang with a reverent face.

Nowadays, he was no longer the rash young man who knew nothing about the distribution of the universe forces a few years ago. In the past few years of following Burdock, his eyesight gradually elevated from the original lower level Saiyan warrior to the senior combatant of the immense universe forces, with precise positioning of his position in the forces.

For the entire forces of the creator and ruler, Raditz was full of awe.

If not for the other party to bring himself back from Vegeta, he would only have more than a thousand combat points. It was impossible to have such strength now.

Muyang glanced at Raditz, saw him look respectful, couldn't help but smile, and said, "I have a task to give you now."

Raditz looked sternly, "Master Muyang, please."

Muyang said, "From today, you will serve as Tights' bodyguard. She is April's niece, so make sure to protect her."

Raditz froze. After learning Tights' identity, he immediately felt an incomparable pressure on himself.

'Lord April's niece, that's a different status.'

Briefly lost in thought, Raditz reacted and immediately assured, "Your subordinate will definitely protect this young lady."

"Mm." Muyang softly hummed, looked at Tights, and said to her, "This man is called Raditz. He is Burdock's eldest son. From today, let him protect you. Then, if there is anything, just tell him."

"Saiyans?" Tights asked.

"Right."

Tights laughed, "Uncle Burdock's son, that is Goku's big brother. I'll be in your care!"

"It's nothing," Raditz quickly waved his hands.

"Hee hee, don't be so nervous."

Tights covered her mouth and laughed lightly, then sized up the other side. —Spiky hair, the hairline was very high, the body was still quite sturdy, not particularly handsome. His waist coiled with a brown tail moved up and down. It was indeed a Saiyan!

She had heard about Son Goku's brother, who was said to have been on a mission on the planet a long time ago, so he must have experienced many planets. She felt that he could use this as material to create new works and make her identity as a famous novelist a little more solid. The growth history of a Saiyan warrior wandering alone should be very marketable.

Thinking of this, Tights felt she had another creative idea.

Not sure why the flame of struggle was lit in Tights' eyes, but Muyang instructed Melia and the girls to prepare lunch.

He invited Tights and Raditz to eat together. Tights was cheerful, while Raditz was trembling. It's like sitting on pins and needles. He was unsure of himself.

.....

After lunch, Muiyang proposed to let Tights toured the Central Star for a while. She agreed to stay at the Central Star for a few days and then left the Central Star under the escort of Raditz.

After Tights left, April sent her message to all the planets held by the Dragon Ball God forces along the way, asking them to give due protection.

For the sake of this niece, who was obsessed with creation and could not extricate herself, April was also worried.

After Tights and the others left, Melia put Emilia on her lap. She asked Muiyang, "Muiyang, the ancient seal over at Planet Sala, is getting weaker and weaker. Maybe it will break soon. What do you think should be done about it?"

"There is no good way, for the time being. The important thing is that we don't even know what is sealed inside there." Muiyang regretted it.

"That's true." Melia stroked Emilia's soft hair, and the little girl fluttered and blinked her eyes.

About the ancient seal on the side of the planet Sala, Muiyang already knew a few years ago and also personally went to the site to check. However, except for the discovery of a few dense pale green gas, there were no other gains.

After reading the information brought from Tien, Muiyang knew that the original Bojack and others were actually distant ancient Beyadorian aliens made to guard the seal of the transformation of people.

'No wonder before he died, Bojack said the real monster would soon come out and would quickly find them.'

'The azure cube he crushed at first was actually directly related to the integrity of the seal.'

'The shattering of the cube directly destroyed the seal, and the monster sealed inside was trying to escape from it. To be able to be described as a monster by Bojack, the strength must be very terrifying If it ran out, it was definitely a huge disaster.'

Muiyang was not without trying to use the dragon ball to repair the seal. It was just that the energy contained in the seal was too powerful. —With the power of the divine dragon, there was actually no way to strengthen the seal.

But it was right to think about it. The power of the dragon could not kill Vegeta, who invaded the earth in the original book. So, if the monster in the seal were really actively breaking the seal, the dragon's power would not be effective on him.

"If the monster in that seal escaped, wouldn't it be possible to defeat the opponent with our strength?" Melia also came over and asked in confusion.

In her opinion, Melia, who had reached the third level of the Golden Pupil state, and Muiyang, who had broken through the fifth limit, was already the highest warriors in the universe. So if they joined forces, what else could threaten them?

In response to Melia's doubts, Muiyang smiled bitterly.

Her power and his own were very powerful... that was true. However, their strength was probably not much stronger than the lightning Shalu. There were many monsters in the Seventh Universe, especially some ancient existences, each one of them was frighteningly strong.

'If the seal is a Majin Buu-level monster, then it would be really tough....'

Chapter 397

As an outsider, Muiyang certainly didn't know what was sealed on the planet Sala.

It was often said that the unknown was the most frightening thing. However, if you could determine the other party's race or what kind of means it had, even if the enemy was more powerful, there is at least a basis for reference and not to be at a loss.

The trouble now was that the only thing that could be determined was that the seal on Planet Sala would break sooner or later. Without knowing precisely what monsters were sealed inside, the only thing Muiyang and his team could do to prepare was very limited. They could only improve their power as much as possible to face any unexpected situation.

The good thing is, after breaking through the fifth limit, Muiyang's average combat power had increased to 4 billion, plus the self-realization realm. So if he fought with all his might, he could exert extremely strong power.

Melissa and April were also not weak, one had 5.2 billion combat power, and the other had 2.5 billion combat power.

Looking at the Dragon Ball world, especially at the current timeline, which was still in the early state, this power level was definitely powerful.

But despite this, Muiyang's heart was still a little uneasy.

The most fearful thing was that this kind of mysterious seal was unclear. If you were not careful, it gave people a feeling of jumping to the "Majin Buu stage" in an instant.

Muiyang knows what really happened in the early Dragon Ball world. The enemies were powerful one after another! —Majin Buu level monsters, at least, had tens of billions of combat power.

Facing such a powerful man, Muiyang and their current strength are simply nothing.

To allow such a strong person as Bojack to act as the guardian of the seal, it could be seen that the sealed monster inside is not weak.

After speaking out of his worries, Melia and Melis were dumbfounded. Their hearts became heavy.

"According to this, the guy inside the seal should be a very powerful..... at least a guy who is stronger than even Bojack!" Melis said while looking at Muiyang with some concern.

"I'm afraid that is indeed the case, but now there is not enough information. We do not need to think wildly here and scare ourselves. There is always a way out when the ship reaches the bridge.

Otherwise, the enemy did not come out. We, in turn, adjusted ourselves first and disrupted their own pace."

Muyang laughed, and the topic stopped there. He turned to Melia and said, "Oh right, Melia, I plan to send Muqiu and the others to Teacher Issac."

"Why?"

"The children are not young anymore. So there is no need to bring them on the side all the time." Muyang patiently explained, "These years, we are a little relaxed because of the need to bring children. So our strength growth is not as fast as before, in view of this, I think it is necessary to practice hard!"

Melia suddenly said that she was really negligent when she said that she had a baby. After all, she had to take care of the baby again as a new mother after giving birth. However, she always felt that something was wrong. It turned out that she had forgotten what she used to be. It turns out that they forgot the former kind of single-minded enthusiasm for cultivation. No wonder her body was not strong.

Melia hurriedly said, "Good! I'll try it with Melis too and see if I can make a further breakthrough for Melissa."

The third level golden pupil realm was equivalent to Super Saiyan full power. Melia, who had reached this realm, had vaguely sensed a higher realm above this. She felt that as long as she breaks through that barrier, the power of the Super Saiyan will be fully utilized.

"This time, I also want to participate in the training. The power of an eternal-type cyborg should not be only so little. I can also continue to get stronger."

April's voice was clear and pleasant, and her words were full of confidence.

The most significant advantage of the eternal-type cyborg was that they were tireless and had infinite power. If they were at the same level, eternal-type cyborgs were even more powerful than Super Saiyans. Even if the battle was extended for a war of attrition, the enemy could be consumed alive.

"It's decided. Let's send Muqiu and Amelia back to Earth and then go to practice together."

Muyang made a final decision, then used instant teleport to return to Earth.

.....

After leaving the two children in Issac and Alice's care, Muyang went to Paozi Mountain, but he found that the Son Goku and Chi-chi were no longer in the Paozi Mountain.

He spread out his sense and quickly found Son Goku and Chi-chi's aura. He learned that the original Son Goku and Bulma had embarked on a journey to find the Dragon Balls and on the way to meet Yamcha, Oolong, and the others.

"It seems that there are some similarities with the original plot. The only difference is that the journey has an additional Chi-chi." Retracting his sense, Muyang murmured.

"What are you talking about?" Melia turned back in confusion.

Muyang laughed. "I'm talking about Goku and Chi-chi. They are looking for the Dragon Balls with Bulma."

"These little guys, they are quite good at it."

Melia showed a charming smile upon hearing the words and recalled when they searched for the Dragon Balls with Muyang. At that time, they were more like traveling, walking, and looking along the way, very interesting.

"After all, they are all young people!" April laughed lightly.

"Speak as if you are very old."

"I'm young too, OK." April smiled back, and her charming posture suddenly showed up.

"Yes, you are forever young." Muyang laughed and walked over to grab her slender waist, then glanced towards Melia and Melis.

The two smiled knowingly and fused into Melissa in a flash of light, her ink-like black hair spread down, and very naturally walked to Muyang and let him hold herself.

"Let's go, close the door to cultivating."

Cheerful laughter echoed in the air, and Muyang launched instant teleport. In the light, the three figures gradually disappeared.

.....

On the other side, Bulma was driving an RV on a bumpy road.

In the RV, Oolong, with a pig-headed face, wore a hat with a frustrated expression, "Where are you guys going? Let me go."

Bulma turned her head and said, "If you are released, you will go and harm other villagers. If you make any more noise, I will let Goku make you into a roast suckling pig."

Oolong shivered, and cold sweat ran down his face, "Who the hell are you, people! And that guy with the long tail, actually even the wandering martial artist Yamcha, is no match for him."

Yamcha was a famous martial artist in Oolong's area under the tutelage of martial artist Firth. Although not very old, Yamcha's talent was extremely high. He was already one of the few martial artists certified by the United Kingdom.

The guy in front of him could even defeat Yamcha, whom he did not dare to provoke.

"My name is Son Goku. I am a disciple of Turtle School."

"Turtle School, what school is that?"

It seemed like Oolong had heard of this school somewhere.

At the beginning of the martial arts era, the most famous one on Earth was the Heavenly God School, in which the God of Martial Arts, Muyang, was a member. Many powerful martial artists had appeared in it. Even the Heavenly Gods of Earth were disciples of the Heavenly God School.

After that were the schools created by other well-known martial artists. In comparison, traditional schools like the Turtle School and Crane School are somewhat less famous in the martial arts world because they are not prosperous and do not actively accept disciples.

Of course, the truly powerful schools were aware of the name of Turtle School. After all, the god of martial arts, Turtle School, symbolized an era long engraved in history.

Besides, Turtle School also had powerful disciples who were second only to the god of martial arts, Mr. Son Gohan, who was from this school.

"Turtle School, the school, created by the God of Martial Arts, Master Roshi."

Sitting next to Son Goku, Chi-chi said pleasantly, even in the face of a pig, her attitude was still so gentle.

"Ah, Master Roshi!! Aaah, I've heard of this."

Oolong suddenly realized and moved a few steps towards Chi-chi's side somewhat unkindly. This black-haired girl was gentle and pretty, much friendlier than that light purple-haired woman.

'Hey, let's take this opportunity to get close.'

At this moment, Son Goku glanced at Oolong from the corner of his eye and drove it away from Chi-chi.

"Bulma, I think what you just suggested is good. Let's wait a little while to eat roast suckling pig!"

"Hey, you guys don't go too far. I'm not an ordinary pig!" Oolong shouted in anger, and he hated it when someone ate pork.

Remember the original story after the 21st Budokai, when Son Goku took the Turtle School's prize money for a big meal. The roasted suckling pig on the table made Oolong break out in a cold sweat.

"Even if you can do a little transformation, you're still a pig," Bulma said disdainfully.

"I wonder how it tastes?" Son Goku swallowed his saliva.

Oolong,

Chapter 398

"Hehe, senior brother, don't scare Oolong anymore, I don't think it is particularly bad."

The kind-hearted Chi-chi still helped Wulong, who was immediately very touched. Just then, Chi-chi glanced towards the window outside and shouted happily, "Bulma, continue along this road, it's Liangjing Mountain, I want to go home to have a look."

"Great!" Bulma took a look at the Dragonball radar. The location of the next Dragonball was at the other end of Liangjing Mountain. On the way, you have to pass Chi-chi's old home. Looking at the sky turned a little dark, they could spend the night at Chi-chi's home. It was more comfortable than sleeping in an RV.

Liangjing Mountain?

Oolong hid on one side and frowned and suddenly jumped up on the spot. Wasn't Liangjing Mountain another name was the frying pan mountain, that was the territory of the Bull Demon King!

"Hey hey, you can't go there, further ahead is the Frying Pan Mountain, there is a very scary monster there!"

"What kind of monster?"

"There's a Bull Demon King up ahead, he's very vicious." Oolong's face turned pale and cold sweat emerged. He heard that the Bull Demon King had a violent personality, and those who passed through his territory were either killed or wounded. It was very terrifying.

"....."

After listening, Bulma and Son Goku looked at Chi-chi. Her father seems to be the Bull Demon King who lived in the Liangjing Mountain (Frying Pan Mountain).

But the Bull Demon King is he very ferocious?

Chi-chi's face turned scarlet and squirmed, "My father is a little fierce, but he's actually quite nice."

"Yes, Uncle Bull Demon King is not bad at all." Son Goku stood on Chi-chi's side and said.

"You're the Bull Demon King's daughter?!"

Oolong was startled, only to know that the girl in front of him, who looked particularly petite, was actually the daughter of the Bull Demon King. He was so scared that he did not dare to go near her again. If the Bull Demon King knew that he took advantage of his daughter, he would definitely be chopped off by the other side with an ax.

Bulma looked at Oolong disdainfully. "You can only scare those simple villagers, it's useless when you encounter a real expert."

Oolong, "Because I'm not a martial artist, if I wasn't expelled from the transformation kindergarten in the first place, I might have been promoted to the school of superpowers, certainly not worse than a martial artist."

Bulma was not at all interested in ignoring Oolong's babble, and directly a step on the accelerator, the RV accelerated violently towards Liangjing Mountain. Along the way, the yellow sand rose several meters high and soon entered a scorching zone.

.....

The sky was clear, and white clouds were floating.

Liangjing Mountain was located in a hot zone. As Bulma and Son Goku continued to approach, the surrounding water sources gradually disappeared, and the environment became barren.

"Young Master Yamcha, do we still want to continue to chase?" A few hundred meters away from Bulma and his group, the blue cat-type animal Poole floated in mid-air with binoculars.

"Continue to chase, I didn't expect that long-tailed brat to be so powerful, I was careless at that time."

Wandering martial artist Yamcha was lying on top of a car, crossing his legs and holding a small grass in his mouth.

Since registering as a martial artist, it was the first time that Yamcha had encountered such a powerful brat, and his previous miss in the fight with Son Goku had haunted him with the thought of getting this back.

"But, young master Yamcha, the other party is a disciple of the Kamehameha Ryu ah, Master Firth said that only the Tenjin Ryu and Kamehameha Ryu on Earth is not to be messed with, I heard that they have many masters inside."

Poole held the binoculars and descended to Yamcha's side.

Yamcha rolled over and said coolly, "Teacher has long since left Earth, now you have to listen to me, I am a wandering martial artist Yamcha, how can I give up easily!"

When Mu Yang expanded the power of Dragon God, he took away a large number of high-level Earth martial artists together so that they could get experience in the universe, and Yamcha's teacher, Firt, who had excellent talent, was one of them.

In the previous chance encounter to fight for a dragon ball, Yamcha was defeated by Son Goku, always thinking of regaining his dignity. So the master and servant duo trailed all the way behind Son Goku and the others, and they also stepped into the Liangjing Mountain.

Liangjing Mountain.

Son Goku and the others met Chi-chi's father, the Bull Demon King, who showed a very warm attitude when seeing his daughter, whom he had not seen for many years. However, because a blazing fire surrounded his castle, the Bull Demon King, the landlord, could not properly entertain Son Goku and the others.

"I'm really sorry, it's just too hot here"

"Don't worry, I'll take care of the fire extinguishing, Old Grandpa Kamesennin has taught me how to put out the fire!" Son Goku patted down his chest and volunteered to help the Bull Demon King extinguish the mountain fire.

Thinking that when he was practicing in Kamehameha Ryu, Son Goku helped the villagers to put out the fire on the mountain.

As he said, he jumped forward, took a posture, and began to gather his breath towards the castle.

Seeing Son Goku's action, Oolong asked curiously, "What does this kid want, does he want to put out the fire single-handedly?"

Bulma glanced at Oolong proudly and bragged, "This is how you are lonely, look carefully, Goku is about to make a qigong wave."

"You're talking about the qigong wave that only martial artists can release?" Oolong watched with wide eyes.

Earth martial artist level in the assessment, the energy index in the body was a very important indicator, without more than 50 points of combat strength was not recognized as a martial artist, and the basic conditions for the release of qigong wave also needed such combat strength. Thus qigong wave had almost become the indicator of martial artist assessment.

"You tell me!"

Bulma flaunted, knowing Son Goku for so many years, she was well aware of Son Goku's strength. Despite his boyish looks, this boy, who was only a year younger than herself, was already a resounding martial artist.

Oolong's mouth moved, and he looked at Son Goku seriously.

He saw Son Goku calmly standing in front of the castle, raised both palms, and condensed his breath. When the palms closed together and moved to the waist, a seemingly non-existent qi spiral began to flow in the palm condensation, gradually released a dazzling light.

"Kamehameha Qigong!"

As the palms pushed forward, a crystal-bright energy shock wave was released from the palms.

The shock wave broke through the clouds and moved straight ahead, accompanied by a deafening loud roar, and the blue light gradually obscured the line of sight. Immediately afterward, the sky shook, the mountains collapsed, and the entire castle was blown to the ground along with the entire mountain.

"Oops, too much force!" Looking at the flat land without the mountain, Son Goku scratched his head in embarrassment.

"The whole mountain was flattened worthy of the disciple of Brother Gohan, Kamehameha Qigong is the masterpiece of Master Roshi!" The Bull Demon King's booming voice rang out, not the least bit chagrined at losing the castle. On the contrary, because of the sight of the Kamehameha qigong, the look appeared to be very excited.

"Goku, it's awesome!" Bulma clenched her fist hard, her eyes shining, this moment, Son Goku's little figure seems to become taller.

"Chi-chi, can you do such an attack?" The Bull Demon King's eyes were like a torch, with an expectant face.

Chi-chi coyly said, "My Kamehameha Qigong power is not as great as senior brother's"

Oolong was shocked, "This little girl is also a martial artist?!"

Bull Demon King laughed, "Good good, Chi-chi and Goku are very powerful. By the way little girl, I remember your name is Bulma, right, I have not seen a few years, you have grown so big."

Bulma was still a little girl when he sent Chi-chi to the Bouzi mountain, a turn of events she also grew up.

A smile appeared on Bulma's face, and she greeted the Bull Demon King very gracefully. When the Bull Demon King saw this, he laughed happily and invited Son Goku and the others to celebrate the extinguishing of the fire.

In the Bull Demon King's temporary residence.

Son Goku, of course, let go of his appetite to eat a lot at the table. Bull Demon King's servant constantly served dishes. While drinking wine, he asked Son Goku to take care of Chi-chi in the future.

They do not know that at this time, Yamcha and Poole were hiding on the side with ugly faces watching them enjoy their food.

"That little kid named Son Goku was actually able to release such a powerful qigong wave!"

Yamcha's hands clenched into fists trembled continuously, qigong waves were the basic skills of martial artists, he was undoubtedly able to release them, but qigong waves like Son Goku's that directly destroyed a mountain peak, he thought he was not capable of releasing them.

"Young Master Yamcha, I think it's better to forget it!" Poole said worriedly.

"No, I will not lose to him." Yamcha gritted his teeth, "Poole let's go, I'm going back to Gobi to improve my 'Wolf Tooth Wind Fist', I must defeat that Son Goku."

"Yes, Young Master Yamcha!"

Poole shouted and returned with Yamcha to his usual place of residence. Son Goku's power made Yamcha upset, and he knew he was no match for the time being and decided to go back and practice martial arts before challenging Son Goku.

In the early morning of the next day, Bulma and his group embarked on the journey again and ran into the Bunny Legion that could turn people into rabbits. Of course, under the force of Son Goku and Chi-chi, the Bunny Legion was easily resolved.

Moving on, they met the Pilaf trio headed by Pilaf.....

Everything went on just like in the original book.

Chapter 399

Just as Son Goku and Bulma stumbled all the way to collect the Dragon Ball, on the other side of the far North Galaxy, not far from Yadrat, there was a huge planet close to the stars running at high speed.

This was a rocky gravity planet with an extremely harsh surface environment.

Above the planet.

Strange gravity and heat were intertwined, the atmosphere was fragile, and the hot solar wind strangely distorted the field of vision. When the wind blows, it immediately raised the dust that covered the sky. The gravity here was great. As soon as ordinary life set foot here, the blood vessels and organs in the body would be unable to bear the huge gravity and collapse.

In a huge basin formed by meteorite impact or volcanic eruption, there was a circle of towering circular mountains around it, and the center was sunken inward. The hot sun made the surface break into winding cracks.

Sand and stones flying, the wind howling, in the dust, three graceful figures constantly collided and attacked each other.

Peng Peng Peng!

With the lightning flashing in the air, countless invisible figures appeared in the ridges and depressions of the ring pit. They attacked each other, sweating profusely, and didn't cooperate with each other, only constantly impacting and fighting.

Glittering sweat dripped from the nose bridge, and before it fell to the ground, it was turned into steam by the hot high temperature.

These were three women who look eighteen or nineteen years old.

Two of them were graceful in shape, vigorous and soft, and a curtain of dark hair like ink was tied into a bundle. Their faces were almost identical, and their delicate faces had rare beauty in the world. At this time, their mouths give a slight breath, and two golden eyes looked at each other, sending out the glittering and translucent luster.

The other woman was equally delicate and beautiful, with smoke-like eyebrows slightly curved, her brown hair is tilted up in disorder, and her calm face was with a smile.

These three people are Melia, Melis, and April.

Some time ago, after making up their mind to retreat and practice, the three women and Muyang left the area controlled by the Dragon God forces together with the Muyang and came to the starry sky where Yadrat star was located in the east of the North Galaxy.

There was a "life planet" with harsh gravity and temperature, but it was perfect as a planet for cultivation.

On this gravity planet, they were challenging the limits of their bodies, and they were constantly practicing harshly. Although the time of practice was still relatively short, they had already felt that the strength of their bodies was constantly improving.

At this time, the Melia sisters, who showed the third state of the golden pupil, had higher strength than April. Still, they were incredibly embarrassed when facing April's inexhaustible strength.

"Ahem, Little Ai, this guy is really difficult."

Melia's golden eyes glanced at April, adjusted her breathing, and attacked Melissa at another place.

The misty wave of qigong drags a splendid arc of fire across the entire void.

Melis had the same heart as Melia, and she could naturally sense Melia's idea in advance, so when Melia's attack just turned over, Melis vomited a sigh of relief. The energy wave in her hand directly swayed in the past, and her beautiful eyebrow-like ink stirred up a moment, and Melia threw an energy bomb to resist.

At this time, April's lithe and graceful figure suddenly appeared, hitting Melia on the shoulder with a palm, then quickly turning around and attacking where Melia appeared at the next moment.

Bang bang! April, who had unlimited physical strength, took advantage of it. By contrast, Melia could only defend constantly.

"Eternal cyborgs are too cheap." Melia took a breath and took a few steps back.

"Sister, your energy value is above me." April's clear voice sounded.

"No matter how high the energy is, it will make you tired." Melia smiled dryly, her face turned pale, and sweat dripped down the bridge of her nose.

The Saiyans, especially the legendary Super Saiyans, rely on one breath to explode, and once they run out of energy, they had no extra strength. At this time, there was little energy left in Melia's body, and she didn't have much chance of winning against April.

Suddenly, there was a flash of lightning, and Melis joined in the battle, fighting with April.

Melia took the opportunity to rest, and when her physical strength recovered almost, she joined the battle again. The three women attacked each other, and there was no room for cooperation at all. Sometimes Melia just beat off Melis, and April would go up and attack her. Sometimes April would fight with Melia, and Melissa would go up and intervene.

As time went by, Melia and April kept honing their physical strength and improving their strength.

And this time, on the earth, Son Goku and others had collected all the dragon balls. They didn't give Oolong a chance to make a wish in confusion. After repelling the Pilaf trio, Bulma made a wish to Shenlong to let her future boyfriend appear in front of her. Still, when Shenlong disappeared, Bulma's boyfriend did not appear in addition to Bulma, Son Goku, Chi-chi, and Oolong.

Sure enough, no matter how true the legend was, Bulma shook her head in disappointment. Then we agreed to watch the 21st World First Budokan together seven months later.

.....

Bang!

Hot lava rises into the sky, throws it to a high place, and then falls like nails under the action of gravity.

Melia was wrapped around the grass-green light. She felt the majestic power in her body, and smiled on her face. "Melis, my current normal combat power is almost 40 million combat power, and my Golden Pupil realm has 3.2 billion combat power."

"Me too." Melis responded.

Normal combat effectiveness reached 40 million, becoming the third-highest in the Golden Pupil realm, with almost 3.2 billion combat effectiveness under 80 times increase! It has improved a lot compared to before. The arduous cultivation of these months has not been in vain.

"I can't compare with you before I reach 2.8 billion combat effectiveness." April estimated her strength in the body and said modestly.

Melis: "..."

"This is still small. If you really want to fight, I am not your opponent."

Melia was also choked by April's words, so she came forward to hold April and pinched her face.

The eternal cyborg was already a cheat, okay?

April rubbed her caught red face and smiled shyly. Her red face was very attractive.

In fact, in April's expectation, the next stage of cyborgs should be the fusion of cells from other special living organisms. Still, seeing Melia and Melis's envy and jealousy looks, she would not say anything. !

"Let's take a look at the situation in Muyang. He has been closed for so long and it is almost over." Melia suggested.

Of course, the promotion of their three women was worthy of happiness, but the greatest fear of achievement was their husband, Muyang. He would enter a rapid period of strength growth in the early stage after every limit breakthrough. Muyang broke through the fifth limit soon, and this stage of cultivation could increase energy every day.

On the surface, Muiyang's fighting capacity was lower than that of Melia's, but if he really wanted to fight, Melia was no match for him at all.

As soon as Melia's words just fell, an incredible power came from the other side of the gravity planet. The surging force made the whole planet vibrate violently, just like a huge black hole, devouring all the surrounding materials.

"eh? This force is Muiyang! " Melia floated up and looked into the distance with a pair of golden eyes.

"What a terrifying power, I don't know what kind of state my brother has reached? !"

April's mouth was slightly open, and her lips were rosy and shiny.

"Muiyang's realm is particularly high, so what 'free artistic conception' is very powerful. Unless we break through the boundaries of the Saiyan people and reach the true 'legendary super Saiyan' power, we can't compare with him at all."

After all, the Saiyan's Golden Pupil realm was not the official transformation form of the legendary Super Saiyan, and there was a fundamental transformation on top of it.

Melis bit her finger and felt the powerful aura in the air. As a Super Saiyan, she couldn't compare with Muiyang, who was an earth person.

Suddenly, she felt whether this passing Saiyan was fake or not.

Chapter 400

On the other side of the gravity planet, a terrifying blade-like aura washed over the surroundings without mercy.

The raging storm formed a huge typhoon eye...

At this moment, a silver-white Qi flame was burning in the center of the typhoon eye, emitting a turbulent aura.

This silvery-white flame was round like a chicken, and at the center was an elongated ellipsoid, showing a bright blazing white, which was a manifestation of energy concentration to the extreme.

KA-CHOW!

The ground began to sink, fiercely generated a collapse pit hundreds of meters in diameter, followed by a loud boom. The surrounding rock layer instantly cracked and cracked outward thousands of meters of the broken area.

At the central position, Muiyang clenched his fists with both hands, stood proudly, his black hair raised high with the airwaves, and countless pieces of sand and stones escaped the gravity and floated in the air.

Everything around him was bearing the huge gravity. But, at the same time, it also had to withstand this sudden and powerful energy.

Shattering...

After a long time, Muiyang calmed down his breath, and a silver-white light covered his whole body.

The terrifying aura suddenly disappeared, and everything seemed to be calm again.

"For the time being, I can only increase my energy to this level. But, even if I face Perfect Cell in the original work, I should be able to win easily." Muiyang stood there with a slight smile on his face.

The breakthrough of the fifth limit has the direct benefit of an improvement visible to the naked eye. At the same time, it has raised Muiyang's dimensional level to the sixth level on par with the Great Galactic Realm King. —The high dimensional level makes it easier for Muiyang to comprehend the realm, as if he was standing on a higher level, looking at the problems from a higher perspective, and the problems that were not easy to find before were already on the paper.

Recently, he has repeatedly revisited the "freedom intent" and finally has a deeper understanding of the "freedom intent."

"Freedom Intent" was a relatively simple intent in Weiss' martial arts, representing the power of the flesh.

Of course, for Muiyang, this was already a very profound and remarkably mysterious realm.

Comprehending the "Freedom Intent Realm", the physical body level would be completely transcended to play out the unimaginable powerful power. Muiyang had already sensed this. Even though the energy in his body hadn't improved much at this time, he could still feel the enormous power contained in his body while raising his hands and feet.

This was an intoxicating realm.

It was the confidence of knowing every inherent power by heart.

Not to mention the fact that the power in his body was not unimproved. On the contrary, the breakthrough of the fifth limit, the feedback from the accelerated world, was also the most apparent feature.

"Now the base energy value has reached 4.5 billion, but the power that can be exerted is far more than that!"

Muiyang smiled, very satisfied with his current state. Even if his fighting power was not as good as Melissa's, he could guarantee that in a real fight, even if Melissa used the power of the "legendary Super Saiyan," she would not be his opponent.

At this point, the freedom realm was basically comprehended.

The next was a more realistic operation, how to put the power of this realm into complete play in battle, that was, the accumulation of combat experience in the new power stage. Muiyang thought it might take him more than ten years.

Of course, this process would be significantly accelerated with the right sparring partner.

.....

Just as Muiyang was caught up in his thoughts, three figures flew in from the sky. Melia, Melis, and April landed beside him, and they floated above the huge collapsed area.

Looking at the shattered areas crisscrossing the ground and revealing astonished expressions.

The broken area below was mainly divided into two parts. The most central was nearly a thousand meters in the diameter collapse area. Like an inverted hemisphere, the rock wall was smooth, like a knife cut tofu. In contrast, the outer part was tens of kilometers of cracked stripes.

And the strange thing is that these cracked stripes seem to be dense, but when they extend to a place tens of kilometers away, they terminate the extension in unison.

High-altitude view, showing a perfect circle.

This was a very bizarre display.

"Muyang, looking at your appearance, the breakthrough this time is not small!" Melia sensed a surge of energy in Muyang's body as if a volcano poised to erupt, but upon closer inspection, she found that the breath was as calm as a pool of lake water. This was obviously the result of energy convergence to the extreme.

Muyang looked at them leisurely and smiled, "It's a breakthrough; the 'Freedom Intent Realm' has been fully comprehended."

"Oh, that's great."

"Congratulations, brother!" April and Melis were delighted to congratulate.

"How about the complete Freedom Intent Realm? Should we compete?"

As soon as Melia heard that there was a breakthrough in Muyang's realm, her hands itched to compete. But, of course, she herself was not capable of competing with Muyang. —So, to fight Muyang, she needs to change into Melissa.

Muyang laughed loudly, "Well, then I'll let you see it!"

Melia smiled. Her lake-clear eyes flashed with excitement. She quickly came towards Melis's side, "Melis, let's merge and fight him!"

"Yes!"

Melis also had some expectations, and once she heard Melia say so, she naturally agreed. So the two fused into Melissa, and the power on their bodies suddenly climbed twice as much.

"80 million combat power, this normal power is already very powerful."

Looking at the power displayed by Melissa, Muyang nodded his head. Unfortunately, in the Majin Buu chapter, Son Goku's normal state is only not so strong.

"Let's not talk about these useless things. Let's be practical. Show your power quickly." Melissa shouted, her hair raised upward, and her pupil color turned from turquoise to gold. Her whole body was burning with flames, and she had shown the most powerful state.

A terrifying aura suddenly descended from the sky without warning, and the whole planet began to shake violently.

—The third level of the golden pupil state, a full 6.4 billion combat power!

April was the closest to Melissa and was directly lifted several dozen meters by her aura.

April, "....."

"Melissa, look at this. This is the complete 'Freedom Intent Realm!'" Muiyang laughed and began to adjust the aura in his body.

When it reached a similar level, suddenly, the silvery-white rays of light bloomed. But compared to before, Muiyang's aura at this time was extremely stable, and there was no such big opening and closing aura as Melissa, devouring the world.

Melissa's eyes glared, shouted, "What's going on? Where is your aura? Why can't I sense it instead?"

Obviously, there was still a very strong aura before, but now it's gone.

Muiyang said, "This is the true meaning of 'Freedom Intent Realm.' You can also call it the 'Mysterious Realm!'"

After the flesh completed transcendence, all the external overflowing energy was collected in the body. —This state was very similar to the mysterious Gohan of the Majin Buu chapter.

It showed that the body had been able to fully control all its own power. Naturally, it was all absorbed into the body without a trace of dissociation.

On top of this, if you continued to comprehend the "extreme artistic conception" that represents the soul, it would be even more perfect.

Melissa didn't understand Muiyang's current situation. However, her beautiful eyes sparkled. She still believed in her own strength. She suddenly violently attacked Muiyang with her fists. The ground under her feet suddenly collapsed.

Facing Melissa's attack, Muiyang lightly changed the movement of his body, "Melissa, I want to teach you a little bit. At this level, formidable power can display terrifying destructiveness, but it is also more difficult to control...."

".....The power that a mortal body can inspire ultimately has a limit, and even if it is a super Saiyan, there will be a time when it hits the ceiling... This is the time to feel the realm and pull yourself up to the next level."

Melissa couldn't sense Muiyang's aura, and every time she struck and returned without success, her heart gradually became a little annoyed. How could she still listen to Muiyang's words?

"I don't care about the realm or not, and I am the legendary Super Saiyan. If the power is not enough, then continue to improve the power."

Melissa's words caused Muiyang's eyebrows to wrinkle. Then it occurred to him that Melissa's situation was indeed different from that of ordinary Saiyans.

The ordinary cosmic beings or Saiyans could seek a realm breakthrough when they reach their limit, but the legendary Super Saiyan was originally a genius. —Taking the road of power to break the power, the road of the realm was good but not necessarily suitable for the transmission of Super Saiyan.

It means that Muiyang was bound to take the path of comprehending higher realms in the future, while Melissa was not necessarily. Nevertheless, she could continue to break through along the flesh.