

《Billionaire CEO Won't Leave》

Chapter 39

As it turns out, conmobei really doesn't do business at a loss.

"Really not together?" He asked, head askew, standing in front of his exclusive car, a royal blue Maybach.

Secretary Xing has been waiting for you.

Bai nianxi shook his head, "it doesn't matter. I can go by myself."

After all, as an airborne personnel, she sat in the president's car on the first day of work, how to think and feel inappropriate, so she insisted on driving by herself.

"That's good." Kangmobei didn't say much. Anyway, he has arranged everything in the company. Bai nianxi just needs to report directly.

Obviously, the Maserati that conmobei gave her is not suitable for driving to work. Although conmobei said that he can drive the car in his garage freely, it is also obvious that there is no car suitable for her to drive to work in his garage.

Sitting on the bus, Bai nianxi finally got to the company downstairs at the stall where she was going to be late. Kang Mobei told her that the Department she was going to go to was the Propaganda Department, and the position was vice minister.

But because there was no communication in advance, should she just walk into a large international enterprise and say to people, "I'm here to be the Vice Minister of the Department?"

Are you going to be driven out like a madman?

Bai nianxi fed himself positive energy chicken soup again and again in his heart, and finally walked in.

No one seemed to notice her.

Pretending to be calm, he walked to the service desk with a confident and appropriate smile on his face, "Hello, I'm here -"

"are you Ms. Bai nianxi?" The receptionist asked first.

"Well Yes

"Follow me, please." The front desk lady was respectful and led in front of Bai nianxi.

Eh, is it really so smooth?

Just waiting for the elevator, I suddenly heard a burst of footsteps in the hall. Bai nianxi looked over and saw that a tall and handsome man came in from the door, leading several elite men with the same look.

The leading man's steps are like the wind. The people walking around in the hall before saw him stop and stand still with their heads down 30 degrees in his direction.

Who is the man in charge?

Didn't connberg leave earlier than she did? Why did you come here at this time?

In the twinkling of an eye, kangmobei leads a group of people to the elevator entrance. The elevator door opens. Kangmobei goes in first, and then bainianxi goes in.

Only when the elevator door is about to close, Bai nianxi finds something wrong. Why don't they come in?

He grabbed the elevator door that was about to close. Bai nianxi took a look at the front desk lady who was leading her just now, and found that she was lowering her beautiful head respectfully, and could not see any expression.

All the people stood outside the elevator door trembling, not daring to have half an expression except respect.

This woman, she's dead.

The president is very strict on taking the elevator. He never likes to squeeze the elevator with others. Every time he follows the president, when he arrives at the elevator entrance, everyone will stop directly. Only when connobei goes up first, can they dare to sit down.

and because of the harsh requirements of the North Korean elevator for the lift, no girl dares to use perfume in the company because what is not used by the north is love.

before, there was a girl who was expelled from the delicious nose of Como north because of a strong perfume.

After a few seconds of stalemate, Bai nianxi suddenly realized: is it because of Kang Mobei in the elevator that they dare not come up?

He lowered his head and was preparing to walk out of the elevator silently. Suddenly, he was pulled behind him and the elevator door in front of him was closed.

.....

"Why did you go out just now?" There was a lot of displeasure in the words.

Bai nianxi is a bit weak. "They don't come in..."

"If they don't come in, you go out?" Conmobei's momentum has cooled down, like a tiger whose beard has just been plucked. "They don't come in because I don't take the elevator with others."

Bai nianxi said, sure enough, she shouldn't have walked in without a wink. Who knows that the president of kangmobei has such a big shelf.

"But I didn't say you can't."

In a word, no matter what Kang Mobei said, Bai nianxi did not dare to refute half a sentence. The leaders were right. Who called him a leader?

Kangmobei's office is on the top floor. Bai nianxi gets off the elevator first. Kangmobei says that this floor is her department. Push open the door of propaganda department, Bai nianxi went in.

In an instant, dozens of pairs of eyes were staring at her. In those eyes, there were doubts, puzzles, glances, expectations and contempt.

The woman who is ten minutes late must be the Vice Minister of the Department?

Minister Yang first came over and said hello to Bai nianxi, "new Xiaobai, right? Hello, helloNo one had ever called Bai nianxi "Xiaobai" before. Bai nianxi nodded his head unaccustomed. Under the guidance of director Yang, Bai nianxi and all the colleagues in the Department said hello one by one, and then was taken to her desk by Minister Yang.

Minister Yang gave her a brief introduction to her job responsibilities and the company's rules and regulations. He knew that she was airborne, and there must be a backstage behind her, but the big money owner behind her has not yet come out of the water, so he still held it carefully.

It's just that other people don't think so.

Director Yang came out of his office and yelled to a woman who was working hard behind Bai nianxi: "Wanqing, have you finished your plan?"

Gao Wanqing nodded, "I'll send it to you now."

Minister Yang took a look at Bai nianxi and said, "no, I'll give your plan to Deputy Bai in the future."

"White deputy department?" Gao Wanqing frowned and looked at Bai nianxi, "why give it to her? Didn't they all give it to you directly before? "

Minister Yang was obviously stunned for a moment, and then said: "Deputy Bai is now in charge of this part. In the future, all the plans you have in hand must be in her hands, and after preliminary review, they can be handed over to me for final decision."

In fact, the Propaganda Department has never had all the vice ministers. He has always been the head of the Department and is directly responsible for the approval of all plans. Although he is a little tired, he can ensure the work efficiency of the Department to the greatest extent.

Commobei never treats the people in the company badly and never makes any deduction in terms of salary. Compared with paying one person for one, commobei prefers to pay three people for two jobs, because it can minimize the personnel burden. Of course, it is also on the premise of ensuring the quality of work.

But now that Bai nianxi is here, the company has even arranged a vice minister's job for her. It's hard for him to let Bai nianxi do nothing there. Does it have to give people a sense of existence?

Gao Wanqing took a look at Bai nianxi, with some disdain on his face, "will she?"
