

Be Honest! 111

Chapter 111 The Star Of The Show Arrives!

Everyone was in a state of confusion, thinking about this mystery deeply.

And soon, a strange thought finally dawned on Chen Hou.

"Wait! Elder brother, Jung. Previously, the Gia family wouldn't even allow us to treat the girl anywhere else but their Gia home. Then how come all of a sudden, they now took the liberty to bring the girl to us instead? So don't you find that strange enough?"

Instantly, everyone's eyes lit up even more.

Yes! This was not their typical style. And the excuse they have for the matter was indeed a good one.

But they, who could also swim deep in shallow waters, could spot the fact that the Gia family were making excuses instead.

Old Hou squinted his eyes calmly: "There's something in their estate they don't want us to see."

"Agreed, father. And I suspect that whatever they're hiding might be the real reason why the girl healed up so fast."

"Hmhm. Tonight, they'll be here. So you all know what to do."

"Yes!"

Everyone's blood boiled hard while thinking about it all.

No matter what, they could only probe the situation for now.

The girl's tests showed that everything was normal.

Generally, the doctors would ask how it happened.

And if the patient's family had no clue, it would be considered a medical miracle.

Clearly, the Gia family had taken advantage of this fact, knowing that the doctors couldn't pry out much information from their mouths.

The Gia family said they woke up and found her well just like that.

Sue them!

[Eye rolls]

The Hou family quickly rolled their eyes at their excuse because if it were another family, they would believe it as such.

But the Gia family treasured that little girl as if she was an angel amongst men.

So wouldn't they have a team constantly watching over that girl daily?

Their excuse was so annoying, but there was nothing they, as doctors, could do since the patient's family claimed not to know how she got healed.

What else could they do? Hold the Gia family at gunpoint and ask them about it all?

The girl had already been cured, so they had no business with the matter again.

And this was the annoying part of it all!

Heheheheheh!

It seemed like the Gia family knew this and chose this route of doing things.

Old Hou smiled bitterly because he knew that even if there was any mystery involved, they would only have to wait until the Gia family was ready to say anything.

For one, if they act rashly or send their men to stare at the Gia home, it could bring about anger and vigilance between both families.

Additionally, old Hou had a good relationship with old Gia. One could say that they were best friends growing up.

So he didn't want to strain or sabotage his relationship at the moment.

Thus, they could only prob while brainstorming in the matter too.

Sigh... At the end of the day, the girl's recovery was deemed a medical miracle.

Case closed!

As for why the Gia Family didn't want them to visit their main estate anymore, Old Hou decided to visit the estate for himself tomorrow or some other time during the week to see things for himself.

That is, what was hidden within their Gia estate?

~Pff...

If the Gia people knew what these people thought, they wouldn't know whether to laugh or cry.

That is, the reason why they didn't want anyone to step onto their mansion was because of the many bullet-ridden and deep trench files around the entrance zone.

You know, Dorian and the rest had performed their Fast and Furious moments there, destroying the entire front zone.

So the Gia family had to cover it up fast before recovering everything to its original appearance.

Additionally, the entire place had turned into a Sleeping beauty estate.

So the grass, vines and what it had completely overgrown and covered the entire place too.

The whole place looked haunted and as though people hadn't lived there for centuries.

Even within the buildings, dust, cobwebs, and all sorts of worms crawled around the place.

So how can they entertain anyone in their Gia estate?

They weren't afraid about word getting out because who would believe it?

One would at most be locked up in the Looney bin for thinking like that.

So you're saying that in a day, cobwebs, mould and all sorts of things attacked the Gia home, making it look haunted?

What was this, Sleeping Beauty?

People would roll their eyes in disbelief.

Of course, some influential people might think that this might've been the work of new bioweapons instead.

After all, who didn't know that the Gia home had access to many newly defined gadgets?

All in all, no one would think it supernatural.

And if any word went out, the Gia family would also hastily invite the press to their home to see that everything was back to normal.

This move alone would definitely squash the rumours like a bug.

Of course, for security reasons, they would prefer that no word went until they fixed their estate and returned it to normal.

That's the real reason why they didn't allow the Hou boy to treat their Gia girl in the estate.

Like so, the Hou family fell deep in mystery while also keeping a watchful eye on the other glass booths around them.

They were no doubt looking for the Gia family.

And as time went on, the Su family and the Tian family arrived.

Now, all that was left was the Bho, Ghu and The Gia family.

But little did they know that the real star of the show was finally pulling over at the scene.

Too bad, trouble always seemed to follow him everywhere eye went.

Standing opposite Dorian was his so-called ex-girlfriend and one of the young masters from the Su family.

The girl looked at him and sneered deeply.

What was this poverty-stricken rat doing here?

Chapter 112 A Natural Born Actress

Gorgeous. Stunning and vibrant.

These were the first few words that many could think of after soothing the breathtaking damsel in white.

Her entire outfit hugged her body perfectly, showing off her killer curves.

And that face that looked like that of an angel, was even more devastating by moonlight.

Her overly large white clear balls that seemed to light up like the stars in the sky, coupled with her white outfit, added to her overall presence, giving off a very clean look.

Yes. Many dared say that the little lady was a stunner that made countless youngsters turn their heads in defeat.

Too gorgeous.

Her delicate features gave off the impression that she was an angel that had descended from above.

And all the youngsters who were still walking into the venue alongside their parents or guardians, couldn't help giving the girl their undivided attention, as though she were a painting that had come to life, frozen in time.

The wealthy young ladies who spotted her, were immediately filled with rage, envy and jealousy after seeing her appearance, as well as seeing who she was accompanied by.

Vixen!

She was definitely a fox vixen!

(w)

The wealthy ladies all clenched their churches as hard as they could, wishing that they could shove the vixen away from Young master Ji Su, who was one of the most eligible youngsters from the Su family's direct line of descendants.

Dammit!

That was the Su family they were talking about... One of the big 6.

So how could they not get pissed off?

F!

Several women who had long planned to hook Young master Ji Su today, were very quick to show their disdain for the bch by his side.

That is, if she were one of the high class or wealthy ladies, then they wouldn't have been so angered right now.

But wasn't this sl was a pauper who went to school with several of them.

The funny thing was that they heard that young master Ji Su broke off his engagement with his long-time fiancée from a wealthy middle-class family, just because of this bch!

That's right.

Word on the street was that Young Master Ji Su's grandfather was somehow saved by the lady's family once. And they engaged both children from an early age.

But not too long ago, the bch caused Young master Ji Su to break off his relationship.

What was funny was that this all happened after the sl claimed to have been heartbroken by the former wealthy young master Dorian.

Additionally, some people also said that they spotted her with young master Ghu Sota and young master Bho Seng over the last few weeks.

So what was that all about?

Dammit!

The most annoying thing was that no matter how anyone warned the Young master's they claimed that the bch was innocent and was just friends with everyone else.

Do you know that over the last few weeks, this girl alone had caused a few people to break off their engagements?

And yet, these people still say she was innocent?

Whore!!

That's what she was.

And the more they looked at her, the more vexed they were in the end.

Why? Why did these wealthy young masters all go crazy for her?

Someone like her just wasn't worthy of young master Ji Su.

So why couldn't he see it?

Dorian? What was this rat doing here?

A trace of panic flashed through the lady's eyes after meeting Dorian out here like this.

Last time, Dorian spotted her when she was too intimate with young master Ghu Sota in the hospital.

Additionally, Young master Ghu had said she was his woman back then.

So if this bastard opened his mouth and told Ji Su what he saw, then wouldn't bet plans fail in the end?

She had planned to jump around as many young answers as she could in the guise of being friends.

She was always elusive in public, never acting too close and intimate unless she 'cried' or felt distressed.

Seeing Dorian here, she was afraid of what he would say.

Dammit! Dammit!

Why didn't this poor rat just die somewhere in a ditch already?

Her eyes stayed frozen in time for a bit, until her brain finally charged itself again.

~Pfff~~

What the hell was she panicking for?

Who would believe this loser over her?

She looked at him from head to toe as though looking at a street rat in the gutters.

But of course, all this was only briefly before she finally returned to her seemingly harmless look.

Angel.

The beautiful lady bit her lips pitifully: "Young master Dorian... I know it hurts for you to forget about me. But please, please try your hardest to do so, rather than chasing and stalking me all over the city so much. Last time I was sick, and you stalked me all the way to the hospital. Now, I'm here with Young master Ji Su, and you're doing the same thing again, which is breaking my heart completely." With that, she painfully gripped Ji Su's shirt as though she was experiencing all the pain in the world.

Ji Su and several other men stared at her, feeling so hurt and in pain just seeing her like this.

Bubuum! Bubuum!

Several people's hearts felt pierced the moment the breath-making lady tilted her head to the side, exposing her clear, beautiful face that now looked very distressed with grief.

But with such a high performance, how could the girl just let it go just like that?

Immediately, she painfully turned her head to face Dorian, with a face that looked like it was about to cry.

"It's over between us. So why are you making things hard for us both? I know you never loved me and only thought of having me as your perfect toy. But how could I allow myself to be your toy after all the love I had for you?" She soon choked on her words in pain before staring at Dorian with determination, as though she were a Phoenix emerging from rebirth.

"Young master Dorian... as a bigger person, I chose to walk away and not continue breaking my heart even further with you. So why? Why won't you let me go? What more do you want from me?!"

Chapter 113 Young Master Ji Su!

"Young master Dorian, what more do you want from me?!"

....

Several men stared at the lady with pity and admiration for being able to step out of the churches of the evil and wicked former Young Tian Master.

"I said it! This former master was definitely wicked to have ended up as a pauper now."

"Yes! Just look at how his parents landed in the hospital not long ago? Tsk! Even if someone targeted them, I'm sure they deserved it to have ended up in that situation. After all, the apple doesn't fall far from the tree. So wasn't this just retribution?"

"Hmmm. I've always heard that this young master Dorian was a weird one. But even amidst his weirdness, the young lady still looked past it all and decided to give him a chance, not knowing that he was just a despicable person who wanted her as a toy instead."

"Heh. Didn't you hear the little lady? She said he had been stalking her since he became a pauper. So does this mean that he still hasn't given up yet?"

"Tsk! So what if he hasn't? When he was rich, he wanted to use her as his perfect vase. But now that he's broke, he then values her? Shameless!"

Butler Sheng, Raulin and Zhulyn all had dark lines on their faces after listening to the crowd insult their Grandmaster.

Stalking her?

Excuse them, but which eyes did these people use to judge the fact that they were stalking this girl?

[eyeballs rolling]

Please! They had better things to worry about other than her, alright?

Dammit!

They were so mad that they were secretly thinking of how they had already K-O'd this girl in their minds.

Sadly, they couldn't do anything yet, since it wasn't in their place to say anything without orders

And so, all they could do was to act as pillars, standing motionlessly beside their Grandmaster.

At the same time, they also glanced at Dorian from time to time, wanting to see if he still liked or loved the lady before them.

Of course, Butler Sheng felt that Dorian shouldn't like the girl all that much.

And he too didn't like her as well, especially after seeing her last time in the hospital in young master Ghu Sota's arms.

He only hoped that the Grandmaster didn't have any feelings for the young lady because in the end, if the Grandmaster said that she was the one he wanted, then there was nothing they, as his subordinates, could do about the matter.

However, such a young lady would one day give the Grandmaster a green hat if she ever ended up the Grandmaster.

Just thinking about it gave Butler Sheng the shudder.

'Grandmaster, you won't be liking her anymore, right?...'

Xiao Feng briefly stared at her ex-boyfriend with undisguised disdain in her eyes.

And after just a few blinks, she was back to her white lotus appearance, looking at him pitifully instead.

And at this moment, those who were already smitten with her instantly felt as though even she had been bullied by Dorian, who by the way, hadn't said even a single word yet.

Ji Su was so angered that he almost didn't contain himself any longer: "You!... How dare you mistreat XiaoXiao? When you both were dating, I warned you severally to take care of her. So why did you mistreat her so much? Do you know that because of you, she's now so heartbroken that she can't bring herself to accept anyone yet? Apologize to XiaoXiao!... A scumbag like you should apologize for hurting her so deeply!" Ji Su said heroically, and Xiao Feng was once again behind him to continue her drama till the end.

"Ooow~~~ Jiji... Please, don't blame him. It's not his fault that I'm like this. Please, let's go. Just looking at him brings back painful memories."

"Nonsense!... Silly girl, you're too kind-hearted. Don't you know that people like this will never learn the more you let them go? What if he stalks you again after this?"

Ji Su looked at his goddess' convicted expression and felt that she was just too kind-hearted.

At the same time, he was a selfish person who wanted XiaoXiao for himself.

He knew that he had a lot of competitors who all wanted her heart. They, as well as himself, were just her friends for now.

Of course because of how heartbroken Dorian had left her, she would need time to heal up her injuries.

So if he did a good job now, then wouldn't she be touched?

Wouldn't he have a better chance of getting her in the end?

Ji Su pulled her even closer while staring at Dorian in disgust.

"Listen to me, XiaoXiao. If you take me as your friend, then you just let me handle things from here on out.

"But..."

"XiaoXiao, you no longer have to be afraid of him. So please... let me protect you this one time, okay?"

"Jiji..."

"XiaoXiao..."

[Dorian's men]: " _ "

Butler Sheng and the rest almost threw up while watching the duo stare at each other as though there were no other people around them.

'Can you guys wrap up your little drama quickly so that we can get in?'

The trio were very annoyed with the entire scene before them.

They, more than anyone, knew that the truth wasn't what the lady was trying to imply.

So what was all this?

It wasn't enough that she broke up with him, but now, she also decided to pour dirty water on their Grandmaster's name?

Despicable!

Dorian glanced at the duo with an expressionless face: "Are you all done?"

Ji Su and everyone who was waiting for Dorian's reaction were suddenly taken aback for a second.

They expected a stalker like him to lash out, get jealous, or even fight for XiaoXiao, distracting himself in the end.

But how come he didn't follow the fruit they had anticipated?

Xiao Feng's face turned distorted by Dorian's actions and words.

Was he implying that he was indeed over her?

She was the one who broke up with him, so what gives him the right to be over here so soon?

Impossible! With her beauty, how can anyone be over her just like that?

A person like him should be looking and begging on his knees for her to come back.

So what's with the attitude?

"Noisy."

Dorian dropped his comment and was just about to walk off with his men.

But how could Ji Su, who felt insulted, let him go?

"Bastard! Stop for me now! This is a private auction event tonight. So how can a pauper like you get a ticket? Quickly. Bring it out. Where is your ticket?... Heh? I didn't expect someone like you to stoop so low as to crash the event. Security, someone is trying to sneak in uninvited. Throw him out. Throw him out now!"

Chapter 114 An Evil Man!

"Security, someone is trying to sneak in uninvited. Throw him out. Throw him out now!"

Ji Su spoke majestically while raising his nose to the Gods and glancing at Dorian in disdain.

Of course, others around dared not side with Dorian, so they could only giggle and mock him for his current predicament.

Besides... Crashing an event uninvited? How tacky and desperate.

Several people sneered in disdain, looking at Dorian as though he was just a piece of garbage that had somehow managed to stroll its way into high society as though he now fitted in.

Heh. So what if he came with an expensive vehicle that his parents used?

Tsk! That should probably be the only wealth he had left, and he was holding onto it and deceiving himself into thinking that he was still part of high society.

~Pff!

What a desperate move.

Several women secretly swore to stay away from him.

And even the men, right down to Ji Su's guards, were very disgusted by his actions.

Gein Su, Ji Su's older brother by 2 years, glanced at Ji Su impatiently while also staring at his watch from time to time too.

"Ji... Wrap this up quickly. The family is already seated inside, waiting for us."

"Hehehehehe... Don't worry. Once the guards remove this piece of trash from my sight, then we can go in and join the rest." Ji Su spat out cruelly while giving Dorian a provocative smile.

And all this time, Xiao Feng was secretly happy in her heart.

'Hahahhahahaha! Bastard! Why weren't you acting tough before I, Xiao Feng? Just because I asked you out and eventually dated you previously, you dared to insult me so much? See this? This is what you get for daring to cross me. Tsk! Deserve it!'

Everyone gloated at Dorian's misfortunes, beating to watch the show of how he got thrown out.

And in a heartbeat, the guards had already arrived at the scene and surrounded Dorian like crazy.

What?!

Butler Sheng and the rest felt like hearts sink with rage when thinking of how much embarrassment these bastards were causing their Grandmaster.

They gritted their teeth in fury while getting ready to make a move on any of the guards, even so much as touching Dorian.

Dammit!

How dare they? How dare these people obstruct the Grandmaster's path?

Just who the hell did they think they were?

Boom!

A dangerous explosion went off in the trio's minds while listening to the comments from those around them.

Their bodies became unhinged and ferocious the more they glanced at the guards around them.

Like a snake staring at its prey, they were so ready to make their moves!

'Good. Good. Good...So you all want to play? You dare disturb our Grandmaster?'

,m Heh. Even though it wasn't long since they began training, their bodies were sturdier and more rigid than before.

So you best believe that whatever move they performed would be brutal to their mortal enemies... Especially when they were enraged.

But Ji Su, who only saw them outnumbered, was delighted by the turn of events before him.

'Oh, Dorian, Dorian, Dorian... For so long, I've been watching you date my goddess, even though I knew you couldn't care less about her. You dared to mistreat her. So didn't I say it? I swore that you would fall into my hands one day. And now that you have, how does it feel to be crushed by this young master?'

Ji Su licked his lips cruelly, almost not being able to contain the apparent glee on his face.

"Security! These men don't have tickets. They're too poor to afford them or get invited. So what I want you to do, is throw their sorry asses far, far away from here!"

"Don't worry, Young Master Su. We won't let people like this obstruct your eyes anymore," One of the guards answered before facing Dorian and his gang coldly: "Planning to crash a private auction without a ticket? Kid. You sure have guts! Men, hold him from and drag him out!"

"Yes, sir!" The guards replied, as though trying to impress Young master Ji Su and get into his good books.

As for the former Young master Dorian Tian who had now become a pauper, what benefits could he bring to them?

Offending Young master Su for him was a stupid move that could not only make them more their home in the end but might make it hard for them to find other his after this.

'Kid. Don't blame us. You can only and yourself for daring to offend Young master Su tonight.'

Woosh!

Like lightning, all 12 men reached to grab Dorian and his gang amidst the gloating eyes of everyone present.

And at this moment, time seemed frozen in place, as everything seemed to be happening in slow motion instead, with everyone having several thoughts of their own.

[Xaio Feng]: 'Trash like you doesn't deserve to be one of us. And you being born into wealth was already a mistake on its own. So now that you've been kicked down to where you truly belong, just stay there and get the hell away from my sight!

[Ji Su]: 'Yes! Do it! Do it! Throw this bastard out!'

[Dorian's men]: 'Grandmaster, what are your orders?'

Tick-Tock. Tick-Tock... Freeze.

To many, time wasn't moving at all.

It stayed completely paralyzed, as though it was taking an entire century to thaw out.

And while several people felt this, something else was growing that almost choked them whole.

That's right.

A disastrous extension kept growing, as though they were all watching a live horror movie instead.

And at this moment, even Ji Su, Gein Su and the many Su guards could feel a cold shower go up to his spine too.

What the hell?

It was as though something terrifying was staring straight at them.

Terrible. Terrible.

Everyone glanced at Dorian, feeling immediate danger emitting from him.

This... This... This...

This was evil! Too evil!

Chapter 115 His Inverse Scale

~Gulp!

Many swallowed hard and took one or even 4 steps back, daring not to meet his eyes at all.

Strange. Tonight was a hot summer one, with stagnant hot air blowing around.

But now, why did they feel as though they were in the pique of winter instead?

Shiver. Shiver. Shiver.

Hello? Could anyone tell them what was going on here?

With opened eyes and widened mouths of dread, the guards felt the colour from their faces drain in dread.

Move! Move! Why won't their legs or hands move further?

Evil. Too evil!

They suddenly realized a disconnect in transmission, with their bodies not receiving any signals from their brains.

Or else, how could they tell their bodies to move and it didn't?

All Doran did was smile. But why was it that starting at his smile, they seemed to have seen the very spawn of evil from it?

Mommy... Why was this kid so scary?

(:Y0Y:)

The guards were now feeling very embarrassed.

But soon enough, a voice echoed out that brought everyone back to reality.

"What's going on here?"

Who?

Instantly, everyone turned towards the owner of the voice, only to see a well endowed, balloon-like chubby man, accompanied by family, stepping closer to the scene.

The man wore all sorts of rings and jewelry on his body, and his wife and children also looked overly flashy, like colourful peacocks.

But even though everyone felt that their outfits were too mismatched and out of order, no one still dared to say anything about it all.

Yes! They mismatched their clothes, but do you know how much each item they wore cost?

Not to mention that they were still part of the big 6.

So who would dare say anything?

The chubby man, who couldn't even see his toes due to his big belly, only walked forward with a warm smile on his face.

And the moment he spotted Dorian, a hint of cruelty flashed through his eyes for just a bit before vanishing.

The chubby fellow and his colourful peacock family all walked towards the scene as though they were the monarchs of the place.

"Ah... Young master Ji Su, young master Gein Su, you're all here. Oh? And my Nephew as well?" The chubby Wei Kwo said while staring between Dorian and the Su's in 'confusion.'

Hey. But that's the thing, how could he be confused?

Even a blind person could feel the tension amongst the 2 and would know where to stand.

So how could Wei Kwo be confused?

Hehehhehehe!

Wei Kwo was Dorian's uncle.

That's right. He was the culprit that put his sister and her husband in a coma.

No, he wasn't a Tian... but was now the head of the Tian group, thanks to some 'instructions' left by Dorian's patents, if anything should ever happen to them.

Dorian's father was an orphan who made his wealth single-handedly.

So to the rest of the world, it would only make sense that Dorian's uncle would continue taking care of the business until Dorian came of age, no?

Tch!

Seeing this worthless nephew offend the Su young masters, how could he, Wei Kwo, not be pleased?

Yes! Yes! This was exactly what he wanted, even though his expression seemed as though he cared for Dorian now.

"Young Su masters... What seems to be the problem? Don't worry, young masters; I'll get this troublesome nephew of mine to apologize to you right this instant. Come, nephew! Kowtow and admit your mistakes now!"

On listening to Wei Kwo, Ji Su couldn't help smirking arrogantly.

As expected. Just as his family had predicted, this Wei Kwo was secretly against Dorian.

A doesn't this all work in his favour?

"Cousin, my dad, is trying to help you, so why are you so troublesome?"

"That's right. Have you ever thought of what would happen to the Tian group if you offend big giants like the Su's?"

"Child. Just kowtow and admit your mistakes, alright? Sure it might not seem very pleasant now. But for the first time in your life, why did you try thinking of others for a change? Do you know what will happen to the employees and those who have to bear the consequences of your actions if our Tian group is attacked?"

"Cousin... If you wanted to attend tonight's auction, why didn't you just tell us? Now, look at it? Just look at how you've embarrassed yourself just because you wanted to gate-crash the event?... Cousin, uncle and aunty would be so disappointed with you."

...

With pompous expressions filled with pity, disappointment and arrogance, Wei Kwo's wife and children began adding the flames to the fire.

And quite frankly, Dorian had enough of all this noise around him.

Honestly, would it kill these morons to shut up?

Like flies buzzing around his ears, they were really starting to get on his nerves.

And finally, his expressionless look changed to that of annoyance.

But those who saw him like this thought he was having an internal struggle with himself, finally coming to terms with the fact that he was asked to kowtow and admit his mistakes.

Wei Kwo smirked playfully: "Nephew, it's not that I'm against you, but if you don't kowtow now, then how will we be able to make enough money to take care of my sister and her husband? You don't really want them to stay that way till the end, do you?"

Swish!

Dorian quickly turned his head towards Wei Kwo dangerously: "Are you threatening me?"

Wei Kwo couldn't help shaking in a moment of fear when his eyes locked on Dorian's.

Immediate sweat poured out of his chubby body, making him stare at Dorian in disbelief

What? He was actually frightened by a desperate, weak chicken?

Impossible!

Very quickly, he gritted his teeth and forced himself to calm down.

Yes. He was now the head of the Tian group and the real person in control with all the power in his hands, so what could a weak chicken do to him?

Dorian squinted his eyes murderously.

You know, since coming into this world and absorbing the original owner's feelings, it would be a lie if Dorian said that he didn't care about his parents lying on the hospital bed.

He didn't know how to explain it, but he felt as though they were his parents as well.

And what was even more bizarre to him was that he also discovered that he had this side of him too

He wasn't an emotional person by nature

But he found that his parents in this world seemed to be his real inverse scale.

So to threaten him with his parents could only mean that someone had a death wish on their hands!

Hahahhahahahah!

Good. Good. Good...

It's been a long time since someone made him this angry.

So how can he disappoint them?
