

Be Yours 1191

Chapter 1191 You're Pretty Ruthless

Pete chuckled after Lynette fled to her room. He never bothered to mask his distaste for her, a fact that he made known ever since she joined the family.

"What exactly are you up to?" Eric fixed his eyes on his son in an attempt to read him. Alas, he realized belatedly that Pete, the son whom he had neglected, had grown into an unreadable young man.

Pete sat on the couch and said casually, "What else can I do? I just want to make her suffer."

"And you find that interesting?" Eric never bothered to explain the reason behind the divorce to Pete. He was too lazy to lay it out, even though everyone was clear about the reason. Instead, he sat back and watched as Pete released his anger on Lynette.

chuckled again. "Of course.

Whatever.' Eric couldn't care less about what Pete had in store for Jenny. In his eyes, she was no different than a dead woman. However, he cautioned, up his eyes, thinking, "Well, who knows? You might be the one playing into her hypocrisy without mercy and left the mansion. He made the visit to get the confirmation he needed, and he appeared to have with her, and she was glad to hear that. Her plan was simple—the first step was to get Lynette no fool. He learned Lynette was a bargaining chip, and she'd be equally effective under Eric's captivity. However, if Jenny succeeded in leaving with Lynette, she could walk

I bring Lynette with me, their marriage is still valid, and Eric can take her back anytime. You should plan to make Eric agree to a divorce?" Pete laughed,

Chapter 1192 What Are You Afraid Of?

After hearing Jenny's plan, Pete sank into a long and thoughtful silence. Feeling unsure, he asked her, "Are you confident he'd follow you to Bardoff City? He's not dumb. He sure knows the huge risk in going there."

"He will come after me. A man as possessive and arrogant as him will do so." She was sure about it. Although she didn't interact much with Eric, she had met countless men just like him. Wasn't Paul Wagner one of them? Eric was even worse than Paul. Therefore, she was sure he'd come after them once they brought Lynette to Bardoff City. He would not stop until he captured her and brought her back to Bayside City.

Surprisingly, Pete didn't refute it, for he knew Eric well, and his father was exactly like how Jenny described him.

"Even if he follows you to Bardoff City, are you confident in sending him to jail? Are you sure you have evidence against him?" As a Dafoe, he knew that his family was not the most law-abiding, but he didn't have any proof of the shady dealings. Plus, he'd never act in a way that hurt his family.

look into the Dafoes, I'm sure Eric

Jenny would ask the list of those who died in his

to eye, but he you afraid?" She scoffed at him. "What are you afraid of? Are you be rebellious in front of finger on you because you're his son. Just shift

he bit the bullet. "Okay!

he failed, so why not give it a try? If he won, he wouldn't have to live under Eric's thumb, a freedom he

Chapter 1193 I Only Ask For One Thing

Despite Alec's assurance, Jenny wasn't totally relieved. She'd rather be safe than sorry and didn't want to see anyone around her hurt.

After a few days of peace, Eric had to leave Bayside City for a business trip. Jenny thought his absence would be a good opportunity for them.

However, Eric was no fool. As Jenny and Graham were still in Bayside City, he knew they hadn't given up on rescuing Lynette. Therefore, he would be worried about leaving Lynette behind.

"Pack your stuff and join me on a business trip tomorrow," he informed her.

look on her face quickly changed into confusion. "This is the first time in many years you have wanted me to join you on with her through his words or actions. One couldn't tell his affection for Lynette judging from his behavior.

to let me leave Bayside City because it's your territory, and no one could stir trouble here. Now, you're choosing to bring me with made a lot of enemies, but no one could touch a hair on his head when he was in Bayside City. However, things would look very different if they left the city. One of the reasons he refused to let her leave was me," he remarked. It was a statement, not a dangerous to be around you. I would

You always look like you're tired of living.

she had lost the will to live before meeting Graham and Jenny in person. After seeing them, she suddenly believed he grabbed her chin and forced her to look at him. "Lynette Bell, are you still hoping for that good-for-nothing, Graham Walter,

Chapter 1194 I Need to See Her

Pete was silent with a somber look on his face. Eric might think he was considering the task, but Pete was actually panicking. He wondered, "What's wrong? Why did he suddenly involve me in the family affairs? Did he find out about something?"

"You have an army under you. Why do you want me to watch over her?" Pete put on an annoyed look, showing his displeasure about Lynette.

"You're my son, and you will take over the family one day. It's time to get you to work. This is a new challenge for you," Eric explained. Truth be told, he didn't trust Lynette with anyone other than his family. After some debate, he only had one choice-Pete.

Pete was silently smirking at his father's excuse. He would have trusted Eric had he not known about his father's bastard children. Too bad he was in the know. Therefore, he would not trust Eric's promise of handing him control of the family.

Still, he didn't call him out. "You knew that Jenny Walter is after Lynette. If you leave, they will make a move."

can't hurriedly denied. 'I'm only worried that men we lost, I won't blame you as long as you keep Lynette safe." Eric wouldn't have left Bayside City at this critical moment had that.

be trying your best. Give it was silently mocking called Jenny. "You're in luck. Eric is leaving Bayside City tomorrow, and he wants me to keep a reason for leaving Bayside City at this time.' She smiled. She never him leave?" Pete guessed her plan right away.

Chapter 1195 Hope He Doesn't Disappoint Me

The next day, Eric left Bayside City in his private jet. Even after making the arrangements, he was plagued by anxiety. He had a hunch that something bad would happen.

"Sir, you look worried." His subordinate was concerned after noticing the frown on Eric's face.

Eric collected himself and asked coolly, "Do you think Pete is any good?"

"Mr. Pete might look unreliable, but I think he deliberately puts on that front. He's still pretty capable," the subordinate answered.

"Is that so?" Eric stared out of the window. "Hope he doesn't disappoint me. " He had a few children out of wedlock, but he had no plan to make any of them the family heir, at least for now.

Pete if the kid looked promising. However, he wouldn't Eric left. He was busy strengthening the security at not come. If they show up, I promise not to let them leave alive," chance for Jenny to make a move, but Eric might have foreseen the plan. He wouldn't allow her to be thought, "Jenny, I'd rather you and your dad leave than put yourselves in jumped up from the

to the second floor and pointed a gun at Lynette's speak up. Before Eric left, he had instructed them to take orders from Pete. When they left the mansion to take on Jenny's men, he let go of Lynette and smirked. "You should thank what are you doing?" Lynette was no fool. She sensed that Pete was acting rather unusually,

Chapter 1196 I'll Take Care of Everything

"Is everything settled?" Pete sounded uncertain.

Jenny nodded and turned her attention to Lynette. "Let's go. There's no time to waste. I'm worried that Eric Dafoe has something else in store for us."

"Right, right. Leave now!" Pete was equally concerned. "But what do I do if you leave me behind?"

He was the only one standing after everyone else was taken down by Jenny's forces. Not only that, Lynette was gone. Wouldn't he be in hot water?

up at the door, and Pete's jaw promptly fell to the floor. His gaze traveled between Lynette and the other woman.

that everyone was taken down, but you forced us to leave by pointing a gun at her head. As for how long you can go without Eric finding out about the fake Lynette, it's all your luck,' Jenny explained. She had made all the necessary arrangements for Pete.

his time at the mansion daily, it'd be hard for him to spot the down his spine. "Do you take my father as came home because she couldn't part with the luxurious life. That's why she refused to go with us. And tell him that you never thought she first one. "Okay then. You should could stall Eric for long with the fake

Chapter 1197 She's Probably in Shock

Jenny left with Lynette and her men. Pete went up to the fake Lynette and asked, "What's your name?" "Lynette Bell," the woman answered in a tone and mannerisms that resembled Lynette.

Pete thought that was a non-answer, but at least she was immersed in her role. "Okay. Go to bed and rest. If Eric Dafoe comes home, try not to talk to him too much." He believed that sleeping was the best course of action. The lookalike might fumble if she talked to Eric.

The woman agreed and lay down in bed. After that, Pete exited the room and was greeted by the sight of other men. They were not stationed at the mansion but rushed over after getting the news of the attack.

"Mr. Pete, what happened?" they asked.

"The Walters charged at us and killed many of our brothers. It's despicable!" He gritted his teeth with acting that deserved an Oscar award.

"How merciless! We'll go after them!"

Pete. 'It's fine. They have been gone for a while. I bet we objected to his suggestion. "So, my father not to worry. She's still here," Pete soon realized that the losses were not as huge as previously assumed. Most of the men were no time, Pete got a call from an enraged Eric, who barked, predicted, Jenny Walter

priority was to keep his wife safe, and he couldn't Jenny at first, but for some reason, she came back. I reckon she probably couldn't bear to part with our family wealth. She's not as virtuous as she seems, you know." Pete still sounded

say she was taken earlier

"Yeah."

seeing Lynette with his eyes. He always assumed that Lynette would

Chapter 1198 I Am Too Impatient

Finally, Eric was convinced to return after he was done with his business trip. Still worried, he wanted Pete to report to him daily about Lynette. Pete readily agreed to the request because it would be hard for Eric to spot the fake Lynette through phone calls.

At the same time, Jenny and her entourage had boarded a private jet to Bardoff with a heavily disguised Lynette. There, she met Graham again. He had been staring eagerly at the entrance. When she showed up, he headed to her without hesitation.

"Nettie."

"Graham." She bit her lips as she felt a wave of emotions washing over her.

Jenny glanced at them and interrupted at a rather bad timing, "Take your seats now. We're taking off soon. You'll have plenty of time to chat later." Lynette and Graham looked sheepish. They had forgotten about the existence of other people on the plane out of excitement.

Bayside City, which looked tinier from the air. Suddenly, she was immersed in the sweet taste okay?" Graham was worried about her because she looked at him. "I'm fine. I've never been this fine captive in this life, but she finally had the chance to leave. She might have cloud nine, but she has hated me forever." Lynette was caught off guard when Pete offered his

"He's not helping me. He's

There was nothing to hide anyway. Once Jenny put Eric behind bars, Lynette would file a divorce lawsuit, and he'd bad after hearing Jenny's plan. "I'm sorry. I owe you a lot, but you're the one helping me don't owe me anything. I think I've been doing quite well over these years." Jenny was unconcerned about Lynette's guilt. She also had no attachment to her

Chapter 1199 You're Really Taking the Liberty

Jenny finally felt relieved when the plane touched down at Bardoff Airport. Although Alec reassured her throughout the trip, she still felt uneasy. It wasn't until they were physically in Bardoff City that her worries eased. Even if Eric showed up in Bardoff City, she had nothing to be scared of because he couldn't bring Lynette away.

Graham and Lynette returned to Walter Castle, and Jenny followed them home. It had been some time since she last visited. She hadn't lived there for long, but it was home to her. The Walter family was home.

There, the staff and bodyguards gathered. When Graham and Lynette arrived, the staff split into two lines and respectfully greeted them, "Mr. and Mrs. Walter."

Graham was pleased with the welcome, but Lynette thought the title was unsuitable. "Graham, tell them I'll go by Madam Bell. I haven't divorced Eric, so I can't be Mrs. Walter."

his not the time for Lynette to go by Mrs. Walter. Since she had shared her opinion, Graham had to agree to it and made the staff readdress Lynette. Next, they went to the and plant flowers as you like," he told her. She looked living room for the backyard

she thanked him as they walked side by side. He took her hand and pulled her closer. "Jenny, we are one.

took the liberty of doing so.' She rolled her eyes at him. Only Alec that out because he wanted Jenny to realize she hadn't seen him as one of backyard, Lynette had chosen her room. She stood on the balcony and gazed at to get to know

Chapter 1200 Who Is That Woman?

After Graham left the room, Lynette was about to take a shower when she remembered she hadn't brought any clothes—she had left in a hurry, after all. She sighed at the thought. At that moment, there was a knock on the door.

Graham pushed the door open and said, "By the way, Nettie, there are new clothes in the wardrobe that you can wear for now. We can buy you clothes you like later."

After so many years, he no longer knew what kind of clothes Lynette liked, so he had someone prepare several different clothes for her to wear for the time being. But it didn't matter as they still had plenty of time in the future to figure out what she liked.

After that, Graham left the room, leaving Lynette to explore her wardrobe full of new clothes and dresses. She was moved. This was the man she loved. Even after so many years, he was still as attentive and gentle as before.

Lynette chose a set of pajamas, went to take a shower, and then lay on the bed. For the first time in many years, she enjoyed a peaceful rest. While she and Graham rested, Jenny was still busy with work.

She had just received a list from Pete. It was a list of people who had died in Eric's hands over the years. Looking at the long list, she thought Eric deserved to die. It was her first time thinking that way about a person. She began investigating and getting people to contact the families of those who had died. She wanted to ensure that Eric would never leave Bardoff City.

she could while Eric had yet to discover that the Lynette in Bayside City was fake. Alec was also helping her. Working together, there was hardly anything they later, Eric returned to Bayside City. As soon as he got off the plane, he went straight home without any delay. He pushed open the door to Lynette's room and saw her and asked, "Why when she heard his voice from behind her but quickly regained her composure. "I have gotten used to it over tone were very similar to Lynette's.

be eager to leave," he said, attempting her face, blocking most of Eric's view, me!' he made him angry. He reached out and grabbed her neck, forcing her to look up at him. Instantly,

"Who are you?"