

Be Yours 1081

Chapter 1081 Standing Up

After Gilbert left, Marigold remained there. There was a warm sensation on the back of her hand, and when she lowered her head to look, she realized that it was her own tears.

"Why are you crying? What's there to cry about?" she muttered to herself, wiping away the tears at the corner of her eyes and putting on a smile.

Aside from her child, there was nothing in the world that deserved her attention and energy. She lowered her head and caressed her stomach. "My child, from now on, you will be my rock."

She was already looking forward to the birth of her child. Even if she encountered many criticisms in the future, she would not be shaken.

When Alec returned home from work, he was surprised to see Howard waiting for him at his door.

"Mr. Faust, Evan would like to see you."

at Evan's house and frowned. "Must I visit him just because he wants to see me? Who does didn't stop him from leaving. He merely said, "Evan said that if you want him he have suddenly had a change of heart and wanted Dr.

sure, but he had to take the see anyone in the living room. "Where is everyone?" He eyed the study," Howard replied, leading Alec

he still followed him. He had to find out what Evan was up to. If he really wanted the door of the study and announced, "Mr. Faust go out first,"

left, closing the door

sitting in a wheelchair not far away. In an unfriendly tone, he why I refused to let Dr. Gaarder check my injuries? " Evan flashed a smile that

Chapter 1082 Don't Even Dream About It

To Alec's surprise, Evan began to resist as soon as they left the room, which was strange because he didn't try to resist him in the study.

"Alec, do you think I will go to the hospital with you? Don't even dream about it," Evan said with a cold sneer before lying down in the corridor.

Despite that, Alec was determined to drag him to the hospital. He wanted to see how Evan could spin another lie when Jenny was informed of his lack of injuries. However, Evan refused to stand up, so Alec pulled him up and dragged him downstairs.

Since Evan couldn't beat him, he had to bring him to the hospital no matter what he said.

After struggling to drag the person to the stairs, when Alec was about to continue dragging him down, Evan suddenly laughed.

him across the floor. Puzzled, he commented, "You really are something else. How can you manage to laugh in this you here?" Evan looked at him calmly, without any but he couldn't figure out what it was. Hence, he didn't dwell on it too long. "No matter what you're up to, you must go to the hospital with me today!" he said and grabbed his hand, asking, "Alec, what would Jenny think of you if warning. Due to the pain, Alec instinctively released Evan, which sent the man falling was, Evan could have stood without Alec's help. However, he chose not to, planning to fall down the before Alec. "Boss!" he cried out, eyes red with tears. He ran over to pick Evan up, stopped them. "No one is taking him away wouldn't yield. He had to bring Evan to the hospital for a full body checkup. There was no way he would

Chapter 1083 All That Trouble

Jenny hurried toward Howard and looked at the unconscious Evan.

Confused, she asked, "What happened to Evan?" "Alec pushed him from the top of the stairs!" Howard answered, looking at Alec directly.

Alec was exasperated but managed to speak before Jenny could say anything. "I'm taking him to the hospital."

"No thanks! I don't trust you," Howard said, refusing his offer. Turning to Jenny, he asked, "Miss Walter, can you please take us to the hospital?"

"What are you waiting for? Let's go!" Jenny answered anxiously. Evan was already unconscious, yet they were busy arguing.

out of the villa, and Alec followed behind them. "Which hospital are course! It's the closest hospital." After all, Jenny struck him. "No! Let's go to to another hospital. They had their people stationed at Bardoff Hospital. Hence, Evan had to be sent open the car door.

at Jenny, Alec wanted to tell her how Evan had orchestrated everything, Howard and Evan away, leaving Alec behind. He was angry but had no way of venting his frustration.

"Evan! You really succeed. With that thought in mind, Alec left. He didn't forget that he still had Evan's man hospital, Evan was sent to the emergency room, where Jenny and

Chapter 1084 He Planned Everything

An hour later, the lights in the emergency room turned off, and a doctor walked out of the room.

"The patient's life is not in danger, but the condition of his lower limbs is more severe than before," the doctor announced solemnly.

Upon hearing that, Jenny felt uneasy. "Is there still a chance for recovery?" she asked.

Glancing at her, the doctor didn't give a clear answer. "It's hard to say. It's not very likely right now, but it's not impossible. Miracles can happen in this world."

Jenny didn't ask further, knowing the possibility of a miracle happening was slim.

ward and woke up shortly after. When he saw

Evan would have been able to resist Alec. If it weren't for her, Alec wouldn't have deliberately made things difficult wanted to reach out and touch Jenny's head, but he couldn't lift his hand due to the effects of the anesthesia. Although his injury was fake, he did sustain some injuries from falling have to apologize." Evan smiled and shook his head, not wanting Jenny to blame herself too

Jenny found out the truth one day, how would she Jenny so badly that he continued with his plan despite of Evan. It wasn't until dawn the next day soon as she arrived, she saw

Alec was not evil. Nonetheless, she couldn't forgive him for what he did to Evan. No matter his reasons, he shouldn't have pushed her eyes hurt him. He didn't fear nor care for Evan's schemes. All he was concerned about was Chapter 1085 What Did He Give You?

"Alec, I know maybe you didn't mean to, but it doesn't change what happened. You haven't even asked about Evan's condition once. Aren't you too heartless?" Jenny asked, casting him a look heavy with disappointment.

Alec hesitated. Jenny's disappointed gaze delivered a blow to his heart.

"Jenny, since I know his injury is fake, why would I bother asking about his condition? Nothing will happen to him."

Jenny walked away and entered Evan's house. She didn't want to talk to Alec anymore; she just wanted to calm down.

"Jenny, I'm telling the truth. Evan's leg injury is fake. He can even stand up like normal," Alec said, trailing behind her. He had to convince Jenny to bring Evan to another hospital for an examination.

"Enough!" Jenny shouted. "I've seen the surveillance footage. You dragged Evan out of the room. Even if his injury is fake, must you pick on and bully him?"

had been completely defenseless before Alec, she couldn't find any other word to to Evan. The man knew Jenny too well, and he had calculated his every move, leaving Alec completely defenseless to his schemes. But he wouldn't give up. He looked at Jenny with a firm gaze. "Jenny, I know you don't believe me now, but I won't give up

With that, he left.

She wanted to believe him, but the facts were right

After taking a had promised, Alec didn't give up. After taking over the Faust family, his power grew, and investigating who kidnapped Jenny in the dungeon. It was his first time interrogating Evan give you that you would risk your life for him?" The man had been looking down, but when he heard Evan's name,

I don't know treats you well, doesn't he?" Alec completely disregarded his reply, steering

Chapter 1086 Get Rid of Him

Unexpectedly, despite Alec's thorough investigation of the doctor's background, he found nothing. Did the doctor help Evan for free? No way.

Alec frowned as his temples throbbed. "Continue to investigate. Since his finances are fine, then investigate the people around him. I don't believe he didn't take a penny from Evan."

"Okay," Vincent responded. He could tell that Alec was irritated.

He placed the lunch on Alec's desk, cautiously saying, "Have a meal first, sir. You will have stomach pains if you don't eat on time."

Alec waved his hand, disinterested.

"Mr. Faust, even if you don't care about yourself, you should think about Miss Walter. You promised her to take good care of yourself," Vincent said, having no choice but to mention Jenny.

he perked up slightly. However, as soon as he remembered what had happened yesterday, his mood turned sour again. "She she will naturally come back." Vincent knew the whole story and had complete faith in their president. However, he also knew that from Jenny's say anything unless they because he agreed with Vincent's reasoning, Alec finally

"Go do your job."

breathed a sigh of relief. It seemed that his words were

Evan, Howard walked into the man's ward and is he?" Evan's eyes

Alec's hands, and he's still being held news for Evan. "Find a way to get rid of him," he you mean?" Howard could hardly us, who

Chapter 1087 Don't Want You to Be Unhappy

"I've been investigating Dr. Gaarder's whereabouts these past few days, and I've found out where he is now," Howard suddenly said.

The news caused Jenny's eyes to light up. "Have you really found him?" She couldn't believe it and looked at Howard in disbelief.

"Yes, he's abroad and has no plan on coming here again," Howard said. After all, he had just left the country, so it was understandable that he didn't want to return.

Jenny thought the same way and said, "Have you contacted him? Is he willing to treat Evan?"

Dr. Gaarder was internationally renowned and had previously been rejected by Evan, so it was likely that he would reject them this time.

"Dr. Gaarder is willing to do it, but on the condition that we go to his hospital abroad for treatment," Howard said.

said, "Then let's will you come with me?" Evan

I promised to take care

she wanted Evan to my medical records and said that even if I go for treatment, I won't recover in a short time, which means we'll have to stay abroad for a long time. Are you it was a short period, he wouldn't worry so much, but for a stay, her expression shifted. She had grown up here, and her career and family were also here; hence, she was afraid of the prospect

'It's okay, Jenny. If you don't want to go, we won't go. Actually, I think it's fine the way only

'I can't be so selfish. This is Jenny's home, so

Howard pouted, very unhappy.

there? I will visit you

Chapter 1088 More Evidence

Jenny didn't return to Evan's house when she left the hospital. Instead, she went to Walker Inc to look for Stephanie.

Now, Stephanie was the general manager of Walker Inc, and although the Walkers were not yet well-known in Bardoff City, they were moving up in ranks each day.

Looking at Stephanie, all dressed up and proper in her blazer, she exuded the air of a successful woman.

"Stephanie, you are really amazing." Never had Jenny expected that there would be a day that Stephanie would become like this.

Fate was unpredictable in many ways.

For instance, Jenny became a daughter of the Walter family, and after finally handing the reins of the company to a reliable management team, she thought she could be free from then on. However, at that moment, she felt that she had lost her freedom completely.

ignore everything. Evan was her savior, so she couldn't just sit back and do a good mood." Stephanie poured her a cup of coffee and sat down beside

She came to find Stephanie just to voice her frustration. She told Stephanie everything like him, then it's different. You have been taking care of him, but if you still follow him abroad, your relationship with Alec there's a limit to things we can promise others. You should think about yourself. Don't only think about couldn't bring herself

I don't go, Evan won't go, and he will be ruined for life." Although there was no guarantee that Dr. Gaarder could cure Evan, at least there was a chance.

to do that, the consequences are his responsibility, not yours." Stephanie didn't upon realizing that, Stephanie suggested," C'mon, let's

Jenny nodded in agreement, realizing that thinking like that would not of them walked out of room at a bar, with Paul sitting opposite him. Both of them were not in a good

Chapter 1089 Goodbye

Alec and Paul didn't drink for long and soon left the bar. Alec went back early and waited for news. He had already sent out the message, and Evan would definitely take action. With such a huge bargaining chip in Alec's hands, Evan wouldn't sit still.

Night fell, and Trey Ulmer crouched in a corner. It was pitch black all around, and he was filled with despair. It had been a long time since he was caught, and he could no longer distinguish between day and night.

Even so, he still clenched his teeth and refused to expose Evan—he believed in his boss. He was confident that he would come to save him. It was this trust that kept him going until now. Otherwise, when he was being tortured by Blake before, he would have collapsed long ago.

Footsteps echoed in the darkness, and Trey immediately became alert." Alec! What are you doing here? I told you, I won't say anything.' Even though he had not seen the person yet, Trey guessed it was Alec. After all, this was the man's territory, and he was eager to get his confession.

However, the person merely walked closer until he reached the cell. Under the moonlight, Trey saw a person clad in black with a mask and a hat, and he couldn't tell who it was.

"Who are you?' Trey asked directly, feeling uneasy.

too much commotion. The person said, "Don't make a sound. I'm here to save didn't reveal his identity, Trey recognized his voice immediately. His eyes filled with tears in an instant. Evan had sent someone made him unable to look directly at you've suffered a is fine, I'm willing to endure any hardship," Trey said, elated. He hadn't been abandoned, which meant a lot looked at him. "Go quickly, and walked ahead. He didn't want to stay there for his gun

a loud bang, a bullet was fired at him, but Trey was shocked. If he hadn't reacted in the corner. "Trey, I have no

Chapter 1090 The Confession

However, Howard was not taken out so easily. With his quick reflexes, he picked up his gun and ran away. Although he also shot at Trey a few times before leaving, he couldn't be sure if he hit him or not.

All he knew was that he had to leave. If he fell into Alec's hands, everything would be over, so he fled.

Alec didn't go after him, as Howard was not his target, to begin with. With a click, the dungeon lights were turned on, and Alec saw Trey hiding in the corner. He had been shot in the thigh, but it wasn't a big deal.

He walked over to him. "So, do you still believe that your boss will come to save you?"

Trey remained silent. He was still processing a mental breakdown and had no mood for conversation.

Nonetheless, Alec didn't have anytime to waste. "Even now, you still won't confess?"

won't say anything." Although Trey had lost all hope for Evan, he be so stubborn. It was annoying that deception that Evan had played on Jenny and him. "You also have a wife and daughter," he finally said.

"Have you ever

After hearing Alec explain the whole thing, he laughed and said, "No wonder he did such and his colleagues didn't understand Evan's behavior. Although they didn't question him, they found his actions

Finally, he found it

did it to save the person I love, do you as he confessed to everything. Alec made sure to record it so he wasn't afraid of Trey retracting his statement. However, he still wanted Jenny to hear it with her here later. Can you tell her what stunned silence, Trey nodded.