

Ball God 41

Chapter chapter 41

The surrounding scenery flew backward as Muyang always kept flying at high speed. A blustery storm swept through the Great Forest, and soon the slender Korin Tower appeared in sight.

Upon approaching Korin Tower, Muyang began to drop his speed and landed at the bottom of Korin Tower.

“Let’s take out the seafood first, or it won’t be easy to explain it to Korin up there why I’m empty-handed.” Pondering in his mind, Muyang opened the Acceleration Space.

All of a sudden, one hundred and eighty baskets of seafood appeared in the clearing. A unique fishy smell of seafood was transmitted.

Suddenly, Muyang felt that many people gathered around him; it was the Indian tribe guarding Korin Tower, led by Oz.

“Hey, you’re the teenager who challenged Korin Tower earlier, Muyang from Heavenly Sky School.”

Oz looked at him in confusion, especially with the smelly seafood around him. What was this? Wasn’t he supposed to be challenging Korin Tower? Why he had to move so many seafoods?

Muyang nodded towards Oz and the others, “Long time no see.”

“Are those fish?”

Muyang smiled, “This is a gift for Immortal Korin. It just so happens that you guys are here too. Can you take care of it for me? I’ll be right back.”

“A gift for Immortal Korin...” Oz was a little stunned after he heard that. It took a moment for him to respond, and he trembled, “Did... you already met Immortal Korin?”

Nodding with a smile, Muyang said frankly, “Yes, I climbed to the top of the tower and was fortunate enough to receive guidance from Immortal Korin.”

“Congratulations, you’ve actually climbed Korin Tower. Legend has it that no one has made it in a hundred years.” Oz respectfully said.

At this time, he had completely treated Muyang as a legendary martial arts practitioner.

While Oz was talking to Muyang, the other guardians behind him all stared at each other and exchanged comments.

“Really? He actually succeeds.”

“This boy is extraordinary.”

“I wonder what Immortal Korin looks like, too bad we’re not qualified to see him...”

These Indians, as the Sacred Land of Korin’s guardians, had grown up listening to the legend of Immortal Korin since they were young.

However, due to their strength, they had been unable to see Immortal Korin as they wished.

Muyang smiled secretly. Of course, he wouldn’t say anything about Immortal Korin being a fat white cat. That would be too much of a bummer.

Everyone had a dream in their hearts, and put their best expectations in the softest places in their hearts.

Whether it was people or things, or certain memories, it would become more beautiful over time.

Perhaps these things are no longer real and objective, but they hold too much emotion. It would be very unethical, to tell the truth and burst other people’s imaginations.

Muyang thought a little and spoke, “Immortal Korin is very wise, and under his guidance, my strength has grown rapidly.”

Nodding as if it were true, Oz pointed at the seafood again and asked, “How are you going to move these up there?”

Climbing Korin Tower was already very difficult. It would become even more difficult to bring in these buckets of seafood.

“It’s a practice, isn’t it.”

After saying that, Muyang walked towards the basket and picked up one of them before everyone’s eyes.

About a ton of weight passed of his arm, Muyang frowned, not because of these weights, but the strong fishy smell was coming from the basket.

Then he was on his toes and bang! A brutal impact rose from the soles of his feet, and with this force, Muyang simply flew up.

He rose in a straight line along the edge of Korin Tower and quickly disappeared into the vast sky.

Down there, Oz and the others were dumbfounded. They were stupidly looking at the sky that had been split open by a whirlwind through a passage.

It took a while for him to come back to his senses and say dryly, “As expected, someone who successfully challenged Korin Tower is too strong.”

“He’s even more powerful than last time I saw him.”

It was only when someone said that it did hit the others. Yeah, that guy hadn’t been this good a few months ago when he climbed Korin Tower!

It had only been over three months, and he was unrecognizable. Was this the power of the Immortal Korin?

Thinking of this, these guardians were all envious... in their hearts, they also had a strong expectation to climb Korin Tower.

.....

At the top of Korin Tower.

Korin was lying on a small recliner and taking a nap when suddenly he sensed something.

He rolled over and got out of the recliner, picked up his crutches, and came to the entrance at the top of Korin Tower.

After a while, he saw Muiyang carrying a big basket of seafood on his back.

“These seafood...there are so many of them.” Korin’s nose was extremely sensitive, and he quickly discerned that it was a fish from the sea.

He was immediately revealing an intoxicated expression as he grabbed one of the fish with his paws and placing it in front of his nose to sniff it. The fishy smell that other people find unpleasant had become delicious for Korin.

Muiyang smiled, “Immortal Korin, this is only a small part of it. There are one hundred and seventy-nine more of these fish underneath Korin tower.”

Korin’s eyes lit up upon hearing the words, “Well, well, you really kept your promise, Muiyang.”

“But Immortal Korin, how are you going to store these fish?”

“Well, that’s not a problem. Come with me.”

Korin grabbed a fish and put it in the tank. He then brought the rest of the fish to the second floor where the training ground was and stopped at the center’s crystal ball.

He pointed to the crystal ball and said, “Look at that crystal ball, it’s a treasure handed down from ancient times, and Korin Tower’s stability depends on it.”

After he said that, Korin jumped and touched the crystal ball’s surface. The crystal ball shone brightly, and at the same time, all those fish on the ground disappeared.

Korin narrowed his eyes and said, “This crystal ball has the function of storing things. Things won’t deteriorate if they are placed inside.”

“It’s such a... good treasure!” Muiyang looked at it with amazement. It had to be said that there were quite a lot of treasures on Earth. On top of Korin Tower alone, there were Senzu Beans, Ultra Divine Water, Crystal Balls, Flying Nimbus, Power Pole, etc., but now the Power-Pole had been given to Master Roshi as a gift from Korin.

“Hehe, Muiyang hurry up and bring up the fish under Korin Tower with you. Think of this as a practice.”

Muiyang couldn’t help but roll his eyes, but he still nodded and jumped off the Korin Tower. After hundreds of trips back and forth, it was already noon the next day when he moved all the seafood up.

Korin wasn't wrong about one thing, though. This process was indeed a form of training as he felt his strength had increased a bit after these trips. His power level had increased from 128 to 132.

Even though it was only a few insignificant points, as the saying goes, no matter how small a mosquito leg is, it's still a leg. So it's not hard to understand!

Chapter chapter 42

"Well, that's good. You're pretty reliable in your work. I'm delighted." After storing all the seafood into the crystal ball with satisfaction, Korin winked towards Muiyang with a mysterious expression.

"Seeing as you have some good potential, I can offer you a deal."

"What kind of deal?" Muiyang asked curiously.

"Haha, this deal is not going to be easy..." Korin narrowed his eyes and said seriously. "If you can persevere and continue your training until I consider it right, then I will take you to a more advanced place. Let me tell you, that place is not even qualified for Master Roshi."

Korin looked at Muiyang; he was afraid that Muiyang might not know who Master Roshi was. so he explained, "Master Roshi that I mean is the Master Roshi, who is known as the God of Martial Arts."

"Master Roshi!" Muiyang repeated.

At the same time, Muiyang understood that the mysterious place Korin was talking about was The Lookout.

"Yes, that's him. Not even he has the right to go. For a martial arts practitioner, that place is the real sacred place. If you want to go, just get my approval, and I'll let you go!" Korin patted Muiyang's shoulder.

"If there is such a place, of course, I want to go!" Showing his white teeth cheerfully, Muiyang stated his intention. When it came to the most powerful place on Earth to grow your strength, The Lookout was definitely ranked first.

He was worried about how to mention The Lookout to Korin, but now that Korin had taken the initiative to mention it, of course, he wouldn't let go of this opportunity.

On the other side, Korin, who had already figured out Muiyang's intention, couldn't help but smile. From Muiyang's point of view, he hoped that Korin would recommend him to go to The Lookout one day.

As for Korin, he also had the same consideration of recommending a talented person to go to The Lookout.

A few hundred years ago, he thought that Master Roshi had this qualification, but unfortunately, he couldn't do it in the end.

It was a pity, to say the least, that nobody from Earth had ascended The Lookout for a long time.

“Immortal Korin, when do you think I’ll ever reach the point where you’ll give me your approval?” Muyang asked.

Korin said, “I can’t say anything about that; it depends on your next effort!”

“Hehe, I guess that day won’t be too far away.” Muyang looked serious.

“You’re quite confident.” Korin looked at Muyang.

“Isn’t a martial arts practitioner supposed to have confidence in himself?”

It was quite a bit of pretending that I didn’t have to explain it to you.

Korin froze and nodded, “Yes, it’s good to be sharp and aggressive. I hope you don’t keep me waiting too long.” Korin had learned about Muyang’s terrifying training speed. To say that if anyone from Earth could get his approval, then Muyang was definitely one.

.....

Heading back to the bottom floor of Korin’s Tower, Korin set a bonfire in one corner and set up a few fish, intending to make a hearty treat for himself.

Soon, the fishy smell of the fish gradually dissipates in the barbecue, followed by a captivating aroma.

Smelling the scent, Korin squinted his eyes in intoxication. He then grabbed one of the fish and ate it in a couple of bites.

“It smells so good!”

Korin licked his paws and grabbed another one.

“By the way, Immortal Korin. I’ve heard that Master Roshi is known as the ‘God of Martial Arts’ not only because of his martial arts skills but also because there are rumors that he has lived for over two hundred years. is it true that humans can live that long?” Muyang, who was sitting on the ground, also eating the grilled fish, and asked as he ate.

Actually, Muyang had been thinking about how to improve his lifespan!

Korin ate grilled fish and said vaguely, “That Master Roshi did live a little longer, but ordinary humans can’t live to that age.”

“Then why did the Master Roshi can live for so long?”

Not only Muyang knew Master Roshi had live for two hundred years, but he also knew that Master Roshi would continue to live longer.

Even if the entire Dragon Ball story ended, and Bulma had grown wrinkles, Master Roshi still looked like an old man.

Master Roshi might seem as if he would die at any moment, but his body was actually great. Muyang speculated that even if all Z-Fighter were dead, he would still be alive and well.

There had to be a reason why he was able to live for so long.

Korin put down the fish in his hand and said, “That’s because Master Roshi had taken Elixir of Immortality.”

“Is there really an Elixir of Immortality in this world?” Muiyang was surprised and asked. He thought that the rumor of the Elixir of Immortality was just nonsense, and didn’t expect that Master Roshi had actually eaten it.

“There used to be some, I’ve eaten it. This is an immortal medicine specially prepared for the immortals who stay at Korin Tower. One elixir can extend life by 400 years.

When Master Roshi stayed here, he begged me, and I finally couldn’t resist and gave him four elixirs, causing me to run out of stock here.”

Korin hinted some regret when he talked about this.

He shouldn’t have been so generous to give the Master Roshi four elixir in the first place. It was very complicated to make the Elixir of Immortality.

It required a very specific herb, but that herb was so scarce that Korin couldn’t make a new batch of Elixir of Immortality for a while.

After listening to Korin’s explanation, Muiyang had figured out many parts of the original story.

That’s right. After Master Roshi got the Elixir of Immortality, he must have split it equally with Master Shen.

At that time, Master Roshi and Master Shen hadn’t fallen out yet. Each of them had one disciple, so they split it again and gave it to their disciple.

Master Roshi kept one for himself and gave the other one to Fortuneteller Baba, while Master Shen gave one to Mercenary Tao.

That was why Master Roshi, Master Shen, Fortuneteller Baba, and Mercenary Tao could live for so many years.

“Immortal Korin, how do you make this Elixir of Immortality?” Muiyang asked.

Upon seeing that Muiyang was seemingly interested in the Elixir of Immortality, and Korin continued, “Although this Elixir of Immortality can extend a person’s lifespan and look very tempting, there is a great flaw in it.

After taking the Elixir of Immortality, the body’s potential will be drained. It basically becomes difficult to improve the power.”

“Muiyang, you’re still young and have good potential. There’s no need to consider this. Even if you want it, I don’t have any of the Elixir of Immortality here anymore.”

After all, the Elixir of Immortality was prepared for immortals, and the level was actually not very high. Korin hoped that Muyang would focus on martial arts, and perhaps he would be able to reach a higher level in the future.

Muyang nodded his head as he listened. He had gained some understanding of the Elixir of Immortality's effect.

The Elixir of Immortality's effect was similar to the Ultra Divine Water's effect, which squeezed the potential to obtain powerful strength.

However, this elixir was designed to drain the body of its potential power in exchange for a long lifespan.

After taking the Elixir of Immortality, it didn't mean that the power could never increase again. It just became harder to do so than before.

According to this estimation, Master Roshi and the others shouldn't have taken the Elixir of Immortality on the spot after getting it. Instead, they should've waited until their bodies began to age.

Muyang took Korin's advice to heart and smiled, "Immortal Korin is right; these are not things I need to consider."

Before he opened the "Acceleration Space," Muyang might have coveted the efficacy of the Elixir of Immortality, but with the "Acceleration Space," he would never do anything that would throw away a more ambitious prospect in front of him.

After all, how could he choose sesame seed over a watermelon?

Chapter chapter 43

Seeing that Muyang didn't dig any deeper into the Elixir of Immortality, Korin nodded, with a hint of appreciation in his eyes.

It would be impossible to say there was no temptation when he told Muyang so bluntly about the Elixir of Immortality. After all, immortality was something that many people dreamed of achieving!

If you wanted to go to The Lookout, first, you had to get Korin's approval. What Korin valued most when recommending candidates was that they should have a strong will and be able to withstand all kinds of temptations.

Otherwise, things would only be unfortunate if the recommended person couldn't stand the temptation. It was because Master Roshi had failed to resist the Elixir of Immortality's lure that he lost the chance to go to The Lookout.

Regarding Muyang's honest performance at the moment. Korin had already made a note in his mind that as long as his strength met his requirements, he would recommend Muyang to go into the Heavenly Realm.

"Oh yes, although I promise I'll recommend you to go somewhere more advanced in the future, there's one thing I think you need to be aware of."

"Please tell me, Immortal Korin."

Korin coughed softly, “Your strength seems to be growing a bit faster lately, which isn’t necessarily bad, but it’s not exactly a good thing either. So, I’d suggest that you slow down and take control of your strength, rather than rushing to breakthrough.”

As far as Korin was concerned, growth in strength was a good thing, but in general, growing too fast would only make it flimsy. For Korin, who was obsessed with mastering every scent on his body, it must be pointed out.

Muyang was silent. He believed in Korin’s eyesight, but of course, the reason Korin said that was more of a martial philosophy.

After thinking about it, he finally accepted Korin’s suggestion, “I understand, I’ll be solidifying my foundation for the near future.”

His family knew his own business, and ever since breaking the first limit of 100 power level, the first limit of earthlings, Muyang felt as if his body had opened up. He basically didn’t encounter any bottlenecks in his training.

The Earth’s martial philosophy wasn’t necessarily that clever throughout the universe; it was hierarchical. For example, Earth’s martial arts practitioners were definitely not as astute as the Kami, and the Kami wasn’t as profound as Kai, which was due to the different locations they were in. So, it was always right to stand tall and see far.

However, after a long exploration, Earth’s martial arts have their own uniqueness, such as the low-level mastery of power that was worthy of recognition.

This kind of control allowed the practitioner to explode into a stronger fighting force in times of crisis.

Anyway, he wouldn’t touch his limitation for a while because there were no enemies on Earth that needed to be wary for the time being.

So, Muyang decided to follow Earth’s martial arts’ fine traditions to slow down and get his strength under control for a while.

When it was fully mastered, it might have unexpected effects when it was extended in the future.

“Yes, that’s how it should be. The foundation is important.”

Korin was in a good mood, and there was nothing better than meeting someone who listened to his advice.

“Immortal Korin, I’ve been here long enough, and it’s time for me to leave. I hope I can meet your requirements the next time we meet.”

“Practice hard; I’m very optimistic about you.”

Korin stood up, suddenly remembered something and said, “By the way, I have a golden cloud here that can be used for transportation. Would you like me to give you one?”

Korin wanted to give Muyang the Flying Nimbus. Only people with pure hearts and no evil thoughts could sit on it.

When Master Roshi himself couldn't sit on it, he shamelessly took one away.

Muyang was aware of the Flying Nimbus's unique characteristics, so he waved his hand in appreciation. "No, I think Dancing Sky Art is more important than external objects, and it's a practice to do it without using external help!"

What actually was more important was that he didn't think it would be useful for him to get it because he might not be able to sit on it. So, if Korin found out, his persona would be crumbling down.

"Immortal Korin, I'm leaving."

After saying that, Muyang flew and jumped from the top of Korin Tower. In the mist-like white clouds, Muyang's figure gradually disappeared and left Korin Tower.

"What a good young man who is devoted to his training..."

Upon looking at the blue vault of the sky, only white clouds drifting underneath, there was no comparison to know the gap.

Compared with Muyang, Master Roshi was simply a stubborn stone, shameless, and nasty. Korin was silent. "Why did I give him the Pole Power and the Elixir of Immortality in the first place?"

Shaking his head as he remembered the large amount of seafood that Muyang had gotten for himself to store, Korin turned around gracefully.

.....

Thousands of kilometers away from Korin Tower, on the ocean, the azure waters were magnificent. The wind was blowing the waves when a merchant ship sailed on this vast ocean.

The tiny cabin kept rocking with the waves as April was curled up in one of the corners with her beloved candy jar in the dim light. Her clothes crumpled and losing its shine, and next to it was her little backpack, which had become a little worn...

"Mmm, so sweet, so delicious." April pecked at her fingers, a sympathetic smile on her face as she dreamed of eating certain delicious things.

.....

On the other hand, after leaving the Snake Charmer Legion Headquarters, Officer Lusha gathered all the men under his command during the night.

He then launched a sweeping search around the original island, vowing to find Claren's daughter and the information about the drawings.

In the command hall, with a cigarette biting on his lips, Lusha stared at a map of the sea on the wall while making constant markings on it.

It could be seen that several nearby islands had been marked with red crosses.

“Boss, we’ve searched more than a dozen islands here and still haven’t found any trace of that little girl. Do you think she’s not on the island, to begin with?” The junior brother next to him touched his neck and whispered.

“Have all the island’s inhabitants been searched?”

Lusha fixed his hand on the pen and turned his head fiercely.

The junior replied, “I’ve asked all of them, but we found nothing.”

“With a pop,” Lusha left his cigarette on the floor, stepped on it twice, and growled, “Wasn’t Claren seen running away with his daughter before? How come we can’t find her? And why are you still standing around? Keep sending more people, expand the range, and look for her, house by house. I can’t believe we haven’t found her.”

“Yes...yes!” Hearing the Boss’s furious hiss, the junior brother turned pale and stumbled out of the room. He was scared to death.

“Bastard, where the hell has that little girl been hiding!” Lusha was in a terrible mood. If he didn’t find that design drawing as soon as possible, Commander Wyan of the headquarters would never spare him. Remembering Commander Wyan’s bloodthirsty eyes, Lusha couldn’t help but shudder.

“No, I must use even harsher methods, or I’m really finished.” A strong desire to survive pushed Lusha to change his tactics in a hurry.

Chapter chapter 44

Time slipped by, and in the blink of an eye, more than two months had passed since MUYANG left Korin Tower.

During this time, MUYANG traveled around the Earth, practicing in the way he knew how, while constantly perfecting his martial arts by combining the knowledge taught by the Heavenly Sky School and Korin.

In this regard, it wasn’t just a matter of using fists and feet, but more of a theoretical drill. As he imprinted the two martial arts concepts, MUYANG was surprised to discover that Heavenly Sky School and Korin Tower’s martial arts overlapped with each other in large part.

“The two are different, but they can be integrated with a general direction. Their founding philosophies are surprisingly consistent.”

Heavenly Sky School Martial Arts focus on nurturing the body with vital energy. Using the body as the foundation to exert power level, then achieved the goal of controlling and utilizing every trace of energy, which was a way of strengthening the foundation.

On the other hand, Korin Tower Martial Arts uses the ki’s flexibility to change the body’s physical movements, focusing on controlling the body and reducing unnecessary movements.

At first glance, the two appear unrelated and even contradict each other in some aspects. For example, Heavenly Sky School focused on the role of the body in the process of luck.

In contrast, Korin Tower Martial Arts were focused on the physical retreat of the body. However, a closer study reveals that the two cross over exactly the same way, with both being as efficient as possible with ki, while the rest just happen to complement each other.

This was strange.

Although there had been rumors circulating that Korin Tower was where all martial arts on Earth originated, the Heavenly Sky School Martial Arts were clearly not detached from this former. They should have existed in parallel.

Muyang realized the similarity between the two, but couldn't figure out the reason why. This was clearly two systems, which should have been developed according to their respective "training trees," but he had a sneaky feeling that the Heavenly

Sky School was like an internal strength, and the Korin Tower was like an external strength.

Both had their own strengths, and combining the two was a truly powerful martial arts concept.

At this time, he deeply appreciated the disadvantages of knowledge deprivation. If he had been a little more discerning, what he encountered in front of him might not have been a problem.

"This question can't be answered now. Perhaps it can only be solved when you go into The Lookout for training." He shook his head and said to himself.

If a person didn't think far ahead, there would be worries close at hand. So, more consideration would be more opportunities. It was true that there was still The Lookout above Korin Tower, where there were even more profound martial arts.

However, that was something that Muyang couldn't touch, for the time being, so he needed to think on his own.

This question plagued the journey, and by the time he came back to his senses, he was somehow on top of an ocean.

"Pfft..."

Several large fish jumped out of the sea and popped back in, splashing into a large, fine wave.

Upon looking at the vast and boundless ocean, Muyang's mood actually relaxed a lot.

"This ocean is surely a good place to live in peace." Muyang smiled lightly and looked out over the distance, and he could still see looming ships casting their nets for fish.

In this era, it was very progressive to be able to drive a fishing boat out to sea to fish.

This place was only a few hundred kilometers away from the Great Azure Mountain, but other than crossing a stretch of ocean the last time he participated in the World Martial Arts Tournament, Muyang had never truly appreciated the vastness of the ocean.

Now that he was here, he was going to feel it properly.

Therefore, MUYANG didn't stop any longer and flew straight towards a beautiful looking island. It was always humbling to face the vast and majestic energy of the ocean's tumbling waves.

.....

An island by the sea.

The surroundings were beautiful and airy, and the not-so-large island was densely populated with short hills. Initially, this place was a paradise scene, but the brutal behavior taking place at the moment shattered the tranquility of the place.

A group of men in uniforms boarded the island in a yacht and then entered the residential area.

Suddenly there was a scene of chickens and dogs on the island. Every time this group came, it was a disaster for the people of the island.

“Bang!”

Someone violently kicked open the door of a home, looked around the corner, and rudely shouted to a farmer couple inside, “Hey, hey, it's time to pay this month's service.”

“This gentleman, can you be lenient for a few days? We really can't get anything here.” The farmer wearing a peasant hat begged.

“Bah, how will I explain this to my leaders if you don't pay? Be honest and hand over your family's property.” The officer spat, as he saw that the other man really couldn't get his finances out.

Therefore he had to break the dishes obscurely and took something from the house that looked like it was worth a little money.

This scene played out in every house. The elderly man on the island couldn't stand and came forward and argue, but he was beaten to the ground by the officer.

“Ouch!”

“Such an old bones, you better be honest. We're not bandits, so just follow our rules honestly, and I promise I won't hurt you.”

“You... you, Central City's laws, will never let you go!” The old man almost vomited blood in anger. Although these decent guys were not bandits, what they were doing was no different from bandits.

Unfortunately, these officers had guns in their hands, and the villagers were powerless to fight back.

“Hey, the laws of the Central City doesn't work in the Snake Charmer Legion territory.”

The officer of the Snake Charmer Legion sneered, with a mocking expression.

Central City had its own law enforcement department, but the Earth was too big, and local tyrant dominated many places.

Central City was beyond its power to reach. Snake Charmer Legion was the biggest revolting force.

In the area that it's occupied, the laws of the Central City were only a few scraps of paper with no effect.

"Bastard!" The inhabitants of the island were all furious as they looked at the arrogant and cocky face of the Snake Charmer Legion's officers.

"I'll fight you!" Seeing their food being carried away, the old man shouted out in grief and anger. He clutched his weak fist and attacked the officer.

"Well, shame on you!"

The Snake Charmer Legion officer's face immediately darkened when he saw that the old man actually dared to fight back; he must be tired of living!

With a wink, the soldier on the side immediately took a big step forward. He threw the old man out of the way, reload up his gun, and aimed it towards the old man to shoot.

"Stop it!" The villagers shouted when they saw it.

"Don't shoot!"

Peng!

A half-inch long fiery snake shot out of the gun bore, and all the men closed their eyes unbearably. However, after a long time, there was no sound of screams.

They opened their eyes and saw an upright man blocking the old man's path. The man had black hair and sharp eyes that pierced everyone's heart like a sword.

At this point, he had one hand on the old man's shoulder, the other stretched forward, and he held something in his hand.

"Tingling!" There was a crisp sound as the metal hit the ground.

It was actually a fiery bullet, and the bullet's surface was still smoking a little at the moment.

The bullets!

It was taken by hand...

Everyone's eyes were wide open. They couldn't believe how human strength could grab a bullet fired from the gun bore with bare hands?

"Are you all right, old man?" The friendly voice sounded, as Muyang calmly looked at the old man next to him.

"No...I'm fine. Thank you!"

The old man was still in shock and couldn't figure out what was happening.

Chapter chapter 45

“This is impossible!”

The Snake Charmer Legion’s officer who fired the gun shouted in disbelief. He was panicking, then fired several more shots continually towards Muyang.

There was a tuk tuk tuk sound of fierce gunfire and a section of fire snakes spewed out. The officer thought that this would definitely kill the other man, but his complacency didn’t last long, and his expression soon became more terrified.

Because after he fired a barrage of bullets, the man on the other side was surprisingly looked calm and didn’t even give a damn about his shooting.

The man stretched out his hand, his palm waved a few times in the air, and all the bullets were stopped.

The crunching sound of a dozen bullets landing on the ground struck the hearts of every Snake Charmer Legion’s officer.

“Monster!!!” They didn’t know who shouted first, but an atmosphere of fear abruptly spread among the Snake Charmer Legion’s officer.

“Everyone fire together and kill him.” The Snake Charmer Legion’s officers shouted in panic as they hurriedly set up their guns and opened up a fire towards Muyang.

“You guys are looking for death!” The repeated provocations caused Muyang’s face to turn gloomy. Since they had murderous intent, there was no need to show mercy!

Suddenly, Muyang’s body moved, and with a swoosh, countless shadows flashed like ghosts, shuttling among the Snake Charmer Legion’s officers.

In just a few seconds, there were crackling sounds. All the Snake Charmer Legion’s officers fell to the ground, having already lost their lives.

“Are all of them dead?” The inhabitants of the small island stared in disbelief at the scene before them.

“They are dead, indeed. The bastards got what they deserved.” The others shouted in relief.

At that moment, the older man remembered the legend he had heard before. He came tremblingly to Muyang, “Could it be... that you are a legendary martial arts practitioner?”

Muyang nodded his head and admitted, “That’s right. I’m a martial arts practitioner.”

“Ah, rumors say that the martial arts school possesses a power that is unattainable by ordinary people. It really is true.” The old man choked with excitement.

“Who are these people, old man? Why are they making a scene on the island?”
Muyang frowned and asked. As far as he knew, the Earth had already entered the era of Central City governance, so it shouldn't be so disorderly.

The old man sighed and said, “Ugh, they are from the Snake Charmer Legion. The Snake Charmer Legion is a very tyrannical armed organization.

They control a large area nearby and rule over the top. Even the military forces of Central City are unable to restrain them.”

After the old man said this, Muyang almost knew the Snake Charmer Legion's officer character. They were supposed to be similar to the Red Ribbon Army, a remnant armed organization under the governance of Central City. The Earth was too big.

Although it was officially under Central City's government, there were many places that the Central City couldn't handle.

It was just that compared to the Red Ribbon Army from the later generations, the current Snake Charmer Legion was significantly more arrogant.

If the Red Ribbon Army was a private armed group hiding under the governance of the Central City. Then the Snake Charmer Legion was more like an armed force that cut up local areas and had its own territory to rule.

Hell, it looked like there was something wrong with the Central City's governance!

“What are you going to do after this, old man?” Muyang looked at the corpses on the ground and suddenly had a headache.

Before, the people on the island could swallow their pride and live under the Snake Charmer Legion's rule, but now that these guys had been killed on the island, it meant that there was no room for peace.

“Ugh, we can't live with this!” The old man sighed quietly and shook his head.
“We actually considered leaving here, but we are still a bit reluctant. It's just that after what happened today, there's nothing we can do about it. We have to leave even if we don't want to.”

Muyang nodded. Although he had sympathy for the old man and the island's inhabitants, he didn't feel guilty for killing the Snake Charmer Legion's officers.

In this matter, he was, in all fairness, not guilty of anything. The Virgin sentiment of “I didn't kill Boren, but Boren died because of me” seemed to be bullshit for him.

He was just doing what he thought was right in the right place at the right time by coincidence. Maybe they already had the idea of leaving in their minds.

After a while, the island's inhabitants began to pack their bags and prepared to leave their homes. As for Muyang, who just received a lot of information from the old man about the Snake Charmer Legion, leaped up and bid them farewell.

.....

Dang dang dang dang, April strained to carry her backpack. Her skinny body walking on the stone-strewn path, and the vegetation around her became progressively thinner as she walked deeper.

April looked a little blankly at the road beneath her. Suddenly, she came to her senses and seemed to have lost her way.

Upon looking around, all the surrounding colors had turned to earthy yellow, and she had entered a vast, flat plain area.

“I, uh, I think I’m in the wrong place.”

April shrank down, her brown hair plastered to her face as it became very messy due to the lack of washing.

Two months ago, she had sneaked into the continent on a merchant ship. After getting off the ship, April had searched for a vague memory in her mind to go home.

However, a memory of a five-year-old girl was nowhere near accurate, so she had gone further off the beaten path, and now she didn’t even know where she was.

“Roar-“

A fierce beast roared in the distance, and then a roll of yellow sand was seen racing across the plain. After a while, a light blue dinosaur chasing an antelope came into view.

The dinosaur was about two meters tall, with dark eyes like light bulbs.

When it got closer, the blue dinosaur saw April and somehow abandoned its prey, and ran towards April instead.

Thump, thump, thump, the dinosaur gradually getting closer, and the ground began to shake because of its footsteps.

April fell to the ground with her head in her hands. She was so scared that both her eyes immediately filled with tears, “Oooh... it’s horrible, don’t eat me.”

The blue dinosaur had already so close that April could even feel the hot breath exhaling from its nose.

However, after a while, April didn’t feel any pain, so she opened her eyes, which were right in front of the blue dinosaur’s bulbous, dark eyes.

The blue dinosaur was a very young-looking dinosaur, with its big head close to April. Its black horns on the top of the head and sides of the jaws, shining in the sun, and it had a very fat belly.

The white scales and a pair of small wings behind its back puffing out but didn’t make the dinosaur fly; instead, it raised a choking cloud of sand and dust.

“Squeak! Click!” The young blue dinosaur tilted its head and screamed closer to April, but its eyes were aimed at the candy jar in April’s arms.

“Do you want some honey?” April responded, shakily opening the lid of the candy jar and handing it over.

“Hiss~~” the young blue dinosaur stuck out its tongue, licked it, and then let out a happy cry.

The childlike of April seemed to have forgotten her fear at this point. She happily lifted the candy jar and continued to feed the dinosaur honey.

“You like them too! These sweet honey are the best. Try them again!” For children, the best thing to do was to share their happiness. With a common interest, they could quickly become good friends.

“Oh.” The young blue dinosaur licked April’s finger, then her cheek.

“Hehe, don’t lick it. Can you take me away with you? I can’t find my way back.”

“Oh-ka.” The young blue dinosaur called out and acted as he understood.

Chapter chapter 46

At a sentry post on the edge of the Shaze Plain, a trooper-looking man was looking around with a telescope.

At that moment, April and the young blue dinosaur came into his view.

The officer was stunned and hurriedly compared it to the drawing in his hand. After double-checking, he immediately rang the alarm.

Ring Ring!

“Go report it to Boss Lusha. The person he’s looking for has been found. Yes, in the Shaze Plain, and a dinosaur accompanied her. What? The boss is coming here himself... Okay, I’ll keep an eye on them.”

Hanging up the phone, the officer continued his observation through his telescope. The thought that he would soon be making a significant contribution made him even more serious about his stakeout mission.

.....

The command room of the Lusha forces.

When he received the report from his subordinates saying that he had found the little girl, Lusha breathed a sigh of relief, and now he was looking forward to catching her.

It would be best if Claren’s robot drawings were on her; otherwise, he’d have to arrange the back-up plan ahead of time.

“Come here!” With that in mind, Lusha shouted for his subordinates.

“Boss, what’s the order?”

“Get the plane ready. We need to get to the Shaze Plain as fast as we can.”

Upon hearing the boss’s command, the subordinate was struck with surprise. “Boss, did we find the person we were looking for?”

At this point, a rare smile appeared on Lusha's ferocious face. "Yeah, I found her. It seems that expanding the search area is working, and damn, that little one is so good at running. She's a thousand kilometers away, but it was still hard for her to escape me."

"Very good, boss, we're on our way to arrange the men." The subordinate also showed a hint of ruthlessness and immediately went to make arrangements for a long-haul flight.

"Get down!"

Lusha waved his hand. His hanging heart finally relaxed a little. He then laid down on the couch with his eyes half-closed.

The recent prodding from headquarters had caused Lusha to tense up immensely.

Ten minutes later, a propeller plane took off from the hangar and headed toward the Shaze Plain, more than a thousand kilometers away.

.....

Six hours later, the plane arrived above the Shaze plains. The dirt plains were devoid of moisture, everything was dry, and the wind was blowing from the dry conditions.

When the plane landed, Lusha and his group stepped off the plane in a hurry.

"Where is the little girl?"

The officer at the post here was busy reporting, "Sir, the little girl is heading west alongside one of the nearest rivers. but a young dinosaur-like creature somehow accompanies her, and our men are afraid to get too close in case we alarm them."

"Well, you're doing great!" Lusha patted the officer. Then, with a fierce gleam in his eyes, he turned back. "Get everyone and bring the weapon. I don't care if that dinosaur lives or dies, but I want that girl alive."

"Don't miss again this time, or I'll chop you off," Lusha warned sternly.

"Understood, boss!"

These Snake Charmer Legion members were living a life of licking blood off the sword. To be honest, they were no different from bandits. After receiving the boss's orders, they all smiled excitedly.

"Let's go!" With a big wave, the group got into the jeep and headed towards April's direction.

Meanwhile, April and her new companion were still unaware of the danger approaching them.

.....

On the other hand, after helping the island's inhabitants eliminated several nearby Snake Charmer Legion fortresses and confirming that the Snake Charmer Legion's armament would no longer affect the retreat of the island's inhabitants.

Muyang flew towards the direction of the Great Azure Mountain.

On a sunny afternoon, the cool breeze brought coldness. The Great Azure Mountain was located on the backside of a primitive mountain range.

Because this mountain range, which had towered for an unknown number of years, blocked the cold air blowing from the north, the area around the Great Azure Mountain was like spring in all seasons. Climate change was not obvious.

Seeing that he was not far from the Great Azure Mountain, Mu Yang flew and stopped along the way. He wasn't in a hurry.

Hula~

A burst of floating light swept across the vast plains. Muyang flew directly over the edge of the sandy land where the worst environment existed.

Just then, a long cloud of dust raised by a line of convoy below caught his attention. That convoy consisted of more than twenty open-topped cars filled with people dressed in earth-gray, tailored clothing, and carrying various standard firearms.

“The Snake Charmer Legion's members actually showed up here...”

Muyang frowned. His excellent eyesight made him recognize the faces of his opponents instantly. He knew those were all from the Snake Charmer Legion.

This place was only a small plain away from the Great Azure Mountain, and the presence of the Snake Charmer Legion was not a good sign.

Although Muyang himself could ignore them, the ordinary inhabitants near the Great Azure Mountain couldn't fight off the Snake Charmer Legion's firepower.

So, Muyang lowered his speed and moved closer towards the convoy, ready to find out what they were up to.

Owm—.

A hissing sound with a burst of grief came steeply from a distance. Muyang noticed that another group of people was in front of him.

Those people were also from the Snake Charmer Legion. They were currently fighting against a dinosaur-like creature.

“Squeak! Squeak!” With his dark eyes spitting fire, the young blue dinosaur looked at the officers in anger. He was protecting a little girl behind him.

At this point, the young blue dinosaur had several bullet holes in his body, and scarlet blood flowed down.

“Oooh, Growlie, are you okay?” April wailed sadly as she stuck behind the blue dinosaur.

“Damn, the young dinosaur is really tough. Keep firing and remember to aim only at that dinosaur and don’t ever hurt that little girl back there.” The Snake Charmer Legion’s Officer Lusha had cold and gloomy eyes.

His eyes glowed with a frighteningly cold light as he angrily gave orders to his subordinates.

“Yes!” Everyone raised their guns.

“You’re bad and evil people!” April flushed red and shouted sadly. These bad guys made her lose her parents and sister, and now they were even trying to get rid of her new friends.

“Hey, little girl, just hand over your dad’s design drawings, and I promise to let you go.”

“You’re bad people. I’m not giving it to you!” April stared with angry eyes. She didn’t realize that her answer had confirmed that the drawing was on her.

Sure enough, upon hearing April’s answer, Lusha’s face overflowed with a smile and seemed to breathe a sigh of relief.

“Fire!” He coldly gave the order.

“Roar-” the young blue dinosaur’s eyes were on fire. He was hissing and fighting for his life as well.

Just then, a light voice suddenly came, “Is everyone in the Snake Charmer Legion like this? Not even a little girl, look at that young dinosaur, it’s more humane than you guys.”

“Who is talking?”

The Snake Charmer Legion officers all went on guard when they heard that voice. They looked around, but unable to find who was speaking until they discovered that the person was actually floating in the air.

Muyang had been watching from the air for a long time and had probably figured out the situation.

Those Snake Charmer Legion seemed to be after something, and that something was in the little girl’s hands.

The fact that they didn’t even let go of a little girl was really hard for Muyang to watch.

Chapter chapter 47

“Who are you? The Snake Charmer Legion is on business, so those who know better shouldn’t interfere!”

Seeing that the mission was about to be completed, but then a troublemaker suddenly appeared, Lusha’s brow furrowed.

His heart was already full of fire, but seeing someone floating in the air, he couldn’t help but become annoyed.

Lusha thought to himself. Ideally, he'd have the initiative to back off on his own accord when he heard the name of the Snake Charmer Legion.

But this one was clearly impossible.

“Tsk, the Snake Charmer Legion... “Muyang shook his head lightly and slowly landed next to the little girl and the blue dinosaur.

Upon taking a glance at the little girl, her brown hair was a bit messy, and her face was covered in smudges, which made it hard to see her face, but her azure eyes were as spiritual as sapphires.

She was somehow familiar. Muyang looked at it a couple more times, but he still didn't recall.

He sneered at the Snake Charmer Legion's officers, “Honestly, I don't have any affection for you guys. The few times I've met you, you've either burned and killed or bullied orphans and widows. I think you're polluting the world by living in it.”

“Boy, you're looking for death!” Upon seeing the young man's outburst, Lusha's heart sank. He had made it clear that he was going to interfere. Suddenly, Lusha's inky blackface was even darker and filled with a murderous aura.

Muyang shook his head and said, “It's not that I'm looking for death; it's just that I've never taken you guys seriously.”

After saying that, a compelling cold light suddenly burst out from his eyes. Muyang's entire body then became blurred, and before anyone on the Snake Charmer Legion's side could react to what was going on, Muyang had already flashed a few steps and circled them.

The difference in strength between the two sides was too high. Muyang was considered one of the top ranks of martial arts practitioners on the planet.

At the same time, Boss Lusha's crew, aside from having guns in their hands, was simply a bunch of reckless people who were considered 'okay' among ordinary people.

However, once they faced martial arts practitioners, they would be at the mercy of the opponent side.

In just a split second, all that could be heard was the crackling of a fight, and the flinging of figures across the field made the scene a very messy one.

“Shit, fire!” A hint of panic appeared in Boss Lusha's eyes as he stubbornly gave his orders. However, as soon as he finished giving the order, he was horrified to find that there was no one left to command around.

This demon had actually killed all his subordinates in the blink of an eye!

In order to be sure of his safety on this trip, he brought a lot of people with him, and they were all killed!

Lusha swallowed his saliva, his whole face becoming even more hideous with fear. He then directly pulled out his pistol and opened fire towards Muyang.

Boom!

The bullet came out of the shell and flew quickly towards Muiyang. Muiyang dodged the bullet directly with a sideways glance, then stretched out his finger and pointed it at Lusha.

“Heavenly Sky Beam!!!”

With a cold shout, a small ki beam flew out from his fingertips, and with a flash of light, the ki beam directly hit Lusha’s skull.

“Poof,” as if a watermelon had exploded, azure beams of light shot out from the other end of the skull, and there was a sudden splash of blood.

With a clatter, Lusha’s pistol dropped to the ground, and his body limped against the car seat. Both of his eyes dilated naturally, and his face was frozen with the horror he felt before he died.

“Ahhhh, the boss is dead.”

The newly arrived convoy at the back just happened to see the scene happening in front of them, and hurriedly turned around to escape.

However, since they had come, how could Muiyang let them leave? So, to avoid creating trouble in the future, it was necessary to cut the roots and clean the ground before going.

Cutting the grass and not getting rid of the roots, the spring breeze will blow and grow them again, leaving the tail on wouldn’t be good.

So, with a swoosh of a shadow of light, Muiyang reopened his killing spree and directly slaughtered the whole group as well.

After killing all the Snake Charmer Legion’s officers, Muiyang changed his former cold face and appeared next to the little girl in a flash.

At this point, April jumped over the young blue dinosaur and wailed, “Ooooh, Growlie, don’t die.”

“Squeak...” the blue dinosaur stuck out his tongue. It was panting weakly.

Muiyang shook his head; sometimes, animals were more humane than humans. He squatted down and took out a Senzu Bean and handed it over, “Here, let it eat this, it’ll be fine after this.”

“Really, there is hope for Growlie?” April stopped sobbing and picked up the Senzu Beans doubtfully.

“Let it eat, and you’ll see what will happen. This bean is so precious, so if you doubt it, I won’t give them to you.”

“Don’t do that; I don’t doubt it.” April quickly wiped her tears away and shoved the Senzu Beans into the young blue dinosaur’s mouth.

The young blue dinosaur’s eyes rounded up, and the muscles in the wound squirmed a few times. The young blue dragon squeezed out a few bullets, and all the wounds were healed.

“Owm! Owm!” The young blue dinosaur puffed his wings, and his ebony eyes were returning to their brightness.

“Wow, wonderful, Growlie is fine now.” April cheered happily.

“Thank you, senior brother, if it wasn’t for you... Growlie would be dead.” April bowed gratefully to MUYANG, then tiptoed around and took off the small backpack behind her.

She pulled out the candy jar and raised her hands. “Senior brother, this is April’s, favorite honey. There’s a little bit left, so I’ll give it to you.”

“April?” Hearing this name, MUYANG was slightly stunned, feeling somewhat familiar.

He took a closer look at the little girl in front of him. Her brown hair, pretty eyes, and the way she acted as if he had seen her somewhere before.

“Senior brother, these candies are for you, they’re sweet.”

“Well, April loves candy.”

–The scene that happened on the train half a year ago overlapped with the present. Only then did MUYANG realize that the little girl in front of him was actually the one he had met on the train.

“You are April, do you have a younger sister...” MUYANG asked.

April’s eyes widened, and her mouth opened, “Senior brother, how do you know? April has a sister, but Sipriel and my parents are all gone...”

April cried out in sadness as she spoke intermittently about what had happened to her.

At this point, MUYANG already knew what was going on. Upon seeing April’s sad appearance, a cold, stern light flashed in his eyes. “Those guys in the Snake Charmer Legion, they deserve to die!” The eyes that looked at April were also filled with pity; the little one was now an orphan.

Sighing softly, MUYANG said to April, “This place is not far from senior brother’s school. Why don’t you come with me?”

“Well, can I bring Growlie with me?” April whispered.

MUYANG looked at the young blue dinosaurs, it had a round, bulbous head which was quite cute, “Of course, you can.”

“Yeah!”

April cheered happily.

MUYANG smiled slightly and bent down to pick April up. He then soared into the air and flying towards the Great Azure Mountain.

At the same time, the young blue dinosaur followed behind, constantly flapping its wings.

Chapter chapter 48

The Shaze Plain was already very close to the Great Azure Mountain. So, shortly after flying, a towering mountain range appeared in front of them. It was the unnamed Primitive Mountain!

The mountains ranged across the landscape, towering over a few hills, as the Great Azure Mountains appeared in view.

By this time, they had entered the Great Azure Mountain Town territory. After flying for a little longer, Muyang descended from the sky and walked with April on the countryside road.

Farmers were walking around from time to time, greeting Muyang when they saw him. However, a trace of fear flashed across their faces when they saw the young blue dinosaur following behind them.

April was surprised. Ever since she had arrived, she found that everyone seemed to know the senior brother next to her.

They were also very friendly, just like the kind people who had helped her. They weren't scary at all.

Of course, they seemed to be afraid of "Growlie," even when Growlie was so cute!

Bang, bang, bang, bang. Growlie didn't like crowds of people, especially when a pair of strange eyes looked at him. He even jogged over to Muyang and April's side. He poked his head in and made April laugh.

.....

"Oh my, Muyang, you're back. Hey, who's this little girl?"

When they returned to the Heavenly Sky School, Isaac and his wife, Alice, who had already received news from the villagers, welcomed them.

Upon seeing that Muyang was accompanied by a little girl and a young blue dinosaur, the couple's faces were filled with confusion.

"Teacher, madam... "Muyang smiled and greeted them. Then, they went to the house together. The young blue dinosaur couldn't enter the door because of its large size, so it was arranged to first stay in the courtyard.

Inside the house, Alice had already poured the tea, and there was fruit on the coffee table. Muyang handed an apple to April, and then explained what he knew about April and the Snake Charmer Legion to Isaac.

Isaac slapped the table in anger after hearing that, "That Snake Charmer Legion group is so disgusting."

At that moment, madam Alice looked at the five-year-old girl in front of her and felt a sudden burst of sympathy.

She took April in her arms and said sadly, "Poor kid, it's so hard for you. I can't believe you've been wandering around alone for more than half a year."

April was dumbfounded when Alice held her. With an apple in her hand, she was at a loss for words and called out to Muyang, "Brother..."

Muyang smiled lightly and said, "This is my teacher's wife. You can treat her as your mother."

“Yes, let’s pretend I’m your mother.” Alice was a kind woman. When she looked at April’s lovely face, she missed her daughter, Mexia, who was far away in the south. She hadn’t seen her for a long time.

“Hey, look at you now. Come, take a shower with me first. Mexia still has her childhood clothes. I’ll buy you some new ones at the next fair.”

“Hmm.” April’s heart flowed with warmth and nodded lightly like a mosquito.

After Alice dragged April to the shower with a bewildered look on her face, the only people left in the room were Muyang and his teacher, Isaac.

There was a brief silence.

Looking at his newly returned disciple, Isaac broke the silence. He said happily, “Muyang, you did well at the World Martial Arts Tournament. You made a name for yourself and our Heavenly Sky School.”

Muyang smiled faintly. He looked at Isaac’s happy face and didn’t say anything.

“Do you know when I received a letter from Sith saying that you had won the World Martial Arts Tournament, I couldn’t believe that my disciple is so powerful.

It was only when Sith came back and personally described what happened at the tournament that I believed that all of this is true.”

“Good boy. You’re good at hiding it, even from your teacher! It was muffled, but you actually came back with the title!”

Thinking about the sensation flowing across the Heavenly Sky School when Sith returned, Isaac’s heart was still a little pumped.

“Teacher, it’s not that I’m trying to hide it, but I really didn’t expect my strength to be that powerful in the first place.”

Muyang smiled lightly. He was able to win the tournament, thanks to the older generation of martial arts practitioners who didn’t participate.

Isaac waved his hand in understanding, “I understand that I underestimated how fast you were growing.”

“I heard from Sith that you’ve completely mastered the liberation of the ‘Heavenly Sky Beam,’ is that true?”

“Yes.” Muyang nodded his head.

After saying that, Muyang flipped his palm, his fingers became swords, and a radiant blue light rose on his fingertips.

It was a ball of ki in the size of a glass marble.

When Isaac saw it, he took in a breath of cold air, as if he had seen something incredible. His eyes widened, then said, “Your mastery of ki has reached such a proficient level!”

“This is the result of my training outside during this time.” Muiyang smiled faintly. He waved his hand and dispersing the ki wave.

“Hahaha, well, it looks like you’ve outgrown me so much. Perhaps no one in the entire Heavenly Sky School is your match now.” When Isaac saw it, his face flushed as if he was drunk. He then excitedly shouted, “Tell me how you’ve spent these past six months and how your strength has increased so much.”

Muiyang nodded and slowly told Isaac about his experience in the past six months.

When he mentioned that he had stopped by to visit Mexia at the Superpower Academy after being out of town for a while, Isaac’s face showed the same hint of nostalgia.

Then, when Muiyang said that after he had met Mexia, he traveled to the Sacred Land of Korin to challenge Korin Tower. Isaac’s expression became serious.

“That’s it. When I saw you just now, I felt your words and moves were actually a bit difficult for me to see through. Obviously, each movement was very casual, but it seemed as if it was full of deep meaning. It turned out that you had received guidance from Immortal Korin.” Isaac sighed.

His disciple had actually managed to climb the Korin Tower and received guidance from Immortal Korin.

How many people would be envious if this were to be told? This could be far more shocking than winning the title of the World Martial Arts Tournament.

It was because the last person who climbed the tower was the “God of Martial Arts,” Master Roshi!

“I have greatly profited by the guidance of Immortal Korin. He also promised to recommend me to a more sacred place for training as soon as I reach the level of his approval.”

Muiyang told his teacher the truth.

At this moment, Isaac’s face became serious, and he muttered, “A more sacred place, could it be, it’s the Lookout in the heavenly realm...”

“Teacher, do you know about the Lookout?” Muiyang was surprised.

Isaac nodded his head, indicating that he knew about the heavenly realm.

He then said with emotion, “I do know a little bit about it. By the way, that is a secret rumor that has been passed down since ancient times by our Heavenly Sky School. I’m afraid that no one in the entire martial world other than our Heavenly Sky School knows that there is a legendary temple called the Lookout on top of that Korin Tower.”

Upon hearing this, Muiyang was a little surprised.

Isaac continued, “In fact, the heritage of our Heavenly Sky Beam is not simple. It is said that long ago, there were once predecessors who lived on that legendary temple, but unfortunately, a great catastrophe over two hundred and fifty years ago almost destroyed the entire martial world. Our Heavenly Sky School also suffered heavy losses, and we have not been able to recover from our former glory.”

“But it’s good now. I can see the dawn in you.” Isaac looked at Muiyang with mixed emotions. He was getting more and more satisfied with his disciple.

After hearing this, Muiyang was a bit startled. According to his teacher, Heavenly Sky School had seniors who lived on the Lookout.

Was he once a Kami, or a disciple of a Kami? Either way, it must be amazing.

As for the catastrophe two hundred and fifty years ago, he presumed that it would be the Great Demon King Piccolo catastrophe.

No wonder Korin looked at himself differently. He even wanted to recommend him to practice at the Lookout.

If it’s because of his school’s seniors who once lived in the Lookout or maybe even held the position of Kami, it made sense that he would have a bit of an intense relationship with Korin. Korin even valued himself a bit more.

Could it be... that he was in the good graces of his Heavenly Sky School seniors?

The more Muiyang thought about it, the more possible it became.

He thought about the similarities and differences between the Heavenly Sky School martial arts and the Korin Tower martial arts.

It suddenly became clear because that was most likely the same inheritance that had been passed down from the Lookout.

Chapter chapter 49

“I really didn’t expect that our Heavenly Sky School would have such an origin.” Muiyang was a little emotional. He never expected that the martial arts school he was in would still have connections with the Lookout.

Perhaps compared to the past, the Heavenly Sky School had truly fallen.

Isaac laughed and said, “Hahaha, it’s true, don’t look at the small number of us. Our heritage is very reliable. It’s a special occasion today, so let your teacher’s wife cook a sumptuous meal tonight. Call your uncles, and we’ll have a good meal together.”

“What are you talking about?”

A soft voice sounded, and Alice, the teacher’s wife, came out holding April’s hand. April was now dressed in clean clothes, and her hair was neatly combed with a ribbon tied around her brown hair.

“Brother,” April called out crisply, with a smile on her face.

Isaac looked over towards his wife and the little girl next to his wife with a smile as he said, “We were talking about cooking a nice meal for the evening and then getting the whole family together to have a good time.”

“Ah, if that’s the case, we need to start preparing it now.” Alice covered her mouth. Without the help of electrical equipment, even a woman as industrious as Alice would need to work for more than half a day to prepare a good meal.

Seeing that his wife was about to set out and get ready, Isaac smiled and said, “Don’t worry, I’ll help out with the preparations later.” He turned to April, “Today is a celebration day. Little April has come to our house, and we are going to treat her well.”

“Look at my clothes, brother, April loves them.”

For a little girl of about five years old, her memories were hazy, and her mood changed quickly. She now seemed to be back to her innocent self, just like when they met on the train.

“It’s good if you like it,” MUYANG said with a slight smile.

At that moment, April, who was wearing Mexia’s childhood clothes, looked lively and adorable. It made him suddenly felt that it seemed nice to have such a sister.

When he walked to the courtyard with April, he saw that the young blue dinosaur was curled up on the ground and napping.

Its tongue was sticking out and licking from time to time. The relaxing and quiet environment of the Great Azure Mountain made it very comfortable.

After seeing MUYANG and the others coming, the young blue dinosaur raised his head. His big head rose, squeaking towards them, then turned over and lay down on the ground, revealing his snowy white belly.

MUYANG watched with interest for a while, and then took April for a stroll around the Great Azure Mountain to get familiar with the surroundings.

.....

Evening.

Yula, Sith, Karl, Clarissa, Beyaros, and several other elders came to Isaac’s cabin. When they saw MUYANG, they were inevitably concerned and homely.

Then everyone sat at the table, mingling and expressing their feelings. MUYANG once again recounted his experience, causing everyone here to amaze.

Of course, the newcomer, April, was also the focus of attention. After getting to know each other, April became a member of the Heavenly Sky School.

This dinner went late in the evening. Everyone had enjoyed themselves before the party broke up in a drunken daze.

.....

The next morning, April popped in her slippers and came running, holding that little bag of hers and handing it to MUYANG.

“What’s in here?” Receiving April’s bag, the small backpack had a few tears on the surface. It was a little heavy with all the things stuffed inside.

April shook her head. After taking her beloved candy jar out of it, she said, “I don’t know. It was given to me when my dad left to keep it safe.”

Muyang sniffed and opened the bag to take out what was inside. It was a large stack of thick drawings and three black, uneven stones.

Muyang took a look at it, and he was surprised, “The Snake Charmer Legion wants to catch you just for these things?”

“Hmm.” April nodded.

Muyang still faintly remembered that Snake Charmer Legion wanted to catch April, to get the drawings her father had made.

The stack of drawings was open and filled with intricate wiring that looked like mechanical and electrical diagrams.

In his previous life, Muyang was a specialist in high-voltage live electrical operations. Still, he barely understood a small part of it.

“It’s a drawing of robot design.” After a moment, he put down the drawings. He somehow understood why the Snake Charmer Legion had their eye on these drawings.

If the robots in the drawings were created and put into battle, in the current era where technology wasn’t particularly advanced, the Snake Charmer Legion would have a chance to compete with Central City.

Furthermore, even if they wanted to dominate the world, it wouldn’t be impossible.

“What are you going to do with these drawings?” Muyang asked April.

April thought about it and replied, “Brother, I want to go to school and become a scientist and then study these drawings.”

Muyang touched the little girl’s brown hair and nodded, “Good, in the future, April will become a female scientist.”

“Hmm.” April narrowed her eyes and made a whispering sound.

“But martial arts can’t be left behind. From now on, you’re a disciple of Heavenly Sky School, so you can’t just study science.” In this world, there was no safety and security without strength.

Although most people could live out their lives in peace and security, Muyang didn’t want April to waste her life in a dull life.

“I know.”

“And what is this?” Muiyang picked up the three odd-shaped stones. It was black and completely indistinguishable what material they were made of.

Muiyang squeezed them hard, and they actually didn’t break, and suddenly he knew that these stones were not ordinary things.

April bit her bottom lip and said quietly, “I don’t know, daddy didn’t tell me.”

“But I’m sure I’ll figure it out later.” The little girl raised her head stubbornly, her azure eyes filled with determination. Muiyang was slightly stunned as he caressed her fluffy hair as if he had seen a science star rising.

“By the way, April, do you want to avenge your parents?”

“I want to, but I’m not strong enough.” At this point, April was depressed.

“How about brother help you destroy them. This Snake Charmer Legion is so horrible. Keeping them alive in this world will only spawn more tragedy!” Muiyang didn’t have any affection for the Snake Charmer Legion.

In the original story, there was no organization called Snake Charmer Legion existed. So, there was only one possibility that this organization would be destroyed in the future and replaced by the Red Ribbon Army.

Muiyang now had crossed paths with the Snake Charmer Legion, and their relationship wasn’t exactly harmonious.

Regarding the enemy, Muiyang’s creed wasn’t to let them go easily. Even if there was only a little threat, it was better to annihilate them.

Chapter chapter 50

“But they’re good, and there are a lot of them.” April hesitated. However, from the look in her eyes, Muiyang could see that she was truly angry with the Snake Charmer Legion. She was only worried that there were too many of them.

Muiyang smiled proudly and said disdainfully, “Looking at their strength, no amount of people will be a match for brother.”

“There aren’t many people on this planet who are stronger than me anymore.”

It wasn’t that Muiyang was proud of himself. He was just told the truth. Even Master Roshi, apart from his rich experience that Muiyang couldn’t match, he didn’t think he was much inferior to him.

April’s eyes lit up, thinking of how Muiyang looked yesterday when he was on a rampage. She then waved her fist fiercely and said, “Then brother will defeat all those bad guys.”

“Of course, I will.”

.....

Over the next few days, April formally enrolled as a disciple of Heavenly Sky School to learn the fundamentals of martial arts.

After learning that April's wish was to become a scientist, so Isaac and Muyang figured out how to pick a school for her and arranged to send April there.

At the same time, to take care of April's martial arts training, she would be living in the Heavenly Sky School Martial Arts Dojo at the bottom of the Great Azure Mountain.

It was a martial arts building for the common people and was taken care of by some of Heavenly Sky School's disciples.

They taught the locals some simple techniques to defend themselves against enemies. It was sort of a resident of the Heavenly Sky School in the civilian world.

.....

Meanwhile.

The Eastern Mountains of the Earth, the Snake Charmer Legion's headquarters.

Commander Wyan frowned slightly as he examined the information reported by his subordinates with a scowl on his face.

It said that the head of the Southeast Region, Lusha, seemed to have discovered something and led a group of soldiers into the Shazer Plain, but never returned.

According to the follow-up information sent back, they found Lusha and his men's bodies there.

Those subordinates were all killed with a single blow. The guns in their hands weren't still unused, so it was clear that they had no chance to fight back.

There was even a hole in Lusha's skull, directly penetrated by the powerful ki beam.

"Pop!" Pressing the report to the table, Commander Wyan picked up his glass grimly and drank it in one gulp.

"Who exactly killed Lusha? A certain master who happened to be passing by, or other forces with the same goal as us, such as... Central City." Wyan's face was cloudy. If it was the first, it was fine, nothing pertinent, but if it was the second, it meant that someone else had their eye on those drawings as well.

In either case, however, the drawings he wanted was unlikely to be recovered, or the hope of getting it back had been extremely low!

"Useless thing, not only did he lose his life, but he also lost the drawings." While cursing Lusha for doing something poorly, Commander Wyan had to think about what was coming next. If Central City or some other forces obtained those drawings, it would be a great disadvantage to the Snake Charmer Legion.

"Dorone, do you know any powerful martial arts schools near the Shaze Plains?"

Commander Wyan asked his henchman.

The man named Dorone quickly recalled the information in his mind. He shook his head, “The Shaze Plain is a very desolate place with not many people for a radius of over a hundred kilometers.”

“Anyway, further west, there is a great mountain range, where monsters and beasts are rampant, and ordinary people can’t enter. After climbing over that mountain range, there is a martial school, but Commander, that martial school is deep and shallow, and its strength is not trivial. So, it can’t be them.” That henchman named Dorone advised. He was emphasizing the strength of the martial arts school.

Commander Wyan shook his hand, “Well, let me think about it.”

Someone who could be the Commander of an armed organization certainly had some sense, and Wyan was aware of the martial arts school’s terror. Some powerful martial arts practitioners weren’t even afraid of firearms.

When you ran into someone like that, armed forces wouldn’t work. In addition to the fact that Commander Wyan was a Beastman himself, he was even more knowledgeable about the martial arts community’s abilities.

However, times are different now. With the development of science and technology, powerful weapons are being produced, and the martial arts practitioners were becoming less intimidating to some organizations.

Even if there was the slightest doubt at this point, Wyan wouldn’t let it go easily, but of course, he wouldn’t be able to do it himself.

“Come here.” Commander Wyan shouted.

Soon the door to the hall opened, and an officer in an earthy grey uniform ran in, “Commander, what is your order?”

“Contact assassin Mr. Mercenary Tao immediately. Tell him that I have a mission for him. Ask him to find the drawings for me, in this specific address.”

Commander Wyatt had written down the address and handed it to his subordinates. If Muyang had been here, he would have discovered that the address on the note was the Heavenly Sky School’s location in the Great Azure Mountain.

Commander Wyan’s intentions were very simple. If the drawings were really there, then it would be perfect.

However, if it wasn’t there, then it was nothing more than spending some money. Anything that could be solved with money was trivial.

So, Commander Wyan could only wish that the drawings were there!

Upon hearing that he needed to contact the assassin Mercenary Tao, the officer’s face turned pale.

“What? Is there a problem?” Commander Wyan’s deep cold eyes glared at him.

The officer shuddered as if he was being stared at by a demon, and shuddered, “No... this subordinate will do it immediately.”

Afterward, he took the note and scampered off.

Commander Wyan grunted disdainfully and lay down on his soft couch for a comfortable nap. When a violent roar came from afar, rumbling like a cannonball attack, the whole castle shook.

Even the chandeliers on the ceiling swayed left and right as if they were about to fall at any moment.

“Was there an earthquake? No way, it must be an attack towards this place.”

Commander Wyan’s face immediately darkened as he walked out with a murderous look on his face. He saw that the guards outside were urgently deployed to form a defensive position.

“What’s going on?” Wyan asked with killing intent in his eyes.

“Commander, someone has invaded the headquarters. It will be hard for our people to resist.” A guard with a gun on his shoulder said, his face was pale.

“Huh?” Commander Wyan was stunned. He was startled by the statement, “It’s going to be hard to resist,” but then his grimace became even more ferocious, “Damn it. This is the headquarters of the Snake Charmer Legion. What kind of person is so bold to invade this place?”

“It’s...it’s a young boy.”