Chapter 561 The Tyrant's Threat...

Late at night.

Bianca was dreaming of being framed for cheating on the test.

In the dream, Bella was pointing condescendingly at herself and shouting at her that she was a shameless cheater!

The crowd around her were looking at her impassively. Some of them were even laughing and insulting her together with Bella!

No one believed that she was innocent!

"No, I'm not..." Bianca was flustered. She tried to explain to the people around her, but no one believed her.

"Bianca, you cheater, you've ruined your future. Don't ever think of becoming an architect ever again. I say, people like you don't deserve to live!" Bella in the dream was laughing maliciously.

Suddenly, she opened her bloody mouth and morphed into a fanged beast. It pounced toward Bianca and reached for her neck.

"No! I didn't cheat! Why doesn't anyone believe me?"

Bianca screamed in panic and suddenly opened her eyes.

The scenes in the nightmare were still fresh in her mind. Her heart was thumping wildly, and her back was drenched with sweat.

"Bea..." Bianca's screams woke Luke up.

Looking at how panicked she was, Luke hugged her tightly and comforted her, ' Don't be afraid. You were only having a bad dream."

Luke was already awake, and he had brushed his teeth.

He watched her sleeping face without saying a word. She was curled up in her sleep, seemingly in a defensive pose.

He remembered that Bianca used to be mischievous and gentle, and her face would be animated by a variety of expressions. She would always smile brightly at him.

Now...

Luke sighed. His calloused fingers gently caressed Bianca's delicate face.

Her skin was as smooth as the finest silk.

Her petite face was only as big as his palm. It was so delicate that it evoked pity.

Her pink lips were slightly dry.

Luke could not help but lower his head and give her a deep kiss...

Bianca was awakened by the kiss. She groggily opened her eyes.

She rubbed her eyes as though she was not fully awake yet.

When her gaze focused on Luke's face in front of her, she smiled brightly. "Good morning."

Luke and the others drove their cars to Misty Mountain.

Misty Mountain boasted fantastic scenery. The mountain was shrouded in clouds and mist all year round, as though it was part of a fantasy dreamscape. Every year, it attracted tourists from many countries.

Surrounded by several mountain peaks was a waterfall with a lake at the bottom. The water was clear and reflected the blueness of the sky, which was why it was called Azure Waterfall.

The group of people went to the Cottage in the Clouds, a popular lodge located next to Azure Waterfall.
It was built entirely with logs, though the interior was spacious and comfortable.

The owner of the lodge was a young couple. They seemed to be loving toward each other.

The male was tall and gentlemanly, while the female was beautiful and diligent. They were dressed in unique ethnic wear.

They received Luke, Bianca, and the others with warm smiles.

Jim facepalmed. "I have no retort to that..."

Meanwhile, Percy said sarcastically, "That's a grandiose excuse, Mr.

Crawford, but I think the real reason that you invite us on this outing is that you don't know how to coax your wife, and you're trying to ask us for any tips. Unfortunately, I can't help you at all. To me, women are nothing but trouble. If you want help, you should ask Jim or your brother. They're very experienced." "Ahem... what do you mean, Percy?" Louis said, "What do you mean when you say that we're experienced? I date many women, but you can't say that I'm a playboy. I'm saving the hearts of all the women out there. Think about it, those women flock to me. If I reject them, their fragile hearts would be hurt. If my rejection drives them to suicide, then I'd be a sinner. That's why I'm not a playboy but a savior."

The other men looked at Louis contemptuously.

That was the first time that someone had given such a virtuous definition of being a womanizer.

Louis rubbed his nose, covered his face with a straw hat, and decided that he should keep his mouth shut.

Luke stubbed out his cigarette in the ashtray, then reclined on the rattan chair and rested his head on his hands. "The scenery here is beautiful, and it does allow for one to temporarily forget the bustle of the city. I think this is what Coleridge is trying to express when he talks about his white-flowered jasmine and broad-leaved myrtle." i

Chapter 563 He Was Stripping Her With His Gaze!

When Scarlett saw Jim, her grip on Simon's hand became tighter, and her clear eyes were fraught with unease.

She even timidly hid behind the little boy, even though his height only reached her thigh.

Jim was angry when he saw how Scarlett was trying to avoid him.

However, he was not going to lose his temper in front of everyone, and so he glared at his precious son.

Simon grinned at his father and clung to Scarlett's leg as though he was claiming dominance over her.

At that moment, Jim had the urge to toss his son into the lake!

However, he was also frustrated seeing how Scarlett was not keen to get close to him.

His eager gaze was transfixed on her body, as though he was going to strip her clothes away with his eyes!

Scarlett averted his hungry gaze and tried to strike up a conversation with Bianca to alleviate the awkward atmosphere.

The little boy pointed a plump finger at Louis and said unhappily, "Put Rainie down now, Uncle Louis. I won't be happy if you keep hugging her!"

Louis glanced at Simon, surprised. "What's wrong with you, brat? Why are you not happy with me hugging my niece?"

The adults were interested when the two little fellows said that they were going to spar.

Even Luke and Bianca stayed to watch the show with the others.

Soon, the two little boys started to trade blows.

Lanie was well-trained in martial arts, and each punch and kick exuded power. Simon was not as well-trained, but he was used to brawling with other kids, and he was a more experienced fighter than Lanie. For a moment, no one knew who would be the winner.

If they continued with the fight, they would not gain anything except for new bruises.

"Stop fighting, boys. You'll hurt yourselves. Please stop..." At first, Bianca thought that it would be fun watching them play with each other. However, she soon became nervous when she saw that the two meant business. She wanted to go forward and pull them apart.

Luke stopped her. He was quite interested in watching the children fight.

The two boys had already disliked each other. Lanie thought that Simon was being a pest to his sister and ought to be taught a lesson, while Simon hated Lanie for not letting him get close to Rainie.

The two brats were rivals, and they were excited to fight each other.

They also wanted to know who was the better fighter between the two, so neither wanted to give up.

Then, he looked at Rainie's adorable face as she talked to her uncle. His confidence and fighting spirit was ignited again.

He was his Daddy's son. He might be young now, but he would one day be stronger than Daddy or even Rainie's Daddy. Eventually, Rainie would take his hand and be his wife!

After the entertaining episode, Luke and Bianca walked along Azure Waterfall.

The waterfall was extremely tall and wide, and one could not see the other end. The waterfall formed a natural lake below it. Along the lakeside, many unnamed flowers were in full bloom, forming a stark contrast with the blue lake water.

It was a refreshing sight.

Luke hugged Bianca and walked along the lakeside.

The man was dressed in casual clothes, but that did not diminish his handsomeness. His noble demeanor was unforgettable.

"You're Shania who was terribly ill last year?" Bianca ventured.

The girl nodded happily, and Bianca smiled. "How are you recovering? Are your parents fine?"

Bianca remembered that Shania used to be skeletally thin because of her illness.

Now, she was spirited and energetic, totally different from what she was before. She should be in good health.

"I'm so happy that you remember me, Madam! Thanks to your help, I went for surgery last winter, and my condition has been improving since. Look, I'm very healthy now." Shania twirled around in front of Luke and Bianca.

Bianca could not help but laugh at how energetic the little girl looked.

She pinched Shania's face and said gently, "Not bad. You look a lot better than before. There's so much color on your face now." "Thank you, Madam." Shania smiled shyly.

She became curious when she saw Bianca's bulging stomach. "Are you pregnant, Madam?" "Yes, I'm bearing another life in my womb now." Bianca lovingly caressed her stomach.

Shania blinked. She wanted to ask about the twins.

The twins left a lasting impression on her. They were the ones who had given her a ray of hope, and she persevered in her treatment so that she could meet them again.

Considering Bianca's pregnancy, Luke picked secluded paths. His strong arm hugged Bianca tightly and prevented people from bumping into her.

Bianca was getting tired from walking, but she did not want to say it.

After all, they had sat down just earlier.

Many elderly men and women were hiking around the lake, and they moved faster than her. She did not want to be weaker than them.

Luke had been observing Bianca's movements. He could tell that Bianca was tired.

He wanted to bring her to the countryside because Johann told him that Bianca had a weak constitution and she needed the exercise so that the delivery process would be smooth. That was why he insisted on walking with her.

However, he felt sorry when he saw that Bianca's face was turning red. He decided that Bianca should not walk anymore.

He instantly picked her up in a bridal carry, ignoring her protests. He brought her to a stone bench and gently placed her down.

On the next bench was an old couple in their sixties.

The old woman smiled kindly when she saw how loving Luke and Bianca were. "You're so nice to your wife, laddie. How many months pregnant is your wife?"

Bianca lowered her head shyly. Her face was as red as a tomato.

Angrily, Jim pressed his lips onto Scarlett's lips, not giving her the chance to escape.

Scarlett did not manage to save her baby.

When Bianca met her in the hospital ward, she seemed paler and weaker than ever.

Her face was ashen with despair, and her gaze was vacant as though her soul had left her body.

"Scarlett..." Bianca felt sorry for the young woman.

She gently held Scarlett's slender arm. "Don't be too sad. Take care of your body. Your health is more important, and you can still bear children next time..." "No, I won't. I won't ever bear children anymore..." Scarlett shook her head slightly. She was in despair. "He was the one who got rid of the baby. That's fine. That unwelcome life won't experience happiness anyway..."

She was not fond of that baby at all. However, she eventually learned to accept the life in her womb and even anticipated its arrival.

Scarlett thought that she would not mind losing that baby, but she did not expect it to hurt so much.

Bianca was at a loss for words.

She could see that Jim cared for Scarlett a lot and cared for the baby in her womb even more. Why would he be the one to get rid of Scarlett's baby?

When Bianca came to her senses, she stood up abruptly and said to Scarlett, "Jim has gone overboard. The child is nonetheless his. How could he be so cruel? I'll ask him to find out." "No, don't." Scarlett shook her head.

Chapter 568

Except on Bianca's first day at work, there were no further rumors about her going around in the company.

She knew that it was all Luke's doing.

Bianca knew that the only thing left for her to do was wait!

She needed to wait for her innocence to be proved!

As usual, Bella Sloan picked on Bianca and ridiculed her from time to time.

However, Bianca was not at all bothered.

She was not a cowardly woman. She used to simply endure it because Ms. Sloan was her boss, so she would avoid her if she could. However, since Bella framed her, Bianca had seen right through her.

The news from Jason Doyle was enough to get Bianca excited.

Everyone had a price.

Bella did not expect Bianca to find a witness so quickly!

She thought that she had been utterly cautious when she stole the documents from her bag. How could anyone have spotted her?

She even wondered if the so-called witness had been bought off by Bianca!

She decided that her only choice was to go to Mavis Laviere's office and ask her for a solution.

Bella was sweating anxiously as she knocked on the door, saying directly, "Ms. Laviere, Bianca has found a new witness. She wants to accuse me of falsifying statements. What should I do now? Can you help me?"

She had not been able to sleep well these past couple of days, so the dark circles under her eyes were particularly noticeable.

From the time that the CEO started to intervene in the incident, Bella knew that things would go badly, but she did not expect it to happen so soon.

Mavis dropped the pen in her hand.

Ms. Laviere, do you really think that you can stay out of it if someone catches me? You're merely dreaming if you really think so! We're in the same boat! Instead of helping her solve the problem, she ridiculed Bella saying that she

She was dumb!

Chapter 569 Her Fate Was In Bianca's Hands

Mavis stood up calmly and walked toward Bella with her chest puffed.

Bella trembled and did not dare to move. She gritted her teeth and said, "Ms. Laviere, don't go too far! What do you want to do?"

Mavis narrowed her eyes and replied, "Ms. Sloan, it's not what I want, but what you want."

In Mavis' eyes, Bella was nothing more than an obedient puppy.

If the puppy was behaving, she would reward her with snacks. If the puppy went against her wishes, she would give it up without a second thought.

If it were not for the fact that Bella had helped her out a few times, she would not have even bothered befriending her.

Bella yelled, "Mavis, don't think that I'll be afraid of you just because you have something on me! It is what it is now. I'm not afraid of spilling! It's okay for my reputation to be ruined, but Ms. Laviere, what about you?"

You're all high and mighty in the company. If I tell the truth, do you think that people would still respect you?" "Oh? What do you want me to do, then?" Mavis raised her eyebrow slightly.

"This happened because of you, so you have to clean up this mess for me. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have plotted against Bianca. Ms. Laviere, I don't need to lay everything out for you. You're a smart woman, so you should understand what I mean." Bella's mood eased slightly.

She had been in love with him for ten years, and Mavis was confident that she could continue to love him. As long as he was not married, she would still have a chance to get him!

On the other end.

Luke, Jason, Nina, and the others went to the Education Bureau with Bianca.

Mr. Yates and Julie testified for Bianca and the case quickly came to an end.

Although Bella tried her best to argue her case, there were two persuasive witnesses and physical evidence.

Jason managed to get his hand on the surveillance footage. The video was not entirely clear because the camera was far away and the angle was not great. Despite the blurry video, it was still clear that Bella Sloan had scavenged through Bianca's bag and stole her documents.

Chapter 570 The End Is Near

Bella knew that Bianca was kind and the CEO was obsessed with her. As long as she could put in a good word for her, then she still had a chance.

Bella had always acted high and mighty in front of Bianca.

She was too proud to beg a woman she once looked down on.

However, she had no choice but to beg Bianca under such circumstances.

Bianca stared at Bella and said coldly, "All this was determined by the Education Bureau. I have no right to interfere."

Bella's makeup was melting from all the crying. She looked extremely miserable as she said, "You can still interfere! As long as you're willing to forgive me and say a few good words in front of the CEO... Bianca, please forgive me. I will be grateful to you for the rest of my life..." "Ms. Sloan, I think you have to wake up to reality. There's solid evidence and witness statements. Nothing I do can change the decision made," Bianca replied calmly.

Besides, even if she could help Bella, she would not do that.

She asked for it!

She would never forgive Bella!

Nina accused Bella in a righteous tone, "Are you still lying, Ms. Sloan?

Before something went wrong with Bianca's flash drive, Ms. Yanis brought everyone from the team and the representatives of Vivi Group to a dinner party. Out of the blue, you told everyone that you had a stomach ache. You told us that you had to go to the bathroom and asked us to leave first. You only showed up half an hour after we started our dinner. The next day, Bianca's flash drive was problematic. It's the same thing as what you did to Bianca now..."

Bianca remembered that time when the document she saved in the flash drive had suddenly disappeared without a trace.

When she was going through the files then, she happened to have kept the manuscript in the cabinet that was locked with a password. Her quick thinking had successfully resolved the issue back then.

Now that she thought about it, it was highly likely that Bella was behind it. What a horrible woman!

Since she joined the company, she had been plotting against her. Bianca had cold chills when she thought about it!

"It wasn't me, it really wasn't me..." Bella dared not look at others, and her pupils kept shifting about.

Luke's expression was the coldest. After all, he was the most insightful one of them all.

You're not worthy of my sympathy! It's impossible for me to forgive you! It's no use to keep begging me. The law is the law.
