

Be Honest! 19

Chapter 19 Trust Issues

~Bubuum. Bubuum. Bubuum.

Everyone's heart drummed loudly in their ears.

They punched and punched frantically, as a cold wave of air quickly embedded their bodies.

But no matter what they did, they understood one crucial fact.

They were trapped!

They looked at the invisible wall with only tears and regret in their eyes.

Why? Why did they come out tonight?

They didn't even ask how this was possible.

No. The existence of demons had already shattered their entire worldview.

So how shocking would an invisible wall be to them?

Sure. It was surprising, but their survival instincts had pushed that surprise factor down tremendously.

Right now, they realized that being imprisoned here on this open field was enough to make many wet themselves silly.

They felt like monkeys in a zoo cage.

And as if this wasn't enough, on the other side of the wall, several reddish glowing eyes suddenly revealed themselves in the thick woods, causing everyone banging the wall to tremble and take several steps back.

What were those?

,m Everyone watched as the many reddish glowing eyes got closer and closer, in turn making them take several steps further and further away from the wall.

Now, no dared to think about going into the woods again.

Those big glowing eyes told them all they needed to know about their surroundings.

But even at that, they were still unwilling to die.

F***!

What do they do now?

~Plop.

Even more people dropped to the ground beating the soil, cursing, wailing or praying with all their might.

Some even started speaking incoherently, as if speaking in Tongues.

Where were the f***ing angels when you needed one?

'Come out now and save us!!'

Everyone was in a state of despair, but this was just the beginning.

"Hahahhhahahaha!

I love this!" Lady Katrina exclaimed, calling everyone's attention back to them.

-silence-

Everyone instantly froze in horror.

Even those crying or making a scene dared not make any noise at all.

Their hearts speeded up as all the colour from their faces drained uncontrollably.

And without any orders, many had already found themselves on their knees, placing their hands on the ground and their foreheads to their hands, shivering and bowing as much as they could to these beings of destruction.

Of course, they dared not look at these monsters at all!

Apart from being scared, the appearances of these creatures made them feel like throwing up.

And to make it any worse, there was also a very foul, pungent smell oozing from the direction of these demons too.

~Bluh!

Many puked nonstop while shivering in disgust.

Now, because of these demons, even if they left this place, they would definitely have trust issues!

No! they might never look at beautiful women the same again.

How does that lady in red earlier on go from the most beautiful woman in the world to this?

The beautiful Lady Katrina that caused their mouths to previously water with lust, had now turned into something that they couldn't describe alone by words.

All they knew was that she had long dirty fangs, a rotting face with maggots swimming in it, and very long, crumbled-looking wings that were a mix of brown, black and another colour they weren't too sure of.

Her feet grew 3 times longer, and her toes merged into big wolf-like 2 toes.

And her hair was now floating in the air in clunks, acting like individual whips, ready to lash out.

She had grown into a giant and had ripped out of her clothes, so they could see everything.

But it wasn't a pretty sight.

She hunched down, using her legs and hands to crawl creepily.

And since she had grown 3 times their size, her crawling was at their standing level.

So she was still at the same face level with them when standing.

Nonetheless, her demonic body looked shrivelled, saggy and skinny, with her previously perky bosoms now looking as flat as a long pair of slippers.

They dangled around, shooting worms on the ground, as they shook with her every swaying move.

Oh, and did they also mention that apart from her dirty-looking fangs, the rest of her teeth were also sharp and black as well?

God!

The thought of her rotting body and the numerous maggots they saw made them utterly disgusted!

And this was just from taking a single glance at her.

Yes. They were sure that there were a lot of details they missed.

In fact, they had only seen a fraction of Katrina's real look because even at this moment, the more fear she absorbed, the closer she was to how her real body looked in the underworld.

This was nothing compared to the true essence of her demonic body.

Heh. Her tail hadn't even grown yet and they were this scared?

Pathetic!

Everyone had already gotten at least one peak of the gigantic demons before them, who all had different looks altogether.

Some were fat and plum, while others were so skinny like bones but taller than the rest instead.

Another somehow grew 2 other heads while that granny from earlier on transformed alongside her cane, becoming a demon with insect hands.

Each one was uglier than the other.

And now, they understood why that Old man from earlier on had come with a robe.

Since the clothes were going to rip off, then why bother?

All these details here and there made them realize that these people had been prepared for them from the get-go.

So at this moment, they were at the mercy of these monsters.

Many trembled and bowed on the ground, while only a handful of people still stayed standing.

Katrina looked at those still up with a hint of amazement in her eyes.

It would've been good if they could get complete fear out of these people... especially the one who gave off no fear whatsoever amongst them.

Damn. Getting his fear would be fulfilling.

As demons, they feed off fear. So the more one resisted, the better the quality of fear extracted in the end.

Just thinking about it made her drool uncontrollably.

Sigh... It's a shame the show was over.

After all, they had to wrap this up before the Damn 'Heavenly Hour' began.

Once it began, it would be too late to make their move.

No! They had to make a move fast!

With that, They stamped their hands on the ground with a loud bang while whispering something unknown.

~Spsspsspsspspa~

Soon, the fog, as if listening to their words, started moving like crazy!

And what everyone saw made their bodies go limb in horror.

But before they had time to react to what they saw beneath the fog, the ground suddenly shook.

~Rumble. Rumble. Rumble.~

The ground shook, and several people hugged each other in tears.

They knew it.

Their Doomsday had arrived.
